NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Grasshoppers are said to be eating up everything on Kansas farms except the mortgages.

Would-be reporter (sliding into the sanctum)—"Have you got an opening for me, sir?" Editor—"Yes, indeed. Take hold of that ring in the floor and pull. There's a trap-door there. It won't hurt you much."

A curious instance of the far-reaching distress growing out of the Johnstown flood comes from England. A London paper says 500 Cornwall families are reported to be wearing crape for relatives lost in the Conemaugh valley.

Paris eats a vast quantity of snails. Every day 90,000 pounds are sent to the city from the gardens of Burgundy, Champagne, Provence, and Poitou, where they are specially reared for this purpose. They are not only eaten as a delicacy, but also on account of their highly nutritious qualities.

Taking a man who buttons on his collar every morning a statistician has found out that by the time the man has reached the age of sixty he has devoted no less than two years, ten months, three weeks and three and three-quarter days to the operation, or to actions directly arising out of the process.

New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Washington are pushing their claims as the best place for the great World's Fair of 1892. They should all have a fair hearing. Whichever one has the enterprise to build a tower twice as big as the Eiffel Tower of Paris may expect to win the Fair of St. Christopher. Chicago has started the tower agitation already.—Ex.

"The court functionaries at Berlin and St. Petersburg have been dreadfully disappointed," says London Truth, "by the 'presents' which the Shah distributed on leaving those cities. Diamond snuff-boxes, watches rings, and jeweled swords were confidently expected, but, lo and behold! the Shah contented himself with giving away a number of photographs of himself, enclosed in silver-gilt frames of very moderate value." O, pshaw!

There is but little doubt that aluminum is destined to be the metal of the future and will displace iron and steel as surely as electricity is displacing gas and steam. Aluminum exists wherever there is a clay bank. Formely the cost of reducing it to a metallic form was excessive, but now the electric current is utilized in its production, which is daily being effected at a cheaper rate. Aluminum is a soft white metal which never rusts. It is little more than one-third the weight of iron, and, combining well with other metals, it becomes, when alloyed with copper, harder than steel.—Ex.

Japan is becoming a cotton manufacturer: 114,633 spindles, 1580 men and 3461 women, and 7,398,261 pounds of cotton were employed in the manufacture last year. These are rapid increases on figures for previous years; yet the quantity of yarn imported from Great Britain and India increases still more rapidly. In millions of pounds the imports were 24½ in 1886, 33¾ in 1887, and 47½ in 1888. In spite of the cheapness of labor and of Japan producing raw cotton, Japanese yarns are still an average of 2d. per pound dearer than the British yarns at the port of entry, and abont 3d. dearer than the Indian yarns.

The Vienna correspondent of the London Times says, June 14: A novel institution which has not been tried in any country in Europe, is going to be introduced into Austria for the benefit of the travelling public of this country. To-morrow railway lending libraries will be opened at about forty stations of the Western State Railway. The books are in six languages—English, French, German, Italian, Hungarian, and Bohemian, and will be lent at the rate of 2d. or 4d. per week, the volumes to be returned at any station where there is a bookstall. Within the next two months from 150 to 200 such libraries are to be opened on the various lines in Austria. The undertaking has been launched by an English company called the "globus."

In the report of United States Consul Griffin, stationed at Sydney, the consul tells of a remarkable custom of the inhabitants of New Britain, as follows: "The inhabitants, it is said by Wallace, have a peculiar custom of confining their girls into cages until they are old enough tobe married. The custom is said to be peculiar to the people of New Britain. The cages are made of twigs of the palm tree, and the girls are put in them when only two or three years of age. The Rev. George Brown established a Wesleyan mission in New Britain in 1876, and I learn from him that these cages are built inside of the houses, and that the girls are never allowed to leave the house under any circumstances. The houses are closely fenced in with a sort of wickerwork made of reeds. Ventilation under the circumstances is rendered very difficult. The girls are said to grow up strong and healthful in spite of these disadvantages.

NOT A MARTYR.

Report that a Lady Missionary in Corea is Condemned to Death is Untrue.

Believed that the Panama Canal Company will Take Immediate Action on the Work.

Immense Numbers of Icebergs of Monster Size Reported in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

A MARTYR.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 23.—Information has just reached here that Mrs. Hattie Gibson Heroe is under sentence of death in Corea for teaching the doctrines of Christianity. Her husband, the Rev. David Heron, a well known Presbyterian clergyman, formerly of Jonesboro, Tenn., went to Corea about three years ago, his wife following soon afterwards. Mrs. Heron preached the Gospel as well as her husband and converted a Corean nobleman, who began preaching Christianity. Mrs. Heron was imprisoned by direction of the emperor. The case was examined into and she was sentenced to death. Mrs. Heron was known as the most beautiful woman in upper east Tennessee.

COREAN FAVORITES.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 24.—There is the best authority for questioning the report of Mrs. Heron, wife of the American missionary, being sentenced to death in Corea. Mr. Heron, is a doctor, not a preacher, and his wife has not only not been arrested, but both enjoy the confidence of the king of Corea.

THE CANAL CONTRACTS.

PANAMA, July 24.—M. Bosse, representative on Isthmus contracts, has received orders to deliver to M. Jacquier, liquidator of the canal company, all material, machinery, &c., belonging to the Eiffel contracts. This transfer will close all connection with the canal work of the last private contracting firm, and it is believed on the Isthmus to indicate that decided and energetic action is being taken to carry on the work under the direct control and management of the canal company. The fourteenth of July was elaborately celebrated by French residents on the Isthmus with a torchlight procession, illuminations and salutes.

PASSENGER LIST.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—The str. Umatilla sailed for Victoria and Puget Sound ports this morning with the following passengers: Miss L. Loschenkohl, Mrs. Richardson and two sons, J. Leonard, G. A. Hardwick, Mrs. R. Dingman, M. J. Foley, J. T. Hanna, G. McCabe, R. Lamont, D. Bonnel, E. Bonnel, R. Jones, J. C. Christy and wife, G. H. Bramon, B. Morris, Mrs. J. Mayor and child, I. J. Hanner, W. W. Dearbone, R. Boviou, Miss G. Birvis, Miss E. Boyd, C. F. Girard and wife, J. Carter, H. Haderfelt, W. J. Rooney, H. V. Greenleaf and D. M. Godsell.

CRUSHED BY A ROCK.

MONTREAL, July 23.—Augustin Lesage, a farmer of St. Augustin, met his death under peculiar circumstances. He was removing boulders off his property and had just undermined a huge rock for it to sink into the ground, when it toppled over crushing him to death.

THE RAILWAY RESPONSIBLE.

QUEBEC, July 23.—The coroner's jury in the case of the young man, Jules Pouliot, who died from injuries through being run over by the Intercolonial Railway train, returned a verdict holding the railway responsible for the man's death.

CRUSHED A BRIDGE.

QUEBEC, July 23.—A portion of Belanger's stone quarry at Mequick, on the lake St. John Railway, gave way Saturday afternoon and went crashing into the river Batiscian, carrying with it three platform cars and ripping up a portion of the railway line.

SAD DROWNING.

PEMBROKE, Ont., July 23.—A sad drowning accident occurred here this morning. A little girl thinking the train had stopped at a station jumped into the water and was drowned. The train had only stopped for water.

IMMENSE ICEBERGS.

QUEBEC, July 23.—Icebergs infest the straits of Belle Isle and approaches thereto in unusually large numbers this season. The steamship Texas, just arrived, reports no less than fifty of them east of that point, and the same number in the straits. The Lake Huron had a similar experience, and reports one huge fellow, the largest and highest ever seen in the North Atlantic.

THE CYCLORAMA.

MONTREAL, July 23.—A petition has been presented by the New York partners Green & Knotch for the liquidation of the Cylorama. Patterson, the Canadian partner, disputes on the ground that $18,000 is still owing to the artist, Philip Poteaus, for the picture, and $5000 debt on the building.

NEW LINE TO TORONTO.

TORONTO, July 23.—The New York Central has made arrangements with the Toronto, Buffalo and Hamilton Railroad for running powers from the Falls to this city. The T. B. & H. is not built yet, but it will be constructed without delay. The line is all located from the Falls to the environs of Toronto, and the right of way purchased. It is eleven miles shorter than the present connections. The New York Central Road has thus outstripped its rivals in getting an entrance to Toronto. All plans are matured and inside of one year the New York Central trains will be rattling into the city.

THE MULCAHEYS.

MONTREAL, July 23.—Judge Dugas has subpœnaed W. Ranton and Mr. McVey to identify Huntley in connection with the Mulcahey-Husson affair.

THE BANFF MINES.

OTTAWA, July 23.—Ex-Mayor McLeod Stewart will arrive from London at the latter end of the week at New York. He is accompanied by Mr. James Moore, of Scotland, chief government mining engineer. They will likely go from New York straight to Winnipeg, where a meeting of the Canadian Anthracite Coal Company and the representative of the purchasing company meet for the transfer of the deal. The meeting is to be held on August 15th. Mr. McLeod Stewart will take Mr. Moore to Banff, where a thorough investigation of the mining property will be made.

THE NEW DEFENCE LEAGUE.

LONDON, July 23.—The Irish leaders met here to-day and discussed plans for the management of the new Tenants' Defence League. The object of the league, as set forth, is to legally counteract the efforts of the combination among landlords to extort unjust rents. The Tenants' League is expected to effectually block the Landlords' Syndicate in their efforts to impose inequitable terms of purchase upon their tenants, and in their endeavor, by stimulating evictions, to destroy the tenants' security in householdings. The league is to be governed by a managing council, to be elected annually, and an important work which it will take upon itself will be to assist in the elections. Messrs. Davitt, Biggar, Healy and Sullivan have been named as treasurers pro tem.

BOGUS RIPPERS.

LONDON, July 22.—Excitement over the latest Whitechapel murder is dying out, despite the efforts of the police to show their activity by arresting all kinds of ragged men on slender suspicion, and by assisting news agencies to send exaggerated stories of stabbing affrays as fresh exploits of the Ripper; two assaults which startled the town Saturday morning had nothing in common with the Whitechapel crimes, except that they took place in that vicinity, among the same class of people. They were merely a little blood letting by two drunken sailors who tried to prevent themselves from being robbed by a dissolute woman. One of them was so brutal that if there had not been some interference on the part of the police he surely would have been strung up to the nearest lamp post. As far as the capture of the real Whitechapel assassin is concerned, the police are utterly at sea.

FROM VICTORIA.

Improvement By-laws Carried With Sweeping Majorities.—A Diamond Drill for Coal Boring.—A Chinaman Fatally Injured.

Special to the Columbian.

VICTORIA, July 24.—Four by-laws, to raise $70,000 for completing the new sixteen inch main, and improving the water works; $60,000 for extending the general distribution of water; $25,000 for improving and beautifying Beacon Hill park; and $15,000 for fire purposes, were all carried yesterday with sweeping majorities.

The steamer San Mateo brought to Comox from San Francisco the finest diamond drill ever imported. It weighs eleven tons and will be started on the lands of the Union Colliery Company.

The woman who attempted suicide a few days ago was in the police court yesterday charged with being drunk and creating a disturbance. She was fined $5 and sent to San Francisco.

The s. s. Umatilla takes the place of the Walla Walla on the 'Frisco route.

A Chinaman was seriously, if not fatally, injured at Rock Bay bridge yesterday afternoon. He had raised the draw of the bridge to allow a schooner to pass when the winch flew out of his hand inflicting a terrible wound on his head.

Gilmore's "Twelve Temptations" opens at the Victoria theatre this evening. The show is pronounced the best of its kind that has ever visited the city.

Great satisfaction is felt by those interested in salmon by the news of the heavy run in the Fraser river.

It is unofficially announced that M. W. T. Drake has signified his willingness to accept the vacant judgeship.

Bishop Hills and Archdeacon Scriven leave to-day on the str. Maude for Alberni.

The str. Danube arrived from Vancouver last night and sailed for Portland at noon.

The Titania sailed for Vancouver this afternoon.

Smoke is very thick in the straits and navigation is considerably interfered with.

The Albion Iron Works has purchased a 25-ton steam hammer and will make bar iron in future.

At the Foresters' picnic next month a couple will be publicly married.

Carpenters are busy all day fitting the stage of the Victoria theatre for "Twelve Temptations". The stage is completely stripped.

The police are waging war against infractors of the "Thistle" by-law.

The Victoria theatre is being redecorated.

LATE CANADIAN NEWS.

Mrs. Kenny, a cripple for nine years, is said to have been completely cured at the Shrine of Ste. Annie de Beaupre on Saturday.

The coroner's jury, at Brantford, Ont., rendered a verdict of accidental death in the case of Fred. Cox, who was shot and killed on Sunday by Albert Lawrence.

Nearly all the business places in the town of Holland, Man., were wiped out by fire yesterday. Bigelow & Co., Pentland & Co., and J. F. Holland are the heaviest losers.

The officers of the first Connecticut national guard, the oldest regiment in the United States, have made arrangements for a visit to Montreal in October. Permission has been received from Ottawa.

A fire took place at Montreal, Monday, in the storehouse of the Canada Sugar Refinery, on the canal bank. The building was damaged, also a large quantity of raw sugar. Loss $9,000.

"Jumbo" Fisk, murderer of the squaw Natalie, was sentenced to 14 years in Stoney Mountain penitentiary, yesterday. The judge stated that owing to his friends and relatives, but especially his aged mother's pleadings, he would be lenient with him.

Isaac Dyson, a prominent farmer of Guelph Township, and a director of the Guelph Fat Stock Club, committed suicide early Monday morning by hanging himself in a barn. Deceased went to Manitoba in the spring, but returned dissatisfied and went back on his old farm. Disappointment at his move to Manitoba and financial difficulties are supposed to be the causes which led to his hanging himself.

LOOKS WARLIKE.

Russia and France Offer Servia All the Arms and Munitions of War she Requires.

Boulangist Committee will Pay a Salary to Boulangists Dismissed by Government.

Parnell Again in the Witness Box Before the Judges of the Commission.

OMINOUS LOOKING.

LONDON, July 24.—An under current of uneasiness continues to prevade the continent notwithstanding the strenuous effort to smooth mattersover. Servia still remains the object on which all eyes are fixedly gazing. To-day agents of the Sultan in Belgrade reports to the Turkish government that Russia as well as France has prepared to furnish war material to the Servians on long credit. Neither Carnot's government nor the czar will make any demand for payment, according to the Turkish agents, and Servia can purchase wepons, ammunition etc., without fearing any pressure whatever.

MR. SMALLEY'S CABLE.

LONDON, July 24.—It would surprise you to hear Mr. Macdonald is still manager of the Times. He was believed to have resigned soon after the collapse of the Parnell letters. "Retired on a pension," said gossips of the profession. The gossips were wrong, he has not retired on a pension, but is still managing the news and business of the paper, which he did so much to injure. Mr. Walter, of course, cannot sever his connection with the great paper, part of which he owns and all of which he prints. He is, I hear, in good spirits and still hopeful of making out a case against Mr. Parnell, still convinced some of the letters are genuine, and still expecting some other letters not forged this time may turn up before the inquiry is over. Meanwhile the leading journal seems to lead as many people as before. Its business is as profitable as before, though its dividends are less for the obvious reason that a great part of the profits go into the pockets of lawyers. The thoughtful minority read the paper with less faith than formerly in its infallibility, but there is little to show that its general prestige is impaired, or its circulation diminished or its authority as an oracle of the commanding classes weakened.

A MAD COUNT.

COPENHAGEN, July 24.—A sensation has been caused here by a tragedy which happened at Taasinge last night. Count Sparre, a Swiss of high family, shot and killed his mistress, Elvire Madigan, a circus performer, and then put a bullet in his own brain. Count Sparre was married and moved in the highest society.

NO FURTHER DOCUMENTS.

LONDON, July 24.—Before the Parnell commission to-day Mr. Maloney, an ex-official of the land league, denied he possessed knowledge of any documents belonging to the league except those already in the hands of the solicitor. The witness said the statement that he was leaving the country and had ordered the documents to be destroyed was an error.

CLIMBED THE TOWER.

PARIS, July 24.—Among yesterday's visitors to the exposition was King George, of Greece, accompanied by M. Tirard. He ascended the Eiffel tower.

THE LIVERPOOL CUP.

LONDON, July 24.—At the Liverpool July meeting, to-day, the Liverpool cup was won by Veracity, Peeler second, Ringmaster third; fourteen starters.

A SOCIALIST'S OPINION.

BERLIN, July 24.—Von Volmar, the German socialist, in a recent interview expressed the decided opinion that the triumph of Boulanger would mean a new disturbing feature to Europe. The general's name, Von Volmar thought, would be an excellent platform cry for another military vote, and although no war might follow, the ill feeling between France and Germany could only be increased by the success of Boulangism.

CARING FOR BOULANGISTS.

LONDON, July 24.—Henry Rochforte, on behalf of the Boulangist committee, says he will pay to any official dismissed by the government, on account of adherence to the Boulangist cause, the salary they now receive.

PARNELL COMMISSION.

LONDON, July 23.—At the opening of the Parnell commission to-day, Parnell was called to the witness stand. In answer to questions the Irish leader denied that any letters between himself and Mr. Harris had been withheld when he submitted his correspondence to the Times counsel. All letters had been sent to Solicitor Soames. Attorney-general Webster intimated that he would call to the stand every witness whose testimony was necessary to assist him in tracing the books of the Land League. Mr. Parnell deposed that he had instructed his solicitor, Mr. Lewis, to subpœna Maloney to produce the books. The witness was unable to say what amount of league money Egan and the other trustees of the league had invested in his name in France. In October, 1882, Egan sent witness the accounts of the relief fund showing the expenditure to be £50,000, leaving a balance of £31,900. witness said he had taken no steps to discover documents relating to the ladies' league nor would he. Henry Labouchere, he said, had brought from America from Egan valuable clues regarding the Pigott forgeries. Presiding Justice Hannen here asked witness, "Would you instruct your Paris bankers to produce the account of the trust fund?" Mr. Parnell said, "I decline to give any information concerning such fund to either friend or foe."

A terrific hail storm passed over the northern part of Cavalier county, Dakota, on Saturday, destroying most of the crops. The fourteen-year-old daughter of Daniel Shaw, a former resident in the vicinity of Crystal City, Man., was struck by lightning and killed.

Daily British Columbian

Wednesday Evening, July 24, 1889.

Victoria voted yesterday on the four new loan by-laws, aggregating $170,000, which the city fathers in their wisdom had submitted to the ratepayers, and, as will be seen by our despatches elsewhere, the whole batch were carried by large majorities. $130,000 of the total amount is to be expended in various ways for necessary improvements and extensions of the water works, $25,000 is designed for the improvement and beautifying of the public pleasure grounds, and with the remaining $15,000 the fire department of the city will be put in a more efficient state. The people of Victoria show a praiseworthy determination to make their city forge ahead, if possible. They have quite a number of natural advantages to start with, and if they persevere in offsetting their few drawbacks by industry and enterprise the "queen city" will not be very far behind any of its sister cities in the province in any respect.

There is a great pull, and no little feeling, among the principal American cities as to which shall have the world's fair which our enterprising cousins have projected for 1892, to commemorate the discovery of America by Christopher Colubus, four hundred years earlier. New York, Washington, Philadelphia, and lastly Chicago, are urging their respective claims to the honor. The last named extremely ambitious city, having just secured second place in the list of American cities by annexing its suburbs, feels quite capable of taking charge of so great an undertaking, and is not at all modest about stating its claims. The Chicago Tribune says: "This is the central great city of the United States. When the last census was taken the centre of population was a few miles southwest of Cincinnati. Since then it has travelled westward and northward, steadily nearing Chicago. There is no point of any size in the country which as many people can reach as quickly and as cheaply as they can this city. Nor is there any one where they can be as well cared for, or at as low a price. Here visitors are considered as guests; elsewhere they are looked upon as pigeons to be plucked. It takes energy and skill to manage such a great enterprise as the proposed fair. Where in this country have more energy and intelligence been displayed than in the building up of Chicago? The men who have made this city can make a success of anything—if they choose." Our cotemporary disposes of New York's claim in the following summary manner: "The present attitude of New York is that it will take charge of the fair if it is forced upon it. If congress petitions the city, and advances the necessary money, New York will consent to become the patron of the show, and will furnish a number of prominent citizens, at $10 a day and lunch bills paid, to give the affair eclat and see that it goes off in style, and that everybody gets drunk on champagne at the close of it." New York will not soon hear the last of its Four Hundred and the centennial ball, that is plain.

The superiority of the Maoris to the usual run of savage peoples has often been commented on, and it will not, therefore, surprise any one to hear that they show many signs of becoming British in their tastes and ideas. Naturally enough, this tendency shows itself first in their sports: for instance, they have taken to football as kindly as if generations of their ancestors had been educated at Rugby. In more important matters the transition, or development, is slower, and, although their representatives in the New Zealand legislature are model members in many respects, they do not seem able to "catch on" to the niceties of parliamentary government. Some years ago, the colony was divided into Maori representative districts, each returning a member to watch native interests. This plan, tentative at first, has worked so well, that it is now one of the settled institutions of the country. No doubt the influence of these members is somewhat weakened by the circumstance that they seldom venture to address the house in English, so that their ideas have to be filtered through the medium of an interpreter, but they have a simple direct eloquence which has its weight notwithstanding this drawback. Although they have carried themselves as a rule as very faithful party men, it seems that this has been due chiefly to the fact that they have been unable to see any reason for leaving the side which they took on their first introduction to the legislature. Once, during a "crisis," a shrewd opposition leader did gain one of them—their party was then in power—and when he had succeeded in ousting the government his ally was given a seat in the executive. It looked at first as if the Maori had been bought with the bribe of office, but very shortly he rose in the house, and stated that he had joined the party because the leader had promised him some needed reforms in the administration of native affairs. A short time, however, had convinced him that these promises were not to be fulfilled, and that the whole thing had been simply a struggle between the "outs" and the "ins," with very little regard to the interests of the people, white or native. That was a thing which he could not understand and would not countenance; and so saying he walked across the floor and took his seat among his old associates, by whom he was, of course, received with thunders of applause. No premier has since ventured to take a Maori into his cabinet.

The fierce light which beats upon a throne has, in the case of the sacred seat of Britain's majesty, taken lately to cavorting around the props of the royal perch. When her most gracious majesty asked her "faithful commons," the other day, to make a little settlement upon two of her grandchildren that were going into housekeeping for themselves—a practice which has been the wont of "her faithful commons" from time immemorial—what should the mercenary wretches do but straightway appoint a committee to thoroughly sift and ventilate the whole question of royal grants, some of the more bluff and unfeeling of the "faithful commons" aforesaid even openly suggesting that grandma Victoria should set the young couples up in business herself. The committee, after ransacking the whole question of the royal income, financial transactions and expenditures, has just reported, and recommending an addition of £9,000 quarterly to the allowance of the Prince of Wales, besides maintaining the right of the Queen to ask parliament for a further provision for her grandchildren. The messages which the Queen sent to parliament asking the provision in question are not uninteresting reading. The first referred to the case of the young prince: 'Her majesty being desirous of making provision for the honor, support and maintenance of her grandson, Prince Albert Victor Christian Edward, recommends the consideration thereof to her faithful commons, and relies on their attachment to her throne and person to adopt such measures as may be suitable to the occasion." The second message was as follows: "Her majesty having agreed to a marriage proposed between her grand-daughter, her royal highness Princess Louise Victoria Alexandra Dagmar, and the Right Hon. the Earl of Fife, has thought fit to communicate this fact to the house of commons. The numerous proofs which her majesty has received of her faithful commons of their loyalty to her throne and of their attachment to her person and family, lead her majesty to have no doubt of their readiness to enable her majesty to make provision for her royal highness." The committee on royal grants, as stated above, reported favorably on the Queen's claims. The Liberals, and even the Parnellites, it is understood, are just as averse to treating the reigning family shabbily in this matter as are the Conservatives. The debate on the report was postponed from Tuesday until Thursday (to morrow), when it is expected the radicals of the house will raise a breeze in opposition to the tenor of the report. A royal family is, perhaps, an expensive luxury, and perhaps it isn't. At any rate, Johnny Bull hasn't made up his mind to do without one yet, and, unless we mistake his "style," he will treat them pretty decently, in spite of an occasional growl, until such time as he makes up his rather slow moving mind to abolish the institution, an event which is probably not very near.

BOOMERANG AND SPEAR.

How the Natives of Australia Use These Two Peculiar Weapons.

More has been written, and less is understood, of the boomerang than of almost any other weapon, writes a Springfield (Mass.) Republican correspondent from Hobart, Tasmania. It is generally known to be a flat stick of wood bent into a shape which suggests a combination of a "V" and a "U," although with the extremities spread apart until they are at right angles with each other. In point of fact, boomerangs are of almost every shape, from semicircular to nearly straight, and seem to depend for their efficiency not so much upon the evident form as upon the curves which are shown upon their flat sides. If one takes a boomerang and looks along the sharp outer edge, it is seen that this edge presents a wavy appearance—a delicately adjusted sinuosity like the line of a long screw. This curve is not elaborately fashioned or smoothed into evenness; the hard wood of which the boomerang is usually made being picked out with short blows from a sharpened flint held in the hand, almost always shows, indeed, infinite irregularities.

What rule of construction the savage artificer follows even he himself would probably be unable to say. Yet he has some definite plan in mind, no doubt, for while he chips and pecks away at the wood he takes frequent squints along its edge to see how his curves are progressing. I have never seen two boomerangs that were just alike, but all are similar in their relations of curves along the flat side. The boomerang maker knows instinctively just where his boomerang will go when he throws it, although he never seems to aim any two in the same way.

More lies have been told about the boomerang than can be well enumerated, and nearly every Australian traveler comes back with a fresh assortment. One hears of men who can so throw a boomerang that it kills an enemy behind a tree and then comes cheerfully fluttering back to its owner, who thereupon hurls it on a fresh mission of carnage. A flock of frightened cockatoos, speeding in intricate gyrations through the air to escape the attack of natives who want a bird for dinner, are pursued at every turn by these erratic weapons, which strike them down a dozen each, and so return to the hand that cast them. Old wives' fables, these, at which Australians laugh, knowing in the nature of things their falsity. In the first place the war boomerang is not made for return, and is only slightly bent, so that it may go hopping and bounding along the earth like a hoop, and make capacious holes in the body of the adversary. These are of hard, heavy wood, and ugly things to be hit withal; but the return boomerang is simply a play-thing, or to be used in light hunting, and, although it might give a man a painful rap, could not seriously injure him. As for the cockatoo story, it has this much of truth—that a native boomerang hurler, if he saw a flock flying by him in a straight course, could so cast his weapon as to come upon them unawares at a given point, and, perhaps, knock one down; but his boomerang would drop, too, having no power of flight after it has struck any thing.

The boomerang is sufficiently remarkable without being regarded in the light of a long bow, and drawn by every tourist in the colonies. It is held perpendicularly and taken firmly in the hand by one of its extremities, with the other pointed forward, and is hurled with a full arm and assisted by a run and swing of the whole body. A slight turn of the wrist at the moment of discharge causes it to assume various erratic courses. Sometimes it will fly straight forward for one hundred or even two hundred yards, then rise sharply to a great height, lose its force, and flutter down to the feet of the thrower. Again, it will rise in the air, swoop down with immense rapidity, and skim around in a great semicircle a few inches from the ground, rise once more, and return to the spot whence it started. It will also start off in a great swoop to the right, reverse it and turn to the left, skim around the thrower in a series of ever-narrowing circles, and, finding their center, fall into it like an exhausted bird. There is something uncanny about the thing; its movements are so unexpected and out of reason that it seems to be alive, and to take a savage delight in strange shoots and dashes, which make the "new chum" (Australian equivalent for "tenderfoot") dodge every time it turns, lest it should knock him on the head.

The yarn about the Australian blacks always throwing the boomerang with their backs to the object they desire to hit is a piece off the same "whole cloth" as the cockatoo fable, and the lie about the missile returning to its owner after killing the gentlemen behind the tree. An expert thrower can cause his boomerang to shoot behind him after a short preliminary excursion in front, and come very near a given object, but if he wants to hit any thing, either in hunting or war, he doesn't fool away his time with the return boomerang, but throws a heavy, nearly straight one, which goes direct to the mark without any flourishes. Such is the boomerang—a two-formed utensil, with one shape for business, the other for sport.

Another ingenious contrivance used by the natives is the handle and thong which they use in propelling their spears—these being generally of tapering, sharp-pointed sticks of hard wood, although sometimes tipped with flint or iron. To add to the force of their discharge some sable philosopher whose name is lost took a bit of thick stick about a foot long, fastened to one end of it a strip of leather or cord terminating in a socket, wherein to set the butt of his spear, and was ready for action. When the cord or strip of leather was laid along the spear, the handle came in the center, and was held on the under side of the weapon when it was cast. When the spear left the hand, the handle and its appendage of leather or cord remained, and by a dexterous movement on the part of the thrower acted like a sling to accelerate the flight of the shaft. By this device, the spearman gained the same advantage that a slinger enjoys over a person who hurls a stone by his unaided arm—so that cases are known where spears thus hurled have flown two hundred yards, and gone completely through the body of the man who was unlucky enough to serve as a target.

An Electrical Trumpet.

An electric trumpet has been devised by a French electrician. It consists of a short brass tube mounted on wood, and containing an electro magnet whose ends face a vibrating plate, on which is fixed a small piece of soft iron. Against the plate armature rests a regulating screw, with platinum point, which serves for automatic interruption, by vibration of the armature. With two Leclanche elements a musical sound is obtained, which may be varied in pitch, intensity and timbre, by means of the screw. This instrument may also be usefully employed in signaling on ships, railways, tramways, etc.

Result of Picking Up a Pin.

Lafitte, the eminent French banker, owed his first start in life to the circumstance of his being seen to pick up a pin in the courtyard, as he was going to call upon a wealthy person for the purpose of seeking employment. The man who would pick up a pin, thought the wealthy person, must have some thrift about him, and so he gave him employment, and found that he had not mistaken his character.

A Hawk-Spotting Hog.

Clyde Sweeny, of Cumming, Ga., is evidently the Eli Perkins of that vicinity. He says his father has a hog that will spot a hawk sailing around in the air, and will hang around under the pirate bird until it makes a swoop. Mr. Hog then darts up, catches the hawk out of the air and devours it. Clyde's father also has a cow that catches and eats rabbits.

The Cause of the Complaint.

Irritated passenger—"Say! can't you open the ventilators and give us a little fresh air! It's roasting hot in this car." Conductor (respectfully)—"Ventilators are all open, sir. It doesn't do any good. (To main boy) Johnny, if you sell any more copies of Amelie Rives' new story in this car I'll throw you off the train!"

It Made Mother Strong

"My mother has been using PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND for nervous prostration, accompanied by melancholia, etc., and it has done her a world of good. It is the only medicine that strength ons the nerves.' G. H. BEERS, Orbisonia, Pa.

"I am in my 64th year. Have been afflicted in several ways—could not sleep, had no appetite no courage, low spirits. I commenced using Paine's Celery Compound, and felt relief from the third day after using it. I now have a good appetite and can sleep well. My spirits and courage are almost like those of a young man." S. C. KINKAID, D. D., Gonzales, La.

Paine's Celery Compound

Strengthens and builds up the old, and cures their infirmities. Rheumatism, indigestion and nervousness yield quickly to the curative power of Paine's Celery Compound.

A Perfect Tonic and Invigorator, it GIVES NEW LIFE.

"I am now 69 years old and have tried several remedies, but none had any effect until I used Paine's Celery Compound. I feel entirely different for the short time I have used it. I can walk nearly straight, sleep sound and well, and feel as though there was new life and energy coming into my whole system." H. MYLIUS, Cleveland, Tenn.

Paine's Celery Compound is of unequaled value to women. It strengthens the nerves, regulates the kidneys, and has wonderful power in curing the painful diseases with which women so often silently suffer.

—AND—

ALBERT J. HILL & COMPANY

OF NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C.

The advantages and prospects of this Plot for a future thriving Town are many.

The Land in the vicinity is good.

There are inexhaustible IRON ORE DEPOSITS, of a superior quality, immediately adjacent, as well as vast strata of the finest BUILDING SAND and POTTERY CLAY.

On the Townsite are a number of valuable MINERAL SPRINGS.

Communication by land and water is unequalled, by reason of the location of the Townsite on the Fraser River and the Southern Railway, while the natural elevation and lay of the land can not be excelled as a situation for a fine town.

The ground is open and clear of heavy timber.

The site has been selected as one of the most important stations on the Southern Railway, and with the completion of the road, in the near future, must, with all its other advantages, spring into prominence at once.

Those who apply early will have the pick of the Lots.

A clear title given with every purchase.

Parties wishing Lots can apply as well, on the premises, to

THE MAYOR'S RESIGNATION.

The notice which we publish elsewhere, formally announcing the resignation of Mr. John Hendry as mayor of the city, will be read with surprise and regret by nearly every citizen. Mr. Hendry gives as his reason for resigning that it has been insinuated that he, as a member of the Westminster Southern Railway Company, desires to further the interests of the railway at the expense of those of the city. It may certainly be a little awkward for Mr. Hendry to be a member of the railway company and of the city council at the same time, but we believe, however his opinions on railway matters may clash with those of any of his colleagues in the city council, that he is sincerely seeking the city's best interests in both capacities. Those who differ with him, of course, may be equally honest; but it is to be regretted that any such unjust insinuations as are hinted at in the mayor's published resignation should have been expressed. Our readers will be as much in the dark as we are as to the immediate cause that eventuated in Mr. Hendry's resignation. A caucus meeting of the council, at which railway matters was discussed, was, we believe, held last night, but the proceedings, of course, were private. When they shall transpire more light will be thrown upon the subject. It is extremely regrettable that Mr. Hendry should consider it necessary for him to resign the position of mayor, which, it is not too much to say, he has filled with uniform and general satisfaction. All will hope that it may be possible for him to eventually withdraw his resignation.

Register Your Names.

The municipalities throughout the district of New Westminster should awaken to the fact that if they wish to speak with a strong voice at the next elections they will have to see that their names are properly registered, and that without delay. The municipal councils should follow the example set them by Westminster and Vancouver, and appoint vote collectors to have every person entitled to vote duly registered. There is not much time to spare and if our country friends wish to be able to vote they will have to act quickly.

The Sockeye Run.

Salmon were nearly up to their proper standard last night, and the run during the whole night was excellent. The fish commenced jumping about sunset and this was taken as an indication of a good run, and the signs proved correct. The boats averaged 100 fish each during the night, though many got double this number, but the continued small catch on the North Arm kept the general average down. To-day the fish continued to run freely and the catches were fairly good. The canneries are very busy packing the fish, but are by no means taxed to their full capacity.

A Large Transfer.

The London branch office of Ran Bros., of this city and Vancouver, concluded yesterday one of the larges real estate transactions ever made in Vancouver property. The transfer was that of the whole Dupont estate to the Vancouver City Land Co., of London, England, the considerations being $130,000. The lands concluded in the transfer are the twentieth interest in the Vancouver Improvement Company, a twentieth interest in the Hastings Saw Mill Company's property, 82 lots in district 184, 10 lots in district 185, 20 lots in 200 A, 67 lots in district 196 and 8 blocks in 264 A.

Masonic Presentation.

Monday night the M. W. Grand Master, Bro. J. S. Clute, with several members of the grand lodge, waited on the W. W. grand chaplain, the bishop of New Westminster, at his residence and presented him with a handsome piece of plate in the shape of an ice tankard tray and drinking cup. Upon the lid of the tankard was engraved the following: Presented to Rt. Rev. Bro. A. W. Sillitoe, Grand Chaplain, by the M. W. Grand Lodge A. F. & A. M., B. C. R. "For eminent services rendered the craft." The grand chaplain accepted the gift and made a very eloquent and suitable acknowledgement, after which the visitors were entertained by the bishop and Mrs. Sillitoe.

Forresters' Fete.

A meeting of the Westminster Foresters is called for this evening to decide on the invitation to visit Victoria on Saturday, August 3rd, to participate in the grand celebration that takes place there on that day. The proposed fete will be the largest ever held in the province in connection with the Ancient Order of Foresters, and every lodge in the province will be present in large force. The proceedings of the day will be opened by a grand parade through the streets, all members participating wearing the uniform and regalia of their office. Then will follow a good programme of sports and games, in which special provision has been made for the ladies. A rather novel feature will be a public marriage on the grounds at 3:30 o'clock, the happy couple to be rewarded with a handsome suite of furniture.

A Rich Find.

A rich find of mineral paint has been made on Harrison Lake, about 20 miles from the hot springs. T. N. Scripture and Brown Bros. are the lucky owners of the claim. The find consists of rich sienna earth and is pronounced by expert judges to be of very superior quality. The supply is said to be practically inexhaustable, and it can be placed on the market at handsome profit and at a very low cost. The owners are organizing a company to work the claim, and we hope soon to hear of its successful formation and speedy announcement of operations. If this paint proves all that is expected of it, the mine will be one of the most valuable and profitable in the province. The next thing on the tapis will be a rush of prospectors to Harrison Lake, and there is no telling what valuable discoveries will be made.

Dangerous Sidewalks.

The Columbian has called attention time and again to the condition of the sidewalks throughout the city, but more especially to those in the business portion of the city. On those streets on which the grade is not to be changed the council should commence sidewalking without delay. In many places the sidewalks on our business streets are in a disreputable and highly dangerous condition, and are certain, if allowed to remain in their present state, to cause an accident that will prove very costly to the city.

An Interesting Display.

That ever enterprising firm, Messrs. F. G. Strickland & Co., are making application to the directors of the agricultural society for a space, 50x60 feet, in the main building for the purpose of making a large display of all kinds of farm implements and general machinery at the coming exhibition. It is the intention of this firm to put in steam power so as to give an exhibition of the machinery at work, which will be a most proper and business like way of displaying their goods, besides which it will lend additional interesting features to the show. Messrs. Strickland & Co. will also furnish steam power to other parties wishing to make a display of machinery, and if any electric light company is anxious to show their plant at work this would be an excellent opportunity for such an exhibition. It is to be hoped the space asked for will be allowed by the society.

The New Hospital.

The trustees of the Royal Columbian hospital met yesterday afternoon to open and consider the tenders which had been received on Messrs. Clow & Maclure's previously accepted plan for the new hospital building to be erected in Sapperton suberb. The following three tenders had been received: Turnbull & Working, $13,175; R. B. Bell, $12,800; W. D. Purdy, $12,250. Mr. Purdy's tender, being the lowest, was accepted. The work will be commenced immediately, and the contract calls for the completion of the building by the first of December. The new hospital will be a most complete and convenient modern structure in every respect. Such a building for the purpose has been a crying necessity for a long time, and the trustees are to be congratulated upon the success which has so far attended their energetic efforts in this laudable work.

The Bushby Block.

The new Bushby block, the contract for the erection of which was awarded to Mr. S. E. Burns yesterday, will be one of the finest buildings in the city. It will face on Columbia, McKenzie and Front streets, having a frontage of 66 feet on the former, 132 feet on McKenzie street and 33 feet on Front street. It will be 3 stories high, with basement, on Columbia street and 2 stories, with basement on Front street. The building will be built of brick with stone facings and solid walls. At each corner of the building a handsome turret will be placed, which gives the whole a very attractive appearance. The turret at the corner of McKenzie and Columbia streets will be particularly fine, and as the top of it will stand 56 feet from the ground it will easily be understood by imposing it will look. The corner building has been leased by the Bank of Montreal, and it will be most handsomely fitted up for the purposes required. The rear of the bank quarters will be 21x60 on the first floor, which space will be divided into counting room, private offices and officers quarters. Mr. A. J. Toilme, of the Club, has leased the remaining portion of the building facing on Columbia and McKenzie streets, and when he have completely furnished and open for business it will be, without exception, the finest restaurant and private hotel in the province and unequalled by any on the Pacific coast. The building will be completed and ready for occupation about the end of November.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Another Warning.

To the Editor Columbian.—I see no action has yet been taken towards getting a hand engine for Columbia street. Do the authorities want to leave themselves liable to the same charge that was brought against the Seattle authorities after the fire, by the committee appointed to investigate the circumstances, that they were responsible for the destruction of the city? What are the underwriters thinking about, I would like to know, that they, do not insist upon better fire protection measures being adopted in this city.

I notice by the Vancouver papers that they had a fire in that city Monday morning that completely destroyed the house that it started in, all the valuable furniture, etc., before the firemen got fairly to work. It is generally admitted that if the house had not been in an isolated situation that Vancouver would have had a destructive fire. If a fire were to start in some parts of our business town, it is not hard to imagine what would be the result by the time the steam engine got down to the river and got ready to throw a stream.

It is well known that the chief engineer has stated that he will always take the steam fire engine to the river immediately on an alarm of fire, on account of the fear of the tanks giving out. This is a good idea, and is of course almost necessary, but I would ask the chief engineer what he would do if the fire were to break out in the Hyack Hall itself or in that vicinity? A hand engine could pump water from the tank behind the hall with hardly a moment's delay, but the fire would probably be beyond the efforts of the firemen by the time the steam engine got pumping from the river.

This is a serious question, and I hope that the authorities will not delay longer to give us the better protection which a hand engine on Columbia street would insure. Old Fireman.

Nebraska Pressmen.

The Nebraska journalists, to the number of fifty, arrived on the North Pacific Saturday evening, and put up at the Oriental and Clarence hotels. On Sunday afternoon, the Victoria pressmen placed carriages at the disposal of the visitors and accompanied them to the several points of interest about the city. The dry dock, H. M. S. Champion, and the city park were visited. The party embarked on the sound steamer in the evening and returned to the sound to-day.—Monday's Times.

Encounter with a Panther.

While Mr. Lee and his brother, both farmers at French Creek, were slashing near a road on their land, they noticed their dog, a valuable Irish terrier that they had been offered £35 for to send to England for show purposes, snuffling around the logs and brush in a very suspicious manner, when suddenly he leapt upon a log just in time to be received by a large panther, which grabbed him by the head, completely smashing it When the Lee brothers recovered from their astonishment, they made a rush for the brute armed only with a brush-hook and an axe, but the animal, deeming discretion the better part of valor, retired precipitately into the woods, leaving the carcass of his prey where he had killed it.—Courier.

RESIGNATION.

To the Aldermen and Citizens of New Westminster:

Gentlemen,—

I consider it my duty to resign from the Civic Board, as my relations with the New Westminster and Southern Railway conflict, or appear to conflict, for when I introduce any scheme between the Railway Company and the City, although it may be for the benefit and best interests of the City, some of the Alderman insinuate that I am working for the New Westminster and Southern Railway Company (of which I am a member) against the interests of the City; therefore, I beg respectfully to tender my resignation, hoping the Chair will be more ably and honorably filled to the advancement and best interests of the City of New Westminster.
