NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Tom—So you've been married a year. Now, say Gus, honest Injun, does your wife greet you as warmly as she did at first? Gus—Warmly? She fires up every time I open my mouth.

Idaho is bidding hard for statehood, and she will get it, too, if she succeed in curbing Mormon influence and frame a constitution that will keep that dangerous element from doing harm.—Am. paper.

Senor Commendatore Francesco Tamagno is the latest operatic find of Henry Abbey. But he is a find and his singing in the "Otello" of Verdi roused extraordinary enthusiasm in London last week. He will be in Chicago during the winter, and Tacoma is going to try and hear him, too.—Ledger.

Tests made with much care show that the addition of a fraction of one per cent. of aluminum greatly improves the quality of cast iron, rendering castings more solid and free from blow holes, removing the tendency to chill, increasing the strength, elasticity and fluidity of the metal and decreasing shrinkage.

A conversation in a country house in which Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone stayed during the "Wakening of the West": Hostess—"Well, my dear Mrs. Gladstone, I really don't know what will be the fate of poor old Ireland. But (piously) there is One above who knows." Mrs. Gladstone—"Yes he will be down in a minute. He's brushing his hair."

The Persian Minister—we do not possess sufficient type to print his name—is going home because the American papers do not treat the Shah with proper respect. If every person whom American papers failed to treat with proper respect should leave the country, no one would be left but the editors; and, as they never show proper respect for each other, they would have to go too.—Ex.

A valuable fact is mentioned by Prof. Denton as having occurred in his investigations showing the necessity of good lubrication for slide valves. He states that in a locomotive he had cut down the supply of oil to the valves from one pint in 75 miles to one pint in 160 miles—the result of this change being that, as soon as the valves got hot two men could not hold the reversing lever in place when the catch was taken out of the notch.

The son of a very eminent lawyer, while awaiting sentence in the felon's dock, was asked by the judge: "So you remember your father? "Perfectly," said the youth: "whenever I entered his presence he said, 'run away, my lad, and don't trouble me.'" The great lawyer was thus enabled to complete his famous work on the "Law of Trusts," and his son in due time furnished a practical commentary on the way in which his father discharged that most sacred of trusts, committed to him in the person of his child.

Judique, Cape Breton, ten miles from Port Hawkesbury, can boast of having some of the largest, handsomest and ablest men in the province of Nova Scotia. For example, Duncan Chisholm, of Long Point, Judique, is only 24 years of age and by actual measurement stands 6ft. 9½ inches in his stocking feet. His father, Colin Chisholm, stands 6 ft. 6 inches in his stocking feet. James McDonald, of Judique Bank, 92 years of age, has been fishing this season up to the present time and also does his own farming. Although being in a position to hire help he prefers doing the work himself, and is hale and hearty to day.

It appears that the high hat as a nuisance at the theatre is no new thing. As long ago as 1820 managers circulated handbills making this pertinent demand: "Ladies are respectfully yet earnestly requested to take off their bonnets during the performance. It is trusted that their ready compliance with a request so reasonable and so easily granted, and by which even they themselves will be so much benefited, will render it unnecessary to request the interference of managers." Now, where is the manager who will dare to issue such a pronunciamento? And where, oh where, are the dames and damsels who would heed the injunction?—Ex.

A Paris despatch to the London Times, says that it is becoming generally believed in Paris that the Eiffel tower causes thunderstorms, and the weather for the preceding two weeks was the stormiest known in the French capital for years. A Paris letter to the New York Tribune says practically the same thing. Coincident with the existence of the tower, it is said, there has been a marked climatic alteration. The scientists have said nothing on the subject as yet, but the people of the city are beginning to believe that M. Eiffel's iron steeple has a good deal to do with the extraordinary sultriness and the frequent thunderstorms. Should this be so, suggests an exchange, it might be worth while erecting similar structures in some of the desert regions of the earth which man is so desirous of utilizing for agricultural purposes.

HIPPOLYTE REPULSED

In His Attack on Port au Prince, and he Retreats a Distance Inland.

Sullivan Makes a Handsome Profit out of His Prize Fight with Kilrain.

The Missing Airship Sighted on the Atlantic Coast Floating Upside Down.

HIPPOLYTE REPULSED.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The str. Alene from Hayti, arrived to-day. The captain reports that Hippolyte made several efforts to capture Port au Prince but was repulsed each time by Legitime's warriors. Hippolyte has retreated to Crois de Bauquets.

SULLIVAN'S WINNINGS.

NEW YORK, July 22.—John L. Sullivan is still in town. Editor Arthur Lumley, of the New York Illustrated News, said to a united press reporter to-day, that the big fellow was not likely to leave for Boston for at least a couple of days. The $20,000 stake money, said Lumley, will not be paid him to-day, but he will probably receive it during the week. Al. Cridge, the stake holder, is now at Long Branch and so, also, is Muldoon. Cridge was anxious to pay over the money on Friday, but those interested in the disposal of the stakes said there was no need of hurrying. Sullivan has already received $4,000, and of this sum $1000 was his bet with Kilrain on entering the ring, and $3,600 being his share of the excursion money. When the stake money is disposed of Sullivin will receive $10,000, which will bring up the total receipts to $14,000. His backers will receive the other $10,000, which will be divided as follows: $2000 to Billy Muldoon for his trouble and labor in training the slugger; to the Illustrated News one half; Charlie Johnson one quarter and Jim Wakely one quarter. Sullivan will also make Muldoon, to whom he owes his success, a present which it is said will be nothing less than a $1000 bill.

THE MISSING AIRSHIP.

NEW LONDON, Con., July 22.—Mr. Hamilton, owner of the sloop yacht Emma, reports having passed on Friday, near Block Island, the Campbell airship floating with the yellow side up. He did not know till he came ashore that Hogan and the ship were missing or he would have made efforts to pick it up or examine.

STEAMER LOST.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 22.—The steamer Lorenzo D. Baker, of Boston, with fruit consigned from Boston to Point Antonio, Java, was burned at sea. The crew was rescued by the whaler Franklin and landed to-day. Loss of steamer $90,000; cargo $10,000. Capt. Wiley of the str. Baker says he left Port Antonio, Jamaica, January 10th, had 6 cabin passengers and 21 officers and seamen, 27 souls in all. At mid-night on the 15th, in latitude 38 east, 15 north; longitude 61 east, 49 west, fire broke out in the engine room. The engineer was unable to get at the pumps and ordered the fire buckets to be used. The fire gained steadily and compelled him to take to boats and the life raft. Two firemen were drowned trying to reach the small boat. The burning ship floated away and burned to the water's edge. The crew were only afloat a few hours when picked up by the whaler Franklin.

RAN AGROUND.

CUTLER, Maine, July 22.—The Spanish steamship Edwards left Boston in ballast Saturday for St. John, N. B., and went aground at low tide, midnight, Saturday, on Old Man Island. She is full of water and will probably be a total loss. She belongs in Bilboa, Spain.

SWEPT BY WATER.

LANCASTER, Ohio, July 22.—Sharp's dam, in Hocking Valley, broke yesterday and the water swept through the valley, taking every movable object. Trees, crops, fences and hundreds of head of live stock were carried away. No lives were lost.

A DESPERATE MAN.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 22.—At Edgerton, yesterday, Hiram Hoadley shot and killed his wife and father-in-law. He attempted the lives of his mother-in-law and wife's sister, and then suicided. Mrs. Hoadley had left her husband on account of domestic troubles.

A MILLIONAIRE'S WILL.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—W. H. Hart, chief attorney for Florence Blythe, returned from Los Angeles this morning where he had gone to obtain possession of a will, said to have been left by Thomas Blythe, whose estate is now being contested in the probate court. Hart when spoken to by the postal press reporter would not say whether he had the will or copy of it, but from the evidence in his possession he is satisfied he can prove that Blythe's will and the adoption papers of Florence Blythe were in existence after the millionaire's death.

ANOTHER TRIAL.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—On the return of Secretary Tracy from New York he will be asked to give the gunboat Petrel, at Baltimore, another trial. The board of examiners say the failure in the recent trial was due almost wholly to the inexperience of the firemen.

GOOD NEWS.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—The whaling bark Lagoda arrived from the Arctic this morning. She left early in May and is the first one to get in. She reports good weather, plenty of whales, and the prospects good for a fine catch.

AUSTRALIAN WANTS.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—H. Blackiston, a wealthy pioneer of New South Wales, who recently arrived in the city, says that on account of the rapid growth of the colonies, the people are very anxious for both a fortnightly mail service and a Pacific cable.

CYCLONE.

WINNIPEG, July 22.—A heavy cyclone is reported to have passed over Deloraine yesterday. No particulars.

FROM SAMOA.

AUCKLAND, July 22.—Advices from Samoa report all quiet there.

A BIG STEAL.

LEBANON, O., July 20.—This place has been in a whirl of excitement since Saturday last, when Graham the county auditor, disappeared. About the middle of last week it became known that Auditor Graham had overdrawn his account by $5,000. It occasioned little surprise and no alarm as it was supposed to be merely a technical affair. Graham asked for an investigation, and hired a band and serenaded his friends and, borrowing $100 from his brother, disappeared. The investigation has progressed far enough to show that Graham's peculations may reach $50,000, not counting the possibilities of a number of county bonds which he may have disposed of in the east. During the investigation it became apparent the treasurer was very negligent of his duties in paying such sums without investigation, or was in collusion with Graham. The commission Thursday night decided it was the latter and, just after midnight C. F. Coleman, county treasurer, was arrested charged with embezzlement of $13,000. He was released on a $25,000 bond. It is quite certain that others are guilty of being cognisant of what was going on and will be arrested. A competent authority said no one will be surprised if when the bottom is reached it is found that the country has been robbed of $250,000. The treasurer's office is closed and no taxes are being received or bills paid. Graham has been one of the most popular men in this section of the state and his plentiful supply of money was accounted for by the success of a patent medicine which he extensively advertised and which he claimed was making his fortune.

GREAT STORMS.

NEW YORK, July 20.—News comes from many points throughout the country of destructive storms that have prevailed within the last thirty-six hours. Ohio and West Virginia have suffered severely. A grand electrical display accompanied the the downpour in Chicago, where torrents of rain flooded the lower storeys of many business houses, and did great damage to property. The atmospheric disturbances extended from Grand Forks, Neb., to New Orleans. Many persons were struck by lightning, and houses and barns burned. The damage in the neighborhood of this city was not great, though two slight railroad washouts occurred. Despatches from West Virginia state that the cloud burst completely flooded Little Kanawha valley, destroying many lives and carrying off thousands of dollars worth of property. The village of Morristown was completely destroyed. Houses were picked up by the whirling wind and dashed against each other, giving the inhabitants no chance to escape.

Richmond Council.

Council met on Saturday, June 6th. All present except Coun. Blair. Minutes read and adopted.

Two communications from Geo. Turner, C.E., re road posts read and filed.

REPORTS.—Coun. Garratt let a contract to Ah Sam to construct a roadway across Mr. Sexsmith's to town hall road, at $2 per rod, ready for planking. Coun. Reid employed K. H. Chong to repair flood box on No. 9 road for $5, and W. R. McMyn to repair flume on No. 5 road for $15. A. H. Daniels recommended that Ah Sam should receive $100 on his contract on No. 5 road. Coun. Stewart has taken over about 120 rods of D. Smith's dyke for road purposes, and recommends that he be paid $150 on the same. Reports adopted.

Adjourned court of revision held at 12 o'clock. No appeals. The court rose, and on motion the assessment roll as finally revised was adopted as the assessment roll of the municipality for the year 1889.

The highway by-law was taken up for reconsideration, and clause 9 added, extending road No. 4 to the south arm of the Fraser, in accordance with a sketch plan submitted last year. The highway by-law was adopted and ordered to be published.

PETITIONS.—From J. Brock and 17 ratepayers of Sea Island, asking that a road be established between sections 26 and 27, Sea Island, with a width of 38 feet, 16½ feet on each side of survey line. Referred to a committee composed of Coun. Garratt and Stewart, to report at next meeting. From W. R. McMyn and 9 other ratepayers of Ward "C," asking the council to construct a public wharf at the south end of road No. 5, on the south arm for shipping convenience, much needed at that point. Referred to Couns. Blair and Reid to report on at next meeting. The application of W. R. McMyn, asking to have the bridge over Green's slough on road No. 9 lowered was also referred to the same committee.

Coun. Reid submitted a trades license by-law, which passed its several readings and was laid over for reconsideration.

Coun. Daniels submitted the revenue by-law, 1889, which passed its several steps and was read a third time, to be reconsidered at next meeting.

*The revenue by-law provides as fol*lows: Three tenths of one per cent. for general purposes, and 6 cents per acre for wild land, $1 road tax on all male persons over 18 years of age, seven-tenths of one per cent, as per loan by-law, 1888.

On motion the clerk was instructed to call for tenders for the supply of 300 M. feet of 3 inch plank and bridge timber for the construction of roads and bridges, the same to be delivered at convenient points on the banks of Fraser river (separate prices for cedar and fir).

Coun. Daniels gave notice that he would submit a pound by-law, to prevent animals from running at large, at next meeting.

The following bills were ordered paid: Ah Lern, $40; Ah Sam, $100; D. A. Smith, $150; W. R. McMyn, $15.

Council then adjourned to meet on the 3rd day of August next.

The American Institute of Homœopathy has declared itself opposed to all preparations known as "bitters" and "tonics" in which alcohol is the chief ingredient, and denounced what is known as the "whisky cure" for consumption or any disease, except, perhaps, "snake bite."

A NEW TRIAL.

Wm. O'Brien, M. P., Moves for a New Trial in His Suit Against Lord Salisbury.

The Cretan Rebels Capture a Large Town and Burn the Public Buildings.

Russia Reported to be Massing Large Bodies of Troops on the Turkish Frontier.

NEW LIBEL SUIT.

LONDON, July 22.—William O'Brien, through his counsel, will move for a new trial libel suit against Salisbury on the ground that the jury that returned the verdict in favor of the premier were misdirected.

WRECKS.

LONDON July 22.—The British iron s.s. Altenacraig, from Iloilo for an American port with a cargo of sugar, struck the Isle of Palawan and will probably be a total loss. The crew was saved and have arrived at Manila. The American ship Rosie Welt, Capt. Welt, from Newcastle, N. S. W., for Singapore, has been wrecked in Bramble Bay straits.

REBEL SUCCESSES.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 22.—The Cretan insurgents have seized the town of Varmos Cedonia and have expelled the town officers and set fire to the public building. The rebels have taken refuge in Retyme.

A GREAT FIRE.

PESTH, July 22.—Four hundred houses were burned in the town of Paks. Many children are missing.

DECISION UPHELD.

LONDON, July 22.—The judges of the court of Queen's bench to whom Mr. Simms, the journalist, appealed from the decision of Magistrate Bridge, who declined to grant a summons for the Duke of Cambridge on charge of assaulting Simms, have upheld the decision of Magistrate Bridge.

GETTING READY.

LONDON, July 22.—Russian troops are concentrating on the Turkish frontier.

GLADSTONE'S VOICE.

EDINBURGH, July 20.—At a meeting presided over by Lord Aberdeen there was great enthusiasm, the large body rising to their feet and yelling. The following letter from Mr. Gladstone was read: "The time has not yet arrived for detailing the memorable experience of Mr. Parnell for the last two years. I believe that experience to be unparalleled in the history of British statesmen in parliament for the last two centuries. I consider the Parnellites to be in a sense a conservative restorative force of great value to the peace of Ireland and the honor of England, while the tyranny of the government has deepened the aversion of Ireland."

THE EXPORT DUTY ON LOGS.

OTTAWA, July 20.—The Dominion government has been notified that R. C. Gibbs, lumberman, of Manistee, Mich., intends this season to test the legality of Canada's action in imposing an export duty on Canadian saw logs. The duty was levied by the Dominion government for the prevention of the depletion of Canadian forests. Gibbs' firm intend bringing thirty-eight million feet of Georgian Bay logs to Bay city for sawing. They contend that under the Gough treaty between the United States and Canada, signed 1855, they will not have to pay the duty of $6 per thousand feet. The restitution of the duties already paid is also talked of. Careful investigation of the case discloses the fact that the treaty placing all kinds of timber on the free list was adopted in '54, but was terminated in '66 by the United States. Upon enquiry at the customs department here it was learned that Canada could not be held responsible as the United States had themselves terminated the treaty in question.

Special to the COLUMBIAN.

VICTORIA, July 22.—Mrs. James Blair, aged 35, died this morning in an epileptic fit.

A little girl, daughter of a farmer living five miles from this city, was scalded to death this morning. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of "accidental death."

Samuel Pearce, charged with embezzlement, has been committed to trial.

The sailboat "Go it," owned by D. MacIntosh, and a row boat owned by Capt. Urquhart, were stolen on Saturday night, it is supposed, by opium smugglers and taken over to the Sound.

John Begg, had an arm badly crushed yesterday while coupling cars at Russell station.

The foot race, 300 yards, between Watson and Irving, was won by Watson by 5 yards in 35½ seconds.

LATE CANADIAN NEWS.

Patrick McNamara, shoemaker, was struck by a train while walking on the track, near Calgary, on Saturday. He received a terrible scalp wound laying bare the scull.

Fred. Cox, driver for the Dominion Express Co., at Brantford, Ont., was killed in a hardware store, Saturday, while examining a revolver in the hands of a clerk named Lawrence.

A. T. Gills, of Boissevain, Man., has been arrested for arson. It is alleged that he fired his store on the night of the 8th inst., the stock being heavily insured. He was taken to Brandon jail.

The Norweigan bark Craigallin has arrived at Quebec with two American fishermen, Samuel Smith and Samuel Hutchinson, who were lost in a fog from the fishing schooner Carleton Belle, of Booth Bay, Maine. They floated around for five days and four nights. They had only about a quart of water in a tin and one raw fish. On the fourth day their limbs began to swell, and especially their tongues, and they took to sucking the lead sinker of their lines. When picked up they were hardly able to crawl.

Daily British Columbian

Monday Evening, July 22, 1889.

Few of our citizens, we imagine, realize the arduousness and extent of the work which devolves upon our energetic and enterprising city council these times, as a result of the new order of things which has been inaugurated in the royal city. Without seeming to disparage the work or the workers of past years, or to "despise the day of small things," it does not require a very acute perception to recognize the fact that as a city Westminster has quite recently drawn a pretty clearly defined line between the old and the new and taken a fresh start and assumed a more striding gait towards her assured destiny; and in no department is the evidence of this more visible than in the civic government. From a leisurely, rather one-horse, village affair, our city government has assumed all the onerous duties and responsibilities and dignities of a fully fledged civic administration. The number of councillors, or aldermen, as all know, has been increased, under the new charter, to nine, making, with the mayor, a civic board of ten. At the last municipal election, at the beginning of the year, the people's choice was most emphatically declared at the polls in the election of a straight progressive ticket throughout, and there is where may be said to have started the new order of things in the city's affairs, some of the results of which we are now beginning to reap in the great activity, enterprise, and energy being displayed in the conduct of the city's business. Several of the aldermen as candidates stated, it will be remembered, that they were willing and determined to devote a year to the city's interests, and this is just about what it means for our mayor and aldermen in these busy times. What with special council meetings, board and committee meetings, and devising and planning for the extensive city improvements and the water works in hand, our city fathers have no sinecure, and the faithful and efficient paid officers and assistants of the city have their hands more than full. The new and fairly commodious city hall is a veritable hive of industry all day and part of the night. All civic business is being conducted in the most satisfactory and business-like manner, and we venture to say that, by the end of the civic year, the ratepayers will be more satisfied than ever that they made a wise choice in their mayor and aldermen in January last.

It is doubtless very hard for the ordinary understanding to grasp big figures, much less realize their meaning, still less again sometimes to comprehend and keep in mind the fact that it takes a large levy on the "sinews of war" to run in anything like proper shape such an institution as a city. A Toronto daily paper has recently been making its readers gape by giving them some "spoon-fed" statistics which the busiest or most obtuse citizen could have very little excuse for not "getting through his wool." Toronto is a big town, remarks the journal in question, and intimates that not one in twenty of its one hundred and eighty thousand residents either truly realizes its size or can form anything like a clear conception of its financial transactions and civic expenditures. "In order," continues our cotemporary, "that citizens may realize the magnitude of the financial transactions of this municipality, the sum required every day to meet each demand upon the public purse has been carefully figured out." We give the calculation below. It may be of interest to our readers. It may serve as a warning. At the rate we are going now, it is only a question of time when Westminster shall count her population by the hundred and fifty thousand. We would say to the timid hearted, be warned in time. Now is the time to restrain the town, ere it gets fairly howling along on its mad career of prosperity and progress, with the daily expenses of running the concern doubling up in proportionate rate. Here are the Toronto paper's figures:

It takes $1,400 each day of the three hundred and sixty-five days in the year to provide interest and sinking fund upon the city debt. The watering carts sprinkle away $360 every day they are out. Lighting the streets of the city each night costs $370. Salaries and maintenance of the police force swallow up $530 each day. Twenty dollars every day is squandered in satisfying the claims of people injured by broken planks, open sewers and defective roadways. Not much fuel is consumed in the city buildings while the mercury is cavorting around among the nineties, but taking one day with another all the year round it costs $14 every 24 hours to keep civic officials warm. Street scraping and the gathering of garbage by the scavengers costs $333 every day of the 213 working days a year. Printing, advertising and stationery costs the city $10 daily. Speaking of popular education we at once strike the big figures. It takes $800 every working day of the year to pay teachers' salaries. The sum provided for the erection of new buildings this year could be divided into daily parts of $1,500. In maintaining the high and separate schools $150 goes out every day. To meet the demands of an expenditure that is controllable in name costs the city $5,500 daily. The total daily expense of running the municipal government, including everything, is $18,000.

We would say again now is the time to prevent the royal city from coming to such a pass that it shall require $18,000 a day (just think of it! shades of ye ancient and extinct mossback!) to run the municipal "masheen."

Second only to the negro problem as a national distraction and menace to the future well-being of the state, is the vast influx of the veritable scum of Europe that has been washed upon the American shores with every incoming emigrant ship for the last decade or more. It is reported as a solemn fact, says an American paper, that in the great, rich, populous agricultural state of Illinois there are thousands of men who are able and willing to work who are suffering for something to eat. The coal miners of Braidwood have to depend on charity for the food with which to support life. The owners of the mine will not pay enough wages to the miners to enable them to live. The necessaries of life are as cheap in Illinois as anywhere in the United States. Coal exists in unlimited quantities. The demand for it is large and regular, and it must be mined. The men are willing to mine it, but their wages are so low that they will not furnish even the humblest necessities of a poor man's life. The cause of the strike was the reduction of wages to a point so low that submission was equivalent to starvation. The wages of the miners have been getting lower and lower, until they have reached the starvation point. This terrible state of affairs has been mainly caused by the vast hordes of Italians, Hungarians, Poles and other foreigners, who work for lower wages than an American can take, and live. An American cotemporary, in very bitterness of soul, thus relieves itself on this crying and pressing evil: "These foreign wretches swarm around the coal mines as thick as the frogs of Egypt. Up to the very hour when the strike commenced these Castle Garden importations—these venal wretches from a foreign land—continued to roll into Braidwood in an unending stream. In the neighborhood of Braidwood there are more than a thousand foreigners—Italians, Bohemians, Hungarians and Poles, the very off'scourings of the Old World. These filthy, degraded beings, take the labor, even the bread, from the mouths of American toilers. Their habits are more disgusting than those of the Chinese, and they can live on food which an American could not tolerate. The most of the money earned by them is sent to Europe to bring over more of their countrymen to further glut the overcrowded labor market. This increases the evil, decreases the wages, and renders the lot of the American miner still more hopeless. The great American government is troubling itself about a few Chinamen crossing a portion of its territory on their return journey to China. It could surely employ its energies in a more promising field by stopping this importation of foreigners whose labor, coming into competition with the labor of our own people, is reducing them to want. This is the greatest danger that menaces American institutions." While sincerely sympathizing with our neighbors in what is unmistakably a great affliction, one is tempted to ask, if it can be done without appearing flippant, how many "greatest dangers" are there which "menace American institutions?"

HOW SHE CONQUERED.

Friendship and Love Won by the Lack of Self-Consciousness.

George Paul, a young civil engineer, while surveying a railway in the Pennsylvania hills, met a plain, lovable little country girl, and married her. After a few weeks he brought her home to his family, in New York, and left her there while he returned to camp. Marian had laid many plans to win the affections of her new kinsfolk. She had practised diligently at her music; she was sure they would be pleased to hear her stories of her beautiful sister and her brother; she imagined their admiration of her new blue silk gown and winter bonnet. But the Pauls, one and all, were indifferent to her music, her family and her gowns. They gave "George's wife" a friendly welcome, and then each went on his or her way, and paid no more attention to her.

After the first shock of disappointment, Marian summoned her courage.

"If I have nothing to give them, they have much to give me," she thought, cheerfully.

She listened eagerly while Isabel sang, and her smiles and tears showed how keenly she appreciated the music. She examined Louisa's paintings every day with unflagging interest, discussed every effect, and was happy if she could help mix the colors or prepare the canvas. She questioned grandma about her neuralgia, advised new remedies, or listened unwearied to the account of old ones day after day.

When Uncle John, just returned from Japan, began to describe his adventures, Marian was the only auditor who never grew tired nor interrupted him. After a two hours' lecture, in which her part had been that of a dumb, bright-faced listener, Uncle John declared that George's wife was the most intelligent woman he had ever met.

When George came home the whole family was loud in her praise. She was a fine musician; she had unerring taste in art; she was charming, witty and lovable; but George soon saw that she had won them unconsciously; not by displaying her own merits, but by appreciating theirs.

This is a true story in fact, but the truth of its meaning is repeated wherever a woman is found who has the intangible quality called "charm." She may be deformed or pock-marked, but will win friendship and love by the lack of self-consciousness, by her quick sympathy with others.

Many an unattractive girl would save herself much anxiety and vain effort at her entrance into the world of society if she understood that it was made up of individuals each of whom desired to find not the beauty, wit or talent of others, but the cordial recognition of their own.

If you can honestly forget yourself and take an interest in others, you will soon find yourself surrounded by hosts of friends; but if you dishonestly affect this interest, you will deceive no one. Your dullest companion will recognize you as a snob and a toady.—Youth's Companion.

THE PARSON'S PLAINT.

Although the Good Man Was Ill, He Could Still Grind the Poetry Mill.

The parson of a county church, says Bob Burdette in the Brooklyn Eagle, was lying on his bed, three months' arrears of salary was pillowing his head; his couch was strewn with tradesmen's bills, that pricked his sides like thorns, and nearly all life's common ills were goading him with horns. The deacon sat beside him as the moments ticked away, and bent his head to catch the words his pastor had to say.

"If I never shall arise from this hard bed on which I lie, if my warfare is accomplished and it's time for me to die, take a message to the sexton, before I pass away; tell him fires are for December, and open doors for May. Tell him, when he lays the notices upon the pulpit's height, to shove them 'neath the cushion far out of reach and sight. And when he hears the preacher's voice in whispers soft expire, that is the time to slam the doors and rattle at the fire. And tell the other deacons, too, all through the busy week, to hang their boots up in the sun to hatch a Sunday squeak. With steel-shod canes to prod the man who comes to sleep and snore; and use the boys who laugh in church to mop the vestry floor. There's another, too, the woman who talks the sermon through; tell her I will not mind her buzz—my hearing hours are few. Tell her to hang her mouth up some Sunday for a minute and listen to a text, at least, without a whisper in it. And tell the board of trustees not to weep with bitter tears, for I can't be any deader now than they have been for years. And tell half my congregation I'm glad salvation's free, for that's the only chance for them—between the desk and me. And a farewell to the choir—how the name my memory racks. If they could get up their voices as they do get up their backs—why the stars would hear their music and the welkin would rejoice, while the happy congregation could not hear a single voice. But tell them I forgive them, and oh, tell them that I said I wanted them to sing for me—when you're sure that I am dead."

His voice was faint and hoarser, but it gave a laughing break, a kind of gurgling chuckle, like a minister might make. And the deacon he rose slowly, and sternly he looked down upon the parson's twinkling eyes with a portentous frown; and he stiffly said "Good morning," as he went off in his ire, for the deacon was the leader of that amiable choir.

UP IN A BALLOON.

Things Seen and Experienced While Flying Through the Clouds.

To some extent rain retards upward progress, but I have made a number of ascensions in the face of storms, writes Prof. King in the Nashville American. Snow, however, is much more of an obstacle, and in a short time will accumulate upon the top of the balloon sufficiently to drive it to the earth. The clouds are sometimes as much as three thousand feet from top to bottom when the sky is entirely overcast. Often even above such a body of cloud may be seen smaller clouds with clear spaces in between. When within one of these spaces the sensation is that of being in a vault. With the solid, snowy clouds below you and the smaller clouds below you being by perspective brought close around, it appears as if you were in a cavern.

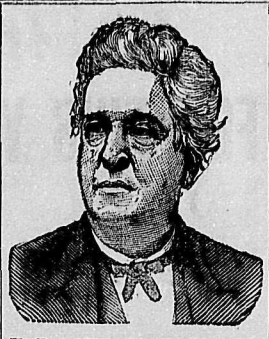
I have been above the clouds during a snow-storm, and the light of the moon shining so brightly through the rarified air produced an illumination rather supernatural. I have very frequently passed through frozen clouds. This is where vapor has fallen below the freezing point and been congealed into a substance resembling flour in appearance. This falls, and in doing so reaches a higher temperature, where the small particles are aggregated into flakes of snow.

Some clouds, however, present very much the appearance of a vail, and objects on the earth can be distinctly discerned from a position above them.

I have never known of an instance in which a balloon was hit by lightning. The thunder does not make a perceptibly greater noise than when you are on the ground. The sound proceeds from the upper layers of clouds, as does also the rain; and in many cases, when the lower strata appear very violent, perfect quiet there reigns, except for such motion as is produced by the rain falling through from above. The upper currents are the most active, and a cyclone or a wild storm is perhaps produced according as those upper currents descend to or remain above the earth.

Cost of Private Cars.

"Many extravagant stories are in circulation," said George W. Allen to a St. Louis Globe-Democrat reporter, "as to the cost of private cars, such as are used by railroad magnates, opera singers, imported actors and millionaires, and I have often heard it stated that an average Pullman palace car is worth $60,000. Stories are printed about cars costing all the way from $100,000 to $200,000. The fact of the matter is that a palace car costs about $12,000 complete. The make-up of all cars, regular or special, is about the same. Additional cost is brought about by the internal decoration, and that must necessarily be limited. I doubt if there was ever a car constructed that cost more than $35,000. To exceed that figure would require a decoration exclusively in jewels and [illegible]"



THE LATE PROF. PHELPS.

The above is a portrait of the late Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., L. L. D., of Dartmouth college. He was a strong, able man, who stood high in the literary and scientific worlds. It is not generally known, but it is, nevertheless, the truth, that Prof. Phelps was the discoverer of what is known to the medical profession and chemists universally as Paine's Celery Compound, unquestionably one of the most valuable discoveries of this century. This remarkable compound is not a nervine, an essence, a sarsparilla or any devised article, but a discovery, and it marks a distinct step in medical practice and the treatment of nervous complications. It has been freely admitted by the best medical talent in the land, and also by the leading chemists and scientists, that for nerve troubles, nervous exhaustion, insomnia, debility, senility and even the dreaded and terrible Paresis, nothing has ever been discovered which reaches the disorder and restores health equal to this discovery of Prof. Phelps.

Paine's Celery Compound is now being prepared in quantities, and can be procured at any reputable druggist. An attractive bunch of celery is to be found on every wrapper. It has become specially popular among professional men, mind workers, ladies burdened with exciting social duties and frequenters of the leading clubs.

This Fine Townsite, at the Fresh-Water Junction of the

FRASER RIVER

12 Miles Above Westminster.

Has just been Surveyed, and the Lots are for sale by

WOODS, TURNER & GAMBLE

—AND—

ALBERT J. HILL & COMPANY

OF NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C.

The advantages and prospects of this Plot for a future thriving Town are many.

The Land in the vicinity is good.

There are inexhaustible IRON ORE DEPOSITS, of a superior quality, immediately adjacent, as well as vast strata of the finest BUILDING SAND and POTTERY CLAY.

On the Townsite are a number of valuable MINERAL SPRINGS.

Communication by land and water is unequalled, by reason of the location of the Townsite on the Fraser River and the Southern Railway, while the natural elevation and lay of the land can not be excelled as a situation for a fine town.

The ground is open and clear of heavy timber.

The site has been selected as one of the most important stations on the Southern Railway, and with the completion of the road, in the near future, must, with all its other advantages, spring into prominence at once.

Those who apply early will have the pick of the Lots.

A clear title given with every purchase.

Parties wishing Lots can apply as well, on the premises, to

The salmon catch to-day was fully up to the general expectation but the question now is "will it be as good to-morrow?" A few of the boats had caught as many as 200 fish by noon, though this was the exception. On the North Arm the average catch was small, but in the river proper the general average was most satisfactory.

Ald. S. L. Kelly is busily engaged in fitting up his ice manufacturing machinery on Spratt's wharf. The works will be in operation in a few weeks and a good supply of clear ice will be placed in the market. The machinery to be used is the best procurable in the eastern markets and a large trade in frozen salmon with California and Eastern Canada will result from the enterprise of our worthy citizen.—Times.

Bush Fires.

Bush fires are now burning extensively on all sides and the atmosphere is dense with smoke. For a few hours this morning the smoke was so thick that the opposite side of the river was completely obscured and river craft was obliged to move along with great care in order to avoid accidents. The fire that started up, on Friday last, in the bush between the railway track and the Coquitlam river spread so rapidly and with such headway that it crossed the track yesterday afternoon and is now destroying the fine timber to the north of the line. A small burning tree fell on locomotive No. 96 last night, but, beyond alarming everybody on the train, did no damage. The bush and grass fire on Lulu Island continues to burn, but does not gain much headway. Throughout Surrey bush fires are numerous and some of them threaten to be very destructive.

The Alaska Trade.

Speaking of the increased travel and trade to Alaska, Capt. Hunter of the steamship Geo. W. Elder, said to a reporter at Seattle: "A few years ago, one steamer, the Idaho, was able to attend to it all. Now there are five large steamers running to Alaska. Three of these are engaged in carrying passengers and two in transporting freight. Why, every time I go up there the Elder carries 1,100 tons of freight. Next month the Alaska people will begin to ship down their canned salmon, and every steamer will be loaded with it for the next three months. In a few years the Alaska trade will give employment to twenty steamers instead of five as at present. It will be the greatest summer resort for tourists in the world in a very few years. There are so many wonders to be seen and the voyage is such a safe one that many tourists now go to Alaska two or three seasons in succession."

Osooyos Notes.

Mr. Harry S. Pittendrigh arrived in the city a few days ago from Osooyos and brings much interesting news concerning that district. The big strike in rich gold bearing quartz that was made in the mountains near Osooyos some months ago still continues to pan out rich, and a good many prospectors are scouring the mountains in search of similar ledges. Mr. Pittendrigh brought down a sample of gold-bearing quartz taken from the Brown Bear mine, owned by Wilkinson & Brumley. The native gold sticks out from the rock amazingly rich, and if a ton of such quartz could be taken from the mine it would pan out $10,000 in pure gold. The owners of the mine are highly elated with their "strike" and expect to make their fortunes out of it. A shaft is being sunk and as far as the work has proceeded the ledge holds its richness and size. It is acknowledged by all miners to be far ahead of anything yet discovered on Rock creek. The Wild West mine, owned by Hunter and Stephens, is also panning out very richly, and $75,000 has been offered for the claim, but refused. Assays of ore from this mine have reached as high as $3,000 to the ton. The owners have run a 100 foot tunnel into the side of the mountain to tap the ledge, and the quartz is said to be fully as rich as the first strike on the surface. There are many splendid investments awaiting capitalists in this district.

On Rock creek very little is being done at present and most of the claim owners are holding back awaiting the results obtained by Mr. Douglas, who is bringing in machinery to crush the ore taken from his mine. The claim owned by Mr. Douglas is very rich, but not more so than many others on the creek, whose owners, unfortunately, are unable to develop them for lack of capital.

Rain has been light through the district this summer and crops have suffered a little in some sections, but, on the whole, the harvest will be satisfactory. The cattle were never in better condition than they are at present. Grasshoppers have not put in an appearance.

The people of Osooyos want a jail very badly and the government ought to pay them a polite attention by building one. Horse thieves, marauding Indians and other criminals are allowed to wander about enjoying all the sweets of freedom together with the pleasures of their crimes. The nearest constable is 30 miles distant from the settlement, and there is little use reporting unlawful proceedings to him as the culprit would be safe in Uncle Sam's country long before the peace preserver could reach him. And if a man should happen to be arrested there is no gaol to put him in. The government should give this matter its immediate attention for there is no telling how soon a jail, and a large one too, will be badly needed.

Police Court.

Before Capt. Pittendrigh, J. P., and Mr. Sheriff Armstrong.

John Andrezjewski, charged with unlawfully and maliciously breaking a drum, the property of the Salvation army and valued at $7.

Mr. Eckstein appeared for the defendant and asked for a remand of a week as the information was laid on Saturday and the summons not served till late in the day, which did not give time to notify the 15 witnesses the defence proposed producing. The remand was granted.

John Strattron, charged with being drunk and incapable was fined $1 and costs.

Youthful Comox.

A barn belonging to Mr. G. L. Drabble was destroyed by fire at Comox last evening. In the barn was stored a large quantity of hay belonging to Mr. Horace Smith. Both the building and contents were totally destroyed. Our informant states that a young child built a fire alongside the barn, which quickly reached the barn. The child ran to the woods, and on returning said, "I'll not do it again, I'm so sorry, put me under the pump." Rather a severe kind of punishment. The loss on Messrs. Drabble and Smith is heavy, there being no insurance.—Free Press.

Texada News.

The Vancouver syndicate have ultimately decided not to go on with the development of the "Golden Slipper," and other claims bonded by them from Messrs. Tobbitt, Tree, Easson, Prouse, Miller and others. It is a matter for sincere regret that such a decision should be arrived at, as we fear it will serve to throw a damper upon all other mining claims upon the island. The thirteen men employed by the syndicate have done very little real work on the "Golden Slipper" as far as opening up the ledge is concerned—at least ten of the number having of late been employed in "shepherding" other claims. This remark as to the amount of solid work done on the above claim is equally applicable to the rest of the Texada ledges. There are rumors afloat of men with money on their way to inspect the island with the intention of investing largely if the inspection is satisfactory. "So mote it be."—Courier.

THE CHURCHES.

Summaries of Some of the City Sermons Spoken Sunday.

HOLY TRINITY.

His Lordship Bishop Sillitoe, the rector, conducted the services at Holy Trinity church yesterday morning. The subject for the sermon was found in the first epistle of Peter, 3rd chap. 10th and 11th verses: "For he that will love life and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile, let him eschew evil and do good; let him seek peace and pursue it." I suppose there is scarcely anything more important to the universe, including God Himself, than peace. Peace seems to be something God sets prior to anything else; peace was what He intended in the garden of Eden, and in sending forth the Prince of Peace. The reason, I am told, for this is the unity and peace that must exist between Himself and His people. He knew peace was the best and richest inheritance His people could have. We have here a most wonderful association of duty, and we need to know God intimately. How indulgent God is; He lays down something always of advice to His people, for instance: "Honor thy father and thy mother that thy days may be long in the land that the Lord thy God giveth thee." Do many among us look on peace in the right way? Do we so regard the precious peace that we must set it up beyond all other things? I am afraid we have a poor and low estimate of the value of peace. Our prayers should be for peace; and it is not merely that the lips should move in prayer, the heart must move also. We must be always endeavoring to aid our own prayers; what would be the good of praying if we deliberately attempt to go against our own prayers. We must sow peace if we wish to reap peace. Peace is a thing that belongs to our own endeavors; we can make peace—it is in our own hands. Peace is the fruit of the Spirit, and it will come to us if we will open the door of our hearts and let the Spirit in. In the church of Christ what do we find in the way of peace? We find the church divided into 300 sects, pulling in all directions. Is it not rather ludicrous to find the church trying to christianize the Chinese with fifty kinds of christianity! Is this peace within the church when we find it broken up into so many different sects? For all this we must not speak uncharitably of other sects, but need we say, "Brother you are just as well off as I am"—no, we are to believe if we are faithful to our church that it is the only one brought down in purity from its establishment, and we may not budge from our principles. I think I may say further that we are bound by our obligations as churchmen to arm ourselves with a knowledge of our church, so that we can give an answer to anyone at any time. I hope shortly to give a few addresses on our church which will show that the church of England to-day is the purest and truest in christendom. There is also parochial peace, and is there such a thing as discord and anger under our parish roof? How is peace to be brought here? "Be ye all of one mind, having compassion one on another, love as brothren, be pitiful, be courteous." There is a remedy for peace; let everyone be content, and let not each one assert himself above another. We ought to be more courteous outwardly, and restrain our tongues from evil, for how many have let their tongue lead them into trouble. True politeness we should all practice. We must have peace within ourselves, and that is the best preparation for death; and we must be spiritually minded in all things. It is by God's ordinances that peace is spread, and in some mysterious way which cannot be explained, and if you seek it God through His ministry is willing to give you that peace.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

At St. Paul's (Reformed) Episcopal church last evening the Rev. Thos. Haddon discoursed on part 17v., 4th chap. Daniel—"The Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men." He spoke as follows: God alone is great, His kingdom ruleth over all, He is the greatest ruler in the universe, and the day is coming when all other kings will bow and tremble in His presence, when "every knee shall bow and every tongue confess that he is God." Some people believe that everything that is, is best. I do not, but I believe that out of the influence of passing events that God will attain His purposes, and though many things seem to discourage they are yet working up to the improvement of man's position in this life and for the higher kingdom. Nations have their birth, their growth and development, their decline and fall; first there is freedom and consequent glory, then wealth is accumulated, then vice starts in, then comes the fall. When the Jewish nation was inaugurated, God had something to say in the matter; they had no earthly king, God was their king, He gave them their laws, and instructed them in both their temporal and spiritual affairs. God took a special interest in the world, by the many messages He sent to them by His servants, and had man been satisfied with this state of things, it might have been in existence to-day, and the world have been better for it; but man, changeable, desired another mode of administration, he became proud, wanted a human king to rule, and asked Samuel to appoint a king; he appointed Saul, but he only did it because they had determined to have a change; he did not like the change, and told them so, and pointed out how God's anger thereat would be manifested. In answer to Samuel's call the thunders and rains were sent, and the people trembled. The Jewish nation had its course, is now dispersed, and despised by the other nations of the world, no matter where they go; and to-day, if we discard God, the day is coming when He will discard us. Who will say God does not rule to-day, Great Britian and other nations would seem to be under His rule; there are good men in authority, and good men keep them there; the Bible is the secret of their greatness; the outcome of the wars they engaged in worked to a purpose for God in opening up countries, such as China, India and Africa, to the influence and teaching of Christianity. Events seemingly against us prove oftimes a blessing. The separation of the American colonies was one, it proved a blessing in teaching the mother country a lesson, to give ear to her other colonies; and we are feeling the benefit of that separation today, by the consideration given us by the mother country. America has had her work, God ruling there, and all events passing now tend to show the coming of an amalgamation such as the world has never yet seen, when the words of the text will come with greater force and when the spiritual kingdom of Christ will rule in men's hearts. Man is inclined to be ruled by some one, good or bad, and the world is full of men ambitious to rule, but their rule and influence can never be like that of God. Which will we allow, man or God, to rule over us and determine our destiny. Men rulers are unsafe; I refer to moral and spiritual rulers, and not to civil rulers. It is our duty to obey the civil power so long as the laws of that power do not conflict with the laws of God, then we must be like Peter, obey God rather than men. It is dangerous to put ourselves under the power of man to be ruled spiritually. Is not this the great rock on which Protestants struck and caused them to protest against being led by one man and the laws he would force upon us contrary to the word of God? The reason also why the Orange order was inaugurated, and is not this the cause of the great agitation now convulsing the eastern provinces, that they will not stoop to be ruled by a foreign administration, by Rome? This agitation will spread and be the means once and for all of putting a stop to this demand for man worship, and I trust that God will guide the local organizations in their labors to this end. As Protestants we have spoken out in no unmistakable voice, protesting against this one man rule, and this voice was repeated when this church was organized, and I tell you that the interest is so great and the feeling so strong, going through all Protestantism, that it is convulsing the whole Dominion. This one man rule crushes out the manhood by the dictates this one man puts forth and the obedience he commands to his behests. Again, will you allow Satan in any way to rule over you? Rather allow Christ to rule in the kingdom of the heart. Paul points to a future and certain reign, full of love and kindness, no higher principle or administration. We ask you to bow to the will and wish of Christ alone, and pay homage to Him alone, and crown Him Lord of all; and, walking in his way, you will find peace and joy and at last, the desired haven with rest for evermore.

An account of a terrible tragedy in the county of Berthier has reached Montreal. A Montreal peddler named Pierre arrived there and put up at the house of a friend named Lambert, the only occupant of the house being a fifteen-year-old daughter, the rest of the family having left for Montreal. During the night two masked men demanded admittance into the house. Pierre fired on them, killing both, when it turned out that the dead men were a father and son, neighbors, who were indulging in a practical joke.
