Wit and Humor.

'Timothy Maguire,' said Patrick, 'now ye say that coat belongs to yerself intirely; I say it is me own. Now, mind ye, Timothy, the both iv us will take the coat an' look it all over; the man that finds his name on it shall be the owner. Will ye stick to that bargain?' asked Patrick. 'To be sure,' said Timothy, to whom the coat was given, and who vainly searched every part for his name, and then passed it over to Patrick, boastingly saying: 'And now let us see if you can be findin' the likes iv yer own name upon the garment.' 'Do ye agree to that?' said Patrick, eagerly grasping the coat. 'Upon the honor iv a man,' was Tim's. reply. 'Then howld on a bit,' said Patrick, as he drew his knife and opened a corner in the collar, and taking therefrom two very small peas, he exclaimed, as he held them out in his hand: 'There, d'ye see that?' 'Yes; but what is that?' said Timothy. 'A mighty dale it has to do wid it; it is me name to be sure—pea for Patrick, and pea for Powers be jabers!' So Patrick got the coat.

Lillie, when about seven summers had passed over her curly head, was one day observed to be unusually quiet and taciturn, with a line of care across her forehead edifying to behold. Her mother at st noticed it, and inquired the cause.

'Because I'm worried,' pettishly snapped out the words, and tugging away at er sewing (on some doll's garment) with the air of an ill-used martyr.

Upon being interrogated as to the quality of her 'trials,' she burst out with, 'Mamma, I've been looking over all my dresses, and I haven't got one fit to be married in unless it's my white muslin; but' (disdainfully) 'that won't be decent to wear by the time I'm grown up.'

Prosy old gentlemen think that James Watt was a greater genius than Shakspeare, and that the only motive which should move society is the locomotive. It was one of these who once said of Milton's 'Paradise Lost,' that it 'was a very good book, but it did not prove anything.' Practical men are useful, but they are shockingly utilitarian; and, like a tailor, see much more beauty in a lot of 'cabbage' than in all the rose bushes that ever grew.

The same precocious genius, when a little younger, persistently importuned her father one day to buy her an axe. At length her application commanded attention. On being asked to give a reason for desiring that particularly undesirable plaything, she announced that she wanted an axe so that when she was a widow she could chop her own wood!

When Charles Lamb visited the Litchfield cathedral, his guide told him that three men once dined upon the top of the steeple. 'They must have been very sharp set,' said Lamb.

A DIFFICULT QUESTION.—Are the minutes relating to an affair of honor always drawn up by the seconds?

Municipal

By-Law to Regulate the Sanitary Condition of the City.

BY-LAW.

We, the Mayor and Councillors in Council convened, by virtue of the power and authority vested in us by An Act to Incorporate the City of Victoria, passed the second day of August, A.D. 1862, in the Twenty-sixth year of the reign of Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria, entituled, "The Victoria Incorporation Act, 1862," hereby enact as follows:—

I. No person or persons occupying any Messuage, Shop, Building or other Erection, or any Land or other Premises within the city, or if there shall be no occupier thereof, no owner or owners of any Messuage, Shop, Building or other Erection, or any Land or other Premises within the City, shall have or permit or suffer to be in or on his, her or their Messuage, Shop, Building or Erection, or any Land or other Premises as aforesaid, any ditch, gutter, drain, privy or ash-pit emitting noxious or offensive effluvium or smell, or constructed so as to be a nuisance to or injurious to the health of any person or persons, or any swine kept so as to be a nuisance or offensive by reason of the stench thereof, or any dung, manure, refuse, offal, ashes, filth, or other matter or thing emitting noxious or offensive effluvium or smell, or any animal, vegetable or mineral matter or thing alone or together with other matters or things in a state of fermentation, putrefaction, decomposition or decay, or emitting noxious or offensive effluvium or smell, or permit or suffer any Messuage, Dwelling House, Shop, Erection or Building whatsoever within the said City to be in a filthy state or infected with any kind of vermin or dirt or emitting noxious or offensive effluvium or smell; Provided, however, that no person or persons shall be liable to any penalty for the infraction of this By-law until he, she or they shall have received notice from the Mayor and Council in manner hereinafter mentioned, and until he, she or they shall have neglected by the space or time therein mentioned to abate or remove the offensive matter or thing noticed in such notice and therein complained of, or to do the act, matter or thing required of him, her or them by such notice within the space of time limited by such notice.

And whereas it is expedient for the good government of the City that a Sanitary Commission be appointed, and to enable such Commission to inspect, order the removal and report all nuisances within the said City of Victoria;

Therefore be it enacted by the Mayor and Councillors of the City of Victoria, with the consent of His Excellency the Governor on Her Majesty's behalf:

II. From and after the passage of this By-law the Mayor and City Councillors may from time to time nominate three members of the City Council to act as a Sanitary Commission for the purpose of inspecting, ordering the removal and reporting all nuisances and other matters, the continuance of which may be deleterious to the public health.

III. The Commission shall perform their services gratuitously

IV. The Commission shall have power to enter any Messuage, Dwelling House, Shop, Building or other Erection or Land or other premises within the City, and whether or not the same be occupied or the curtilage of any of the same, and inspect the condition of the same between the hours of eight in the morning and eight in the evening.

V. No person or persons shall permit, after due notice in that behalf given, any animal or vegetable matter in a decomposed or putrifying condition to remain on the premises occupied or owned by him or them.

VI. The Commission on behalf of the Mayor and Council may notify any person or persons on or occupying any messuage, dwelling house, shop, building, or other erection, or the curtilage of any of the same or other land or premises within the city, or if the same be unoccupied, then the owner of any such messuage, dwelling house, shop, building or other erection, or the curtilage of any of the same or other land or premises within the city on which any matter or thing may be done, permitted, or suffered, contrary to the intention of this by-law (according to the form of schedule A annexed) to remove such nuisance as before mentioned, or to close up, purify, cover, or cleanse any well, cesspool, drain, privy, ditch, or gutter, or otherwise to abate or remove the matter or thing noticed in such notice as in their judgment shall seem meet by giving notice in writing, (as per schedule aforesaid) signed by two or more of the Commission on behalf of the Mayor and Council, specifying the act to be done and the time in which the same is required to be done. such notice may be given to the occupier or owner of such messuage, dwelling house, shop, building, or other erection, or the curtilage of any of the same or of the land or premises in the city, or by leaving the same at his, her, or their last known place of abode, or by fixing the same or a copy thereof on some conspicuous part of the premises.

VII. In the event of any Messuage, Shop, Building or other erection, or any land or other premises within the City being unoccupied and the owner or owners thereof neglecting or refusing to abate or remove any matter, or thing done, permitted or suffered, contrary to the requirements of this Bye-Law, either absolutely or in the terms of any such notice as aforesaid, duly served as aforesaid, within the time in that behalf specified, it shall be lawful for two or more of the Commission, on behalf of the Mayor and Council, or their servants or agents in that behalf, to do the act or acts, matters or things, required to be done or performed by such notice at the costs and charges of the owner or owners of such Messuage, Shop, Building or other erection or any land or other premises, the said costs and charges to be recoverable by action as work and labor done and money paid by them for the use of such owner or owners as if done at his, her or their actual request, or in such other form as is proper in law.

MOTTO.—The Singer Machine is the only Machine that will sew all kinds of cloth with all kinds of thread.

MACHINES SOLD IN TWO YEARS

The almost incredible increase in the sale of the Singer Machine during the past two years is owing to the popularity of the LETTER A TRANSVERSE SHUTTLE Family Machine, which was introduced in 1860, since which time it has earned and established a reputation for family uses equal to the celebrated manufacturing machines of this Firm, which are generally acknowledged, even by dealers in other Sewing Machines, to be unequalled for such purposes.

☞ NO OTHER Family Sewing Machine has such perfect and improved appliances for Ruffling, Hemming, Binding, Felling, Tucking, Gathering, Gauging, Braiding or ing, Quilting, etc.

MILITARY RESOURCES OF AUSTRIA.—The Vienna Ost Deutsche Post says: Austria has at the present moment 800,000 men under arms. This is no idle boast. The present complement of the army exceeds that of its previous war footing by 140,000 men. But this is not the criterion which best shows the military strength of Austria. What astonishes everybody is the rapidity, precision and

The Volunteer Encampment.

Those of our citizens who have not yet visited the encampment on Beacon Hill should do so before the breaking up of the camp on Saturday next. Though on a small scale, the regulations and proceedings are carried out in accordance with strict military discipline, and will be interesting to those who have never witnessed warlike demonstrations of a more imposing nature. The appearance of the camp on church parade last Sunday, which we have hitherto been prevented from noticing at length, was highly attractive, and the 500 or 600 visitors evinced the deepest interest in the proceedings of the day. A brief resume of the able and eloquent discourse of the chaplain, Rev. Thomas Somerville, may, even at this late hour, be read with pleasure: The text was chosen from 2d Cor., 16 ch. 13 v.: "Be strong, quit ye like men." The preacher first referred to the late alarm in the land, which had happily passed away, and reminded his hearers of a war that is perpetual, in which action is ever incumbent. The character of Paul, whose words formed the text, was sketched as a great Christian soldier, one of the very greatest of the many heroes of the Bible for great moral power, breadth of view and steadiness of purpose. The nature of strength in its different aspects was discussed in the first head and illustrated from its different developments in the savage life and in the Roman, Grecian, and Christian civilization. In the second head was urged the necessity of moral strength to maintain a truly good and worthy life; that everything sinful and abnormal proceeds in reality from weakness, that sin was not a real thing in the world of itself, but rather the absence of a real thing—the lack of controlling power; that through the want of this, everything intended for good might be perverted, and faculties and feelings that might have exalted a man to heavenly bliss, became lawless, unrestrained passions, urging them to destruction. It was stated that the philosophy of man's moral nature assigned to him two classes of power—the "Springs of Action," and the "Guides of Action" To use a homely illustration, man's soul is as a chariot impelled by seven fiery, irregular and restless steeds. Their names are Instinct, Appetite, Desire, Passion, Despotism, Habit and Opinion. Were it entirely left to these, they would speedily dash it upon the rock of destruction. But the Great Maker has appointed for drivers to restrain, Reason and Conscience. These were to guide and govern; and just as these are in ascendancy does man rise in the scale of being. Weaken these, and man is like a ship without keel or helm in a stormy sea, at the mercy of every furious wind and foaming wave. The very powers which, if properly guided, would have wafted it onward, become the instruments of wreck and loss. It was stated that moral strength was therefore required in the battle of life; that man might overcome circumstances and not be overcome by them; might possess the world, instead of letting it possess him The fall of even one man, with all the boundless possibilities of his nature, was suitably pictured, and the advice given never to stand idly at ease, nor live without the camp fires of devotion and the watchful sentinels of faith and diligence.

The concluding appeal that all should quit themselves like men, was made on the grounds that men were by their nature allied to the divine; that they were called to be fellow-workers of God most high; that they were inhabitants of a beautiful and glorious home; that they were heirs of an endless immortality; that youth would speedily pass away, and the campaign of life was soon to be ended.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PIC-NIC.—The annual picnic of the Presbyterian Sunday School comes off on Friday at the grove adjoining Jay's nursery gardens. The scholars will assemble at the church at 11 o'clock and march to the grounds, where ample provision will be made for their enjoyment, not the least of which will be a plentiful supply of cherries, raspberries, &c. The parents and friends of the pupils are invited to attend.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP THE CAMP.—This morning about two o'clock, while private Alexander was on duty at the camp, he observed something in a state of ignition thrown into the enclosure. He ran towards it and found it was a bottle with a lighted fuse attached, and just as he picked it up a man rose from the fern in Henley's field, called out "take care, it will explode!" and ran off. Private Alexander seized the thing by the fuse and threw it over the fence, the bottle dropping at his feet; he then fired at the fellow, when four or five others rose from the fern and made rapid tracks for the bush. The force at once turned out, in less than three minutes, and scoured the vicinity, but finding no signs of the fellows they returned to quarters. On examining the missile it was found to consist of a soda-water bottle containing about three-fourths of a pound of blasting powder, tightly rammed in with sawdust, with some 18 inches of common tarred fuse inserted into the neck of the bottle, altogether forming a very dangerous weapon, if exploded in a tent or among a number of men. The affair may have been intended as a joke, but if not malicious it was certainly extremely stupid, and might have inflicted serious injury if not loss of life. Indeed we can hardly imagine a man so silly as to use such a deadly missile in jest, and we think every effort should be made to discover and punish the perpetrators.

THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL ON THE INCORPORATION ACT.—This body sat on the Incorporation Act yesterday. The general opinion among the potent, grave and reverend seigniors of the Upper House seemed to be that it was dangerous to give the people power to tax themselves through a City Council, and also that the people "had already as much or more than they could do to defray the expenses of the government"—a point on which the people themselves undoubtedly concur. Hon. Mr. Rhodes objected altogether to a city corporation as useless and expensive—an idea worthy of Timbuctoo, not of the honorable gentleman. The hon. Attorney General made the only sensible suggestion which was elicited by the debate, namely, the necessity of providing a public market under the control of the corporation, where persons could dispose of farm and other produce. The subject, which we have frequently urged on the attention of our legislators, is deserving of careful consideration, as not only would it be a great boon to our producers, but it might be made to contribute materially to the revenue of the city The Council, however, separated as usual without doing anything.

THE PANDORA STREET MURDER.—The Coroner's inquest in the recent murder met to-day at 1 o'clock, but one of the jurors having been summoned to attend the Supreme Court the inquest was adjourned till to-morrow at the same hour. An additional clue to the discovery of the murderers has been obtained by the arrest yesterday evening in Johnson street, by officer Taylor, of an Indian wearing some of the clothes of the deceased. He had on an alpica coat and a pair of shoes, both of which were at once identified by Wooster, the room-mate of the murdered man, who had stitched one of the shoes in Wooster's presence. The Indian will be brought up as a witness in the case to-morrow.

AN EARLY JOURNAL.—A friend has laid on our table two copies of the California Star, the first paper, we believe, published in the State. One of the copies is dated October 16th, 1847, and is the 41st number of the 1st volume. The paper is about the size of the Cariboo Sentinel, and contains local news (chiefly Town Council proceedings), correspondence, and a very few advertisements. It was published by Samuel Brannan, and presents a wonderful contrast to the well filled and prosperous broadsides of the present day in the Bay city.

INDECENT ASSAULT.—Ah Yan, a Chinaman, was charged in the police court to-day with committing an indecent assault last Saturday upon the person of a little girl, aged five years, daughter of Rose Gounoux, a half-breed woman residing on Humboldt street, opposite Park Row. The prisoner lives in a cabin near by, and induced the child to enter his house by giving her cakes. Her mother and aunt testified that they had examined the child, and that she was suffering from having been abused. The case was remanded for one day.

ASCENT OF MOUNT BAKER.—The Pacific Tribune republishes our paragraph on the proposed attempt of Dr. Brown and Mr Coleman to scale this lofty peak, and calls upon the adventurous gentlemen of Puget Sound to join the party. We learn that the adventurers have already started up Skadgett river, accompanied by Judge Darwin of W.T., and that Governor Pickering, who is an old friend of Dr. Brown's, had also started to join the party in their courageous attempt.

THE CAMP TO-NIGHT—The volunteers intend to have a "gay and festive time" at the camp to-night with their friends. The band will provide music for a dance on the greensward, and coffee and other refreshments will be supplied fo the ladies. We understand that only those provided with tickets from members of the corps will be admitted.

SALE OF A SCHOONER—By decree of the Admiralty Court yesterday, the schooner Indian Maid is to be sold on August 1s, to satisfy claims against her. Capt. Macintosh had a demand of $413 79, and Boulton & Cook of Nanaimo, a claim of $579, which was put in court by their proctor, Mr. Bishop who obtained an order for $529.

THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY have been occupied all day on the Reply to to the Governor's Message. Mr. Cochrane brought in a resolution praying Her Majesty to appoint Sir James Douglas Governor of the united colonies. Mr. DeCosmos opposed with great vehemence. The debate was going on when we went to press.

Last Night's Despatches.

Mexico.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24—Eastern line still out of order beyond Julesburg.

Advices from Sonora are to the 5th and Mazatlan to the 16th.

The Imperial Consul of Mexico reports numerous insignificant fights between the opposing forces at Sonora, but affairs on the western coast are substantially unchanged.

Advices from the city of Mexico are to June 16th.

The official paper of the Emperor speaks very disparagingly of him. The Emperor had ordered a draft to fill up the reorganized army corps; the draft will commence on the 15th July next. The Liberals are already preparing to dispose of renegade Mexicans when the French troops leave. A series of important attacks and withdrawals, with doubtful victories on both sides, are reported.

News from Mexico confirms the capture of Matamoras by the Liberals. General Mejia had arrived at Vera Cruz, the port towns being cut off from the interior under military rule. Trade was emphatically dull, and beyond hope of revival until the withdrawal of the French troops.

California.

Mrs. Margaret Denny has been arrested and charged with assault with intent to murder Mrs. Maria DeWolf. The case will come up for investigation on Thursday, when the whole facts which led to the shooting will probably transpire.

THE CHALETS OF THE ALPS.—Those who have not in person visited the chalets, can form but little idea of the primitive simplicity with which those rude dwellings are built. In some places they are merely made of large stones piled on one another, with a sloping roof, and surrounded by a narrow gutter to carry off the rain; others, when situated within reach of the forests, are built of rough logs of wood, placed across each other, the interstices being filled with moss and dried leaves; these are better than the stone huts, as they are much warmer, and retain less damp. The whole building is about twenty feet by fourteen, and divided by a slight wooden partition, the larger portion being used as a cow shed. Above this apartment, and under the sloping roof, is the place where the hay is stored, and which forms the shepherd's sleeping chamber. The remainder, a space of about fourteen feet by six, is reserved for kitchen and parlor, and is not unfrequently shared by one or two goats and frequently a pig. This part is open to the roof, and through a trap door, kept open by means of a long fir pole, the smoke finds exit, chimneys not being in vogue. It has also another slight partition or screen across one corner, which is appropriated as pantry or larder. There being no windows, daylight is admitted through the door, which is kept open for that purpose. The floor is of stone, or rather a mixture of earth, rock and stone; and there is no fireplace, a fire being made when required on the ground in a corner. Its furniture consists of a wooden bench or settle, and perhaps a large stone boulder, which serves as table or seat, as may be required. The kitchen utensils comprise two or three porringers, a kettle, and a few wooden spoons, besides two milking pails. Above the hearth, which is formed of stones, is suspended a little wooden crane that turns on a pivot, upon which is hung the great copper cauldron that the king of the herd brought up in triumph on his head from the village below, and in which the milk is scalded preparatory to making it into butter and cheese. There is no lack of ventilation in the dwelling, for around above and between the bare rafters which form the walls, the winds and cold air from the glaciers above whistle freely, though this is in a measure tempered by the warm and fragrant breath of the cows, who are closely packed every night within the hut —Chamber's Journal

Facts and Scraps.

THE LIFE OF THE FUTURE.—Such a progression being granted, the life of the future must differ from that of the present as that of the present differs from all that went before. Old genera and species must pass away, and newer and higher ones take their places. As the ratio of development among the different classes and orders, both of plants and animals, seems to have differed during the past—the lower being more persistent, or less variable than the higher—so surely the same ratio will manifest itself in the future, the more highly organised passing by more rapid stages into newer and higher forms. Within the same limits of time the invertebrate may undergo less modification than the vertebrate, the aquatic less than the terrestrial, and the cold blooded less than the warm-blooded; but all (by whatever process) must sooner or later pass into newer and higher forms, and man himself as certainly as the plants and animals that form the theme of his deliberations. If there exists a great law of progression—and all that palæontology has revealed of the past or physiology taught of the present points to such an ordaining—it would be reversing or ordinary ideas of the permanence of nature to suppose such progression had come to an end when all its accompaniments and all the media through which it manifests itself remain unimpaired and persistent. And it would be equally at variance with all philosophical notions of natural history to suppose that a law which had operated alike on all the orders of life in the past would become partial and exempting in the present. It may startle some minds to hear the same argument applied to man as to the rest of the animal creation. The reverse, unfortunately, has been too long the fashion. The interests of science, as well as the sacredness of truth, demand, however, that where nature operates alike, the student of nature shall not venture to obtrude with artificial 'schemes and arrangement' and 'lines of demarcation.' Looking at it merely as a question of natural history—and this, be it observed, is the only way in which science can approach it—the future of the human race must be subject to the same laws of variation and progression as those which have governed and still continue to govern the extinctions and evolutions of the other orders of vitality. The rate of variation may differ in the respective orders, but from the law of variation there can be no possible exemption. And if this rate of variation has hitherto been more rapid in the higher than in the lower orders the existing varieties of man must consequently the sooner pass into other and higher varieties.'—Pope's Geology for General Readers.

THE DANES' DYKE AT FLAMBOROUGH HEAD.—Imagination then passes on to William the Norman. After subduing Hereward on the Isle of Fly, we know he devastated the whole country north of the Humber with fire and sword, to read a terrible lesson to the Saxons. Without doubt this corner of Britain, cut off from the mainland by Danes' Dyke, witnessed a fierce struggle ere the Norman knights succeeded in carrying it. Then how many Henrys and Edwards may have ridden by it in after days! And then from Tudors and Stuarts it fell into the hands of farmers; and now for ages sheep and cattle have pastured by it as calmly as if war and bloodshed had never stained its soil. Very ruthless were those heathen Danes. Their vices came down to us in the word 'lurdane,' their strategy in the Danes' Dyke, and their cruelty in the provincial name of the dwarf elder, fabled to grow most on Danish battle fields, and called Danewort therefrom.—The Gent'eman's Magazine.

TELEGRAPH CONSOLIDATION.—The progress of telegraphing in the United States is by gigantic strides. The American and Western Union Telegraph Companies are about concluding an agreement of union which amounts to a consolidation of interests. The public demand for prompt and uninterrupted transmission of messages renders it indispensable to get rid of all delays in checking and booking from one line to another. The new consolidation will control and operate over 104,000 miles of telegraph wire, covering all the territory, and connecting all points of importance from Newfoundland to San Francisco and Vancouver Island. From the latter point 14,000 miles to St. Petersburg will be done within a year. Cuba and the West Indies will be connected, and the success of the Atlantic Cable in August next is confidently hoped for.

'Wonderful things are done now-a-days,' said Mr. Timmins; 'the doctor has given Flack's boy a new lip from his cheek.' 'Ah,' said his wife, 'many's the time I have known a pair taken from mine, and no very painful operation either.'

An apparatus enabling a person to remain under water for twenty minutes without requiring a supply of air, has been tried successfully on the Seine. A man must surely be insane to try it, though.

The art of economy is drawing in as much as one can, but unfortunately young ladies will apply this 'drawing in' to their own bodies, when they wish to avoid anything like waist.'

Goethe says: I see no fault committed that I have not committed myself.' Had the gentleman ever committed suicide?

FACTS vs. THEORIES.

"Give me a place to rest my lever on," says Archimedes, "and I will move the world." "Give me pure and unadulterated drugs," says Medicus, of the olden time, "and I will cure disease."

In one sense, both of these learned pundits were the veriest charlatans. They knew there was no place to rest their lever on, either to move the world or cure disease. Mechanism was in a backward state, and the medical profession was but another name for sorcery, and all the adjuncts of magic filters and charms of the "evil eye," &c.

But these latter days have borne unto us something more than even superstition and its crew ever dreamt of in their maddest philosophy. In these days of practical science, what was theory of yesterday is fact to-day, and all the old time notions become as bubbles in the sun, and burst and break with every breath we draw.

Let Archimedes shoulder his lever and we will find a resting place for it to move the world. Let mine ancient Medicus pant and toil no more for the drugs he so sorely needs, for we have them at our hand, ever ready to serve them at his beck.

Refined in the laboratory of Dr. Maggiel, the finest materials known in the medical profession are obtainable by any one. His Billious, Dyspeptic, and Diarrhœa Pills stand unrivalled, and his Salve operates with magical effect upon burns, scalds, and all sores and ulcers of the skin.

In fact, we think MAGGIEL'S Pills and Salve are the wonder of this century, and we are happy in the thought that many others of our brethren of the craft agree with us. We would earnestly counsel that all families provide themselves with Dr Maggiel's Preparations at once, and keep them ready at hand, so as to use them at the most opportune time and as occasion serves.—Valley Sentinel.

A NEW AND GRAND EPOCH IN MEDICINE!—Dr. Maggiel is the founder of a new Medical system. The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctors are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are no of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is here announced that Maggiel's Billous, Dyspeptic and Diarrhea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 11 Pine street, New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts per box.

THE ONE THING WANTED.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

The Blood.

These famous pills are so composed that they operate wholesomely on the stomach, the liver, the bowels, and other organs; by correcting any derangements in their functions, whereby a steady supply of pure materials for the renewal of the Blood is furnished, and a constant abstraction of effete products is effected. This perfect circulation thus becomes the very fountain of health and life, and overcomes all form of disease wherever its situation.

General Disorders of the Liver and Stomach.

All who ever indulge at table, either in eating or drinking, should take about ten of these famous pills at bed time, from which will result a clear head and good stomach the following morning. Thousands of Ladies are always complaining of sick headaches, want of appetite, want of energy, and want of strength, to correct all these evils, three or four of these Pills should be taken twice a week, when they would give the invalid one health and appetite of a ploughman.

Females of all Ages and Classes.

Obstructions of any kind, either in young or those between forty and fifty—the most critical period of life—may be radically removed by using these Pills according to the printed directions which accompany each box. Young persons with sickly and sallow complexions may have the bloom of health restored by this corrective, which purifies the blood and expels all gross and impure humors from the system. Beware then of the critical age from forty to fifty, as it sends many thousands to premature grave,—these Pills should be taken at that period of life two or three times a week.

Want of Strength and Energy.

Persons of sedentary habits, or those troubled in mind, working in Factories or Coal Pits, who cannot obtain that amount of fresh air and exercise which nature requires, suffer from weakness and debility, lowness of spirits and want of appetite. All such should take a dose or two of these Pills every three or four days, as they act gently and effectually on the system and impart vigor and energy to the body, which is always followed by a good appetite, sound and refreshing sleep, and a high flow of spirits.

For the Cure of Dropsy.

The efficacy of Holloway's Pills in Dropsy is extraordinary. They act with such a peculiar effect upon the system, that the fluids causing this direful complaint, are perceptibly carried off and prevented from any further accumulation. The sufferer regains a buoyancy of spirits and rejoices in a completely renovated constitution. It is indispensably necessary that the Ointment should be most effectually rubbed into the complaining parts during the whole course of treatment.

Children and their Ailments.

In no country in the world are more children carried to an early grave than in Great Britain. Coughs, Measles, Scarlatina, Fevers, and other diseases attack the little sufferers, and death, but too often, follows at a rapid pace; yet if at the first stage of these complaints, parents were to have recourse to Holloway's Pills, all danger would be avoided, for the stomach and bowels would be gently but effectually cleansed by this mild aperient; the depraved humors corrected and the secretions duly regulated. A perfect cure would soon be effected, and the little patient restored to sound health.

Holloway's Pills are the best known remedy in the world for the following diseases:
