Australian Engineer Looking Around.

CAPITAL NOW BEING ATTRACTED

T. J. Bernard, Ex. M. P., Is Looking At Rossland Low Grade Properties.

T. J. Bernard, an Australian mining engineer of considerable repute, and who is familiar with Australian mining for the past generation, is at present a visitor in the camp, where he has come for the purpose of seeing what can be done in the way of opening some of those numerous properties which are now lying idle.

Mr. Bernard accorded an interview yesterday afternoon to a representative of the WORLD, during the course of which he gave an interesting account of the mining laws of Australia which apparently differ widely from those of this province, and to which difference Mr. Bernard accords the widely differing conditions, which are the present day aspects of Australia and of British Columbia. Mr. Bernard should know as he is an ex-legislator of Australia.

Speaking as to the crown granting which prevails here and which is the cause of many a property lying idle which might otherwise be working Mr. Bernard stated that crown granting is unknown in Australia on all mines. A lease is granted on deep mines for a period of 20 years, supposing certain conditions are complied with. And there conditions compel the working of the property year by year unless under extraordinary circumstances. Practically, therefore, the lease is from year to year as long as the property is working; for the twenty year period, can be renewed. The conditions are that either the mine must have so many men per acre of land located, constantly at work or must put in machinery to the value of that labor.

Gold mines can be located for 25 acres, or any lesser amount and as soon as they are staked the location must be registered within a certain number of days, and accompanying the location must be handed into the Gold Warden's office $5 for every acre taken up. This tax is payable yearly. In addition about $50 are charged by the government for surveying the land. In the case that a company is formed, there must be at least seven men whose standing is sufficient guarantee that the shares they are selling are not backed by men of straw. These men must pay upwards of $500 for the necessary registration fees, the government seeking to protect the public against wildcatting. Whether worked individually or by company, the property must pay its pound per acre yearly just the same and must keep men employed. In case of a shut down the Warden must be convinced that it is from causes beyond the lessee's

PYRITIC SMELTER TO BE ERECTED

Cablegram This Morning From London Orders the Immediate Beginning of Work on Sophie Mountain.

A cablegram was received this morning from London by Manager Thompson of the Kootenay, Nickel Plate, Velvet and Portland mines, sent by the directors of the last mentioned couple, authorizing the immediate beginning of work upon them according to the plans which were already outlined and which were given in the WORLD several months ago as having been proposed for the forthcoming spring.

The plan for working the property is to erect a concentrator and a small reduction stack or smelter so as to treat the ore upon the property instead of sending it many miles over a difficult wagon road. Manager Thompson informed the representative of the WORLD that he would immediately visit the property and make arrangements for work to start at once.

The first thing to be done will be the completion of the concentrator building. The building itself is practically completed, the machinery for a water plant will have to be procured and will be ordered immediately. Until the roads are in a fit state this cannot be got upon the ground and it will be three weeks or so before the work of installing the machinery can be begun. The plant is experimental as to size and will not be more than 50 ton capacity and may or may not include an Elmore addition. That depends on the results obtained. The reduction works will have to have a site surveyed and the probability is that it will be mid-summer before all the details are arranged but the new smelter is expected to be ready for operation long before snow flies again. The concentrator is on the ground but the smelter, which is to be the pyritic type, will have to be near water of which there is plenty in the neighborhood. Should Big Sheep Creek be chosen an aerial tramway will have to be constructed.

In the meantime the concentrator will be in full swing as there are about 5000 tons of concentrating ore upon the surface ready for treatment.

The mine is well opened up and a connection made between the Velvet and Portland, so that there is no need of extensive development at the present stage of the game. By fall at least one hundred men will probably be employed on the regular work of the mine and the reduction works attached. A force of men will be placed at work almost immediately, which will be gradually increased as the season goes on. It is understood that Mr. Andrew Larson will be placed in charge by Manager Thompson.

The old companies of the Velvet and Portland are now in course of liquidation and a new company formed combining the two properties.

Manager Thompson does not leave the Rossland Kootenay, but on the other hand is arranging for some better scheme of getting his ore to the smelters, either by tramway or by a spur of one or other of the lines now coming into Rossland whichever will best serve the best interests of the Rossland Kootenay.

AT McARTHUR & HARPER'S

The Millinery Department is Surpassing Itself

If Miss Byrne, the tasteful milliner in charge of the millinery department at McArthur & Harper's store can trim hats to order in any thing like the manner she can make by wreaths she will keep all the men in the camp broke paying for Easter offerings to their sweethearts and wives. In fact it is positively dangerous for any man to permit his womankind to look into the window and fatal to go into the show room Mr. Harper has gone to all kinds of trouble is getting in a stock of spring goods, laces, hats, ribbons flowers and what not and he has succeeded only too well. If it were not for the fact that people are now making plenty of money here his enterprise might have been rewarded by a gentle intimation that the camp would be better off without him.

BISHOP PERRIN.

In a recent debate in the British House of Commons, a letter was produced from the Bishop of Columbia, Bishop Perrin of Victoria, saying nice things of the Chinese, using the same as an argument, that as the Celestial was so well liked in British Columbia, he could not do much harm in the Transvaal. This letter of the Bishop of British Columbia has provoked much invidious comment in the Coast press, and his lordship has been driven to defend himself in the columns of the Victoria Colonist. The Bishop thinks that the Chinese are a strong race, and is in earnest over their conversion to Christianity. He points out that they are punctual in business, scrupulously honest in their business engagements, and are not addicted to drink. Now all this is very true and if the question were merely this, there would be nothing further to be said. But implicitly behind the Bishop's argument is implied that this country is ready to welcome the Chinaman as a settler and an equal. For such a country as this must either be white or hybrid. Now the Chinaman will not mix with the white man. No white woman cares to marry a Chinaman whose sexual relations are unnamable. Any resident in the Far East where Chinamen are employed knows this of them. For plainer English the Bishop may refer to the Pentateuch. The Chinaman too is an inveterate gambler and is generally addicted to opium. He is inclined to create an imperium in imperio and be a law unto himself. Special police are necessary to cope with him. Their sanitary life is much at fault and their general health more or less scrofulous. Such people are not welcome, and when they prevent white men coming to the province, it is insupportable. They have their virtues, many of them, but their virtues are not such, when coupled with their faults, to invite their being co-laborers with the white. If British Columbia is to be a white man's country, the Chinaman must go. The people will not mix. And the WORLD, with no desire of impertinence, might remind his lordship that if he is here as a missionary, it is as a missionary to the whites. The Chinese are here an accident, and an unfortunate one at that.

DALNY.

It would seem from the despatches from the Far East that Dalny, close to Port Arthur, was in a state of unpreparedness when the war broke out, and could easily have been captured by the Japanese. It is now well fortified and every day makes it stronger. Without dwelling on the point whether both Dalny and Port Arthur must fall as soon as their rail communication is cut, a reader of history may be reminded that when the allies had fought the Alma in the Crimea, Sebastopol could have been captured without striking a blow. By giving time the Russians were enabled to strengthen the defences that it cost thousands of lives before the fortress fell. Some such thing may will happen in the Far East. Of course the Japanese cannot do much while the harbors are frozen, but when the Russian unpreparedness is referred to, it may well have been thought by the Russians that winter would give them ample time for the completion of their defences. In fact General Winter, now as in the famous campaign of Bonaparte in 1812 is, proving Russia's best general. Were Russian generals all of the class of Kourapatkin, Japan would have a walk over.

Important Announcement!

A Vancouver Company of Eye Specialists Establishes a Branch in Rossland.

This announcement is made by Dr. A. McKay Jordan, President and Managing Director of the Great West Optical, Manufacturing and Supply Co., Limited. Dr. Jordan, who arrived Sunday, completed arrangements with Mr. T. E. Morrow of this city, who has become agent for the company. Mr. Morrow, who is too well known in Rossland to require an introduction, will become the company's manager in this city and will be assisted from time to time by the Company's ablest Eye Specialist, who will regularly visit Rossland.

This is the largest exclusively optical company in Canada and aims to establish a chain of branch offices that will extend from the Pacific to the Atlantic. It will manufacture all its own spectacles at a saving to the public of the middlemen's enormous profits, and give to the small towns the services of the most competent specialists in Canada. This Company requests every patron to be sure and obtain an official receipt from the specialists supplying glasses. This receipt will contain the Company's guarantee of every frame sold and should anything prove unsatisfactory the Company holds itself responsible and will replace or make good the glasses purchased. This is the only company of opticians in existence that protects its clients by guaranteeing its work. To quickly and permanently introduce the work of this Company to the residents of this city, the President, Dr. Jordan,—who is acknowledged as the most proficient Eye Specialist in Canada. To introduce the company's specialists, and also the superior quality of their goods, very special prices will be quoted for a few days. In order to place the company's business before the general public in the most satisfactory way, and Dr. Jordan at great inconvenience to himself has decided to personally supervise the first tour of the company's specialists. The Rossland public therefore has an opportunity that seldom occurs of consultation and examination at

IMPORTANT LITIGATION

A New Issue Is Being Tried.

LABOUR OPPOSED TO EMPLOYERS

Vancouver Manufacturers' Association Being Prosecuted Criminally.

Vancouver, March 28.—A most unusual and important controversy between labor and capital is now in progress here, arising out of the differences between the Vancouver Engineering Works company and their machinists and boiler-makers. The employers planned to meet union strike with union of capital. The result was the formation of the Manufacturers' Association, and its appearance as a factor in the previous domestic quarrel of a particular factor and its men.

Now the strike has culminated in the inauguration of legal proceedings by the strikers, who have instituted both civil and criminal action against the employers and their capitalistic associates, initiating what promises to be a crucial struggle between labor and money power. The criminal charge preferred against a large number of the leading business men of the community is that "of conspiring together in constraint of trade." Among those made defendants in the proceedings are E. G. Woods, of Woods & Spicer; James Howard, of Ross & Howard; T. H. Kirk, manager of the Dominion Laundry; and C. F. Jackson and Nicol Thompson, of the Vancouver Engineering Works, together with the fourteen members of the executive of the Vancouver Employers' Association.

The specific charge is that they, on or about the 2nd instant, passed a resolution binding all members of the Association against employing any of the striking machinists or boiler-makers, this resolution constituting, it is maintained, a blacklist or boycott, and as such an illegal constraint of trade. Damages are also sought by the individual workers prejudicially affected.

AWAY TO MAORILAND

Lecture Given Last Night by the Rev. Mr. Rawei.

The entertainment given by the Rawei's at the Methodist church last evening was the best of the church entertainments that have been witnessed in Rossland. The scope of the entertainment was Maoriland, and to Maoriland the Maori who ran the evening strictly confined himself. There was a host of stereopticon views which were vividly described by the Rev. Mr. Rawei and his wife. The language used was Maori and English and if Mr. Rawei speaks Maori as well as he does English, he must be an accomplished linguist. Indeed the language used by Mr. and Mrs. Rawei is the best claim that the Maori's are indeed worthy of cultivation.

Mr. Rawei did not dwell upon the economics of New Zealand, although as an educated man living his life in New Zealand he is eminently qualified by his training for the task. His discourse was entirely confined to the North Island and on Wednesday night Mrs. Rawei will take the chief share in describing the South Island.

Besides the lecturing proper there were numerous examples given of native music, vocal and instrumental which were well received by the audience. The church building had few vacant seats and there ought to be even less on the next entertainment.

THE LAST SAD RITES

Funeral Today of Late John Carlsen Largely Attended.

The funeral of John Carlsen, who was killed on Saturday morning in his first shift at the Le Roi mine, through what the coroner's jury has declared to be negligence on the part of the mine, was very largely attended this afternoon. Deceased was about 24 years of age, a native of Sweden, and has been in this continent for the past eight years working as a miner. He was a member of the Miners' Union at Coeur d'Alene City and latterly has worked in Rossland where but a short three months since he married.

His sister Mrs. E. Gregor came from Seattle and his father from Spokane to be present at the funeral ceremonies. These were conducted this afternoon at St. George's Church by the Rev. John Cleland, and after the conclusion the remains were escorted to their final resting place by a large number of friends and acquaintances of the unfortunate victim of the accident at the Le Roi. Despite the early season flowers were in evidence everywhere.

The pall bearers were Messrs. T. Embleton, T. Long, C. O. Lalonde, S. Martin, M. Crow and W. French.

AN INTERESTING LECTURE

The Capabilities of the Human Eye

Mr. Maitland, who is working in conjunction with Dr. Jordan in introducing the Optical company through British Columbia gave a very entertaining and instructive lecture in the Young Men's Conservative club rooms on Friday and Saturday last, says the Revelstoke Herald. Mr. Maitland is an able speaker and with the lantern slide illustrations he used made the evening both interesting and profitable.

In general the speaker said that as our sense of sight was immeasurably greater in delicacy and usefulness than any of our other senses it was worthy of our utmost care and attention. He pointed out the marvellous ability of the eye as a physical organ in that it can so readily detect and distinguish color, the intricate delicacy of its mechanism, how it instantaneously accommodates itself to the multitude of the various shades of light and unconsciously contracts and dilates to a perfect focus of any object. As a subject of study it is perhaps the most interesting of any line of work, in that the knowledge to be obtained thereby is unlimited. It ever presents new and varied avenues of thought to the student of optics.

Mr. Maitland gave numerous figures showing the great capabilities of the eyes and convinced his hearers that the organ of sight is most fearfully and wonderfully made. In its most intricate delicacy and its infinite power of expression the human eye is the most convincing evidence of the omnipotence and omniscience of powers of the Creator.
