NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Two hundred and twenty-five pounds sterling, say, $1,100, was paid in London recently for au egg shell. It had been laid by a great auk, a bird now extinct, but it was an egg shell, and nothing more, all the same, What fools we mortals be!

There appears to be something more in the question of preserving our salmon supply than is quite understood as yet. News comes from Skeena that all the canneries have a full pack, and we are told that the waters of the gulf off the Fraser, are alive with fish—yet our boats rarely make two good hauls consecutively. The people should insist upon having this matter thoroughly looked into.

A French wine-grower has been tried for manslaughter. A large number of persons to whom he had supplied wine were taken sick with symptoms of poisoning, and eleven of them died, the post-mortem examination showing that they had been poisoned with arsenic. The defence was that arsenic had been used in the vineyard, two years ago, to destroy phylloxera, and must have been absorbed by the vines.

They came within a little of having an Enoch Arden case in Dublin the other day. Eight years ago, a young couple—both fairly well off—got married, and seemed to be launched upon the matrimonial sea under most favorable circumstances. But a few hours after the wedding, while the merry-making was still in progress, the bridegroom got huffed about something, left the company, took passage for Liverpool, and disappeared. Years passed, and the bride of an hour or two, concluding that her husband must be dead, resolved to try another. All arrangements were made, even the invitations issued, when No. 1 suddenly turned up. With better luck than he deserved, his wife forgave him—perhaps the fact that he had made a lot of money during his absence had something to do with it; and it is to be presumed that they will live now in peace and felicity.

Here is some further interesting information about that wonderful country, Japan:—Japan is par excellence the country of rapid progress. The statistics for the past year show some remarkable results, which may be briefly summarized. A trade of $95,000,000 comprres with one of $51,000,000 just ten years ago. The nine miles of railway laid down in 1877, is represented by 151 miles built during the past year. Eleven railway companies were started in the course of the year 1887, which also gave birth io 111 large industrial companies in three cities alone. Two important naval stations have been formed and are being fortified, and the first modern waterworks in the empire were completed in October last. With the exception of these last works, everything has been done by native skill and native capital alone. That is not a bad record for a country where the feudal system was in full swing twenty-five years ago.

PLANTING WITHOUT BATTERIES.—By the hydroplastic process of M.A. Levy thin coats of metal are deposited upon other metals without the use of batteries or dynamos. It depends upon a double decomposition, and permits of the electrolysis of all metals. The article to be coated is suspended by a zinc or iron wire in a solution of a suitable salt—as chloride of nickel for an iron or copper object—when the metal is deposited from the solution and the wire is attacked and dissolved.

THE ORIGIN OF POTTERY.—Grant Allen suggests that the evolution of pottery may be traced to the gourds of various forms used by the primitive savages for containing water. The gourds were probably smeared with wet clay to protect them when held over the camp-fire, as is still done by savages, and the durable coating thus produced, outlasting the inner shell, gave the first accidental lesson in molding dishes from natural objects.

Mr. Thomas Ballard, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "I have been afflicted for nearly a year with that most-to-be-dreaded disease Dyspepsia, and at times worn out with pain and want of sleep, and after trying almost everything recommended, I tried one box of Parmelee's Valuable Pills. I am now nearly well, and believe they will cure me. I would not be without them for any money."

LAST NIGHT'S DESPATCHES.

WESTMINSTER-QUEBEC.

QUEBEC, July 31.—On Saturday a successful conversation over the Canadian Pacific direct wire was carried on between J. G. Ross in this city through the local manager of the company and New Westminster, a distance of over 3000 miles. The rapid strides in telegraphy made by this new company are considered marvelous here.

DEWDNEY APPOINTED.

OTTAWA, July 31.—The appointments of the Hon. Edgar Dewdney, ex-Lieutenant-Governor of the North-West, and Mr. John G. Haggart, M. P., for South Lanark, as minister of the interior and superintendent-general of Indian affairs and postmaster-general respectively are announced.

RADICAL AND HOME-RULER.

LONDON, July 31.—Last night's proceedings in the house of commons have aroused feelings of deprecation in the minds of many Liberals at Mr. Parnell's accusations against Mr. Chamberland. This feeling is not created because of any belief on the part of the allies of the home rule party that Mr. Chamberlain was unjustly accused, since every one of them admits that the Irish leader told the truth; but a large number of these deplore the breach of confidence evinced by Mr. Parnell's remarks. They, however, admit that Mr. Parnell was excusably hasty, having been baited by the malignant ignorance of his adversary beyond the limit of patient endurance. Mr. Chamberlain's attempt to ignore the charge against him, which Mr. Parnell so plainly laid down, is not generally held to be sufficient, since the Birmingham radical leader has too often been brought to book for breaches of faith.

THE INDIAN WAR.

TUSCON, July 31.—General Howard has notified all post commanders of the division of the Pacific to promptly intercept all Indian raiding parties in case of a serious outbreak near the San Carlos reservation. The adjutant-general to-day received a despatch from Lieutenant-Colonel Snyder at San Carlos stating that Capt. Lee reports that the struggle was the result of a quarrel among the Indians themselves. The Indians were advised to go to their grazing grounds and had done so. Captain Lee has returned to San Carlos and believes that the Indian wanted can be arrested in a few days. The cattle here are on grazing ground and undisturbed.

PROTEST FROM ORANGEMEN.

KINGSTON, July 31.—Some members of the Orange Grand Lodge of North America intend at the meeting this year to introduce a resolution calling on Sir John Macdonald to disallow the Jesuit endowment bill passed by Mr. Mercier's government. The Orangemen add that in any other civilized country the Jesuit bill would be vetoed on public grounds. The Orangemen in this district are determined to make a stand and go as far as to say that if the grand lodge is afraid to lift up its voice against the endowment of the Jesuits in Canada, the order may as well disband.

TO-DAY'S DESPATCHES.

A WARNING TO FRANCE.

BERLIN, Aug. 1.—It is reported here that Crispi, the Italian premier, declared last night that any attempt on the part of France to seize Tripoli would lead to an immediate conflict.

YOUTHFUL MURDERERS.

TUSCON, Ariz., Aug. 1.—Sheriff Shaw to-day brought in the two Papago Indians who murdered J. D. Ford two months ago near Humboldt camp. The murderers are each but sixteen years old and confess the deed, saying they wanted his provisions and killed him to get them.

ADVANCING WAGES

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 1.—Claus Spreckles said to-day that the Lebanon Manufacturing Co., to whom he had awarded a contract of 20,000 tons of castings for his new sugar refinery in this city, had advanced wages from five to fifteen per cent.

THE VANDALEUR EVICTIONS.

DUBLIN, Aug 1.—Evictions from the Vandaleur estate were resumed to-day. Thomas Birmingham and family with a long pole kept the evictors at bay for some time with the assistance of lime and boiling water. Finally the police made an assault upon Birmingham's house with battering-rams and effected an entrance. A desperate fight ensued inside, Birmingham being finally overpowered and taken out severely wounded. He and three others were arrested. The other evictions took place quietly.

SHIPPING.

MORE NONSENSE.

OTTAWA, Aug. 1.—General Middleton and his staff are ready to proceed to British Columbia to take command of the military expedition against the Indians of the Skeena river, but they await advices from advance parties as to the nature of the outbreak. The difficulty as to whether the Dominion or British Columbia government should bear the expense of putting down the rebellion has not yet been settled.

EXCESSIVE HEAT.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 1.—Seven deaths have occurred in this city in the past 24 hours as the result of excessive heat. The temperature at 10 o'clock this morning was 97°.

A DISTINGUISHED OFFICER.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—General Joseph E. Johnston, the most distinguished surviving officer in the confederate army, at present U. S. commissioner of Pacific railroads, has arrived in this city on his annual inspection of the subsidized railroads.

MURDERED HIS BROTHER.

VIRGINIA, Nev., Aug. 1.—The case of John L. Black, the wealthy real estate owner who murdered his brother Samuel a few months ago, was given to the jury 9.30 last night and they are still out this morning with no prospect of agreeing.

THE APACHE WAR.

TUCSON, Ariz., Aug. 1.—Advices from San Carlos are to the effect that the Indian trouble is simply a feud between two bands, aggravated by a disposition to object to the strict discipline of Capt. Bullis, their new acting agent. No serious consequences are feared by citizens, for little or no harm can be done as Gen. Miles has the troops of the department so well disciplined for active service that regenades could not get far from the reservation before being captured or destroyed.

BOILER EXPLODES

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1.—A locomotive boiler on the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad exploded last night at Columbia station. The engineer and fireman were instantly killed and five passengers terribly scalded. One will die.

AUSTRALIAN EXHIBITION OPENED.

BRUTAL TREATMENT.

MARYSVILLE, Cal., Aug. 1.—News reached the city to-day from Linda township township, 7 miles north of here, of the brutal treatment of a Chinaman by several of his countrymen working in a Chinese garden, which resulted in his death. The Chinaman was accused by his boss with theft of a sum of money, and when he denied the charge both his wrists were tied with a rope and he was strung up for 24 hours. He was then cut down and dragged along the levee and left unconscious and terribly injured unt death relieved him of his suffering.

THROUGH A BRIDGE.

SILVER CREEK, N. Y., Aug. 1.—The east bound Nickle Plate freight crashed through a trestle near here early this morning. Eight loaded cars were smashed to splinters, and Brakeman Phillips of Conneaught, is injured and cannot recover.

DE LESSEPS' REPORT.

PARIS, Aug. 1.—De Lesseps in the report he presented at the meeting of the Panama Canal Co. to-day, denounces what he terms the disgraceful manœuvers of the Ruin Co. and appeals to his countrymen to support the company by taking the lottery bonds.

MRS. CLEVELAND.

NEW BEDFORD, Aug. 1.—Mrs. Cleveland leaves this afternoon on a special train for Fall river where she will take boat for New York, from which place she will proceed direct to Washington. To-day Mrs. Cleveland spent the forenoon receiving callers and writing autographs to be sold at a social club fair to be held here to-morrow.

THINKS STANLEY SAFE.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Dr. Schweinfurth believes Stanley is in the ill-defined district of Bahngazell, from which there are two available routes to Wadelai. Stanley, he thinks, is safe unless his supply of ammunition is exhausted.

AFTER THE C.P.R.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—The Northern Pacific is making an effort to secure a share of the tea traffic from the Pacific to the Atlantic coast, which has of late been monopolized to a great extent by the Canadian Pacific. Yesterday the first shipment of sixteen carloads arrived at Chicago on its way to New York. The tea was received at Portland Oregon, by the Northern Pacific, transferred to the Burlington & Northern at St. Paul and on its arrival here was taken eastward over the Chicago & Atlantic which connects with the Erie for New York. The object is to overcome the Canadian Pacific's record in time of transportation from ocean to ocean. The train made remarkably fast time over the initial lines of the route and it is scheduled to run at about forty miles an hour from Chicago to New York. Much interest attaches to this competition as the result is destined to have an important bearing on transcontinental traffic. If it is shown that better and quicker service is given by the new route than by the Canadian Pacific there is now no doubt that much of the business now held by the foreign line will be captured by the Northern Pacific and shipped eastbound via Chicago.

Daily British Columbian

Wednesday Evening, Aug. 1, 1888.

Our advices from China the other day stated that cholera was doing its dread work to some extent in Hong Kong and other parts of China frequented by the commerce of the civilized world. Recent despatches contained the information that the health authorities of San Francisco had taken proper steps to establish effective quarantine regulations in regard to vessels arriving at that port from China. Such a measure would be dictated by no more than ordinary prudence, and it is to be hoped that the authorities at Vancouver, where the China steamers call every few weeks, will take the the same wise precaution. British Columbia is, and has always been noted for being, a very healthy country, but experience has demonstrated that cholera is no respecter of climates—except that it does not thrive well in extreme cold, or even in sharp frosty weather. We have plently of balmy summer weather, however, and some very congenial pestilent spots, which would afford quite a fair field for the deadly scourge if once its insiduous germs were imported from the flowery kingdom in a shipload of dirty celestials, landed at Vancouver, and distributed through the province. Cholera would be a novel experience for us altogether, but we venture to say that no one is prepared to pay the price for the sake of the novelty. Considering that it is not certain that we may not have a call from this unwelcome visitant, it would not be a bad idea for our board of health, if their olfactories can stand the test, to investigate some of the reeking and mal-odorous Chinese quarters on Front street, as well as the swamp locality. Such an investigation might render some trouble and expense necessary; but it might pay—cholera or no cholera.

There is no better proof that political parties are destitute of fixed principles than the change that has occurred in American politics with respect to the whiskey business. The Republicans were formerly the real prohibition party, and the Democrats were the contrary. Now it is the reverse. Good men of both parties are sick of the machine, and hence the third party coming out for prohibition. The same causes are producing the same effects in our own Dominion, but the prohibition party in the states is in advance of the same party in Canada. They have their own candidates, and run a man for president every time, with the result of a constantly increasing vote. Although they do not expect to carry the elections for some years yet, the actual strength of temperance sentiment throughout the land is shown by this means, and in time the two great rival parties, for selfish reasons, if for no other, will be only too eager to incorporate a solid prohibition plank into their respective platforms. When that time comes, and it may not be very long now, the party that first honestly recognizes the temperance sentiment of the country, and makes a sincere attempt to comply with its demands, will go in ahead by several lengths. Sam Jones, a sort of free lance in the pulpit, in a sermon in a Methodist church in Detroit recently, touched upon American politics. After saying that on the whiskey question Canadians were no better than the residents of the states, he caused something of a sensation by declaring: "Now, I'll tell you, I think we are running the last political combat on the lines we have been running them on. It is between the Republicans and Democrats, this contest, and it is the last race the Republicans will make in America. The Democrats are going in overwhelming. Four years from now we will break up the solid south. The issue then will be God or no God, drunkenness or sobriety, Sabbath or no Sabbath, Heaven or hell. That will be the issue. Then we will wipe up the ground with the Democratic party and let God rule America from that time forth."

It was the intention of the Dominion authorities until recently to place a steamer and other means at the disposal of the fisheries inspector of this province for the purpose of making an official survey and investigation this season of the sea fisheries of British Columbia. This has been postponed from time to time, on account, it was said, of the government steamer being retained for service in the Skeena Indian trouble. Now that the affair is virtually over, there would appear to be no pretext for further delay; but it is stated that the project has been given up for this year altogether. It is to be hoped that the Dominion government will not indulge in any mistaken laxity or false economy in placing these important and valuable coast fisheries upon a workable basis, so that a large and flourishing industry may be built up as soon as possible in cod, halibut, and other products of these waters. Eastern fishermen of the United States are not slow to recognize and take due (and undue) advantage of the rich fishing grounds of the North Pacific coast. It would appear that halibut are becoming scarce on the Atlantic coast, and the Gloucester fishermen are looking toward this coast for operations in the immediate future. Captain Solomon Jacobs, formerly of Gloucester, who shipped 20,000 pounds of fresh halibut from Seattle, W.T., to New York, in June last, returned a few weeks ago to the Atlantic coast, where he has been giving a most glowing account of the possibilities of the Pacific fisheries. He has two clipper schooners now engaged in the North Pacific and is meeting with excellent success. According to Capt. Jacobs the inshore waters of the North Pacific teem with halibut, and it is only a matter of a couple of days' fishing to load up a vessel. Writing on this subject recently, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer says: "This should be an opening for many of our eastern fishermen who find their own grounds pretty thoroughly fished out, and who must find new grounds or abandon their occupation. There will be another advantage in transferring the fishing fleet to this coast besides the plentifulness of fish, and that will be permitting the supply on the eastern coast to increase. Fish multiply with wonderful rapidity if permitted so to do, and by leaving the Atlantic halibut grounds unmolested for a very few years the fisheries there will resume their pristine condition of plenty. In view of the possible transfer of a considerable portion of the halibut fishing industry to this coast, the present trip of the Albatross to the North Pacific will be of almost inestimable value. She will make a thorough and scientific investigation of the subject of the North Pacific fisheries, and her report will be a guide to our fishermen which they will use to good advantage. We have supplied the local market with codfish for some time, but little attention, comparatively, has been paid to halibut fishing. It may be that, under the stimulus of Gloucester fishermen's competition, our own fishermen may go into halibut fishing, and make that, as well as cod fishing, an important branch of the maritime business of this port. The Gloucester fishermen with the fleet schooners will be welcome, and if they spur up our fishermen to rivalry, so much the better." It will be seen by the above extract that our American brethren are thoroughly alive to the fact that there are mines of wealth in the North Pacific coast fisheries. They will have their official surveys completed, their fisheries in full blast, and a thorough system of encroachment upon our fisheries (very probably) established, before the Dominion authorities have lent their tardy and reluctant assistance to the development of our rich sea heritage.

Your Children

Are constantly exposed to danger from Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, and diseases peculiar to the throat and lungs. For such ailments, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, promptly administered, affords speedy relief and cure.

As a remedy for Whooping Cough, with which many of our children were afflicted, we used, during the past winter, with much satisfaction, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. For this affection, we consider this preparation the most efficacious of all the medicines which have come to our knowledge.—Mary Parkhurst, Preceptress, Home for Little Wanderers, Doncaster, Md.

My children have been peculiarly subject to attacks of Croup, and I failed to find any effective remedy until I commenced administering Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. This preparation relieves the difficulty of breathing and invariably cures the complaint.—David G. Starks, Chatham, Columbia Co., N. Y.

I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for many years, and have found it especially valuable in Whooping Cough. This medicine allays all irritation, prevents inflammation from extending to the lungs, and quickly subdues any tendency to Lung Complaint. —J. B. Wellington, Plainville, Mich.

I find no medicine so effective, for Croup and Whooping Cough, as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It saved the life of my little boy, only six months old, carrying him safely through the worst case of Whooping Cough I ever saw.—Jane Malone, Piney Flats, Tenn. ††

SEVENTEETH CENTURY COOKING.

One of the Swell Dinners of the Middle Ages Described.

In a general way cooking among the aristocratic and wealthy has undergone many manifest changes during the last two centuries.

Our most popular caterers would be likely to stand amazed if they could be for a brief hour transplanted into the sixteenth century to witness one of the swell banquets of that period.

Then princely tables were arranged with an eye single to splendor. Notwithstanding this they used to have delicious things to eat. Moreover, their table manners of that age must have been superior to ours in many respects, for one was required to possess a sort of intuitive knowledge of the many dishes prepared simply for show's sake—to be seen not eaten.

Let us single out for illustration the elaborate menu of a dinner given after the funeral of Duke Albrecht IV. of Bavaria in 1509, at the royal palace in Munich.

The show dishes represented the seven ages of the world, commencing with that notorious couple, Mr. Adam and Miss Eve. Between the twain stood a green tree, and around it was coiled a very snake-looking serpent, with a tempting apple in its mouth, its head lowered before Miss Eve. On the side of this quaint-looking dish were confections of sugar and almonds, which were eaten.

The second dish was a boiled pig's head. The third consisted of boiled meat with capons, fowl and smoked fish. The fourth was a figure depicting the second age of the world, viz., Noah's Ark, surrounded with wafers baked in sugar. Hot salmon and graylings composed the fifth course.

The next dish brought on the table was garnished cabbage. The seventh course represented the third age of the world, that is to say, Abraham's sacrifice, including a town made out of sugar and almonds.

The eighth dish was a high transparent jelly, disclosing within pickled fish. The ninth was fresh cooked and pickled game. The tenth, representing the fourth age—David slaying Goliah—was encircled with sweet wafers which one now ancient chronicler hints were nibbled at.

The eleventh dish was composed of vegetables. The twelfth pickled sturgeon. The thirteenth showed the fifth age—the towers of Babylon, with houses in the background rising out of a vegetable concoction. The fourteenth course was pickled bird pie. The fifteenth was a leg of mutton.

Course No. 16 represented the sixth age—the birth of Christ; Mary, with the child, Joseph, the manger, &c., were all depicted out of white marchpane.

The nineteenth symbolized the seventh age by a conception of doomsday, with the Saviour sitting under a rainbow, the Virgin on his right and on his left St. John in a kneeling position.

The twentieth course consisted of pickled carp and shad fish. The twenty-first, roast pheasant, woodcock and partridges.

The twenty-second course represented the funeral of Duke Albrecht, or rather his tomb in the Church of Our Lady, decorated with flags and banners of the kingdom, surmounted by the recumbent image of the Duke holding a banner in one hand and a drawn sword in the other.

The twenty-third course, coming late in the evening, was a cake in the shape of an oven, from which, when it was cut open, flew forth living birds.

HOW TO CATCH SNAKES.

The Best Way of Taking Them for Preservation as Specimens.

The best method I have found for capturing snakes, except the large black ones, is the following.

When you see one that you want, endeavor, by all possible means, to cover him with your net. Then grasp his neck between the thumb and forefinger of your gloved hand and put him into one of the tin cans.

On returning home saturate a small sponge with chloroform, which thrust into the can with your snake. You can do this in a small room to prevent the snake's escape.

In the course of a quarter of an hour the snake may be taken from the can and arranged in a bottle, which is then to be filled with alcohol and tightly corked, and your specimen is ready for the museum.

On one of these hunts a lady who was searching for botanical specimens happened to come along just as I was putting a snake into one of the tin cans.

She inquired what I was going to do with it, and I said, "Preserve it;" whereupon she asked, "Do they make good preserves?"

Goethe kept a pet snake which he took from the chimney corner and fondled every night, which shows that he was partial to these "noxious reptiles," and Dr. McCook says the snake is the most beautiful animal in creation. I don't know but I agree with him.—Swiss Cross.

Juvenile Dignity.

He was greatly interested in the swan boats in which the children ride upon the pond, and watched them for a long time, but did not ask his mother if he might ride, too.

On returning home his mother asked him if he didn't want a boat ride when he was in the garden.

"Of course I did," was his reply; "but I didn't think it necessary to say so."

He was given a ride that very afternoon.—Boston Times.

Good for the Teacher.

There is a law forbidding school teachers the privilege of getting drunk.

This is a good law. Teachers who cannot control themselves cannot expect to command the respect of their pupils for any great length of time.

Besides this there is great danger of their having their certificates cancelled, which would be a public disgrace.—San Augustine (Tex.) News.

A Great Man.

"Beg pardon, sir," said the passenger on the front seat, turning round to speak to the man on the seat behind him, "but I must have met you somewhere. Your face is strangely familiar."

"You have probably seen my portrait in most of the papers," replied the man, with the calm dignity of conscious superiority, "I am the inventor of the celebrated McSlatherson $3 shoe."

A MAN PROUD OF HIS BABY.

There was a baby on board the train from Pittsburgh to Wheeling.

It was a baby with a big B.

The baby had its mother along.

And its papa.

Likewise its grandfather.

And it needed a few hundred more relatives.

The baby was very good for nine miles and a half.

Its papa was so proud of it. He gazed complacently around the car as though he would say:

"That's my baby! Don't you all envy me?"

Its mamma shared its papa's pride.

And its grandpa absorbed what was left.

Presently the baby improvised a circus.

It howled.

Then it yelled.

Then it howled and yelled some more.

And refused to be comforted.

And of its mamma.

And of its grandpa.

And its grandpa escaped to the smoking car.

The baby's papa then seized the baby, declared his intention of throwing it off the back platform and on the adjacent landscape, and started for the rear of the car.

The baby's mamma evidently placed no confidence in the threat of the baby's papa. She leaned back with a sigh of relief and ate a banana.

But there was a desperate, dangerous light in papa's eyes, as he picked his way between jerks of the car.

He was gone about five minutes. He returned alone. The desperate light was gone from his eyes and he looked sheepish.

As soon as the baby's mamma saw him she detected the baby's absence.

She detected the guilty look he brought back with him.

And she remembered his threat.

He had said he would hurl his offspring from the rear platform!

Mamma's face blanched. She sprang up excitedly.

"The baby!" she gasped. "Where is the baby?"

"I—I—," began the papa again.

He certainly looked guilty. The passengers gathered around to prevent the escape of the monster—the man who threw his first born from a rapidly moving railway car.

"Oh, John Henry," shrieked the poor mother, "where is my baby?"

This time she waited for a reply, and he confessed.

"I left it with a lady in the back seat, who said she could quiet it."

Silence reigned for three minutes, and nothing was heard but the mocking rails of the track.

Then the baby broke loose again.—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

A VAPOR BATH IN CAMP.

In 1860 I started from the Comstock on a prospecting expedition. The first day we traveled about thirty miles, and camped on the Carson River below Fort Churchill.

It was my luck to have been mounted on a bucking mustang. I had been pitched over his head and over his tail, and had besides gone off once or twice on side excursions.

I had not been on a horse before for years, and the constant jolting I received was about as bone breaking as my tumbles among the rocks. I was sore from the crown of my head to the soles of my feet.

I feared I would not be able to mount my mustang the next morning. I therefore determined to drive the pain out by means of a hot bath.

I took a shovel and levelled a space of ground on the bank of the river about six feet long and three feet wide. I then gathered some dry cottonwood and willow poles, brush, and such other fuel as I could find, and built a fire on the cleared patch of ground.

When the fire had burned down and the bed coals left had begun to die out, I raked all off down to the ground. I then dug up the ground to the depth of two or three inches, throwing out all cobblestones and sticks, when I levelled it all down and spread on it one of my blankets. I then covered myself with the other blanket, tucking in both head and heels.

A hotter bath I never experienced. A sort of dry vapor poured up out of the ground that almost cooked me. I poured up through the blanket in a thousand streams and had a strong flavor of mother earth.

I stood the heat an hour or two, then was obliged to remove to cooler quarters, when I cooled down by degrees in order not to take cold.

The next morning I awoke without a single pain or ache and as limber as an eel."

Bad for the Dean.

A good story is told of Dean Burgon, who, on a certain occasion not long ago, was expatiating on the nature of man. He pointed out that one great distinction between human beings and the lower animals consisted in the capacity for progress.

"Man," exclaimed the Dean, warming to his theme, "is a progressive being; other creatures are stationary. Think, for example, of the ass! Always and everywhere it is the same creature, and you never saw a more perfect ass than you see at the present moment."—Pall Mall Gazette.

This Terrestrial Ball.

Whatever possessed any human being to call his mother earth "this terrestrial ball?"

It reminds us of an old preacher of very limited learning who had been presented with a copy of an unabridged dictionary.

This bonanza soon made itself felt in the hitherto very simple ministrations of the good broiler, and in a prayer he asked the Lord to "look down in mercy and bless all the dwellers upon this terrene and sublunary sphere."—Christian Inquirer.

A Spectacled Donkey.

A ragpicker in Hagen, Rhine Prussia, owns a donkey, which, it is safe to say, has not its equal in the world. The animal, after many years' service, has grown shortsighted, and in consequence rather unfit for work. The poor man, being unable to buy a substitute, had a pair of spectacles made for "long ears," which, to the great amusement of the inhabitants, has resumed its wonted rounds proudly wearing its "specs."—[Paris American Register.

Giving but Still Keeping.

Funny, isn't it, that after a man has once given his word he should try so hard to keep it?—St. Albans Messenger.

Constipation

Is a universal and most troublesome disorder. It causes Headache, Mental Depression, impairs the Sight and Hearing, destroys the Appetite, and, when long continued, causes Enlargement of the Liver, Inflammation of the Bowels, and Piles. Constipation is speedily cured by Ayer's Pills.

For a number of months I was troubled with Costiveness, in consequence of which I suffered from Loss of Appetite, Dyspepsia, and a disordered liver. My eyes also troubled me. I was compelled to wear a shade over them, and, at times, was unable to bear exposure to the light. I was entirely three boxes of Ayer's Pills. I have no hesitation in pronouncing this medicine to be the best cathartic ever made.—James Eccles, Poland, Ohio.

I suffered from Constipation, and, consequently, from Headache, Indigestion, and Piles, for years. Ayer's Pills, which I took at the suggestion of a friend, have given me effectual relief. I commenced taking this remedy two months ago, and am now free from Constipation, the removal of which has caused my other troubles to disappear, and greatly improved my general health.—W. Keeler, Amherst, Mass.

I suffered from Constipation, which assumed such an obstinate form that I feared a stoppage of the bowels. Two boxes of Ayer's Pills cured me, completely.—D. Burke, Saco, Me. ††

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS THIS DAY.

Boot & Shoe Store....A. B. Wintemute
Wanted.....McDonald Bros
Space Reserved.....P. Peebles

Daily British Columbian

Wednesday Evening, Aug. 1, 1888.

A refreshing shower of rain fell this afternoon.

Among the new advertisements to-day will be found A. B. Wintemute's boot and shoe business.

P. Peebles has a blank space in the COLUMBIAN to-night; he intends to astonish the natives in a few days.

The str. Dunsmuir cleared for Nanaimo this morning with a full load of freight, ex-C. P. R., and 10 passengers.

The str. Rithet cleared for Victoria this morning with 30 passengers, 30 tons of flour and a large quantity of farm produce.

The str. Gladys arrived down from Chilliwhack this afternoon with 15 passengers and 10 tons of potatoes and other vegetables.

The season for grouse, quail and other game birds and deer opens on September 1st. Wild duck and other water fowl are now in season.

The Vancouver Base Ball Club has decided not to play Westminster for the silver cup presented by Mr. Harry Cole of the Greyhound hotel.

The framework of the new steeple for the Methodist Church has been erected. When finished it promises to have a very imposing appearance.

The str. Richmond lost her rudder yesterday afternoon while making the trip from the North Arm to this city. She was picked up by a small river steamer and towed to port.

The funeral of the late H. Roxbury took place this afternoon to the Masonic cemetery, and was attended by many friends of the deceased. Rev. Mr. Scouler conducted the services.

The remedy which most successfully combats malarial disorders, is Ayer's Ague Cure. It is a purely vegetable compound, and contains neither quinine nor any other dangerous ingredient. Warranted to cure chills and fever.

Twenty-five mules from Kamloops, consigned to Dunsmuir & Sons, Wellington, were taken to Nanaimo to-day by the str. Dunsmuir. They will be used for hauling the coal cars in the Wellington mines.

Reports from Chilliwhack say that hay, grain and root crops are the best ever known, and the farmers are busy from daylight to dark cutting and saving the harvest. The fruit crop is also very promising, and unless something unexpected happens the amount for export will be very large.

Through some unexplained cause our arrangements with a member of the rifle team to send us a report of the matches shot at Victoria to-day, have not been carried out. Other arrangements will be made to-morrow and if possible our readers will be furnished with the result of each day's shooting.

After many delays and a great deal of pressure on the Dominion government, Capt. Grant, of the snag-boat Samson, has at last received instructions to proceed to Harrison River and drive a row of piles necessary to the improvement of that river. This morning the Samson left to perform this work, which is not of a very formidable character.

Hon. Edgar Dewdney's appointment as minister of the interior was the subject of much comment round town today. Being an old British Columbian and well known throughout the province the appointment is very satisfactory to the people generally, and as far as this portion of the province is concerned the choice of the government is very popular.

The run of sockeyes is gradually growing less and packers have given up all hope of a fair pack for this season. This is known as an "off year," and though a few packers expected a big run the majority were exceedingly doubtful of any such luck. The run of cohoes may help the canners out if it is as good as last year, but experienced fishermen say that when the sockeye run is bad the cohoe run is likewise. Others say there is no particular rule governing the cohoe run and they are quite liable to be numerous this year.

Northern Salmon Pack.

The following are the total packs of the various northern canneries up to date: B. A. P. Co., Skeena, 17,000 cases; Inverness, Skeena, 16,000 cases; Balmoral, Skeena, 9,000; Cunningham's, Skeena, 16,000; Windsor, Skeena, 14,000; A. J. McLellan, Naas, 8,000; Cowan & Shaw, Rivers Inlet, 5,000; Alert Bay Canning Co., 3,000; Rivers Inlet Canning Co., 7,000. Total for northern canneries, 95,000. Barrelled salmon: H. B. Co., 2,300 bbls.; Scandinavian Packing Co., 500; A. J. McLean, Naas River.

The Sardonyx.

The steamer Sardonyx cleared to day for Victoria, Capt. John Irving in command. The Sardonyx has been laid up for some time, there being no particular use she could be put to since the Premier took the Vancouver-Seattle route. It is rumored she has been chartered by Dunsmuir & Sons to take the place of the tug Alexander while the latter is undergoing some necessary repairs. The Sardonyx, though not a fast vessel is well adapted for towage purposes, as she is a very strong and seaworthy vessel.

The Southern Railway.

Word has been received from C. M. Sheafe & Co. that they are ready to commence work on the Southern railway the day the bonus by-laws are carried. From this it is evident Westminster will be feeling the benefit of the new road within a couple of weeks. Engineers have been at work for the past week definitely locating the line, and the work may be said to be completed and in readiness for the contractors. A week from to day the bonus by-laws will be carried, and from that date will commence a new era of prosperity for the royal city.

I. O. G. T. Pic-nic.

The pic-nic held to-day at Mr. F. McCleery's ranch on the North Arm, under the auspices of the Independent Order of Good Templars was largely patronized by people from this city. The pic-nickers were conveyed to the grounds on the steamer Richmond, which craft was packed to the utmost by members of the order, the fair sex, as usual, predominating. The pic-nic will bring together a large number of Good Templars as the Vancouver, Lulu Island and Richmond lodges will all be present. The day was spent in various ways and speech-making occupied a portion of the afternoon.

"Speedy Trials Act."

His Lordship Mr. Justice McCreight rendered the following sentences yesterday in the cases which came before him under the "Speedy Trials Act:"

George Robinson, found guilty of breaking jail at Vancouver, two months in jail with hard labor. His lordship said the fault lay chiefly with the Vancouver police, and the man was evidently the worse of liquor when he broke jail.

Ah Chung, found guilty of wounding and cutting with intent to do bodily harm, two years in penitentiary.

Improvements for the Dunsmuir.

The good steamer Robt. Dunsmuir, which has been running steadily for 5 years, will, after the next trip, be taken to Victoria to undergo a transformation from a side-wheeler to a twin-screw propeller. For some months past Capt. Rogers has been making arrangements for new machinery, and, every detail being completed and in readiness, the present was considered the most suitable time for laying the Dunsmuir up. The Albion Iron Works, Victoria, have completed a pair of compound engines which will take the place of the engine in her at present. She will also be furnished with twin screws, which with the double engines will make the Dunsmuir one of the strongest crafts in British Columbia waters. The time necessary to alter the hull and upper works, fit in the machinery and put the vessel in thorough ship-shape will be about five weeks, after which she will resume her old route between this city and Nanaimo and Comox. Her speed, when the improvements are completed will be 12 knots an hour. During the time the Dunsmuir is laid up the C. P. N. Co's. steamer Western Slope will run on the Westminster-Nanaimo route.

Quite Right.

Now that matters are in a fair way for the construction of a railway from Westminster, B. C., southward to Seattle, by an independent company, the C.P.R., has shown an inclination to undertake the same work. It has been understood for some time that the C. P. R. Co. has been desirous of reaching the cities of Puget Sound by a branch railway from its main line at or near Vancouver. It is understood that the C.P.R. has an agreement with the Seattle, Lake Shore and Southern, whereby the two roads would meet at the international boundary, south of Westminster. The crossing of the Fraser river would be made by a railway ferry. Surveys for the proposed line will be commenced at once, and it is understood an effort will be made to build the road next summer. When on the coast recently Mr. Van Horne visited Westminster, with the object of inducing the Westminster people to interest themselves in the C. P. R. scheme, instead of giving the bonus to the proposed Westminster, Bellingham Bay and Seattle railway. From the sentiment prevailing at Westminster, however, it is more than likely that the latter road will get the bonus. —Winnipeg Commercial.

A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes: "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which caused me much pain and annoyance. Mr. Maybee of this place, recommended Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for it. I tried it, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is an article of great value." Beware of Electric or Electron Oils, as they are imitations of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil.

Bonus By-Law Voters.

Our readers were treated to a legal opinion yesterday anent the qualifications of votes upon the two important by-laws upon which the ratepayers will have the opportunity of voting on the 7th of this month. When we say "treated" we do not intend to convey an impression of any needless and reckless gratuitousness on the part of the legal gentlemen who furnished the valuable information contained in the letter received by Mayor Dickinson, and which we published yesterday. By this opinion, it will be seen that the terms of the qualification are based upon the broadest interpretation. No one can claim that they are excluded. It is well that in a matter of so much importance the vote should be as nearly as possible a popular one. So far as the qualification of tenants or occupiers is concerned, there are very few instances, we believe, in which it will apply—only in cases where the tenant, by arrangement with the owner, assumes responsibility for the taxes on property for which he has a lease. The decision of the lawyers amounts practically to saying that every person whose name appears on the revised assessment roll for 1888 may vote on the ferry and workshops by-laws, and, of course, those owning property in the different wards can vote once in each ward where they are assessed. We took the trouble to-day, by the courtesy of Capt. Robinson, city clerk, to go over the assessment roll for this year, and find that there are about 460 voters thereon. When absentees, etc., are deducted that number may be considerably lessened, and it is not probable that much over half that number of votes will be polled. It is to be hoped, however, that everybody (including the ladies on the assessment roll) will take enough interest in the issue to come up to the scratch on the 7th and poll their votes like little men.

Give Holloway's Corn Cure a trial. It removed ten corns from one pair of feet without any pain. What it has done once it will do again.

Police Court.

Before T. C. Atkinson, P. M.

Wm. Kingston appeared before the court charged with being drunk and disorderly. He was in the dock yesterday morning on a similar charge and was fined $2.50, but the lesson had no effect on him as it was only a few hours till he was drunk again. Fined $5 or 10 days in goal.

James Phillips, from Washington Territory, was brought into court in a state verging on the delirium tremens. He said he had been drunk since the first of June and was unable to sober up. As the man was nearly wild and acted in a very strange manner His Honor sentenced him to 14 days in gaol.

S. Chadwick, of Arcadia, Wayne Co., writes: "I have had severe attacks of Asthma for several years. I commenced taking Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. The first dose relieved me in one hour. I continued taking it in teaspoonful doses for a few days, and have not had an attack of it since, now nearly one year."

MONTREAL, July 27.—Five thousand two hundred shares of the Southeastern railway were sold to-day by sheriff's sale for $5 each to J. O'Halloran, Q. C. Par value, $100.

Sir Donald Smith has purchased Duncan McIntyre's residence adjoining his own on Dorchester street for $50,000. It is intended as a gift to his daughter, who married Dr. J. B. Howard some time ago.

Natural gas was struck Sunday morning on the property of L. Betourney, across the river from Montreal. Engineers believe there is an almost inexhaustible supply in the neighborhood. He can only use for his personal use the gas found on his property. In 1886 the Quebec legislature passed an act granting the exclusive right of utilizing natural gas all over the province to the Combustible Gas Company.

A test case has been entered against Le Monde at the instance of the provincial government for publishing advertisements of the Louisana lottery. As this is the first case of the kind under the local statute the proceedings, when the case comes up for hearing, are looked for with interest.

OTTAWA, July 27.—Several Northwest papers are urging the extension of the militia system to the Northwest and abolishing the police. It is becoming evident to the militia authorities that this will have to be done. It is found that the cost of maintaining the mounted police is more than the expenditure required for the whole of the militia of the Dominion.

TORONTO, July 27.—Frank P. Peard, who was arrested by Constable Robinson, ferry inspector, while jumping on a ferry boat before the gang plank was secured, and who was discharged by the police magistrate next morning, has issued a writ against the policeman for $2,000 damages.

OWEN SOUND, July 27.—A distillery in full operation in Collingwood township was seized yesterday by the collector of inland revenue. The proprietor, Thos. Walton, escaped. W. J. McMillan, chief distiller, was fined $100 and sent to jail for one month.

KINGSTON, July 27.—Tisdale, an "A" buttery man, borrowed $25 from a comrade and deserted. Two others cleared away a few days ago.

WINNIPEG, July 28.—Tracklaying on the extension of the M. & N. W. Railway commenced on Friday. Dan. Mann has completed fifteen miles of grading.

The legislature will be called before harvest to deal with railway matters in this province. It is understood that the extra session will be very short, and none but railway business will be laid before the house.

The tonic and alterative properties of Ayer's Sarsaparilla are too well known to require the specious aid of any exaggerated or fictitious certificate. Witnesses of the marvellous cures effected by this preparation are to-day living in every city and hamlet of the land.
