NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Affectionate husband—Good by, dear. Should I be detained at the office this evening I'll send you a note by messenger. Prudent wife—Don't go to the expense, I've already taken it out of your breast pocket.

At a Big Hotel.—"Say, mister, gimme a room, and a good one. Nothing snide for me. You can't come any of your tricks on this citizen. I'm a fly man; I've travelled, and I won't have it." Clerk—Front Johnny, show this jay to 712, and see that he doesn't blow out the gas.

An exchange gives the following good advice: Don't be a chump. Don't want the earth. Don't think it was built for you alone and other people put on it to contribute to your comfort. Don't coddle yourself into the belief that your only lookout in this world is for No. 1. Strange as it may seem to you, there are millions of men beside yourself, and they have as much right to live as you. Just sit and talk to yourself awhile and see if you don't come pretty near being a chump. Don't imagine that a few extra dollars make you a man's superior. Don't try to make every one believe that you are the best man living. Be a man. Don't be a prig. Don't be a chump.

Erastus Wiman delivered an address before the Portland, Maine, board of trade, the other day, in which he held that commercial union would be a greater step in the direction of annexation than any other that could be taken. "So far as trade and commerce was concerned the plan proposed would procure all that could be achieved by political union. In the future if a political union was deemed desirable it would be brought about much sooner by an intimate trade relation than by standing off and maintaining a separation by the rigidity of a customs line four thousand miles long." Commercial union as the first step toward annexation is now the plea! —Ex.

In the Catskills and other parts of New York state a curious industry consists in converting beech trees into wood flour. A whole trunk is stripped of its bark, put into a huge mechanism, which is practically a pencil-sharpener on a vast scale and cut into miles of the finest ribbons. These are thrown into a mill and converted into wood-meal or wood flour. This is used, it is said, for making paper, although the farmers hint that it is taken west by government contractors to feed the Indians and supply our army with daily bread. In very dry summer weather this dust fills the air of the mill and is often explosive. Twice there have been accidents of this kind in this industry. The effect of this sort of flour on the Indians is not stated. —Tory Times.

Stanley is being blamed in some quarters because in pushing his way through Central Africa many of the natives accompaning his expedition, or those opposing its advance, have lost their lives. We have only Stanley's own account of the march to judge by, and from his own frank and truthful narrative the harsh inference has been drawn that a ruthless sacrifice of human life has taken place. The New York Tribune asks with fairness that judgment be suspended till Stanley has an opportunity of more fully explaining the difficulties and dangers which surrounded the expedition, and the necessities which caused him to act as he did. The charge belies the nature of the man and the character of his previous explorations in Africa. When setting out from London on the present expedition he said: "Fight the blacks? Never if I can help it." Such a man is not likely to have acted inhumanly, as his critics now appear to think.

Women who wish to preserve the slimness and contour of their figure must begin by learning to stand well. That is explained to mean the throwing forward and upward of the chest, the flattening of the back, with the shoulder blades held in their proper places, and the definite curving in of the small of the back, thus throwing the whole weight of the body upon the hips. No other women hold themselves so well as the aristocratic English women. Much of their beauty lies in their proud carriage, the delicate erectness of their figures and the fine poise of their heads. The same aristocratic carriage is within the reach of any American girl who takes the pains to have it; it is only the question of a few years of eternal vigilance, never relaxing her watchfulness over herself and, sitting or standing, always preserving her erectness and poise, the result being that at the end of that time it has become second nature to her and she never afterwards loses it. This in a great measure preserves the figure, because it keeps the muscles firm and well strung, and prevents the sinking down of the flesh around the waist and the hips, so common in women over 30, and which it is perfectly easy to escape. Another thing to avoid is a bad habit of going upstairs, which most women do, bent forward, with the chest contracted, which, as well as an indolent, slouchy manner of walking, is injurious to the heart and lungs.—Mabel Jennes.

THE DOUGLAS FIR

Highly Extolled by Ex-Governor Alger, Who Predicts for it a Great Market.

An Anti-Jesuit Meeting in Montreal Freely Discusses the Vexed Question.

A Haytian Gunboat Supposed to Have Foundered at Sea with All Hands.

PACIFIC COAST LUMBER.

CHICAGO, April 26.—Ex-Governor Alger of Michigan, who is on his way west, in an interview published this morning says "Very few people appreciate the extent and superiority of the Washington territory fir, and the only reason it is not now brought east is the necessarily high freight rates by rail. Some of it now finds its way to New York by vessel, but the voyage is a long one. For several years, appreciating the fact that the Michigan and Wisconsin pine lands were being exhausted, I have had my eye open for new fields, and three years ago I visited the Washington region, making a personal examination of the field. I think I am a fair judge of timber, I don't hesitate in pronouncing the product of those regions in every way superior to our northern pine, and other countries recognize the fact. While I was in Tacoma I saw 9 vessels, bound for England, Germany and China, loading at the wharves. I know that at the present time, he concluded, "it cannot be profitably carried east by rail, because I have figured the matter with the roads touching that district, and it has been found impossible to carry the stuff 2,000 miles at anything like a reasonable rate. If the Nicaragua canal is ever built, an enormous lumber traffic by water will be sure to spring up, and it will possibly come just at the time we need it most.

THE WEATHER.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Fair weather in the eastern portion, and light rains in the western portion, is predicted for Oregon and Washington Territory for the succeeding 24 hours.

GRANTED AN AUDIENCE.

VIENNA, April 26.—The Emperor Francis Joseph granted an audience today to Capt. Hein and Lieut Sergent who presented letters of appointment as military and naval attaches to the U. S. legation. The Emperor conversed with Lieut.-Sergent about the new American dynamite ships.

BLAINE BETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 26.—Secretary Blaine is much better to-day, but on account of the rainy weather did not leave his room at Normandie.

STRIKE SETTLED.

BUFFALO, April 26.—The carpenter's strike, which has lasted 4 weeks, came to an end this morning. The men accepted proposition that the nine hours a day begins on June first. Only about 200 men were idle when the discision was reached, the others having gone to work for the bosses who granted the original demand.

PLAYING WITH FIRE.

EL PASO, Tex., April 26.—While repairing the lid of a box of giant powder blasting caps, at the Modoc mine, yesterday, Bob Adams, a miner who was smoking a pipe, was almost instantly killed by the explosion of the contents.

DIED FROM OPIUM.

BUFFALO, April 26.—Fred. Ryers, a well known local sport and the champion pool player of western New York, was found this morning dying of opium smoking in front of a Chinese laundry on Broadway. He was taken to the emergency hospital, where he died at 10:30 oclock. A search of the laundry revealed the "lay out" which Ryers had been using. The Chinamen in the place were arrested.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

BALTIMORE, April 26.—In a collision at the "Y" near Howard st. this morning, between the Baltimore & Ohio vestibule train, from Phila. and the Phila. Express, several train hands were hurt. Vice-President Morton is reported to have been on the train.

FOUNDERED WITH ALL HANDS.

NEW YORK, April 26.—A private letter, dated April 12th, from Hayti, brings news that the gunboat Conserva, from this port, is still not reported. There is hardly a doubt now but that the gunboat foundered off Cape Hatteras with all on board.

ALL QUIET.

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 26.—Everything is reported quiet in the territory. Reports of murders cannot be substantiated.

DAMAGED BY RAIN.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Rain fell last night and to-day, with the result of causing many thousand dollars of loss in centennial decorations. The work of adorning the churches and public and private buildings was far advanced in many parts of the city, and much has to be done over. Rain is falling this afternoon.

A PENITENT MURDERER.

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 26.—Cæsar Frazier, the negro who murdered a white man named Holdenberg last February, was hanged this morning. The execution was conducted quietly. Frazier joined the Catholic church before he died.

DUTIES RAISED.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The secretary of state has forwarded to the treasury department a letter from Consul Garesche, of Martinique, West Indies, announcing that the government there had advanced all duties imposed 20 per cent., whether specific or ad valorem.

OPIUM SEIZED.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Two seizures of opium, valued at three hundred dollars, were made to-day on the steamer, City of Rio de Janeiro, which arrived from Hong Kong yesterday.

TREATY NEGOTIATIONS.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Benjamin Horton, of Lawrence, Kansas, H. J. Allen, of Hiawatha, Kansas, and A. D. Walker, of Halbon, Kansas, have been appointed commissioners to negotiate with the Prairie Bank, Pottawattomies, and the Kickapoo Indians, in Kansas, for the sale of all or a portion of their lands in Kansas, and the allotment of the remainder in severalty. John Baker, of Goshen, Ind., is appointed a commissioner to negotiate with the Cherokees and other Indians, for the cession to the United States of certain lands as provided for by a recent act of congress.

WHEAT.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Wheat quiet; buyer '89 137⅞; seller, 126¾.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Wheat steady, April 83½; June 84½; July 85½.

CHICAGO, April 26.—Wheet steady, April 80; June 81¼; July 81⅜.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

HELENA, April 26.—Julius Koslosski, a laborer, aged 25 years, was crushed to death by a cave-in while working in a sewer yesterday.

DISCHARGED.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The two women, Ella Hammond, and Addie Stanton, who figured so notoriously in the badger game in which an effort was made to rob the gambler, Phil. Daly, were arraigned for sentence to-day. They had pleaded guilty of an attempt at grand larceny. In view of the fact that they had been prisoners in the tombs for several months, and that they had furnished evidence to convict two male conspirators, the judge suspended sentence and they were discharged.

SHIPPING.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Arrived barkentine Skagit from Port Gamble; ship Carondolet, Port Ludlow; Bark Carrolton, Tacoma; sailed ship Two Brothers for Tacoma. The Skagit and Carondolet collided on entering port. The latter had her jibboom carried away and the Skagit lost her off rail.

ANTI-JESUIT MEETING.

MONTREAL, April 26.—The anti-Jesuit meeting held last night was in session until midnight. The whole question was considered and the action of the Dominion government and the provincial legislature was freely discussed. The impression seemed to be that a crisis was at hand, and that it became Anglo-Saxons to prepare for a blow which it was felt must come. Mr. Charlton, M.P., said that there was no hope of preserving intact the French language and institutions. If the present state of affairs continued the church of Rome would soon possess two thirds of the estate of the province.

ANOTHER VESSEL OVERDUE.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—The anxiety expressed in the despatches as existing in the navy department about the safety of the Monongahela is not shared in by the officers at the Mare Island Navy Yard. Schoolmaster Williams, late of the Vandalia and now on the receiving ship, Independence, at Mare Island, says that on the second day after the Alameda left Apia, from the deck of this steamer he distinctly saw two large vessels evidently bound for Samoa, and one of them he judges was the Monongahela; the other he supposes was the Mohit, a vessel which left San Francisco nearly two months ago with a mixed cargo of stores for the same destination. It may therefore be considered almost certain that the Monongahela was at Apia a few days after the departure from there of the Alameda.

ANOTHER DEFECTIVE SHIP.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—An evening paper says the reason why the trial trip of the cruiser Charleston has been so long delayed, is because of a very serious defect having been discovered in her machinery. It was found when the test was made the other day, that the Charleston's air pipes did not create the desired and expected vacuum. Instead of the vacuum being 28 inches, it was only 19 inches. So now they are being slowly and painfully adjusted. An official of the Union Iron Works Company, the builders of the cruiser, when spoken to regarding the publication, refused to make any statement whatever.

BLAINE'S LUMBAGO BETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 25.—Secretary Blaine is a great deal better to-day and about recovered from his recent attack of lumbago. Owing to inclement weather to-day, he remained at the hotel, and did not go to the department at all. Consequently the official visit to him of the new British minister, Sir Julian Pauncefort, has again been postponed.

ARRIVED HOME.

NEW YORK, April 25.—R. F. Brich's schooner yacht, Coronet, in which her owner left New York for a tour of the world about a year ago, and for whose safety some fears were entertained, arrived home this morning.

RAIL REDUCED.

NEW YORK, April 25.—Recorder Smith to-day reduced the bail to $1,500 in the case of Mrs. Olive Friend, one of the alleged electric sugar frauds prisoners. She recently filed an affidavit claiming illness, and prayed for a reduction of bail, which was $22,500.

A KLEPTROMANIC.

CHICAGO, April 25.—Mrs. Josephine Kirkman, sister of General Drake, of Desmoines, Ill., the founder of Drake University, and wife of Rev. Kirkman, who is editor of the Christian Oracle, and pastor of the First Christian church, was arraigned in the police court this morning for shoplifting. The proprietor of the store declares he caught her in the act. The hearing was postponed.

A WINE TRUST IMMINENT.

NEW YORK, April 25.—It was announced to-day that the long continued effort to bring Californian wine growers together had at last taken a definite shape, and the details of a great wine growers, and handlers, trust will soon be given out. J. Portal, representing the viticultural commission of the state of California at the Paris Exhibition, took steps before his departure to perfect an organization for the combination of both the vine yard and wine interests of the state of California. He has the support of large capitalists and the assurance of additional support and co-operation from France.

A wild storm raged all Wednesday night and yesterday, at Port Arthur, accompanied by rain, sleet and snow, and a heavy sea was running. The Athabasca was obliged to return.

Sir George and Lady Stephen returned to Montreal yesterday morning from Europe. Sir George says immigration will not be so heavy this year as formerly.

MERELY CURIOUS.

Englishmen Greet Boulanger with Curiosity, not Enthusiasm, as the Papers Say.

The Suggestion of Giving Parnell Freedom of London Will be Put to Popular Vote.

The Treasure Aboard the Warship Trenton Recovered by Divers at Samoa.

MR. SMALLEY'S CABLE.

LONDON, April 26.—General Boulanger came just in time to divert attention from Birmingham. Telegrams to the Boulangist papers in Paris re-telegraphed here say that a hundred thousand Englishmen welcomed him with enthusiasm. Divide this number by 10, omit "enthusiasm" and substitute "good humored curiosity" and you will come much nearer the truth. Most English papers show only a moderate interest in his coming; in the declarations to the syndicate of interviewers who were invited to his hotel to receive his confidence, the great question, whether he was seasick between Ostend and Dover, remains in dispute. His appearance on deck at Dover in a glossy silk hat and blue coat moved British critics on costumes to laughter. One of his carnation bouquets at Charing Cross came from a conjurer's wife, and a baby was provided for him to kiss. Such are the circumstances in which he, whom his partisans claim as coming the saviour of society in France, makes his first appearance on the British stage.

COURTS DISCUSSION.

BERLIN, April 26.—The National Gazette says the government is in favor of a thorough discussion of the Samoan question in the reichstag.

A BROKEN CABLE.

LONDON, April 26.—It is reported the United States Direct Cable Co.'s submarine wires have been interrupted since April 19th. No official notice has been given of the fact, the business being transferred to other lines of the combination.

STRONG CHARGE.

DUBLIN, April 26.—Among the depositions made out at Falcarragh, on which the charges in the case of Mr. Conebeare, M. P., are based, is one that a public meeting he called for "Cheers for the plan of campaign," and followed this up with the exclamation "To hell with Balfour."

WILL BE VOTED.

LONDON, April 26.—Owing to the closeness of the vote in the city council, granting the freedom of the city to Mr. Parnell, arrangements are being made to submit the question to the popular vote. The unionists are scheming to defeat the honor offered to Parnell,

THE GREAT BOULANGER.

LONDON, April 26.—In an interview with Gen. Boulanger the latter reiterated what he stated yesterday, that he would issue no manifesto at present. He disavowed any intention of fomenting war between France and Germany, nevertheless the general said he did not consider the future of France settled for ever by the war of 1870. He declared he would never consent to have France insulted. He was most anxious to cement France, England and Russia by friendship.

A REMARKABLE SCENE.

MADRID, April 26.—There was a remarkable scene in the Catholic congress yesterday when Prof. Sanchez Castro finished his powerful address, demanding the restoration of temporal power to the pope, and denouncing Italy for her treatment of the holy father. The entire assemblage rose to their feet crying "Long life to the papacy." The attitude of the congress in the direction of the temporrl power, is likely to create complications between Spain and Italy.

IMMIGRANTS.

LONDON, April 25.—The Parsian sailed to-day with 100 saloon, 130 intermediate and 775 steerage passengers. The Weldon extradition bill has passed the house of commons, and will become law. This measure, which we have noticed before, is a beneficent and most necessary one, and will enable Canada to get rid of a very undesirable class of American refugees that transgress the laws of their country and skip across the line to enjoy their ill-gotten gains. It is the high-toned American thief, principally, that will hardly bless the Canadian legislators in his heart for passing this measure. It was greatly feared by the members of this class who have already gained sanctuary in Canada that the bill would have passed in its original shape, containing retroactive clauses. These were expunged, however, while the bill was undergoing amendment, and the act will only affect cases occurring after it is put upon the statute books. This is to be regretted, considering the number of genteel scoundrels that will thus go unwhipt of justice, but a safer and fairer principle of legislation has been adhered to as it is.

Quite an anti-Chinese feeling is working to a head at Vancouver just now, and labor organizations are combining and reiterating the old watchword "The Chinese must go!" Chinese competition is certainly, and deservedly, an obnoxious article to white labor, and so long as legitimate measures are taken for its exclusion no one will object. But Chinese have certain rights, just the same as other people, and it is to be hoped that these will not be allowed to be outraged by too zealous "antis," as was done—and to Vancouver's disgrace, winked at by the civic authorities—a little over two years ago, when the provincial authorities had to interfere and place the city under provincial police. It is hardly likely that lesson will be forgotten, but the hoodlum element, on the coast, has always proved itself so ready, where Chinese were concerned, to make agitation an excuse for violence, that it behooves the Vancouver authorities to guard against any approach to the scenes enacted at the "terminal city" in 1887, should there be any disposition toward such actions on the part of the present agitators, which we do not say there is.

Apropos of the comparative merits of eastern Canadians as immigrants, the following testimony is of interest, and is corroborative of our views on the subject expressed in another article in this column. In a letter written from Los Angeles to his paper, Mr. Andrew Pattullo, editor of the Woodstock Sentinel Review, who is at present travelling through California, says of the Canadians in that state: "The reason for their success is not far to seek. It is no national vanity that pronounces them superior to the average American. Their success is a tribute to the school system of Ontario, and to the home training of Canadian mothers. They are more thoroughly trained, better informed, more willing to work, more frugal and steady in their habits than young Americans. With clear heads, sound bodies, a willingness to work, and a determination to succeed they distance their competitors in the race. Too many natives of these states refuse to work. They go in for big speculations, and are usually waiting for something to turn up. While they wait for some chance to make money quickly and easily they live high—much higher than Canadians. In the meantime 'tenderfeet' from other countries do the work, make the money, and fill the places open to them. American business men and capitalists thoroughly understand this. Canadians generally deserve the respect and confidence shown them in this country. They seldom rob their employers or disgrace their country. In the expressive language of the West, in the race of life they 'get there' as often as any class on this coast." The same is true of British Columbia. Our most enterprising and successful young business men have been raised in the eastern provinces, and we are glad to say that this class are being increasingly attracted towards the "gem of the west." There is room for more.

During the recent session of the provincial legislature T. Basil Humphreys, otherwise "the Hon. Tom," made, or is credited with having made, some very ill-natured and foolish remarks, in his usual windy style, about what he called "Canadians," who, he remarked, were appropriately termed "North American Chinamen." Some eastern papers have got hold of this obscure bosh and are using it to illustrate the sentiment that exists in the average British Columbia breast towards his brother of the eastern provinces. The truth is that "Hon. Tom" has resurrected an old cobweby epithet that has been stored on the top shelf for years, and the fact that he did so shows just how well—or ill—he is keeping step with the march of events and the progress of the province—and nothing more. If "Hon. Tom" actually did make use of the coarse and uncalled-for expressions which have, naturally enough, wounded the sensibilities of our eastern friends, we would advise him to come from out his musty and moss-grown cupboard and get on some exposed and breezy position—Race Rocks, or Government street, Victoria, would be a good place—and let the wind blow through his whiskers, until he gets a new idea into his brain. There was a time, before we were brought into touch with our eastern brethren, by means of the railway and telegraph, that we did not entertain any more affectionate regard for them than they did for us. But that state of things is rapidly becoming a memory merely. We understand each other better now. We have a good deal of "truck" with each other, which is constantly increasing, and is bound to increase, commercially, socially, and politically. So far from being prejudiced against "Canadians," we are, as rapidly as can be expected, cultivating a national spirit and learning to consider ourselves as Canadians, although the force of habit still makes us British Columbians in the first place. People from any of the provinces, however, we have come to regard as preferable immigrants for populating and developing our province and its resources. It stands to reason that these are the most desirable immigrants. The institutions of the various provinces being very similar, little or no breaking-in process is required in this respect, and such immigrants can take their places almost immediately and adapt themselves to their surroundings as valuable and useful members of society. It is true that some of our eastern friends, settling in this province, have to learn a little from our somewhat freer ways and, perhaps, more liberal style of living and doing, but this is soon imbibed with the air, and is a distinct and welcome acquisition to the new comer from the east. On the other hand, the eastern immigrant confers a benefit upon the land of his adoption by the infusion of stricter business methods and general conservatism in all departments. Oh, no, "Hon. Tom," it won't do for you to malign our brother from the east. British Columbia knows on which side its bread is buttered. It wants both capital and population, and fully realizes (from actual experience and observation) that the men and money of the eastern provinces are just the "stuff" to assist in developing and building up this new country on a sound basis, commercially, socially and politically. Come west, Johnny Canuck, come west, and we'll drown "Hon. Tom" in the sea if he ventures to look cross-eyed at our welcome guests from the east.

Job printing of all kinds neatly done at the COLUMBIAN office. Prices will be found as low as at any other office in the province.—Adv

IMPORTANT

Government Auction Sale

—OF—

REAL ESTATE.

Embracing some of the best Water Frontages in New Westminster City.

I have been instructed by the Surveyor General, W. S. Gore, Esq., to sell by Public Auction at the COLONIAL HOTEL, NEW WESTMINSTER, on Saturday, 27th April,

THE FOLLOWING VERY ELIGIBLE NEW WESTMINSTER CITY PROPERTY, the area of which is about 20 acres, more or less, or about 100 city lots.

Lot 23, Block 36, situate between Queen's Avenue and Dock Square.

Lot 15, Block IX, situate between Pelham Street and Queen's Avenue.

The above property will be found worthy the attention of those interested in Mill Sites, Ship Yards and Manufacturing Industries and Capitalists generally. It being conceded by all far seeing men that there does not exist a safer and better field for investment than that afforded by New Westminster City, the Fresh Water Terminus of the C. P. R., and upon the completion of the New Westminster Southern, will be the British Columbian terminus of the American system of railroads, and with the immense advantages offered by the mighty Fraser River, the main artery of the country,

It does not require a prophet to fortell that in the near future New Westminster must become the London of British Columbia.

REMEMBER, there has been no boom in New Westminster City, hence no fictitious values have been arrived at.

The sale will commence at 7 o'clock Saturday evening.

Terms at sale, which will be very liberal.

THE SHROUD INDUSTRY.

Enormous Proportions to Which It Has Grown Within a Few Years.

In the past five years, says the Philadelphia Times, the shroud industry in this city has grown to enormous proportions, and this dress of the dead, while it has become unpopular with some, has grown steadily in favor with others. The reason for the great increase in the business is on account of the steady growth of the population, and because the bigger the population the bigger the death rate.

It used to be that shrouds were made almost entirely by layers-out of the dead and poor women, who made a regular business of it and worked early and late, according to the number of orders they had. Shrouds were then made at short notice, because after the person died there wasn't much time to design and make the shroud, and women worked all night to fill their orders. Nowadays there are very few professional shroud-makers in this city. These few are mostly women, who work regularly for some particular undertaker, but they don't make much. A shroud-maker said that she used to have a nice income from her business, but that the big undertakers' supply stores had ruined the business for the shroud-makers about town, because they can make the shrouds for a great deal less money. The woman was stitching away at a shroud at the time. "This is for an old Quaker lady," she said, "who died yesterday. I must finish it before I go to sleep. What business I get now is almost entirely for dressing old persons, principally women. It used to be that nearly every body was buried in shrouds, and that isn't more than half a dozen years ago."

A prominent undertaker, who has what is known in the business as a "tony trade," said: "I don't suppose I have used more than half a dozen shrouds a year. With my class of trade the custom is dying out. The people I bury are nearly all cared for in their sickness by professional nurses, who have become as thick as hops in this city. Nearly every physician has a list of a dozen men or women he can recommend. Well, the professional nurses in the past five years have got to preparing the dead for burial, and they can dress a corpse just as well as they can a live person. My customers prefer to have their relatives buried in either the clothes they wore in life or a similar suit. A great many people I bury now are buried in their dress suits that they have worn at weddings, receptions, balls or banquets. It takes two persons to dress a body, but it is done easily nowadays. Five or six years ago it was looked upon as almost an impossibility, and up to that time nearly every body was buried in shrouds. For my part, I like to see a person prepared for the grave to look as natural as they did in life, and they certainly don't look like themselves if they are attired in a shroud."

The biggest undertakers' supply store in the country is in this city, where there are 500 styles of shrouds to choose from, ranging in prices from $175 down to $10. Each sample shroud is marked with a tag showing the price and is numbered. In a big book each number is accompanied by a detailed description of the quality of the materials used and the style. Most of these sample shrouds are duplicated in stock, so that an undertaker can take his customer to the supply store and pick out the style and take it right off. If the sample isn't in stock the supply store can make it up in a jiffy, for they employ a large number of persons to make them. The shroud-makers are very happy, and sing and joke and laugh over their work as much as if they were trimming bonnets. There are shroud designers in the factory whose brains are busy all the time thinking out new styles. There are more styles of dress for the dead than there are for the living. This big supply store sends out hundreds of shrouds every week. They are shipped all over the country and are ordered from plate engravings showing the style and the price, with an appended description of the material. Some of the undertakers keep shrouds in stock, but most of them buy them as they are ordered.

A YUCATAN BULL-FIGHT.

Poor Beasts Cruelly Tortured with Fire and Spear-Thrusts.

Bull-fights have been so many times described that I will spare the reader the details of this battle, writes a Mexican correspondent of the Philadelphia Record. Suffice it to say it was as cowardly cruel as most of them, even more so in one particular, something which I had never seen before. After having tortured the bull into a frenzy of rage they lassoed it and held it firmly by the horns while the picadores fixed upon its back the figure of a soldier in a cocked hat and seated in a saddle. Both soldier and saddle were made of wood, paper and gunpowder, forming a formidable piece of fire-works. When it was firmly secured, all fell back to a safe distance. The picadores, mounted and with poised spears, took their places in the ring and the band struck up the Hymno Nacional. At the same instant the noose was slipped, liberating the pull, the heel of the soldier was fired and a shower of rockets were let off within a few feet of the bull's nose. Its first dash was furious. Maddened by the whizzing and explosions, the shouts of the crowd, and the fire and smoke of the engine of torture on its back, the bull dashed blindly at every picadore, receiving thrust after thrust from their spears. Finally the powder burned out, and the poor beast, streaming with blood and with its back fearfully burned, bellowed for mercy and crawled feebly around the ring looking in vain for a way of escape, raising imploring eyes to the spectators as if pleading to the mild faces of the women. Thus five bulls, one after the other, were brought in, played with and disposed of, and I am almost glad to relate that in the course of the afternoon, three of the brutal picadores were unhorsed by their victims and carried of for dead. None of them were killed, however, as I afterwards learned, but one was maimed for life and the others so severely hurt that they will not fight bulls again for many a day.

I was amazed to hear people near me complaining bitterly because bull-fights are such tame affairs, unlike what they used to be before the Government placed so many restrictions on them that their dangers have been mitigated and their excitement as well. President Diaz lately decreed that bull-fights should be given only on Sunday and other fiestas, because when held on week-days the people neglected their work to attend them.

Not till long after sunset did the last fight end. According to time-honored custom the last bull was a comparatively tame one; and with its advent the ring was thrown open to the boys, who swarmed into the arena and, amid roars of laughter, pulled, hauled and hustled the poor toro till he could hardly stand.

Velocity of Electric Signals.

Wheatstone's claim of 288,000 miles per second as the velocity of electric signals has never been confirmed. Prof. Gould's investigations show that aerial telegraph wires on poles transmit electricity at the rate of from 14,000 to 16,000 miles per second, and that the velocity of transmission increases with the distance between the wires and the earth, or, in other words, with the height of suspension; and that subterranean wires, like submarine cables, transmit with reduced rapidity. Again, while wires suspended at a given height are known to transmit signals at a velocity of some 12,000 miles per second, those that are suspended higher give a velocity of from 16,000 to 24,000 miles.

Useful in Various Ways.

The latest style of cane is owned by a Portland physician, who uses it for three purposes—as a cane, as a protector and for professional purposes. It consists of a bamboo rod, into which fits a long steel receptacle, shaped like half a tube, in the concave side of which are springs holding in place small vials of ammonia, morphine and needles and surgeons' thread, and in fact all antidotes and surgical appliances necessary in cases of emergency.

Bulls and Bears in Petticoats.

Thirty women make a living by speculating on the open Board of Trade in Chicago, and half that number do business through commission firms on the regular board.

There will be a meeting of the Hyack Fire Company to-morrow night, at which the new uniforms will be served out. The meeting is also for the purpose of receiving reports from the various committees and for completing the final arrangements for the May Day celebration.

The sea lions which congregate off the mouth of the Columbia River to feast on the salmon, are the greatest nuisance the fishermen have to encounter. On Monday last when one of the fish traps at the mouth of the river was opened, eleven large sea lions were found inside, and the heads of thirty-four fine salmon, showing that the sea lions had breakfasted on $42.50 worth of fish.

The boats engaged in the oolachan fishing yesterday reaped a great harvest, and as a consequence the surplus supply has knocked the bottom out of the price of sweevies. Vianens net brought in from 1200 to 1500 pounds, each haul last night, but only a few hauls were made as there was a comparatively small demand for the fish Twenty-five hundred pounds were shipped to Victoria this morning.

Half a dozen dead rats adorned Columbia street this morning, which, to say the least was not a very inviting spectacle to visitors. Dead rats are very common on Columbia street and our citizens have become accustomed to seeing them, but it is different with strangers and they point to the carcasses with surprise. Some citizens are under the impression persons should be punished for throwing dead rats on the street.

Good News.

A despatch from Ottawa this afternoon brings the cheering news that our member, Mr. D. Chisholm, is much improved, and yesterday he was able to sit up for an hour. This good news has revived the hopes of his many friends, who all sincerely trust he may weather his present attack of illness and be spared for many years to come.

Fruits, Plants and Flowers.

P. Latham, proprietor of the celebrated Douglas street nursery, has taken the store next to the City Hotel, on Columbia street, which will be opened to-morrow, and where fruits, flowers, etc., can be had at all seasons, fresh from the garden and the greenhouse. California fruits will also be kept on sale. This store will prove a real convenience to the citizens, and will undoubtedly be well patronized. See adv. in another column.

Salmon Packing Commences.

The Bon Accord Packing Co., of which Mr. D. J. Munn is the manager, has the honor of packing the first salmon of 1889. The first boiling was made on Saturday last, when a couple of dozen cases were packed. Since then a number of cases have been packed every day and the total pack now amounts to close on 150 cases. Only a few boats have been employed so far, but if the run shows any signs of increasing an additional number will be pressed into service.

Consigned to Mother Earth.

The funeral of the late Adam Innes took place this afternoon shortly after the arrival of the str. Rithet from Victoria. The pall-bearers were Messrs. L. F. Bonson, J. Buie, Geo. Black, J. Rankin, D. McGregor and James Stephens. Rev. Mr. Scouler officiated. The members of the Caledonian and St. Andrews Society were present in full regalia, and, with a large number of citizens in carriages and on foot, followed the remains to the Masonic cemetery where they were consigned to mother earth.

Map of Manitoba

We have received from J. H. Brownlee, D.L.S., Brandon, Man., a copy of his new 25c. indexed map of Manitoba. The map is original and graphic, telling as it does its own tale of the progress of the young province. The fourteen pages of indexing make a complete guide to the map, which is folded into a neat cover for pocket or office reference. Mr. Brownlee's idea is to supply to eastern people a reliable low priced map—and we certainly are of opinion that he has struck it. For further particulars, address J. H. Brownlee, Brandon, Manitoba.

The Idaho Coming

In another column will be found the announcement that the s.s Idaho sails from Portland on May 2nd for all Puget Sound and British Columbia ports, calling at Westminster. The permanency of the new line depends greatly on the support it receives from the merchants and exporters of British Columbia, and as Westminster is particularly interested in attracting shipping, the success of the new line will be watched with keen interest. Freight and passenger rates can be obtained from the purser on board or by communicating with the general agent at Portland.

Sent to Gaol.

At the police court this morning Jessie Rivers was brought before Capt. Pittendrigh and Mr. Mathers, J. P.'s, to answer to the charges of larceny preferred against her. She pleaded guilty and the taking of the evidence was waived. In pronouncing sentence Capt. Pittendrigh said: "Yours is a very bad case. You were taken into service through the joint exertions of several Christian ladies of this city, who by your promises fully believed in your reform. The return you made them was to steal from those who tried to aid the endeavors of these ladies. You are sentenced to 9 months' imprisonment in the provincial gaol."

Wilson-Jenns.

The marriage of Mr. W. Ridgeway Wilson, architect, and Miss Flora Alexandria Jenns, eldest daughter of the Rev. Percival Jenns, was celebrated at St. John's Church, Victoria, Wednesday. The edifice was filled with ladies and the interesting ceremony was performed by the father of the bride, pastor of St. John's church. Mr. E. A. Jenns, of this city, the bride's brother, was at the capital, accompanied by Mrs. Jenns, and took part in the ceremony. The happy couple left Thursday morning by the str. Islander on their wedding trip to the Sound. The Columbian's congratulations are added to the many already given.

Portland Exposition

Portland is to have a monster exhibition in September next for one month. The buildings are just completed and will be opened on the 1st of May. They cover six acres of ground. It is intended that it shall be the greatest event of the kind ever held on the Pacific coast. All the North Pacific states and territories will be represented. Mr. L. Samuel, of the West Shore, who has been in the city several days, yesterday interviewed the government in an endeavor to induce them to prepare and send a British Columbia exhibit. The people who will attend the exhibition are those who may want to know about our province, and the advertisment of a well gotten up exhibit would prove of great benefit.—Colonist.

New Settlers.

Few people have any idea of the immigrants that have settled in Westminster district since the beginning of the year. Mr. T. L. Briggs, of the C. P. Navigation Co., informed a representative of The Columbian that not a steamer has left for up river ports during the last six weeks which did not carry a number of new comers, and sometimes as many as twenty-five in one day. Many immigrants go up river to prospect for land and return in a few days, having been successful in their search. A number of new settlers who arrived in the country since the beginning of the year have already sent east for their families. A fact worthy of note is that of all the new comers who have decided to settle in this district, not one of them has yet been heard to speak in other than the most hopeful terms of the future.

The Mendelssohn Concert.

Speaking of the Mendelsson Quintette Club, which appeared at Vancouver last night, and which gives a concert at the Oddfellows hall, in this city to-night, the News-Advertiser says: Of the performance of Mr. Ryan in his clarionette solo it is unnecessary to speak, for as master of the melodies of that instrument his fame is too well known to be enhanced by flattering remarks, however so well merited, nor of the concert work of the quintette, which was so effective as to defy criticisms, more especially on the part of those less gifted than themselves. Miss Ryan, daughter of the director, who is a graduate of Paris Conservatory of Music, and made her debut last season in Boston with some success, inherits the talents of her father, and has added to these a careful training and a cultivated expression. Miss Ryan has a good voice, mezzo rather than first soprano, and sings with very good taste and effectiveness. Both of her songs were rapturously encored. Herr Anton Hekking's execution on the violincello is truly wonderful, and is inspired by scarcely less than genius. It is the "occupation of the soul," and is characterised by a strong nervous force that is irresistible in its effect. The latter remark applies as well to Herr Wilhelm Ohliger, whose performance is brilliant to a degree.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

The Vancouver Sensation.

The hearing of the evidence against Dr. Langis and Arthur Sullivan, in connection with the alleged abortion case, was continued at Vancouver yesterday. The evidence adduced by Mrs. Mogg, if reliable, goes very hard against the accused. At the conclusion of Mrs. Hogg's evidence. Mr. Hammersley asked that the prisoners be committed for trial at once as a thoroughly strong case has been made out. Mr. Blake opposed this and the court adjourned without reaching a decision. After the court assembled to-day the lawyers indulged in a lengthy discussion and Mr. Hammersley repeated his request that the accused be sent up for trial. This was accordingly ordered by the magistrates and Sullivan and Dr. Langis were fully committed to stand their trial at the Spring assizes.

Steam vs. Man Power.

An exciting race took place yesterday afternoon on the North Arm between the steamer Fairy Queen and six Indians in a racing skiff. The Indians were full of pride and conceit, and thought that their strong arms were capable of producing more speed than the engines of the steamer. For two miles the plucky Siwashes held lead, pulling like heroes and straining every muscle to widen the distance between them and the Fairy Queen. The str. was urged to its best, but it was not till the race had lasted two miles that the superior staying powers of steam were made manifest, and she gradually forged ahead of the craft propelled by man power. Though defeated the Siwashes were by no means disheartened, as they merely wished to prove that they could attain a greater speed than their opponent, and did not pretend, conceited as they were, to be able to stand the strain as long as a steam engine.

Chinese Troubles Anticipated.

The Chinese merchants of this city, who have branch stores in Vancouver, have received private information to the effect that serious Chinese troubles are likely to arise in Vancouver about the 1st of May, when it is said the Mongolians will be forced to quit that city. The merchants are, in consequence, greatly alarmed, and are making preparations to remove their goods to Westminster, should the troubles assume a threatening aspect. They are closing accounts with Vancouver purchasers, and will send no more goods there until the expected move has passed. A series of anti-Chinese meetings have been held in Vancouver during the last few weeks, and it is said that a general lockout of Chinese laborers will be enforced on the first day of May. It is to be hoped that if any lockout does arise the abuses suffered by the Chinese laborers in 1887 will not be repeated. The only feasible system of expelling Chinese laborers is to cease giving them employment. Then they will be forced to look for work elsewhere.

VICTORIA NEWS.

Attempt to Rob the Corner Stone of the Jubilee Hospital. Youthful Shoplifters. A Wrestler After Cameron. Eight Times Convicted.

Special to the Columbian.

Victoria, April 26.—During the past few evenings vandals have been at work at the Royal Jubilee hospital, and many annoying depredations have been committed. On Thursday night an attempt was made to remove the cap of the corner stone, and thus secure the articles deposited in the cavity. Fortunately the cement held fast and the intention was frustrated, although the corner stone was tumbled off its foundation. The work of the vandals is being kept quiet, as the police are confident of capturing them before long.

David and Chas. Caffire, two youngsters 10 and 13 years old, were arrested this morning charged with shoplifting. The boys worked their little game as skillfully as old veterans.

Western Star Lodge No. 10, I.O.O. F. will be instituted at Vancouver by grand master Meldrum and the grand officers, on May 3rd. This will be an important event in Oddfellowship, as it will entitle the grand lodge to a representation in the sovereign grand lodge.

Lawrence Mooney got 3 months for larceny. This is his eighth conviction.

Johnson, the eastern Canadian all-round athlete, is here to accept Cameron's challenge to wrestle for one to five thousand a side. He also offers to row anybody in the province in outrigger skiffs for any amount.

H. M. S. Espiegle sails for Honolulu to-morrow.

The tug Pilot left for Moodyville this afternoon with the ship Riversdale in tow.

Dominion Parliament.

Ottawa, April 25.—In the house of commons to-day, Mr. Mara, on the motion to go into committee of supply, brought up a matter of paramount importance to British Columbia. He drew the attention of the government to the necessity of solving the problem as to the best method to adopt for the development of the mineral resources of the province. He said that for four years past the mineral lands in the railway belt have been held up owing to the suit as to the ownership of the precious metals. The miners, though they prospected and discovered veins of minerals, were unable to secure titles to them owing to the conflict of jurisdiction. Capitalists were equally slow to invest. He instanced as a case of these difficulties that of the Selkirk Company at Illecillewaet. Two hundred thousand dollars had been expended, but to secure returns more money was needed. Though the claims were recorded with both governments, the company was not able to satisfy English capitalists, who finally backed out on the ground of the insecurity of the title. Those two sets of mining laws were diametrically opposed to each other. The Dominion government in the railway belt owned the surface rights, while the precious metals belonged to the province. Who was thus to decide upon the titles except a resort was had to litigation? If the silver in any claim exceeds the galena ore, then the province has jurisdiction, which changes to the Dominion if the ore on another day should carry more galena. He quoted authorities to show that the two were found side by side. The regulations were essentially different. The Dominion law required a working vertically, while the provincial regulation enabled the miners to follow the dips and spurs. These conflicting laws should be assimilated and administered by one government. He suggested the necessity of the Dominion exchanging the lands in the railway belt for lands owned by the province in the Peace river district. In the meantime he hoped that the Dominion would concede to the province the authority to administer the baser metals in the belt.

Mr. Dewdney, as an old miner, favored the suggestion and promised that he would enter into negotiations to the end that it might be carried out.

4. In case any person who is assessed under the provisions of this by-law refuses or neglects to pay the special rate levied under the first clause hereof for 30 days after demand has been made therefor, the Collector of the said city may proceed to collect the same by process of law, with costs, as provided in the New Westminster Act, 1888.

5. This by-law may be cited as the Street Watering By-law, 1889.
