NOTES AND COMMENTS.

"My dear young friend," exclaimed the good man, solemnly, "do you attend church regularly?" "Yes sir; but I didn't go to-day. She is visiting friends out of town, you know." How many know this young man?

Jones—Congratulate me, old fellow. Miss Dashaway has agreed to marry me. Smith—I do, indeed, Jones. Glad you're coming into the family. Jones—Coming into the family! Smith—Yes; Dashy is a sister to me.

A Toronto paper contained the following advertisement the other day: We've been fortunate enough to secure from a manufacturer a lot of handsome Jersey jackets for ladies that got left on his hands through over-production."

Corrected—Pupil: "Teacher, kin me an' Bill go an' git a pail o' water?" Arkansas Schoolmaster: "There you go again. How many times have I got to tell you that it ain't good grammar to say me an' Bill?" Pupil: "What ort I say?" Teacher: "Bill and me! Can't I never learn you nothing?"

There is a good story told of Mr. A. J Balfour in reference to one of his recent visits to Ireland. He put the following question to an Irish priest, with whom he sat at dinner: "Do the Irish hate me to the extent that the Parnellite papers say they do?" To which the candid priest's good-humored answer was: "My dear sir, if they hated the devil half as much they hate you my occupation would be gone."

Here is a marriage notice from a Cleveland paper: "In Guilford, Medina county, O., on the 2nd inst., by S. Wilson, Esq., Mr. Samuel D. Curtis to Miss Sallie Murphy, after a tedious courtship of fifteen years, which was borne with Christian fortitude and patience." The intelligent reader with half an eye will perceive that the fag end of a funeral notice got dove-tailed onto a marriage announcement in the above.

Tramp—Mister, give me something to eat; I'm hungry and out of work. Practical Party, in suburbs—What do you work at? Tramp (speaking first thing that comes to mind)—I'm a wood engraver, sir. P. P. (delighted)—Ah, very good! Just walk around behind the kitchen; you'll find a saw, wood-horse and some wood. Will you be kind enough to engrave a cord or so while I see about your breakfast? But the cloud of dust disappearing down the road answered not.

The latest competition is charming in its novelty. A San Francisco paper offered, as a prize to the best pupil in the public schools, a trip to the Paris Exhibition. The struggle is keen, and the competitors are said to be successfully wrestling with the tasks submitted to them. Both boys and girls are competing, and the chances are said to be in favor of the girls, so that the enterprising newspaper may find itself in for paying the expenses of a chaperone as well. —Empire. Since our cotemporary wrote the above the "indefatigable girl," has "got there" sure enough. We don't believe a chaperone will be necessary, however. Why wouldn't a chap do instead?

What a remarkable exemplification, says an exchange, of the terrible force of the Johnstown flood is furnished by the summary of the strata of a single part of that gorge which was forced open by dynamite yesterday! A railroad bridge at the bottom, on top of that a hotel, above that a section of the Gautier Steel Works, and upon that foundation a super-structure of houses and small buildings! This immense pile was hurled together in an almost impregnable mass by that terrible rush of water. When stone, brick, and iron are tossed about like chips and feathers the wonder is heightened that any flesh and blood has survived to tell of the terrible event.

The expression "Sea of mountains," for applying which to the Pacific province the British Columbians hold Mr. Blake blameworthy, is almost as old as the hills themselves. It was used with reference to the Rockies by Principal Grant in his book of travels before Mr. Blake incorporated it into one of his orations, and it appeared in a leading British Columbia paper long before the learned principal, who in all probability did not see it there, wrote his entertaining work. It is in fact a part of the language. As we talk of a shower of misfortunes, a wilderness of houses, a sea of troubles, and a sea of upturned faces, so in describing a district in which mountain closely follows mountain it is customary to speak of a sea of mountains. There is really nothing in the phrase beyond what the politicians choose to attribute to it. It is a figure of speech, and its use with regard to British Columbia can only be properly condemned if owing to the absence of mountains it is inapplicable. It is hardly probable, however, that anyone will claim that the mainland portion of the province is quite free from lofty elevations. Rumor says there are some notable mountains there, and that the province that possesssss them is not to be despised, for they are loaded with timber and mineral wealth, and are calculated to produce more cash within the next few years than some prairie lands elsewhere.—Mail.

VERY RICH ORE.

One Carload of Silver Ore from a Port Arthur Mine is Valued at $50,000.

A Serious Outbreak of Diphtheria Occurs at St. Lambert, Opposite Montreal.

All Preparations Completed for the Kilrain-Sullivan Encounter Near New Orleans.

SOMETHING LIKE ORE.

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., June 27.—The Badger mine shipped another car containing 35 barrels, of rich silver ore yesterday to Newark N. J., for smelting. The car was valued at $50,000. Two barrels alone contained $15,000 worth of silver.

NO DIVIDEND.

KINGSTOWN, Ont., June 27.—At the annual meeting of the shareholders of the cotton mill, held yesterday, no dividend was declared. The stockholders are dissatisfied with the financial results. Some contend that it is not right that the profits of the mill should all fall to the employees, while the men whose money is invested receive no returns.

DIPHTHERIA OUTBREAK.

MONTREAL, June 27.—An outbreak of diphtheria at St. Lambert has caused some anxiety among the residents there, but every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

THE DEFAULTING POSTMASTER.

KINGSTON, Ont., June 27.—The effects of Mr. Burns were seized yesterday. Mary Doolan, of Wolfe island, enquired about her funds. She deposited $900 in August last in the post office savings bank, dividing the money into two amounts of three and six hundred, she holds a receipt for three hundred alone. Mrs. Doolan, who cannot read or write, thought the receipt covered $900. The discovery of the real state of affairs only occurred to-day.

EVIDENTLY MURDERED.

NORTH BAY, Ont., June 27.—The body of a man named Leveque was found in the Mattawa river on Saturday last, about 11 miles below Callendar station on the C.P.R. Strong pieces of leather, like moccasin strings, were wound tightly around the neck. Attached to these were his suspenders with loops in the ends, appeared to have been tied round stones to sink the body in the water. An inquest was held yesterday at Callendar, when it was elicited that he had probably died from the effects of wounds received in a fight, in a shanty half a mile from where the body was found, two weeks ago, with a man named Dolan, foreman of the gang. A verdict of manslaughter was brought against Dolan by the coroner's jury, but Dolan's whereabouts are unknown.

PRIZE FIGHTING.

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 27.—Governor Nichols' proclamation regarding prize fighting in this state is not causing much anxiety to sports hereabouts, but Renaud, who has charge of the affair, said last night it was never contemplated to pitch a battle ground within the jurisdiction of Louisiana. He says the proclamation will not interfere with arrangements. Before parting, Frank Stevenson, of New York, concurred fully in Renaud's opinion and expressed like views.

ANOTHER CHALLENGE.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Jack Ashton has issued a challenge to Peter Jackson, the colored champion, and deposited $500 with the Illustrated News, as a forfeit for a match for $5,000. Ashton wants to fight bare with knuckles.

THE COMING FIGHT.

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 27.—The Kilrain people raised several objections to St. Tammany, where the fight is to take place, claiming telegraph facilities are very bad, but the Western Union promised to rectify this defect. The Kilrain people will let Sullivan's friends know their choice of location on Saturday, when the latter can visit the spot. All parties express the belief that the fight will come off, the only trouble expected will be over the referee, who is to be selected at the ring. Kilrain will be here on the 5th, and devote three days to resting.

HANGED.

PATERSON, N. J., June 27.—Tuenis Labb was hanged in jail here at 9:16 o'clock this morning for the murder of his wife.

THE GREEN EYED MONSTER.

BALTIMORE, June 27.—Early this morning Wm. Cristopher, prompted by jealousy, shot and killed Charles Logue.

THE FEATHERWEIGHT.

BOSTON, June 27.—Frank Murphy, the English featherweight, who leaves to-night for San Francisco, where he is to fight Billy Murphy, the Australian champion, was tendered a reception at Patsy Sheppard's last night, and presented with a diamond pin, a set of colors, and a handsome case.

"THE OLD KENTUCKY HOME."

SHEPERDSVILLE, Ky., June 26.—At 1 o'clock this morning a mob entered the jail and demanded the keys to the cells of the two murderers, Ardell and Mitchell, who, on June 19, shot and killed Peddler Lavine while trying to rob him. Jailer Bowman took his stand at the entrance with a shotgun, but the mob soon overpowered him, and his wife, thinking he would be murdered, came forth with the keys. Bowman pleaded with the men not to take Mitchell, as he believed he was innocent. They left Mitchell in his cell, but warned him of his future and told him he could thank Bowman for saving his life and that it was their intention to take both. After they had securely fastened Ardell, the command was given to march, and with curses, oaths and yells they left with the doomed man. Nothing could be learned as to the direction taken by the mob, as they commanded all to remain behind.

THE CRONIN CASE.

CHICAGO, June 26.—The sensation of the afternoon was the announcement that lawyer John F. Beggs, ex-president of Camp 20 of the Clan-Na-Gael, by which body it is held that the physician's death was decreed, and who was deposed from the presidency of the Irish American Club a few nights since, had been placed under arrest. Investigation developed the fact that he had been taken from his lodgings shortly after midnight and locked up in Warren Avenue station. He was brought down to the court house late this afternoon in a patrol waggon, strongly guarded by police, and ushered without delay into the presence of the grand jury. For an hour or more a volley of questions were fired at him, but to all evasive replies were returned. He particularly refused to admit that shortly before Cronin's murder he had made a bitter speech in camp 20, denouncing the physician as a British spy. At the conclusion of his examination he was returned to the police station. Laurence Buckley, another Clan-Na-Gael man, is to be called to-morrow. Rumors are again current that other important arrests are imminent. None of the testimony before the jury to-day was of an important nature.

FROM VICTORIA.

The Fleet Returns to Victoria and Leaves This Afternoon for Vancouver.

Special to the Columbian.

VICTORIA, June 27.—The fleet of war ships returned from a trip up the coast this morning. They leave this afternoon for Vancouver to be present at the Dominion day celebration.

The s. s. Elder, for Alaska, passed up to Nanaimo to-day. She will go to Seattle and take on passengers and cargo.

The Walla Walla arrived early this morning from San Francisco.

City Council.

A special meeting of the council was held last night. Present—Aldermen Curtis, Scoullar, Calbick, Reid, McPhaden, Ewen, Cunningham and Jaques.

His worship Mayor Hendry in the chair.

COMMUNICATIONS

From Mr. Justice Crease, enclosing cheque for taxes and highly commending the by-laws lately passed. Received and filed.

From James Wilson and T. J. Trapp, applying for sidewalk grade on Agnes street.

The tenders for clearing the Queen's park were opened and read, and that of Angus McLennan & Edward Lowey having been found the lowest ($100 per acre) it was accepted on condition that satisfactory security be given.

The deeds for the school lots were presented, and on motion the conveyances from L. F. Bonson and M. Sinclair to the queen were accepted, and on the proper execution of the same the clerk is authorized to pay over the money to the said parties of the first part and transmit the conveyances to the secretary of the school board.

REPORTS.

The board of works reported as follows: That Begbie street, between Columbia and Front streets be cribbed and filled in with earth, and that the city engineer prepare plans for the same.

That plans and specifications be prepared for bridging, and another for cribbing and filling, Kennedy's ravine, and separate tenders be called for the same.

That arrangements be made with the saw mill company to fill up the end of Douglas street, between Columbia and Front streets, with slabs and sawdust to such a level as to allow gravel to be placed on top.

That all street intersections be level stages and all street and sidewalk improvements be carried out according to by-law, and that the council take the necessary steps to have the money in readiness, as it is intended to prosecute the work vigorously.

That all leases given from date must make lessee liable for all taxes.

That the tax of Peter Grant be remitted.

That the council take such action in regard to taxes on suburban lots as will satisfactorily settle the dispute between the government and the city. Report adopted.

On motion the finance committee was authorized to get a new corporation seal.

The council then adjourned till Wednesday, July 3rd.

Wm. McDermott a farmer of Elkhorn, Man., Monday night while in an insane condition shot his wife with a small revolver in three places, the left shoulder, left breast and left cheek. He then rushed out of the house, but returned and asked his wife to forgive him. Half an hour later he asked her to die with him, and she prayed him on her hands and knees to spare her. He fell asleep, and the woman, leaving her babe by her husband's side, fearing to raise him again, stole across the prairie to the house of neighbors. McDermott, after she left, must have awakened and, missing his wife, went to the stable, where he was found hanging quite dead.

BAVARIAN BEER.

A Paris Saloon Keeper Sells German Beer and is Boycotted by Parisians.

Harvard-Yale Boat Races Excite Great Interest and Lively Contests are Expected.

A Solemn Celebration Proposed to to be Held Over the Victims of the Johnstown Horror.

THE LOYAL FRENCH.

PARIS, June 27.—The proprietor of a cafe here, was recently imprudent enough to make a specialty of Bavarian beer, and, in consequence, lost his French customers, who accused him of being a traitor. The papers took up the question and published violent attacks on the proprietor, who was finally obliged to publish a card saying he recognized his mistake and hereafter nothing that recalls the name of Germany should be sold in his establishment.

HARVARD-YALE RACES.

NEW LONDON, June 27.—The city is rapidly filling up with collegemen and friends of the various crews, and indications are now that the crowd on Friday will be larger by several thousand than at any previous race for several years. Hotels are now overcrowded, and those who arrive to-day will stand a good chance of having to stroll the streets all night or sleep in hotel corridors. In to-day's races Harvard is looked upon as a sure winner of the Freshmen event, and betting is now three to one. In the three cornered event, the crews are placed in every possible position, and bets vary. The result of the race is decidedly uncertain, but each contingent of students is backing its own crew liberally. The Freshmen race will be rowed down stream at 5 p. m., and immediately afterwards the three mile race will be rowed up stream.

A SOLEMN CELEBRATION.

JOHNSTOWN, Penna, June 27.—Sheriff McCandless and Col. Hudson called on General Hastings this morning with a view to have the grand and solemn ending of the Johnstown calamity properly celebrated through the state. The idea has the approval of all who take an interest in the fatality. It is proposed that on the day the state turns Johnstown over to its people, requiem services will be held in all parts of Conemaugh valley where the victims of the disaster are buried. This is to be done as a tribute of respect to this stricken locality, and is to be made a state day of prayer. Many unfortunates were buried without any religious services, and are now lying in unknown graves. The observance proposed will be somewhat after the manner of Decoration Day. At the hour appointed services will be held at the various cemeteries in which the remains were interred. Flowers will be strewn upon the graves, making a fitting ending to the greatest calamity that ever occurred in this country. Three bodies were found this morning, but are not yet identified.

Interior Mining Notes.

Things are looking very favorable in the McMurdo camp for a good summer's work. At present Mr. McCabe is working 2 shifts on the Southern Cross and Monitor. The party representing the company who are about to operate on Copper creek having been well satisfied with the property, work will be commenced immediately on the Lost Chief and a crosscut tunnel run at a greater depth than the present drift. Jim White is hard at work prospecting Cariboo basin in the interest of Mr. Granger; he has got some fine specimens of what we would conclude to be a free-milling ore, although the nature of surface croppings generally changes with depth. The season in the glacier belt is about as far advanced at present as it was a month later last season, the snow having all disappeared with the exception of a few patches on top of the glaciers.—Donald Truth.

Large Coal Areas.

Mr. James Deens was a passenger from Queen Charlotte Island, by the steamer Sardonyx to-day. Mr. Deens, with a party of five white men and three Indians, have been prospecting the property owned by the Queen Charlotte Anthracite Mining Company, and for the past two weeks their shifts of workingmen have been running a tunnel to tap the coal seam about 350 feet below the surface. The tunnel is now in 150 feet, and appearances indicate that it will not be long before the coal is reached. Mr. Alex. McInnes, from the Springfield Mines, United States, has charge of the work. He thoroughly understands his business, and hopes to demonstrate the value of the property thoroughly, this season. A seam of bituminous coal, fifteen feet thick was discovered in the Yakoun river valley and traced to the anthracite formation, a distance of five miles. It is believed to extend over the whole of the southern part of Graham island. This discovery demonstrates the large area of the coal formation. Anthracite has been found in the old company's property where it was never known to exist before. This valuable property was some time ago bonded by the Springhill Co., and it is very probable that its enormous value will be sufficiently evident to their representative to lead to a final transfer of the property in the course of a few months. British Columbians are only beginning to learn a trifle about the mineral wealth of their country. Mr. Deens thinks that the marble department should place a buoy or other finger post at the sand bar across the entrance to Skidegate harbor to mark the channel. The cost would only be a few dollars, and it would be of great benefit to vessels of all kinds.—Times.

The Toronto Rubber Co. has issued a writ against the Gutta Percha Co. in a libel suit asking $50,000 damages. The alleged libel was contained in a telegram sent to British Columbia in which the Rubber Co. claims it was sought to injure its character in the province named.

Thursday Evening, June 27, 1889.

The city council at their special meeting last night got right down to business in good shape, and it is apparent from the vigor and alacrity displayed that the civic works and improvements on the programme are not going to be allowed to lag. The city is to be congratulated on having at this important juncture such a wide-awake, industrious, and energetic council, and it is perfectly safe to predict that in a few weeks things will be literally "humming." Our tradesmen and the citizens generally will soon be reaping some of the advantages which we foreshadowed, when discussing the recent loan by-laws, would result from their passage. The final benefits to be derived from the necessary and laudable works for which these by-laws provide are greatly and gratefully enhanced by the large local expenditures which the works themselves necessitate. An outlay within the city of nearly $300,000 on civic works alone, inside of the next twelve months, cannot fail of having a healthy stimulating effect upon every business and industry in the city, as well as contributing materially to the city's growth, a result which the nature of the works themselves must supplement and make permanent. Westminster's immediate outlook is peculiarly bright, when, added to these civic expenditures, we have, this year a certain prospective outlay of $40,000 on asylum additions, $10,000 or $15,000 on a new hospital, $20,000 probably, in the near future, on a court house, an expenditure up in the hundred thousands on the Ross-McLaren mills in the near vicinity, considerable outlay for improvements and additions to mills already established, large railway expenditures in prospectu in the city and vicinity, besides an outlay of what will in all probability aggregate between $300,000 and $500,000 by private enterprise in the erection of buildings and residences within the city. We have just touched lightly in the foregoing upon some of the more salient facts and circumstances upon which to construct a horoscope, whereby the reader may view for himself the decidedly hopeful conjunction which presides over the royal city's immediate future.

Not all of the fair sex, it is well known, are agreed with the woman suffragists in their demand for the extension of political equality with men to the women of the nation. If there are good arguments on one side there is not a lack of cogent reasons produced on the other, and the women themselves are not seldom the strongest protesters against woman suffrage, although it must be admitted that the trend of things, in the United States especially, is in the direction of making woman, not so much the complement, as the equal, of man in every respect. The question whether this is a consummation devoutly to be wished, or as religiously shunned, would lead one into a profound balancing of psychological and physiological abstractions, which have been both exhaustively and exhaustingly discussed by much abler pens, and which it is not our purpose to inflict on the reader. As an instance of women desiring to be saved from the boon which the zealous suffragists wish to have extended to them, and giving reasons seriatim in support of their counter-plea, the current number of the Nineteenth Century contains an eloquent appeal, signed by over one hundred women, "to the common-sense and educated thought of the men and women of England against the proposed extension of the parliamentary suffrage to women." Among the signatures are those of the Dowager Lady Stanley of Alderley, Lady Frederick Cavendish, Lady Randolph Churchill, Mrs. Goschen, Mrs. Humphrey Ward, Mrs. Alma-Tadema, Mrs. W. E. Forster, Mrs. Matthew Arnold, and Mrs. Max Muller, and the list in its entirety is said to be representative of a great variety of social and other interests. An outline of the arguments advanced by the fair appellants will be of interest. The first argument is, in brief, that women are physically unfit, and were never designed by nature, to share in the work of certain large departments of national life. Among these are mentioned the struggle and toil of legislative work; the exhausting labor necessary in the administration of the national resources and powers; the conduct of the nation's relations towards the external world; the working of the army and navy; the heavy, laborious, and fundamental industries of the state, such as those of mines, metals, and railways; the direction of the national commerce, and the management of the best national finance. Direct participation in these works is rendered impossible for women, it is alleged, "by the disabilities of sex, or by strong formations of custom and habit, resting ultimately upon physical difference, against which it is useless to contend." Women should exercise an influence in the national political activities, but, it is claimed, they already do so to an extent fully proportioned to their possible share therein. This argument is summed up as follows:

"We would give them their full share in the state of social effort and social mechanism; we look for their increasing activity in that higher state which rests on thought, conscience, and moral influence; but we protest against their admission to direct power in that state which does rest upon force—the state in its administrative, military, and financial aspects where the physical capacity, the accumulated experience, and inherited training of men ought to prevail without the harrassing interference of those who, though they may be partners with men in debate, can in these matters never be partners with them in action."

Continuing, the appellants say: "Women will be more valuable citizens, will contribute more precious elements to the national life without the vote than with it." Grave practical difficulties in the way of the proposed extension of the suffrage are then pointed out, and it is argued, moreover, that from the manner in which the proposal has won its way into practical politics it is not ripe for legislative solution. In reply to the argument that if women possessed the suffrage many injustices of the law towards them would be easily and quickly remedied, it is asserted that during the past half-century the chief of such injustices have been amended by means of the existing constitutional machinery. In conclusion the appellants says:

"Nothing can be further from our minds than to seek to depreciate the position or the importance of women. It is because we are keenly alive to the enormous value of their special contribution to the community that we oppose what seems to us likely to endanger that contribution. We are convinced that the pursuit of a mere outward equality with men is for women not only vain, but demoralizing. It leads to a total misconception of woman's true dignity and special mission. It tends to personal struggle and rivalry, where the only effort of both the great divisions of the human family should be to contribute the characteristic labor and the best gifts of each to the common stock."

To the appeal is appended an editorial note asking the women readers of the Nineteenth Century, who agree with the arguments advanced, to sign a protest against the proposed legistation, and it remains to be seen what response will be given to the appeal by the fair sex in England. Whatever may be the results, it must be admitted that the anti-suffragists have stated their case strongly and clearly, and one finds it difficult not to sympathize with and assent to their conclusions.

CATHOLIC VESTMENTS.

The Different Colors Used by Priests and Bishops.

Significance of the Cassock, the Amice, the Maniple, the Chasuble and Other Sacred Garments—The Pallium of the Primates.

The vestments worn by the Roman Catholic clergy in the celebration of the sacred rites of that church are many, and each garment has a special and spiritual meaning. The vestments worn here in America to-day, says the New York Evening Sun, are just the same in shape, form and number as those used in the churches of the East—in Asia Minor, Armenia and Koordistan, etc.

The cassock is a black robe reaching to the ground, and is an emblem of the seamless garment worn by Christ. It is generally of black material. The Bishop's cassock is of purple, the Cardinal's red, and the Pope's white. In Catholic countries it is publicly worn, but in this country it is generally dispensed with in the streets, except by the Christian brothers. The beretta is the three-cornered cap worn by the clergy at almost all the sacred services except the celebration of mass. The color is always black, except in the case of Cardinals, who wear a red beretta. The surplice is a white garment coming down only to the hips. It is used by acolytes, those in minor orders, and by the clergy themselves when engaged in the ordinary services of the church, the mass always excepted.

When priest or Bishop is about to celebrate the mass he first washes his fingers and then takes up the amice, a piece of white linen about a half yard square, and places it over his shoulders.

It recalls the cloth with which the Jews covered the head of the Saviour on the night before He suffered, saying: "Prophesy unto us, O Christ, who is he that struck Thee?" The alb is a long garment of white linen reaching to the ground. It signifies the spotless purity of soul which the celebrant should carry to the altar, and it also recalls the mocking garment with which King Herod clothed the Saviour when he sent him back to Pilate. The alb is fastened with a girdle or cincture, which represents the one worn by Christ, who, after the Jewish fashion of the time, bound His clothes with a girdle. The cincture is also an emblem of the rope with which the Saviour was bound to the pillar and scourged.

The maniple, which is of the same texture as the chasuble or outer garment, is worn on the left arm. In the early ages of the church and in the warm countries of the East the priests carried a little cloth on the left arm as a handkerchief, and at length became from custom part of the sacred vestments. When a Bishop is celebrating mass he removes the maniple from the arm just before the offertory, or the principal portion of the sacrifice. The stole, which is the next garment put on when vesting for the *celebration of the mass, is a long and nar*row band, enlarged at either end. It is placed on the neck, crossed over the breast, and fastened by the girdle. Bishops do not cross the stole. It is a sign of spiritual power and authority, and for that reason a priest never administers one of the sacraments without the stole, and the Bishop, when administering holy orders, places it on the neck of the postulant as a badge of spiritual authority.

The chasuble is the last or outer garment, put over the head it hangs down before and behind. On the back is the figure of a cross to remind the people of the cross of Calvary, and in front is a symbol of the pillar to which Christ was bound and scourged. It represents the purple robe of derision with which the Roman soldiers clothed Christ.

The garments and ornaments worn by bishops are more numerous than those used by priests. The sandals which were worn in olden times have been dispensed with. A veil is placed on the knees coming up to the breast, the purpose of which is that the bishop may place his hands upon it so as not to soil the vestment. He wears a cross on his breast—the pectoral cross—hanging from his neck. Incased in the cross are always some sacred relics. In putting it on or taking it off he always kisses it to show his love and reverence for the cross of Christ. After the alb he puts on the tunic and then the dalmatica. The surplice is worn by the inferior clergy, the tunic by the subdeacon, the dalmatica by the deacon, the chasuble by the priest, but the Bishop wears all, to show that he has power over all the clergy. The Bishop next puts on the gloves to signify the prudence and discretion he should use in the exercise of his episcopal powers. After the chasuble is put on the miter is placed on his head by a deacon. This he must remove when he approaches the altar to say mass. The tiara worn by the Pope has also to be removed when he celebrates mass. Next comes the ring, emblematic of Christ's espousal with the church. The pastoral staff is emblem of apostolic authority. The Pope, though he is Bishop of Rome, has no crozier, because its first Bishop, St. Peter, history says, gave his crozier to another to work miracles, and never used one after that.

The pallium is a garment worn only by archbishops, primates and patriarchs during Divine service. It goes around the neck and shoulders. It is always made of the wool of lambs blessed in St. Agnes' church in Rome.

The colors used in the vestments at different times of the year are five in number—white, black, red, green and violet. White is used on all joyous festivals, the great feasts of the Redeemer, the Virgin Mary and the eminent confessors of the church. Black is the color of death and at funerals and masses for the dead, and on good Friday it is the color used. In case of a child who dies before the age of committing sin, and when a mass is said for it, white is the color worn. Red is used on all the feasts of the martyrs, who shed their blood for the faith. It is also worn on Pentecost Sunday in memory of the fiery tongues with which the Holy Ghost descended on the apostles. On all Sundays and forias pretending to the Holy Ghost green is used, except in the case of Pentecost. It is symbolic of the green which covers the earth, and the various plants, herbs, etc., that are the nourishing principle of all life as the Holy Ghost is the principle of all our good thoughts and actions and gives everlasting and perpetual youth to the church. Violet is the penitential color, being nearest the color of ashes, and is used during Lent and Advent.

Land Division in China.

Land in China is divided into more holdings than any other land in the world. It takes but a very small piece of land to support a Chinese family. The Chinese are the closest and most thorough cultivators in the world. Field hands in China are paid $12 per annum. The food is cooked by the employer. With his food he is furnished straw, shoes and free shaving—the last a matter which a Chinaman never neglects for any great length of time where it is possible to secure the luxury. It costs about $4 a year to clothe a Chinaman. Much of the land in China is divided up into gardens of areas as small as one-sixth of an acre.

The Turning-Point of Love.

There is a turning-point in the love of a wife for a husband which should be carefully watched. In some it occurs early, long before thirty, especially if the match were one of impulse or family convenience; but in the majority of instances its appearance manifests itself about the approach to the middle age of woman—from thirty-five to forty-two. There is a revulsion in the whole moral and mental being—a kind of chilling, cold indifference, which the slightest unkindness on the part of the husband at once kindles into a flame. It is difficult to account for this transitory condition, but there is much proof that a woman loves twice.

Thankful in Adversity.

A female Mark Tapley, after a life of toil, found herself an inmate of an alms-house. Reviewing her trials she said her husband had abused her, often beating her, but the Lord was good and took him away. When her son grew up he also was unkind and abusive, but the Lord was still merciful and carried him off with an attack of pneumonia. She had much to be thankful for in her old age; she had two teeth left, and, thank the Lord, they were opposite each other.

FRASER RIVER

12 Miles Above Westminster.

Has just been Surveyed, and the Lots are for sale by

WOODS, TURNER & GAMBLE

ALBERT J. HILL & COMPANY

OF NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C.

The advantages and prospects of this Plot for a future thriving Town are many.

The Land in the vicinity is good.

There are inexhaustible IRON ORE DEPOSITS, of a superior quality, immediately adjacent, as well as vast strata of the finest BUILDING SAND and POTTERY CLAY.

On the Townsite are a number of valuable MINERAL SPRINGS.

Communication by land and water is unequalled, by reason of the location of the Townsite on the Fraser River and the Southern Railway, while the natural elevation and lay of the land can not be excelled as a situation for a fine town.

The ground is open and clear of heavy timber.

The site has been selected as one of the most important stations on the Southern Railway, and with the completion of the road, in the near future, must, with all its other advantages, spring into prominence at once.

Those who apply early will have the pick of the Lots.

A clear title given with every purchase.

Parties wishing Lots can apply as well, on the premises, to

Mr. W. H. Keary, hon. secretary of the Royal Columbian hospital, is calling for tenders for the erection and completion of the new hospital building.

The lacrosse club had a very successful practice last night, notwithstanding the rain. The young players are coming to the front rapidly and will soon make a name for themselves.

Messrs. McLennan & Lowry have obtained the contract for clearing, grubbing and grading Queen's park. Their tender was very much lower than that of any other competitor for the work.

Referring to a gramatical question in the News-Advertiser, a correspondent says that that that may have been all right. In fact he thinks it quite probable that that that, that that that gentleman used, was O. K.

In the report of last night's council meeting, the very interesting report of the board of works will be found. It will be read with satisfaction by all who are anxious that the street improvements should be prosecuted without delay.

Certain rumors which have been circulating quietly for a few days, have led a number of the "knowing ones" to add to their possessions another strip of real estate. A number of large transfers have been quietly arranged and it is said several more are on the tapis.

Attention is directed to the great auction sale of blooded and graded stock fixed to come off at Ontario farm, Langley Prairie, on 28th June, full particulars of which will appear in next WEEKLY COLUMBIAN. The Messrs. Innes are favorably known as being good judges of horses and cattle, and the sale in question will give an opportunity seldom offered of acquiring good stock. 160 acres of the best prairie land in the province will be offered for sale by auction at the same time and place. Mr. T. J. Trapp will conduct the sale. td*

The St. Ann's convent bazaar was more largely patronized than ever to-day, and so great has been the rush since opening that the ladies in charge are completely tired out and will be heartily glad when the closing hour comes to-night. But they have done grand work and deserve the very highest credit for their untiring efforts. The usual lunch was served at noon to-day, and it was really excellent in every particular. To-night the bazaar will be closed, and the attendance is expected to be larger than ever.

At the Grave.

The funeral of Edna, the victim of Sunday's tragedy, took place yesterday from the house on Broughton st., where a service especially impressive and fitting was held by Rev. J. E. Starr. He referred briefly to the sad life and awful death of the young girl, for whom he said no man nor woman could feel ought but pity; and his kind words which came straight from the heart went straight to the hearts of his hearers. The magnificent casket which enclosed the body of the poor unfortunate was covered with a wreath of flowers, while the treasures of the hot-house made fragrant the death room. The service at the grave in the stranger's plot in Ross Bay cemetery was also conducted by Rev. Mr. Starr, the companions of the dead girl and a few sympathizing strangers following the body to its unmarked resting place. —Wednesday's Colonist.

The Fall Exhibitions.

The Chilliwack Agricultural Association has fixed the date for its exhibition on Wednesday and Thursday, the 25th and 26th of September next. The Surrey exhibition will be held on Monday, September 30th. The Delta exhibition, as has already been announced, will come off on Tuesday, October 1st. The date for the provincial fair, to be held at this city, published before, is Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, the 2nd, 3rd, and 4th of October next.

Victoria-Westminster.

Westminster will cross bats with Victoria on the cricket field on Saturday, and a thorough good game may be looked for. Victoria has, by considerable odds, the best eleven in the province, an eleven in fact that would hold its own against anything in the Dominion. It numbers among its players men who have played in county matches in England, and at least two whose batting record would entitle them to a place on the "All England" eleven. Westminster has not the good fortune to be able to muster such a large number of "top notch" players, but she has an eleven which on Saturday last showed a most stubborn determination not to be licked, and this same eleven will give Victoria a very interesting day's play. The following gentlemen have been selected to represent the Royal city: Bovill, Raymond, Armstrong, Gifford, Miles, Dockrill, Rev. P. Woods, Read, Worsfold, Coulthard and Lewis. Spare men, Wilson and Hamber. Play will be commenced at 10:30 o'clock.

Licensing Board.

The licensing board met at 10:30 this morning. Present, Mayor Hendry (chairman) and Messrs. Jas. Cunningham, W. Wolfenden and George Turner. The following licenses were granted: Stewart & Cash, Central Hotel; L. F. Bonson, Liverpool Arms; Thos. Levi, American Hotel; S. Woods, London Arms; H. Kehoe, Hub saloon; Flora Miller, Queens Hotel; A. J. Tolmie, Club saloon; R. W. McIntosh, Caledonia Hotel; P. Billodeau, Depot Hotel; John Rankin, Holbrook House; King & Keery, Eickhoff House; J. R. Brennan, Grotto Hotel; James Punch, Merchants Hotel; H. Eickhoff, Union Hotel; L. Guichon, Cleveland Hotel; Mary Hogan, Telegraph Hotel; L. Pither, Colonial Hotel; J. M. Blaikie, Steamboat Exchange.

The applications of J. Brenter and A. McLeod were refused.

The application of Messrs. Bell-Irving, Patterson & Co, for a wholesale license, was laid on the table for 2 weeks.

The board then adjourned.

Found in the Bush.

Last night it was reported that an old man was lying by the roadside in the Queen's park, unable to walk or speak, and exposed to the weather. The police were informed of the circumstances, but did nothing, as it appears they are not allowed to leave their down town beats after nightfall. Mr. Moresby took the matter in hand and offered to go out and bring the man in if the city would provide a carriage. Ald. Curtis agreed to pay the hire of an express wagon, but not a carriage. An express wagon could not be obtained, and the poor creature would probably have perished during the night but for Mr. Moresby, Mr. Geo. Armstrong and another party, who volunteered to go out and bring him in. The man was found lying on the ground under a bush, which only partially protected him from the pelting rain. He was too weak to walk and had lost the power of speech. He was taken to the city lockup and given a comfortable bed, and to-day he was admitted to the Royal Columbia hospital. It has been ascertained that his name is Breeman, and that he was a patient in the hospital some months ago.

The North Arm Road.

The North Arm Road, or rather imaginary road, for a pack horse could not be taken over it, is again brought to the fore by a number of North Arm farmers, who called at THE COLUMBIAN office yesterday and asked that another appeal be made to have the road opened for traffic. The road should be opened before fall, and every pressure should be brought to bear on the government to have the work commenced immediately. The daily steamboat service to the North Arm is very convenient, but the steamboat charges, though reasonable, are a tax on the farmer which he is not always able or willing to pay, and, consequently, much of the trade which would find its way to Westminster were the road open, now goes to Vancouver. Many of the farmers say they would rather trade in Westminster, having been accustomed for years to do so, but their is no toll on the Vancouver road and they are going where it pays best. The city council should take this matter up and push it earnestly. The cost of opening the remaining portion of the road would not be great but when opened it means very many thousand dollars to the trade of Westminster. The summer is well advanced and if anything is going to be done no time should be lost.

An Old Pioneer Drowned.

A letter received by West Huson from Alert Bay, dated June 17th, brings the news of the drowning of an old man named J. H. Coon, who was working on the black sand beach at the northern end of Vancouver Island. He and a Frenchman had come some distance down the coast with a companion who was dissatisfied with his work, and started back while a northwest wind was blowing. They had crossed over to Nawitti bar, and reached the river about a mile from their camp. The boat capsized and the overcoat and heavy boots worn by Coon kept him down, and his body up to the time of writing had not been recovered. His companion is safe at Nawitti awaiting some one to bring him to Cleekseway. The drowned man was an old pioneer of the province, and in 1878 accompanied Mr. Jos. Hunter, C. E., during his exploratory trip of Vancouver Island on behalf of the Dominion government. Strange to say the party were nearly being drowned at the very same place during that trip. Mr. Coon afterwards leased Gavin Hamilton's mill at the 150 Mile House, Cariboo road, which he operated until it was burned several years ago. He then interested himself in saving the gold from the black sand deposits at Nawitti, but with poor success. He was in Victoria about a month ago, but returned to Nawitti, where he met his death by drowning.—Colonist.

THE NEW HOSPITAL.

Satisfactory Arrangements Completed for Selling the Old Hospital Site and Erecting a New building Immediately at Sapperton.

The necessity for a new hospital to replace the present old and somewhat delapidated Royal Columbian hospital structure in this city has long been apparent, but by none has the urgency of the case been so keenly realized as by the untiring and faithful trustees of the beneficent institution above, Messrs. Jas. Cunningham, G. E. Corbould, J. W. Harvey, W. H. Keary (hon. secretary-treasurer), and the Hon. John Robson.

At the last session of the provincial legislature, it will be remembered, a bill was put through the house, at the instance of the trustees above mentioned, which the Hon. John Robson, owing to his position in the house and government, was able to materially assist in passing, to enable the trustees to sell the present site of the Royal Columbian hospital and apply the proceeds to erecting a new hospital on a site situated on Mary street, between Montreal and Pelham streets, which by the same act was conveyed to the trustees for that purpose.

In pursuance of carrying out their intentions, the four trustees resident in this city have been convening quite frequently during the last few weeks. As a result of their deliberations it was decided not to erect the new hospital upon the site on Mary street, —which, by the way, comprises about ten and a half acres—but, with the consent of the government, to throw that land also into the market, as well as the old hospital site, and to erect the new building on a tract of about five acres which the trustees negotiated to purchase from Bishop Sillitoe, at Sapperton, for the sum of $4,000. Messrs. G. E. Corbould and W. H. Keary were appointed a delegation of the trustees to wait upon the provincial secretary in the matter of this new departure. That gentleman declared himself to be thoroughly in accord with the action of his fellow trustees, and, as a member of the government, consented to the disposal of the hospital reserve on Mary street in the manner desired, and promised to use his influence with the house in the matter. Mr. W. H. Keary, one of the delegates and hon. sec.-treas. of the hospital board, speaks in the highest terms of the cordial manner in which the provincial secretary met the delegation and the important assistance he rendered in bringing about the satisfactory consummation of the whole business.

The trustees have also secured plans and estimates from the various local architects for a new hospital building, to cost in the neighborhood of $10,000. These plans were submitted to Dr. Bentley and also to the provincial secretary, and the judgment of the trustees was confirmed in the final selection of the plan of Messrs. Clow & Maclure. Tenders will shortly be asked on these plans for the construction of the new hospital, which will be erected forthwith, as intimated, on the five acre site secured for the purpose at Sapperton.

The old site, comprising six city lots, will be advertised for sale immediately, by public auction, it is understood, and the trustees expect to realize several thousand dollars by the transaction, which will go toward the construction of the new building. Subsequently, the hospital reserve near the head of Mary street will be divided into lots and also placed in the market, thus providing ample funds for the erection and proper furnishing of the new hospital, and throwing open to the public a large number of exceptionally fine building sites for residences, which will be greatly appreciated, and will be a benefit to the city as well.

The site upon which the new hospital is to be erected is situated within the recently enlarged city limits, and, with its proximity to the railway and convenience of approach by a nearly level road from the centre of the city, constitutes a better location for the hospital than the site originally intended, at the top of the rather steep grade of Mary street.

The trustees, and especially Messrs. Corbould and Keary and the Hon. John Robson, who took the most active part in the matter, are to be commended for the industry, energy and ingenuity they have displayed throughout, and congratulated on the satisfactory results of the entire deal, whereby a new and much needed hospital will be erected without delay, upon an incomparable site, and ample funds be forthcoming for its construction and furnishing, while the city secures a goodly number of unrivalled building sites.

Midsummer Examination.

The closing exercises of Miss Rogers' division of the central school took place yesterday afternoon, beginning at 1:30 o'clock. A large number of spectators were present, among whom were Rev. Messrs. Jamieson and Scouler, Mayor Hendry and trustees McKenzie, Sinclair and Calbick. The scholars were put through several exercises by the teacher and gave general satisfaction. At the conclusion of the examination Mayor Hendry made the following presentations: Certificates for entrance to the high school—Vesta May Baldwin, May Sybil Brown, Ella May Douglas, Jennie Dyker and Constance Victoria Clute; rolls of honor: Miss Vesta Baldwin for proficiency; Miss Jennie Dyker for punctuality and regularity, and Miss Ella Bertha Howay for deportment. The governor-general's medal, competed for by the pupils of the Nanaimo and New Westminster public schools, was won by Miss Vesta Baldwin, the Royal City thus scoring another point. Addresses were made by the Rev. Mr. Scouler, Mayor Hendry, Messrs. McKenzie, Sinclair and McGregor.

The examination of Miss Dockrill's division commenced at 9:30 o'clock this morning in the presence of a large number of visitors, principally ladies. About 50 scholars were present, and were subjected to a thorough examination on the different branches, with results both gratifying and satisfactory. Several speeches were made by visitors after which the rolls of honor were presented by Rev. Mr. Jamieson to Emma Ellis, for proficiency, Chas Hennessey, for punctuality and regularity; Edna A. Burr, for deportment.

Mr. Coatham's department was the next examined, and, being the highest division, more interest was naturally centered on it than on any of the others, and the space allotted to visitors was fairly packed. The scholars were examined on every subject which they have been tutored in during the past term, and a really excellent showing was made. Mr. W. A. Duncan presented rolls of honor to Lloyd Grant for proficiency; Geo. D. Turner for punctuality and regularity; Frederick Hill for deportment. Speeches were made by Mayor Hendry, trustees Duncan and Sinclair, Rev. Mr. Jamieson and Col. McGregor.
