PRESS COMMENT

What Is the Matter with Rossland Camp.

CHANGE LE ROI MANAGEMENT

A Caustic Article in the London, B. C. Review—Shareholders Urged to Investigate.

A correspondent in the London Review goes into the question, "What is the matter with Rossland?" very thoroughly. The writer gives a short sketch of the early efforts of the B. A. C., to get the mines on Red Mountain started, and refers to the details accomplished up to the time Manager Macdonald assumed control. He continues as follows:

"Mr. Hudson's services were however, soon dispensed with, and a Mr. Bela Kadish, an ore sorter of Baker City, Oregon, took his place. After that "the trouble began to brew," and the employes at the smelter deemed it in their interest to start a branch of the Western Federation at Northport.

About a month ago the smelter was closed down, and the following reasons given:—

1st day.—For necessary repairs.

8th day.—For lack of roasted ore.

15th day.—Because one of the foremen at the works had been threatened by some of the men; therefore the management were bound to break up the union, etc.

At a conference between the officers of the union and the general manager of the company, and the manager of the smelter, the officers of the union assured the general manager that they were satisfied with the wages, hours, etc., but that they wished to retain their rights as men, and positively refused to disband their association. They also stated that they neither authorized nor countenanced terrorism in any shape or form.

The ultimatum was given them of either breaking away from the union or the smelter, and so the matter stands at time of writing, and the smelter remains idle, with over 65,000 tons of ore on the dumps, and 700 tons daily being added. What the game is puzzles everybody in the camp, and we read silly explanations in the latest London papers about acute labor troubles, etc.

Why should trouble with the men be precipitated at a time when everything should be working smoothly, and the smelter turning out from $300,000 to $400,000 tons monthly?

Had the British investor been treated honestly, holders of B. A. C. shares should now have had all their money back, with at least 50 per cent. in dividends and valuable holdings as well. Le Roi shareholders should have had regular dividends from the first year, and handsome ones at that.

There is but one remedy for all these affiictions, and that is complete change of management at both ends. The mines and smelter should be managed by business men on the ground, and not via the London Stock Exchange. The ore now out and being mined should be converted into matte as speedily as possible, and the profits distributed among the long-suffering shareholders. Then Rossland can show the Britesh investor the worth of her gold mines on Red Mountain.

We have too many beans and peas on hand, we will sell them for 5c per pound. Paulson Bros. tf

Meeting Tonight.

The regular monthly meeting of the Rossland Board of Trade will be held this evening in the board rooms at 8:30 o'clock. Amongst the business likely to be discussed will be the city school building matter and the Velvet wagon road, the survey for which is just about completed.

THE MORGAN TOWNSITE

The New Kettle River Proposition -- Chances for Investors.

The new townsite of Morgan is attracting a good deal of interest just at present when so many people are looking around for a new location. It is situated on the Kettle River Valley railway, about half way between Marcus and Cascade. The townsite is level and lightly timbered. Streets are being cleared out and a bridge across Kettle river is being built by the townsite company. The first sawmill is just starting up business, and contracts have been let for the erection of an hotel, a store and an office building. As the railway work in the vicinity is about as heavy as any on the line, a large force of laborers will be employed all summer.

The townsite is owned by the principal owners of the First Thought mine, which is the best developed mining property tributary to it. This mine has already been opened by some 1900 feet of workings, and upwards of $1,000,000 is estimated to be in sight. There is high grade ore, one lot of which has already been sent to the smelter and yielded returns of $70 per ton, principally in gold. Pat Burns, Blake Wilson, Senator Ramsdell and O. Bruce, are the fortunate owners.

The townsite is managed by Col. Brayton, of Kaslo, and W. H. C. Jackson, is the local agent for the sale of town lots.

THE "KNOCKER"

Another Malicious False Statement Nailed.

ATTACKING SAMUEL ROBINS

The Miner Wickedly Says the Company Which Recognized the Union Made No Profits.

The Rossland Miner published this morning, Mr. R. C. Clute's letter in the Toronto Globe, giving extracts from the evidence of Samuel M. Robins, superintendent of the New Vancouver Coal Mining and Land company of Nanaimo, taken before the Royal Chinese commission, of which Mr. Clute is the chairman, quite recently.

What Robins Said.

The superintendent in his evidence stated that he always preferred dealing with the union in labor matters in preference to the individual workman and gave his reasons for so doing. He said that in 1891 his company had entered into a written agreement with the Nanaimo union and that the agreement had been loyally lived up to by both the parties to it. That during the past ten years his company has always officially recognized the union and that during the period mentioned no strike or serious difficulty had ever happened.

Mr. Clute's View.

Commissioner Clute in his letter drew attention to the agreement, which he recited, and to Mr. Robin's testimony as to how union recognition worked and added, "I venture to say that a system which has enabled the company for ten hours to carry on its operations without a strike, deserves careful attention and consideration from both employers and employes." Mr. Clute said further, that the published extracts were hurriedly picked out and that he would refer to the matter more fully a little latter.

What The Miner Did.

The Miner was asked to print the story and it did after twenty four years deliberation, but it is evidently not Mr. Macdonald's policy to let so good a statement pass without comment of a kind, and in the editorial column this morning appeared the following.

"In connection with the same (the Clute letter) we may merely say that it is significant that it is a matter of public comment that the property which Mr. Robins manages has never made a dollar for its owners."

A Malicious Lie.

It is impossible to imagine that there could be any mistake or misunderstanding about the quotation given, yet, what are the facts.

The New Vancouver Coal Mining and Land company is an English concern, with a capital of £215,000. It has also issued £40,000 of six per cent. debentures and up to date has paid in all about 20 dividends, of from one to three per cent., mostly half yearly.

The Dividends.

The following figures are taken from Bell's Canadian Mining Manual, for 3899:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| June 1889 | 2½ | per cent. |
| Dec. 1889 | 2½ | " " |
| June 1890 | 2 | " " |
| June 1891 | 3 | " " |
| Dec. 1891 | 2½ | " " |
| June 1891 | 2½ | " " |
| June 1894 | 3 | " " |
| Dec. 1897 | 2 | " " |
| May 1895 | 2 | " " |
| Dec. 1896 | 1 | " " |
| May 1897 | 2 | " " |
| Nov. 1897 | 2 | " " |
| May 1898 | 2 | " " |
| Nov. 1898 | 2 | " " |

After the payment of the last dividend quoted, the Manual states that the balance credited to profit and loss account amounted to £14,805, and the reserve fund was £45,571.

The later figures are not available at the moment, and later the exact figures will be given.

This is the concern which Mr. Bernard Macponald's paper has the unblushing effrontery to declare in its editorial columns this morning "has never paid a cent of profits to its owners.

LABOR IN ST. LOUIS

Only Union-Made Material in the World's Fair Buildings.

St. Louis, Aug 7.—An attempt is being made in this city to form a building material trades' council, to include all workingmen engaged in the manufacture of structural materials. If the project is carried out successfully only union-made material can be used in the erection of world's fair buildings.

Among labor leaders the formation of the new organization is looked upon as a new way of approachiug the subject of labor for the world's fair. Only last week the Central Trades and Labor union drew up a strong resolution to the effect that none but union labor should be employed by the Louisiana Purchase Exposition company. Everything possible will be done to put this into effect.

UNION RECOGNITION.

The morning paper in its issue of today re-publishes a most interesting article taken from the Toronto Globe on the working of of unionism.

Mr. R. C. Clute sent the Globe extracts from the evidence of Samuel M. Robins coal mine manager, taken before him on the Chinese commission. Mr. Robins it seems is a manager who believes in the recognition of the union and who. according to his own testimony would prefer to deal with the union in adjusting labor differenc s in place of the individual worker.

Mr. Robins is the manager of the New Vancouver Coal company at Nanaimo and has charge of a company which employs about 1400 men. There has been no strike for ten years. The union is fully recognized, and has been for that period. The secretary of the union and the superintendent of the mine work together in harmony to the satisfaction of both the company and the men. This is rather a startling contrast to the picture Bernard Macdonald is so fond of showing to us is it not? The mine in question is not in the Coeur d'Alene district but it is in British Columbia.

Think of it, for ten years the manager has fully recognized the union and there has never been a strike or any injunction proceedings.

Mr. Clute sets out the agreement between the men and the company which has been in force since 1891. It is as follows:

"1—The company agrees to employ miners and mine laborers only who are already members of the Miners and Mine Laborers' Protective association, or who, within a reasonable period after employment, becomes members of the association.

"2—The company agrees to dismiss no employe who is a member of the association without a reasonable cause.

"3—The association agrees that, under no consideration, will they stop work or strike without exhausting all other meant of conciliation available.

"4—The association agrees that they will not interfere with the company in employing or discharging employes.

"5—The association shall comprise all men employed under ground, excepting officials and engine drivers, and above ground all day laborers, not officials, engine drivers or mechanics.

"6—This agreement can be terminated by thirty days' notice on either side."

Concluding his letter Mr. Clute says:

"There are other important points in the evidence of Mr. Robins which I desire to bring before your readers, showing how a recognition of the union and the agreement above set forth worked out in practice. This I shall ask permission to do on a future occasion; but I venture to say that a system which has enabled the company for ten years to carry on its operation without a strike deserves careful attention and consideration both by employes and employers, and this becomes emphasized when I am able to state as a fact that on one occasion during a depression these employes, without a dissenting voice, voted to reduce their own wages $20.00 per month, which was done. Subsequently, as conditions permitted, the wages of the men were advanced to their former rate.

Has Manager Macdonald ever honestly considered the advisability of trrating his men along the lines adopted by Manager Robins? Does any one in Rossland think tha a strike would be in progress here if the "Robins" policy as outlined above had been tried in place of "government by injunction and such foolishness.

ECONOMIZING THE TRUTH.

The smelter management at Northport are very anxious—a little too anxious in fact—to create the impression that the infamous injunction proceedings has made the former employes willing to go back to work. Of course one result of the move has been to drive the men still more together and away from the management. Not a single man of the former workers has applied to be taken back since the lockout was instituted. Many of the new men brought to Northport from a distance under most gross misrepresentation, promptly leave the works on ascertaining the real facts of the case and only the most dispicable of the scab element can be induced to remain. Naturally the class of men referred to do not make good workers and the already heavy loss of operating the smelter grows heavier daily.

Manager Macdonald has stated under oath that the minimum loss per month exceeds $50,000 and it may safely be placed at a very much higher figure. What the British shareholder thinks of this insane warfare against organized labor will be learned shortly, but in the meantime all sorts of fairy stories may be expected in the Miner about the wonderful progress being made at Northport under the injunction proceedfngs. As in the past these stories will be strictly the reverse of the real facts but the management is badly frightened of "hearing from London" and something has to be done to keep up appearances.

How can the slightest reliance be placed upon any statement coming from either Mr. Macdonald or superintendent Kadish as to the operations at Northport when the facts is recalled that for over two months both of the managers have repeatedly stated in the press that they had all the men they required and were making very satisfactory progress and now Mr. Macdonald swears in then ijunction proceedings that he has been unable to make any headway and that the minimum loss of operating one furnaces out of six has been not less than $50,000 per month. The manager should try and make his utterances fit in a little better with his sworn statements, otherwise he will continue to be the laughing stock of the community whenever his articles on smelter progress appear in the press.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The Ottawa lumbermen indignantly deny that they are going to feast the Duke on pork and beans. Still there are worse things to eat than pork and beans.

It is possible to feel more than a languid interest in the troubles between Venezuela and Colombia, though they may reach the dignity of a "war." They are but another of those periodical outbreaks common to the countries where the name of republic covers a succession of dictatorships tempered by revolutions. Neither the people nor their rulers have much conception of what government means.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Editor EVENING WORLD.

Dear Sir:—One cannot even for a few moments ponder over the deplorable state of mining affairs in Rossland without a feeling of indignation. When W. A. Carlyle was here his management was marked by courtesy, diplomacy, and decency. He knew his business and never so far lost his head as to imagine that he was expending his own money. On the contrary, he knew the money belonged to others and like a good and faithful steward used it for mining purposes. He employed no staff of special police and private detectives; he bought no rifles, no revolvers, no shot guns, no ammunition. He wanted mining; he aimed to do his duty, and even those who considered him unnecessarily close, yet respected and remembered him. He left with the blessings of many friends; there was no execration, because Carlyle did not merit it. I stop just here.

Now sir, is it not strange that bickering and trouble began with the advent of Bernard Macdonald in Rossland, and Bela Kadish at Northport? What mysterious connection ever existed or now exists between them? Why was an effort, a successful effort made to get rid of Mr. Hudson at Northport and substitute an ore sampler from Oregon in his place? And why was Bernard Macdonald so anxious to get out a surplus of ore at the mines, while Kadish and his advisers were paying money and otherwise making efforts to break up the union at Northport? And yet the men here are blamed by Bernard Macdonald for striking, and thus defeating his treacherous policy! Certainly let those who wish to do so, surrender their conscience and interests to Bernard Macdonald; they will have reason to mourn for it in sackcloth and ashes!

COMMON SENSE.

August 6th, 1901.

Editor EVENING WORLD.

Dear sir:—We have at least to thank the unions for being able to express our opinions upon a burning issue, without being forced to submit to the gagging process. Bernard Macdonald looks upon the public as he looks upon all whom he cannot bully and tyranize over. Look, for instance at the infamous attacks upon the Giant flotation. A fine bird to foul his own nest. Still, we were long ago told that a certain class of people would prefer reigning in rather warm regions than serving in a better and purer atmosphere. I quite agree with one of your correspondents who ventured the opinion that every merchant and business man in the community should refuse to acknowledge Bernard Macdonald's newspaper as a journal representing Rossland opinions or Rossland's interests, neither he, nor what he calls a newspaper (happily half size now) would be missed from this section of British Columbia.

CANDOR.

August 6th, 1901.

Editor EVENING WORLD.

Sir:—Whose money went into the Le Roi and other properties connected with it? That of the British and French investor, and whose money was expended to assist in securing control of the Rossland Miner? That of the British and French investor. And who was the trusted custodian of British and French investments? Bernard Macdonald! Yet this man has precipitated a strike in the camp, and has laid the foundation for the loss of at least one hundred and fifty thousand dollars by the investors, and now purchases a newspaper (of course Bernard Macdonald knew nothing about the negotiations) in order to villify the unions and justify his insane policy. Verily Bernard Macdonald and his henchman have sown the wind and both they and their dupes will reap the whirlwind.

MORGAN is situated on Kettle River, half way between Marcus and Cascade.

MORGAN is an ideal townsite in that it has a large mining district and a big agricultural, stock and fruit raising country tributary to it.

MORGAN has no rivals and will be the largest town between Spokane and Grand Forks.

MORGAN is the shipping point for the great First Thought mine, which is developed by 1900 feet of tunnels and shafts, and has over $1,000,000 worth of ore in sight.

MORGAN is the headquarters for the Pierre Lake and Flat Creek mining districts which contain more partially developed mines and prospects showing bodies of sulphide ores averaging over $10 a ton than any similar area in the northwest
