NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The last Tory bon mot about Mr. Gladstone is that he has never had his life insured because no one can make out his policy.

Who kills all the dead letters? asks a cotemporary, and an exchange answers, triumphantly, Miss Direction. That's a Miss Take.

"Eli," asked Mrs. Potts, "what is it that every woman wants and no man ever owns?" Instead of dutifully giving it up and giving her a chance to say "a husband," the wretch merely answered "the earth." —Ex.

A new invention to prevent collisions at sea, consisting of a small plate fixed at the side of the vessel, has been very successfully tried on the Thames. Electricity is the active agent. The approach of another vessel within two miles causes a bell to sound, and an indicating arrow shows the direction whence it comes.

It seems funny that a big city like New York, with suburban cities almost equal to it in population, could actually be found unable to afford sleeping accomodation to visitors. But this eventuality is feared by the New York Herald, which says that already the hotel accomodation is well taxed, and that when the centennial attraction begins it fears that many of the visitors will be obliged to walk the streets at night unable to find beds.

Says an exchange: High license is not a meaningless phrase in Boston, judging from the new scale of fees just adopted. Inn-keepers must, after May 1st, pay $1500 instead of $1000; inn licenses of the second class, which now cost $600, are raised to $1200; the increase in the case of common victualers is from $400 to $1000, and for licenses to sell beer, ale and wines there is an advance from $200 to $500. In Boston the police commissioners fix the license fees, but the police commissioners are, we believe, appointed by the legislature, not by the city authorities. At any rate, they do not appear to have the fear of saloon politics or politicians before their eyes.

The once celebrated "fifteen puzzle" that "strained" so many great and small intellects in its day has effectually "ceased from troubling," but the "aching void" is plugged just now by a new invention of "the enemy," to wit, the "pigs in the clover," or, for short, the "pig puzzle." The "puzzle" appears to be very simple, of course. All that you have to do is to corner four little balls, that represent so many porcine quadrupeds. They are at liberty in a circular box and must be coaxed into the pen in the centre. Nothing seems easier; but many distracted minds where the "puzzle" has done its fell work tell a different tale. The fiend that invented the "diversion" is making a fortune.

What have the "horrid men" got to say to this? Must they plead guilty? If so they'd better save the executioner any trouble and go off and hang themselves: A typewriter girl thus expresses herself in the Indianapolis Journal: "I get sick of men and their ways. They are messy; they sling paper all over the office, and loll about on the desks and chairs in such undignified attitudes. They smoke and chew. We have fourteen drummers who come into our office, and only one of the fourteen has ever had the courtesy to ask me if cigar-smoke is offensive to me. Then, they are silly; they talk such nonsense as 16-year-old girls wouldn't be guilty of. It is all about neckties, new hats, ballets, good dinners, and so on. If you think man is the superior animal, you just spend some time in a business office with assorted sizes of him and you will see. I am beginning to believe that a trashy dime novel is better society than the average man, and equally improving."

A Springfield, Mass., young man, wishing to be au fait in everything, especially where the fair sex is concerned propounded a "sticker" to a Springfield paper in the following terms: Given a young man and an umbrella, overtaking a young lady, without an umbrella, and a drenching rain falling, should the aforesaid young man, not having the pleasure of the fair drenched one's acquaintance, offer to share his water-shed with her, magnanimously hand it over altogether, or remain politely blind to the interesting situation, and hurry on, regardless as to whether the young lady sink or swim? The local paper in question slyly evaded the point at issue by advising the young man, if ever he found himself in such an unpleasant predicament, to hunt up a "mutual friend" and get an introduction before offering either the whole or the half of his umbrella to the distressed fair one. Other papers took the question up, but none ventured to treat it seriously, and the Springfield young man is still waiting for the answer, pending which he has thrown his umbrella away, to avoid complications. Perhaps some philanthropic individual will answer the vexed question through THE COLUMBIAN, and we can send a marked copy to the Springfield young man, before the next rainy season sets in.

YANKEE COURTESY.

Hon. Oliver Mowat Insulted in the New York State Senate by President Murphy.

The Mariposa Takes Fire at Sea and is Run into Auckland and Fire Extinguished.

A Prominent and Wealthy Seattleite Suicides Without Any Apparent Cause.

YANKEE COURTESY.

ALBANY, April 24.—In the Senate this morning Mr. Pearce asked for the privilege of the floor for the Hon. Oliver Mowat, Premier of Ontario, but President Murphy objected to any courtesy being extended to any dependent of the British Crown. Mowat was excluded.

PREMIER MOWAT INSULTED.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 24.—Premier Mowat and wife, of Ontario, were compelled to leave the floor of the senate to-day on an objection of Mr. Murphy to their being present. Murphy said he objected to the senate extending any courtesies to subjects of the British crown. The premier and his wife thereupon left the chamber. They were subsequently given the privilege of the assembly floor.

BICYCLES.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The treasury department has decided that bicycles can be exported into Canada and returned free of duty, providing American visitors there claim them as personal effects.

DESPONDENCY.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—John Healy, a longshoreman, cut his throat from ear to ear this morning with the broken blade of an old pocket knife and is dying. Despondency brought on by sickness is the cause.

A CURIOUS REQUEST.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 24.—The National Reform association, now in session here, adopted a resolution to-day requesting President Harrison to mention Christ in his state papers, especially in his thanksgiving proclamation.

DYNAMITE FIENDS.

TUSCARORA, Nevada, April 24.—A dastardly attempt at assassination was made upon Supt. Price, of the Belle Isle Mining Co., and Geo. W. Peltier, Price's partner, in a general store in this place about 2:30 o'clock this morning, by exploding dynamite under their bedrooms. The building and furniture were wrecked, but both gentlemen escaped with a slight shaking up. Peltier was warned about two months ago that such an attempt was to be made upon his life, but paid no attention to it as no reference was made to Price at the time.

UNACCOUNTABLE SUICIDE.

SEATTLE, W. T., April 24.—Austin A. Bell, a prominent Seattle man, committed suicide this morning, shooting himself through the head with a revolver, in his office in North Seattle. Mr. Bell was the son of W. N. Bell, the pioneer of Northern Seattle; was wealthy and owned some very valuable real estate. No cause can be assigned for the act as his financial affairs are in a very flourishing condition and his domestic relations were the happiest. A coroner's inquest will be held this afternoon.

THE MARIPOSA FIRE.

SAN FRNCISCO, April 24.—J. D. Spreckels, owner of the steamer Mariposa, received a despatch from Auckland this morning stating that the steamer sailed from there at 4 o'clock p.m. Monday with a cargo of flax which took fire from spontaneous combustion. The vessel immediately put back and arrived at Auckland at 4 a.m. to-day. The fire was confined to the cargo. The steamer was uninjured. No one was hurt and the Mariposa discharged her cargo and sailed at 8 p. m.

UNDER PROTECTION.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—The coroner's jury in the case of Calvin T. Lewis, the young bar tender who shot and killed John Harrington, a ward politician, on Monday afternoon, has rendered a verdict that the shooting was done under strong provocation by the deceased.

MURDEROUS CLAIM JUMPERS.

FORT RENO, Indian Territory, April 24.—A settler named Goodwin arrived here from Oklahoma and reported to the post commander that he and three others had been fired upon by a party of twelve Texas claim jumpers. Goodwin was the only one who escaped. The other three were killed. A detachment of troops has been sent to the scene to investigate, and arrest the guilty parties.

SEARLE IS READY.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 24.—Searle the oarsman, has deposited a forfeit for matches with O'Connor and Teemer, for the championship of the world.

THE MARIPOSA ON FIRE.

AUCKLAND, N. Z, April 24—The U. S. mail steamer Mariposa which sailed from this port last Monday for San Francisco, returned to-day with a fire in her hold. The flames were extinguished after hard work and with some damage to cargo. The mails were found to be untouched. The steamer will sail again to-night for her destination.

FOULLY MURDERED.

GUTHRIE, Kans., April 23.—Three man who took claims yesterday were foully murdered by claim jumpers. The names of the assailants and victims are not learned. A vigilance committee is scouring the territory in search of the miscreants, who will be summarily dealt with if caught.

RUN OVER AND KILLED.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—Mrs. Bridget Needham, aged about 50 years, alighted from a cable car this morning and while crossing the street was knocked down by a horse car and killed. One of the wheels almost severed the woman's head from her body.

LONSDALE'S TRIP.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—Lord Lonsdale when asked by a reporter what sort of a trip he had, said: "Well, although I got pretty high up—Lat. 75—I was disappointed. I expected to find plenty of game, and hardly found anything. The journey was somewhat dangerous, and our party suffered some privations, but it was nothing more than any ordinary man of good stamina could have accomplished. I will leave shortly for Winnipeg, thence to New York, from where I will sail for Liverpool."

NO TROUBLE FEARED.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Acting-Adjutant Kelton late this afternoon received the following despatch, bearing on the situation in Oklahoma, from Major-General Crook, dated Chicago, April 22: "Assistant Adjutant-General, Department Missouri, telegraphs under date of the 21st that he is just in receipt of a despatch from General Merritt at Oklahoma in which he says: "He will probably need no more troops forwarded; that he is sure a show of force will prevent trouble, and that the newspaper accounts are probably exaggerated, and will continue to be so. He reports much confusion on the line of the railroad, but he has established a line of couriers between Oklahoma station and Fort Reno, so that hereafter communication can be had with certainty and fair rapidity.

SUPPLEMENTARY ESTIMATES.

OTTAWA, April 23.—The supplementary estimates till June of next year were brought down to-day. The total amount is $1,313,757. The principal items are expenses in connection with the Electoral Franchise Act of $250,000; keel blocks for the Esquimalt dock, $8,000; British Columbia penitentiary, $15,000; re-vote for the Victoria military building, $21,250; improvement of buildings at Nanaimo, $1,000; removal of Nicol rock, $5,000; Fraser River, $10,000; Victoria harbor, complete removal of boulder shoal, $6,000; Columbia River, improvements between Revelstoke and Arrow Lake, $6,000; Skeena River, removal of snag, etc., $2,500; Bonilla Point, cable, $4,000; steam communication New Westminster and Victoria, $7,500; wharf at Victoria, $2,000; launch for the Indian Department, British Columbia, $5,000; re-vote sums granted for erection of the Indian Industrial Schools, Kamloops, Kootenay and on Kaper Island, $7,500; Metlakahtla Industrial School, $3,170; Canadian Pacific mail service in British Columbia, $16,200.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

OTTAWA, April 22.—In the house of commons to-day Sir Hector Langevin told Mr. Wilson (Elgin) that it was not the intention of the government to introduce legislation this session to carry into effect the recommendations of the labor commission.

Sir Adolphe Caron, in reply to Mr. Holton, said that no arrangement had been concluded between the Imperial authorities and the Canadian government respecting the defence of the coast of British Columbia. The negotiations had been in progress for four years.

The minister of customs said that the government had received representations from the Imperial authorities respecting the seizure of the United States ship Bridgewater at Shelburne, N. S., two years ago. The owner, Captain Allen, asked for compensation to the extent of $20,303.

The manufactured goods exported from Canada to Australia from 1st July, 1888, to 1st January last were valued at $45,530.

The minister of finance moved the adoption of the report of the committee of the whole of the resolution to provide for a subsidy for a fortnightly service between British Columbia, the Australian colonies and New Zealand. Mr. Laurier moved as an amendment that the house while favoring closer trade relations considered the government had failed to show that the service would be commensurate with the proposed expenditure. The amendment was defeated; yeas 55, nays 77.

On the resolution for the Japan service, Mr. Davies moved as an amendment that the house does not ratify the vote for a subsidy until the correspondence has been brought down. Also that Victoria or Esquimalt should be made a calling place. Mr. Mara said that Mr. Davies was trying to place the British Columbia members in a false position. The matter was, in fact, not one of jealousy between Victoria and Vancouver. The question at issue was not a provincial or a Dominion one, but an Imperial and a Dominion one. If England gave the major portion of the subsidy she ought to have the say in the matter. She was desirous of diverting the eastern trade from its old channels to the Canadian route. The arrangement should not be jeopardised by any conditions. Mr. Davies then failing to entrap the British Columbia members did not call for a division. The speech of Mr. Mara made a good impression. The report was adopted. The report regarding the Atlantic service was also adopted after two divisions.

EDINBURGH PEOPLE PROTEST.

EDINBURGH, April 22.—Three popular meetings were held here to-day, at each of which a resolution was passed protesting against the presentation of the freedom of the city to Parnell.

VICTORIA NEWS.

The Idaho Arrives at Victoria and Runs on a Rock. A Fashionable Wedding.

Special to the Columbian.

VICTORIA, April 24.—The Idaho arrived this afternoon on her initial trip of the new schedule from Portland to all northern ports on the Island and mainland.

The str. North Pacific has been repaired and will leave for Puget Sound in the morning.

A fashionable wedding was celebrated this afternoon. The contracting parties were W. Ridgeway Wilson and Miss Jenns.

Nothing further has been heard of the man who robbed Evans of Nanaimo.

The Mexico sailed for San Francisco this afternoon with a full cargo.

The str. Idaho while coming into port ran on a rock at the entrance to the harbor. She went on at high tide, the tide is now falling and the steamer is fast.

An immense anti-Jesuit mass meeting was held at Toronto Monday night to approve of the thirteen members who voted for the disallowance of the Jesuits' Estate bill. In his speech Dalton McCarthy, Q.C., M.P., expressed the opinion that the government of Sir John A. Macdonald had been long enough in power. This expression was received with hearty approbation.

SAFE IN ENGLAND.

Boulanger and Party Reach England and are Enthusiastically Received.

The S.S. City of Paris Makes the Second Fastest Trip Across the Atlantic.

The Sentence on Mr. Condon, M. P., Under the Crimes Act is Confirmed.

SAFE IN ENGLAND.

LONDON, April 24.—The train from Dover bearing Gen. Boulanger, has arrived at Waterloo station.

SMALLEY'S CABLE.

LONDON, April 24.—The coming of Gen. Boulanger does certainly create some interest if not general enthusiasm in London. Most of the papers have long articles on the expected event, and if they do not greet him with enthusiasm they treat him as an important personage. Some of them are even prepared to interview him.

GOLD SEEKER WON.

LONDON, April 24.—This is the second day of the Epsom spring meeting. The Suburban handicap race for 100 sovereigns each, entry with a 1000 sovereigns added, about a mile and a quarter, was won by Leybourne's four year old "Goldseeker;" Lord Dudley's "Fullerton," second; Sir K. Jardine's "Wiseman," third.

CHEERED BOULANGER.

LONDON, April 24.—Gen. Boulanger and Count Dillon, and several others of the party accompanying them, have taken rooms at the Hotel Bristol. There was a large gathering of the general's friends in front of the hotel, who heartily cheered him.

CHEERED AT DOVER.

LONDON, April 24.—Gen. Boulanger arrived at Dover to-day on the mail steamer from Ostend. A large crowd was gathered at the pier and cheered the general as he stepped on shore and passed into the train for London.

NO CHEERS AT BRUSSELS.

BRUSSELS, April 24.—General Boulanger, Count Dillon and six generals, his sympathizers, left at seven o'clock this morning for Ostend, where they took the steamer for England. The party looked gloomy and dejected. Very few people gathered, and there were no cheers given, nor any enthusiasm manifested by the few who were at the station. The party sailed from Ostend at 9 o'clock. About 200 people witnessed the general's departure, but no cheers were given. Rochefort remained at Brussels, but it is reported he may be expected to follow shortly.

GETS A FREE RIDE.

DOVER, April 24.—Boulanger and companions arrived here after a rough passage across the channel, during which he was quite seasick. Numerous friends of Boulanger met them and gave them a cordial welcome to England. A police commissary from Calais watched the party in the interest of France, and will report to his government every move the general makes. The party proceeded to London in a special train put at Boulanger's service by the South Eastern Railway Co.

SECOND BEST.

QUEENSTOWN, April 24.—The s. s. City of Paris arrived this morning from New York. Time of passage 6 days 3 hours and 43 minutes, the second best time on record.

SENTENCED CONFIRMED.

DUBLIN, April 24.—The sentence of Mr. Condon M. P., under the crimes act, and against which he appealed, has been confirmed by the upper court.

THE GERMANS LICKED.

BERLIN, April 23.—The North German Gazette publishes the report of an engagement between the crew of the German gunboat Hyane and a party of natives of the Cameroons. The vessel landed a party of 75 officers and men and a hot fight ensued, resulting in the retreat of the Germans. One sailor was killed and two officers wounded.

NEGOTIATIONS STOPPED.

LONDON, April 23.—The negotiations for a settlement of the troubles of the tenants on the estate of Capt. Vandeleur upon the terms proposed by Mr. Thomas W. Russell, M.P. for South Tyrone, which promised a speedy and satisfactory ending, have been suddenly stopped by the obstinacy of one of the holders, a Mrs. Dixon. This women is mother of an Irish-American who returned from the United States in February and got possession of a farm from which the former tenant had been ejected. Dixon installed his mother in possession of the farm and went back to America. The mother, who was evicted from the same farm in 1869, refuses to accept the terms suggested by Mr. Russell, or, indeed, any other than her own and the probabilities are that the hostilities between Capt. Vandeleur and his tenants will be speedily resumed.

TURN ABOUT.

LONDON, April 22.—At the state luncheon which took place at the Dublin Mansion House yesterday, Archbishop Walsh expressed the hope that the causes which led to the abrogation of the former custom of electing Catholic and Protestant Lord Mayors alternately would soon be removed and that the reinstated custom would thereafter be strictly observed.

HEAVY FINE AND IMPRISONMENT.

LONDON, April 22.—The court of appeals at Rome has confirmed the sentence imposed on Deputy Ghiani Mameli, resulting from his conviction of fraudulent practices whilst director of the Bank of Cagialary. The sentence is that the deputy be confined in prison for five years and compelled to pay a fine of 2,000,000 lire.

THE BRITISH VOLUNTEERS.

LONDON, April 22.—A large number of Belgians, including many members of the Garde Civique, in full uniform, have arrived at Dover to witness the manœuvres of the volunteers. Rarely, if ever before, have these military evolutions excited so much interest abroad, as attested by the steady influx of foreign visitors, and the occasion will therefore be one of unusual brilliancy.

Daily British Columbian

Wednesday Evening, April 24, 1889.

Mr. Thomas Mowat, inspector of fisheries for British Columbia, in his report for this province to the department at Ottawa, gives, in the first place, the figures showing the value of the fisheries last year, and the decrease as compared with the previous year, and also the principal reason for the decrease, all of which information we published yesterday when reviewing the general report. The pack of canned salmon, the inspector adds, particularizing, which is at present the chief industry of the fishing business of the province, fell short of last year (1887) by 962,040 one pound tins, and that of salted salmon by 218 barrels, while the increase in the consumption of fresh salmon was 250,400 pounds. Upon this point the inspector makes the following suggestive comment: "This increase I entertain some doubts about, feeling satisfied that some of the fish dealers must have returned more fresh fish than they actually handled. The proportionate pack for last year by the canneries on the Fraser River and the coast is given as follows: Fraser River, 12 canneries, 76,616 cases; coast, 9 canneries, 107,424½ cases. The reader may very appropriately be reminded here that last year was a "bad year" on the Fraser, while it was a very prosperous one for the coast salmon fisheries—the falling off for the Fraser River, as compared with 2887, being 52,290 cases, against an increase over the same year for the coast pack of 32,147½ cases. Notwithstanding, however, the large falling off on the Fraser, the average pack per cannery is shown to have amounted to nearly the same as in the seasons of 1876, 1880 and 1884. But it should at the same time be remembered, it is added, that, while the average pack was about the same as in previous poor years, the outfit used in the capture of the fish was much increased, and that cohoes and white salmon were canned, which assisted in making up the average. It is also to be borne in mind that the total pack on the Fraser for 1888 exceeded the best previous corresponding poor year by 34,461 cases. Referring to the reports that gill net fishing on the sand heads and at the mouth of the river had driven away the salmon and forced them to seek new spawning grounds, the inspector declares: "Upon making strict inquiry and sending reliable parties to investigate the matter, I found these reports to be without foundation." Respecting the new fishery regulations, the inspector says: "So far as their being carried into active operation is concerned, the matter rests entirely with the department as to the number of guardians to be employed for their proper enforcement. * * * * Careful judgment is required for the forming of proper regulations for this province. If too stringent, they will have the effect of giving our Alaskan neighbors the benefit of marketing their fish at a lower rate; if not sufficiently protective, we will have the same falling off in our rivers they are experiencing in the Columbia and other streams south of us." The shipment of fresh and frozen salmon to eastern Canada and the United States last year was below that for the previous season. This is stated to be due to the high rates charged by the C.P.R.Co., coupled with the falling off in last year's run. The salmon of the Columbia River, it is added, although sold at a higher price than ours, are handled at much lower rates, and as the American government has now added a half cent per pound duty on fresh fish, it will exclude our dealers from their markets and they will have to abandon the trade, as they cannot compete with salmon from the Atlantic coast by paying such high freight and express rates. Speaking of the halibut fishery, the inspector, after remarking that our American cousins are working up a fine business on this coast, and fishing as well within our three-mile limit, observes: "The only parties in this province who attempted anything in the halibut trade were Captrin Lunberg, of Vancouver, and Captain Grant, of this place; the former did his fishing from small boats in the gulf and had to find a market for most of his fish in Seattle, owing to the high rates of freight charged by the C. P. R. Captain Grant made a trip to the straits in a sloop and succeeded in securing a few thousand pounds, which were salted and afterwards smoked at this place and marketed in Seattle for shipment to the eastern states. About a page of Mr. Mowat's report is devoted to the skil fishery, yet in its infancy. From a number of interesting paragraphs we have space only for the following: "Now that this industry has begun to a certain extent, we must look to a big trade in it so soon as the fish become known in the English, United States, and Australian markets, because they are, without exception, considered by all authorities to be the best fish taken out of the ocean. It is a mistake to call them black-cod. * * I would recommend that hereafter they be simply known under the native name of skil, or that of Pacific mackerel might be adopted, as they are related to the Atka mackerel of Alaska. These fish are very rich and oily; one weighing 25 pounds will yield a quart of oil. It is often extracted by the natives and used as butter for their bread; notwithstanding the fatness of this fish, it has the most delicate flavor and can be relished by the weakest stomach. The liver yields but little oil, which is, I believe, considered equal to cod liver oil for medicinal purposes. * * * The fishing around Queen Charlotte Islands is principally within the three-mile limit, owing to the water being deep close in shore, while on the Vancouver Island coast the fish lie further off shore. A number of firms are now choosing fishing stations at several points on the coast and intend prospecting this fishery in suitable boats from shore. This, in my opinion, would be the correct thing for the Scotch Crofters to engage in, and a more suitable place for engaging in this fishery than the west coast of Queen Charlotte and Vancouver Islands could not be found. But unless some measures are taken to protect our coasts, this fishery, like the halibut fishery, will be monopolized by American fishermen." The Dominion government should make a note of this last statement, and act accordingly, "before it is eternally too late." The report mentions more than a dozen other fisheries, of comparatively minor importance, which we have not space to notice.

A. W. Morris & Bro., of Montreal, proprietors of the J. A. Converse Manufacturing Co., manufactures of cordage, redcap binder twine, etc., have written us and are anxious that we should assist in correcting a wrong impression with regard to binder twine, about which, they state, any number of ridiculous rumors and reports have been freely circulated of late. It has been asserted, for instance, that the manufacturers are working under a combination, are controlling the raw material market, are using extortion on the consumers, &c. This is stated to be all absurd and absolutely false, as the firm above mentioned declare most positively that under no consideration would they become indentified with any association of manufacturers organized for the avowed purpose of advancing values or creating a monopoly. We suppose that the Messrs. Morris' word can be taken for this assertion, especially when supported by the following testimony, to which our attention has been directed, namely, that Mr. N. Clarke Wallace, M. P., promoter of the "Combines Bill," stated before the house of commons recently, that he had received from A. W. Morris, of Montreal, a protest against and denial of the accuracy of the assertion that a combination existed, and, as he desired to mis represent no one, he had looked into the matter closely and found that his impression as to binder twine was wrong. There had been an advance in the manufacturers' price, but, on the other hand, the price of the raw material, Manilla hemp, had undergone a still greater advance. Mr. Wallace quoted from the report of the committee on combinations which met last year to show that no animus against the manufacturers of twine existed, the report having fully exonerated them from any undue advance in the price of their products. In the letter we have received a chart is enclosed, showing the advance in Manilla hemp from £29 to £60 per ton, the advance occurring from May to December, 1888.

IMPORTANT
Government Auction Sale
—OF—
REAL ESTATE.
Embracing some of the best Water Frontages in New Westminster City.
I have been instructed by the Surveyor General, W. S. Gore, Esq., to sell by Public Auction at the COLONIAL HOTEL, NEW WESTMINSTER, on Saturday, 27th April,
THE FOLLOWING VERY ELIGIBLE NEW WESTMINSTER CITY PROPERTY, the area of which is about 20 acres, more or less, or about 100 city lots.
Lot 23, Block 36, situate between Queen's Avenue and Dock Square.
Lot 15, Block IX, situate between Pelham Street and Queen's Avenue.
The above property will be found worthy the attention of those interested in Mill Sites, Ship Yards and Manufacturing Industries and Capitalists generally. It being conceded by all far seeing men that there does not exist a safer and better field for investment than that afforded by New Westminster City, the Fresh Water Terminus of the C. P. R., and upon the completion of the New Westminster Southern, will be the British Columbian terminus of the American system of railroads, and with the immense advantages offered by the mighty Fraser River, the main artery of the country,
It does not require a prophet to fortell that in the near future New Westminster must become the London of British Columbia.
REMEMBER, there has been no boom in New Westminster City, hence no fictitious values have been arrived at.
The sale will commence at 7 o'clock Saturday evening.
Terms at sale, which will be very liberal.

PITCAIRN ISLANDERS.

Curious Results Arising from a Meeting on a British Vessel.

The ship Bounty, December 23, 1787, sailed from Spithead, Eng., bound for the South Sea. To many of the present generation, says the New York Press, the story of the mutiny that followed is a vague tradition; and that the lineal descendants of the mutineers are now living, entirely by themselves, on an island in the Pacific ocean very few have any knowledge. The island is known as Pitcairn's Island. The ship was under a commission from the British Admiralty to visit the Society and other islands and collect a number of bread-fruit plants, which were then to be taken to certain of the British West Indies for the purpose of stocking those Islands. The vessel started on her homeward voyage with Lieutenant Bligh in command. He was of an unusually overbearing and insulting disposition. He accused Fletcher Christian, the mate, of having stolen some cocoanuts which he had bought at Otaheite, one of the islands they had visited. Christian determined to get away from the ship, and was informed by the boatswain that the crew were ready to mutiny. He surprised the Captain in his berth, made a prisoner of him, and took possession of the ship. The captain and eighteen of his officers and men were then set adrift in an open boat.

Christian, with the twenty-four others who had remained in the ship, steered for the Society Islands, and sixteen of them finally decided to remain at Otaheite, while Christian and the rest, taking with them twelve Othaheitean women and seven men, set sail in the ship for any place that chance might take them.

Nothing was heard of Christian and those who had gone on the Bounty for twenty years. At the end of that time an American ship, happening to touch at Pitcairn's Island, found there an Englishman called Alexander Smith (this name was afterward changed to John Adams), who said he was the sole survivor of those who had sailed on the Bounty.

Christian, thinking the island a place where there would be little chance of their being discovered, had landed there and burned the ship. Things went smoothly for two years, when one of the men, having lost his wife, insisted on taking one of the Otaheitean men's. The Otaheiteans rebelled and killed three of the whites. The rest of the whites, with the aid of the women, then killed all the Otaheitean men. Only four men were now left on the island. One of these succeeded in making an intoxicating liquor and drank himself to death, another one was executed by his companions, and a third died of consumption.

Adams, now an old man, became at last impressed with the responsibility resting upon him of teaching the descendants of himself and his companions the truth of the Bible. The result was a model community. In 1830 the inhabitants moved to Norfolk Island, but in 1856 a part of them returned to Pitcairn. This colony has since been remarkable for the purity in which it has retained the principles inculcated by the patriarchal Adams.

Between the years 1800 and 1880 a number of ships called at the island. In 1808 the American ship Harry Mills visited the place, and one of the inhabitants named McCoy accompanied the ship to Liverpool.

In the same year another American ship, the Wandering Jew, stopped at the island, and on leaving Captain Tapley, the commander, took with him another one of the inhabitants. This was Earnest Heywood Christian, the great grandson of Fletcher Christian. Until his arrival at Hull, Eng., Earnest Christian had never seen a house, a horse or any other quadruped. His delight and astonishment when he first saw a steam engine and train were unbounded. The career of McCoy, who preceded him to England, had not been wholly of an agreeable character. Upon his arrival in London some unscrupulous person, taking advantage of his utter ignorance of the ways of the world, induced him to hold a series of "receptions" at a kind of variety show. When he found into what he had been entrapped McCoy was very much disgusted, and blamed the captain of the Harry Mills for not having told him the character of the place.

As soon as Christian arrived in Hull McCoy wrote to him, beseeching him "for God's sake" not to come to London, "for," he said, "it is hell." On his arrival Christian was treated with the greatest kindness, and when he left England took with him many valuable presents for the islanders.

Christian spent three years on the ship, visiting San Francisco and going completely around the world before he returned to his island home. On her second visit to Pitcairn Mrs. Tapely had with her a young English girl seventeen years old. She was the youngest person who had ever visited the island, and great was the interest and admiration she excited among the girls of her own age. One in particular, Miss Emily McCoy, kept close to her all the time, asking her all manner of questions about the outside world.

"You are the first girl of my own age outside of this island that I have ever seen," she said. "Tell me all you can. What do horse-cars look like? And the churches—do you have people enough to fill them?"

Among the island women who visited the ship on this occasion was Miss Rosalind Young, one of the most attractive and enterprising on the island. She was at this time about twenty-three years old, had never had a shoe on her foot, swam like a fish, played the organ in the little island church, assisted her father in teaching the "village school," and was the leader in every thing among the women on the island. She has written an account of the island for the Century, and she told Mrs. Tapley that she never had an idle moment.

The islanders are still noted for their strict religious conduct, grace being said before and after each meal, and swearing or any thing of a similar character being absolutely unknown.

When any dispute arises among them the settlement of it is laid over till the next arrival of a man-of-war, when it is referred to the captain, and his decision is final.

PUTTING ON GLOVES.

Never Do It When Your Hands Are Warm or Damp.

A great deal depends on the first putting on of gloves, says the Dry-Goods Chronicle. Have the hands perfectly clean, dry and cool, and never put on new gloves while the hands are warm or damp. Where a person is troubled with moist hands it is well to powder them before trying on the gloves; but, in most cases, if the hands are dry and cool, this is not needed. First work on the fingers, keeping the thumb outside of the glove and the wrist of the glove turned back. When the fingers are in smoothly put in the thumb and work the glove on very carefully, then, placing the elbow on the knee, work on the hand. When this is done, smooth down the wrist and button the second button first, then the third, and so on to the end. Then smooth down the whole glove and fasten the first button. Fastening the first button last when putting on a glove for the first time makes a good deal of difference in the fit, although it may seem but a very little thing. It does not strain the part of the glove that is the easiest to strain at first, and prevents the enlarging of the button-hole, either of which is sure to take place if you begin at the first button to fasten the glove.

When removing gloves never begin at the tips of the fingers to pull them off, but turn back the wrist and pull off carefully, which will, of course, necessitate their being wrong side out. Turn them right side out, turn the thumb in, smooth them out lengthwise in as near as possible the shape they would be if on the hands, and place away with a strip of white canton flannel between if the gloves are light, but if dark colored the flannel may be omitted. Never roll gloves into each other in a wad, for they will never look as well after. There is always some moisture in them from the hands; consequently, when rolled up, this moisture has no chance of drying, and must work into the gloves, making them hard and stiff, and of very little use after, as far as looks or fit are concerned. A Singular Florida Tree.

A citizen of Eustis, Fla., is said to have a combination tree in his garden. It consists of a lemon, peach, pear, grape fruit, persimmon, orange and guava, all grafted on one stock and all in bloom.

D. J. Levy, of 61, Johnston street, Victoria, B. C., is the only agent H. L. Gabel has in British Columbia. Hold your orders; he will be in New Westminster on or about May 1st, 1889. *tc

Mr. Hamilton Mason of Ward 5, Vancouver, has been elected by acclamation to the city council, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Dr. J. M. Lefevre. Mr. Mason has a large milk ranch.

The front of the Colonial is receiving a brilliant coat of red paint, and yet there are people who claim there is nothing suggestive about the color, a neighboring drug house having lately indulged in the same luxury.

200 lots on the Thorne road, from $65 upwards, on monthly instalments of $10, without interest. These lots are only two blocks from the park, have a good view, are mostly cleared and are only four blocks from the new store. Apply to WM. REID, Front street. *

"Chaleur Bay and its Products, for 1887-8, with Net and Rod," is an interesting pamphlet, written by Mr. John Mowat, father of the inspector of fisheries for this province, and treats of the fisheries of that famed fishing vicinity, besides discussing in an entertaining style various vexed questions relating to pisciculture, &c.,

The committe appointed to collect subscriptions for the May Day celebration report having met with very good success. The sums subscribed have been small but numerous, and the work is not done yet. There is every reason to expect that the coming celebration will be the grandest in every way since the day was first honored in Westminster.

On Sunday afternoon a party of four miners went out sailing at Nanaimo. When opposite Newcastle townsite the boat capsized and the four men were precipitated into the water. Before assistance could reach the men two were drowned. The other two were rescued, one being in an exhausted condition. The names of the drowned men have not been learned.

Captain Frank White, formerly master of the str. Premier, and who disappeared so mysteriously a year ago, as was alleged, with $10,000 of the C P. N. Co.'s money, made his appearance at Port Townsend on Saturday. He has shipped as first officer on the str. Libby, recently purchased by Capt. Boecher, ex-treasury agent, and which is to ply on Puget Sound. During White's absence he has visited New York, London, China, and various other parts of the world.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

The Yale Lime Kiln.

The lime kilns lately put in operation at Yale by Mr. G. W. Rasure are turning out a splendid quality of lime, and the last burning proved to be of superior quality to the one previous. The kilns are now in operation and Mr. Rasure is preparing to build two more, the first of which will be commenced this week. Several large purchases of this lime have been made by prominent contractors, and the new kilns are likely to be kept pressed with orders during the whole building season.

The Rifles.

The rifles paraded last night for the first time since the new uniforms were served out. They presented a fine soldierly appearance, and all that is required is a few weeks' steady drill to bring this fine corps to the proud position it has always occupied—the first in the province. The company parades again to-morrow night and every man should make a special effort to be present. The new band will be in attendance, and if the weather is fine the company will march out and practice skirmishing.

A Wonderful Meeting.

The Salvation Army continued their great celebration last evening. The novel feature of the occasion was the procession of the "Ten Virgins," who were clad in robes of snowy white, and each carried in their hands a lantern, representing the wise and foolish virgins. After the street procession there was a grand meeting held at Herring's opera house which was very largely attended. The Vancouver band was present and a great number of visiting officers and soldiers, all of whom were grouped on the stage. The programme consisted of music, singing, prayers and speeches. The celebration will be continued this evening.

The Vancouver Sensation.

The social sensation at Vancouver is exciting great interest there. The case came before the police magistrate yesterday morning and was heard with closed doors. Mr. Hogg gave his evidence, and explained the cause for his suspicions against Sullivan and Mrs. Hogg. The evidence given by Mrs. Hogg was the most important. She point blank accuses Dr. Langis of procuring an abortion and challenges him to deny the truth of the statements. The time and place of all her meetings with Sullivan, when they had criminal intercourse, Mrs. Hogg gave with great exactness. Sullivan assured Mrs. Hogg that he loved her better than his own wife. The case is still proceeding and will probably occupy another day.

Criminal Cases at Kamloops.

At Kamloops last week the following criminal cases were disposed of by Mr. Justice Walkem, under the Speedy Trials Act: Wm. Kannagan, charged with assaulting one McKenzie and striking him with a chair, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to three months with hard labor. Ben Farleigh, charged with stealing various articles from the house of Thos. Allan, near Salmon River, was sentenced to nine months' imprisonment. Ellen Demen, a young woman, formerly of Manitoba, was found guilty of assaulting Peter Pearson with intent to do grevious bodily harm. The accused attacked Pearson with a table fork, stabbing him in the arms, legs and body and also beating him over the head with a shovel. The prisoner was proved to be a troublesome character, and was sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

The Coming Concert.

The Mendelssohn Quintette Club, which appears at the Oddfellows' Hall on Friday evening, is going to meet with a grand reception. Seats are selling rapidly, and a greater number are now disposed of than was expected in the begining. Speaking of the concert given by this celebrated club the Portland Press says: The programme was a perfect gem in its way, and it is difficult to say which number was best received. In his two selections, Herr Hekking showed a perfect mastery of the technique of his instrument, and received a rapturous encore. The quartette, the scherzo only of which was played, showed an absolutely perfect blending of tones. The rondo, by Herr Ohliger, was given with beautiful shading and expression. Miss Ryan sang her numbers in a charming manner, and in response to an encore sang a love waltz by Wildor.

The Forged Notes

The cases of Walter Moore and Garret Moore, charged with passing counterfeit bank notes, came before the police magistrate this morning, and both men were held in $300 bail to appear at the spring assizes. The forged notes were passed during the progress of a game of poker in a Front street saloon, and the counsel for the defence gave a description of the game to illustrate how easy it would be for any man to pass or receive a forged note during the excitement. So graphic was Mr. Gaynor's description of the play that everybody's attention was riveted, and at that particular phase when the betting should be going quick and high, the counsel for the prosecution jumped to his feet and was about to "go him $5 better" when he as suddenly subsided and sank into his seat again with a blush on his face which would have done honor to a maiden of sweet sixteen.

Wm. Peden, a tailor, was found dead in his bed yesterday morning at the White Swan restaurant. It appears that before coming here he had been warned not to drink any liquor as it was likely to injuriously affect the action of his heart. The evening previous he had come home under the influence, with the result predicted. An inquest was held by Coroner McGuigan at the City Hall yesterday evening and the verdict was rendered in accordance with the above facts. Deceased was 30 years old and a native of Scotland.—News-Advertiser.

The sealing schooner Allie S. Alger has arrived at Neah Bay with a catch of 613 seals. The skins were forwarded to Port Townsend, and as soon as a foresail can be forwarded to the Alger (she having lost her foresail in a heavy gale) she will start out on another cruise, which will last all the season. The owners of the Alger are elated at the success of their vessel.—Colonist.

New Westminster and District.

The fine tract of agricultural land in the valley of the Fraser will soon be provided with ample railway facilities, as the Canadian Pacific Railway is about to construct a line on the left bank of the river, from the Mission to the Delta, and the Northern Pacific Railway are constructing a line from Seattle to New Westminster, thus placing the mainland of the province in direct communication with the United States system of railways. Real estate in New Westminster and district has doubled in value during the past month, and it is estimated that the present contracts for brick houses in Westminster amount to 100,000. Many intending emigrants being under a false impression as to the climate of the sea coast of British Columbia, the following official record for the month of February will prove of interest:—Mean temperature, 40.1; highest maximum, 54.0; lowest minimum, 25.0; days rain fell, 12; days snow fell, 2. Owing to the warm currents of the Pacific, British Columbia enjoys a climate similar to that of the south of England, but with a finer summer.—Colonies and India.

Still Another Gone.

A special despatch to THE COLUMBIAN announces the death, this morning, at Victoria, of Adam Innes, an old and highly respected resident of this district and an early pioneer of the province. Mr. Innes was a native of Banffshire, Scotland, and came to British Columbia about the year 1860. He mined for a period in Cariboo, and was there during the great gold excitement of 1862. Some 18 years ago, he took up land at Langley, which he worked successfully till 4 years ago when he went over to Victoria, having secured a large contract on the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway. On the completion of the road he remained in Victoria and worked as a contractor till his death. He was one of the oldest and most enthusiastic members of the Caledonian and St. Andrew's society of Westminster. The deceased was well known generally throughout the province, and his death will be learned with deep regret by all who knew him. The funeral, which will be conducted by the Caledonian and St. Andrew's society, will take place on Friday afternoon, on the arrival of the str. Princess Louise from Victoria.

The Canfield Road.

The attorneys of the Canfield Railroad state that about 300 on this side of the boundary are now employed on the right of way, clearing and grading; that arrangements have been made for the ties, piling and bridge timbers necessary; that the iron will come from Pennsylvania mills, and that all contracts for the construction of the bridges and railroad will be let within ten days; and lively work will begin, to get the road completed early in Sept., thus uniting by bands of steel the international cities of Whatcom and New Westminster. This also means the building of the Broadway wharf out to deep water and the erection of an ample depot at the foot of Broadway.

This railway project was conceived in the fertile brain of Senator Canfield, whose very life and pride are interwoven with its success. He is now about 52 years of age and proposes to round off his active business career by the completion of his railway system. A man of less energy and determination would have long ago abandoned the great undertaking, but the senator has overcome all obstacles and the bright sunshine of prosperity smiles upon his efforts.—Revielle.

A Novel Net.

A representative of this paper was down near the outer wharf this morning, and observing several boys very busy at the shore end of that structure an investigation was made, when it was discovered that the little fellows were at work shrimping.

The net they were using had a strangly familiar look about it, (for be it known the reporter is a married man) and he forthwith betook himself to the crowd of boys and inquired what they were doing?

"Shrimping," was the answer.

"What's that you're catching 'em with?" was asked.

"That," was the urchin's reply, "that's my big sister's bustle; I hooked it outer her room."

Great Scott! and so it was a bustle which looked so familiar to the Benedict' newsman. Closer inspection showed that the young rascal had taken this very necessary article of feminine attire and had lashed it to a long pole, and with this improvised net they were raking out the shrimps at a great rate.

The newsman turned silently away, and bethought within himself that shrimps were not the only unfortunates which had been captured by a bustle.—Victoria Standard.

LATE CANADIAN NEWS.

It is stated with good authorty that a few days will see a reconstruction of the Quebec cabinet.

An incendiary fire Monday night, at Port Hope, destroyed John Helm's frame grist mill and stone woollen mills.

The Athabasca, the first through boat of the season at Port Arthur, arrived yesterday afternoon from Owen Sound.

Never before has there been such an exodus to the United States from Quebec as this year. Within the last few days 1,000 people have left for the brick fields of Massachusetts and New England.

Gabriel Dumont arrived at Indian Head last evening from Batoche, on his way to Montana to collect a party of half-breeds and Indians who participated in the late rebellion, whom he will take to the Paris Exhibition. He leaves for Regina to-day.

The capture of Donald Morrison, the Quebec outlaw, as stated Monday, is confirmed, and the prisoner is now lodged in Sherbrooke jail to await his trial. Morrison claims the capture was the result of treachery on the part of the officer.
