Dear Mrs Brack :

Thank you for your letter of September 23 in which you deal with various aspects of the work of the History Committee. In response to your request that my manuscript be made available as soon as possible, I am now forwarding it to you under separate cover. The attached Progress Report (in duplicate) indicates the conditions under which from my point of view it might, if accepted by the Committee, form a part of the History as a whole. Suggestions are also put forward as to how it might be of some use even in the event of rejection. I should be most grateful if individual copies of the Progress Report could be sent to all members of the History Committee for their information if it is in order to do so.

Word of the safe arrival of the manuscript would be greatly appreciated. Bulky communications seems to get tangled up with red tape at the international boundary and are sometimes delayed.

Thanking you for your unfailing patience and courtesy,

yours very sincerely

Ethel Johns
