NOTES AND COMMENTS.

A California paper, in commenting on a concert, says that one of the ladies sang in the German style sobbing at each word with spasmodic accents, and uttering abruptly loud notes.

An instance of presence of mind approaching to the horrible occurred in the Grand Theatre, Glasgow. Miss Rose Lee, while singing a love song, saw a "flyman" fall head foremost from the flies to the stage, a distance of twenty-two feet. She not only continued her song, but moved forward to the front of the stage in order that the calcium light which was directed upon her might not reveal the form of the dead man to the audience.

In the U.S. postal service there are 58,200 postmasters, 7,000 railway mail service employees, 7,000 letter carriers, 100 inspectors, 5,000 clerks in the post-offices, 600 clerks in the post-office department. This gives a total of 77,900 employees. Every post-master averages two assistants, and this, in round numbers, amounts to 116,400 persons, which number added to 77,900 gives 194,300 persons over whom the service has control.

An Alabama man charged with stealing a calf made the following statement: "I was always teached to be honest, an' most always have been; but when I seed that calf I caved. I never wanted a calf so bad in all my life; an' you all know that when a man wants a calf he wants him." The jury returned the following verdict—"We, this jury, are satisfied that Steve stold the calf, but as the feller that owned the animal is considerable of a slouch, we agree to clear Steve an' make the slouch pay the costs."

A ballet girl at the Chatelet Theatre, Paris, recently received the visit of a provincial notary, armed with the necessary documents to prove her to be the only child of a marquis recently deceased, and the sole heiress of an estate worth several millions of francs. The child was changed while out at nurse. The dying confession of the foster mother and certain positive proofs have established her identity. Thus will a young woman be made wealthy by her father, after having been made famous by her grande pas.—Ex.

A local industry has sprung up in the Australian colonies in making soft felt hats from the fur of rabbits. Cony wool is now worth 7s. a pound. From the single colony of New Zealand there have been exported about 70,000,000 rabbit-skins, valued at nearly £75,000. But the property destroyed by these rodents is estimated by millions. The cheap linings of coats and ladies' cloaks and many of the dyed articles of fur, are due to rabbit-skins, home and foreign. In the last ten years 28,000,000 rabbit-skins have been exported from Victoria.

Judas has been officially abolished in the island of Maderia. It has been a time-honoured custom of the natives to exhibit in one of their numerous religions processions an effigy of Judas, upon which the opprobrium of the populace was duly heaped, and at the close of the day Judas was burned with vociferous expressions of triumph and joy. Of late years it has happened that the effigy of Judas has borne a striking resemblance to some person upon whom the general public has ceased to smile, and thus the governor of the island, the mayor of Funchal, and the foreign consul have been caricatured in the processions and burned in effigy. The powers that be have decided that the admixture of politics and religion is not wholesome, and so the edict has gone forth that hereafter the people must get along without Judas.

It is popularly supposed, remarks a correspondent of the London Daily News, that the Authorized Version of the Bible, as we have it to-day, is entirely free from printers' errors; and it may be interesting to a good many of your readers to learn that it contains anything of the kind. The following passage, however, speaks for itself, and the misprint contained in it will be readily noticed: "Woe to the idol shepherd that leaveth the flock! The sword shall be upon his arm, and upon his right eye; his arm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened," (Zechariah, chap. xi., v. 17). Curiously enough, this error has been allowed to remain uncorrected by the Universities Press for nearly fifty years, and possibly for a much longer period; at any rate it will be found in the editions of the Bible for 1839 and 1883, 1885 being the date of publication of the Revising Company and it would seem as if they wished to consign the fault to oblivion, as they substituted a new adjective ("worthless") for that misprinted — namely, "idle;" avoiding, moreover, any reference, marginal or otherwise, to the alteration made.

ALL QUIET IN SAMOA.

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, March 14.—A steamer has arrived here from the Samoan islands with advices from Apia to March 5. Everything was tranquil when the steamer left. There had been no change of the positions of Mataafa and Tamasese. The former has 6,000 men in his entrenched camp, and the latter only 700. The German authorities had withdrawn their proclamation of martial law, and abandoned the right of searching vessels for contraband of war. The foreign men of war remained in the harbor of Apia and there had been no conflict or disturbance on sea or land since the last advices. All were awaiting instructions from Berlin and Washington.

LABOUCHERE'S CABLE.

LONDON, March 14.—The Berlin academy of science, with the co-operation of the German government, has organized an expedition for the investigation of the Pelagic Fauna of the Atlantic, which is to commence with the examination of the American coast from Greenland to Brazil. The expedition, which is to sail from Kiel in June, is to be under the direction of Prof. Henson, the well known scientist of Kiel.

NO ALLOWANCE WANTED.

There is no foundation for the widely circulated report that parliament will shortly be asked to grant an allowance of $75,000 a year for Prince Albert Victor. There is no intention of making any such request until Prince Albert Victor is about to marry, except, of course, in the event of the demise of the crown.

ON A COURTING TOUR.

Prince Charles, of Sweden, Duke of Westrogothia, second son of King Oscar, and now in Paris, is coming to England shortly to stay for several weeks, when he is very likely to be heard of in the character of suitor for the hand of the Princess Victoria of Wales.

RUDOLPH'S SCIENTIFIC COLLECTION.

The zoological and scientific collection of the late Crown Prince Rudolph are to be distributed by order of the emperor among the museums of Austria and Hungary.

THE QUEEN.

The queen will leave Riarritz on the afternoon of Thursday, April 4th, and is to travel direct to Cherbourg, where she will embark next morning on board the Victoria-Albert for Portsmouth. She will reach Windsor Castle in time for dinner on Friday, April 5th. The date of the next drawing room will be either the 9th or 11th of April.

A HEAVY WIN.

"A young Englishman won £40,000 the other day at Monte Carlo." I have read this nonsense in a dozen papers during the last week. The real amount was 40,000 francs. So far from the bank having been doing badly this season I hear that the gains exceed by some £400,000 the profits for the same period of last year.

D'AUMALE'S RETURN.

My correspondent writes of the reasons why the decree of exile against the Duke D'Aumale has been revoked, is the hope of playing him off against General Boulanger on one side, and against M. Clemenceau on the other. Politicians who have been for the last ten years filling their pockets at the cost of the country and patronizing art in Boudoirs of Sylphs of the opera and at the houses of pretty actresses will find themselves high and dry. It is not pleasant for them to have to retire into private life and they want now to take a fresh departure. Some of them as regards reputation stand in need of a bath of Eau de Cologne. They think that by having the Duc D'Aumale in their hands they would cease to be thoght fishy. On the whole, however, the present cabinet is a respectable one. There is no harder worker than Guyot, minister of public works, upon whom I have had my eye for years. He is as clever as he is reliable, and has virtues which frugal habits and diligence in business originate and keep up. As to the playing off of the Duc D'Aumale against Gen. Boulanger my feeling is it is too late. If the Duc D'Aumale were of the age of the general he might be pitted against him with every chances of victory, but the Duc is 68, very gouty and dislikes frivolous moths and butterflies. He has lost his relish for vain glory and for the incense of what is called society.

BISMARCK.

BERLIN, Mar. 14.—Bismarck attended the re-opening of the Reichstag yesterday. He appeared in good health but made no speech.

AN APPALLING CRISIS

PARIS, Mar. 14.—La Bourse the organ of the metal ring, declares the crisis appalling, an announces that all copper mines have consented to stop production for two months.

GERMANY TO BLAME.

BERLIN, March 14.—Herr Vohoen, an officer of the German East Africa Co., who has just returned from the African coast, throws the blame for the outbreak and bloodshed at Bogomyo on the consul-general and political agent of Germany at Zanzibar. A German mission is about to start for Morocco to open the markets of that country to Germany. Dr. Peters, of the Emin relief expedition, has sailed for Zanzibar.

THE AMELICAN BALL PAYERS.

LONDON, March, 14.—The American base ball teams played to-day at the crystal palace by invitation of the directors. All America won by a score of 5 to 3.

AN UNLUCKY INSTITUTION.

PARIS, March 14.—There is a rumor on the bourse, which has caused great commotion, that Mr. Pillet Weil, who recently withdrew from the board of directors of the bank of France, because he disapproved of the advance it made to the Comptoir des Compte, has resigned his seat as director of the Comptoir des Compte and three other directors have resigned with him. The shares of Comptoir des Compte have had a heavy drop to-day in consequence of this report, and this tends to confirm it.

A SECRET TREATY.

LONDON, March 13.—While it is presumed in London that the visit of Sir Edward B. Malet, the British ambassador at Berlin to England is due to family affliction (at least so it has been given out) it is asserted in Berlin that he is the medium of a secret communicated from Prince Bismarck to Lord Salisbury on the subject of forming an alliance between Germany and Great Britain. Color is lent to the truth of this report by the fact that Sir Edward held an extended conference with Lord Salisbury this afternoon, instead of devoting himself to family matters as he would naturally do if the reasons assigned here for his visit were true.

RECEPTION TO MR. PARNELL.

LONDON, March 13.—St. James' Hall was filled to overflowing to night on the occasion of the long heralded reception to Mr. Parnell in recognition of the return of what popular esteem of which the new exploded accusations of the Times had robbed him. The hall was profusely decorated with flags, flowers, etc., and the gathering was remarkably enthusiastic. Mr. John Morley presided, and upon taking the chair delivered an earnest and eloquent speech. The absence of Mr. Gladstone, he said, was greatly regretted by all but he was assured, and in return would assure his audience, that the great leader of the liberals would be present if it were not for the fact that he had been earnestly besought and prevailed upon by his friends to spare himself for another occasion when the cause of Ireland would be advocated before a body competent to take action on all questions to be presented. Mr. Gladstone would not, Mr. Morley said, spare himself of his own free will, because he plainly sees that the time is fast coming when we will surely get to the bottom of these Irish proceedingr. Whatever form home rule may take it must rest upon a foundation of mutual respect and gooodwill. He severely censured the entire course of the Times against Mr. Parnell and his collegues and rejoiced in the downfall of the fabric it had raised. Mr. Parnell, in rising to speak, was greeted with a perfect bedlam of applause, the ovation lasting many minutes. He was sure, he said, his countrymen in Ireland, Australia and America would be equally glad upon hearing of his reception to-night. He had, however, not much to say and would reserve his last words on the vital subject for the witness-box and the house of commons. The proceedings before the commission had involved a scandalous waste of money.

THE MISSIONARIES RELEASED.

ZANZIBAR, March 12.—The German missionaries who were recently captured by the Arabs have been released upon a ransom of £6,000 being paid and the surrender of twelve slaves which the Germans had. The Arabs, under Boushieri, are retreating into the interior. They are inclined to enter into negotiations with the Germans.

S. Chadwick, of Arcadia, Wayne Co., writes: "I have had severe attacks of Asthma for several years. I commenced taking Dr. Thomas's Eclectric Oil. The first dose relieved me in one hour. I continued taking it in teaspoonful doses for a few days, and have not had an attack of it since, now nearly one year."

VICTORIA NEWS.

Tascott, the Notorious Chicago Murderer, Supposed to have been Arrested in Nanaimo.

Special to the COLUMBIAN.

VICTORIA, March 14.—A man giving his name as Charles Palmer, answering to the description of Tascott, the murderer of Snell, the Chicago millionaire, was arrested at Nanaimo yesterday. He boarded the train at Gold Stream and arrived at Nanaimo at noon. He jumped off the train before it reached the station and engaged a boatman to take him to Gabriola Island. Rain prevented their going and he then offered a hackman twenty dollars to drive him out of the town. He said he was being hunted and wished to escape his pursuers. Three detectives were in this city a few days ago on the track of Tascott.

PERSONAL.

Capt. Robertson, of Moresby Island, is in the city.

A. C. Rand, of Rand Bros., went over to Victoria to-day.

J. W. Harvey left for Victoria this afternoon on a business visit.

C. C. Morrell, of the Standard Oil Co., is staying at the Colonial.

Mr. A. M. Nelson, who had the misfortune to break his leg at Port Hammond a few days ago, is getting along nicely.

Richard Mounce, of Mounce Bros., arrived home to-day from Windsor, Nova Scotia, bringing with him a helpmate to share his joys. THE COLUMBIAN extends congratulations to the happy couple.

O. F. Wegener, of Seattle, Wash., civil engineer and general agent for British Columbia of the American Building and Loan Association with headquarters in Minneapolis, Minn., is in the city and is staying at the Colonial.

A new explosive has been discovered. Lewis Smith, of May Landing, N. J., took a very large sweet potato home the other day, and Mrs. Smith put it in the oven to bake. Soon there was a terific explosion, both oven doors were blown off, and the house was shaken thoroughly. The big potato had exploded.

PEOPLE WHO RESIDE OR SOJOURN in regions of country where fever and ague and bilious remittent fever are prevalent, should be particularly careful to regulate digestion, the liver and the bowels, before the approach of the season for the periodic malady. The timely use of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure is a valuable safeguard against the malarial scourge. It is acknowledged to be the best blood purifier in the market.

DAKOTA SMUGGLERS.

The Great Opium Smuggling Case Over.—One Dismissed, Another Gets Penitentiary.

The Westinghouse Patent Sold to an English Company for Two Million Dollars.

Terrible Boiler Explosion at Pittsburg Wrecks a Building and Kills Several Men.

THE SMUGGLING CASE.

BISMARCK, Dak., Mar. 14.—The opium smuggling trial closed in the U.S. court last night. In Curran's case the jury disagreed. Curran then pleaded guilty to the charge of facilitating the transportation of opium into the U.S., but not guilty to the charge of intentional wrong doing, and the case against him was dismissed. Leonard, the Denver man, to whom the opium was consigned, was sentenced to seven months in the penitentiary. It is believed the action in Curran's case means he will furnish the evidence which will lead to the arrest of the entire gang of smugglers.

A LARGE DEAL.

BOSTON, March 14.—It is rumored, but not yet confirmed, that the Westinghouse Electric Co. has sold the right to its patent in Great Britain for two million dollars, and will declare a stock dividend.

TERRIBLE BOILER EPLOSION.

PITTSBURG, March 14.—A tubular boiler at the West Point boiler works of Munro & Sons, exploded to-day at noon just as steam was shut off for dinner. The explosion was terrific and the ruin was so complete that the fireman could not get near the boiler house for some time. It is unknown how the accident occurred as August Dillenbaugh, the engineer, and Michael Connors, Chas. Allenbacher, Jacob Rinehart, Daniel Clark, and James McCarthy, the boiler makers at work at the time, were all killed. The boiler was carried 50 feet without a break and knocked out all the pillars of the building, letting the roof down entire and killing the men. Six others were injured, but not fatally.

Testimonial to Mr. S. T. Tilley.

One of the heaviest losers by the recent fire at Vancouver was Mr. S. T. Tilley. Knowing the loss Mr. Tilley sustained, several of his friends joined together to assist him, and the result has been that a handsome sum has been placed to his credit at the Bank of British North America. The gift was made known to Mr Tilley by Mayor Oppenheimer in a nicely-worded letter, containing the list of subscribers to the fund, and was feelingly and suitably acknowledged by the grateful recipient. It is such deeds of kindness as this that give us a good opinion of human nature, and make life worth living.—World.

Coal Near Ashcroft.

Advices from Ashcroft are to the effect that the coal claim which Messrs. McNicholl and Finney have been vigorously prospecting for the past year is turning out favorably. Mr. McNicholl informs us that he has sunk sixty-five feet on the claim, and that the coal lays in strata ranging from six to sixteen feet in thickness, the strata being separated from each other by a thin layer of limestone rock. This coal, which is pronounced of excellent quality, lies to the north of Ashcroft 25 miles. Mr. Nicholl does not expect to realize on his claim immediately, but presupposing the building of the Cariboo railway he expects to figure as a coal baron, and possibly as a president of the council.—Times.

An Outside Opinion.

The New Westminster paper is agitating for the dropping of the prefix "New," in the title of the city, but the council has hitherto objected on the ground that the name was bestowed by her majesty. The name certainly is cumbrous, and therefore in popular usage amongst British Columbians will soon be curtailed, as other names in frequent use are shortened. Exactly what that law is, or at least what the reasons are why long names are not abbreviated, cannot be stated briefly. We have retained Nottawasaga and Nassageweya in popular speech, perhaps because these names have about them romantic suggestions of the wigwam, or because they flow out smoothly and grandly, or perhaps because the people who live around the beautiful townships so designated have plenty of time. But on the other hand that mouthful spilling over, Penetanguishene—equally euphonious and pleasingly suggestive, has been shortened into Penetang. Possibly the shortwindedness caused by the emphasis on the "tang" made the remaining syllables needlessly laborious. The name of New Westminster cannot plead easy pronunciation for its intention. The breath labors through it like a wagon over a half-floating corduory road, or a Red river cart through a muskeg. Our agitated contemporary on the Pacific may rest assured that in its immediate vicinity natural law will get rid of the first syllable. We in the East who do not pronounce it so often won't drop it without an act of parliament, but in writing it will employ a typewriter at three dollars a week rather than adopt the New West, or New West'r which offends our contemporary's correct taste.—Toronto Empire.

Thursday Evening, March 14, 1889.

A very distinct benefit to this city and an important part of the district, growing out of the Southern Railway, will be the bridge connecting the city with Lulu Island. This is contingent, it is understood, upon the outcome of pending negotiations between the city and the provincial government with the view of a certain reserve at the head of Lulu Island being made over to the city as a site for workshops, round house, &c., for the Southern Railway. It is confidently expected that the required concession will be made by the government. To do the present provincial government justice, its members, and particularly the senior member for this district, the provincial secretary, have always shown a readiness to assist in furthering the interests of this city by making all reasonable concessions in their power necessary to the success of our various railway and other enterprises. Westminster's application for the reserve above mentioned, supported as it has been by the Richmond council, and favorably considered by the government, may, we think, be taken as granted, and inside of six months, probably, added to our present and prospective advantages, we shall have connection, by a railway and traffic bridge, with one of the richest and most thriving agricultural districts in the province.

An effort is being made again this year, Vancouver taking the initiative, to have the province represented at the Toronto exhibition this fall. The idea is, of course, a good one, provided the exhibition can be made thoroughly representative and justice insured to the different localities and interests taking part. It is a notorious fact that strict justice was not done in this respect last year, but Vancouver took the opportunity of glorifying itself at the expense of other sections of the province represented. The small exhibit that went from this city and vicinity on that occasion was taken under the wing of the "empire city" and swelled its display. The exhibit throughout was distinctly "the Vancouver exhibit." Of course that city engineered the British Columbia show, and was entitled, for its enterprise, to all the credit that it could fairly get out of the thing. It is to be hoped, however, that the British Columbia exhibit to the Toronto exposition may be run on somewnat different lines this year. If Westminster is going to take a hand in the show at all—and we see no reason why it shouldn't and a good many why it should—we must endeavor to work as far as possible on the principle that what is worth doing at all is worth doing well. While heartily co-operating with our sister city, Vancouver, and other cities or sections of the province, with the view of having the province creditably represented at the Toronto exhibition this fall, we should take enough additional interest in the matter to have a commissioner of our own to go with the exhibit from this city and district and see that it is properly displayed and credited in the special department allotted to British Columbia. Our own provincial exhibition will be held in this city within a short time of the Toronto exhibition—probably later. In preparing for the provincial show, intending exhibitors can keep in view and devote a few choice samples of products or manufactures for the Toronto exhibit. Both exhibitions, if properly turned to account, may be made effectual means of advertising the resources and advantages of the province, and bringing us what is required for their development and full enjoyment—capital and population.

Alive to the advantages and necessity of advertising their district, the board of trade of Macleod, Alberta, has recently made arrangements for that purpose, but instead of publishing a pamphlet, as is the usual custom in circulating immigration literature, has made a new departure, and in its choice of an advertising medium has displayed a business shrewdness that might with advantage be copied by older and more pretentious bodies. The method adopted to advertise the district was a special edition of the local paper, the Macleod Gazette, published under the patronage and oversight of the board. It is not an uncommon thing on this coast to have a city or a district advertised through a special edition of some foreign paper, which succeeds very well in some respects perhaps. It takes a considerable amount of money out of the country and may prove a moderate "spec" for the foreign publisher thus bonused. The plan adopted by the Macleod, Alberta, board of trade, however, has advantages over any other that we ever heard of. The Winnipeg Commercial's comments on the subject are so appropriate and to the point that we reproduce them largely: "This is a sensible move, and probably one that will have more influence than the circulation of the same matter, in equal proportion, in pamphlet form. Pamphlet immigration literature is becoming a drug in the market, and at any rate, immigration pamphlets are frequently looked upon as unreliable and overdrawn. So many pamphlets have been issued of an unreliable nature, that it is no wonder this is the case. A paper published regularly has the appearance of stability and in this sense should be a better medium than the pamphlet. The publication of a good paper shows that the district is progressive and prospering, while a pamphlet may mean anything or nothing. A pamphlet could be written upon a district which is entirely undeveloped and without inhabitants, but a regular local paper is prima facie evidence of the condition of the district. There is no better and more certain indicator of the progress and development of a district than a properly conducted local paper. Every paper in the country is an immigration agent, in proportion to its circulation and worth. The work accomplished by all the pamphlets and books ever published about this country, has been infinitesimally small in comparison with the attention drawn to the country by the circulation of the various papers regularly published here, and circulated at home and abroad. It may, therefore, be considered that the Macleod board of trade, in assisting in the preparation and wide circulation of the local paper of the district, has made a more sensible move than if the same amount of money had been spent in a pamphlet. Efforts are being made by a great many municipal organizations, boards of trade, etc., in Manitoba and the Territories to set forth the peculiar advantages of their respective districts, with the object of securing additional settlers. This is right and proper. Where such efforts are being made, we commend the plan adopted by the Macleod board of trade. The plan could be followed up in something like the following way: The publication of a very ordinary pamphlet will cost say $500. Now, instead of publishing a pamphlet, say an arrangement is made with the publisher of the local paper to circulate a certain number of extra copies each week. The papers could be circulated under the direction of those interested in the immigration movement, and several columns of space could be given each week to matter prepared under the direction of the immigration committee. For $500 the local publisher would probably publish 500 extra copies of his journal each week for a year, and the circulation of the papers would cost nothing. This would give the circulation during the year of 26,000 extra copies of the paper, at a nominal cost, in comparison with the circulation of an equal number of pamphlets, while the advantage to the district from the circulation of a good local paper would be very much greater than could be derived from the publication of a pamphlet at double the cost. It would not be necessary to circulate a certain number of papers each week during the entire year. The same number of copies could be circulated during six months of the year, for that matter, or at other times as might appear suitable, in the discretion of the immigration committee."

JAMES CUNNINGHAM.

Importer of Hardware, Agricultural Implements, Etc.

In every city there are individual examples of men whose connections with its business pursuits, whose prominence in all matters of public enterprise, whose record for unflinching integrity, undaunted energy, and untiring industry, make them objects of special note, not alone in their homes, but wherever exalted commercial reputation is recognized and respected, such a man have we in the subject of this sketch. Mr. James Cunningham established his business in this city in 1862 and has, through all the vicissitudes of twenty seven years' trade, maintained the even tenor of his way. His transactions have increased year by year, and the circle of his customers and patrons gradually widening and his firm extending until he now controls a business unexcelled by any similar establishment in British Columbia. His buildings are large and commodious and admirably arranged and appointed. All this space is filled with a complete and extensive assortment of hardware, agricultural implements, paints, oils, glassware, crockeryware, wall-paper, woodenware, stoves, tinware, hollow-ware, plumbers' goods, house furnishings, iron pipe and fittings. This house also manufactures tinware of all kinds and does every variety of sheet-iron cornice work, gas-fittings, plumbing, roofing, etc. There is no house in the trade which carries a more complete stock or whose facilities surpass those of this establishment for supplying the trade with first-class goods at lowest quotations. The length of time this gentleman has been in business and the success he has attained are better recommendations than the loudest praise we could possibly give. We may mention, however, to our readers who have not yet become acquainted with this firm, that none in the Northwest has a better reputation for fair and honorable dealing. —Mercantile Review.

EMPEROR FREDERICK.

Dr. Shrady Discusses the German Ruler's Disease.

The Interbalance of Mind and Matter—Can a Worn-Out Man Become New—An Example of This Kind of Recovery.

The only man in America who has been daily associated with all the problems of the German empire since the death-hand has been directed against the most conspicuous members of the Hohenzollern family has been Dr. Shrady, who in the cases of two Presidents, Garfield and Grant, secured world-wide attention as the consulting physician and surgeon in those emergencies. When the Crown Prince became afflicted Dr. Shrady, through the cable, was consulted on all phases of his disease and treatment. His opinions, published or otherwise, have been cabled constantly to the other side of the Atlantic, and if any thing this compliment exhibits a respect for American advancement in medicine and surgery not often paid to us.

Dr. Shrady, in response to a New York Mail and Express reporter as to the future life of Frederick III., said:

"The possibilities of his recovery of course no man can limit or define. The nature of his disease is still an uncertainty; and of course, as my opinions are quoted in Europe by cable, often probably with inaccuracy, I must be careful what I say. I must not go beyond what I know and believe."

"But, doctor, the recent journey to Berlin from San Remo and its consequences, the effect on the mind and constitution of a man like the new Emperor—how would you estimate the results?"

The doctor thought awhile, said the question was a difficult one to answer haphazard; but then, with an intellectual illumination common to men of deep thought, said:

"From my knowledge and standpoint, and from my experience, I have no hesitation in saying that Frederick III. will improve from now on, unless I greatly misunderstand his trouble and have been misinformed about his symptoms. Now let me tell you this. The Crown Prince has been in the vale of depression; he has been one of those unfortunate men against whom a pitiless sympathy has been bombarded, and, of course, that is not always encouraging to recovery. But let me cite the case of General Grant, which is entirely analogous—certainly in so far as the grit of mind and faith is concerned. He was low, low indeed, when he began to write his great book about the civil war; his disease was in an alarming condition, but when he began to exercise his mind, to recall the achievements of his versatile military, personal and political experience, the frailties of the body gave way, the encroachments of fatal corruption of tissue stopped, and his body became a passive instrument to the mind. The period when General Grant wrote his memoirs, now admitted to be written with a marvelous directness, clearness and fairness of vision and literary strength, was only the interregnum between the precipice of health and the gulf of death at Mount McGregor. To the professional mind, to the philosopher, too, and also to the man who witnesses physical suffering heroically in our profession. But when his appointed task was done, the work upon which he had set his heart and soul, and the interests of his family (and his own historic fame), when suffering under cruel misfortune, has been secured, there was the ultimate collapse. The disease which had consented to halt while his towering mind was active again asserted its sway. His final decline began. The doctors tried to divert him by reading, by investigations into all sorts of topics, but it was of no avail, he sank and he died."

"And the anology exists in the case of the Crown Prince, now Emperor?"

"I think it does—that is, if I am correctly informed as to his physical condition. His accession to power as Emperor, his genial nature, his ambition as the ruler of the strongest empire of Continental Europe will, undoubtedly, have a powerful influence in staying the progress of his malady. Imagine such a thing, even on a sluggish imagination—a nation acclaiming him the natural climax of a career achieved, yet his policies not yet declared. I tell you, many forms of organic disease have been known to give way before less formidable forces than these. I think, withal, his journey to Berlin has shown recuperative powers in the direction I have named, and his self-consciousness as Emperor, a chance of independent development as the leading European ruler, will have a salutary effect on his general health."

"But are there examples of this kind of recovery existing?"

"Certainly! Recall the case of Napoleon III. Hurled from power in September, 1870, after a long and lingering disease well known to our profession, he only survived a little over a year. But during the many years of the empire, while he lingered in pain, he was happy in dynastic achievement and intellectual power. The moment he fell in rule, so he fell in physique. This is the rule, curiously enough, of men subjected to organic troubles on the one hand or to exaggerated mental strain on the other."

"Your conclusion, then, is, doctor, that the succession of Frederick III. is a better harbinger of his future health?"

"I have no doubt of it," said Dr. Shrady.

PRETTY TYPE-WRITERS.

A Business Man Says That Their Days Are Numbered.

The other day I went to a type-writing school and I witnessed the neglect of a plain girl who evidently found it difficult to conceal her mortification, writes Clara Belle in the Philadelphia Press. I was in the room with the proprietor when he asked her to come in.

"I suppose there is no use my asking you, sir," she said, "but since I have wanted I will say I am seeking occupation as a type-writer."

"Do you understand the business?" he asked.

"I am said to be very rapid," said she. "I have been five years at the calling.

"Will you accept $15 a week to act as stenographer and type-writer to Vice-President So-and-so, of the — oil company."

Her eyes changed color. They brightened almost into flame.

"Fifteen dollars!" she said; "I only got ten dollars, sir, and then only for a year before the firm I was with failed."

The arrangement or bargain was quickly made. Before she left the girl asked: "Will you tell me why you saw me last though I was the first to come?"

"I'd rather not," said the employer.

"Did all the others secure places?" she asked.

"No one but you was taken," he said.

She went away wondering. When she had gone the proprietor turned to me and said: "That is both a sensitive and a sensible girl. She thought she was left to the last because her face and dress are plain. She is right. This is the day of the homely girl. The beauty, the belle, the dressy girl all are at a discount in this business, and we have resolved never to employ another pretty girl if we can employ a homely one."

"The reason is as plain as the nose on your face," he continued; "the wives have interfered. Every married man is visited at his office by his wife more or less frequently. If she finds him elbow to elbow or face to face with a pretty coquette every time she comes, she is certain to make life more or less unpleasant for him. Some women in such cases 'take it out' at home, as the saying goes, but I have had men tell me that their wives were forever popping in on them and practically never missed a day without a call at their offices. These business men, nearly all men pick up a bouquet or a box of candy or some little knick-knack now and then to gladden the life of the girl at their elbow. Imagine the state of the wife who finds that the flowers she sees on her husband's desk were put there by him when he has told her ten thousand times that he has hated flowers from infancy! Oh, no; there is no show for the pretty girl in business in New York to-day. Those who got places long ago are being crowded out and new ones are being taken on."

BIG TREASURE VAULT.

The Largest Construction of the Kind in the World.

The one-hundred-million vault is the largest construction of the kind in the world, writes the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Times. As it now appears it looks like a modern improvement on the dungeons of the old inquisition in Spain, Italy and Austria. Descending into depths of the massive foundations of the Treasury, about thirty feet below the surface of the public thoroughfares outside and crossing a dingy, dimly-lighted bare apartment, a great square of steel, standing partly open in a steel casement, suggests the entrance to the new vault. The door, about eight feet high and six feet wide, is six inches thick and weighs five thousand pounds, or two and one-half net tons. To move it on its tracks into its steel casing requires the desperate exertions of five men. A mechanical device is now being constructed to lessen the demand for this amount of muscle in handling the ponderous portal. A lock one foot in diameter, resembling the highly-polished bottom of a dish-pan and operated through a combination of the most delicate and intricate mechanical appliances by means of key, a throws the powerful bolts into the slots in the frame, and a time-lock holds them there against any thing short of blowing up the building by the roots until the hour fixed for the morning rounds of the official custodian of the vaults.

Passing through the jaws of this monster of human contrivance against burglarious attempts, the chill, damp air and inky darkness suggest the strength and isolation of this vast treasure-box. It is 85 feet long, 50 feet wide and 12 feet high, surrounded by massive walls of masonry and brick five feet thick. In the dim light of a candle the weird lattice work of interlacing bars of steel which form the sixteen cells, each ten by twenty feet, may be vaguely seen. Around the inner cage leads a narrow corridor, where the custodian of the vault may make his rounds of inspection. Upon a transverse central corridor the cells open. Each door is fitted with an ingenious device for fastening, which will not catch until the door is entirely shut and the key removed.

Each of these cells will hold six and a half million dollars, or two hundred tons of silver dollars, or a grand total of 3,500 net tons, equal to 100,000,000 silver dollars. If the corridors were used for storage this aggregate could be increased to $128,000,000. Some practical idea of the extent of this treasure may be formed when it is realized that to transport it would require at least 1,800 wagons, which would extend in a continuous line from the new city hall of Philadelphia to Norristown, or a train of cars which would extend from the Broad-street station to Fifty-second street.

BILL BRAZELTON'S END.

He Was the First and Greatest Highwayman of Tucson, A. T.

A gentleman from Tucson, A. T., in the lobby of the National Hotel, spoke of one of the desperadoes of his town, says the Washington Post:

"I see," said he, "that some fellow out in California has been 'holding up' stage loads of people by himself. The dispatches speak of him as the 'Lone Highwayman.' I want to tell you that the first and greatest lone highwayman in this country lived in Tucson, and his name was Bill Brazleton. It has now been seven or eight years since he was killed. While he lived he was the terror of Southern Arizona, and he did all of his work single-handed. He used to work in a livery-stable in Tucson. He was a young fellow who did not say much, but was all the time practicing with his revolver when he was not at his work. He was the most active, powerful young man I ever saw.

"He got so he could turn a somersault with his pistol in his hand and as he came up hit a fifty-cent piece every time twenty-five yards away. He could shoot in every position, whether standing, running or riding, and every time he 'plumped' the bull's-eye. Suddenly he left town, and it was not long till we heard of his robbing stages alone. He had nerves of steel, and did not seem to be afraid of any body or any thing. The greatest efforts were made to capture him, but he eluded all of his pursuers. He seemed to be here, there and everywhere at the same time. Finally it was suspected that a hostler working in the stable where Brazleton had been employed knew something of him. He was taken out to the edge of town and hanged up till he was almost dead, when he agreed to confess on condition that Brazleton should be shot on sight, as he would kill any man who betrayed his secret at the first opportunity.

"The hostler said he was to go out to meet Brazleton that very night and take him something to eat. He was to wait behind a log in a certain piece of woods. A party of six well-armed men took the hostler and went with him to the place of rendezvous. They all lay down behind the log and waited for Brazleton. By and by he rode out of a thicket into an open space and came slowly toward the unsuspected ambush. He carried his pistol in his hand as if suspecting that things were not all right. When within thirty yards of the log the whole party rose and fired, killing the horse and rider in an instant. It was one of the most dramatic incidents that ever occurred about Tucson in those troublesome days. Brazelton's body was riddled with balls. He was brought to town and the next morning he was propped up against the adobe wall and his photograph taken, and the local photographer has to-day in his showcase a ghastly illustration of the triumph of his art."

Philosopher Alcott's Generosity.

Rev. Francis T. Russell, rector of St. Margaret's Diocesan School for Girls, in Waterbury, Conn., contributes to the American of that city some reminiscences of the Alcott family, among them the following: "One of the marked characteristics of Mr. Alcott was his kindliness of feeling. It arose from sincere love to all mankind, and from a constant, thoughtful regard for the interests of others. It was a fundamental principle, as laid down in his lectures, that to make intercourse with others agreeable we must select topics upon which we are agreed. He always judged men at their best, and through this charitable regard drew forth their best feelings towards himself. A young man once called upon him at his house in Concord, with the mendicant's common story of having been robbed on the cars, and in sore need of five dollars to enable him to reach his destination. The applicant pledged himself to return the amount the following week. Mr. Alcott said: 'I have not got five dollars, but I have a twenty-dollar gold piece which I will give you.' It is needless to say that the offer was at once accepted. The following day the neighbors, on comparing notes, found that they had each been victimized in the sum of five dollars, and could only find comfort in the thought that the philosopher's loss was four times as much as any of theirs."

All in the Family.

Here is a straight-out Democratic ticket of St. Francis County, Mo:

For Collector—T. C. Highley.
For Treasurer—James Highley, Sr.

They are all vouched for as highly respectable.

Three Curious Stones.

A San Francisco lady was recently showing her friends a handsome ring her husband had given her. It was an oval of diamonds with three pretty little opaque bluish-white stones in the center. Nobody could tell what those stones were, and every body was curious to know. She did not know herself. Her husband had not told her. They insisted on his telling. "Well, my dear, those are the three first little teeth cut by our three children. I saved them one by one, and there they are."

The weather has been very changeable and unpleasant for several days, and the barometer has been very low indeed. Capt. Peele says a great storm is raging somewhere near at hand, the effects of which will be heard of before long. Luckily the rains have been warm and vegetation has received a noticeable impulse.

A Grand Explosion.

Some day next week 200 stumps will be blown out of the ground, on the new city park, at the same instant. The sight of 200 stumps and several million pieces of wood, not to mention the vast quantities of rock and earth, flying through the air, will be well worth witnessing. The park committee could easily reinforce its funds by erecting a grand stand and charging fifty cents. admission to view the explosion and its results. The greatest care will be taken when the explosion takes place that the park and vicinity is clear of human and animal life.

Sentence Reversed.

The case of Tommy Lynch, sentenced to six months imprisonment under the "Speedy Trials Act," was appealed by Mr. T. C. Atkinson, counsel for the defense, on the ground that Lynch was convicted on the depositions of two witnesses who had since left this country and were not present to reiterate their evidence at the trial before Mr. Justice McCreight. The appeal was heard before the full court at Victoria this week, Mr. Atkinson contending that a conviction could not be made on the above mentioned depositions. The court agreed that the appeal was well taken and the judgment was quashed. Mr. Lynch is therefore a free man again.

Poisoned by Wild Parsnips.

Last Saturday night two half breeds, who live near Brownsville, made a very hearty supper on wild parsnips, and shortly afterwards were taken alarmingly ill. An Indian brought them over to Westminster and they were admitted into the Indian department of St. Mary's Hospital. By the time they reached the hospital they were in convulsions, and their lives were in great danger. Dr. Fagan happened to be in attendance at the time and quickly set to work to save them if possible. A stomach pump was used with good effect, and their stomachs cleared of the poisonous stuff. The men had a narrow escape and suffered terrible pain, but they have now been discharged from the institution completely cured.

Good News.

The secretary of the board of trade telegraphed to Mr. D. Chisholm, M. P., at Ottawa, last night, asking him to press upon the attention of the government the necessity of having the dredger sent to Westminster immediately for the purpose of dredging certain places in the harbor, as the water was now low and in June the water would be high and the work would then be done at a great disadvantage. A reply was received from Mr. Chisholm this afternoon, stating that the minister of public works had ordered the dredger to go to Westminster at once and perform the work. This prompt action of the government and Mr. Chisholm, our member, is most commendable, and will be received with appreciation by the people of Westminster. The dredger is urgently required to deepen the river in front of some of the wharves in order to enable sea going vessels of deep draught to discharge and take on cargo.

Serious Accident.

At Maple Ridge, yesterday, little Georgie Dawson, son of ex Reeve Dawson, met with an accident which caused him the loss of his right hand. Georgie and a boy named Edge were playing together with an axe, striking it into a chopping block for amusement and probably to try their strength. By some means, which cannot be explained, the boy Edge raised the axe and struck at the block while George's hand was resting upon it. The axe desended, struck George's hand just back of the knuckles, in a diagonal direction, completely severing from the rest of the hand and badly shattering the bones of the index finger and thumb. The boy was immediately brought to this city and taken to St. Mary's hospital where he received the necessary attention from Dr. Fagan, the house surgeon. This morning after consultation, Dr. Fagan decided that the rest of the hand must be amputated, and he was assisted in the operation by Dr. I. M. McLean and Mr. James Ellard. The amputation was successfully performed, and the little chap stood the ordeal bravely and is now doing as well as might be expected under the circumstances.

The Baptist Concert.

The concert given under the auspices of the Olivet Baptist church last night in aid of the church funds, was a very enjoyable affair. Although the weather, unfortunately, was rather unfavorable for the occasion, the edifice was fairly well-filled with an appreciative audience. The selections were all in nice taste and were very well rendered throughout. The concert began at 8:30 o'clock and the following programme was carried out in detail:

Pianoforte Duet — "Qui Vive?" Misses Rand and DeBeck;

Quartette — "Soldier's Farewell," Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Major, Messrs. Woods and Prentis;

Song—"Angels ever Bright and Fair," Miss French;

Pianoforte Solo—Mozart's Sonata, No. 9, Miss Lewis;

Song—"The Sunset on the Sea," Mrs. Flanders;

Select Reading—J. S. Clute, Esq.

Song—"Pray for Us," Mr. Hamber.

Instrumental Duet—"Lucretia Borgia," Misses Rand and DeBeck;

Song—"The Two Children," Mrs. McCready;

Duet—"O! That we two were Maying," Miss McBride and Mr. Hamber;

Song—"At the Eastern Gate," Miss Holden;

Quartette—"Moonlight will Come Again," Mrs. Flanders, Mrs. Major, Messrs. Cunningham and DeBeck;

Song—"Jesus Lover of My Soul," Miss McBride.

Every item on the programme was well rendered and thoroughly enjoyed by the audience. The concert, on the whole, was one of the best ever given in the city. Encores were bestowed on Mr. Clute, Mrs. Flanders, Mrs. McCrady, Miss McBride and Mr. Hamber, which were all responded to. The singing of the National Anthem by the whole assemblage brought proceedings to a close. The concert was given for the purpose of raising funds to pay off the debt on the church, and Mrs. Hill, who had charge of the management, deserves the greatest credit for the unqualified success which attended the entertainment.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

LOCAL PARLIAMENT

Yesterday's Proceedings in the Provincial Legislature

VICTORIA, March 13.—The speaker took the chair at 2:20 p.m. Prayers were read by Rev. Mr. Starr.

The common standing orders and private bills committee reported the bill to incorporate the Victoria Lumber & Manufacturing Company as complete with an amendment. The report was received.

The finance minister presented a return of all the assessments called for by the house. He also presented the public accounts up to 31st December, 1888. On motion the latter was referred to the public accounts committee.

Mr. Grant presented a petition from a number of the druggists of Victoria with respect to the bill now before the house regarding poison bottles.

Mr. Grant, on a question of privilege, said that the public accounts' committee had not yet been called together, and consequently had as yet been uanble to examine any accounts. It has been the practice in the past for them to examine the accounts up to date. The Finance minister would soon be coming down with his budget speech, and it would be well if the committee could then be able to pronounce that all accounts were correct. He was sure that they would be found so.

Mr. Bole moved the second reading of the "Condition Sales Bill." He was proceeding to explain the necessity for and the condition of the bill when, Mr. Allen enquired: "Where is the bill?"

Mr. Bole had given due notice and expected that the bill would be printed and distributed. He did not wish to have it left over for another week but as the house had not an opportunity of examining the bill he was willing to allow it to stand over till Thursday. The bill accordingly stood over.

Mr. Anderson in moving the second reading of the bill to incorporate the National Electric Tramway Company dwelt upon the great benefit to the public of city and district which was certain to accrue from the introduction of an electric tramway. He proceeded to read an extract from the Electric World descriptive of an electric tramway operated by the Vanderpole system in St. Catharines, Ont. As the railway was successful and useful in St. Catharines it might reasonably be expected that it would work with equal satisfaction in Victoria, where the greatest difficulties of heavy snow and ice would not be met with. He moved the second reading of the bill to incorporate the Electric Tramway Company.

The bill was read a second time and committed for next sitting of the house.

The house went into committee upon the New Westminster Short Line Railway bill, with Mr. Croft in the chair. The committee rose at 4:30 p. m., and reported progress, and asked leave to set again at the next sitting of the house.

The house again went into committee upon the Westminster Southern Railway bill, Mr. Fry in the chair. The committee rose and reported the bill complete as amended, the report received to be considered at the next sitting of the house.

Mr. Humphreys stated that the adjournment of the debate on the second reading of the mineral act was taken so that the attorney-general might see if the bill could not be made wider in its scope so as to benefit others besides the miners.

The attorney-general thought it would be well to accept the bill as it stood. He was not at present prepared to submit any amendment.

Mr. Mason was of the opinion that the bill would not work well in isolated districts if it were made general in its application. He knew it was badly needed in Cariboo. He advised that the bill be referred to the select standing committee on Mines.

Mr. Grant advised that the gold commissioner in the settlement of an intestates estate select two other responsible parties to act with him. He thought his arrangement would give more general satisfaction.

Mr. Mason had no objection to receiving the bill of committee on Mines if such was the wish of the house. However, he thought the bill simple enough and could do no harm by passing it as it was, while he felt certain it could do no good.

On motion the order for the second reading of the mineral bill, no. 31, was discharged and the bill referred to the select committee on mines.

The house went into committee with Mr. Nason in the chair, upon the bill to amend game protection act. The committee reported the bill complete with amendments.

Mr. Higgins did not approve of the amendment re the Granville townsite to the resolution moved by the hon. member for Victoria city. The matter might very properly be left to a select committee of the house. He thought if there was anything left to the province in the matter of these water lots the railway company should not be allowed quietly to possess themselves of this valuable property.

Mr. Humphreys approved of the remarks of the hon. member for Esquimalt. He could not reconcile what the Dominion government had said, however, with the statements made by the hon. provincial secretary that there was no necessity for the appointment of the committee. If what had been said by the hon. provincial secretary was taken from his actual knowledge there was no need for a committee.

The provincial secretary said the government had no objection to making a thorough investigation into the matter or to the appointment of a committee so to do, if it were desired. He thought the government could do more than the committee, but there was no need of any investigation by either. The government had nothing to conceal and no interests to further, except those of the people. If the house wished to have a committee appointed there was no objection to be offered by the government. The matter was, as he said, however. The lots were under the sea and ships sailed over them. He intended supporting the amendment offered by the hon. member for Victoria city, as he considered the proposition contained therein the most business-like of the two offered to the house.

Mr. Orr produced the map of the old townsite of Granville and proceeded to review what had been said in support of the resolution. The amendment to the resolution was adopted.

The Proprietors of Parmelee's Pills are constantly receiving letters similar to the following, which explains itself: Mr. John A. Beam, Waterloo, Ont., writes: "I never used any medicine that can equal Parmelee's Pills for Dyspepsia or Liver and Kidney Complaints. The relief experienced after using them was wonderful." As a safe family medicine Parmelee's Vegetable Pills can be given in all cases requiring a Cathartic.
