DEANE WAS TIRED

Spends Holiday Studying Labor's Cause.

IS PLOTTING SOCIALISM

Hedley Gazette Puts Editor of Daily News Just Where He Properly Belongs.

The Nelson News, published by F. J. Deane, contains this somewhat remarkable paragrah, says the Hedley Gazette:

"Mr. F. J. Deane, proprietor of the Daily News, returned last night from an extended trip to various British Columbia points. He has been absent from the city for six weeks, and during that time has visited the towns and cities along the main line of the C. P. R., the lower mainland, island and Similkameen. Apart from the principal motive of having a holiday, Mr. Deane's idea was to make a careful study of labor conditions, so as to form a just estimate of the causes which led to the recent agitation for admission of free Chinese labor. For that purpose he went to the Similkameen, where he could find fruit growers who are already operating on a large scale and learn their views at first hand. Last night, however, being tired after his return journey, he was not prepared to speak of the conclusions he had formed. Today he will throw his holidap habits aside and settle down to work again."

The above paragraph, as it appeared in the News, was honored with a three-decker heading which informed its readers that the "labor case" had been "studied," and that "Mr. F. J. Deane had returned from an extenied trip" and was "Armed with the views of Similkameen fruit growers."

Elsewhere on the same page of the News is the important announcement that

"Ere he (Mr. Macdonald) returns, he hopes to make a trip through the Similkameen and become thoroughly acquainted with the political situation in Mr. Shatford's district. The Similkameen is destined to see an interesting fight during the coming election, for, while the present member, Mr. Shatford, is universally respected, his course in connection with severel questions which came before the house during the last session at Victoria was not altogether pleasing to his constituents. It is early yet to say who his opponent may be; the Liberals of the Similkameen have not yet made any announcement on that subject. Nevertheless, they are certain to put up an earnest and effective fight."

Now what is all this about? In the Similkameen riding we were not aware that there was any labor question to be studied except the scarcity of labor, below Keremeos, on the V., V. & E. grades, which prevented the employment of sufficient force to give us railway connection in the time promised by the railway officials 12 months ago. It looks very much as if this labor question is a flimsy and exceedingly silly pretext of Mr. Deane to thrust himself into public notice and endeavor to establish some sort of connection between the Similkameen riding and himself; for what are the facts? A farmers' institute meeting or something of that kind over about Kaslo expresses doubts as to the wisdom of keeping out Chinese by the imposition of a $500 head tax and passes a resolution that was forwarded to Ottawa asking that said tax be withdrawn.

Now if Mr. Deane wanted to find out any more about this thing, or to "study the case," as his paper puts it, why run away from the Kootenay; and, mirabile dictu! why shin for the Similkameen, which lies in the very oposite direction from where this little Asiatic plague spot had again broken out? It was exceedingly good of him to appoint himself a royal commission of one to study, meditate and ponder, and the Similkameen will modestly close its eyes for the doffing of those "holiday habits," that it may learn the result of the ponderings.

But there are other little evidences to be recalled illustrative of not so much Mr. Deane's kindly interest in the Similkameen and in the cause of labor as his interest in the interests of Mr. Deane in said Similkameen. A few months ago, he was furnishing information to the Similkameen Star intended to reflect upon L. W. Shatford, M. P. P., in reference to his position on the eight-hour day for smelters, last session, but was brought up with a round turn by Mr. H. A. Turner, who was in a position to show that Mr. Deane's statements on that matter were very wide of the truth. Mr. Deane poses as one of the pillars of the Liberal party in the interior, as well as finding time for a little grand stand play by way of coquetting with the Socialists. But where was he during the session of 1905? During all that session he was in the press gallery of the house, slang whanging the Socialists whom he is now trying to toady, and sending his paper in Nelson, garbled reports of the doings of the house, that were disgraceful in the violence of the partizanship which they displayed. In that session he saw the division on the eight-hour smelter bill, which is recorded on page 30 of "votes and proceedings," and which shows that the member for Similkameen who was present when the vote was taken, voted for the bill, while J. A. Macdonald, leader of the Liberal opposition, and J. R. Brown, the Liberal representative from the Greenwood riding, where smelter men were working 12 hours a day, voted against the bill, without a word of protest or reproof from Mr. Deane. No thanks to Mr. Macdonald or Mr. Brown for voting for the bill in the session of 1906, for in the interval between the sessions of 1905 and 1906 the question of an eight-hour day in the Boundary smelters was settled by mutual arrangement between the smelters and their employees and an eight-hour day granted quite independent of Mr. Macdonald.

It is currently reported that Mr. Deane is plotting to induce the Socialists to pledge their support to his own candidature as Liberal nominee in the Similkameen. The Socialists and labor voters, however, have not forgotten how he boasted on the platform in Hedley, in the federal campaign in 1904, that Duncan Ross had been sailing into the Socialists and handling them without gloves, and they are able to take his measure now, when he comes begging for their support after having played them false in the past when it suited his purpose to do so.

And pray, who will believe that F. J. Deane would risk 15 cents of his own money to lead a forlorn hope in the Similkameen? Where would the campaign funds come from but the Grand Trunk Pacific, whose agent, Morse, tried to hold up this province for 15,000 acres per mile, but was turned down by the McBride government, who refused to stand for it? The Similkameen knows something of the advantage of having a representative upon whom the big corporations have no strings, and they are not disposed to throw away that advantage.

EVA REPORTS PROGRESS

Big Profits From Low Grade Ore—Cost of Mining Minimized—100,000 Tons in Sight.

The annual general meeting of the shareholders of the Eva Mines, Limited, was held in the company's office in Nelson yesterday afternoon. The board of directors was re-elected, as follows: W. W. Beer, Dr. Arthur, Dr. Hall, A. L. McCulloch, J. L. Stocks and W. C. Bayley.

Manager Gracey's report showed profits for the year's operations of $17,433.14, an average of $1.57 per ton. The ore's average value is $5.07 per ton, and the total cost of mining and treatment $3.50.

Of the profits $12,975.03 have been devoted to new development work, leaving a balance of $4458.11.

Of the prospects of the mine the manager says:

"It is a difficult matter to make close estimates of our present ore reserves because several of the large masses are not yet completely blocked out by crosscuts and raises. However, it is safe to say, after making due allowance for this, there are considerably over 100,000 tons which little more work will make available. A complete system of crosscuts and raises from our present levels should add to the reserves a very large tonnage and this necessary work should be now under way. Were we operating on a scale commensurate with the size and value of our ore bodies, the results would be of a much more satisfactory nature, and I hope this will be a possibility of the near future."

Treat for Music Lovers.

Lovers of music are reminded to keep the evening of October 12 free, that they may hear the Philharmonic Concert company and orchestra, wrich will appear on that date under the auspices of the 20,000 club.

Protecting Timber.

With the summer season now closed the duties of the fire wardens have been greatly lessened, as all danger from forest fires is practically eliminated. Several changes in the system of fire protection will be made next year, and both the provincial and Dominion governments will probably act on some of the resolutions which were passed at the Canadian forestry convention last week. Every foreman and scaler will be appointed a fire ranger at a salary of $5 a day.

It is not probable, however, that the government will prohibit the location of settlers in the forests, as it is not considered to be fair to the settlers.

BRUCE MUST STAND TRIAL FOR ASSAULT

Prisoner Acquitted of Murder Yesterday, Indicted Again Today on Lesser Charge---True Bill Returned---Civil Case for Damages From Forest Fires.

Before the court opened Laughlin Bruce was brought before his lordship charged with aggavated assault. He pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by a jury.

The promptness of British justice and the efficiency of the administration of the law in British Columbia were strikingly exemplified in today's session of the supreme court in Nelson.

Laughlin Bruce was tried yesterday on a charge of murder and acquitted by direction of the court, because the medical evidence as to the direct cause of the death of Hugh McGarvey left a doubt which, however slight, was fatal to the crown's case in the eyes of British law, as to the necessary connection between the assault upon him by Bruce and the attack of pneumonia.

A charge of assault was at once preferred and submitted to the grand jury. A true bill was returned this afternoon and Bruce will be tried on the less serious charge on Friday of next week.

This morning's session of the court was taken up with the opening of a trial of a nature which is of special interest in Kootenay, as it may have an important bearing on a question which has been discussed by boards of trade for many years past.

The case of the Fernie Lumber company against the Crow's Nest Pass Southern Railway company, J. W. Stewart & Co., and R. Quaife, is for damages caused to the plaintiff's property by a forest fire.

The fire, which damaged the timber limits of the lumber company, originated, it is alleged, from the clearing operations on the right of way of the railway company. The contract for building the road had been let to J. W. Stewart & Co., a well known firm of railway contractors which has been concerned directly or indirectly in nearly every piece of railway construction in the province.

The clearing of the particular stretch of the right of way from which it is alleged the fires started, was sublet to one Robert Quaife, who, it is alleged, took no precautions to prevent the spread of fires.

Two other actions will follow, of the same kind and with the same defendants, but with different claimants. Quaife has entered no defence, has not in fact been served with notice of claim, as his whereabouts are unknown. The claimants profess indifference as to Quaife, relying upon the responsibility of the railway company and the original contractor.

The case is being tried by a special jury and six counsel are engaged.

The first case called this morning was that of the Fernie Lumber company against the Crow's Nest Southern Railway company, J. W. Stewart & Co., and Robert Quaife. E. P. Davis, K. C., and W. R. Ross, K. C., appeared for the plaintiffs; A. H. MacNeill, K. C., for the railway company; E. V. Bodwell, K. C., for Stewart & Co. With Mr. Bodwell were W. A. Macdonald, K. C., and L. P. Eckstein.

Mr. Bodwell moved to add to the statement of defence of the defendants, Stewart & Co., the allegation that Quaife was an independent contractor and that if fires were caused by his act, Stewart & Co. were not responsible for them. The motion was allowed.

The special jury list is: H. Amas, W. W. Beer, H. Bird, H. Byers, M. S. Davys, S. S. Fowler, E. F. Gigot, J. A. Gilker, W. G. Gillette, W. Irvine, P. Lamont, E. B. McDermid, T. G. Procter, H. Selous, J. Laing Stocks and J. H. Wallace.

Each side exhausted its challenges before the following were selected:

H. Bird, S. S. Fowler, M. S. Davys, J. H. Wallace, P. Lamont, E. F. Gigot, H. Byers and H. Amas. H. Bird was elected foreman and the jury was sworn.

E. P. Davis in opening expressed a fear that the case might be long on account of the number of witnesses. The action, he said, was for damages for spread of fire, negligently allowed by Quaife to escape from a right of way of the Crow's Nest Southern Railway company, the contract for the clearing of which was let to Stewart and sublet by him to Quaife.

The contracts expressly provided that the railway company's engineer, should supervise the work of clearing and both contractor and subcontractor were therefore servants of the comvany.

Mr. Davis then from a map explained to the jury the locality of the fire from which the action arose. He contended that the price of $65 an acre for which Quaife undertook to clear was inadequate to provide proper means and enough men to control the fire and prevent its escape.

Accordingly Quaife made no attempt at control, but set out his fires along 3000 or 4000 feet of the right of way at one time.

Mr. Davis contended that the only proper method of clearing was by gathering brush to the centre, leaving ample spacer as fire guards and burning only a little at a time. All these precautions were neglected by Quaife. Many complaints were made to Quaife on the subject without effect, and after the fires had been in progress for a week. from July 23, 1904, they broke from the right of way and spread, threatening three mills of the Cedar Valley, Elk, and Fernie Lumber companies. Then it became quiescent and remained so for a week, when it revived, and spread again, damaging the property of the Fernie Lumber company.

Examinations of officials of the company and of J. W. Stewart were then put in by Mr. Ross. They indicated that Alexander Lupfer, engineer of the railway company, did not at any time inspect Quaife's work of clearing the right of way. Quaife was paid directly by Stewart's manager. All communications claiming damages made upon the company were forwarded to Stewart.

Mr. MacNeill objected to any evidence as to subletting, but it was allowed to be read.

Mr. Bodwell thought Quaife's name should be dropped from the record, as he had not been served and was not represented, and evidence with regard to him should not be accepted. He further submitted that if Quaife should properly be a party, the trial should not go on.

His lordship—It doesn't affect the court.

Mr. Bodwell—I move that his name be struck out.

Mr. Davis—We do not care about Quaife.

His lordship, to Mr. Bodwell—You, as representing Stewart, have no status to object to Quaife's name appearing.

Mr. MacNeill—I object to the contract between Stewart and Quaife going as evidence against the railway company.

His lordship—Ruling reserved.

The evidence was then read.

The court then adjourned until 2 p. m., to resume the case at 3 p. m.

When the court resumed at 2 o'clock the members of the grand jury were in their places.

His lordship briefly addressed them on the new charge of assault preferred against Laughlin Bruce, explaining the reasons for the failure of the indictment for murder and recommitting him to the deliberations of the jury.

The jury were absent about 20 minutes and returned, reporting a true bill. Laughlin Bruce was conducted back to the dock and the grand jury was discharged.

Bruce then pleaded not guilty and Friday, October 12, was fixed as the date of his trial.

Two Freighters Wrecked.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 3.—A report was received here last night that a freight steamer foundered in the Gulf of Mexico during the hurricane. The report was made by members of the crew of the barkentine Jennie Hulbert, who say that they could not make out the freighter's name nor what was the matter with her, but that the crew went down with the steamer. The Jennie Hulbert was wrecked.

DEPARTMENT CARELESS

Overseas Limited Is Delayed Nine Hours Through Indifference of Postal Authorities.

Ottawa, Oct. 3.—The people of Canand have watched with much interest and a certain patriotic pride the race of the Canadian Pacific steamships and mail trains against time from Hongkong to Liverpool. Apart from the sporting instinct aroused by any trial of speed there was the knowledge that the feat being achieved was one of great service to the empire and that the eyes of the world were upon this exemplification of the progressive enterprise of a young country like Canada. That we should have the transportation facilities organized and under our control to transport the mails half way around the globe in competition with the most highly organized transportation companies in the world was a matter of legitimate pride. Apart from that it was one of the best advertisements that Canada has had.

What will be the chagrin of the people of Canada when they learn that this great effort on the part of the Canadian Pacific has possibly been defeated by the supineness or incapacity of the government postoffice department. The Overseas Mail train started for the Canadian government, which so signally failed to rise to the occasion.

Harold Jarvis Appears.

Harold Jarvis, accompanied by Mr. Graham, elocutionist, will appear in the Methodist church the evening of November 1.

ROUND THE BOUNDARY.

Fernie Coal Strike Affects Smelting Operations.

(Special to The Daily Canadian.)

Grand Forks, Oct. 3.—The coal miners' strike in East Kootenay is now being felt in the Boundary district. During the last few days the supply of coke to the Granby smelter has been reduced, and in consequence of this fact it has been found necessary to close down four furnaces at the big reduction works. It is reported that if the strike continues it will be only a matter of a week or two before the entire smelter will be idle. Of course, if arrangements for suplying coke can be made with the International Coal & Coke Co. at Coleman, Alta., and the strike does not extend to that camp the smelter may be kept going from that quarter, but the present outlook is anything but encouraging for the continuous running of the Granby smelter unless the coal miners' strike is ended.

As was predicted, a most sensational session of the city council was held last evening. The question before the council was whether the city should pay $525 for the fire team or not. Mayor Hutton strongly opposed the deal, but the majority of the council favored the purchase and passed a resolution to that effect, whereupon Mayor Hutton gave notice that it was his intention at the next meeting of the city council to veto the obnoxious resolution. A goodly number of citizens were present and considerable excitement prevailed.

The postmaster general will on the 12th instant award the contract for the carrying of the mails between Grand Forks and Franklin camp and intermediate points, and it is understood that the contract will call for the carrying of the mail from January 1 next.

The following are the receipts from the various district customs offices for the month of September, as received by R. R. Gilpin, chief collector at Grand Forks: Grand Forks, $2094.92; Greenwood, $4723.92; Phoenix, $2387; Midway, $1689.05; Sidley, $241; Cascade, $112.66; Keremeos, $58; Osoyoos, $3575; Carson, $30.51; total, $11,373.99.

MACHINERY ARRIVING

Allis-Chalmers-Bullock Company's Hydraulic Engineer in the City—Turbine Received.

Joseph Nezas, of Milwaukee, hydraulic construction engineer for the Allis-Chalmers-Bullock company, arrived in the city last night. The turbine was received this morning via the C. P. R.

Mr. Nezas is conferring this afternoon with H. C. Bullis and will visit the site of the plant tomorrow.

Seen this morning Mr. Nezas said that while he could not say definitely before looking into the situation, he thought that six weeks should be time enough for installation, but that much would depend upon the machinery and other facilities afforded. He added: "I can tell you much more definitely in a day or two."

TALK OF CHANGE

Possibly New Paper Established at Capital.

LUGHRIN THE OBSTACLE

Liberal Editor of Conservative Organ Unacceptible to the Victoria Populace.

(Special to The Daily Canadian.)

Victoria, Oct. 3.—There is some talk here of establishing another daily newspaper in Victoria to support the Conservative party. There is great dissatisfaction among the rank and file of the Conservative party because Mr. Chas. H. Lughrin has been appointed editor of the Colonist. Lughrin is known to be one of the most prominent and aggressive Liberals in the province.

Changes in the staff of the Colonist are coming with a startling frequency since the reportd sale of that paper to an unknown purchaser. Mr. C. L. Gordon, who on Monday was made night editor of the Colonist, returned to Vancouver yesterday night, having resigned his position.

The above facts are all the news that is available at the time of The Canadian going to press. The situation in Victoria has been somewhat puzzling to the friends of the Conservative party since the sale of the Colonist to its new owner. There are rumors of trouble in the camp at the capital city. Immediately upon the appointment of Mr. Lughrin as editor the Colonist changes its face and has not since that time been in any sense a truly Conservative paper.

It is believed here that Lughrin has a free hand in the matter of the editorship of the lifelong Conservative paper, but the recent announcement that he had a contract with the management of that paper, lasting over several years, has caused serious doubts to arise in the minds of stalwart friends of the Conservative party as to what the future policy of that paper is to be.

Mr. Lughrin is a clever writer, an able editor, and a man fitted by education and abilities to fill the chair of any editorial sanctum in Canada. He has, however, attached himself to the Liberal party and was one of the most prominent workers in the last candidacy of Hon. William Templeman.

The only reason that can be assigned for the appointment of Mr. Lughrin to the position of editor of the Colonist is the present scarcity of good editorial writers throughout the province. The province of British Columbia has its peculiarities and these cannot be fully and properly treated by a stranger. Mr. Lughrin-s appointment, while presenting several anomalies, is not after all one of the inexplicable things that occur in journalism.

Rayfond Lehr. the boy cornet virtuoso, who is a member of the Philharmonic Concert company of Chicago, is the youngest graduate of a conservatory of music in America or perhaps in the world, since he was only 12 years old when he took the highest fedal awarded to graduates of the famous Dana Musical institute of Warren, Ohio. After his graduation he took a post-graduate course with Jules Levy, the greatest cornetist of his time. The little man's technique and tone on the cornet are far beyond expectation. He plays the most difficult cornet solos with the greatest ease and his endurance, or as cornetists call it, his "lip," is marvelled at by the best musicians. Don't fail to hear him on October 12.

STATISTICS GONE MAD.

The Mail-Empire of Toronto has something to say anent the recent statistics of the labor departfent of the Canadian government and as these are of interest to the readers of The Canadian we reproduce the article in full. It says: "The new census of the Northwest has made an exposure of one of the numerous impostures practised under the regime of Mr. Clifford Sifton. Mr. Sifton was a great boaster. Owing to the excellence of our soil and our climate and to the provision that was made by the late government for the development of the West, we have had in recent years a very large immigration. Mr. Sifton has been in the habit of announcing that he did it all. The very moment the magic name of Sifton was connected with the interior department the immigrants began to rush in!

In his annual reports Mr. Sifton has been in the habit of giving the numbers of immigrants he has introduced from abroad. The figures for the past few years are cited by the Regina West, one of the progressive journals of the new province of Saskatchewan, as follows:

1902	67,329
1903	128,364
1904	130,331
1905	146,226
1906 (half year)	100,000
Total	572,340

"Between the end of 1901 and the mildle of 1906 there were added to the population by immigration, according to the figures adduced first by Mr. Sifton and afterwards by Mr. Oliver, no less than 572,340 people. Now there has been, in addition to the immigration, a natural increase, so that the population ought to have grown between 1901 and 1906 by at least 600,000. But the census has just been taken, and the result is given thus:

1901	414,151
1906	805,000
Increase	390,849

"Let us state the case once again. The figures of immigration give an addition to the population during the five-year term of 572,340 people. The natural increase in five years would be at least 30,000. The census, therefore, should show an augmentation of 600,000 in the population. But it only accounts for 390,849! There are 210,000 people missing.

Why this discrepancy? The Western pepole hold that the census has been gerrymandered in order to keep keep down their representation. That is to say, the government has knocked off a hundred thousand or so of the population to prevent the West from getting more members at Ottawa. On the other hand, the suspicion is current that the Sifton immigration figures have been fraudulent and bogus from the first. Certainly, if the census is correct, Sifton's reports have been false. We must have been given these swollen figures for no other purpose than the deception of the public. There is reason to fear that under the Laurier government the very blue books are tampered with.

HEARST'S CANDIDACY

Of Mr. Hearst they know,or think they know, a great deal, and as the campaign progreses they will learn more. He is somewhat of a mystery Like the man with the searchlight, he turns a glare of publicity on everyone else, remaining in the deeper shadow himself. Among newspaper men in New York it is generally supposed that the brains of Hearst is Arthur Brisbane, his editor-in-chief. Brisbane, it is said does Hearst's thinking and selects his principles. Brisbane made him a member of congress. Brisbane almost made him Mayor of New York, and Brisbane made him the Democratic candidate for the governorship. It has been noticed that Mr. Hearst makes few extemporaneous remarks. His newspaper is, in truth, his organ of speech, and every day it gives him a larger audience than is possessed by any public man in the United States, including President Roosevelt himself.

This criticism is beside the point, for, whether Brisbane or Hearst is to be the real governor of New York, in the event of a Democratic victory, it is upon Hearstism that the people are invited to pronounce. Hearstism may have some subtle difference from anarchy, but it is likely anarchy,the doctrine of discontent and demagoguery. So far as may be judged from the newspapers owned by Mr. Hearst, obscenity and sensationalism are outstanding features of it, so, too, is a piety not unlike that in "Sanford and Merton." Hearst denounces everything, especially wealth and corruption. Yet he is a millionaire, and it is said that in the history of New York politics there has been no such corruption as that employed to secure the present nomination of Mr. Hearst. No doubt the devil is being fought with fire.

Mr. Hearst's popularity with the dissatisfied, the ignorant, and the foreignors was astonishingly shown last November, when in Tammany's stronghold, he came within a few hundred votes of defeating Tammany's candidate for mayor. In going after the nomination for governor he defied the Democratic leaders and organized a party of his own—the Independent League. This association has already nominated Hearst for governor. At the last moment Tammany turned in beind the man who had dragooned it and voted for him. Jerome, the New York District Attorney, dropped out of the race rather unexpectedly, an Mr. Hearst's most popular opponent was thus disposed of before the real struggle began. It will be interesting to see whether Mr. Hearst can induce the reputable Democratic press of New York to fight under his leadership.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

That the Whitney government is doing good work for the people on the power question is made plain by the nagging tone of that monopoly organ—the Toronto Globe. That paper has been the champion of all the huge power deals of the past. It supported various Niagara Falls franchises, and pronounced them excellent. It was also the advocate of the Ross policy of water distribution amongst politicians. Against the recent Healey's Falls concession, which was granted in response to the appeals of the municipalities, it fought with bitterness. The reason assigned for this conduct by the Liberal papers of the neighborhood was the circumstance that the development of the power at Healey's Falls interfered with a monopoly held by friends of the organ at Peterborough!

WHO WILL BE JUDGE?

McDonald Not Alone in Aspiration for the Bench.

Rumor in legal political circles has it that there are no fewer than seven aspirants for the vacant provincial judgeship, says the Vancouver Province. Five are staunch Liberal lawyers and two are county judges.

The members of the bar whose respective friends are "proving" at Ottawa claims for their appointment are Messrs. F. C. Wade, J. A. Macdonald, provincial Liberal leader; Colonel Gregory of Victoria, Stuart Henderderson, M. L. A. for Yale, and Mr. Harry Senkler of Wilson, Senkler & Bloomfield.

The two county judges whose promotion is being urged solely by friends are Judge Henderson and Judge Clement of Grand Forks. In the opinion of their friends both have earned the right to supreme court distinction far in advance of the claims of any member of the bar.

"If Mr. Macdonald wants it he simply has to have it; all the others will clamor for it in vain," said a close friend of the "party" today.

But there is the doubt. In the present state of the political barometer it is the view of some who claim to know the Liberal leader from skin to soul that he would rather take the present chance, "so full of prosperous hope," for the premiership, than even the chief justiceship, were it vacant. The bench would be an easy matter later.

Miss Marie Cahill was discussing the talkative woman, and incidentally told the following good thing about a married couple.

"The wife, in the middle of the night, was awakened by the loud snores of her husband. She endured the horrible racket as long as she could. Then, pinching the man sharply, she said:

"'Herbert, you'd make less noise if you kept your mouth shut!'

"Herbert, sleepy and surly, muttered:

"'So would you!'"—Young's Magazine.

STIRRING WORDS ON LABOR.

Salvation Army Officer Declares His Opinions.

Last Sunday evening at Calgary the adjutant of the Salvation Army gave expression to his views on labor questions, speaking from the text, "Would Christ Belong to a Labor Union"? The adjutant quoted from St. Matthew, ix:37, "The laborers are few."

He asked, does this question bring Him down? No, He brought Himself down and worked at the carpenters' trade. Was He not weary with the hardest toil? Did He not rise at 6 o'clock?

Would He not belong to an elevating labor union today? Let the man who says no prove his case. The Salvation Army is for the working man.

All men of labor unions were not true friends of the poor. Some are delegates to get and hold their jobs. But it would not be just to condemn 1000 men so, just because one is a hypocrite. There are no labor unions in the jungles of Africa or among the Hottentots. Why? Because there is no Christianity there. Christ was and is the author of brotherhood. It was He that uttered that golden rule, "Do unto others as ye would that they should do unto you."

There are two sides to every question. Is it right that the laboring man should say: "You must give us this and that, every man alike." Let a man work and get what is coming to him. Some men compared with others are not worth 5 cents. Is it fair to pay him the same as a good man?

Society has interests, sacred ones, which must be taken into account. It is an old blunder to prefer force to moral agency; it is in fact the secret of failure.

Men may have the right if they so choose not to work—but they have no right to prevent other men from taking their places or say, "You must not work."

Under no conditions should they allow the liberties of those who decide to work to be destroyed.

This is not a day when employers and employees with their obstinacy and dissatisfaction hurl injustice and dissatisfaction in the face of the general public and, as in some instances, at the risk of life.

Every question which concerns the world of labor is a vital interest of Christ and the church. Christ came to save the individual man and everything of value to life.

Christ would join the labor union, as long as it was a labor union, but would he join an idle gang? Would he join the strikers? Would Christ remain idle while so much remained to be done? Had not injustice been hurled at His face by this? And yet He labors; Christ still works. His blessing is with every good work and everything that aids in the redemption of mankind has His blessing, for did He not say, "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest"?

The soothsayer is not always soothing.

A man's dearest friend is seldom the most expensive.

If money talks the miser's cash must be tongue-tied.

Only a wise man is competent to enjoy a competency.

If, as the newspaper reports would have us believe, all brides are beautiful, where do all the homely married women come from?

LOCAL AND PROVINCIAL

John Teague, of the Bell Trading Co., will leave for the coast to-night on a two week's vacation

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Goepel will leave this evening for the coast. They will visit California before returning to Nelson.

An operation was performed on Edward Brown, of the Athabasca, yesterday for appendicitis. The operation was a difficult one, and the patient is said to be dangerously ill.

Major Longford, a well known contractor of Peterborough, Ont., spent two or three days in the city this week, and he is so well pleased with the beauty and location of Nelson that he will again visit the Kootenay metropolis.

Before he heard the glad tidings that he was challenged as a special juror, T. G. Procter had begun a confession to the court: "My lord, I don't feel justified" ——. Speculation is rife as to the special grounds for Tom's diffidence.

Rev. J. E. Seth, pastor of the Swedish Tabernacle Congregational Church, of Spokane, Wash., is in the city, and will have a meeting to-night at 8 o'clock at the home of A. Lindblad, corner of Gore and Stanley streets. The Scandinavian people are cordially invited to attend.

Fred Starkey has received a letter from Nat Reiss, the amusement promoter, in which the Fair management is thanked for the generous treatment of the Smi-Letta company during its engagement in Nelson. Mr. Reiss promises first-class attractions for the Fair next year. Now that Nelson has been included in the Reiss circuit, good attractions can be secured at less expense than in the past.

The attendance at the Opera House last evening was fair, but in many respects the performance was really attractive. "The Church Across the Way" is an Americanized version of "Jane," and it affords many opportunities for good character work. The specialties between the acts were decidedly clever, and the applause must have been encouraging to the performers. To-night, "Triss, or the Struggle for Gold," will be given, with new specialties.
