NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The secrets of much success in this world are cash, confidence, cheerfulness, and constancy.—Ez.

The report of the Registrar-General just issued in England states the present population of England and Wales to be 28,150,169. The death rates continues to fall slightly, and the birth rate keeps high, so that despite the large emigration the English people show no signs of declining in the home of the race.

Captain Paul Boyton's sea serpent is now attracting attention. A venturesome reporter reaching over the rail protecting the monster from digital investigation, struck the back of the beast with his knuckles, and there was a hollow vibration sound such as might be produced by knocking on wood. There appeared to be a great deal of hollow mockery associated with the sea serpent.

Two gentlemen went to a spiritualist seance, says an exchange, and agreed to pay a guinea each if allowed to converse with departed friends. One called for the spirit of his sister Nelly, and it came out and spoke to him. The other asked for his uncle John, and was astonished at hearing his relative's voice in the darkened room. The first man never had a sister, and the other man's uncle was not dead.

President Legitime of Hayti is described by a press correspondent who recently interviewed him as "black as the ace of spades." He is a tall, finely formed man about 45 years old. His face is covered with a heavy black beard and moustache.
His manners are those of a refined and courteous gentleman. He was not dressed in military uniform at the interview, but wore a loose and ill-fitting suit of black broadcloth.
His whole bearing was easy and distinguished.

The Mail facetiously observes: There is something in a name, and John seems to be about as useful a one as a young Canadian can have.
John A. Macdonald, John Rose,
John S. D. Thompson, John Allen, John W. Dawson, and Richard John Cartwright have, all within recent years received favours from the crown in the shape of knighthoods, and it is probable that John A. Chapple, John H. Pope, John Carling, and John Joseph Caldwell Abbott will be added to the list of knights "ere long."

The agents for a certain kind of cough candy in New York distribute circulars on which is stated the following puzzle:—"What number can you take, and when you divide it by two, three, four, five or six you will have one over, but when divided by seven—nothing will remain?" The circular goes on to say that if a person cannot solve the puzzle he should buy a box of candy, when the agent will hand him the right number on a slip of paper.
This is not a bad puzzle to work on, whether you get any cough candy or not.

A very excellent suggestion has been made, which, if carried out, would tend to do away with much of the opposition to prison labor that is expressed by workmen.
It is that the prisoners should be kept at work upon diversified industries. Thus the shoe manufacturer would experience no tangible competition, and the foundryman would not have the somewhat just grounds for complaint which have been afforded him in the past. The proposed system would be beneficial in all save one aspect. It would prevent the prison labor from being so profitable as it is now. But as prisons should be conducted for the protection of the community and reformation of the criminal, such a consideration is of very little weight.
The various lines of industry would be adapted to the different intelligences of the convict, and when he left the prison the trade learned there would not be branded as a "state prison trade."

It appears, says an exchange, that the experiment of petticoat government in the municipality of Oka-loosa, Kansas, has turned out a great success. After an experience of six months under the benign and impartial way of the new regime the citizens, it is said, find reason to congratulate themselves on the step they took with fear and trembling when they elected to the council a woman mayor and five women councillors. Until the ladies made their appearance at the council board Okafoosa had been a singularly disorderly and immoral place. Now everything but churches, drug stores, and hotels, have to be closed from Saturday night till Monday morning, and the laws and ordinances are administered with strict impartiality, contractors' bribes have been demoralized and broken up, "dead-ends" banished, and the illegal sale of liquor stamped out.
Kansas is now willing to enter its petticoat government for a prize, and back it for money against any municipal government in the world.

Ill-fitting boots and shoes cause corns.
Holloway's Corn Cure is the article to use. Get a bottle at once and cure your corns.

FEATHER GIRLS

To the Number of 1000 Go on Strike at New York Against Lower Wages.

The United States will Charter a Merchant Steamship for Samoa.

Black Cod Banks Found in Abundance off the Coast of California.

FEATHER GIRLS STRIKE.
New York, Jan. 25.—The manufacturers have formed a combine to fight the feather girls' union and scale of wages. The girls will likely submit to their employer. All but those of the firms invited the girls this morning that they would return to the old rate of wages in these factories. The girls to the number of about 1000 went on strike, and will hold a large meeting this afternoon in the Ocean Union.

A MERCHANT CRUISER.
New York, Jan. 25.—A Washington special to the Herald says: "It is not unlikely that Secretary Whitney will charter one of the Pacific mail steamers at San Francisco for use in the Samoan matter, and it is understood that negotiations are now going on with superintendent Culley of New York and the secretary, in regard to securing one of the large steamers used in the China trade."

BLACK COD OFF SAN DIEGO.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—Shoals of black cod in abundance have been found by the U. S. fish commissioners steamer Albatross about a hundred miles off from San Diego and these are the first black cod found south of Puget Sound on the Pacific coast.

A NEWSPAPER CRISIS.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 25.—The sheriff has taken possession of the Tribune office, having been attached by the holder of a four thousand five hundred dollar note.

A WOMAN ON THE STUMP.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Mrs. Abigail Dunlap, of Oregon, addressed the senate committee on woman suffrage yesterday and urged an amendment to the constitution granting women the right to vote.

A WHARF COLLAPSES.
SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 25.—Thirty persons were thrown into the water by the collapsing of the Ocean Steamship Co.'s wharf last night. Three were drowned.

THE SAMOA AFFAIR.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Chairman Herbert, of the house naval committee, to-day replied to Secretary Whitney's letter on Samoa, in which he expresses the desire for prompt action by congress in giving the department all the financial and moral support required to protect American interests.

PASSENGER LIST.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—Passengers per str. Walla Walla for Victoria:
C. W. Ward, E. C. Isaac, Mrs. Drake and daughter, Mr. Drake, W. H. C.
Fowler, J. A. Butcher and wife, Miss N. Langdon, Miss E. Baldwin, and J.
B. McKinn.

ANOTHER SWITCHMEN'S STRIKE.
BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 25.—The New York, Chicago and St. Louis yards at East Buffalo presented a lively scene this morning. The union switchmen assembled in the vicinity of the yards in large numbers watching the efforts of yardmaster Thompson, and his "honorables" of two men with interest. Some one misplaced the switches last night in the yards causing much delay and confusion. Division Supt. Johnson and Trainmaster Schaefer, of Concord, came on here and succeeded in securing together 25 non-union men who were at work this morning. The switchmen remain firm and say they will carry their point even if it becomes necessary to declare a boycott against nickel plate freight as was done during the "O" strike.

The Lackawanna, Lehigh & West Shore Roads would be most seriously crippled by such a movement and are anxiously awaiting the issue of the trouble. The Switchmen's Mutual Aid Society numbers about four hundred men and is in a flourishing condition. Trouble is anticipated to-day unless the railway officials surrender.

HARRISON FAVORS HOME RULE.
BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 25.—The Newspapers this afternoon the address to Mr. Gladstone, contained in the testimonial album prepared by the exile John McBride of this city, in favor of home rule for Ireland, and to which President-elect Harrison affected his signature. In as much as it places the president-elect on record as favoring home rule for Ireland, the matter is likely to be the subject of considerable comment.

STREET CARS "TIED UP." BROOKLYN, Jan. 25.—Seven lines of street cars controlled by "Devon" William Richardson were tied up this morning. The line of travel extends through the heart of the city. Nearly 1,000 men are affected.

BLACK AND WHITE.
BALTIMORE, Jan. 25.—The U. S. district court is on an opinion dismissing the civil rights suit of a colored man, to-day, holds that where public opinion demands a separation of races, common carriers, etc., must accede to it to some extent, and they are not compelled to satisfy their business to combat it.

ONLY NINE A MILLION SHORT.
INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 25.—Joseph A.
Moore, of this city, general agent in Indiana and Ohio for the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co., made brief statements this afternoon saying his liability to the company is over half a million dollars and that he does not intend to run away or commit suicide.
He is behind in his accounts with several other companies, one of which is the Fireman's fund of California.

C. C. Jacobs, Buffalo, N. Y., says "Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil cured him of a bad case of piles of 8 years' standing, having tried almost every known remedy, besides two Buffalo Physicians, without relief; but the Oil cured him; he thinks it cannot be recommended too highly."
There being imitations on the market, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, customers will see that they get the genuine.

THE ROCK ON WHICH MANY A CONSTITUtion goes to pieces is Dyspepsia. The loss of vigor which this disease involves, the maddening which accompany it, or which are aggravated by it, the mental exhaustion of vital stamina. Its true specific is Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspepsia Cure, which likewise overcomes biliousness, female ailments, and those coupled with impurity of the blood.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

LATE DESPATCHES.

POINTE D'ENFER SISTERS.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 21.—A special from Mechanicville, Ala., says: The 17-year-old daughter of Joe Weeks (colored) forced four of her younger sisters to take poison. Two of them have died and the others suffered terribly. The girl admits the crime.

MRS. GOLD'S WILL.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The will of Helen Gould, wife of Jay Gould, was filed in the surrogate's office to-day.
The executors are Jay Gould and the deceased's brother, Dan. S. Miller, jr.
She bequeaths all her jewelry, wearing apparel and silverware to her two daughters, Helen C. and Anna Gould.
The will sets apart a fund of $30,000 for each of the children. The real and personal property is divided between the children, share and share alike.

A CRAZY PASTOR.
PATRICKSON, N. J., Jan. 21.—Rev. Mr.
Lockwood, pastor of the returned church at Fairfield, while suffering from acute dementia last night, made a horrible attempt to burn up his family. His wife and children, owing to his wild threats to kill them, barricaded themselves in a portion of the house. The madman then kindled a fire in the corner of each room. As doors and furniture blazed up the husband and father made threats to brain the members of his family if they attempted to escape. A neighbor, attracted by the flames, gave the alarm and men quickly gathered, secured the man and rescued the family just in time from being burned to death.

WRESTLING MATCH.
SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 21.—A wrestling match, catch-as-catch-can, between the Jap, Matsuda Sorkichi, and the Greek, Antonio Pierre, resulted in a victory for the latter after a terrible struggle in which the Jap was strangled so that blood flowed freely from his nostrils. He won the first bout. In the second he was strangled and downed. In the third, in spite of weakness, he struggled 70 minutes before the Greek succeeded in downing him. The crowd was exceedingly excited at the treatment accorded the Jap and there was nearly a riot at one time.

RAILROADING AND POLITICS.
BALTIMORE, Jan. 22.—Hon. James G. Blaine presided at the annual meeting of the West Virginia Central and Pittsburg railroad to-day, and caused some amusement by voting the proposals of Secretary Bayard. Hon. W. H.
Barnum resigned from the directorate.
Blaine told an Associated Press representative when asked, "Will you be our next secretary of state?" "That question could be better answered at Indianapolis."

VOYE OF TEXAS DEFEAT.
ST. LOUIS, Jan. 22.—A dispatch from Austin, Texas, referring to the blunder committed by the presidential electors of the state, in not signing the names on the envelopes containing the vote of Texas, said the consequent non-acceptance of it yesterday by Acting Vice-President Tamm, says: Gov.
Ross immediately telegraphed all the electors to meet at Austin at once and prepare another return. There is some chance of not being able to do this in time, as some of the electors live in remote parts of the state. If there is a delay on their part, or a loss of even two hours' time on the part of the messenger, the count will have to be made without Texas.

O'BRIEN ESCAPES.
DUBLIN, Jan. 24.—When the council for the crown had concluded his case against O'Brien, Mr. Timothy Henly, O'Brien's counsel, applied to the court for adjournment for Lord Salisbury and Mr. Balfour, whose speeches he said were similar to O'Brien's. The application was refused. The people in the court room then began to murmur, and the galleries were ordered to be cleared. The court officers proceeded to carry out the order when O'Brien cried out: "I'll clear out too," and started for the door. The magistrate shouted to stop him. Then ensued a fierce struggle. A constable grabbed O'Brien, and the people flocked to aid him. Finally, after a prolonged fight, O'Brien, by the people's aid reached the street, his coat nearly torn from his back. An immense crowd thereupon escorted him through the town in triumph. The police made a savage charge upon the people escorting O'Brien, but they were mercilessly. The crowd returned the attack with a fusillade of stones and used their sticks freely. O'Brien was wounded in the breast by a rifle stock, and scores of people were injured. The court hastily issued a warrant for O'Brien's arrest and then adjourned.

The police with fixed bayonets patrolled the streets until a late hour.
Twenty persons received wounds from bayonets and at least forty were clubbed by the police; some of the bayonet wounds are dangerous. It is not known where O'Brien is at present, and it is not expected he will appear in court to-morrow.

MR. PHELPS HONORED.
LONDON, Jan. 24.—The lord mayor of London tendered Mr. Phelps, the United States minister, a farewell banquet this evening at the Mansion house, at which 250 guests were present, including Lords Rosebery and Salisbury, Chief Justice Colclough and many leading and scientific men. The lord mayor proposed the toast to Mr.
Phelps, who was enthusiastically greeted when he arose to reply. Mr.
Phelps thanked the lord mayor and those present for their kindness and referred to the many kindnesses he had received during his sojourn in England.
He said that misunderstandings might arise between England and America, though both governments were anxious to avoid their occurrence, but all differences will be capable of a friendly solution. He said that he did not know who would be his successor, but he knew that he would be a fit and gentlemanly man who would be fit to stand as the medium of communication between the two countries and he was certain that England would give him a friendly welcome.

THE PARNELL COMMISSION.
LONDON, Jan. 24.—Before the Parnell commission to-day, Capt. Black traced various outrages in Ireland to the national league, which had been inspired, he said, by the inflated language of members of parliament, priests and other leaders of the league.
He said the league had practically assumed the government of the country.
An Irish inspector named Rogers deposed that he had found in the house of Anna O'Connor, the secretary of the ladies' land league of Athlone, a letter from Anna to Parnell in reference to the formation of a ladies branch of the league for the relief of evicted tenants, which O'Connor's agents disclosed the fact that expan-sives had been made for defence of prisoners charged with outrages. The counsel for the Times then proceeded to read extracts of speeches made by Mr. Parnell, and demanded that the entire speeches should be read and not extracts. Mr. Justice Hannen retreated the Times' counsel to shorten his readings.

The Victoria Times has the following fair remarks about this city, which we take pleasure in quoting: "The people of New Westminster seem determined not to let the grass grow under their feet. The strides made by the ambitious city on the banks of the Fraser during the past year or two have been remarkable, and there is every prospect of the time coming that is to witness still greater advancement. During the past year the navigation of the river by deep sea-going craft has been solved, and a railway scheme undertaken that when carried out must bring considerable prosperity to the city. It is true the people will have to pay pretty lively for their whistles, and those are not wanting who see the Royal City struggling along under a load too heavy for her to carry five years hence. Yet there is no certainty that these are not false prophets. The money is to be spent in improvements and substantial things of that kind once made cannot be removed at the caprice or whim of anyone. Once they are there all that remains to be done is to bring in the population and equalize the burden of the expense consequent upon them, for after all it must not be forgotten that values depend altogether upon population. If New Westminster can double her population in a few years by the proposed investment it will have paid her citizens handsomely. There is every prospect that she will do so. The energetic actions of the people have thus far created a new sentiment in favor of the city and inspired the outside world with confidence in her future."

A representative of the News-Advertiser interviewed Mr. V. Martinson, of New York, a C. P. R. railway director, at Vancouver the other day. Among other things Mr. Martinson told the News-Advertiser the following, which we reproduce as confirming what we have, in effect, pointed out several times in this paper: "There was one thing, however, which the government of British Columbia should do, and that was to spend more money in advertising the province to the world. If $100,000 was spent in that direction it would do a great deal towards making known to foreigners its resources, its favorable geographical situation for commerce and its mild climate. 'Nobody knows anything of it,' Mr. Martinson said. 'Speak of British Columbia outside of Canada, and they will ask you where it is.' He was very emphatic on that point, and repeated it several times in the course of his conversation, each time with more emphasis. British Columbia had a climate very much like that of southern Europe, and, if known, would attract a considerable population of those who so many of them die of consumption when emigrating to colder countries. The province didn't do enough in its own interests." Too much cannot be said to emphasize the above facts. The letters which we receive almost daily from all parts of the United States, asking for sample copies of THE COLUMBIAN, would, alone, convince us that this province, and this city particularly, are beginning to attract widespread attention, and that would-be immigrants are desirous of obtaining information about our climate, resources, etc. "Strike while the iron is hot," is a good motto, and a judicious and liberal advertising of the province and its various cities at this time would undoubtedly be a most profitable investment."

The World wants a new registry district established, with Vancouver as the center, embracing all the country north, with the municipalities of Delta and Richmond included. Part of the municipality of Richmond might be more conveniently served with a registry office at Vancouver, but the Delta would not, it being south of Westminster, and would necessitate travelling past the present registry office at this city in order to get to Vancouver. The salt water terminus would, no doubt, take the world if it could get it, and while we are not going to say anything against the proposed new registry office, we must decidedly object to the Delta municipality, being included in a new district with its centre at Vancouver, for the reasons stated above. To show how anxious Vancouver is to secure the registry district in question and increase her communications, with the agricultural districts, we quote the following from the article referred to in the World: "The job of transferring the titles from the records in New Westminster will be a costly affair, and involve a good deal of patient labor. It is not likely that the assembly, or the government, would expend an expenditure of about $10,000 whereupon to accomplish this work, unless a substantial reason of consideration was advanced for such a radical change, as this proposal unquestionably would be carried out. Let the government be approached on the subject, and its views ascertained. We are confident that an understanding can be arrived at whereby the wishes of this community, in regard to registration matters, can be fully satisfied. Should it be a sine qua non that part of the cost involved for transcribing titles be paid by the city of Vancouver—so long as the sum paid is a reasonable one—we are persuaded the bill would be paid cheerfully, and all classes acquiesce in the action of the council in this much-to-be-desired matter." Money is no object at all! Just show Vancouver a convenient slot where it can drop its nickels and pull out the sweet-meats, and it will wear the machine out in no time. A little more of this spirit, under proper control, would not hurt the royal city.

The Toronto Empire, in a good-humored and patriotic vein, thus reproduces the "blizzard" altogether either as a native or a naturalized acquirement of the Dominion. The Manitoba blizzards are not blizzards at all, it says, and we are greatly relieved at hearing this, for we had always supposed that they were. By the light thrown upon the subject by the Empire, it becomes quite clear that we were mistaken, and we now have a higher opinion of our common patrimony than ever. The Empire puts it in this way: "There are blizzards and blizzards. The kind which is copyrighted in Dakota and other western states, and is not allowed to circulate beyond the bounds of the republic, is the true blizzard. Others are base imitations of the real article. They are dubbed blizzards by ambitious communities spurred to a natural emulation by the district-displacers, of which the Dakotas are so fond, and which are included in the regular products of the country. Winnipeg thinks it had a blizzard the other day, but it hadn't. The high wind which prevailed there was undoubtedly a good thing of its kind—everything we have in Canada is first-class and warranted to bear inspection—but that it was a real blizzard, one of those hideous blasts which catch peaceful settlers up and dump them in neighboring counties, which suddenly grasp barns full of crops and carry them off to distant places, which, worse than all, destroy life and keep the law-abiding citizens within easy reach of a hole in the ground, that it was one of these convulsions of nature we cannot believe. For these reasons: Winnipeg stands to day just where it did day before yesterday; its people are attending to their business in the ordinary way; the houses remain where the owners built them; no Winnipegger is limping along the shore of Lake Superior on one leg looking for the other which he dropped at Rat Portage on his enforced journey through the clouds. The conditions at Winnipeg are evidently not those which follow the visitation of a blizzard. Reluctantly we must tell Winnipeggers that their atmospheric disturbance was a gale, a good stiff gale, it may be, strong enough to entail a little muscular resistance and to summon up the warm blood to healthy cheeks, but that was all. The attempt to locate the death-dealing blizzard in our country is not a success." After a few years' experience of the balmy seasons of British Columbia, even the Manitoba zephyr would strike one as a pretty formidable affair. We would advise all who are troubled with climatic scruples to pay this province a visit before locating elsewhere. Here, the nearest genuine or spurious—is to read about them in telegraphic despatches from less favored localities. British Columbia's climate is a matter that is made little of, among her other numerous resources, but when it comes to be more generally understood and appreciated, it will prove a most valuable asset.
