Wit and Humor.

A WESTERN OBITUARY.—J. Bangs, we are sorry to say, has deceased. He departed this life last munday. Jem was generally considered a good feller. He went forth without a struggle, and sich is life. To-day we are as pepper-grass—mighty smart—to-morrow we are cut down like a cowcumber of the ground. Jem kep a nise store, which his wife now waits on. His verchews was numerous to behold. Many is the thing we bot at his grosery, and we are happy to state to the admiring world that he never cheated, specially in the wait of mackerel which was nise, and smelled sweet, and his surviving wife was the same way. We never knowed him to put sand in his shugger, tho he had a big sand bar in front of his hons, nor water in his liquors, though the Ohio river runs past his dore. Peace to his remains. He leaves one wife, seven children, one cow, a grocery store and other quadrupeds, to mourn his loss, but in the language of the poet, his loss was their eternal gane.

A traveller, writing home from the coast of Africa, says: 'The people die very fast, and the sheep have very long tails.' Sufficiently concise for any class of readers.

'Prove it,' said a man to another who had asserted that canary birds could never sing. 'The can nary note,' was the reply.

Punch remarks: 'Let us all go into decent half mourning for brave Tom Sayers, the great fighting man. Say one black eye.'

A THIEF'S BENEFIT.—In the back kitchen there is a blind man, whose eyes are darkened in more senses than one, for they are frightfully swollen and discolored. He gets a living by begging. The other evening he was coming over Waterloo Bridge, on his return from his long and weary round, when some ruffians threw him down, kicked him in the face with their heavy boots, and robbed him of the trifle he had obtained during the day. In the table an infant is dying, while the mother is lamenting because she is not able to buy the cordial the doctor has ordered for it. Poor little creature! all the cordials in the world would not save its life. As we look around upon the squalid women, the filthy men, the half-naked children in that miserable den, we think of the Saviour's words, 'Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for such is the kingdom of heaven,' and we feel that it is better for the babe to die than to live. When we have reached the street, we discover that the poor blind man is following us. 'Please, gentlemen,' he says, 'I have something on my mind, and I shan't be easy till I have got rid on it. I've a good wife, as good a wife as any man can have, but we—we want to get married, and we aint able to pay the expenses.' On his being assured by our companion that these should all be paid for him, he departs with a smile on his disfigured countenance so bright and joyous that for the moment we forget that he is blind. Another lodging-house is pointed out, the occupants of which are all thieves. It is hardly safe to enter it alone, as they come round you like bees, and may proceed from robbery to violence. A card in the window (of which we give a verbatim copy) shows, however, that they are not without some feelings of kindness, and that they help each other in the time of distress:—

A FRIENDLY MEETING will take place at the 'Feathers,' Great Wild-street, Drury Lane, on Tuesday, February 2, 1866, for the benefit of
to help to defray the funeral expenses of his eldest daughter, and you will oblige.
Chair—Ned Cummings.
Vice—W. West.

A MAN FOR HOUSE WORK.

Municipal

By-Law to Regulate the Sanitary Condition of the City.

BY-LAW.

We, the Mayor and Councillors in Council convened, by virtue of the power and authority vested in us by An Act to Incorporate the City of Victoria, passed the second day of August, A.D. 1862, in the Twenty-sixth year of the reign of Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria, entituled, "The Victoria Incorporation Act, 1862," hereby enact as follows:—

I. No person or persons occupying any Messuage, Shop, Building or other Erection, or any Land or other Premises within the city, or if there shall be no occupier thereof, no owner or owners of any Messuage, Shop, Building or other Erection, or any Land or other Premises within the City, shall have or permit or suffer to be in or on his, her or their Messuage, Shop, Building or Erection, or any Land or other Premises as aforesaid, any ditch, gutter, drain, privy or ash-pit emitting noxious or offensive effluvium or smell, or constructed so as to be a nuisance to or injurious to the health of any person or persons, or any swine kept so as to be a nuisance or offensive by reason of the stench thereof, or any dung, manure, refuse, offal, ashes, filth, or other matter or thing emitting noxious or offensive effluvium or smell, or any animal, vegetable or mineral matter or thing alone or together with other matters or things in a state of fermentation, putrefaction, decomposition or decay, or emitting noxious or offensive effluvium or smell, or permit or suffer any Messuage, Dwelling House, Shop, Erection or Building whatsoever within the said City to be in a filthy state or infected with any kind of vermin or dirt or emitting noxious or offensive effluvium or smell; Provided, however, that no person or persons shall be liable to any penalty for the infraction of this By-law until he, she or they shall have received notice from the Mayor and Council in manner hereinafter mentioned, and until he, she or they shall have neglected by the space of time the ein mentioned to abate or remove the offensive matter or thing noticed in such notice and therein complained of, or to do the act, matter or thing required of him, her or them by such notice within the space of time limited by such notice.

And whereas it is expedient for the good government of the City that a Sanitary Commission be appointed, and to enable such Commission to inspect, order the removal and report all nuisances within the said City of Victoria;

Therefore be it enacted by the Mayor and Councillors of the City of Victoria with the consent of His Excellency the Governor on Her Majesty's behalf:

II. From and after the passage of this By-law the Mayor and City Councillors may from time to time nominate three members of the City Council to act as a Sanitary Commission for the purpose of inspecting, ordering the removal and reporting all nuisances and other matters, the continuance of which may be deleterious to the public health.

III. The Commission shall perform their services gratuitously.

IV. The Commission shall have power to enter any Messuage, Dwelling House, Shop, Building or other Erection or Land or other premises within the City, and whether or not the same be occupied or the curtilage of any of the same, and inspect the condition of the same between the hours of eight in the morning and eight in the evening.

V. No person or persons shall permit, after due notice in that behalf given, any animal or vegetable matter in a decomposed or putrifying condition to remain on the premises occupied or owned by him or them.

VI. The Commission on behalf of the Mayor and Council may notify any person or persons on or occupying any messuage, dwelling house, shop, building, or other erection, or the curtilage of any of the same or other land or premises within the city, or if the same be unoccupied, then the owner of any such messuage, dwelling house, shop, building or other erection, or the curtilage of any of the same or other land or premises within the city on which any matter or thing may be done, permitted, or suffered, contrary to the intention of this by-law (according to the form of schedule A annexed) to remove such nuisance as before mentioned, or to close up, purify, cover, or cleanse any well, cesspool, drain, privy, ditch, or gutter, or otherwise to abate or remove the matter or thing noticed in such notice as in their judgment shall seem meet by giving notice in writing, (as per schedule aforesaid) signed by two or more of the Commission on behalf of the Mayor and Council, specifying the act to be done and the time in which the same is required to be done, such notice may be given to the occupier or owner of such messuage, dwelling house, shop, building, or other erection, or the curtilage of any of the same or of the land or premises in the city, or by leaving the same at his, her, or their last known place of abode or by fixing the same or a copy thereof on some conspicuous part of the premises.

VII. In the event of any Messuage, Shop, Building or other erection, or any Land or other premises within the City being unoccupied and the owner or owners thereof neglecting or refusing to abate or remove any matter, or thing done, permitted or suffered, contrary to the requirements of this Bye-Law, either absolutely or in the terms of any such notice as aforesaid, duly served as aforesaid, within the time in that behalf specified it shall be lawful for two or more of the Commission, on behalf of the Mayor and Council, or their servants or agents in that behalf, to do the act or acts, matters or things, required to be done or performed by such notice at the costs and charges of the owner or owners of such Messuage, Shop, Building or other erection or any land or other premises, the said costs and charges to be recoverable by action as work and labor done and money paid by them for the use of such owner or owners as if done at his, her or their actual request, or in such other form as is proper in law.

Evening Telegraph.

THURSDAY EVENING, JULY 26, 1866

MARRIED.

In Portland, at the residence of the bride's father, by the Rev. Father Feirens, John B. Miller to Minnie E., youngest daughter of Captain Daniel Burns.

The Pandora Street Murder.

The inquest on the body of Edward Lurin was resumed to-day at 1 o'clock.

James Wooster, (the room-mate of deceased) re-examined—Identified the shoes of deceased which were produced in court; also the coat, a black alpaca one. The dead man's ring was also produced, but witness said he could not swear to it. Deceased had the shoes on on Sunday.

Mr. Courtney here said he appeared on behalf of one of the parties accused of the murder.

Rev Mr Browning sworn—Recognised the ring produced in court. Last Tuesday, about noon, two Indians, Tom and Jim, came to my house and said they had a ring for sale; I took the ring and asked them where they got it? Tom said Jim got it from Gomperiz for a month's wages, $20. (The Indians were here brought into court and identified by the witness). They wished me to sell the ring for them; I said I would find out the value of the ring and tell them in the morning; in the morning Tom came to me. Evans and said Jim had been arrested with the murdered man's clothes on. I saw Wooster and he described the ring to me. I then gave the police.

H. Evans sworn—The deceased was in my cabin on Saturday; he pulled off the ring and showed it to me; it was a large gold ring and had been broken and mended again; it had also a mark, as if from a file, on it. Witness was here shown the ring and at once recognised it as the ring deceased had shown him.

Thomas O'Connor sworn—Saw the ring yesterday afternoon and recognised it at once as that worn by deceased.

James Pritchard sworn—Deceased cabined with me four months last winter; I am quite positive the ring produced is the one worn by deceased.

Tom, one of the Indians who brought the ring to Mr. Browning sworn—Said Jim told him he got the ring at New Westminster; Jim and his klootchman slept all night at my cabin; I recognise the shirt produced as Jim's; his klootchman washed it on Monday. (The shirt still showed large stains on the breast, as if improperly washed).

After the examination of Tim and Jim's klootchman, the jury returned a verdict of "Wilful Murder, by some person or persons unknown."

FESTIVITIES AT THE CAMP.—The Volunteer camp was crowded last night by ladies and gentlemen invited by their military friends to visit the encampment. A huge bonfire had been built, and round this were grouped several hundreds of visitors, who were liberally regaled by the corps with excellent hot coffee and cakes, after which space was cleared round the fire and an hour or two was spent in dancing to the music of the band. The Volunteers deserve credit for affording such a treat to the citizens.

THE FENIANS.—A late Washington despatch says: President Roberts, of the Fenian Brotherhood, was on the floor of the House to-day, and was cordially received by the Union members. The movement already inaugurated by the Fenians to identify themselves with the party of freedom has greatly excited the Copperhead papers here, and both speak of the affair in terms that betray great alarm. President Roberts feels confident that hereafter the Fenians will go with the Union party.—Oregonian.

THE COMOX COAL MINE.—The Sir James Douglas will sail for Comox on Monday next, and will lie there till Friday. Mr. C. S. Nicol, manager of the Nanaimo Coal Company, goes up in her to examine the coal seam discovered by Dr. Brown in that settlement, with the view, we understand, of opening a mine. The company have had two men on the ground prospecting for some weeks.

CORRECTION.—In our resume of the sermon preached at the Camp, on Sunday, several errors crept in by an oversight of the proof reader; the word "sin" being used for "soul," and "despotism" for 'disposition.' The sentences should read thus—"To use a homely illustration, man's soul is as a chariot impelled by seven fiery, irregular and restless steeds. Their names are Instinct, Appetite, Desire, Passion, Disposition, Habit and Opinion.

STEAM TO JAPAN AND CHINA.—A telegram, dated Washington, July 17th, says: The House has passed a joint resolution relieving the China Mail Steamship Company from obligations to stop at Honolulu, but requiring them to make thirteen instead of twelve trips yearly, and appropriating $500,000 to establish a line of steamships between San Francisco and Honolulu.

U.S. TROOPS ON PUGET SOUND—The Vancouver Register says: The troops at Fort Steilacoom may possibly be sent to Fort Townsend; and perhaps both forts may be abandoned. All the available military force in the Department is needed in the upper country.

FROM NANAIMO.—The steamer Sir James Douglas arrived last evening from Nanaimo, bringing eight passengers and a small freight. The ship Riviere would finish loading about Tuesday. H.M.S. Beaver sailed for the North yesterday morning.

FOR PORTLAND.—The time of sailing of the steamer Fidelity has been changed from eight o'clock on Saturday till two o'clock, in order to accommodate passengers by the Alexandra from New Westminster.

LAUNCH.—Capt. Stamp's new steamer will be launched from Trahey's shipyard on Saturday afternoon.

EXAMINATION AT MRS. BROWN'S SCHOOL.—A larger number of the parents and friends of the pupils assembled on the occasion of this examination than on most similar ones. There was quite a galaxy of ladies, and among the gentlemen we noticed the hon. Speaker of the House, the Superintendent of Education, the Rev. Mr. Somerville, and Messrs. Todd, Yale, C. B. Young, Pickett, Marvin, etc., etc. The young ladies, by their prompt answers, reflected the greatest credit on Mrs. Brown's tuition, and some of the senior pupils, in music, achieved quite a triumph. Brief addresses were delivered by Dr. Helmcken and Mr. Waddington, and the prizes having been distributed by the former gentleman, the spectators retired highly gratified with the various performances of the pupils.

DEATH.—We regret to have to announce the death in Portland, on Sunday last, of Capt. Daniel F. Burns, one of the pioneers of Oregon, and well known by many in this colony.

FOR NEW WESTMINSTER.—The steamer Alexandra sailed for New Westminster this morning at 10 o'clock with 20 to 30 passengers and 45 tons freight.

FOR PETROPOLSKI.—The Western Union Telegraph Co's bark Onward was towed out by the Sir James Douglas to-day, and sailed for Petropolski

TELEGRAPHIC.

To-day's Despatches.

SPECIAL TO THE EVENING TELEGRAPH.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25th—The ship Silas Greenman, 50 days from Hongkong, arrived this morning. Hon W. M. Pinnie, is appointed acting Colonial Secretary for Hongkong. The Coolie ship Jeddo was destroyed by fire off the Java coast on the 16th April. A mutiny had previously occurred, and ten men flogged and put in irons. The chief mate, an apprentice and forty emigrants were lost. The British ship Denmark, from London to Hongkong, stranded on Yashan shoals May 25th. It is not known whether the crew were saved or not. An expedition against the pirates on the west coast by English gunboats had been very successful. On arriving at Linton, the rendezvous of the pirates, the people having fled, the Chinese soldiers went ashore and burned the deserted houses. The expedition then penetrated to Namsen, when Lieutenant Manning landed with a small force and approached the village cautiously. Suddenly a masked battery opened on him, but after a sharp engagement he silenced and took it. This is the first time pirates have been successfully met in their own haunts.

British Designs on Pacific Commerce.

[Washington Corr. S. F. Bulletin]

England already sees that when our Pacific Railroad shall be completed, we shall absorb a very large share of the Oriental commerce which she has heretofore enjoyed. Evidence is not wanting that her rulers and her merchants are already inquiring how they can best meet the new condition of things, and overcome the natural advantages belonging to our geographical position. A British line of steamers between Shanghae and San Francisco is already talked of. Of course this British line would never be guilty of the blunder of going by the way of Honolulu. It would take the most direct route between Japan and San Francisco, and would thus beat the American line several days each way, and, as a consequence, British influence would again overshadow us upon our own peculiar field. If this British line was already established no one would doubt for an instant that the American line should also take the direct route in order to compete with it. Surely, then, there can be no doubt that our China steamers should take the direct route now, because when it has once obtained command of the trade the fact will discourage the establishment of a British line, and in every event compel it to enter the field at a disadvantage, if at all.

[A telegram published by us to-day announces that Congress has relieved the company from calling at Honolulu, and ordered them to make thirteen trips instead of twelve during the year.—ED. TELEGRAPH.]

MR. ZINN begs to announce to the inhabitants of Victoria that he has lately received a large assortment of Children's Carriages and Chairs, Fishing Baskets and Fishing Canes, and a large quantity of Market and Travelling Baskets, China Vases, Fancy Goods and Toys. All of which have to be sold on or before February next at greatly reduced prices. Goods sold at wholesale for cost prices. *

MR. DIGBY PALMER requests that orders for teaching, playing and tuning Pianofortes, and for instruction in Singing, may be left with Messrs. Hibben & Carswell, Stationers and Booksellers, Government street, or at his residence, near the top of Fort street. *

REMOVAL.—Mr Hibben requests us to state that he is now removing his bookstore from the old stand, corner of Yates and Langley streets, to the fine new premises in the Masonic Buildings, Government street, where he will open in a day or two. *

MR. FREEMAN requests us to state that he is about to remove his Variety store from Waddington Alley and corner of Government and Cormorant streets to the large store on Johnson street known as the "Queen's Saloon." *

The U.S. Indian Policy.

The Walla Walla Statesman contains the following remarks on a subject which is just now of great interest to our neighbors who live east of the Cascade mountains:

A proposition is now before Congress transferring the control of Indian affairs from the Interior Department to that of War. The proposed change is correct and cannot be made too soon. The present system of Indian management is expensive to the Government, and is attended with no corresponding advantage. The Indian can only be governed through his fears, and for this purpose a military officer, backed by a file of soldiers, is far more efficient agent than a civilian with his blankets and trinkets. If the Indian was capable of gratitude, this system of buying his friendship would have something to recommend it, but when it is understood that he attributes all such concessions to the fears of the white man, it will be seen at once that the effect of the system is essentially bad. The gathering of them together on reservations with a view to instructing them in the arts of civilized life, wherever tried, has failed. In the Indian character the element of progress does not exist, and hence the effort made in his behalf has been labor lost. Totally worthless and without one redeeming trait of character, the sooner he disappears from the earth the better. In the meantime, as a matter of protection to the whites, he should be placed under military control. In this way, although the Indian can never be made useful, he may be rendered harmless.

THE NOVELTIES in the Silk trade this season are the beautiful Gros de Suez, Gros de Londres, and Gros de Pekin. A choice lot of these are for sale at the LONDON HOUSE; also a splendid stock of Black Gros Grains and Glaces, from three-quarters to a yard and a quarter wide, bought before the advance in the silk market. *

Facts and Scraps.

A Tiger Story.—The daughter of the Moonda, or head man of the place, was affianced, in the rude native fashion, to one of the young men of the village, and their nuptials were to come off in a few days. One evening the girl with some of her female companions went, as was their daily wont, to the brook already mentioned, to bath and fetch water for the household. They had been absent but a quarter of an hour, when the startling voice of a tiger, and the piercing shrieks of the women, suddenly broke the silence of the hour, and before the roused villagers could snatch their arms, the girls came flying back with horror in their faces, and in a few words announced the dreadful fact that a tiger had carried off one of their party. It was the Moonda's daughter. Her kinsmen rushed but with hopeless hearts, to the rescue. Foremost amongst these was her intended husband, and close by his side his sworn brother, allied to him by a ceremony, common amongst this people, of tasting each other's blood, and swearing to stand by each other in after life, come weal, come woe. While the rest were following with skill and caution the bloody traces of the monster and his prey, these two, dashing on through the dense jungle, soon came again upon the object of their search. In a small open space (which I afterwards visited) the tiger was crouched over the dead body of the girl, which he had already begun to devour. The approach of the hunters roused him, and he stood over the carcass, growling defiance at the two men. In a moment an arrow from the bereaved lover's bow pierced the tiger's chest. It struck deep and true, but not so as (in sporting phrase) to stop the dreadful beast, who, from a distance of thirty paces, came down, with his peculiar whirlwind rush, upon his assailant. The young man had just time to draw his "kappee," or battle axe, from his girdle, when the tiger seized him by the left wrist. The man, leaning well back to gain room for the swing of the axe, drove it with all the collected strength of rage and despair into the tiger's fore arm, severing the massive bone, and leaving the blade buried in the muscles. Next moment his head was crushed within the monster's jaws, and he fell dead upon the ground, while the tiger, tamed by the loss of blood, turned round and began to limp away. All occurred so rapidly, that the surviving comrade had not shot a shaft, but now, maddened, he ran to the retreating brute and sent arrow after arrow up to the feather into its side and neck until it rolled over, dying, within a few yards of the ill fated young couple. The tiger still breathed as the rest of the party came up. They struck off its head, dissevered the muscle by which the fore-arm still adhered to the shoulder, and with these spoils, and the mangled bodies of the poor victims borne on litters, returned a melancholy procession to the village. The above minute details I had from the chief actor himself, a stalwart young fellow. The event had occurred not more than a month or five weeks before, and the sun dried strips of flesh still adhered to the ghastly trophy on the pole. I wished to have brought the bones away, but they gave some comfort to the poor old Moonda's heart. They reminded him that his daughter had not died unavenged, and I left them there.—"Touching Tigers," in all the Year Round.

Promotion in the English and French Armies.—I was sent down to the regiment, got through my drill and riding school in a very short time, and in two years from the date of the enlistment was promoted to the rank of corporal. When the Crimean war had broken out, my regiment was ordered to the East, and I had then been about fifteen years in the service. It was during the fearful winter before Sebastopol, that I was made a troop sergeant-major, and it was then that I met with an old acquaintance. I had been over to Kamiesch to take charge of some stores, and went into one of the French sutler's huts, or tents, to get a glass of brandy. Several French officers were sitting there, some taking their coffee, others their absinthe. One of them sprang up, called me by my name, and advancing towards me, shook me warmly by the hand, asking me in English—or rather in Irish—how I was. To make a long story short, this was an old playfellow of mine, in my native village. He was a Catholic, and a nephew of the Catholic parish priest. His uncle had sent him abroad to be educated for their church, but the young fellow soon discovered that he had no vocation for the priesthood, and took service as a private soldier in a French regiment formed of adventurers from all parts of Europe, and which always serves in Algeria. He had got himself naturalised a Frenchman, had been transferred to the Chasseurs d'Afrique, and, when I saw him, was a first captain of some three years' standing, expecting daily his promotion to the rank of 'chef d'escadron'—what we should call major. He had enlisted in the French army about the same time that I had taken service in the English. He was close upon being a field-officer, while I had only just been made a troop sergeant-major. My friend told me that he had never had the slightest interest, except what he had made for himself. He wore the Legion of Honor which he had won after some hard-fought skirmish in Africa, when he was yet a non-commissioned officer. With a very little care, he said his pay sufficed for all his wants. The only help he ever had was forty pounds from his uncle, the parish priest, when he became an officer, to enable him to buy his uniforms; and a subsequent ten pound note when he was promoted from sub-lieutenant of the Chasseurs d'Afrique, to be lieutenant in a lancer regiment. I thought at the time, what innumerable advantages the French service has over our own, for one who is in earnest.—All the Year Round.

FACTS vs. THEORIES.

"Give me a place to rest my lever on," says Archimedes, "and I will move the world." "Give me pure and unadulterated drugs," says Medicus, of the olden time, "and I will cure disease."

In one sense, both of these learned pundits were the veriest charlatans. They knew there was no place to rest their lever on, either to move the world or cure disease. Mechanism was in a backward state, and the medical profession was but another name for sorcery, and all the adjuncts of magic filters and charms of the "evil eye," &c.

But these latter days have borne unto us something more than even superstition and its crew ever dreamt of in their maddest philosophy. In these days of practical science, what was theory of yesterday is fact to-day, and all the old time notions become as bubbles in the sun, and burst and break with every breath we draw.

Let Archimedes shoulder his lever and we will find a resting place for it to move the world. Let mine ancient Medicus pant and toil no more for the drugs he so sorely needs, for we have them at our hand, ever ready to serve them at his beck.

Refined in the laboratory of Dr. Maggiel, the finest materials known in the medical profession are obtainable by any one. His Billious, Dyspeptic, and Diarrhœa Pills stand unrivalled, and his Salve operates with magical effect upon burns, scalds, and all sores and ulcers of the skin.

In fact, we think Maggiel's Pills and Salve are the wonder of this century, and we are happy in the thought that many others of our brethren of the craft agree with us. We would earnestly counsel that all families provide themselves with Dr Maggiel's Preparations at once, and keep them ready at hand, so as to use them at the most opportune time and as occasion serve.—Valley Sentinel.

THE ONE THING WANTED.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

The Blood.

These famous pills are so composed that they operate wholesomely on the stomach, the liver, the bowels, and other organs; by correcting any derangements in their functions, whereby a steady supply of pure materials for the renewal of the Blood is furnished, and a constant abstraction of effete products is effected. This perfect circulation thus becomes the very fountain of health and life, and overcomes all form of disease wherever its situation.

General Disorders of the Liver and Stomach.

All who ever indulge at table either in eating or drinking, should take about ten of these famous pills at bed time, from which will result a clear head and good stomach the following morning. Thousands of Ladies are always complaining of sick headaches, want of appetite, want of energy, and want of strength, to correct all these evils, three or four of these Pills should be taken twice a week, when they would give the invalid the health and appetite of a ploughman.

Females of all Ages and Classes

Obstructions of any kind, either in young or those between forty and fifty—the most critical period of life—may be radically removed by using these Pills according to the printed directions which accompany each box. Young persons with sickly and sallow complexions may have the bloom of health restored by this corrective, which purifies the blood and expels all gross and impure humors from the system. Beware then of the critical age from forty to fifty, as it sends many thousands to premature grave,—these Pills should be taken at that period of life two or three times a week.

Want of Strength and Energy.

Persons of sedentary habits, or those troubled in mind, working in Factories or Coal Pits, who cannot obtain that amount of fresh air and exercise which nature requires, suffer from weakness and debility, lowness of spirits, and want of appetite. All such should take a dose or two of these Pills every three or four days, as they act gently and effectually on the system and impart vigor and energy to the body, which is always followed by a good appetite, sound and refreshing sleep, and a high flow of spirits.

For the Cure of Dropsy.

The efficacy of Holloway's Pills in Dropsy is extraordinary. They act with such a peculiar effect upon the system, that the fluids causing this direful complaint, are perceptibly carried off and prevented from any further accumulation. The sufferer gains a buoyancy of spirits and rejoices in a completely renovated constitution. It is indispensably necessary that the Ointment should be most effectually rubbed into the complaining parts during the whole course of treatment.

Children and their Ailments.

In no country in the world are more children carried to an early grave than in Great Britain. Coughs, Measles, Scarlatina, Fevers, and other diseases attack the little sufferers, and death, but too often, follows at a rapid pace; yet if at the first stage of these complaints, parents were to have recourse to Holloway's Pills, all danger would be avoided, for the stomach and bowels would be gently but effectually cleansed by this mild aperient; the depraved humors corrected and the secretions duly regulated. A perfect cure would soon be effected, and the little patient restored to sound health.

Holloway's Pills are the best known remedy in the world for the following diseases:

Sold at the Establishment of Professor Holloway, 244 Strand, (near Temple Bar,) London; also by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines throughout the civilized world, at the following prices—1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s., 22s., and 33s. each box.

Ague	Female Irregularities	Scrofula or King's Evil
Asthma	Fever of all kinds	Sore Throats
Billious Complaints	Fits	Stone and Gravel
