FROM NORTHPORT

Public Meeting Held There Last Evening.

THE MANAGER IS IN TOWN

Rumor of a Possible Settlement This Afternoon—The Men All United—Town Quiet and Orderly.

(Special to the WORLD)

Northport, June 21.—Last night we had a joint meeting of the citizens and the Union men. It was called particularly to hear Mr. Daniel H. Carey, the attorney for the smelter, explain his views on the lockout and the strike.

The meeting opened with rousing speeches from the Rev. Mr. Henry, minister of the Presbyterian church here, John A. Kellogg, J. C. Marshall and Judge Harkness, attorneys of this town.

All commended the union for their conservative, quiet and peaceful conduct and for their use of moral suasion only, during this lock-out and strike.

The idea conveyed by all the speeches was, that the men were striking for a principle and that the principle was right, viz: the undoubted right to form a union. The men were advised to stand firm and they would win, and if not, the principle would, even if they went down in the fight.

The principle is the same as expressed by Maculay in his lays of ancient Rome:

"How can man die better
Than facing fearful odds;
For the ashes of his father
And the temples of his Gods?"

Now for the anxiously looked for speakers of the evening, Mr. Carey. Amidst a mass of verbiage the main ideas were so mixed that it is difficult to write a concise account. Briefly, Mr. Carey, speaking for himself as an individual citizen and not as an attorney for the smelter, said that as he saw the matter there was nothing between the management and the men, and that we should all go to work and be happy and glorious.

There was only one little matter to agree to, a mere form, and of no account. That was the black list, for there was one, of about ten names, perhaps fifteen, may be twenty or even twenty five; after all were at work these men would be discharged with the consent of the union. All this was a mere matter of form, as these men had all, or nearly all, left town. There might be a few left but these men should agree to sacrifice themselves for the good of the majority, and the Union should commit this moral murder on their twenty five brethren in the bonds of unionism.

Next, Mr. Carey said that he had lots he had bought and paid for, worth three thousand dollars, which, if we did not return to work, he would sell for two hundred dollars. Mr. Carey concluded with a coarse and pointless story, the inference of which was that the men were incapable of judging matters as they did not possess any intelligence.

The union and the representative citizens present agreed that the insult offered to the union by Mr. Carey was unprecedented and uncalled for. That the members of the union had conducted themselves like men and that they were holding out for principle, and have been orderly and quiet, well understanding how the other side is spoiling to make trouble and get up a scrap.

One matter has been advanced a snail's step. For over three weeks we have had the black list held over us, like the sword of Damocles

It was in form for a long time in Mr. Kadish's mind only, now we hear it has taken a written form and is in escrow in Mr. T. L. Savages's safe, not to be called for until the men return to work and then the union is to have it and put the screws on its own members.

Bernard McDonald came down on the noon train today. There is a rumor here that a settlement will be offered the men but nothing definite is known.

London, June 21.—The sun this afternoon again prints the sensational announcement which it made June 18, that General Botha, the Boer commander, after the receipt of President Kruger's decision not to concede anything, decided to ignore the former president of the Transvaal and surrender.

The paper also states that it is believed at the British foreign office that the formal surrender has already occurred.

PAN-AMERICAN

The Canadian Building Formally Opened.

DESCRIPTION OF THE EXHIBIT

Said to Be the Handsomest Building on the Grounds—"The Story of the Great Northwest."

Buffalo, June 21.—The Canadian building, which is claimed by many to be the handsomest on the grounds, has been formally opened to the public.

It is situated at the east side of the grounds, just off the Mall, in a plot surrounded by flower beds, and artistic shrubbery landscaping. Its exterior is of Swiss style of architecture which is covered with vines and plants. The ground floor is devoted to a comprehensive agricultural exhibit, all the grains and wheats of Canada being shown either in glass cases, or else fashioned in quaint designs in the border around the wall near the ceiling. In the centre of this large hall is mounted, under a glass case, a monster stuffed buffalo owned by the Canadian government.

An oil painting that attracts considerable attention is one by Paul Wickson, a noted Canadian painter called "The Story of the Great Northwest." It illustrates the retreat of the red man with his pony, his gun, and his tepee, before the sturdy Scotch settler, with his agricultural implements, and his plow horses. It is a masterpiece.

In addition to the agricultural exhibition in its own building, Canada has exhibits in the mines' building, forestry, fine arts, live stock, etc., etc.

WHO CONTROLS LE ROI?

The London papers to hand tell in detail the interesting story of the stormy British America Corporation meeting on the 3rd of June, which ended in a vote in favor of the voluntary liquidation of the company. Since the meeting the court has made an order directing the compulsory liquidation of the company under the court's direction and possibly some interesting evidence may be forthcoming when the tangled accounts of the defunct institution are taken up. It will, however, most probably be a long and tedious matter and by the time the company is finally wound up, we in British Columbia will have lost all interest in the proceedings.

During the meeting just mentioned Mr. Whitaker Wright spoke in his own defense, asserting that since the formation of the London & Globe, the B. A. C., and all the other companies "I have not made one solitary sovereign of profit in any shape or form. Therefore I court investigation. You cannot give me too much of it."

Between the statement of the chairman of the meeting and Mr. Wright's address a history of the formation of the B. A. C. and the subsidiary companies, consisting of the Le Roi, Le Roi No. 2, Rossland Great Western and the Kootenay mines, was given but nothing that the average Rosslander does not know already was stated. The properties owned by the subsidiary companies are well known and the other holdings of the B. A. C. in this camp and elsewhere in the province which have never yet been either developed or floated on the London market, and which today remain vested in the corporation, are also well known to all mining men. But out of all the stupid London entanglements, what people would like to understand is, who now controls the four subsidiary companies? and, incidentally, who controls Mr. Bernard Macdonald and his policy at the moment?

To whom, for instance, could an appeal be made in the Northport matter?

There are a good many rather simple people here who think that possibly the genial general manager of the Le Roi and allied companies, is not quite certain just who controls both himself and the valuable mines under his care and keeping. But whether he knows or not, everyone else in Rossland would like some definite information on the point, particularly after perusing the account of affairs in London as described by the latest English papers.

BRITISH PESSIMISM.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie has been trying to raise the drooping spirits of the English and Scotch. He says in an article on "British Pessimism" in the Nineteenth Century and After for this month: "For thirty odd years the writer has been visiting his native land, but never to find such despondency among his friends of the industrial world as this year." He proceeds to analyze the causes which have produced this pessimistic feeling, and points out the futility of comparing commercially, Great Britain, with its limited area and population, with America or even Germany.

Mr. Carnegie goes into a mass of figures and evolves some consola-lation for the Britisher's troubled mind. The object of the article, however, is to get a drive at "Imperialism" as the writer understands it. And he concludes that if the imperial idea finally prevails, England's future is gloomy indeed.

Very naturally his views have been answered, and it is pointed out that in future, where commercial comparisons are made, or where statistics of population, manufactures or territory are stated of the different nations of the world, Great Britain must be included in the Greater British Empire which has arisen, and which stands today united against the rest of the world. If the bands, commercial and otherwise, which hold the mighty federation together are still more and more tightly drawn, by wise and timely legislation, Mr. Carnegie and his adopted fellow-countrymen who are just at present rather patronizing and suffering from expansion and swelled heads generally, may yet see an empire with which they will be only too glad to throw in their lot, commercially.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Bouquets are seldom thrown at the Rossland Miner. The paper does not need them as it runs a flower garden of its own.—New Denver Ledger.

The Canadian Pacific railway must have a weak defence in the trackmen's case or they would never issue the columns of telegraphic misrepresentations which the morning paper accommodatingly publishes each day. The striking trackmen do not control any telegraph company or newspapers and they are handicapped just to that extent in the struggle now in progress.

The morning paper says it will continue to drive away investors by its agitation against the iniquitous mining laws of British Columbia, notwithstanding the strong protests it admits having received. The public should show its appreciation in some practical way.

Go to the fire sale if you want a cheap suit of clothes. Everything at cost. Heard & Shoults, the west end tailors.

THEIR PLATFORM

Resolutions Adopted by Western Federation.

MEMBERS SHOULD BE A UNIT

Chiefly Refers to United States Politics—What the Planks Are—
Must Keep Awake.

The political resolutions adopted at the close of the recent convention at the Western Federation of Miners at Denver, are important. Although they chiefly refer to United States politics, they will be read with interest here. They represent substantially the principles of labor generally, and may be called labor's platform. In part they are as follows:

"Realizing that great victories are not won in a day and that, as an inevitable consequence, time must elapse before the conditions portrayed can be brought about, we submit the following for the immediate betterment of the present deplorable condition of the producer:

No Colonies.

"First—We are opposed to the expansion of our national boundaries for the acquisition of territory populated by other than the Caucasian race.

"Second—We are opposed to the arbitrary interference by federal authorities in local affairs, and we especially object to government by injunction as a new and highly dangerous form of oppression, by which federal judges, in contempt of all laws, become at once legislator, judge and executioner.

"Third—We view with alarm the evident design to increase the standing army, aside from the enormous expense a large military establishment imposes upon producers, who are the actual taxpayers. We know from historical facts that it is the chosen weapon of tyrants, already a foe to individual rights and inconsistent with free institutions. Therefore, we express the hope that members of organized labor everywhere will refrain from voluntary enlistment in any department of the federal or state military service.

"Fourth—A graduated tax should be levied on incomes and inheritance, and the property tax should be levied on land values alone.

Banking System.

"Fifth—We denounce the national banking system, as established and maintained in the interests of capital alone, and inimical to the best interests of producers, and we demand that the system be abolished and a postal savings bank system be established instead. We further demand that all gold, silver and paper be issued by the government, direct to the people.

"Sixth—We believe a representative government is a failure, and regard direct legislation and the imperative mandate as the first step necessary to enforce legislative reform, and we therefore demand the initiative and referendum in the making of all laws, national and municipal, and demand the abolition of the caucus and convention, urging the nomination of all candidates, state and national, by direct vote of the people.

"Seventh—We believe the members of organized labor should be a unit on all matters affecting their interests, and therefore suggest that all political and economic questions be freely discussed at the local meetings.

Public Lands.

"Eighth—We also believe that the public lands should be open only to actual settlers, to the total exclusion of all corporations and speculators.

"—We view with alarm the possibilities of cheap labor that confronts us by reason of the expiration of the Chinese exclusion act, and demand the re-enactment of a suitable law by the federal government that will remove all Asiatic races from competition with the American workmen and women, and we urge organized labor to spare no effort to have such a law enacted.

"Tenth—Believing that a vigorous policy of organization is the first step necessary to a realization of the final fundamental principles of organized labor, we earnestly recommend that renewed energy be infused into our future efforts in carrying out a policy that will result in the attainment of a thorough organization of wage earners everywhere, to the end that co-operation will in the future be substituted for that policy of arraying the workers against each other.

Must Keep Awake.

"Finally, we congratulate our brother toilers on the progress made in the past year, but warn them not to be misled by any misguided notions of security in their present position."

Call at the Palm and enjoy a dish of Hazelwood Ice Cream. Strawberry or Vanilla, 15 cents per dish.

STRIKING
TRACKMEN

Trouble Continues — No
Word from the East—Detectives as Trackmen.

When the real position is understood public sympathy will be found entirely with the striking trackmen. A fair day's work is a principle that has taken a strong hold throughout the length and breadth of this Dominion, and whilst as a rule this principle prevails in all other occupations, so far the railroad trackmen have not been able to secure this much. The lowest rate of pay for unskilled labor in this Province is from $1.75 to $2.00 per day, and the sectionmen, whose work is by no means unskilled, are not asking too much when they insist upon a minimum rate of $1.75 per day.

Whilst every move in connection with the strike has been conducted in the most admirable manner by the men, a course is being pursued by the company which cannot fail to give rise to a great deal of ill feeling. Men are being imported from Seattle to take the place of the strikers and large numbers of special constables are being posted all along the line. This special constable business is most extraordinary and calls for explanation from the provincial authorities.

These specials are in no real sense employed on police work. They are engaged to watch the C. P. railway in place of the strikers, and this is work no union man, and no man in sympathy with the trackmen's commendable effort to secure a living wage, should engage in. The fact that he goes through the farce of being sworn in as a special, and is in receipt of $2.50 per day from the taxpayers, does not do away with the more important fact that he is taking the part of a railroad corporation against men who are struggling for a fair day's pay for a fair day's work.

If the company fear that damage may be done to their property by the strikers let them say so boldly, and call upon the government to provide necessary police protection. The company know there is nothing to fear from the men. They must have watchmen, though, to take the places of the strikers and hence this resort to specials.

So far as could be learned this morning all the C. P. R. trackmen in this Province have gone out on strike. No word had been received up to a late hour this afternoon of the progress of the struggle in the east.
