MARA NOTES

The Rothesay Lumber Company have been busy shipping lumber during the past month, several carloads having been shipped to Winnipeg and other eastern points. This company expect to put in camps, for lumbering in the woods at an early date.

Wm. Elson has nearly completed his commodious new residence near Mara. The building reflects great credit on A. Graham, who has the work in hand.

W. Hutchison of Enderby is taking in the shooting and also the climate of our fair city for a few days. The bracing atmosphere of Mara is working wonders with him.

Chas. W. Little has now completed work on the wagon road, which is much improved. Great credit is due to him for the thorough manner in which the work has been done under his direction

W. Daly, late of Glacier, B.C., is erecting a residence here, with a view to settling here.

The run of Salmon, which has caused considerable excitement among the sportsmen, is now nearly over. Attention is now being paid to grouse and ducks, and several good bags have been secured by local sportsmen.

Wedding Bells

LAWES-CLARKE

Mr. George R. Lawes was married to Miss Eva Clarke, of Vernon, on Thursday, September 7, at Armstrong, the Rev. F. V. Venables performing the ceremony. The wedding came as a surprise to his many friends, who wish the newly married couple every success and all happiness.

DICK-MCLEOD

At the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. D. G. Dick, of North Vancouver, was united in marriage to Miss May McLeod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman McLeod. After the ceremony the couple left for the Sound cities on a honeymoon trip, and will afterwards take up their residence in North Vancouver, where the bridegroom is engaged with his father in the real estate business.

Miss McLeod is well known in Enderby, having resided here with her parents till about five years ago, her father, who in partnership with E. S. Smith, now of Vernon, ran the lumber business now known as the Kamloops Lumber. At one time he ran a sash and door factory at Armstrong.

SAVAGE-PALMER

At the home of the bride's mother at Salmon Arm on September 6, Mr. William Savage, of Vancouver, was married to Miss Mamie Palmer, daughter of late W. A. Palmer. Mr. Savage is connected with the firm of Martin, Cassidy, Weart & McQuarrie, of Vancouver, where Mr. and Mrs. Savage will shortly take up their abode

Council Minutes, September 6th.

Present: Mr. Geo. Bell, Mayor (in the chair), Messrs. Ald. Bradley, Kenny, Evans, Sharpe, and Smith.

The minutes of the previous meeting held Aug. 30, were read and confirmed.

License By-law. The clerk reported that he had affixed the Seal of the Corporation to by-law 25. (A by-law to amend by-law 12.

Fire Protection. The question was again discussed, in connection with the provision of a water supply for the city. Postponed pending report of special committee appointed to examine creeks.

Drainage. The Work's committee were instructed to make an estimate of the cost of draining off the surface water from the central part of the townsite.

School matters were discussed at length, and it was reported by His Worship the Mayor, that the School Board were in correspondence with the Education Department in reference to Mr. Linton's bill for painting and whitewashing the School House, said work having been done at a cost of $75), before the school was taken over by the city.

The question of assessing the city and dividing same into wards was considered, and the clerk was instructed to obtain information as to what the procedure and cost had been in other municipalities.

His Worship the Mayor drew attention to the fact that the Constable received practically no remuneration for work done for the city, inasmuch as the Provincial Government made a deduction from his salary equivalent to the amount paid him by the Corporation. The council thought that representations might very properly be made to the Government on this matter, but considered that the present was not an opportune time to move therein, and decided to defer doing so for a few months.

The Finance Committee recommended the payment of the following account:

P. Burnet, survey of nuisance ground $5.00.

The council adopted the report of the committee and ordered the account to be paid.

The poundkeeper submitted a report in reference to the impounding of a horse, the sale of which had realized less than the expenses incurred, leaving a balance due to him of $3. Referred to Finance Committee.

The Council adjourned at 10.30 p.m.

SALMON ARM ITEMS

W. J. Kew's little girl was buried last Friday afternoon. One of the most impressive and largest funerals ever seen here took place. Great sympathy is felt for the family in their sad loss.

Messrs. McKay and Montieth who who have been ill for some weeks are progressing favorably under the care of Dr. Simpson.

Several of Revelstokes residents have been down the last week in search of game, among them being C. F. Zinmark, R. Wippon, Guy Barber and C. Wood.

R. Langheed of Revelstoke is visiting R. Green.

The municipal council are calling for tenders for an assessor.

Geo. Goforth has finished his house which is a substantial one.

Messrs. Gibbard & Martin have the contract to build a fine residence for G. H. Suckling on the farm recently purchased from J. Reineeker.

Andy Currie is asking for bids for building a new house on his property here.

The harvest is over and the second crop of clover is about all housed, and shipping apples and vegetables is the order now.

The Armites are preparing for the exhibition here on the 22nd of the month.

Mrs. Glaser arrived home this week from several months' visit to her home in Portland, Oregon

Mr. Bjorkman has just arrived from the new mining camp up Seymour Arm, and reports things looking well on his property. He has some fine looking ore with him for assay, and thinks that ore will be shipped from the camp next season.

DOMINION

Imperial Limited in Collision.

Ottawa, Sept. 11.--A serious rear-end collision between the Imperial Limited and Soo express occurred at Hammond, below Ottawa on the short line to Montreal. The former broke in two going up a grade, and recoupling had almost been accomplished when the Soo train ran into it. No lives were lost but three train hands were injured and also two passengers.

FOREIGN

Earthquake in Italy

Rome, Sept. 8.—One of the worst earthquakes ever experienced in southern Italy has occurred, which has destroyed 25 villages, and killed 400 persons. The shock lasted 18 seconds which was followed by scenes of indescribable terror.

Thousands Homeless.

Constantinople, Sept. 4—The fire which broke out at Adrianople Saturday raged until Sunday owing to lack of water. The damage is estimated at five million dollars. Thousands of persons are homeless.

Disturbances in Russia

The oil region of south-eastern Russia has been given over to riot and pillage, and whole commercial quarters of several cities have been burnt and inhabitants remaining behind massacred and thrown into the flames

The cause is the hatred by the Tartars of the Armenians, and it was long feared that a movement to exterminate the Armenians was being planned The oil companies put their losses at $90,000,000

Every man owes it to himself and his family to master a trade or profession. Read the display advertisement of the six Morse schools of telegraphy in this issue and learn how easily a young man or lady may learn telegraphy and be assured of a position.

Enderby Doings

Mrs. Paul visited friends at Knob Hill Saturday and Sunday.

L. Norris, government agent at Vernon, was in town Saturday.

W. H. Tapley took a business trip to Mabel lake early in the week.

Carl Johnson went to Kamloops on Wednesday to work in the lumber mill there.

Mrs. Hutchison went to Mara on Friday to join her husband who is under canvas there.

Mrs. H. Worthington left on Friday for Annis, where she will visit friends for a few days.

Mrs. van Tassel, of Portland, Ore., arrived in town on Monday, and is the guest of Mrs. E. V. Moffet.

We are pleased to be able to say that Rev. H. N. Miller's daughter is recovering nicely from the attack of scarlet fever.

There will be no service in the Presbyterian church next Sunday owing to the anniversary service of the Methodist church.

Mr. Mills and son left for home on Monday after an extended stay in this part of the valley, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. Nairn.

Neil Simpson left for Winnipeg on Wednesday last, where he will reside in the future. J. Jones also left at the same time for the prairie capital.

W. H. Whittaker, late of Kamloops and a lawyer of repute, came in on Friday, and will open up an office in the Bell Block for the practise of his profession.

R. Marpole, general superintendent of the C. P. R., H. E. Bearley, and T. Kilpatrick, general superintendents, passed through in their private car on Monday.

The schools of the province will be allowed to close for three days during the Dominion Fair. The days will be October 4, 5 and 6. The 6th will be children's day

Sir Arthur Stepney and Mr. Robertson arrived on Monday. Sir Arthur is well known as the owner of that fine ranch just out of town that bears his name, to which place he is paying one of his visits of inspection.

The new wire fence around the residence of R. Bailey, manufactured by the Frost Company, is an exceptionally neat one, ornamented as it is with a fine front gate. This fence is getting well known here several houses being fenced with it.

It is not improbable that Enderby may lose the services of Mr. McDonald, the teacher at present in charge of the school here. He had a telegram Tuesday morning offering him a more lucrative position at Chilliwack. During the short time Mr. McDonald has been here promising signs were noticed of there being better results at next year's examinations.

W. Bates and wife, of Killarney, Man., are visiting R. P. Bradley, they having been close neighbors for 22 years in Manitoba before Mr. Bradley moved here. Mr. and Mrs. Bates have had a very enjoyable trip to the coast cities and the Portland Fair, also having visited Penticton and other Okanagan points. During their travels in B.C. and Washington they have seen no land they like so well as around Enderby and Mr. Bates may return at some future time to make his home here.

The license commissioners will hold court this afternoon at 2 p.m.

Mr. Burnett, of Knob Hill was in town on business Wednesday.

Mr. Stephenson, representing Gault Bros. (dry goods) was in town Monday

J. Jarrett left for Revelstoke on Wednesday, where he has secured employment.

P. Burnet has bought a cottage of Ira Jones, and will in a short time cease to pay rent.

Miss Francis, of Armstrong, passed through on Saturday to Salmon Arm on a visit to friends there.

The Kamloops Lumber Co. are now starting their camps up the river, and lumber jacks arrive in town every day.

While out driving on Sunday a bear was seen by Mrs. Moffet and Miss Garnett. It was in the middle of the road when first seen.

A special was run on the line on Sunday, consisting of five flat cars loaded with ballast, accompanied by a gang of men.

R. M. Palmer is at present in the Okanagan attending to various matters in connection with the exhibits of fruit at New Westminster and London, Eng

Rev D. Campbell left for the coast on Friday on a two weeks' vacation trip. He has exchanged with Rev. Mr. Wilson, of Mount Pleasant, who preached here last Sunday.

A picnic was held at Strolger's ranch last week, at which all the neighbors and several from town attended. A very pleasant time is reported by all.

Mrs. J. A. Jackson visited her brother, P. Greyell, between trains on Saturday. Mrs. Jackson came in to take her mother home to Kamloops, after a short visit to her son.

Joseph Devoine was brought before J. P.'s A. Shields and F. Barnes, on a charge of supplying Indians with liquor, on Tuesday, and was fined $50 and costs. Antoine, who had imbibed too freely, was fined $10 and costs.

The C. P. R. will sell tickets in connection with the Dominion Fair to New Westminster and return at low rates, on sale from Sept. 25 to Oct. 4, good till the 11th. The rate from here is $11.70; Armstrong $12.

Rev. J. M. Harrison, ex-president of the Alberta Methodist Conference, and wife, passed through on Saturday to Vernon, where he conducted the anniversary services of the Methodist church. Mr. Harrison will conduct the service here this coming Sunday, and will also deliver a lecture on Monday evening.

The meeting of the creditors of W. B. Steele, held on Monday afternoon in H. W. Harvey's store, was largely attended. T. Gray, manager of Wood Cargill Co., Armstrong, acted as chairman in an able manner. It was shown that the affairs of the estate are badly involved. The total amount of the liabilities is yet unknown; assets estimated at $8,000. It was decided to sell the ranch.

The harvest thanksgiving service at the Methodist church, together with the anniversary, will be held on Sunday morning next, September 17. The ladies of the church will thankfully receive any gifts of vegetables, grain, fruit or flowers suitable for decoration purposes. Those contributing will kindly leave the articles at Mrs. Broderick's in the forenoon not later than Friday or Saturday.

AN INDUSTRY PAR EXCELLENCE

The progress of fruit culture in British Columbia is one of the most remarkable and gratifying features of the past ten years of the province's existence says the Province. Not on the coast only, but in many parts of the upper country we find the industry being prosecuted with an energy and a success which in a few years will undoubtedly make this province one of the great exporting districts of the Confederation. Already our fruit has established a reputation in markets beyond our own boundaries for quality and size, which has left that of Washington and Oregon in the shade, and if the attention which has so far been paid to the selection of trees and vines is maintained, we will before long eclipse the States immediately to the south of us in this branch of industry. The great bench lands east as far as the Cascades, display a wonderful adaptability in the production of those fruits for which Ontario and Quebec have long been famed, and throughout the valleys of the Okanagan and Similkameen the choicest varieties of a semi-tropical kind are already grown in abundance. In the Nelson district, too, and in many parts of the Slocan, fruit ranching is becoming an active and profitable business. During the past five or six years the price of small acreage in the vicinity of Nelson suitable for the production of apples, plums, pears and the ordinary varieties of grapes has increased five-fold, and it is so sought after that it is now extremely difficult to obtain. In the production of fruit the climate, as well as the soil, is a matter of prime consideration, and it is in this particular that British Columbia possesses the superiority over her neighbors both to the east and to the south.

What the steady progress of the fruit growing industry means to this province can be readily appreciated. Already the demand from the great prairie country to the east of the Rocky Mountains is such that the older provinces of the Dominion and the Pacific states of the republic are struggling to secure possession of the market. That market, however, which in a few years from now will be making tenfold greater demands than it is making today, is the natural and legitimate customer of British Columbia. Our fruit is earlier than that of Ontario and Quebec, and it is better than that of Washington and Oregon, and in the time and distance consumed in transport to Manitoba, it possesses the advantage of both.

The fruit grower of British Columbia, therefore, if he pursues his calling with intelligence and enterprise, has an assurance of a profitable and ever-increasing market for his product, and the knowledge of this should occasion the rapid opening up of sections of the country as yet unoccupied.

With The Owl

HANK REKLAW IN THE DARK WOODS.

THOUGHTS are the mothers of deeds. A man's own desires are the worst tempters he has to fear. Whatever is most inside him he will live out sooner or later. The only way to reform him is to eradicate the evil from his heart. This can be done by supplanting the ignoble thought by a higher ideal.

We are just beginning to realize that the ruling world is the interior world. The social inharmony that we see is but an indication of the mental inharmony we do not see. The greed everywhere apparent is the result of the love of money inculcated in the minds of the children for generations.

The fear of the law does not permanently reform men. If a man has it in his heart to steal and is deterred by dread of punishment, he will usually scheme around to over reach and cheat his neighbors in less hazardous ways. In other words, actions are ruled by internals, not externals.

Whatever the ideals of a people are will be shown in the national life. If they are greedy and covetous they will want conquest. If their chief aim is material wealth they will reverence and enthrone the man who has most of it. If they have little regard for the rights and liberties of others they will be less liable to resist oppression themselves. If they are corrupt in their own hearts they will wink at corruption in others. In fact, they are more lenient toward a wrong that they would commit if they had the opportunity.

The roots of governmental wrongs are in the people themselves. The reform of the nation begins at the fireside. The man who would get society right must get right himself and teach others to get right. If we would have cleaner politics we must have cleaner hearts.

The world is just beginning to understand the power of thought and suggestion. Many a jailbird would do better if everybody did not regard and treat him as a thief. Many a woman who has gone wrong would get back into the right path if she had the help of a little love and confidence. Let everybody constantly suggest to a man that he is a rascal, and after thinking a while he may get to thinking so himself, and then he will become one.

TOPICS OF THE WEEK.

The latest European dispatches show that the Anglo-Japanese treaty is an offensive and defensive alliance in Asia, and ensures the co-operation of both powers to resist any encroachment on English or Japanese territory. This is worth more to both powers than any war indemnity, and provides a more effectual buffer for the Indian frontier than the unreliable Ameer of Afghanistan. The conclusion of peace and the announcement of the renewal of this alliance, has already caused this Eastern potentate to arrive at the decision that his policy should be to keep in with England, as evidenced by the mission to Lord Kitchener, announced some days ago. For might not Russia, on as flimsy a pretext as gave her an excuse for stationing troops in Manchuria, play another such "passive" military occupation?

It is interesting to learn says the Province, on the authority of the London Times St. Petersburg correspondent that M. Witte achieved no diplomatic triumph at Portsmouth, and that had he been allowed his own way he would not only have parted with territory, but given an indemnity to Japan, and that it was the Czar who secured and deserves credit for whatever advantage was obtained by Russia in arranging terms of peace. The Czar was convinced that Japan desired peace, and was opposed to granting any indemnity, and to the sharing of Sakhalin. If these statements are true, in what an absurd light it places all those proceedings at Portsmouth, reports of which the world waited for in feverish anxiety!

It Pays to Advertise.

Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself has said:
"My trade of late is getting bad,
I'll try another ten inch ad."
If such there be, go mark him well;
For him, no bank account shall swell;
No angels watch the golden stair
To welcome home a millionaire.
The man who never asks for trade
By local line or ad displayed
Cares more for rest than worldly gain,
And patronage but gives him pain.
Tread lightly, friends; let no rude sound
Disturb his solitude profound.
Here let him live in calm repose
Unsought except by men he owes.
And when he dies, so plant him deep
That nought may break his dreamless sleep;
Where no rude clamor may dispel
The quiet that he loved so well.
And that the world may know its loss
Place on his grave a wreath of moss
And on a stone above: "Here lies
A chap who wouldn't advertise."

Notice of Assignment.

NOTICE is hereby given that William Boswell Steele, of Crafton Farm, Hull Car, in the Province of British Columbia, farmer, has, by deed dated the 24th day of August, A.D. 1905 assigned all his real and personal estate, credits and effects which may be seized and sold under execution, save and except the household goods, furniture and effects, wagons, sleighs, farm implements and machinery, horses' harness and farm produce of the said debtor up to the value of Five Hundred Dollars ($500) to Henry William Harvey, of the City of Enderby in the Province of British Columbia, merchant and Francis Cooley Wolfenden of the Town of Armstrong, in the Province of British Columbia, flour mill manager, for the purpose of satisfying rateably and proportionately and without preference or priority his creditors. The said deed was executed by the said William Boswell Steele and by the said Henry William Harvey and the said Francis Cooley Wolfenden on the 24th day of August, A.D. 1905.

Notice is hereby given that the first meeting of the creditors of the said William Boswell Steele will be held at the General Store of Henry William Harvey of the City of Enderby in the Province of British Columbia on Monday the 11th day of September A.D. 1905 at the hour of 2 o'clock in the afternoon. All persons having claims against the said William Boswell Steele are required to forward particulars of the same duly verified together with particulars of the security (if any) held by them to William Henry Harvey, one of the said assignees, addressed to him at his store, Enderby, B.C. on or before the 7th day of September, A.D. 1905, and all persons indebted to the said William Boswell Steele are requested forthwith to pay such indebtedness to the said Henry William Harvey at his said store.

Dated at Enderby this 26th day of August A.D. 1905.

Dominion Fair Notes

All machinery on exhibition at the Dominion Fair will be in motion, electricity and steam both being supplied by the management.

The lighting scheme for Queen's park during the eleven nights of the Dominion Fair will show the outlines of all the big buildings and will illuminate the forest at the rear of the grounds.

From the time of opening in the morning till two o'clock in the afternoon of each day at the 1905 Dominion Fair, Sept. 27 to Oct. 7 in New Westminster will be given up to viewing the exhibits, and the Royal Irish Guards band will discourse music all the while.

Horse racing with klootchmen as riders will be one of the daily attractions in front of the grand stand during the 1905 Dominion Fair.

The Sockeye Run, which will be the same sort of thing at the 1905 Dominion Fair as the Trail is at the Lewis & Clark fair in Portland, will have every line of attraction known to the show man. There will be more of these entertainments on the ground than has ever been seen outside of a world's fair.

The Dominion Fair opens at one o'clock on Wednesday, September 27, and closes on October 7.

The finest horn in the world is of little consequence if it is not blown. Likewise the finest stock of goods is of small use if not advertised.

AN INDUSTRY PAR EXCELLENCE

The progress of fruit culture in British Columbia is one of the most remarkable and gratifying features of the past ten years of the province's existence says the Province. Not on the coast only, but in many parts of the upper country we find the industry being prosecuted with an energy and a success which in a few years will undoubtedly make this province one of the great exporting districts of the Confederation. Already our fruit has established a reputation in markets beyond our own boundaries for quality and size, which has left that of Washington and Oregon in the shade, and if the attention which has so far been paid to the selection of trees and vines is maintained, we will before long eclipse the States immediately to the south of us in this branch of industry. The great bench lands east as far as the Cascades, display a wonderful adaptability in the production of those fruits for which Ontario and Quebec have long been famed, and throughout the valleys of the Okanagan and Similkameen the choicest varieties of a semi-tropical kind are already grown in abundance. In the Nelson district, too, and in many parts of the Slocan, fruit ranching is becoming an active and profitable business. During the past five or six years the price of small acreage in the vicinity of Nelson suitable for the production of apples, plums, pears and the ordinary varieties of grapes has increased five-fold, and it is so sought after that it is now extremely difficult to obtain. In the production of fruit the climate, as well as the soil, is a matter of prime consideration, and it is in this particular that British Columbia possesses the superiority over her neighbors both to the east and to the south.

What the steady progress of the fruit growing industry means to this province can be readily appreciated. Already the demand from the great prairie country to the east of the Rocky Mountains is such that the older provinces of the Dominion and the Pacific states of the republic are struggling to secure possession of the market. That market, however, which in a few years from now will be making tenfold greater demands than it is making today, is the natural and legitimate customer of British Columbia. Our fruit is earlier than that of Ontario and Quebec, and it is better than that of Washington and Oregon, and in the time and distance consumed in transport to Manitoba, it possesses the advantage of both.

The fruit grower of British Columbia, therefore, if he pursues his calling with intelligence and enterprise, has an assurance of a profitable and ever-increasing market for his product, and the knowledge of this should occasion the rapid opening up of sections of the country as yet unoccupied.

With The Owl

HANK REKLAW IN THE DARK WOODS.

THOUGHTS are the mothers of deeds. A man's own desires are the worst tempters he has to fear. Whatever is most inside him he will live out sooner or later. The only way to reform him is to eradicate the evil from his heart. This can be done by supplanting the ignoble thought by a higher ideal.

We are just beginning to realize that the ruling world is the interior world. The social inharmony that we see is but an indication of the mental inharmony we do not see. The greed everywhere apparent is the result of the love of money inculcated in the minds of the children for generations.

The fear of the law does not permanently reform men. If a man has it in his heart to steal and is deterred by dread of punishment, he will usually scheme around to over reach and cheat his neighbors in less hazardous ways. In other words, actions are ruled by internals, not externals.

Whatever the ideals of a people are will be shown in the national life. If they are greedy and covetous they will want conquest. If their chief aim is material wealth they will reverence and enthrone the man who has most of it. If they have little regard for the rights and liberties of others they will be less liable to resist oppression themselves. If they are corrupt in their own hearts they will wink at corruption in others. In fact, they are more lenient toward a wrong that they would commit if they had the opportunity.

The roots of governmental wrongs are in the people themselves. The reform of the nation begins at the fireside. The man who would get society right must get right himself and teach others to get right. If we would have cleaner politics we must have cleaner hearts.

The world is just beginning to understand the power of thought and suggestion. Many a jailbird would do better if everybody did not regard and treat him as a thief. Many a woman who has gone wrong would get back into the right path if she had the help of a little love and confidence. Let everybody constantly suggest to a man that he is a rascal, and after thinking a while he may get to thinking so himself, and then he will become one.

TOPICS OF THE WEEK

The latest European dispatches show that the Anglo-Japanese treaty is an offensive and defensive alliance in Asia, and ensures the co-operation of both powers to resist any encroachment on English or Japanese territory. This is worth more to both powers than any war indemnity, and provides a more effectual buffer for the Indian frontier than the unreliable Ameer of Afghanistan. The conclusion of peace and the announcement of the renewal of this alliance, has already caused this Eastern potentate to arrive at the decision that his policy should be to keep in with England, as evidenced by the mission to Lord Kitchener, announced some days ago. For might not Russia, on as flimsy a pretext as gave her an excuse for stationing troops in Manchuria, play another such "passive" military occupation?

It is interesting to learn says the Province, on the authority of the London Times St. Petersburg correspondent that M. Witte achieved no diplomatic triumph at Portsmouth, and that had he been allowed his own way he would not only have parted with territory, but given an indemnity to Japan, and that it was the Czar who secured and deserves credit for whatever advantage was obtained by Russia in arranging terms of peace. The Czar was convinced that Japan desired peace, and was opposed to granting any indemnity, and to the sharing of Sakhalin. If these state ments are true, in what an absurd light it places all those proceedings at Portsmouth, reports of which the world waited for in feverish anxiety!

It Pays to Advertise.

Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself has said:
"My trade of late is getting bad,
I'll try another ten inch ad."
If such there be, go mark him well:
For him, no bank account shall swell:
No angels watch the golden stair
To welcome home a millionaire.
The man who never asks for trade
By local line or ad displayed
Cares more for rest than worldly gain,
And patronage but gives him pain.
Tread lightly, friends: let no rude sound
Disturb his solitude profound.
Here let him live in calm repose
Unsought except by men he owes.
And when he dies, so plant him deep
That nought may break his dreamless sleep;
Where no rude clamor may dispel
The quiet that he loved so well.
And that the world may know its loss
Place on his grave a wreath of moss
And on a stone above: "Here lies
A chap who wouldn't advertise."

Dominion Fair Notes

All machinery on exhibition at the Dominion Fair will be in motion, electricity and steam both being supplied by the management.

The lighting scheme for Queen's park during the eleven nights of the Dominion Fair will show the outlines of all the big buildings and will illuminate the forest at the rear of the grounds.

From the time of opening in the morning till two o'clock in the afternoon of each day at the 1905 Dominion Fair, Sept. 27 to Oct. 7 in New Westminster will be given up to viewing the exhibits, and the Royal Irish Guards band will discourse music all the while.

Horse racing with klootchmen as riders will be one of the daily attractions in front of the grand stand during the 1905 Dominion Fair.

The Sockeye Run, which will be the same sort of thing at the 1905 Dominion Fair as the Trail is at the Lewis & Clark fair in Portland, will have every line of attraction known to the show man. There will be more of these entertainments on the ground than has ever been seen outside of a world's fair.

The Dominion Fair opens at one o'clock on Wednesday, September 27, and closes on October 7.

The finest horn in the world is of little consequence if it is not blown. Likewise the finest stock of goods is of small use if not advertised.
