RUN AWAY.

One of the Sawmill horses gave a good exhibition of how to get up speed with a dump cart on Wednesday. While the Celestial teamster was getting some small repairs done to the animal's headgear at Hugh McDowell's, the horse took it upon himself to do a little practicing for the 26th. It is too bad there is no provision on the prize list for this class.

The poor Chinaman was much dismayed at the energetic display after all the coaxing usually required to obtain anything better than the dead march.

"He heap scared at me!" and not much wonder.

The S.S. Sonoma leaves Ladner at 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.; leaves Steveston at 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Every day except Sunday.

Remember the grand Ball in the Town Hall, on the evening of the 26th after the Races. Franklin's Orchestra will be there and their reputation is good. The Ladner Cornet Band is to get the benefit so don't fail to turn out.

BRAN, SHORTS, Whole Corn, Cracked Corn, Rice Meal, Chit Rice, Chick Feed, Timothy and Clover Seeds, Sutton's Garden and Field Seeds may be obtained at Brackman-Ker Milling Co.'s warehouses, Ladner, from Mr. H. N. RICH, Local Agent.

LACROSSE.

The Boys have been busily engaged practicing and getting ready for the 26th.

Frank Trapp, of New Westminster, has been taking a hand in the practices and, should he be here on the 26th, would make a valuable addition to the team.

There is still reason to advise greater care in the use of the stick while at practice. One of our stalwarts receiving a nasty cut under the right eye on Wednesday evening.

FOUND—On Tuesday evening, June 1st, in the Town Hall, a small Souvenir brooch. Owner may have same by proving property and paying for this notice.

ICE-CREAM SOCIAL.

The first strawberry festival of the season was held on Tuesday evening, by the Ladies' Guild of St. Andrew's, in the Town Hall. The weather was anything but pleasant, nevertheless the strawberry appetite was sufficiently keen to cut through the murkiest weather. The hall was packed, the visitors coming from far and near to show their appreciation of the labors of the ladies in their undertaking.

The hall was prettily decorated with roses and bunting to say nothing of the attractiveness of the supplies for the quieting of that inner feeling which overtakes so many at this season of the year and which is only satisfied by a generous supply of strawberries and cream, ice-cream, cake, etc.

The Ladner Cornet Band delighted the audience by their presence and materially assisted the ladies in their endeavors to entertain.

A neat little sum, about $60, was netted which will aid in defraying the expenses of the church.

Rev. A. McAuley acted as chairman and after everyone had enjoyed to the full all the good things provided, he tendered the Band a hearty vote of thanks which was loudly applauded. The National Anthem brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

LICENSING BOARD.

The Board of License Commissioners met, on Wednesday, in the Council Chambers, with Reeve W. H. Ladner in the chair, and Coun. Gibbie and H. J. Kirkland, J. P. present.

In the absence of N. A. McDiarmid, C. M. C., H. J. Kirkland acted as Secretary.

There being no complaints against the saloons, the business of granting renewals was proceeded with.

In the case of the Delta Hotel a renewal of licence was granted to Marshall Smith. At Hotel Guichon the license had been temporarily transferred to Hon. Richard McBride, executor of the W. L. McBride Estate, and now application was made to have same transferred to Emily Susan McBride, which was granted. There being no further business the Board adjourned.

We wish to convince you that it is to your benefit to open an account with the Royal Bank of Canada. Others are doing this who earn less than you do.

The Band Concert was another enjoyable affair and quite a large crowd turned out to take the full benefit of it. There will be another opportunity given next Friday evening to show your appreciation by turning out.

Among those who took in the Strawberry Festival on Tuesday evening were: Mrs. Wm McRae, Miss M. G Hewson, Miss Helen Teller, J. M. Dabney, Wm. H. Teller and Geo. W. McIntyre of Point Roberts, who drove over despite the unfavorable appearance of the weather.

The Telephone Company are bringing a copper metallic trunk line from Westminster down the River road and very substantial poles are being set up. The poles on the Trunk road have been in a very shaky condition for some time, so that the newer work will be much appreciated.

Serious Accident.

Miss Guichon met with a very painful accident on Tuesday afternoon. The Misses Guichon had been visiting Mrs. J. W. Welsh and were getting ready for home when, by some means, another rig ran foul of theirs. Miss Guichon had taken her seat while her sister, Miss Josie, untied the horse and it was just at this juncture when the accident happened, Miss Guichon being thrown out fracturing her leg. The horse became excited at the disturbance and started off with the overturned rig, but W. Bath and Jas. Welsh secured the horse while Jos. Jordan set the buggy right.

It will be some time ere the sufferer will be able to take a very active part in life again.

GARDEN PARTY.

The Garden Party, held last Thursday, under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild of All Saints, and through the kindness of Mr and Mrs. F. J. Green, of Greencroft—in spite of somewhat threatening weather—proved a most successful and certainly most enjoyable entertainment.

It was thought at first, by some, that the distance from town and the uncertainty of the barometer might militate against the success of the undertaking, but, on the contrary, everything passed off most satisfactorily.

Given—as Euclid would say—pleasant surroundings, congenial company, and a right worthy object what would be the result?

Ans: Pleasant and profitable deduction, Q. E. D. Which, being interpreted, is "Quod erat demonstrandum."

The Guild is to be congratulated on the success of the undertaking.

L. O. L.

Important business was transacted at the semi-annual meeting of the New Westminster District Orange lodge at Port Hammond. Tuesday evening, which did not adjourn until three o'clock a. m. The most important business was the formation of New Westminster County lodge No. 1, which is made up of the following lodges: New Westminster, L. O. L. No. 1150, L. O. L. No 1593, Port Moody L. O. L. 1633 and Port Hammond L. O. L. No. 1866. The lodges were formerly in the New Westminster district, but owing to the number of Orange bodies being formed and the territory covered by them, they were becoming too unwieldly for a district and after some discussion it was decided to form the county lodge. The New Westminster district lodge, however, is still in existence and is composed of the following lodges. Mission City L.O.L. No. 1629, Abbotsford L. O. L. No. 1867 and Mt Lehman L. O. L. No. 1868.

It was also decided that the district lodges would attend the celebration on July 12 this year at Abbotsford instead of at Victoria. The local lodge at Abbotsford intends to have a celebration and as it was thought by the delegates that too much time would be lost in attending the provincial celebration at Victoria, it was decided to have a combined affair, and all Orangemen of the county and district lodges will be there on the great and glorious twelfth.

FARMERS MEET.

There was a great turnout, on Saturday evening last, on the occasion of the Farmers' Institute meeting. The meeting was called for the purpose of discussing the advisability of the Institute buying sacks and twine wholesale for the benefit of its membership, also to look into the rural telephone problem.

After considerable discussion it was decided to get figures for the supplying of 50,000 sacks and half a car of twine.

On the question of rural telephones the great majority appeared to be in favor of its introduction and affiliation with Lulu Island under the corporate name of the Fraser Valley Telephone Co. is likely to become an accomplished fact in the very near future.

Those who have been using the telephone, under the rural system, are highly pleased with it, and no wonder. It means a great saving to everyone using it, both in time and money.

After spending a pleasant and instructive evening together the gathering dispersed well pleased with having met.

KING'S BIRTHDAY.

We can reasonably anticipate fine weather for the Races on the 26th. The Weather Prophet has been consulted, and declares emphatically that the skies are weary with working overtime, and promises cloudless sunshine for the annual event.

The Steamer Transfer has been chartered for the occasion by The Driving Park Association, and will bring all the visitors via New Westminster. Those coming from Vancouver will leave by the 9 o'clock car for New Westminster, as the Transfer will not call at Steveston as previously stated.

Everyone will take a half holiday on that day, and the Trunk Road will marvel at the crowds that disturb its wonted peace, some on foot, some riding, some driving, but all intent on the same purpose—to get to the races early.

At noon the Landing will see the last of its inhabitants hurrying to the track, for the races begin sharp at one o'clock.

Don't forget the 26th; Cast your care and troubles to one side on that day, and join the merry-making crowd who are bent on enjoy themselves-

R. Fisher visited the Terminal City this week, returning yesterday.

A fancy shell pin was found, this morning, and may be obtained from A. Clausen.

Fred Arthur is packing around an injured member. On Tuesday, the 5th inst. he had the misfortune to run a splinster into his hand with the result that blood poisoning set in and he has had to have it operated on. He is getting along all right now.

Don't forget the "Strawberry and Ice-Cream Social" in Oddfellows' Hall, on Monday afternoon and evening, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church. Afternoon Tea will be served from 3 to 7 o'clock. The Band will be in attendance. Admission to the Hall in the evening 10c.

PULL TOGETHER.

When a community is in need of two or three different kinds of improvements, the best thing to do, in order to get them, is to find out which is the most easily obtained and then pull together with the intention of obtaining that particular improvement, after that object has been attained, then pull together for the perfecting of other plans.

We need street lighting, a water system and a sewerage system. The lighting is within our reach; the water system is being talked about outside the district but no proposition has been officially made, as yet to the Council in regard to this boon, and the matter of a sewerage system is in the hands of the Health Department and not yet ready for publication.

Considerable talk has been indulged in, in regard to incorporation but we fail to see where the benefit would come in. It would cost equally as much to run a Council for a town as for a district. Before incorporation can be accomplished, a petition must be obtained containing the names of the owners of more than one-half of the property to be incorporated and how many can be got?

If improvements MUST be made first get all that is to be got from the Council and then pay for the rest, but work together in your demands and don't say "I'll buck the light till the water comes" on—until we get nothing.

DUSTLESS ROADS.

A great experiment is in hand, says the Autocar, with regard to the dust nuisance, to prove by practical demonstration, that dustless roads can be made at a cost to the ratepayers of considerably less than the present system of dusty roads. In conjuncteon with the Kent County Council, a length of the London-Maidstone road is to be laid with contiguous sections of various dustless materials, so that the surface and relative wear can be carefully compared under identically the same traffic and similar conditions. These sections will be an object lesson to highway authorities throughout the country, and every information on the subject will be placed at their disposal.

TO SEE THE KING.

Nanaimo, June 11—Four keen looking, well dressed men, looking for all the world like politicians on important business, left on the train for Duncans, Saturday morning.

They were Chief Joe Capalino of Vancouver, Chief Harry of Squamish, Chief Johnnie from the Fraser, and Chief Capt. Charlie also of the Fraser, who arrived from Vancouver last night. The party are going to Duncans in reference to the trip of Chiefs to England.

TRUTH CRUSHED TO EARTH

There is a gentleman in Brooklyn known to Marshall P. Wilder, who tells the story, who is particularly careful to see that none of the youngsters in his family shall escape the perilous of telling a falsehood.

One evening a caller, taking some interest in the eight-year-old lad of the family, endeavored to get the boy to draw nearer, desiring some confidential chat with him. But the boy hung back.

"James," sternly exclaimed the father, "won't you go to Mrs. Blank?"

"No, sir," sullenly responded the lad.

"Why, don't you like me?" asked the lady, interposing a remark before the father could speak.

"No, ma'am, I don't," was the frank response.

"Look here, young man," shouted the now angry parent, "what do you mean by talking so disrespectfully to this lady?"

"Indeed, father, I don't know how to please you," said the lad; "yesterday you nearly licked the life out of me for telling a lie, and to-day, when I am taking no chances, you get mad because I tell the truth."

NOT STRONG-MINDED.

"Your wife, I believe, is a strong-minded woman."

"Oh, I don't know; I should rather regard her as brittle-minded."

"Brittle-minded?"

"Yes; she's been giving me pieces of her mind for years."—Chicago Post.

The Very Best Remedy for Bowel Trouble.

M. E. Borroughs, an old and well known resident of Bluffton, Ind. says: "I regard Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy as the very best remedy for bowel trouble. I make this statement after having used the remedy in my family for several years. I am never without it." This remedy is almost sure to be needed before the summer is over. Why not buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency? For sale by All Druggists.

Objected to Free Puffs.

John Knapp of the St. Louis Republican had little use for press agents, and it took a mighty shrewd man to get a free puff from him. He never would publish a lawyer's or a doctor's name if he could avoid it, for fear they might derive some benefit from the free advertisement. It is said that one morning mention was made in the Republican—they call it the Republic now—of a man having died of Bright's disease. Old man Knapp hunted up the proofreader and called him into the private office.

"Why did you let that get into the paper?" asked the old man, indicating with his forefinger the objectionable paragraph.

"I don't see but that's all right," said the reader.

"You don't, eh?" snapped old man Knapp. "You don't, eh? Do you think we want to advertise that man Bright for nothing? He never had an ad. in this paper in his life."

How to Break Up a Cold.

It may be a surprise to many to learn that a severe cold can be completely broken up in one or two days' time. The first symptoms of a cold are a dry, loud cough, a profuse watery discharge from the nose, and a thin, white coating on the tongue. When Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is taken every hour on the first appearance of these symptoms, it counteracts the effect of the cold and restores the system to a healthy condition within a day or two. For sale by All Druggists.

THE KIANGS OF INDIA.

These Wild Horses Are Vicious and Said to Be Untamable.

Writing of the kiangs, or wild horses, of India, found near the land of Tibet, Thomas W. Weber in "The Forests of Upper India and Their Inhabitants" says:

Here for the first time we saw the kiang, or wild horse. Several herds came to look at us as we marched and galloped around, neighing and kicking up, but kept at a respectful distance. They have big, ugly heads and tails and ears like a mule's and a black stripe down the back; color, light bay, with white noses. They have fine free action in trot and gallop and are fourteen to fifteen hands high, strong in the legs and heavy in the body. We were welcomed by the neighing of numerous wild horses to the land of the kiang. Several herds kept circling round, the old stallions approaching in a quite threatening manner, snorting, squealing and kicking up their heels, while the mares and foals galloped off at a more respectful distance. There was a herd of kiangs which careered about our camp in a most objectionable way, making the most fearful disturbances. We witnessed a battle royal between two stallions, which for ferocity and wicked fury surpassed any fight I have seen. Again and again the pair went at one another like tigers, biting and kicking and mauling, the blood flowing freely, while the fearful yells and roars they kept up were terrifying to hear. This went on for hours. The horrible roars and shriekings made by the wild horse when fighting sound something like a noise between a donkey's bray and the squealing of a jackal, but far more ear piercing and discordant. Here the kiang is found in considerable numbers. He is, according to the Hunia accounts, untamable. There was a young one purchased at Rageear fair from some Hunias for a small price. The purchaser thought he had a good bargain and proposed to send the animal to England, but when his men went to bring away the purchase no power could induce it to leave its foster mother, an old Akbet pony, which the clever Hunias refused to sell except for an exorbitant sum.

EXPERTS IN WOOD.

The Old Violin Makers and the Material They Used.

The great violin makers all lived within the compass of 150 years. They chose their wood from a few great timbers felled in the south Tyrol and floated down in rafts—pine and maple, sycamore, pear and ash. They examined these to find streaks and veins and freckles, valuable superficially when brought out by varnishing.

They learned to tell the dynasty of the pieces of wood by touching them. They weighed them, they struck them and listened to judge how fast or how slow or how resonantly they would vibrate in answer to strings. Some portions of the wood must be porous and soft, some close of fiber. Just the right beam was hard to find. When found, it can be traced all through the violins of some great master and after his death in some of his pupils.

The piece of wood was taken home and seasoned, dried in the hot Brescian and Cremona sun. The house of Stradivarius, the great master of all, is described as having been as hot as an oven. The wood was there soaked through and through with sunshine. In this great heat the oils thinned and simmered slowly and penetrated far into the wood until the varnish became a part of the wood itself.

The old violin makers used to save every bit of the wood when they found what they liked to mend and patch and inlay with it. So vibrant and so resonant is the wood of good old violins that they murmur and echo and sing in answer to any sound where a number of them hang together on the wall, as if rehearsing the old music that they once knew.

A Wonderful Harbor.

Puget sound is one of the finest harbors in the world, if not the finest—a deep bay over a hundred miles long cut off from the ocean by the mountainous western peninsula of Washington. The waters nearly everywhere are deep, the shores abrupt, and the tide is moderate. Ships may go from Tacoma half way to Alaska without passing out of this great sound and its extensions northward.

Unknown Friends.

There are many people who have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy with splendid results, but who are unknown because they have hesitated about giving a testimonial of their experience for publication. These people, however, are none the less friends of this remedy. They have done much towards making it a household word by their personal recommendation to friends and neighbors. It is a good medicine to have in the home and it is widely known for its cures of diarrhœa and all forms of bowel trouble. For sale by All Druggists.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

Lazy Man's Ranker ing.

I'd like to have a nice, soft job,
Where I could simply be
A sort of weekly visitor,
To draw my salary,
And then, as that got burdensome
And seemed inclined to bore me,
I'd like to have some fellow paid
To go and draw it for me!

The Important Question.

"How do you like your new servant?"

"That isn't the question at all," answered young Mrs. Torkins. "We are trying to find out how she likes us."

A Domestic Limerick.

A strenuous matron named Maud
Decided her man was a fraud,
So she put the poor lad
Very much to the bad
When she hit on his failures and claud.

Nearly the Limit.

"Yes, I know him slightly. He always impresses me as being rather a hard man."

"Hard? Say, that man can dull a knife by just carrying it in his pocket."

May She Fare Well.

To a fair lady bound for the fair
The conductor said, "Lady, your fare!"
She paid him, and so
On his way did he go
With the fare from the fair to the fair.

Speech ever acknowledges a mistake so quickly as when he puts the lighted end of a cigar in his mouth.

Taken at His Word.

He (after marriage)—What! You have no fortune? You said over and over again that you were afraid some one would marry you for your money.

She—Yes; and you said over and over again that you would be happy with me if I hadn't a cent. Well, I haven't a cent.

Had Been There.

Edith—Oh, Ethel, what shall I do? Jack says he supposes it's all over between us and that he'll send my presents back.

Ethel (experienced)—Tell him to bring them.

Life is not so short but that there is always time enough for courtesy.—Emerson.

His Weight in Gold For the Poor.

"A Hindoo stood in a scale, and his weight was measured in goldpieces. That," said a traveler, "was the strange spectacle that I once beheld in India. There was a great crowd looking on, and it took a great many goldpieces to equal the Hindoo's weight, for he was fat. Finally, though, the big scale balanced, and then everybody began to shout: 'Tulabhara! Tulabhara! Tulabhara!' The fat man got out of the scale. He and his friends took the gold, and, going through all the poorer quarters of the town, they distributed it among the destitute. This, I was informed, was a kind of religious ceremony among a certain sect. Every male at the time in his life when it was thought his weight would be greatest was put in a scale, and gold to equal him in bulk was measured out and distributed in alms. As a rule each man was forty-seven when his weight was taken. They hold in India that at forty-seven a man is at his fattest."—Philadelphia Record.

A Story With a Bad Moral.

In a prosperous town in Mexico lives a merchant whose wealth grew out of a combination of good luck and drunkenness. An uncontrollable desire for drink cost him position after position, and he drifted down to Mexico and became a news agent. He sold lottery tickets. He had to report on drawing day what unsold tickets he had and forward them. He got drunk the day before one of the big drawings. Two days later he sobered up and found himself in possession of several hundred dollars' worth of unsold tickets. He did not possess $10 in the world. He examined the list and found that a number of the unsold tickets had drawn prizes aggregating $35,000 in gold. He collected the winnings, paid for the unsold tickets and took an oath of perpetual total abstinence. That was years ago. He has never touched liquor since and is today a wealthy man. The moral is bad, but the story is too good to suppress.
