nk Statement of Progress of se Russian Colonies in the Prairie Province.

ipeg, Oct. 13.—Peter Verigin, l known Doukhobor leader, who ected the program of the Douk- in their several colonies since ming to Western Canada, is at in the city. Mr. Verigin will rn West but will go direct to l and intends sailing in about s time for London. Verigin will confer with the min- of the interior today on matters ining to the Doukhobors, should gentleman, as is expected, arrive the West this morning. Should he not, however, Mr. Verigin will be unable to leave for the East until Monday.

He will be accompanied East by his interpreter, Paul Bandina, and John Machortoff, the latter gentleman being 98 years old. The necessity for having a secretary and interpreter, the double capacity of which is performed by Bandina, will be readily understood when it is known that last year's accounts, amounting to over $300,000, were handled by Verigin.

His interview with Hon. Mr. Oliver will have relation to lands claimed by the communities near Borden, Saskatchewan, but which have been occupied by squatters.

BIG TIMBER DEAL.

Kaslo Contractors Will Operate on a Large Scale.

An important deal was made last week, says the Kootenaian, whereby J. W. Power and Jas. Spiers of this city will immediately commence operations on logging, telephone pole, pile and railway tie contracts, aggregating in all an eventual turnover of a sum of money amounting to $30,000 or $35,000. Operations are to be carried on at Mockison's Landing, near Burton City, on the Columbia river, about 65 miles due west of Kaslo. Work, under the terms of the contract, will be carried on until the end of the year 1907. The saw logs will be used by the Big Bend Lumber company, whose mills are located at Arrowhead. The price paid for these will be $5 per thousand. The telephone poles and railway ties will be handled by Lindsley Bros., a Spokane firm who make a specialty of supplying the prairie market with these commodities. The timber is to be taken from several thousand acres of pre-emptions controlled by the last named firm. The large timber will be used for saw logs, smaller stuff for poles and ties, so that the sweep will be a pretty clean one.

From 20 to 30 men will be employed from the start. Bert Hilton, formerly of the Idaho-Alamo mines staff, has been engaged as foreman, although the work as a whole will be under the supervision of Messrs. Powers & Spiers. Both parties will place a number of teams in the woods at once and in the course of a week or so work will be going on merrily. The camp supplies will either be purchased in Kaslo or Revelstoke, although the merchants in the latter place may possibly obtain the preference on account of lower freight rates.

The contract is indicative of the tremendous activity prevalent in the Kootenay lumber industry and shows that Kaslo men are not behind hand in securing their share of the benefits.

MUST CLEAR IN SUMMER

Summary of Engineer Prendergast's Evidence in Fernie Fire Damages Actions.

The whole of today's session of the supreme court was taken up with the cross-examination by Mr. Davis of P. S. Prendergast, engineer in charge of the construction of the Crow's Nest Southern railway, from which, it is alleged, the fires of July, 1904, escaped.

The most interesting feature was an argument of Chief Justice Hunter and the witness as to the necessity for clearing operations being performed in summer.

When the lumber cases were resumed this morning the cross-examination of Engineer Prendergast by Mr. Davis was resumed. There was some keen fencing between counsel and witness.

The engineer was positive that there were many other fires in the district, on the West Fernie townsite and elsewhere, some at least of which he was sure were in existence before July 23.

In reply to his lordship he could not say that it was probable that such fires had caused all the damage complained of, but they had very likely been a factor in it.

He said it was not practicable to pile the brush in the middle of the right of way and save it for burning at the close of the dry season. The cost of doing so would render it too expensive.

In reply to long series of questions by Mr. Davis the engineer described the soil along the right of way as consisting of wet blue clay. Deep digging in it would be impracticable.

He doubted the statement of Waters that his offer of free labor to Quaiffe for clearing was refused by Quaiffe. He knew Quaiffe better than that. He was quite certain that the owners of adjacent land would not have made any concessions in the matter of using even a few feet of their land.

As to the saving of the big logs for burning after the close of the dry season, he said that it would be of no value, as the whole of the danger arose from the small branches and brush. The big logs emit very few sparks even under a high wind.

Re-examined by Mr. Bodwell he said clearing operations extended at one time probably over a stretch of 10 miles. He thought the contractors would not have been allowed to pile brush at the side of the right of way for that distance, as it would have been very close to inflammable material all along the line. The right of way was at that point a travelled road, used by all the contractors and by ranchers in the neighborhood.

The brush piles were all burned at night, and not on windy nights. There was no safer way of clearing.

To his lordship he said clearing in winter would be utterly impracticable on account of frozen ground and deep snow.

The court—I cannot see why the railway companies cannot defer their clearing operations until after the first fall rain.

The witness said that the firing was always done after a rain or dew. He thought it almost necessary for railway construction that the whole operation of clearing should be performed in summer.

A rather heated colloquy followed Mr. Davis' question as to witness' recollection of the men he met near Lever's house on July 22. He finally said he could remember certainly who they were.

To the court he said the objections to deferring burning operations until the fall were the delay and increased expense.

The court then rose until Monday morning.

BRITISH LABOR STRUGGLES.

War Within Classes Makes Acute Distress Possible.

London, Oct. 13.—Acute distress this winter is inevitable if three gigantic strikes which are now threatened take place. A cloud hangs over the railway world in which 600,000 railroad men are concerned.

Broadly, the demands of the men are for shorter hours of labor and higher wages. These are claimed on several grounds which necessarily involve increased expenditures on the part of railway companies.

The Welsh dispute, however, is an uglier business than a mere demand for higher wages. It is a sectional fight of workmen against workmen, and represents the first organized attempt on so gigantic a scale of the trade unionists to force their mates to join the association for which they have no mind. The Welsh non-unionists are to be driven out of the pits and the employers are to be punished for daring to give them work, though their only offence is that they do not join the "voluntary" association, which yearns to protect them and collect their subscriptions. This is freedom and liberty for which, according to enthusiastic historians, the enlightened democracy of England has been struggling for a century past.

On the Clyde the merits of the dispute are less certain. Shipbuilding has been phenomenally active this year, the record tonnage having been launched.

The men have worked during the boom without an increase of pay, and now that orders are slackening off the masters tell them it is too late to complain. Had the men thrown down their tools when the activity was at its height enormous inconvenience would have been caused and the masters might have given way.

And the line of argument adopted by the latter shows that they are fully aware of the tactical advantage which the delay has given them, but tactical considerations do not affect the merits of the dispute, which turn on the question whether the industry can bear the modest advance in wages demanded by the men. If the masters speak truly, the yards simply cannot afford it now, though they have reaped big profits during the summer. On the other hand, the workmen say they can and must afford it, and no layman can decide. The distress resulting from the cessation of work will spread quickly through all sections of the community, and British industry must inevitably suffer.

THE CLERGY IN SPAIN.

Reaching Out Sympathetic Hands Toward Brothers in France.

Madrid, Oct. 13.—The reactionary party is using with good effect against the government the popular outcry against the new commercial treaty which is being negotiated with France, whereby the duty on wines will be raised to the prejudice of the Spanish producers, and it is feared that the Liberal ministry has been shaken in consequence.

Simultaneously the clericals are showing greater boldness. Five bishops, after meeting at Burgos, have sent a message to the government violently protesting against the anti-Christian movement, and declaring their purpose not to obey the laws which violate rights of the church. The prelates of Santiago have sent felicitations to the episcopals of France in the letter appealing to the clergy of France, to be faithful and not submit to the church and state separation law.

All who are interested are invited to attend the regular meeting of the University club this evening at 8 o'clock in the club parlor. The program will be the reading and discussion of a paper on "The Evils of National Prosperity."

STILL BRIGHTER

Kootenay Mining Outlook Steadily Improves

MORE SALES IN SIGHT

Effect of Coal Miners' Strike Not Yet Seriously Felt---New Plans for Development Formed.

The mining outlook for the week has remained extremely favorable. The coal miners' strike in East Kootenay, while grave and threatening enough, has so far not appreciably affected the situation in metalliferous mining. The high prices of silver, copper, lead and zinc have afforded great encouragement to the owners and managers.

The big camps of the Boundary and Rossland have not yet been seriously hampered, although that effect is only a question of time.

The sale of the Maple Leaf mine in in Franklin district will probably bring measurably nearer the active development of the camps of the North Fork of the Kettle river.

The sale of the Krao to a strong syndicate of Butte capitalists opens a new chapter in the history of Ainsworth, the oldest camp in Kootenay. Many other deals are being negotiated and their consummation at an early date is certain.

Work on the American Boy, near Sandon, has been resumed under the direction of W. E. Zwicky ,manager of the Rambler-Cariboo. The lease of the mine tunnels and the proceeds of assessments have cleared liabilities and made $15,000 immediately available for development.

In the Ymir and Sheep Creek districts activity continues with excellent results. The long and tedious negotiations over the Mother Lode group seem at last nearing a satisfactory conclusion.

The stock market for the past week, while not so active as for the last three weeks, continued very firm. The chief feature of the tradings was the rapid advance in all the copper stocks, which still show no sign of weakening. Upon Eastern exchanges the excitement and demand in Cobalt stocks has slightly affected the market for shares of British Columbia, but it is expected that the stocks of this vicinity will once more become favored on Eastern markets when the inevitable reaction sets in on the stocks of the Cobalt district.

Dominion Copper opened at about $5.50 and advanced rapidly to $6.75, and is holding firm at this quotation, with a probability of it going to $7.50 or $8 next week.

B. C. Copper advanced from $11 to $14.50 and though it weakened slightly, is expected to reach $20 before becoming stationary.

Granby advanced from $13.50 to $15.50, but sold today at about $14.75 to $15.

North Star shows some signs of weakening, but this is caused by the neglect of British Columbia stocks on Eastern exchanges, and is affecting the stocks offered generally.

Sullivan remains almost unchanged, and, if anything, shows a little more strength.

Rambler-Cariboo is stronger than for the last two weeks, and everything points to a sharp advance within a few days.

International Coal remains weak, in consequence of the strike by the miners in that district.

Consolidated Smelters, Canadian Gold Fields, California and Cariboo-McKinney remain very firm, with no shares offered at the present low quotations.

The following are the approximate quotations for the week ending today:

Reconstruct Buildings.

Santiago, Chili, Oct. 13.—The Chilean congress at its coming session will discuss a project to raise a loan of $2, 500,000, to be devoted to the work of reconstructing the public buildings, etc., destroyed by the recent earthquake.

COLONIAL OFFICER RETIRES.

Resignation of Empire Builder Causes Considerable Surprise.

London, Oct. 13.—Considerable surprise has been caused by the announcement that Sir Frederick D. Lugard, who has been high commissioner for Northern Nigeria since 1900, has resigned his post. Sir Frederick, who is only in his forty-eighth year, has had a most adverturous career. At college he was renowned as a football player, and had not long joined the army before he had the opportunity of seeing fighting, first of all in the Afghanistan under Lord Roberts, and afterwards in the Soudan, Burma, Uganda, and East and West Africa.

Probably the most notable of his achievements was his race against time and France to secure a treaty with the king of Nikki. He left England in July, 1894, four days after a French officer had left France, and, when the latter arrived with his treaty for signature, he found that Colonel Lugard had been there five days before.

Lady Lugard is almost as famous as her empire-building husband. She was Miss Flora Shaw, head of the colonial department of the "Times," and was the only lady witness before the Jameson raid committee. She has travelled on horseback through the Australian bush, and tramped through the Klondike, and has explored wildest Africa.

ROUND THE BOUNDARY.

Returns of Dominion Copper Company Show Increased Capacity.

(Special to The Daily Canadian.)

Grand Forks, Oct. 13.—The many shareholders of the Dominion Copper company in this district will read with interest the following particulars regarding that company which have just reached here from New York. For the eight months ending July 31 last the total amount of ore smelted was 133,084 tons, which prodced 3,220 tons of matte, which had a total value of $640,128.97. The total cost of operating for the eight months, including mining, smelting, converting and other general expenses was $500,984.93, which left a net profit for the eight months of $139,144.04. The new furnace which is now being installed will have a daily capacity of 800 tons, which will make the total smelter capacity 1400 tons per day.

F. M. Kirby, P. L. S., and a force of five men, have gone to Franklin camp to survey the C. P. R. lands in that camp, and they will likely be engaged in the work several weeks.

W. Yolen Williams, consulting engineer for the Granby company, has gone to Mexico to inspect some properties. He will be gone about a month.

The Grand Forks Structural works has installed a new lathe, which is 20 feet long and 40 inches wide.

RIVER BOATS COLLIDE.

Heavy Fog Causes Pilots to Miss Their Way.

Kingston, Oct. 13.—The passenger steamer Adirondack, of the People's Line of Albany, and the steamer Saratoga if the Citizens' Line of Troy, collided near Glasgoe, 12 miles north of this city, at 1:15 o'clock this morning. The collision occurred in a dense fog which prevented the pilots of the boats from seeing each other. Both, it is thought, missed their bearings. The Saratogo sustained the greater damage. The Adirondack was on her way to Albany and the Saratoga was en route to New York. The Adirondack tore off the port side of the Saratoga, which listed to port, and her boiler went overboard and sank. Clarence Sherman of Metros, N. Y., an oiler on the Saratoga, was killed and George Norton of New York, on the Adirondack, is missing.

Many passengers on the Saratoga were knocked down by the force of the collision, but the crew of both boats assisted in rescuing them and later they were transferred to the City of Troy, landed at Tivoli and sent to New York by train.

The passengers on both boats became panic-stricken and only by the coolness of the officers and crews of the boats was heavy loss of life prevented. The Saratoga listed to port and was hauled to Glasgoe dock, where she is anchored.

Robins for Food.

London, Ont., Oct. 13.—Paulos Karkampas, proprietor of the Olympia restaurant, was charged with a breach of the Insectivorous Bird Act in the police court this morning and fined $5 and costs. Yesterday Game Warden Turner walked into the hear of the restaurant and found some of the employees preparing robins blackbirds and several other birds to be cooked.

Zangwill's Committee Named.

New York, Oct. 13.—A London despatch to the Times says: "The geographical commission which Israel Zangwill was empowered to appoint at the recent session of the International Council of the Jewish Territorial organization has been completed. Mr. Zangwill has appointed Lord Rothschild, Oscar Strauss, Herr James Simon, Dr. Paul Nathan and Professor Kendelstand. The Jewish Chronicle says of the commission: 'No better body of men could have been chosen for the work. The commission combines enormous influence with practical knowledge and power, and represents a splendid Jewish international effort to find some solution or palliation for a heartbreaking difficulty.'"

CENTRAL PARK TRAGEDY.

Mysterious and Shocking Death of a Vancouver Citizen.

Advices from Vancouver give particulars of a shocking tragedy which occurred at Central Park, a suburb of that city, some time during the forenoon of Thursday last.

When the little daughter of George Anderson of Central Park tripped down the path from the family home yesterday at noon to see why father had not come home to dinner at the usual time, and followed the winding trail down to the road where he had been working, she little thought of the horrible sight that awaited her on the lonely country road. As she called time and again to the father that came not, she little imagined that his failure to answer was the result of a terrible tragedy.

When she reached the road she was frozen with horror, for her eyes met the sight of the horribly mangled body of her father lying on the very stump that he had been blasting. She hurried back, terrified, and broke the news to her mother. Neighbors were called and found the dead man in a position that makes the accident one of the most tragic of the many that have resulted from blasting operations. The body of Anderson was found with one foot tightly wedged in a crack in the stump. The head was horribly mangled and one arm was almost completely blown from the body. Whether Anderson became entangled in the stump and could not get away, or whether a premature explosion caused the tragedy will probably never be known.

The dead man was well known at Central Park and in the city. He has worked for the C. P. R. on the wharves and at the time of his death was working on a municipal contract, clearing the road of stumps. He leaves a wife and four children, the oldest a young man in business in Seattle.

CHICAGO GOES CRAZY

Immense Enthusiasm Over Baseball—As High as $2000 Offered for Admission to Grounds.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—With the Chicago American League club and the Chicago National League team, each winners of two games of the series of seven games which will decide the world's baseball championship of 1906, the fifth game of the series scheduled for today on the grounds of the National league brought the excitement of the baseball enthusiasts to a high pitch. It was expected that the winner of today's contest would practically cinch the championship.

Weather conditions today are ideal. The sky is cloudless, there is little wind and the temperature is neither too warm nor too cool.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—At 1:45 p. m. the gates were ordered closed. It is estimated that there are 50,000 people on the outside. Some of these were offering $800, $1000 and even $2000 for admission. President Murphy said there were at least 25,000 people on the grounds. The fence in front of the left field bleachers was broken down, and the crowd rushed out into left field. Policemen were forced to use their clubs to clear the crowd and force them back beyond the foul line.

Just as the American League team went on the field two live cub bears were led out from the clubhouse across the diamond to the bench of the National team, who are known locally as the Cubs. The National club's partizans went wild with delight, as seeing the bears mascot that meant the first victory on the home grounds of the National leaguers.

The final score was: White Sox 8, Cubs 6.

Pounded With Umbrella.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 12.—Samuel Washington, colored, was arraigned before the magistrate today on a charge of aggravated assault on another colored man named Daniel Little. The assault occurred on Sunday night. Little died this morning. An attempt was made to get a statement from him, but he was not conscious enough. The most serious wound visible is a hole in the face passing through the nose, which is alleged to have been caused by a punch from Washington's umbrella.

CASE CONCLUDED

Election Petitions in Saskatchewan Tangled

GO UP TO FULL COURT

Judge Scott Advanced Theory That Entire Elections of New Province May be Voided.

Regina, Sask., Oct. 13.—The election cases before the full territorial court came to a close this afternoon and judgments are to be handed out at 3 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon next.

The cases having been argued at full length are of great interest. Prominent is the appeal on a technical point for the life of Vinezeur Maygar, the Hungarian condemned to death for the murder of his employer, Campbell Frobisher, a farmer of Saskatchewan, by Judge Wetmore at Oxbow. Another important matter is the deferred sentence of Sinclair, convicted before a jury of stuffing ballots in the northern polls of Prince Albert district, the judge's award being delayed pending appeal to the full court at the present sitting.

Perhaps the decision which is exciting keenest local interest, however, is the case of Strachan vs. Lamont, resting on a recent decision of Judge Prendergast, which has resulted in the tying up of the 16 election petitions in a total legislative representation of 25. A petition was brought against Mr. Lamont, who sits for Prince Albert city, on the usual grounds, and Mr. Justice Prendergast dismissed it on the ground that no provision was made in the autonomy act for hearing such cases, because the old territorial Controverted Election Act was not made applicable. The case has now to be argued at length before the full court.

F. W. G. Haultain, leader of the opposition, appeared for the appellants and C. P. Welch, Winnipeg, appeared for the defence. During the course of the hearing Judge Scott advanced the theory that if the Controverted Elections Act does not apply then it is possible that the whole elections are null and void.

A despatch from Toronto attributes this theory, in the view of Premier Scott, who is now in that city, to Mr. Haultain, but this is erroneous. Judge Scott is his father.

Decision of this point is awaited with keenest interest throughout Saskatchewan, for it is possible that in any eventuality it will have very grave influence on the future trend of political events.

LOOKED LIKE REVOLVER.

Member of Bank Mess Mistook Letter for Deadly Weapon.

A incident occurred Thursday evening which, though generally regarded as a good joke, will, it is said, be ventilated in the police court on Monday.

While the members of the bank mess were at dinner there was a ring at the door. One of the members answered it. As he did so a hand was reached forward and a voice said: "I want you." Thinking he saw a revolver the bank clerk hastily retreated and gave the alarm. Several of the members sought places of concealment and an alarm was telephoned to the police station.

Soon after the visitor mounted the stairs and handed a long envelope to Mr. A. W. Hyndman; he had nothing else in his hand. So far all was well. But a policeman arrived and the man who had seen the revolver insisted that the visitor be searched. No weapon was found.

Now, it is said, the visitor resents the indignity of being searched and will seek redress.

THREE YEARS IN PRISON.

Laughlin Bruce Gets Maximum Penalty for Crime of Assault.

The trial of Laughlin Bruce ended yesterday afternoon in his conviction and sentence to three years' imprisonment, the maximum penalty for his crime. In imposing the sentence Chief Justice Hunter remarked that he could see no reason for clemency.

The only defence that could be offered by the prisoner's counsel was a legal objection to the admissibility of the evidence of Constable Wilson as to the prisoner's statements to him after his arrest.

"By one word we are sometimes judged to be wise and by one word sometimes judged to be foolish. Let us therefore be careful what we say."—CONFUCIUS.

QUEENS-SHELBURNE.

The decision of the supreme court of Canada to the effect that Hon. W. S. Fielding is not disqualified for re-election in Queens-Shelburne is a matter for personal congratulation to the minister himself, to the Liberal party and to the country at large. To have disqualified Mr. Fielding from sitting in the house of commons for several years would have been a serious blow to the party of which he is so prominent a member. And, while that party remains in power it would have been ill for the country to have been deprived of the services of so able a statesman.

Now that the decision of the court has been reached, while the technicalities upon which the appeal was dismissed may be somewhat puzzling to the lay mind, some reflections upon the situation may not be out of place.

There can be no doubt that in 1900-1902 Mr. Fielding contributed extensively to campaign funds, as he admitted himself that he had paid a lump sum in defrayal of election expenses. His unwillingness to be questioned upon the purpose and manner of disposal of these, while quite within his right, is in strange contrast with the deliberate, calm and frank denial of Mr. R. L. Borden when the attempt was made to connect his fair name with some private land transactions of Foster, Fowler, et al. We have no doubt had Mr. Borden been called upon to give evidence in the case with which it was attempted to connect him, he would have done so without any hesitation.

While it is never fair to decry a man upon mere suspicion and it would be unfair to discredit every politician whose conduct had been made to appear suspicious, we have come to a time in the political history and life of Canada when all politicians should be, both in their political, private and commercial life, above suspicion. We submit that, in spite of the apparently doubtful business transactions of some of the prominent members of the Conservative party, the record of that party, when brought into comparison with the records of the Liberals, is immeasurably to the advantage and credit of the former.

While it is too early to pronounce upon the subject it is not improbable that Hon. G. E. Foster will never again stand so high in the respect of his country or his party, since his connection with the land and other transactions now under inquiry by the courts, he has not yet been so much discredited as Mr. Clifford Sifton. The bane of all political parties, even that of the Labor party where its leaders have attempted to be a power in the economic relations of men, is that now and then a strong man goes down before some temptation in private or commercial life. A few have done this who have had enviable political records. What a man does in business or private life are matters for the courts and for those most directly interested. What he does in political life is something which affects the welfare of the whole country. This was ably argued in the case of a political protest made in Saskatchewan this week, the trial of which is now in progress. There also, as is known, a Liberal leader is impeached for corruption in his election, either by himself, his agents or by both. In the argument in question it was conteded that by political corruption the "public" suffer and we think there can be no denial of the truth of this contention.

These reflections can but lead us to congratulate the province and people of British Columbia in that, after a period of years under coalition and patchwork governments, during which we had the most shameless peddling of franchises and truckling to corporations, we have now a government which has not been found at fault in the matter of any public trust. Notwithstanding the violent attempts to fasten odium upon the administration by the leaders and members of the opposition the government has so far been unscathed.

We should think that in view of the political events of the older provinces, to say this much will be to have said enough. The intelligent elector will draw the moral.

THE FERNIE SITUATION.

The suggestion made by a well known citizen and reported in The Canadian of yesterday, that it might be a good thing for the member for Kootenay to communicate the facts with respects to the Fernie dispute to the Ottawa government, with a view to securing the services of Mr. W. L. Mc-Kenzie King, deputy commissioner of labor, to seek an adjustment of the matter was not without its merit.

Mr. King has had, for so young a man, a distinguished career in the department over which he exercises a controlling destiny. His services in the settlement of serious labor quarrels in different parts of Canada since he was appointed to his present position are highly creditable to himself and more a tribute to his personal abilities and tact than a matter for praise of the government whose servant he is.

But there are limitations to the scope of Mr. King's authority and it may be questioned whether in the Fernie case his services could be made available in an attempt at reconciliation. Mr. King has no arbitrary power. He cannot step into the arena of a dispute, even at the direction of the government. His powers are advisory, conciliatory and mediatorial. In order that he might take any part in an adjustment of the dispute it would be necessary for both the contending parties to consent to his mediation. Even should they consent that he be called in, they could, and doubtless would, in giving such consent, strictly limit the degree of his rights and privileges in the matter of conciliation. They might agree to his arbitration and sign articles agreeing to abide by his decision, or they might ask him to play the humble and thankless task of a conciliator without binding themselves to anything.

In the present temper of both the conflicting interests at Fernie we have little hope that their consent could be obtained to any steps being taken to bring in such peaceful mediation. While there could be no harm in trying and the possibility of a politician winning such laurels as did Mr. Ralph Smith recently at Nanaimo, might be inviting, the task or duty, if it be either, may as reasonably devolve upon one citizen as another.

Have the Fernie citizens themselves no strong public men, who, seized of the whole situation could suggest and even urge an effort at settlement? If so, the duty would seem to belong there rather than to an outsider.

Failing some such action, however, the country is apparently face to face with a coal famine and a resultant industrial famine, while it is as difficult now as in the days of Little Peterkin to discover "what they killed each other for."

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Ministers of the gospel will lay up treasures in heaven if they will keep out of politics. The political arena is not the place for the preacher who is sincere and honest in his work. If you find them dabbling in politics you can bet that they have an axe to grind.—Cranbrook Herald.

The above must be a left-handed slap at some Cranbrook preacher who has been expressing his righteous convictions of the present corruption in Liberal politics.

The Cranbrook Herald asks: "Why don't the Conservative papers give the details of the Foster-Fowler price of high financing? And Foster, above all men!"

Easy, old man, easy. May it not be because the Liberal papers are raising such a howl about Foster that no one else can get the floor?

Anglo-French Entente.

Paris, Oct. 13.—The aldermen of the City of London, headed by Sir William Vaughan Morgan, the Lord Mayor, arrived in Paris today on a fraternal visit to the municipal council of Paris. The visit is in return of a similar trip taken by the Paris city fathers to London last year. Great preparations have been made for the entertainment of the English visitors. The piece de resistence of the programme will be a banquet at the Hotel de Ville.

Burning Question.

Paris, Oct. 13.—The cabinet has decided to convoke parliament for October 20. The greater portion of the session will again be devoted to the vexed church and state separation question.

New Stunt for "Poison Squad."

Washington, Oct. 13.—When the "poison squad" of the Bureau of Chemistry reassembles Monday it will begin experiments on entirely new lines. Dr. Wiley, chief of the bureau, is anxious to discover whether saltpetre, a preservative commonly used in meats, and hertofore regarded as harmless, is deleterious in its effects. In order to get the information in the best possible way he will set his poison eaters to work, and by noting the general effect upon their health of a diet of corned beef, ham, etc., prepared with generous quantities of saltpetre he hopes to be able to tell the world in a short time just what saltpetre will do to the human system. The test to be made with saltpetre deals with practically the only chemical preservative or coloring matter not prohibited now by the regulations.

TWO COMMANDMENTS

Christ's Summary of the Law of God—Thanksgiving Day and Festival of St. Luke—Church Notices.

Tomorrow will be the eighteenth Sunday after Trinity. Thursday next has been chosen by the Dominion government as Thanksgiving day. It is also the festival of St. Luke the evangelist, the author of the third gospel, and also of the Acts of the Apostles, a physician by profession, a man of keen intellect, and the fullest and most careful recorder among the writers of the New Testament.

The selection of a day for national thanksgiving seems a strange survival of the influence of religion on public life in a country whose government and public school system are entirely secular. As a holiday ordained by the government it has no such significance. The institution has been borrowed from the Americans, with whom it is a survival of a custom dating back to within a few years at most from the landing at Plymouth rock.

As a public holiday it is now generally associated with autumn sports, especially hunting and football.

A religious observance has, however, been generally transferred to Thanksgiving day from a much earlier date. The harvest thanksgiving service, for the first fruits or harvest, of Lammastide, August 1, has been almost generally abandoned in Canada in favor of a similar service on Thanksgiving day, which accidentally, and rather roughly, marks the end of the harvest season.

The gospel for tomorrow contains Christ's summary of the commandments into two, the commands to love God and fellowmen.

The following services are announced for tomorrow in the churches of Nelson:

Church of England—St. Saviour's, cor. Ward and Silica streets; eighteenth Sunday after Trinity; holy communion, 8 a. m.; morning prayer and litany, 11 a. m.; children's service, 2:30 p. m.; evensong, 7:30 p. m. Rev. F. H. Graham, rector.

Roman Catholic—Church of Mary Immaculate, corner of Ward and Mill streets: Low mass, 8 a. m.; high mass, 10:30 a. m.; evening service, 7:30 p. m Rev. Father Althoff, priest.

Presbyterian church—St. Paul's, corner of Victoria and Kootenay streets: Morning service, 11 a. m.; Sunday school, 2:30 p. m.; evening service, 7:30 p. m.; Sunday school, 2:30 p. m. Rev. J. T. Ferguson, minister.

Methodist church—Corner Silica and Josephine streets: Morning service, 11 a. m.; evening service, 7:30 p. m.; Sunday school, 2:30 p. m. Rev. R. N. Powell, pastor.

Baptist church—Stanley street, near Mill: Morning service, 11 a. m.; evening service, 7:30 p. m.; Sunday school, 2:30 p. m. Rev. E. H. Shanks, pastor.

Salvation Army—Barracks on Victoria street, west of Josephine: Special services for tomorrow. Knee drill, 9 a. m.; holiness meeting, 11 a. m.; a praise meeting at 3 p. m.; salvation meeting at 8 p. m.

CHAUFFEUR WEDS HEIRESS.

Romantic Love Affain in Which Automobile Plays Important Part.

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 13.—The thirteenth day of the month is not regarded as unlucky by Johannes Schiott, formerly a first lieutenant in Norway's navy and later a chauffeur in America, for today he led to the altar Miss Esther Bedford, whose father's wealth is estimated at $15,000,000. The ceremony took place this afternoon at Greens Farms, near here, where the Bedfords have their country home. It was a quiet affair, owing to the recent death of the bridegroom's father.

The wedding is the culmination of a most interesting romance in which Cupid enlisted the aid of the automobile to accomplish his purpose. The bride of today is a blonde, very pretty, about 22 years old. Her father is Edward T. Bedford, who until recently was prominently identified with the Standard Oil company. His wealth amounts to many millions and he has homes in Brooklyn and Greens Farms. In addition to his Standard Oil holdings Mr. Bedford is also president of the Starch Trust.

Johannes Schiott, the bridegroom, two years ago was a first lieutenant in the Norwegian navy. The navy is not large and the position is not exalted nor especially remunerative, so Johannes decidede to come to the United States to see if he could not better his prospects. He succeeded from the start. Soon after his arrival on this side he went to Brooklyn to hear his brother, Christian Schiott, a pianist, give a concert. There he met Miss Bedford and was invited to call upon her at their home. Last spring, when the Bedfords came to Connecicut to spend the summer, Mr. Schiott followed. That he might be near the girl of his choice he obtained a position as chauffeur in the automobile department of a Bridgeport carriage company. Miss Bedford was a keen auto enthusiast and an experienced driver, but it was noticed that her car often needed the services of an expert chauffeur. To make the story quite up to date an automobile elopement should have been in order. But this romantic climax to the courtship was quite unnecessary for the father of the young lady not only consented to the match but presented the happy pair with a magnificent home at Sea Side Park, near here, where they will take up their residence after the honeymoon trip is over.

Lost Fifty Thousand.

New York, Oct. 13.—Women and girls to the number of 250, employed in various tailoring shops in a five-story brick building in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn, escaped from their workrooms by means of the fire ladders yesterday when the building caught fire. None were injured, but they were all frightened when the blaze, beginning on the third floor, cut off their exit by the stairs from the fourth and fifth floors. The upper part of the building was burned out and the stage of Phillips' Lyceum theatre, adjoining, was badly damaged. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

We have recently secured an option from the creditors of the J. E. R. Munroe Pub. Co., bankrupt, of San Francisco, for a limited number of sets of the reference works, consisting of the "New Americanized Encyclopoedia Britannica," "Library of Oratory, Art, Literature, Science and Natural History," and many of the best English, French and American authors, Shakespeare, Scott, Dickens, Carlyle, Macaulay, etc., etc.

These are all limited, de luxe editions, bound in substantial leather bindings. We are in a position to offer these works at less than half the publisher's price.

If interested, telephone B 81, and we will send samples.. The sale of this stock positively closes Saturday, October 13.
