he formal presentation of evidence the lumber companies' damage s may be concluded tomorrow. It w certain that the judge and jury travel to Fernie and go over the nd involved in the suit. The start Nelson may be made Sunday ning.

he most important evidence put in e Wednesday is that of F. C. n, surveyor, and F. W. Kelly, ser, who disagree entirely with the esses for the plaintiffs as to the e of timber destroyed in the fires July, 1904. Mr. Green estimates Fernie Lumber company's possible at 200,000 feet, which, at $2 per sand, would be worth $4000. Mr. y has options on timber limits in same neighborhood, which he ms are better than those in dis- e—options secured nearly a year r the date of the fires—at 30 cents thousand.

The supreme court was in session day yesterday and good progress made in the presentation of the e for the defendants, Stewart &

Angus V. McDonald, one of the subtractors, was twice recalled during day. He said he had sublet a part his contract, but resumed it. From y 15 to 23, 1904, his men were all rking between Sections 860 to 880. July 23 they were nearly half a e from the mill.

. C. Green, P. L. S., was the chief ness of the day. He had prepared ull estimate of the timber destroyfrom measurements taken from the ber after it was felled. His survey taken 23 days. He had made very maps of the whole area damaged fire and was sure of their accuracy. e found much green timber undamd or very little damaged. On the nie Lumber company's limits much the timber was at an elevation of r 4000 feet, and therefore unmerchantable. Further, a large proporn of the area had been logged over, d nothing left but culls and rotten ber.

The witness thought that trees, even r being killed by fire, may be merchantable for a year or two.

His estimate of the possible damage timber on the Fernie Lumber comy's limits was not more than $400; the Elk Lumber company's limits ut $160.

ate in the afternoon Mr. Davis be- his cross-examination of Mr. en.

The witness said that the unused is in the area in dispute were still ly distinguishable.

e was sure that the whole area t of Dayment's camp had been logover before the fire, and nothing which could be profitably taken.

hen court resumed this morning cross-examination was resumed.

r. Davis went over the surveyor's mates in detail and wanted to know number of trees that went to each mate in feet of timber, but Mr. n had kept no count. He said he ght the estimate in feet sufficient. was sure, however, that the timber all small.

s to the area of green timber imiately north of Lever's house, he d not swear positively that in no e had the fire run through it. He ght not. He had searched for r directions in which the fire t have reached there from the dion of the right of way. He trated from Station 924 for 2000 . Through the green timber he had d several trees killed by fire.

r. Davis began a series of ques- s as to the location of the Bosth license, the Fernie Lumber com- y's title to which might be disput- Mr. Green thought the descripn of its boundaries very inaccurate. description of the boundaries was d out by Mr. Davis, and the witness lared it could not be found on the und from such description.

n rising to re-examine, Mr. Bodwell ed the question as to the title of lumber company to the Bosworth nse, but his lordship held that de o possession, even if only for the pose of cutting timber, was good as inst the defendants.

o Mr. Bodwell the witness said that ards Fairy creek the ground drop- There was good cedar there. He estimated 25,000 feet to the acre. It difficult to log and had not been logged very far, as there was no road to Fairy creek.

Mr. Bodwell then tendered Mr. Green's notes as evidence.

To Mr. Davis the witness said he did not know who had since cleared the Cedar Valley company's lands.

F. W. Kelly, now a bridge contractor, said he had had 29 years' experience in all branches of the timber business.

He had gone over the land involved in the case in company with F. C. Green. He had also priced timber in the vicinity and obtained some options on timber limits near the lands in question. The price named in the option—read out by Mr. Bodwell—was in every case 30 cents per thousand feet, except one option, which was for 25 cents. He thought it better suited and situated for logging purposes than the Cedar Valley limits.

Asked as to different woods and the effect of fire upon them, he spoke of the danger from worms when bark is loosened.

Mr. Bodwell—What about tamarack?

Witness—Well, if any of you gentlemen go fishing, don't look for worms in tamarack.

His lordship—Gentlemen don't fish with worms.

Court then rose for luncheon.

When court resumed at 2:15 Kelly's examination in chief was continued. He went into a detailed description of the lands. He examined the standing trees, testing them by tapping with an axe. Many he found rotten, a condition not due to fire.

In his examination on his first visit in 1905, he allowed as damaged every tree he thought likely to die as a result of fire. On his second visit, in 1906, he found many of such trees with new life and in good condition. His first judgment gave rather too liberal an estimate of the damage.

To his lordship he said the fire had evidently been severe through old slashings, but not at all so in the green timber.

Trouble in Russian Mines.

Essen, Prussia, Oct. 19.—The Mine Owners' association of Rhenish, Westphalien district, rejected the miners' demand for an advance in wages and will recommend this course to the National Mineowners' association, which will convene in Berlin this evening. The Rhenish Westphalia association admits the workmen's allegations regarding the increased cost of living, but says the government is responsible and must supply the remedy in revising the tariff law, referring evidently to the increased price of meats since the new tariff went into effect.

ROUND THE BOUNDARY

Rich Properties on West Fork of Kettle River Shipping at a Profit Under Difficulties—Dale's Condition.

(Special to The Daily Canadian.)

Grand Forks, Oct. 19.—A mining man arriving here from Westbridge, on the West Fork of Kettle River, says that Triple camp is now experiencing great mining activity. The Sally property, one of the best developed claims in the camp, has lately shipped some 15 cars of ore which netted $3000 per car, or $45,000 on the total of 15 cars. The Rambler property, in the same camp, has shipped several cars of ore which average $200 to the ton. Beside these properties fully a dozen other promising claims are being worked by individual property owners and work will be continued all winter. The greatest difficulty in shipping from this West Fork camp is now that all the ore has to be hauled in wagons to Midway and there loaded on the cars.

The Duncan property, an exceptionally high grade claim, has shipped one car of high grade ore that will net about $6000 to the owners. With the present transportation difficulties to overcome the West Fork mining district would be practically a dead issue if it were not that the ore is of so high grade a nature that it pays a high profit after allowing for excessively high transportation charges on the ore.

Contractor George Taylor has commenced to haul the building material for the big skating rink which is being built by the Grand Forks Amateur Athletic association on Spokane avenue.

Contractors on the Kettle Valley Line extension up the North Fork are experiencing great difficulty in securing enough men to complete their grading contracts. Contractor Woodard, who has a big tie contract, is working short handed, as well as nearly every other contractor on the line.

Among the small mining deals closed here during the last week for Franklin Camp properties for snug cash considerations, was a one-half interest in the Crescent claim, which was purchased by B. J. Averill, the former owner being J. Spratt; while Gilbert Carraher has acquired a half interest in the Edna and Lucky Boy properties, the former owner being R. McRae.

In speaking of the nature of the self-inflicted cuts on Murderer Dale of Carmi, Dr. W. H. Dickson, the surgeon attending Dale, said: "There is one gash about three and a half inches long, running diagonally across from left to right of his throat, just below and at the junction of the larynx and the windpipe. There were two other gashes, one through the skin and muscles and the other through the windpipe. From the general appearances the cuts were inflicted probably half an hour before I was called in to treat the patient. Although Dale lost considerable blood from the cuts the greatest danger of his death will be from pneumonia and blood poisoning."

If Dale recovers he will be taken to Greenwood for trial.

FOLLOWED THE PREMIER.

Entire French Cabinet Resigns on Questions of State.

Paris, Oc. 19.—At the cabinet meeting this morning Premier Sarrien officially informed his colleagues that he had transmitted his resignation to President Fallieries, whereupon the ministers resigned in a body.

The resignation of Premier Sarrien and the reorganization of the French cabinet have caused a feeling of apprehension at the vatican, where it is feared the conflict between the church and state in France will become more bitter if Clemenceau assumes the premiership.

The session lasted only 20 minutes after M. Sarrien had submitted the text of his letter to M. Fallieres, in which he expressed deep regret at the fact that the state of his health compelled him to retire and thereby raise new difficulties at a moment "when the Republican party should be united and strong to meet the attacks being organized against it."

Foreign Minister Bourgeres wrote a collective letter which all present signed, joining their resignations, to take effect with that of their chief

The Daily Blaze.

Altoona, Pa., Oct. 19.—Fire started today in the ninth story furniture building of Oliver Rothert, and before it was brought under control property to the amount of nearly half a million dollars was destroyed. The Rothert building and the new theatre of I. C. Mishlot were entirely destroyed and the building of the Order of Elks, which had not yet been completed, was badly damaged. The Altoona Trust company and the office of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, which are on the opposite side of the street, are damaged by fire and water.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 19.—A boarding house, located at Twelfth street and Third avenue, was destroyed by fire between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning. Between 11 and 15 lives were lost. Up to 9 o'clock 10 charred bodies had been recovered from the ruins of Mrs. Moody's boarding house. Four others were said to be missing at that hour and the search was still in progress.

San Francisco, Oct. 19.—Fire last night in the freight buildings of the Southern Pacific railway, in the Berry street district, caused $200,000 damage. Surrounding property was saved by the fire department. Four tracks full of freight cars were consumed. It is thought most of the cars were empty.

Victims of Juggernaut.

Branchville, N. J., Oct. 19.—Mrs. Henry Kays was killed by an auto mobile yesterday near here, in the Sussex county hills. She was driving a wagon along a narrow road and in the vehicle with her was a baby. An automobile driven by Frank Allen of Bernardsville met the wagon on a sharp turn in the road. Neither Allen nor Mrs. Kays saw the other until each had started to turn the bend in the road. Each tried to avoid the other, but the road was too narrow and the distance too short and the automobile hit the wagon, the woman and child being thrown out of the wagon and the former's neck broken. Mr. Allen, thinking Mrs. Kays was only unconscious, brought her and the baby in his machine to Branchville, where a druggist who was appealed to for aid pronounced the woman dead.

Manitoba Christian Endeavorers.

Winnipeg, Oct. 19.—From numerous points both within and without the provincial boundary lines delegates arrived in Winnipeg today to attend the fifteth annual convention of the Manitoba Christian Endeavor society. The arriving visitors were met by members of the reception committee and escorted to convention headquarters at the Congregational church. The opening exercises take place tonight, with addresses of welcome by R. S. McKenzie of Portage la Prairie. The business of the convention will be taken up tomorrow morning and the proceedings will last until Thursday.

Negro Assaulter Hangs.

Bennettsville, S. C., Oct. 19.—Richard Dargan, a negro convicted of criminal assault, was hanged here today. Dargan's victim was a Mrs. Patterson, whom the negro attacked one night at her home in the country near here. The woman recognized her assailant, and he was arrested the day following the crime, brought to this place, given a speedy trial and sentenced to death.

Chess by Wire.

Winnipeg, Oct. 19.—The Winnipeg Chess club defeated Montreal in the match by wire yesterday by a score of 6½ to 2½.

YEARS LAND SALES

Provincial Government is Not Wholly Landless

APPLICATIONS ARE MANY

Approval of Department Given For Taking Up of 15,658 Acres in Kootenay---Only Begun.

It has been so often asserted in the press and on the platform that all the public land in Kootenay has been given away to railway corporations, that the public may be surprised to learn the extent of the land still in possession of the government and available for settlement.

For assessment purposes the year extends from November to October. Applications to purchase land during 1905 were very few, and of those made in 1906 only a comparatively small proportion have reached the stage at which the approval of the department of lands and works may be obtained.

Of the great number of applications made during the spring and summer of the current year the great majority will figure in next year's returns.

During the year closing on October 1 last, 85 applications have been approved. These involve 15,658 acres of land, or about 25 square miles.

proved applications will be more than

Commissioner Renwick is of the opinion that next year's returns of applications those for the year just closed.

Applications lately received covering one block of land between the Pend d'Orielle river and the international boundary line involve 8800 acres, or 13¾ square miles.

The movement indicates not only increasing revenue to the provincial government, but also a steady growth of actual settlement on the land.

STANDARD OIL GUILTY.

Jury Finds Conspiracy in Restraint of Trade.

Findlay, Ohio, Oct. 19.—After deliberating 32 hours the jury in the case of the State of Ohio against the Standard Oil company of Ohio returned a verdict of guilty on the charge of conspiracy against trade in violation of the Valentine anti-trust law.

The verdict was rendered at 4:35 o'clock this morning, the jury having announced its readiness to report at exactly 4 o'clock. The court and attorneys arrived in half an hour, when the verdict was rendered, as follows:

"We, the jury in this case, find the defendant guilty in the manner and form as the defendant stands charged on the information."

Attorney Troup, for the defendant, said he wished to make a motion for a new trial of the case. Judge Ganker assured him that all such motions would be entertained as a matter of course. The court at once adjourned.

The penalty is a fine of from $500 to $5000, which may be repeated for each day of the offence, or imprisonment from six to twelve months.

Ute Indians Make Raid.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—A despatch to the Chronicle from Omaha says

"An outbreak of the Ute Indians, who have been causing much trouble and worry in Wyoming all the summer, occurred near Gillette, Wyo., Wednesday night. In a battle between cowboys and Indians two of the former were killed and a number of Indians are supposed to have been injured. The battle occurred when the Indians attempted to raid a cattle camp and run off a lot of stock. The cowboys were in charge of the camp which the Indians tried to capture. The Indians secured the cattle and, killing a number of steers, took the meat to their camp.

No Color Line.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 19.—The supreme tribunal, Knights of Pythias, yesterday handed down a decision annulling the action of Grand Chancellor W. L. Ramsdell of Massachusetts in directing the expulsion of a member from Freedom lodge, Worcester, Mass., on the charge of having negro blood in his veins. The case was remanded for trial on its merits in the grand lodge of Massachusetts.

Cuba Cut Off.

New York, Oct. 19.—Up to 9 o'clock this morning Havana was still cut off from the rest of the world so far as cable communication was concerned. No word had been received from the Cuban capital since midnight Wednesday, when a severe storm was raging. Accounts which are being received from Florida indicate that the hurricane was furious along the southeast coast of Florida and reports of serious damage are apprehended when communication is restored.

HONOR GEORGE WASHINGTON.

Memorial Arch Dedicated by Daughters of the Revolution.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 19.—A handsome memorial arch to General George Washington was presented to the city of Cambridge today by the Massachusetts, society, Daughters of the Revolution. The arch is situated at the head of Cambridge Common, near the spot where Washington took command of the Continental army, and the exercises of dedication took place in the historic old Christ church, nearby, a place where Washington once worshipped. Bishop Lawrence made the opening prayer and there was a greeting by Governor Guild, and an address by Hon. Herbert Parker of Worcester. The presentation of the gateway to Cambridge was made by Mrs. F. Adelaide Ingraham of New York, president of the general society, and Mayor Charles F. Thurston accepted it in behalf of the city.

The Cambridge Arch, as the memorial gateway is to be known, is of Milford pink granite. Two massive posts, eight feet wide, form the gateway, which is seven and one-half feet wide. In the solid walls extending on either side of the gateway, have been set bronze tablets, one of which bears the inscription: "Near this place, on July 3, 1775, George Washington took command of the American army." The other tablet reads: "Dedicated October 19, 1906, by the General Society, Daughters of the Revolution."

Doctors in Conclave.

Calgary, Alta., Oct. 19.—There is being held in Calgary this week, opening this morning, a council of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Alberta. This includes elected representatives of the seven districts into which Alberta is divided for medical purposes. The meeting began on Thanksgiving day. The sessions are being held in the Herald block. The following doctors comprise the council: R. G. Brett, Banff; J. D. Lafferty, Calgary; G. A. Kennedy, Macleod; Dr. Newburn, Lethbridge; Dr. Braithwaite, Edmonton; Dr. Hobson, Strathcona; Dr. Simpson, Wetaskiwin. The doctors will be in session for at least three days, as there is much routine business to transact. A protest against Dr. Braithwaite's election as a member of the council has been lodged by Dr. Clendenning, of Edmonton, who claims it was illegal.

Western Union Intact.

New York, Oct. 19.—The Western Union Telegraph company announces that its cables to Havana are intact and that communication with its offices had been had, but no details as to any storm damage has been received. The opinion is expressed that no great damage has occurred or information to that effect would have been forthcoming. A man who arrived this morning at Fort Pirate, 150 miles north of Miami, Fla., says there has been great damage to houses and buildings.

Italians Versus Hebrews.

Toronto, Oct. 19.—Crowds of Italians and Jews, excited over an encounter between an elderly Hebrew and three young Italian laborers, caused a big street fight yesterday in which revolvers and knives were used. Dominico Trivari was shot in the hip by Joseph Gurofsky and in a hurried flight out of reach of the weapon plunged through the plate glass door of Nicholetti's grocery store, cutting himself severely. He may die.

Shooting Accident.

Metcalfe, Ont., Oct. 19.—Harry Cummings, a Barnardo Home boy, accidentally shot and killed himself near here yesterday afternoon. He had gone hunting with two companions, and game being scarce, they started firing at a mark. The battle took place along the banks of Credit river, the attacking party comprising the infantry of Toronto and a few cavalry squadrons, all of whom attempted to cross the river by means of a brilliant flanking movement. The Queen's Own of Toronto forded the river and came on the defending troops at the side. Their opponents were the Dufferin Rifles of Brantford, who were greatly outnumbered and who were driven back after a gallant stand. Lord Aylmer, inspector general, was present and gave the decision.

WOMAN IN THE CASE.

Dowie's Downfall Attributed to Extravagance of His Wife.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—"A woman's ambition caused the downfall of John Alexander Dowie, and it does not excuse him in the least that it was his wife and not any of the younger women in his entourage, who entertained the ambition that led to his undoing and all the woes of Zion," said Wilbur Glenn Voliva in a sermon at Central tabernacle, Michigan avenue and Sixteenth street.

"I intend to make revelations that will astound many persons in Zion as well as out of it. I will show that Dowie's downfall was due primarily to the fact that he allowed his wife to rule him—'boss' him, as the phrase goes—in his later years, and that his mental and physical decline began at the time when he first submitted openly to his wife's sway—the time when he ordained her an elder and an overseer of the church, and at her command wrote checks at the rate of seven a day, which aggregated $69,000 in nine months."

With this forecast of new disclosures affecting the affairs of Zion City, the successor of Dowie gave a promise to the 500 followers who heard him, that the unwritten history of Dowie's rule would be given to the public next Saturday in the form of an article to be entitled, "Let all the truth be told."

Signals of Distress.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 19.—A despatch to the Journal from South Haven, Mich., says the passenger steamer City of Kalamazoo has just been signalled off that port in distress. She is drifting rapidly and may go on the beach The steamer Southam is being made ready to go to the assistance of the disabled boat.

CHEATING THE GALLOWS

Convicted Murderess Shows No Apparent Concern That Today Was Fixed for Her Execution.

Stockton, Cal., Oct. 19.—This was a memorable date in the career of Mrs. Emma Le Doux, convicted murderess, though neither by word or action did the woman indicate that the day was of any especial interest or importance so far as she was concerned. If the sentence of the court in her case had been carried out she would today have mounted the scaffold in San Quentin prison and paid the penalty of death for one of the most diabolical crimes committed in California in recent years. As the case now stands, however, the woman probably has many days of life before her. Through an appeal to the higher courts it is assured that the final end cannot be reached for a long time to come. Meanwhile, the woman, though under sentence of death, has made a display of nerve and self-control that has been the talk of the prison attendants and created great interest among criminologists, physicians and others' whose attention has been attracted to the case.

The crime of Mrs. Le Doux was the killing of A. N. McVicar, who claimed to be her rightful husband, by administering morphine after he had been drinking heavily. She enticed him away from Jamestown, where he had been working, and is believed to have made an attempt in San Francisco to end his life. On the evening of March 24 the body of McVicar was found crushed into a trunk left on the platform of the Southern Pacific depot in this city. The stench attracted the attention of the railroad men after the trunk was placed in the baggage room. An investigation disclosed the remains and the following day an express man gave a description of the woman who employed him to move the trunk to the depot. She was Mrs. Le Doux, who had bigamously married Eugene Le Doux of Jackson, Amador county.

The woman was traced to San Francisco and on March 26 was arrested and brought to Stockton. She admitted buying the trunk and rope used around the receptacle, but claimed that a mysterious "Joe Miller" had at the point of a pistol compelled her to purchase the trunk and rope after he and McVicar had returned from a drinking bout. The authorities proved Miller to be a myth. The trial lasted 15 days and proved most sensational throughout.

Slashed With a Knife.

Winnipeg, Oct. 19.—Louis Benwa, a cook in a restaurant, was badly slashed with a knife in a fight with a negro last night.

FOUND DROWNED

Joseph Savell Died in Few Inches of Water

WAS STUNNED BY FALL

Body of Deck Hand of Kokanee, Late of Manchester, Eng., Found in Cottonwood Creek Flume.

Joseph Savell of Manchester, Eng., was found dead at 7:30 this morning in the flume through which Cottonwood creek crosses the C. P. R. yards. The discovery was made by employees in the C. P. R. machine shops.

Coroner Dr. Arthur and Chief Jarvis were immediately notified and hurried to the scene. There were no marks of violence on the body. The deceased had evidently missed his footing on the little bridge that crosses the flume towards the stables of W. P. Tierney & Co. He had fallen on his head and been stunned. He lay face downwards in several inches of water and drowned.

Joseph Savell left Manchester in June last, sailing to Canada on the steamship Victorian. After working for a while at Calgary and around Okotoks he came on to Nelson. For the last month he has been employed on the steamer Kokanee.

Last evening he cashed a cheque for $12 and spent the evening with companions at the No Place inn. He left there alone shortly after 11 o'clock, and probably started for the steamer, which lay at the C. P. R. wharf.

Savell was a young man, between 25 and 30 years of age. As far as known here he was unmarried. The only known relative is a brother in Manchester, who has been informed of his death.

When he was found this morning he had $3.95 in his pockets. He has also a month's wages due from the C. P. R. company.

As the cause of death was obvious and there was nothing in the circumstances to suggest foul play. Dr. Arthur decided that neither a post mortem examination nor inquest was necessary.

The body has been removed to the Standard Furniture company's undertaking parlors.

United Thanksgiving Service.

The Thanksgiving service, representing the united congregations of the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches of this city, and held in the Methodist church, was in every way a marked success. There was a very large attendance and the whole service was marked by a heartiness that spoke of the good will that characterized the occasion.

The service was conducted by the pastors of the churches represented. Rev. Shanks preached the sermon, taking as his text the passage from Paul's Epistle to the Ephesians, chapter 5, verse 20: "Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ."

The choir of the Methodist church rendered the anthem, "And He Shall Reign." The male quartette also sang a selection.

A special appeal was made for a thank offering for the Children's Home. The response was most pleasing, the amount contributed reaching the record sum of $29.40.

A Cloud of Witnesses.

Montreal, Oct. 19.—Before the largest crowd that has as yet graced University field, in the local opening of the intercollegiate football series, McGill scored a sweeping victory over Ottawa college yesterday afternoon.

The local students showed superiority at every point with perhaps the exception of scrimmage, and when the final tally had been registered the score stood: McGill, 27; Ottawa college, 1. Four thousand witnessed the contest.

STATESMANSHIP.

As was expected and pedicted the action of Premier McBride in his relation to the conference of provincial premiers has staggered the opposition party press, who are now apparently as disgruntled as it is possible to become. While it not possible to conceive anything that Mr. McBride might have done, or left undone, that would be in the least degree acceptable to the grit organs it is somewhat humiliating to find them incapable of appreciating a statesmanlike act on the part of the premier. As it has not been possible for all the readers of The Canadian to carefully follow the history of the conference of premiers a brief review of the situation will be in order at this time.

The question of better terms has during the past few years become a burning one in British Columbia. This province pays tribute to the East both in customs duties, in transportation charges and in the purchase of the necessities of life, the chief of which are the products of the East, more than fourfold greater than any other of the provinces. We export little and must consequently pay out to the East for all that we require. In the distribution of federal subsidies we fall far short of the proportion to which we are entitled even if reckoned upon a per capita basis. But the singular expensive administration, necessary to keep British Columbia progressively a part of the Dominion is, because of the great distances, physical features sparse settlement of this province, a serious handicap with the per capita grant that has been hitherto received.

So strongly has this been felt that when it was proposed to give cabinet representation in the federal government to this province and the retirement of Hon. W. Templeman from the senate was arranged with a view to entering the cabinet, the only plea upon which he essayed to appeal to the electors of Victoria was upon that of better terms.

So pertinent was this plea and so faithful the promises of the suppliant for votes that a large number of lifelong Conservatives in Victoria openly advocated the unopposed return of Mr. Templeman, and he was consequently elected. Since that triumph for the Liberal party we have heard no more about better terms from the followers of Sir Wilfrid.

The creation of two new provinces in the Northwest by the Laurier government and the necessity of adjusting their several relations to the federal grants, suggested the advisability of holding a conference of the premiers of the old and the new provinces, with a view to a readjustment of the whole system of federal disbursements to the provinces.

This conference has just closed. It was naively proposed at first that Premier McBride should take with him Mr. McDonald, leader of the opposition, to have equal status in the conference with himself. The object of this proposal must have been apparent to everyone. It was too transparent to have ever been taken seriously. With a hardshell and unscrupulous opposition such as we have in British Columbia there could have resulted only wreck of the stability of the government and the consequent turning back of the dial of time into the state of confusion in which the McBride government found it four years ago. To suggest that Mr. McDonald would have sought to help Premier McBride is to expect the impossible and to express the established conviction that he would have used his presence in the conference to embarrass the premier in every possibly way is only to give voice to the conviction which has been forced upon the country by the conduct of the opposition leader.

Mr. McBride therefore went to the conference with two easily comprehended propositions. The first one was a businesslike request for a graduated grant per capita to decrease with the increase of population.

This was promptly negatived, though the reasons for the negation are not stated as yet. If they are good ones they should be forthcoming. When that proposition was negatived the premier very properly asked that the singular needs of British Columbia constitute the subject matter of arbitrament before an impartial tribunal. In any difference of opinion, the man who offers to submit his case to impartial arbitration must have supreme confidence in his case, as well as be seized with a sense of justice and a spirit of willingness to be convinced. All but one of the other premiers voted to negative this proposal also, though as in other cases the reasons are not given. It must be apparent therefore that the Eastern premiers, acting under the guiding spirit of their Liberal bosses had their minds made up to force British Columbia to take what they were willing to dole out without respect to the peculiar claims of British Columbia.

Stripped of all its gilding and toggery this is the naked situation and when Premier McBride saw this he wisely refused to further sit in the conference. Of course his action in withdrawing is condemned. If he had sat in the conference and allowed the distinctive claims of British Columbia to have been comprised he would have been stigmatized as weak-kneed, incapable, unfit to lead and a thousand other things, by the opposition press. Now that he withdrew he is called a "politician and not a statesman." That his action was tactful and statesmanlike is easily proved.

We shall deal briefly with the criticisms of the morning paper, which asks: "Will it be contended for one moment that had the Conservatives been in office Premier McBride would have taken the high-handed course he did? As a matter of fact it is extremely improbable that such a conference would ever have been held had a Conservative government been in office at Ottawa."

No! Certainly not. If a Conservative government had been in power at Ottawa there never would have been any need for the premier to withdraw. He would have received justice. Do we not know that it was the Conservative government of which Sir John A. McDonald was the head, that forced the East to comply with the terms under which British Columbia entered confederation? Then, as now, the Liberals did not believe in the West and begrudged it every cent it got. The recent conference shows that neither the spirit or policy of the Liberal party has changed as regards the West and particularly British Columbia. No further argument is necessary.

The News approvingly quoted the Winnipeg Tribune and says Mr. McBride's action may have been good politics but was not good statesmanship. We urge the contrary. Premier McBride went with a proposition which was refused. He offered an alternative which was also negatived. He then, as statesmen have done in every age, said, in effect: "Gentlemen, this is my case. I shall go back to my constituents and report to my executive. I stand alone. If they do not support me I shall fall but in any case I take the responsibility." A politician would have said: "If I cannot get what I want I will take what I can get whether it is just or unjust." He would then have come to his executive and whined and whimpered and excused himself for his lack of backbone and the country would have been the loser.

As it is the country has not lost but gained, with the case still to go to the higher courts if the country says so. We submit that this was the act of a statesman and not that of a truckling, poltroon politician such as, the Liberal papers themselves being witness, would have been the course pursued by any member of the opposition.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The Ottawa Journal of the 15th inst. says: "The march of the provincial premiers upon the Dominion treasury has won a commanding position despite the excess of zeal on the part of the British Columbia forces, which would apparently carry off the whole treasury if it were not ensconced in a famous burglar-proof vault. The present likelihood is that the other eight provinces will get all they asked for, while British Columbia will get a million more than her comparative proportion, although many millions less than she demanded."

The Ottawa correspondent of a coast paper comments as follows: "This paragraph is hardly fair to Premier McBride. After he had flatly refused the sum of a hundred thousand dollars annually for ten years he expressed a willingness to consider any reasonable amendment to his sliding scale proposition. The conference, however, would make him no offer, whereupon he stepped out of the conference for good.

"Later in the day Premier McBride sent a letter to Chairman Gouin briefly explaining his position once more, and again expressing his willingness to consider any reasonable amendment to the sliding scale basis. He made it clear, however, that as the reasons which, it had been conceded, entitled British Columbia to special consideration must always continue, a flat rate offer could not be entertained by the province."

The board of management of the Nanaimo Athletic club, by a unanimous vote at their last meeting, decided to allow no more professional prize fights or fisticuff bouts under the patronage of the club. The reasons given were that a large number of the supporters of the club do not approve of these bouts and a growing sense of the unfitness of such exhibitions generally led to the conclusion that it does not pay to encourage this sort of brutality.

Yes! There was a little snow on the mountains last night, but why publish the matter? It might be misunderstood in Burma and other places where they never have snow.

It is always good politics for a newspaper when it dare have no particular convictions of its own to take refuge behind the convictions of some other paper.

GREATER BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Bank Manager Speaks on Cheap Labor and Kindred Questions.

At a luncheon of the Canadian club, Vancouver, Tuesday, Mr. Byron E. Walker, general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, among stirring eulogies of British Columbia, spoke on the question of cheap labor as follows:

"In the matters that require the initial efforts of man British Columbia stands paramount. Cheap labor was an absolute necessity. British Columbia today was a most expensive country to live in and the cost of labor was the basic fact on which that conclusion rested. He thought that the use of cheap labor for canning, road making, fruit raising was only making British Columbia a better home for the high-priced labor of the future. He understood that thousands of dollars' worth of fruit had gone to absolute loss this year because labor could not be obtained to handle it. Then again this section looked for trade to the Far East. Would the Orientals forever go on accepting the insults that were being offered them? Sometime they would revolt and then to say "stay out" would be the same as for England to say today that a Frenchman should not cross the Straits of Dover. He called special attention to the fact that British Columbia's labor troubles were being discussed outside of the province. Much more than people here wotted of. Capitalists were paying attention to the effect.

British Columbia was in the infancy of her development and her infancy came at a happy stage in the electrical era. She had an opportunity to start on a better way of exploiting the things of which she had a practical monopoly and the department of the interior might well pay more attention to this section of the Dominion. He called attention to the wisdom of paying attention to the tendency of people who had grown rich in the wheat belt to seek a more congenial clime. Toronto had grown great through making herself a pleasant home place for those who had made their money elsewhere. He could not imagine any province in Canada that had any more right to feel justly proud than British Columbia. He hoped that as the people went on to create the greater British Columbia, they would create in the minds of every British Columbian born child a pride in his national province, and in this connection he emphasized the need of a provincial archivist, such as they had in Ontario."

THE LADY POINTS THE MORAL.

Experiences of a Prominent M. P. in Buying Clothes.

T. P. O'Connor, M. P., who is very fond of experiments and chances of all kinds, entered a small London draper's shop in Chelsea and ordered himself a suit of tweed. The result was a suit with a delicate feminine touch everywhere perceptible — particularly in a low-necked coat. The only person benefited by the transaction was the draper. And his wife, who tells the tale, also points the moral, "Misfits and cheap materials are always uneconomical."

With excellent materials, chosen with taste, the Semi-ready tailoring has captured the fancy of men who a few years ago, would have scoffed at the idea of wearing a suit of clothes made the way one formerly had shoes custom-made. One can buy five widths in shoes and 175 styles—all fitting better than custom-made shoes, and the Semi-ready tailoring idea is divided into physique types, sub-divided into forms, and again into sizes.

J. A. Gilker, the pioneer merchant of Nelson, has secured the agency for the incomparable Semi-ready tailoring.

MUSICAL COMEDY LISTED.

Claude Amsden's Company Will Play Three Nights in Nelson.

The next attraction at Sherman's opera house and one that promises to be the most popular, is Claude Amsden's Musical Comedy company, who are booked for three nights, commencing next Monday, October 22. Mr. Claude Amsden needs no introduction to Nelson audiences, neither does Miss Hazel Davenport, after having made such a decided hit in "El Capitan," when produced here by the Roscians. Mr. F. L. Hunt, who is Mr. Amsden's advance representative, is registered at the Hume, and who has today started the listing and met with great success, when seen by a representative of The Canadian, stated that the company had broken all previous records in the new Lyric theatre at Calgary, and had broken seven records between that place and Port Arthur. This in itself speaks volumes for the company and Nelson theatre goers can look forward with pleasure to the opening of Mr. Amsden's company in Nelson. The seat sale opens at Rutherford's on Friday morning at 10 o'clock. In the meantime persons desiring to secure seat blocks should not fail to communicate with Mr. Hunt.

LOCAL AND PROVINCIAL

Miss M. Bird of Spokane is visiting relatives in Nelson.

Born, on Thursday, to the wife of Homer Moore, Carbonate street, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. John Teague are expected to arrive from the coast this evening.

Lead declined one point in London today. Other metal quotations are stationary and high.

Thanksgiving day was very quietly observed in Nelson yesterday. There was no docket in the city police court this morning.

The Flannel dance given in the armouries last night by the Nelson Cricket club was successful, socially and financially.

The tenders for Nelson's new courthouse were due in Victoria on Monday, October 15. Presumably "they have been opened." No word has yet been received as to the awarding of a contract.

Miss Winifred Crowley, who has been scoring brilliant successes everywhere, will appear in Nelson with the Roscians in Agricultural hall on the evening of October 31, in both performances, "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pinafore."

The school sports held yesterday were well up to the standard of former years. George Gore won the senior championship after a close contest with W. Browne. The High school boys again won their relay race, but the public school girls were victorious in their event.

Mr. Robert C. Buchanan of Rossland and Miss Ida B. Hill of Eureka, Nova Scotia, were married by Rev. R. Newton Powell at the Methodist parsonage last Wednesday morning. Mrs. Buchanan has recently arrived from her home in Nova Scotia, and was joined in this city by Mr. Buchanan. Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan are spending a few days in the city.

The Association football team of the Churchmen's club won from a scratch team yesterday by 3 goals to none. The scratch team was weakened by the defection of several of the best players who had promised to assist. Their goalkeeper, picked up on the field, had no experience at all in the position. The churchmen played a good game. W. F. Mawdesley refereed to the general satisfaction.

William Irvine, grand chancellor of Knights of Pythias of British Columbia, received a wire from New Orleans this morning informing him that Noble Binns of Trail, B. C., who is the supreme lodge representative from British Columbia, had been elected to the office of S. M. at A. This is the first time British Columbia has had an office in the supreme lodge, and it will be highly appreciated by all Knights of Pythias in this province.

Mining Records.

Two locations and five certificates of assessment work were recorded in the Nelson mining office today.

James Hickey recorded the Lucky Boy, located October 5, on Wild Horse creek.

Certificates of assessment work were issued to J. E. Bigham, on the Black Jack, Old Timer, Uncle Sam and the Black Prince; to W. Moore, agent for A. Moore, on the Boston.

Westminster Glee and Concert Singers

The advent of Mr. Edward Branscombe's Westminster Glee and Concert Party from London, who are announced to appear at Sherman's opera house on Friday evening next, have the distinct fascination of presenting to us a concert of a nature somewhat out of the ordinary rut, at the same time possessing the charm of the highest plane of artistic excellence.

The salient features in their programme is the introduction of unaccompanied vocalization in the form of a charming admixture of the old songs, madrigals, glees and catches of yore, with examples of the more melodious of the modern school of solo ballad. In short, a popular programme, strictly in the sense of being just what the people love. It is moreover promised from artists (men and boys) of high training and intelligence, who have made a life study of the art of part singing.

The party consists of four solo soprano boys, six gentlemen, supported by the English contralto, Mme. Marie Hooten, and the English tenor, Mr. Edward Branscombe. A novelty in the form of a male alto solo is also promised.
