NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Our Republican neighbors are as busy with "court-gossip" just now as the most benighted subjects of old world monarchies. Here is a sample: Some distinctive quality has always been associated in the public mind with the lady of the White House. With Mrs. Grant it was interest in national affairs; with Mrs. Hayes, temperance; with Mrs. Garfield, literary tastes; with Mrs. Cleveland, beauty, and with Mrs. Harrison it promises to be domesticity. Nearly all the items about her tell of her doing her own marketing and praise her skill as a housekeeper.

An intelligent chimpanzee in the Zoological Gardens, London, has been taught to count up five. He is exhibiting his talent for mathematics to the delight of many visitors by handing them with great seriousness and accuracy the exact number of straws they ask for up to that number. Evidences are accumulating that the family of which the late Mr. Cowley was a bright and shining member are very good fellows, with considerable latent capecity. This fact will doubtless be duly appreciated by the "missing link" people; and it may help some of their dogmatic opponents also to patch a hole in their philosophy.

The excavations commenced by Schliemann at Mycenæ are still being energetically carried on, and continue every day to bring to light fresh objects of great archaeological and anthropological interest. The entire terrain around the town is full of tombs belonging to an epoch antecendent to Homer. These pre-Homeric sepulchers are cut in the solid rock and carefully formed in regular compartments, with an area of from thirty-five to forty square meters. In these chambers the dead were laid without being covered with earth, nor were they cremated, as at the time of Homer. Among the numerous objects discovered at Mycenae in the course of the latest diggings are articles of glass, crystal, and ivory, besides precious stones with engravings of animals charmingly executed, the whole treatment being Oriental in character.

An American writer of standing has this to say on the question of the new President thinking for himself, independently of the party managers: No thoughtful Republican can fail to sympathize with General Harrison in the pressure for patronage and place which has already begun, yet no one who has noted the remarkable versatility and tact which he has displayed during the campaign can doubt that the task of satisfying just demands will be wisely and fearlessly performed. That he will make his own cabinet there can be no question, and while he will not ignore the claims of various sections there can be room for doubt that harmony and subordination among his lieutenants will count for more than the accident of location. Men may speculate as much as they please, but when the names are announced officially we shall find that it is General Harrison's cabinet, and not another's, which has been appointed.

Of the many well earned jokes, at the expense of foolish men who will not advertise, the following recent one from Peck's Sun is among the best: "A nervous-looking man went into a store the other day and sat down for half an hour or so, when a clerk asked him if there was anything she could do for him. He said no, he didn't want anything. She went away and he sat down there half an hour longer, when the proprietor went to him and asked if he wanted to be shown anything, 'No,' said the nervous man. 'I just want to sit around. My physician has recommended perfect quite for me, and says above all thing I must avoid being in crowds. Noticing that you did not advertise in the newspapers, I thought that this would be as quite a place as I could find, so I just dropped in for a few hours of isolation.' The merchant picked up a bolt of paper cambric to brain him, but the man went out. He said all he wanted was a quiet life."

The story is told that during the recent cruise of a United States man of-war a sailor attempted to throw a quid of tobacco overboard, but his aim was bad and it fell on the deck. The officer on the deck would not allow the sailor to touch it, but ordered the entire crew to rig up a gun tackle. The gun tackle is a hawser several inches thick, and weighs 2,500 pounds. Being seldom used it was stowed away in the hold and covered up. To get it on deck and rig it up is a long, hard task; but the gun tackle was rigged up, and the officer attached to it a silk thread. He made a loop in the thread, lassoed the quid of tobacco, made it fast, and all hands made a long pull and a strong pull, and the quid of tobacco was hoisted overboard. Then the gun tackle was taken down and stowed away in the hold. It required eleven hours of hard work to get the quid over board, and it is the opinion of the officer that no more quids of tobacco will be thrown on the deck of the vessel for some time to come.

HORRIBLE MORTALITY PROMISED.

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—Word has been received that the Chinese lepers in B. C. have communicated the horrible malady to Indians. Senator McInnes, from British Columbia, states that out of the total Indian population, which he places at 40,000, he believes there will not be 5,000 living in a quarter of a century as the result of leprosy.

OVERDUE VESSELS.

HALIFAX, Nov. 28.—The steamer Worcester, which sailed from Boston for this port on Saturday, has not since been heard from. The str. Vancouver, due on Sunday with Canadian mails from England, has not yet arrived. The weather continues thick and heavy and the sea is running high outside the harbor. The rumors are current that the Worcester and Vancouver have gone ashore, but so far as can be learned they are without foundation.

PROPER COMPETITION ALLOWED.

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—The customs department has approved regulations enabling the Northern Pacific railway to do business in Canada. The company will now be enabled compete with the Canadian Pacific railway in the grain carrying trade, as its connecting road, the Red River Valley railway, extends from the boundary line to Winnipeg, Man.

NEW EXTRADITION TREATY.

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—The Canadian government has approved of the draft of the extradition treaty now under consideration between Great Britain and Mexico. The treaty greatly changes the best of extraditable offenses.

STARVING WHALERS.

QUEENSTOWN, Nov. 28.—The str. City of New York has arrived from New York. She met the American whaler W. Martin on Thursday. The whaler's crew were starving and a supply of provisions was giving them.

SHEEHY'S ARREST.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The attempt of an Irish constable Jeremiah Sullivan, to serve a summons upon Mr. David Sheehy in the lobby of the house of commons last evening, has caused a more profound sensation than was at first believed though the indignation aroused in the house by the affair was outspoken and general. The brief proceedings of the committee of inquiry appointed to investigate circumstances, elicited the fact that inspectors Lounde and Jennings had instructed Constable Sullivan that the service of the summons upon Mr. Sheehy was a matter of extreme urgency, and Sullivan's further testimony disclosed the fact that he had received £10 from an inspector to defray his exponses in proceeding immediately to London and serving the writ in whatever place he might find Mr. Sheehy. It is certain that inspectors Lounde and Jennings will be summoned before the committee at its meeting on Thursday, and possibly Mr. Balfour himself will be required to give testimony.

LAND PURCHASE BILL.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—In the house of commons this evening Mr. Balfour intimated that the Irish members against whom warrants of arrest had been issued or upon whom summonses had been served, would be permitted to sit in Parliament while the Irish estimates were being discussed. When the house resumed the consideration of the land purchase bill in committee, Mr. J. G. Shaw-Lefevre (liberal) moved to insert in the bill a provision that no advance shall be made to a tenant purchaser exceeding the amount of £2,000. Tenants borrowing in excess of that sum, he contended, belonged to the landlord and not to the peasant proprietor class. Mr. Balfour opposed the motion. There was no fear, he said, that the act would be abused by the turning of tenants with large holdings into proprietors to the exclusion of the smaller holders. Lord Randolph Churchill held that the act was being passed as an experiment; that being the case he was unable ta see why the proposed limit should be imposed.

Mr. Balfour proposed to substitute for the motion of Mr. Shaw-Lefevre a clause providing that no allowance should be made exceeding £3,000 except in cases where the land commission had decided that a larger advance, not, however, exceeding the sum of £5,000, would be expedient. The motion was agreed to. Mr. Shaw-Lefevre moved that no advance be given unless the tenant receiving the advance, or his predecessors in the title, had occupied the holding for five years. The object of the motion, he said, was to prevent the creation of bogus tenancies. Mr. Balfour refused to assent to the motion, claiming that it would be unjust to exclude from the benefits of the act tenants who had occupied their holding less than five years.

Mr. Dillon said that the practice was by no means rare to divide whole estates into bogus farms which were nominally let to members of the landlord's family, and then sold to so-called tenant at a higher price than could be possibly obtained in the open market. He asked the government whether it intended to plant northern Protestants upon the southern estates in Ireland from which the Catholics had been evicted. With such a policy it would be hopeless to expect peace in Ireland. The motion was rejected by a vote of 120 to 93. Mr. T. M. Healey moved a clause exempting the purchaser of a holding from any liabilities for arrears of rent from the date of the sanction of his purchase. The government accepted the clause but a subsequent clause, moved by Mr. Healey, having in view the prevention of enforcing purchases by threats of eviction was rejected by a vote of 205 to 142. Other amendments offered by Mr. Healey were rejected and the bill passed through the committee stage.

The C. P. R. shops were closed Monday to admit of repairs to the machinery. It is expected that about 50 men are to be laid off very soon in Winnipeg in consequence.

The barns on the Ontario government model farm, near Guelph, were burned last night. The live stock was all saved, but the other contents were destroyed. Loss $30,000, insurance unknown.

Sunday while Mr. McPhee and Miss Kate Rook, of Orillia, were on their way to church, he skating and drawing her on a sled, they went through the ice into the water and Miss Rook was drowned.

The quarantine for cattle coming to Canada for the Mormon settlers is a week's detention at the boundary line. After this the stock can be taken to the Mormon reserve whence it cannot be removed before the expiration of 3 months.

The conference between Ontario, Quebec and the Dominion authorities will be heard at Ottawa shortly to settle the boundary question. Quebec, emboldened by Ontario's success in securing an extension of her territory, claims that hers extends to the east shore of Jarvis Bay.

An enthusiastic meeting was held at the Queen's Hotel, Toronto, Monday night. Arrangements were made to give O'Connor a grand ovation on his return to this city on Monday. King Milan's Gambling Scheme is Broken Up. He will have to Fill His Purse Elsewhere.

The Emperor William is Ill, and His Physicians are Alarmed. Ferrets in Australia.

LABOUCHERE'S CABLE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Prince Louis Ferdinand of Bavaria, who married the infanta paz of Spain is a very clever surgeon and in one of the hospitals at Madrid recently operated on a woman suffering from cancer of the breast with complete success. His relative, Duke Charles Theodore of Bavaria, is an occulist and a surgeon and very skilful, but his fondness for the knife is not appreciated at Vienna and Munich hospitals, for whenever he operates all regular arrangements are upset and the whole staff is required to be in attendance on him. He must always be respectfully addressed as "Your Royal Highness," and strict etiquette is observed, all of which is decidedly a nuisance. When the duke is at Vienna he often passes his whole day at the general hospital.

MILAN'S SCHEME BROKEN UP.

King Milan, who is beautifully short of money and whose credit is utterly exhausted, has been obliged by the emperors of Russia and Austria to relinquish the plan he had formed for refilling his coffers by establishing public gaming tables at Belgrade, as wealthy nobles of Hungary, Austria, and Russia would inevitably have become the earliest victims of his Servian majesty's roulette and ronge et noir tables. The two emperors have peremptorily forbidden the entire enterprise.

THE POET LAUREATE.

Lord Tennyson, poet laureate, was removed on Wednesday from Aldworth to Farringford Place in the Isle of Wight, where it is probable he will pass the winter, as he is not strong enough to undertake the journey to Riveria. He was conveyed all the way in an invalid's travelling carriage.

FERRET BREEDING.

Ferrett breeding is a new and highly profitable branch of farming in Australia and New Zealand. One firm has commenced business on a large scale and has contracted to supply 14,000 ferrets per annum for three years to the government at $2 a head, the creatures being delivered when three months old. The stud of this particular farm consists of 200 ferrets, and 30 rabbits and the milk of three cows is required every day for their food.

STILL IMPROVING.

John Bright passed a good night. The favorable progress made yesterday is maintained this morning.

A FOOLISH SULTAN.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The first measure necessary to stop the slave traffic is the blockade of the East African coast over which the sultan of Zanzibar holds suzerainty. Germany and England agreed to ask the sultan to proclaim the blockade, but he has postponed action on various pretenses, and even took to his bed shamming illness. A despatch from Zanzibar states that he still refuses to give his consent to the measures.

THE OATHS BILL PASSED.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—Mr. Bradlaugh's radical oaths bill, practically abolishing the obligation of taking the oaths of those who do not believe in them, passed the house of lords last night, and having already been passed this week with royal assent, becomes a law.

SUED FOR DAMAGES.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—Valery Wiedemann, a German governess, has brought suit against Robert Horace Walpole, heir presumptive to the earldom of Oxford, for £10,000 damages for breach of promise and libel. She alleges that Walpole met her in Bulgaria made her an offer of marriage, then betrayed her and afterwards discarded her and now repudiates the paternity of her child.

ALARMED FOR WILLIAM.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The Emperor William of Germany is said to be suffering from his trouble in the ear to such extent that his doctors are alarmed.

WHEAT.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 28.—Wheat firmer and more enquiry; Cals., 8s. 1½d.

Dr. Wiggins, the weather prophet, quotes the local papers to show that he predicted the recent California earthquakes six months ago, and says that the disturbance is moving eastward and will pass over Quebec and New England in February without causing any serious displacement.

The girl Charlton, Toronto, on whom an abortion was procured by Dr. Valentine, still lies in a precarious condition, all hopes of saving her life being given up by the doctor in attendance. She refuses to make any statement incriminating the doctor and his accessory although the authorities have used all means to get her to do so.

A young man went into Grant's jewelry store in Montreal last evening asking to see some diamonds. He was shown about $1,400 worth. He at once snatched the plate out of the jeweller's hands and skipped. Grant fired three shots after the thief but did not hit him. The thief dropped the diamonds, which were recovered, but he himself escaped.

There is nothing new in the negotiations for a settlement of the boundary line between British Columbia and Alaska. A prominent Ottawa official says that no great necessity for bringing the matter to a speedy conclusion exists as the disputed territory is not occupied. Hence no trouble regarding the administration of justice can arise just now. The government estimate the cost of delimiting the boundary will be $2,000,000.

Wednesday Evening, Nov. 28, 1888.

In another column we publish a communication or statement from Dr. Hall, of this city, giving the history of the diphtheria cases in the Cleveland hotel, and his connection with them. Dr. Hall's statement, taken in connection with other known facts, would seem to suggest that some irregularities, unintentional, perhaps, have characterized the actions of the health authorities in this matter, resulting, it would appear, in a measure of injustice and hardship to Dr. Hall, as well as to the unfortunate family in the Cleveland hotel suffering from the ravages of diphtheria and death. We do not believe that the action of the health authorities, in refusing Dr. Hall permission to see his patients, can be justified or sustained. It would appear, too, from the note of Mr. White, the father of the stricken children, to Dr. Hall, that the diphtheria patients have not been receiving proper attendance since the health officer took charge. Indeed, if the report of that officer to the city council be accepted, the conclusion is almost forced that proper medical attention has been lacking in the treatment of the cases so far. Dr. Hall stated that the diphtheria is of a malignant type. Dr. Smith, the health officer, reported through Alderman Herring, to the city council, according to our report of the proceedings yesterday, that the disease is of a much milder tpye than was at first given out. The fact remains to be accounted for that death has ensued in every case up to yesterday evening (two children having died, up to that time). If the disease is of a mild type, and the patients receiving proper attention, such results obviously ought not to follow. THE COLUMBIAN is open for explanations from any quarter on this subject. In the meantime, we trust that the unfortunate family may receive the attention they need, even if they are strangers in a strange land.

We published yesterday another communication on the Scott road, which makes the third on the subject in the last week or two, on various sides of the question. THE COLUMBIAN, true to its uniform and invariable policy, has determined to give in this, as in all matters of public interest, full scope, within reasonable limits, for statements of both sides of the question, reserving the right to make its own comments. We have commented upon this Scott road matter before, and shall do so again, as we consider it is a subject that calls for more than passing remark, not only on account of the importance of the road itself, but because it involves certain principles more important still. As to the importance of the road itself, as a public thoroughfare, there can be no question. We have already shown that three different stages, making several trips a week each, and connecting with Blaine and Whatcom, as well as with several important farming districts en route, on this side of the line, travel back and forth along this road; that it is the mail route for six important settlements, and that, besides all this regular traffic, there is a great deal of what might be called irregular or transient travel, by vehicle, horse, and foot, making the thorough passability of the road at all seasons of the year a question of the utmost moment to the travelling public and the large number of farmers who find it the most convenient route to this city. Whatever may be said about the alleged spending of $400 on the road this season, the indisputable fact remains that a considerable section of the road—a mile or so, probably—is at present, with three or four months of the worst season of the year for roads coming on, in a deplorably bad state of repair, while other parts, it is to be feared, will show a great lack of gravelling, and even drainage, before the wet season is over. We might remark, in passing, that the communications we have published on the Scott road do not constitute, by any means, all the complaints that have reached us on the subject. But now comes the point where general principles with regard to road making and repairing are involved. THE COLUMBIAN has, under its former administration, always urged that any monies to be spent on roads should be expended in the early part of the season, when the days were long and the weather dry, and we thoroughly agree with, and shall continue to urge, the same wholesome advice to the bitter end—which will apply, of course, as well to municipal as to government road work. We are aware that those who are responsible for the expenditure of public monies are rather sensitive as to public criticism regarding economy in the use of means, and sometimes display very childish freaks to show their resentment at what they consider an infringement on their privileges; but public servants should not feel above taking heed to good advice. Another principle that should be followed where road work of any extent is to be done, is that the work should be done by contract, instead of day labor. The Scott road furnishes a case in point with respect to both of the principles we have mentioned: Had the work been let by public tender, in the proper season of the year, it is perfectly safe to say that the $400 said to have been expended would have put the road in good order, instead of its present unsatisfactory condition. In justice to the government, however, we must say that, so far as we have been able to ascertain, they are not to blame in this case in the way that might appear on the surface. The facts, we believe, are these: The Scott road divides the two townships of Surrey and Delta, and, although constructed by the government, who, we believe, have also performed some important repairs and alterations on it since, has been repaired several times within the last few years by the municipalities of Surrey and Delta, jointly. Surrey, we have been informed, made provision early in the season to put up its quota for the proper repair of the road this year, but the Delta had other views, and the work fell to the ground. Through pressure brought to bear, the government stepped in, necessarily late in the season, to save the road from utter impassability, and, under the circumstances, may perhaps be excused also for failing to have the work done by contract. But, the fact that such an important highway as the Scott road has fallen to the ground, and is liable to do so again, between two municipalities, owing to the remissness or selfishness of either, and the additional fact, pointed out in previous articles, that the government are not able, economically or satisfactorily, to administer road work in the various districts of the province from any one centre—much less their eccentric perch on the island—emphasize the final and most important principle, which we take the opportunity of urging again, that the provincial legislature should take the earliest possible opportunity of establishing county organizations, which shall transfer all such local works from the hands of the government to county boards, and save highways which would properly come under the designation of county roads from coming to grief between two or more municipalities and the government. Surely, when old England has opened her eyes to the necessity of local works being placed in the hands of local county boards, British Columbia—the land of "magnificent distances" and present rapid progress in other respects—will no longer stick in the old rut in the matter indicated. We hope that another session of the provincial legislature will not be allowed to pass without at least a thorough discussion and an honest effort to grapple with the question of dividing the province into counties; so that, by the close of the last session of the present provincial parliament, at the latest, this important reform may be inaugurated.

THE TRUE PHILOSOPHY OF MEDICATION is not to dose for symptoms but to root out the disease. Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, the Great Blood Purifier, has proved itself equal to this task. It is most searching, without being a violent remedy for constipation, Biliousness and Indigestion. It is as well adapted to the needs and physical temperaments of delicate females as to the more robust sex, and is a fine preventative of disease as well as remedy for it.

DASHING YOUNG WOMEN OF NEW YORK WHO RIDE AND DRIVE WELL.

The Fashion in Saddle Horses, and a New Idea in Decorating Them and the Tiger—Stylish Cobs Who Bring the Crimson to Beauty's Cheek—What It All Costs.

(Copyright 1888.)

Go-lang!

A pair of cobs dashed down the avenue.

They tossed their heads into the air and seemed to enjoy the crisp autumn breezes.

They were driven by a dashing young girl. She sat in a new handsome game cart and handled the reins as though thoroughly at home with her team. She was dressed in a well fitting tailor-made costume of a light colored material. A jaunty little hat was on her head and a veil twisted around her forehead kept her hair from flowing in the breezes. She wore a pair of riding gloves and in one hand held the reins and in the other the whip was held ready for use. Her eyes sparkled with pleasure and on her cheeks was a rich healthy glow caused by the delightful open air exercise. There seemed to be a kind of sympathy existing between the fair driver and her horses. They snuffled in the fresh air and seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves. The driver spoke kindly to the horses. They pricked back their ears and started off with another dash and turned into the Park. It was only 7 o'clock in the morning. The driver and team can be seen there every fine morning and after about an hour's drive the girl returns to her Fifth avenue residence and the cobs to their comfortable stalls. The young girl says she would not miss the drive on fine mornings for anything and the horses look as though they would like to say the same.

This season driving is very popular. A great many ladies in this city drive in the Park every morning. They are usually expert with the reins and whip and all thoroughly enjoy the exercise. On fine mornings a score or more are out before breakfast. The fresh air of these fine mornings seems to give them new life. They return from their rides with bright flashing eyes and rich healthy colors.

The fashion in driving now is to have a matched pair of cobs or ponies. This is after the style of the Princess of Wales, who is always seen on fine days driving her ponies in the parks. Fashionable cobs have clipped manes and banged tails and their action is perfect. Some ladies drive a phaeton and some the T cart. The favorite style of turnout though is the game cart. It is made of oak wood and is very pretty. The whole turnout is made to look as stylish as possible. The harness is usually handsomely ornamented with silver bearings and bright steel chains clank merrily as they speed along. A tiger sits at the back of the game cart. He always wears a floral decoration of some sort. The head gear of the horses is decorated, too, and the fair driver wears a bouquet of flowers of the same color. Sometimes the lady will wear yellow chrysanthemums. Then the horses have yellow rosettes and the tiger will have a yellow flower. If the lady wears purple the horses and tiger have purple also.

Mrs. Foster, the wife of Captain Foster, U. S. N., drives a great deal. She is particularly fond of a phaeton and has a spanking pair of bays. Mrs. Foster is an expert horsewoman and when the weather is fine she enjoys a spin through the Park on her own horse.

Miss Marlowe, who used to be with McCaul's Opera Company, takes a drive in the Park every afternoon. She has given up the stage for a time at least and is studying art. She says she must have her daily ride and usually is seen driving a high stepping chestnut to a dog cart. Miss Marlowe is a handsome brunette, of medium height and fine figure. She is a daring horsewoman and is seen to advantage when riding her bay mare Belle.

Miss Pearle Howe, the daughter of Alexander Howe, of the Stock Exchange, patronizes the Park, riding on fine days and driving when the weather is doubtful. She has a very handsome pair of chestnut ponies that she drives with great skill. She is a beautiful rider and sits her horse like a centaur. Her favorite horse is her gray cob "Chappie."

Mrs. James Brown Potter, the actress, is fond of riding and driving, and so is Miss Elsie de Wolfe, who has taken the place in amateur theatricals once occupied by Mrs. Potter. They are both dashing horsewomen.

Dr. Talmage's daughters are fond of horseback riding and are often seen in Prospect Park.

Miss Julia Morosini, sister of Victoria Morosini, who eloped with her father's coachman, is a very skillful equestrienne. She loves her horses and enjoys riding and driving more than anything else. She has probably the largest stable of any lady in this vicinity. She has six horses, a span for her game cart, a single footer for the dog cart, a saddle horse and two trotters. She visits her horses herself every morning and always carries them some sugar. The horses are all very fond of their young mistress and always look for her morning visit to them.

Miss Newcomb, daughter of the great Wall Street king, is a stylish young woman who is soon to marry a Boston man. She is a reckless rider and loves a fast horse.

Rose Coghlan, the actress, is an expert horsewoman. She has a great many accomplishments, has Rose, but none in which she appears to better advantage than riding.

Mrs. Frederick Vanderbilt is a very skillful driver. She handles the reins over trotters, cobs or high steppers like an expert. When in town she drives daily in the Park and has a fine stable of horses, from which she can select her team. Just now she drives a pair of cobs to a game cart and rattles along in great style.

Mayor Hewitt's daughters can take a fence like a man. They are both experts in the saddle and with the reins. They are pretty girls and are seen out every day. Their horses are the best that money can buy.

Mrs. August Belmont is a great driver. She is as fond of driving through the Park as her husband is of his big stable of thoroughbreds. She has several very fine horses and drives with great skill. She handles the reins every day over a pair of very handsome matched bay ponies drawing a game cart. The ponies are fast and very spirited. Mrs. Belmont drives them beautifully.

Miss Louise Shepard, a niece of the late Wm. H. Vanderbilt, and daughter of Col. Elliott F. Shepard, of the Mail and Express, rides and drives well. She is only 18, of petite form, but she manages her cobs and saddle horses with rare skill. She will be worth a great deal of money some day.

Mrs. Frederic Bronson, the wife of the dashing member of the coaching club, is another expert driver who patronizes the Park every day. Mrs. Bronson was Miss Sarah King. She is now a middle aged lady. Sometimes she drives a phaeton drawn by a pair of handsome bays. She handles them with skill and thoroughly enjoys her rides. Sometimes she occupies the seat next to her husband on his coach and four. Mrs. Bronson can handle the four horses easily but usually sits on the side seat.

Mrs. Burke Roche was formerly Miss Fanny Work, daughter of Frank Work, the millionaire. All the members of the Work family have distinguished themselves with horses, and Mrs. Burke Roche can give many of them points on how to drive a pair of ponies. She is a tall beautiful brunette and looks very stylish when in the Park. Her favorite team is a pair of bay cobs. They know their mistress well and it only requires a word from her for them to throw up their heads and start off through the Park at a rattling pace.

Miss Louise Stevenson, the handsome sister of V. K. Stevenson, drives a perfectly matched pair of bay cobs in the Park. Her newest carriage is a game cart. Miss Stevenson is about twenty years of age, tall and a handsome brunette. Her cobs are a frisky pair but she thoroughly masters them. The manner in which she handles the reins and whip calls forth admiration from all. Like her brother's, her wardrobe seems to be limitless. She rarely appears in the same costume twice. Her favorite decorations are pink, and when the horses and tiger wear pink rosettes she has a bunch of La France roses. She is also one of the finest lady riders in the Park. Her brown mare Queen is a good jumper and a prize winner at several horse shows. She is entered at the next show in the Madison Square Garden.

Miss May Brady, the accomplished daughter of Judge Brady, is a skillful whip. She handles the reins over her pair of bay cobs to perfection. She is now engaged to be married to Mr. Albert Stevens, the son of Commodore Stevens, the Hoboken millionaire. Commodore Stevens was once in command of the old war ship Dunderberg. When riding or driving Miss Brady excites the admiration of the men and envy of the women. She is a cool driver and does not know what fear is. She is also a graceful horsewoman and when in town is seen daily in the Park driving or riding. Very often she and her sister Miss Katteryn accompany their father in a spin through the Park.

Miss Kitty Brady, as she is known, is the youngest daughter of Judge Brady. She is very pretty and is a general favorite. She is a blonde and eighteen years of age. She is thoroughly at home with horses, either driving or riding. She drives a pair to a T cart and rides a perfect saddle horse. She is engaged to Mr. Sidney Harris, the son of Mrs. Miriam Coles Harris, the authoress. Mr. Harris' income is very large and Miss Brady will always be able to enjoy the pleasure of driving good horses.

Miss Gertrude Gibert, sister-in-law of Chevalier Hugo Futch, the Austrian Consul, has won fame this summer with her pair of cobs, which she has driven at Newport. Miss Gibert is a brunette and presents a very natty appearance when in her game cart. Her cobs are a matched pair of grays and act perfectly. She handles the whip and reins with great skill. When in town she is a constant driver in the Park and is usually seen there early in the morning. Miss Gibert is a fast driver and seems to thoroughly enjoy her spin.

Mrs. Orme Wilson, who was Miss Carrie Astor, and Mrs. Coleman Drayton, formerly Miss Augusta Astor, drive two very stylish phaetons. They are not present at Newport, but when in town are seen in the Park every fine afternoon. Each phaeton is drawn by a spanking pair of bays that carry themselves as though they knew how fine they looked. Both ladies are well known in the Park and are both very skillful and accomplished drivers.

Miss Jeanie and Miss Mary Ternure are two of the most stylish ladies who drive in the Park. They are both tall and handsome and resemble the Princess of Wales style of beauty very much. They are the daughters of Lawrence Ternure, of the firm of Moses Taylor & Co., and live on Fifth Avenue. They are seen riding or driving every fine day. Both of these ladies are expert whips and usually drive a pair of bays to a phaeton, T cart or game cart. They own some of the finest saddle horses in the city.

Mrs. John D. Cheevar, the wife of the President of the Rockaway Steeplechasing Association, drives one of the most attractive teams seen on the road. It is a pair of ponies. They are handsome bays and high steppers. In the country they usually draw a buckboard, but in town they are harnessed to a game cart. With their fair driver they present one of the prettiest pictures seen in the Park. Mrs. Cheevar is a very pretty blonde. She dresses very handsomely. The action of her cobs is perfect and the cart is one of the most stylish made. They bound over the ground at a great rate. Mrs. Cheevar was Miss Young, of Oyster Bay, L. I.

Mrs. Lloyd Aspinwall is an expert with the reins. She is seen in the Park every morning and usually drives a pair of cobs. The team presents an odd appearance. One pony is black and the other almost white. Their action is perfect and they are both high steppers. Mrs. Aspinwall drives them to a phaeton and handles them with great skill.

The fastest team seen in the Park is driven by Mrs. Raymond Ward. They are a very handsome pair of trotters and are driven to a sidebar wagon. Mr. Ward is very fond of the trotting horse and is a very good judge. He delights in watching his wife handle the reins over her pair, which she does so skillfully that she can hold her own with any pair driven through the Park. Mrs. Ward is often seen driving a single bay horse to a dog cart. The horse is one of the best high steppers seen in this section of the country. Mrs. Ward is the daughter of Judge Barnard, of Poughkeepsie.

It may interest some readers to know what it costs to ride a good saddle horse and drive a pair of cobs. Here is a table of facts:

Saddle horse	$600	Pair of cobs	$ 800
Groom per month	25	Wagons, two	1000
Stabling "	25	Robes, Blankets, &c.	50
Shoeing, &c. "	10	Tiger, per month	16
Riding habit & hat	125	Stabling, &c. "	50
Saddles, bridles, whips, &c.	125	Shoeing, &c. "	15
Riding boots	25	Harness	100
Total	$945	Total	$2033

But what is it to a woman whose husband or father is worth millions and who pays from $500 to $1,500 for Worth dresses?

Every Cloud Has a Silver Lining.

Sympathising Lady (to casual acquaintance on the cars)—"Lost all your children? How very sad!"

Bereaved Mother—"Yes, it is a great trial. But there is no loss without some compensation."

S. L.—"Ah, yes; you have the consoling consciousness that they are better off."

B. M.—"That is true, but I didn't exactly mean that——"

S. L.—"No?"

B. M.—"No; I was about to say that we can hire a house now without any trouble."—Boston Courier.

Flattering Delaware.

The little son of Le Grand Abbey of Ponckhockie uttered another bright saying yesterday.

His mother is making plans for a Martha Washington party and she made the remark that she would need the services of boys to represent States:

Stephen said:

"I want to be a State, mamma."

"No, Stephen, you can represent Yankee Doodle. You are too small to be a State."

"Oh, no, mamma, I want to be a State. I am big enough to represent Delaware."—Kingston Freeman.

An Unfinished Appearance.

A little girl was walking the other day with her governess.

They met a man with a club foot, at whom the child looked a little wonderingly as he passed and then laughed.

"You must not laugh at him," said the governess.

"Why not?"

"God made that man."

"Humph!" said the child, "it must have been the first man he made!"

Herbert H. Bosustow, a son of Bosustow who had the trouble on Sunday with Cooper, the negro barber, has laid information against his father for threatening to take his life if he did not corroborate the story told concerning the trouble. Warrants are also out against Bosustow for breaking into and stealing from Mrs. Cooper's cabin.

The total arrivals in Canada from January 1 to October 31, 1888, were 146,807, as compared with 128,260 during the same period last year. The total settlers in Canada during the ten months were 78,212, or an increase of 11,000, while the settlers in the Dominion numbered 8,558 as against 5,515.

The department of justice has received an official report from Judge Priest of the trial at Hisquiat, B.C., of an Indian named Isennequor for the murder of Moise, an Indian boy, in July last. The prisoner was found guilty, and unless a petition for clemency is presented and considered, will be executed on December 12.

The second child taken down with diphtheria at the Cleveland Hotel died yesterday. There is another down with the disease and the remaining two of a family of five children will in all probability have to try their chances against what seems to be a most malignant type of this much-dreaded scourge to children. There need, however, be no anxiety felt as to the spread of the plague as no one but the city health officer, Dr. DeWolf Smith, who is in attendance upon the cases, is allowed to enter or leave the building which is under a strict quarantine.

Nicola Sulphurets.

Mr. Geo. Henderson returned from San Francisco on the Umatilla. He states that the eighteen tons of sulphurets he sent to the Bay City from his Nicola mines averaged $80 per ton. He expects that future lots will bring at least $100 per ton. He leaves for Nicola in a few days, and will continue the work of opening up his property.—Colonist.

Robbed.

Last Tuesday night, L. Davis, a Donald merchant, was robbed at Clanwilliam of jewelry to the value of $2,000. On retiring about 23 o'clock he shoved his jewelry case under the bed, which was occupied by the telegraph operator and himself. On looking for it next morning, it could not be found. The case contained gold watches, diamonds, and miscellaneous jewelry. No clue has yet been obtained as to who committed the theft. Clanwilliam is a telegraph station 9 miles west of Revelstoke.—Truth.

Leprosy Among Indians.

In reference to a dispatch in another column speaking of leprosy among the British Columbian Indians, a representative of THE COLUMBIAN to-day spoke to Mr. P. McTiernan, Indian agent, on the subject. Mr. McTiernan says he has 7,000 Indians under his charge and among this number he has never heard of a case of leprosy, although there are a few cases of scrofula. On Vancouver Island there may be some Indian lepers, but Mr. McTiernan does not think there is a single case on the mainland.

The Police Court.

At the police court to-day before Capt. Pittendreigh, J. P., James Hall, charged with being drunk was fined $2.50 and costs or in default 4 days in gaol. An Indian named Charlie was fined $10, for being drunk. Charles Victor, a siwash was arrested with a bottle of whiskey in his posession. Victor looked like a halfbreed and attempted to cheat the court by his looks, but evidence was adduced which proved him to be a pure Indian and Victor was forced to pay a fine of $25, or go to gaol for 3 months. He paid the fine.

Mining Notes.

On Monday morning last, Messrs. Darling and DeWolf, who are connected with the ore smelter at Vancouver, arrived at Kamloops. During the day they, in company with H. J. Cambie, C.E., and Mr. Allingham, went down the river some twelve miles to the iron mine owned by Messrs. Allingham, Sears & McKay, to inspect the ore there. They expressed themselves well pleased with it, and wished to make a contract for the delivering of 250 tons at the smelter, but it is doubtful if the contract will be accepted at the figure offered. On Tuesday Messrs. Darling and DeWolf visited the mine at Jameson creek, on the North Thompson, and on Thursday night they left for Field to look after their interests in a mine owned by them there.—Sentinel.

A Chinese Stampede.

Chinatown was in a state of commotion all day yesterday after the arrests made by the police and there was a general rush among the worst characters to pack their baskets and get away from the city. About a dozen left by the train yesterday afternoon while a few who seemed in great haste shouldered their packs and footed it to Vancouver. This morning some 20 more found that business called them elsewhere and left the city either by rail or stage. That the most of these Chinamen are guilty of thefts, either great or small, is quite evident from the anxiety they have exhibited to get away from the city. It is also evident they expected arrest or they would not have been so easily panic-stricken. The city is well rid of these rascals and can easily spare a hundred more. If the police continue their raids and keep the doubtful characters in constant dread of trouble the city will soon hear the last of the petty robberies which have been so numerous for many months. Nearly all the stampeding Chinamen have gone over to Vancouver and we would advise the authorities there to keep a sharp eye on them.

The Other Side.

Mrs. Cooper, wife of A. C. Cooper, arrested the other day on a charge of having attempted to murder John H. Bosustow and Arthur W. Quinton, on the Yale road, states that her husband was not the aggressor, but that the two Englishmen are at the bottom of the trouble. Mrs. Cooper says that her husband hired Mr. Bosustow to improve his (Cooper's) homestead on the Yale road, and furnished him with $65 worth of provisions and tools. Bosustow, she says, associated Quinton with him, and together they ate up the provisions, while they used the implements to do some work on an adjoining piece of ground for themselves. Mr. Cooper, ascertaining the state of things, expelled the men from his land, and installed Mrs. Cooper in possession. The men, thus expelled, settled down on the adjacent piece of land, and did all they could to make her life miserable, her husband being absent in town. Mr. Cooper went over to his ranche last Sunday, and, on being informed by his wife of the annoyance to which she was subjected by Bosustow and Quinton, went to expostulate with them, having his firearms with him casually, with the expectation of seeing game on the road. Mrs. Cooper states that Quinton attacked her husband first, by sticking a fork in his back, and that to defend himself against two men, Cooper was forced to use his gun as a club. Mrs. Cooper states that she has no family, and that her husband and she have shown not a little kindness to Mr. Bosustow and his children. To all appearances Mrs. Cooper is not the "virago" interested parties reported her to be, and seems to be an honest, motherly sort of woman. Her story seems to be a straightforward one.

In an old magazine we find it stated that until the year 1770, this law was in force in England: "Whosoever shall entice into the bonds of matrimony any male subject of her majesty's by means of rouge, white paint, Spanish cotton, steel corsets, crinoline, high heeled shoes and false hips, shall be prosecuted for witchcraft, and the marriage declared null and void.

There is nothing equal to Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator for destroying worms. No article of its kind has given such satisfaction.

Something in Carrots.

Mr. John Oliver, of Mud Bay, brought to this office to-day a sack containing 6 carrots of the short white field variety. The 6 carrots weighed a grand total of 45 lbs. 3 oz.—the largest weighing 8 lbs. 15 oz. and the smallest 6 lbs. 9 oz. The largest measured 23 inches in circumference. These are the largest carrots we have seen this year and without doubt it would be hard to beat them. Mr. Oliver says the carrots averaged over 20 tons to the acre, which is an enormous yield. They are on exhibition at Major & Pearson's.

A Successful Hunt.

Two gentlemen of this city, who but a few months ago arrived from the east, decided yesterday morning to go out on a regular old-fashioned hunt, such as they had read about in various pamphlets concerning British Columbia. Being impressed with the pleasing but slightly erroneous idea that game, both large and small, would crawl up to the hunter to be shot, they started in high spirits and with the anticipation of securing such a bag as had never before been seen in the province. Armed with the best weapons procurable and with an unlimited supply of ammunition they left the ferry boat at Brownsville and commenced the hunt. It might be well to mention here that it was their intention to make Ladners in time to catch the steamer from Victoria, and on it return to the city in triumph with the trophies of the chase. The hunt proceeded right merrily for an hour, but strange to say no bears had been killed and not even a wildcat had been brought down. Another hour passed and the cumbersome bags were still empty, and as yet not even a solitary grouse had committed suicide to relieve the monotony of the hunt. Three more hours passed and the hunters had reached Ladners, hungry, tired and with never a beast or bird in their possession to prove their woodcraft or make good their boasted skill. When the steamer arrived last evening a number of enthusiastic friends assembled on the wharf to give the hunters an ovation, and assist them to carry the slaughtered birds and animals home. But the hunters were not to be seen though the deck-hands trucked from the vessel several loads of deadly weapons, which looked suspiciously like those carried by the hunters when they left the city in the morning. Enquiry from the officers proved that no game had been brought aboard and that the hunters had not been seen since the boat left Ladners. When all was quiet on the wharf and the crowd had dispersed, two hard-looking men were seen to crawl from the coal-bunker and make their way towards Vianen's game market. Half an hour later a large dray, weighed down with deer, grouse, wild ducks and geese, drew up before the home of these great hunters, and was unloaded with much care. Later on in the evening many friends called and congratulated the hunters, who would probably have talked themselves into the belief that they had actually killed the game had not Vianen's boy suddenly appeared with a brace of grouse which he said had been forgotten "when the rest were sent up."

The Diptheria Cases.

EDITOR COLUMBIAN:—I was called on the morning of the 24th inst. to see a child that was ill at the Cleveland Hotel; the child died about the time I reached the room. I examined the dead child, and found the case one of malignant diptheria. I asked to see the other children in the house, and found two with the same disease. I commenced treatment immediately, and isolated the other children in the house. I treated them personally till the evening of the 26th. Another physician well acquainted with the disease, saw them with me on the 25th. The children were progressing favorably under the treatment they were receiving, but a couple of hours neglect may prove fatal in these cases, and when I went to see my patients on the morning of the 27th I was refused admission to the house by an officer on guard. I asked for his authority and he brought H. L. DeBeck, who ordered the officer to close the door against me, although the parents and inmates of the house urged me to see the children. Dr. Smith was present with Mr. DeBeck The parents sent me a note, requesting me to come and see their children, as Dr. Smith had called, but did not examine the patients or even see them. Following is the note I received:

New Westminster,
Tuesday, Nov. 27th, 1888.

This is to certify, Dr. Smith, which the people tells me is the physician of the board of health, called at the Cleveland Hotel this morning but did not look at my children to see whether they are sick or well. I request the services of Dr. Hall.
WM. WHITE.

I tried again to get permission, but was refused, and in the meantime another of the children died. After the second child died, Dr. Smith came and asked me to go and see the children with him, but I said I had been forbidden to enter the house and did not wish to violate the law if such exists.

The action of the health officers in this case was something very strange. The house was quarantined without any report from the health physician of the board, as he had not seen the cases, neither had any member of the health board called on me to enquire of them; but after the house was quarantined two of the members of the board met me on the street and asked me about the cases. The health physician went, by direction, on the evening of the 26th, to make a further (or a) report on the cases, and, by some mysterious influence, without my knowledge, two or three other doctors were there at the same time to see my patients, if not to annoy them. I believe that there was a difference of opinion; at least I heard so, and where doctors disagree patients die. I would like to know how these irregularities are to be accounted for and who is responsible for them.

I noticed in the report of the council proceedings of Monday night that H. L. DeBeck stated that I refused to attend the patients any longer without a fee of twenty-five dollars per day; this is incorrect as I did not state what I would attend the cases for, but said I considered that I should receive as much as others got for attendance on other cases not as serious as this. I wished by drawing their attention to other cases to induce them to be as liberal as possible for I expected to attend the patients under any circumstances, and went the next morning, without any knowledge of what happened in the council, to look after my patients as usual. The statement of the health physician, repeated in the council by Mr. Herring, "that the cases were of a milder type than first given out," could not have been made by any one conversant with the disease.

LATE DESPATCHES.

CATTLE TRADE INVESTIGATION.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.—The senate cattle trade investigation committee met again this morning. E. L. Leonard, of Saline county, Mo., one of the largest importers of black cattle in Missouri, said the cattle markets are paralyzed by the control of a dozen beef men, and prevented any competition in the market between buyers. Senator Plumb asked the witness if he thought the price to the consumer lower than formerly, when there were no packing houses. Witness—"I know that the price we get for our live stock beef does not justify the prices which the consumers pay."

A FIRE AND PANIC.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Shortly after 1 o'clock a fire broke out in a school building at Long Island city. Nine hundred children in a panic piled upon and fought each other in a frantic effort to get out. They were piled on the floor at the foot of the stairway in heaps. Hundreds are badly bruised, but none fatally hurt. The fire was insignificant. The false alarm of fire in the Boston store this afternoon caused a panic. Thousands of persons, mostly woman shoppers and shop girls, made a frantic rush for the stairway and other exits. Many were bruised and severely hurt, but none fatally.

A DARING ROBBER'S EXPLOIT.

FLORENCE, Ariz., Nov. 23.—Dr. J. M. Hurley, of San Bernardino, going from Florence to Casgrande, was held up this afternoon at Oneida station, fourteen miles from this place, by a masked highwayman, believed to be McNell, who escaped from jail here last February. Dr. Hurley was robbed of $15 and kept until A. C. Saxe came along, when both were held up until the stage arrived. He took the express treasure box, containing $40, and ripped the mail sacks, opened the letters and registered packages, then made Dr. Hurley gather them up, put them in the stage and sent all on. Officers are in pursuit.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH CONGRESS.

PORTLAND, Nov. 23.—At this morning's session of the Episcopal church congress the topic was: "What principle should govern church extension in our country in the field already occupied by others?" Addresses were made by several leading divines: Rev. E. E. Talbott, D. D., bishop of Idaho and Wyoming, after speaking of the arguments against apostolic succession that had been brought up in various bodies, said the members of the Protestant Episcopal church should preach the gospel as they had received it and as their conscience tells them to preach it. The church must ever be aggressive.

A CRUEL JOKE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Consternation was caused among the Central park police last night by the receipt of a note that two society young men were to fight a duel during the night, over a young society woman, in Central park. All the officers were told to look vigilantly for the duelists throughout the night, and arrest any suspected person. The officers found in a secluded place near the west drive, and opposite Ninety-second street, early in the morning, two blood-stained handkerchiefs, clots of blood and a cheap pistol. All the hospitals were searched for persons who arrived during the night with gun or pistol-shot wounds and inquiries were made among physicians and drug stores in the neighborhood, but without result. The police think they have been made game of, and are further perplexed, as reporters came in to ask for information five minutes after the things were received. It was an unusual visit at such an early hour.

THE CHICAGO ANARCHISTS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—An anarchist circular of the style made familiar by Parsons and Spies, was well distributed today through the saloons in the west and northwest sections of the city. After asking subscriptions to defend supposed Dynamiters Kroneck, Chlieboun and Sevick, whose trial is to begin Monday, it says: "Notwithstanding it (the law) has murdered a number of our brethren, this capitalistic beast thirsts for more blood and apparently will not be satisfied till it gets it. The workingmen of Chicago cannot tell what will happen any day. They are liable to be taken away from their breakfast table, torn from their families and locked up in jail on account of a trivial complaint from capital." The paper goes on to say that capital must be crushed, and claims that the only way to do it is for workingmen to organize and fight for their rights. The circular is printed in German and Bohemian and signed by Fritz Jerthian, on behalf of the newly organized Arbeiter Reichts Schutz verein.

BAD PIECE OF NEWS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A disagreeable piece of news comes from across the water to the effect that the stern of the English gunboat Scout has sunk considerably, and that rear frames show signs of weakness. The sign of structual weakness acquires importance from the fact that the new gun boats Yorktown, Bennington and others, recently built for our navy, are patterned closely upon the English model, which now show signs of failure.

C.P.R. NEW ENTERPRISES.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—It is officially stated here that the Canadian Pacific will build a branch to Detroit, connecting with the Wabash system, thereby gaining an entrance to Chicago and becoming a competitor for Western business in the United States. A London cablegram says Canadian Pacific shares have been pressed for sale yesterday and to-day to build their branch. The London Standard thinks the company is hard up.

HEAVY SHIPMENTS OF GOLD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The foreign bankers who have ordered gold for shipment to Europe, state that owing to the demand in London for gold bars for shipment to Russia and South America, the banks on the other side are paying for gold a fraction over the nominal price. The total gold taken for shipment so far this week is $4,654,000.

THE WINONA & SOUTHWESTERN.

WINONA, Minn, Nov. 23.—The Winona & Southern railroad was formally opened to-day. The road is intended to form a link between Winona and Omaha in the great transcontinental line including the Lackawanna and Grand Bay & Winona on the east, and Union on the west; also connecting at Sioux City with the projected line o Ogden.

Orion Catlin, 49 Pearl Street, Buffalo, N. Since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has become celebrated, unprincipled persons are imitating it. Get the genuine.

The cheapest medicine in use is Dr Thomas' Eclectric Oil, because so very little of it is required to effect a cure. For croup, diphtheria, and diseases of the lungs and throat, whether used for bathing the chest or throat, for taking internally or inhaling, it is a matchless compound.
