THE ROYAL CITY

Market Very Good This Week. Successful Operation.

The weekly market Friday was the best that has been held for some time, buyers and sellers attending in larger numbers than has been the case for several weeks past. There was a good supply of fruit nearly all of it found a ready sale. There was also a good buisness done in meat butter and eggs. The poultry stalls were well filed and there was a good demand for what was offered.

Wm. Cusack a well known carpenter of this city mysteriously disappeared on Tuesday last. He had been staying at a fishing camp on the North Arm during the summer and started for down river in a sail boat to get some supplies and has not been seen since. His boat found on the shore about four miles below the city.

Miss Pearson, matron of the Columbian Hospital has resigned and her resignation has been accepted.

Charles Suto proprietor of the Merchants Resturant was fined $150 and costs in the police court on Tuesday for supplying two bottles of beer to Indians.

Labor day was observed as a general holiday by the people of New Westminster and was celebrated in a quiet manner, most of the citizens going out of town to one or other of the excursions and picnics which were held on that day.

The shooting season for grouse and ducks opened on Monday last and a large number of sportsmen were out. The best bag reported consisted of fifty-four ducks which were shot at Pitt Lake by a party of three.

Jas. Crutchley formerly of Ladner but now of Blaine, Wash., successfully underwent the serious operation of having a large cancer removed from his lower lip on Wednesday afternoon. He is progressing favorably now.

A meeting of the executive of the Royal Agricultural and Industrial society was held on Thursday evening when arrangements for the forth coming provincial exhibition were considerably futhered. A draft of the programme has been made and shows as strong a list of attraction as has ever been given at the fair.

The Band.

We hear that the band boys are making great preparations for some improvement work the coming winter. During the last few weeks they have ordered three new instruments which will add to the appearance of the band as well as improve the tone. A first class triple silver plated trombone has been sent for from the great Resson firm who make the best instruments on the market. This will be used by W. H. Smith, who also sent for a slide trombone for himself and will learn to play. A picolo has been ordered for Fred Southerby and a new cornet has been secured for Mr. Williamson. Three new men have been enlisted in the ranks and are making good progress with their respective instruments. Such rules and by-laws have been adopted which will ensure two good practices a week during the winter months, and by next spring it is hoped for them to make a reputation for themselves. Considering the short time the band has been in existence their progress has been wonderful and the people of Delta appreciate their ability and hope that every move will tend towards better efficiency. The band received many flattering remarks from the visitors last Monday.

Accident to the President

President Roosevelt had a narrow escape from death on Wednesday. While touring through Pittsburg Mass., the coach in which he and his party were driving, was struck by an electric car and smashed. Mr. Craig of the secret service department was killed and the president and other occupants of the tally-ho vehicle were badly shaken up and bruised. The motorman who was running the car at a high rate of speed, and the conductor have been arrested.

Farmers Insurance.

The Mutual Fire Insurance Co., British Columbia is now prepared to issue policies to farmers, and it will be to their interests to carefully consider the mutual system before placing their insurance. Captain Stewart of Eburne, promoter and managing director of the company is here for the purpose of appointing a local agent, and he will explain the system to all whom he can possibly meet with during his short stay in our midst.

Launched.

The "Mary Ann II" was successfully launched in the Fraser river this week at the end of Delta street. She is a fine craft, up-to-date model and all home made, being the property of Dr. Woodley. It is not the intention to put her on the river route in opposition to the steamer Transfer, but will be used to skirt along the river front in search of mallards, etc.

DEATH'S HAND

Carries Away Another Delta Resident.

"Mrs. Collinson is dead," was the word passed around Ladner Tuesday evening, and the news came as a great surprise to everyone, for it was only a few days ago that she was around town, although having only recovered from a severe illness. Her death took place at St. Joseph's hospital, Victoria on Monday evening after undergoing an operation on Friday last. Word received from the hospital says that Monday she was bright and cheerful, being in the best of spirits until about four o'clock in the afternoon, when an unfavorable change came over her and she gradually grew weaker, everything possible being done to save her life, but without avail and she passed away at 9:45 o'clock.

The deceased had lived in Ladner the past four years and was closely identified with the work in connection with the Methodist church and W. C. T. U. in both of which she was an earnest and conscientous member.

The bereaved husband and relatives have the sympathy of their many friends in the Delta in their hour of trouble.

Mr. Collinson received word Monday evening of his wife's serious illness and left on Tuesday morning for Victoria only to learn of her death on his journey.

The body was brought to Ladner on Thursday's boat, being met by friends and conveyed to the Methodist church from whence the funeral took place yesterday afternoon to the Boundary Bay cemetery, the Rev. A. N. Miller and the Rev. E. Manuel of Eburne, an old friend of the deceased officiating. A large number of friends and acquaintances attended the last sad rites.

The owners of four daires, one at Steveston and three on Lulu, Island, have been refused the usual certificates under provisions of the Contagious Diseases [Animal] Act, owing to "dirty byres."

Mayor Keary of Westminster has received word from the government that the money for the extension of the Westminster-Ladner road would not be forthcoming until the work was completed.

Ottawa despatches say that it is mentioned in officials circles that Thanksgiving Day will likely be held on Thursday, October 23rd.

W J. Leary, manager of the Windsor cannery on Skeena river, was in Ladner the first of the week returning again to the north.

Miss Allen of Eburne is visiting with friends in Ladner.

The Salmon Pack.

Many rumors have been circulated regarding the pack of salmon on the Fraser but the officials of the Canners' Association say the accurate pack is not even yet determined. Representatives of the association met on Tuesday to confer with delegates from the fishermen's Union, Messrs. Holcrow. Machie. Durham and S. Nakashima, the latter representing the Japanese.

The canners submitted the following statement:

Total pack, including Fraser river and Sound caught fish, 282,-630; less Sound caught fish, 30,202; net pack of Fraser river fish, 252, 418. On this an offer of 16 1-2 cents per fish was made, but the fishermen made a request for the privilege of checking over some of the canneries which was granted, which further postpones the giving out of an authenticated statement.

Yukon Candidates.

The writ for the election of the first member for Yukon in the House of Commons was issued Wednesday. The nomination will take place on Novembert 4th and polling on December 2. Sheriff Eilbeck is returning officer. He will appoint enumerators to prepare the election lists. It is said Hon. J. H. Ross will resign the govenorship to run as the government candidate, and that Mr. J. A. Smart, Deputy Minister of the Interior, will be appointed govenor. Barney Sugrue is is spoken of as another opposition candidate.

Case to Be Re-tried.

John Burns, the 17 year old lad from Seattle. who was given six years in the penitentiary for boat and net stealing, may have his case re-tried, for the lads relatives have engaged Mr. Bowser, K. C., who has applied for a new trial on the grounds: 1. That Capt. Pittendrigh, S. M. had no jurisdiction; 2. That the trial was hurried, the defence not being given sufficent time to prepare its case; 3. That the warrant was faulty, reading "common gaol" instead of penitentiary.

Robert Matheson of Victoria arrived yesterday for a few days business visit.

Mr. and Mrs. John McNab of Westminster are the guests of Mrs. McNeely.

Local sportsmen during the past week have been very successlul in bagging the game.

The prize lists for the Delta Agriculturial fall show will be distributed the first of the week.

Tne Seventh Day Adventist have taken down their large tent after a couple months stay in Ladner.

Mrs. Baker and daughter returned to Westminster Wednesday after a short visit at Woodward's landing.

LABOR DAY SPORTS

The Day Thoroughly Enjoyed by Visitors and Residents.

Ladner celebrated Labor Day in royal style. All the business houses were closed and it was a universal holiday among the inhabitants.

The main feature of the day here was the arrival of the excursions from Westminster and Vancouver under the auspices of the Ancient Order United Workmen lodges of those places. About ten o'clock the steamer Transfer arrived with about 150 aboard of which a great number were conveyed to the agricultural grounds by rigs in waiting by the local lodge. Along after 11 o'clock the steamer Britannia hove in sight with the Vancouver contingent which comprised between 250 and 300 people. The excursionists all ashore everyone started for the agricultural grounds where arrangements had been made for the picnic and celebration.

The Ladner Cornet Band met the boats on their arrival and afterwards played several selections on the grounds. With the Vancouver order was Evenson's orchestra, which played in the hall where the lovers of the terpsichorean art enjoyed themselves.

During the afternoon a large number of children's races were run, prizes being donated by Ladner, Vancouver and Westminster people to the lodges for this purpose. Besides these races, jumping, tug-of-war, putting the shot, etc., was indulged in by the older people. A baseball match was arranged between Vancouver-Westminster vs. Ladner in which was some good playing and considerable sport. The game ended in favor of Ladner four to two. A football match was also played between the two cities against Ladner, but the visitors were again defeated.

About six o'clock the visitors and friends started for the landing to take their respective boats for home. The Britannia left shortly after six and the Transfer an hour later. The Britannia had a pleasant trip around from Vancouver no rough weather being encountered.

From what THE NEWS heard and can learn all were well pleased with their visit and spoke in the highest terms of the preparations made by local A. O. U. W. lodge and their friends, and should another opportunity occur we may expect to have them enjoy their outing in the Delta.

The collectors of voters for the several provincial districts give notice in the official Gazette of this week that courts of revision of the provincial lists will be held on Monday, the 3rd November.

The municipal council meets next Saturday afternoon.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1902.

The necessity of shade trees at the agricultural grounds on Monday was quite apparent, and if it was a hot day it would have been impossible for the visitors to have remained on the ground. It is the only public land available for meetings, picnics or open air gatherings and it should be fixed up in better shape for such festivities. The buildings, grounds and fences are first class, but people wishing to watch anything going on have to endure the hot sun. A few good shade trees judiciously arranged would make a vast improvement, beautifying the place and allowing people to enjoy their visit, and in a short time it would become a favorite resort. The expense in connection with putting in trees would be very small and THE NEWS hopes the agricultural society and council will attend to the matter at an early date.

The monster petition to be presented to the provincial legislature by the Lord's Day Alliance asks that athletic games and excursions on Sunday be prohibits, and that penalties be provided for.the breach of such laws. They also ask the government to enforce the Sunday Closing Liquor law uniformly throughout the province.

The visitors to Ladner last Monday were greatly pleased with their visit and were amazed at the farms in this section, never realizing what the Delta was like. All went away convinced that the Delta is the ideal farming section of British Columbia.

Price of Fish.

It will be 16½ cent fish on the Fraser river. This informationwas obtained from the very best authority. The Fraser river pack will be over 250,000, and the $45,000 which trembled in the balance will be on the canners' side of the transaction. It will be remembered that a week before the canneries were closed the official pack was given as 272,000 cases, minus 40,000 cases bought from the traps. It was estimated that not more than 3,000 cases could be put up in the six days before the closing of the canneries. In other words, it was officially stated that the approximate pack would be 235,000 cases. It now obtains that the canneries erred in telephoning their pack. On the 15th of August they gave their returns to the 8th and 10th, or a week before, not taking into account the fish put up during the big run, the reason being that the returns of a week before was all they could compute at that time. For this reason a trip of the cannery officials to the canneries shows a much larger pack than anticipated.

Max Cohen a New York tailor, unable to work as a result of an accident, refused $5,000 for adoption papers of one of his seven children. The day the offer was made his landlord threatened to eviot him for non-payment of rent, and the family went to bed on the same night withont having tasted food during the day.

A Pension Yarn.

Mr. Ware, the United States Commissioner of Pensions, received a letter from a man in Illionis a few days ago which read:

"I am now getting a pension of $30 a month. Recently the Lord has prospered me, and I do not think I should get so much money.

I gave my services to the country, and Ithink I should have some pension, of course, and I think $30 a month is too much. Is there any way I can have my pension reduced or suspended while I enjoy the prosperity that is mine at present?"

This is the only request for a reduction of pension ever received by the Bureau. It was referred to the pension examiner in the district where the man lived, who reported as follows:

"I have the honor to inform you that the person who applied for a reduction in his pension is now in the insane asylum at this place, and has been for some time."

GOOD ROADS

Placing Metal on The Roads.—Valuable Hints.

In order to obtain a knowledge of the manner in which gravel, broken stone or other road metal should be placed on the roadway, it is evidently necessary to consider the objects to be attained by the use of a surface covering. Experience teaches us that these are:—

1 To prevent water entering and softening the natural soil beneath.

2 To present a hard and durable wearing, sufficently smooth to make travel and the transportation of heavy loads easy and agreeable.

According to the first of these objects, the covering must be of such a texture as to be as far as possible impenetrable to water, and of such a shape as to shed the water to the side gutters or ditches. According to the second, the road covering must partake of the character of a floor. In summer and in dry weather a road made of the natural soil, if not sand, is a satisfactory driveway for moderate traffic. It is to make a good wet weather road that metal is usually applied. If the work done on the road is not successful in producing this, the efforts have either been inadequate or misapplied.

The customary way of putting gravel and broken stone on the road is to merely drop the metal from the waggon, leaving it, as it falls, in a continuation of irregular heaps, to be levelled and consolidated by traffic. This metal is usually placed on the road in June. Vehicles at once turn away from it and find a more serviceable a dirt drive along the side of the road or in the gutters. Traffic continues to follow the dirt roadway untill such a time, late in the fall, when it has become rutted and muddy. Not untill forced to do so by the impassible condition of the dirt track, do vehicles turn to the metalled portion. If this dirt track is between the metal and the ditch, the ruts and holes will interfere with surface drainage; will prevent the water reaching the ditch quickly from the crown; will be receptacles for a large amount of water. In soaking away, this water will pass under the gravelled portion and assist in softening the natural subsoil, which, in a well made road, must be sufficiently dry and firm to support the weight of traffic. The gravel or stone lying loosely on the road has permitted water to pass through it to the natural soil below, as through a sive. The first effect of wheels passing over it is to create ruts in the metal itself. These ruts in turn become receptacles to hold water, the gravel in the ruts is quickly forced aside and downward, and the wheels sink as far as the mud will permit them. Winter may freeze the ground and afford a firm means of travel during the frosty season, but when the weather breaks up in the spring, the roadway, upheaved and honey-combed by the ice which formed in and below it, is many times worse than in the fall.

It is evident that to drop gravel and especially broken stone, loosely on the road is very far from being an economical system of roadmaking. The summer succeeding the application, the road, after the ruts are worn down, may become a good driveway; yet the gravel or broken stone has been so churned and mixed with dirt that its life and durability have been largely wasted before it becomes sufficiently compact to answer the purpose for which it was intended.

A great deal, by very simple means, can be done towards getting better results from the road covering. The metal when first placed on the road could be nicely spread with a rounded surface, as it is intended to lie when consolidated. The metal, particularly if gravel, will, during the summer, consolidate much better than if left in a high heap. In the fall it will be harder, and, not presenting so formidable an obstacle to travel as a series of irregular mounds through which the horses must wade; vehicles will turn from the temporary dirt tracks earlier in the season, before the subsoil has become very soft. If at this period a man is sent along the road with a rake to fill up the wheel tracks as they appear in the loose gravel or broken stone, traffic will, in a short time, very effectually consolidate the road. The expense of a man in raking the metal into the ruts and keeping the road properly rounded up during the fall and spring will more than be saved in the future repair and re-metalling, while a much better road will be the result.—Bureau of Provincial Information.

A Card.

To Churches, Sunday Schools, Lodges and private families:

Having too large a stock of chapel and church organs and not wanting to carry them over until next spring as I need the room, I will sell a large variety of styles in oak and walnut cases at wholesale prices.

A few samples; $150 organs for $54; $200 organs for $79; $300 organs for $112; $350 organs for $136.

All these organs are new and are the best makes that are built in Canada. Will sell on easy terms if desired. It is not the money I need as much as the room and my wish not to carry such a large stock as to become shopworn. Write for catalogue and prices or call at W. W. MONTELIUS' Piano & Organ Warerooms, 410 Hastings Street, Vancouver.
