THE BEND 'OR SALE.

Possibility of a Mistake Having Been Made.

The Vancouver News-Advertiser announces that the Bend 'Or mine, says the Victoria Colonist, in the Lillooet district, "on which is unpaid for mineral tax the sum of $879.02, and which was advertised for sale of February 25th, has been bought for that amount by the William Hamilton Manufacturing company." The Bend 'Or company attempted last year to sell the mine to New York capitalists for three-quarters of a million dollars! It is possible, however, that the News-Advertiser's report is only partially correct, and that Mr. Robert Hamilton, of the William Hamilton company, who was personally interested as shareholder in the company, has advanced a sufficient sum to the directors with which to settle the claim for taxes. At any rate, it is absurd to supposed that a really valuable mine such as the Bend 'Or should fetch so small a price as less than a thousand dollars.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT.

Milo Rabovitch, an Austrian Miner, Has a Terrible Fall.

Milo Rabovitch, an Austrian miner, employed at the Josie mine fell down five floors in a stope of that mine last night. He was picked up unconsious but the injuries resulting from his fall which was partially broken are not supposed to be likely to have a fatal result, The case is in charge of Doctor Kenning.

NATURALIZATION

Only 75 Cents Charged by Government.

OTHER CHARGES ARE OPTIONAL

Procedure to be Adopted in the Matter — Oaths to be Taken.

During the past week there have been more than twenty people naturalized as citizens of this country, and there are quite as many more who are willing and waiting to take out their papers. Most of these have been resident in Rossland for periods of three years and upwards, and are among Rossland's most desirable citizens. The influx taking place here is only the forerunner of a great movement which is taking place all over the the Dominion of Canada, especially in its western portions.

There has been some misapprehension existing as to the methods of procedure which obtain and the conditions that exist in this country precedent to the taking out of these naturalization papers. Over the line the charge made is $5 and it has seemed quite natural for people who are conversant with that fact to pay that sum of money where demanded here. This, however, is not the case. All the money that is necessary is a fee of 75 cents to the government and some small amount to the clerk who fills out the papers, which may or may not be charged. The papers can be obtained by applying to the registrar free of cost. It is too much to expect that Stipendiary Magistrate Kirkup, before whom, or another the oaths necessary must be taken shall fill out the papers for the applicant. He has done so in very many instances and has made no charge for so doing, but the demands on his time are such that he cannot continue the practice. However that need not deter the applicant. An application to the secretary of the Miners' Union will find that official prepared to all the filling that is necessary. In fact the filling can be done in five minutes by anyone that knows, by the applicant himself or by any one of his friends. The papers thus made out are taken before John Kirkup, who will receive the oaths, grant the certificate of naturalization on the receipt of payment to the registrar of seventy-five cents.

Where $5 or more dollars have been charged in the past it has been charged for the drawers own pocket, all difference between 75 cents and the charge made going to the official or private citizen drawing up the papers.

The wording of the oath of residence is as follows: "I A. B., laborer, (it is not legally neccessary to state the occupation) of such and such a country do swear that, in the period of three years (the minimum period) in the Dominion of Canada with intent to settle therein, without having been during such three years a stated resident (that is, a resident otherwise than an occasional visitor) in any foreign country."

The other oath is the oath of allegiance to King Edward which merely has reference to the country ruled over by him.

Now this is all there is to the matter but Frank Woodside of the Miners' Union will be glad to make any further explanations intending applicants may think necessary.

AT THE POLICE COURT.

Quite a Docket Before Magistrate Boultbee This Morning.

There was quite a number of cases awaiting hearing before Magistrate Boultbee this morning, all of which were disposed of.

J. H. M. Macdowell was charged with larceny, but as the complainant had skipped the country, the charge was dismissed. Apparently it never should have been brought.

A traveller for an eastern house, George Kittridge, was charged with an infraction of the law providing against persons soliciting orders for manufactures outside of the province without a license. The case was adjourned until tomorrow.

A drunk was arraigned for being drunk and incapable upon the public streets. As the offence was his first he was let off with a warning.

Heung Lee, Kwong Chong, Ah Gam, Cheong Lee and Hap Lee, laundrymen, were charged with not taking out a license. They were each and all made to pay up with a couple of dollars tax in addition.

A big glass of beer and bowl of Clam Chowder for 5c at the Alhambra.

WAS NOT THE MAN

A Warrant Sworn Out Against Andrew Kennedy.

A warrant was issued this morning by Police Magistrate Boultbee on the complaint of O. Chrisco, against Andrew Kennedy, for threatening him with a revolver last night at the Cardiff hotel at 6 o'clock. The trouble arose over some horse play. There is little chance of the warrant being executed, as Kennedy skipped the country in a hurry just as soon as he realized what he had done and what action would in all probability would be taken by the police.

Chrisco declared that he was not the man who made the gun play as stated in the morning contemporary of the WORLD, with its usual accuracy. On the contrary he was the injured party.

Liberal Association.

There will be a meeting of the Rossland Liberal association this evening at 8 o'clock in the board trade rooms, at which will be taken up the subject of the land grant to the Canadian Northern and other business properly coming before a regular meeting. It is hoped that there will be a good attendance in order that any action taken shall have its proper weight.

HIS CONDITION IS CRITICAL.

John Freeman Was Today Taken to the Sisters' Hospital.

John Freeman was this day removed to the Sisters' hospital where he will receive better attendance than he could command in his own home. His condition has grown critical and he has relapsed into unconsciousness. Dr. Campbell has been called in to aid Dr. Kenning in his attendance upon the case. Just where the trouble is seated has not up to the present been ascertained, though it is still thought probable that there has been sustained some fracture at the base of the skull.

Board and room for steady boarders at $6.50 per week at the ALHAMBRA.

AN INDIAN RISING

Hudson Bay Storekeeper Flees for His Life.

THE TROUBLE AT FORT GEORGE

Company Store Wrecked and Plundered—Special Constables are Sent.

Up at Fort George says the Victoria Colonist, which lies about one hundred miles northeast of Quesnel at the confluence of the Fraser and the Nechaco rivers, the Indians have risen and E. L. Kepner, the Hudson Bay company's storekeeper, whose life was threatened by the belligerent Indians, has been forced to fly. He has arrived at Quesnel, leaving the store and its contents in the possession of a Chinese cook, and telegraphed to the office of the Hudson Bay company in Victoria telling of his plight. The Indians have taken the company's store, and whether they wrecked it after plundering, will not be known until further particulars are received from the far-away fort, whither special constables have been dispatched by the attorney-general's department to put down the rising. The cause of the up-rising is unknown.

Kepner reported on his arrival at Quesnel that the Indians had come to the fort, and when he had closed the door and kept them out they forced their way into the store and one swung an axe at him, while others threatened to shoot him. He had but a Chinese cook in the store with him, so he fled and started for Quesnel. There the attorney general was communicated with and special constables were at once dispatched to the scene.

The Indians at Fort George are known to be a bad lot, who have been giving trouble occasionally, and the storekeeper who has been driven from his post by them is a well-known servant of the company, a courageous and reliable man, who would only have left his post under desperate circumstances. The special constables who hava been despatched to the scene are armed with warrants for the arrest of of the belligerent tribesmen.

THE JAPS.

The imperial reasons are just as potent in Australia as in Canada, and what Australia can do and has done—Canada can. The Australians have evidently done their work with care and discretion and we can exercise the same consideration. There is no necessity to say or do anything that will hurt the amour propre of our new ally. All that is needed is a firm insistence on Canada's right to protect her own, even as Australia has exercised that right. If Sir Wilfrid Laurier is firm, and this alone is necessary, there need be no difficulty in securing the enacting of the required protective legislation. —Kamloops Sentinel.

CIVIC OWNERSHIP.

Public ownership of the water supply, says the Toronto Telegram, is not condemned by the fact that the city pays for a waste of water which private management would prevent.

Private ownership would not waste the water—the water would go into the stock and the people would be bled for rates sufficient to pay dividends on money that never went into the waterworks system.

Economies which are the glory of private management may increase dividends, but these economies do not decrease prices. The extravagance which is the shame of public management does not increase the price of water, gas, electric light or power to anything like the figures which private companies charge for similar service.

REPLY TO FRECHEVILLE.

In any capacity of life there are two things which make up the sum of a worker's usefulness to his employers and to society and the one is his capability as a worker and the second his ability to deal with his fellow man. Tact without capacity counts for little and capacity without tact counts, in the long run, for even less, especially as regards the personal interests of the individual chiefly concerned.

As a case in point the late general manager of the Le Roi furnishes a telling example. As a mining engineer it is probable that Bernard Macdonald is one of the best the camp has seen. As an employer of labor, one of the very worst. In the one capacity he has placed the Le Roi in the front rank of the leading copper gold mines of the world, in the other he has robbed the shareholders of the fruits of his own labor, despoiled the citizens of Rossland of the legitimate outcome of their patient waiting and trust in the future and deprived himself of the harvest that should have accrued from the result of his toil. He has garnered trouble to himself, ruin to many hundreds of households and dissatisfaction and discontent in the thriving city where he has settled. Cui bono?

It is possible that Mr. Macdonald is convinced of the justice of his cause. It is possible that on the very many previous occasions in his career where he has neglected the obvious interests of his employers and of himself he has rather considered himself a divinely appointed "avenger of capital" than a shrewd, far-seeing mining engineer. But if this is the case it is a pity that he attempts to bolster up his cause with deliberate misstatement. For if he is wrong in that part of his reply to Frecheville that admits of immediate comparison with the facts what is the likelihood of his being correct in those parts on which experts alone are able to pass judgment? Again he fails to do justice to himself and deservedly will fail to get it from the public to which he now appeals.

The late general manager says: "Twenty-five men of the 700 employes at the smelting works were discharged for insubordination and inefficiency by the foreman. The union demanded that these be reinstated." This he declares to be the cause of the strike. As a matter of fact, as is well known, the union made no such demand. It was expected that they would make it but they were wise to the game, and deliberately refrained, although there was just cause. The whole force was laid off and then taken on again one morning. At noon that day, Bela Kadish, acting under instructions from his chief, told the men they could not be permitted to work unless they surrendered the union.

To fight the union is all very well for an American. He knows no better. It will not do on British soil. It is a case of Mrs. Partington mopping up the sea. And for the mining engineer that takes the position of Bernard Macdonald to enact the part of Mrs. Partington is a sight to move the gods to laughter. The man is demented on this point. Sane otherwise, this is his weakness. It is a pity, for it destroys an usefulness which otherwise might have gained him an old age honored by the community, and accompanied by the well merited thanks of thousands.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Says the Hamilton Herald: "Maybe Kitchener is revealing original military genius by hemming the Boers in before trying to baste them.

When two sets of wireless telegraph apparatus are being operated within range of each other there is apt to be a mixture of messages. This was the case the other day when the operator on board the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse tried to communicate with the steamer Lucania at the same time that the operator on the yacht Hohenzollern was trying to invite the operator on board the Kaiser Wilhelm to visit him. Two of the operators were talking English while the third spelled his message in German. The operator on the Lucania studied his tape for a moment and then fired back a message. "Don't talk German, I can't understand it."

OUTSIDE TRADE

Reciprocal Dealings With Australia.

SEVEN-EIGHTHS OF THE EMPIRE

A Mutual Agreement Will Force Great Britain to Grant Preferential Tariff.

"Australia," says the Hon. Dr. Montague, who has recently returned from a nine months' tour in Australia, to a reporter of the Winnipeg Telegram, "will be a a great nation. The resources of the country are exceptionally rich, and the financial concerns flourishishing. Trade between Canada and Australia offers important opportunities and everywhere in the colony I found a feeling of friendship for Canada. The present is the time to take advantage of that feeling. The whole island is ablaze with patriotic fervor, and as the colony is in its formative period, where old lines are being wiped away, and new ones laid down, it is much easier for Canada's trade now than at some future time when commerce is firmly established. Canada and Australia alone form seven-eighths of the empire, and if the two colonies were united in commerce, they would be able to make a demand for a preference on the market of Great Britain that could not be disregarded by the imperial government."

"What Canadian exports would meet with the best sale?" asked the reporter.

"Almost anything," replied Dr. Montague.

"We can sell them spades, forks, axes, plated ware, sewing machines, cream separators, paper products, onions, oatmeal, lumber, Indian rubber goods, boots, shoes, and all leather goods, sauces, hosiery, cotton goods, wearing apparel, carriages, bicycles, carpets, hardware, organs, pianos, artesian well tubing, galvanized iron, paints, varnishes, collars and cuffs, neckties, steel products, manufactured tobaccos, and many other things. Canadian malt sells well and Canadian hops are favorites with the brewers. In return for these articles, Canada could buy hides for tanning in British Columbia, where there are vast hemlock forests to supply the tan bark. We require wool for our great woollen industries. Australian fruits ripen at a time when our markets could take them to advantage. Raw sugar has already been imported to British Colubia from Australia. The forests contain many woods of value for the manufacture of furniture. In 1900 Australia produced 2,858,000 gallons of wines and all the different kinds would be acceptable to Canadians."

IRON STRIKES.

Canadian Worker Will Sit on the Arbitration Board.

Toronto, March 11.—David Clarey, a prominent labor man of this city, has been singled out for an important mission in behalf of the cause of labor. He leaves for Pittsburg tonight, where he has been asked to represent the labor interests of Canada on a board of arbitration which will attempt to settle the strike of the iron workers of that city.

Absentmindedness.

We have heard of the man who was so absent-minded that he put his umbrella to bed and hung himself upon the nail for the night; and the man who, believing that he had lost his spectacles put them on to enable him to hunt for them and the man who, thinking he had forgotten his watch pulled it out to see if he had time to go back for it. But these little freaks of the mind were rivaled by that of a prominent Milverton merchant who went into a telegraph office the other evening to dispatch a message. To facilitate writing he laid his cigar upon the ledge. After he had finished his task and was about to retire, instead of picking up his cigar he seized the lamp and started off down town. The lady in charge, however, called him back and requested that he return the property, which he did with profuse apologies and an air of great embarrassment.—Ex.

INSTRUCTING MARTIN.

Vancouver T. & L. Council Sends Him Its Views on the Contract.

The Vancouver trades and labor council on Friday night decided to send to Joseph Martin a resolution which he may not like. Mr. Gilmour will get a copy also and Messrs, Tatlow and Garden likewise. The two just named won't mind it; in fact they will like it. The letter will ask that all the Vancouver members vote against the Canadian Northern contract.

"We are decidedly opposed to the land grant and the freedom of taxation," is in short the feeling of the trades and labor council and that will be the burden of the letters.—Nanaimo Herald.

The Yellow Scourge.

Run them in! Run them in!
Heathen hordes of yellow skin.
Fill your mines with yellow slush
In your mad desire to crush
Honest labor to the earth.
Free born men of tested worth—
Men who dare to say they feel
Pain from the oppressor's heel.
Run them in, ye kings of wealth,
In the shades of night by stealth.

Snatch with tyrant hands the bread
From the babes that must be fed,
Bring the tears to mother eyes,
Fill the wifely breast with sighs,
Stamp to earth the men who dare
Claim to breathe proud Freedom's air.

Heap insult upon the flag,
Freedom's emblem. 'Tis a rag
In your cold eyes when it waves
O'er the homes of labor's slaves.
Yours the flag of tyranny,
Hated over land and sea,
Save in lands where such as you
Wield the rod and ever strew
Blood stained brambles in the path
Of the slaves who rouse their wrath.

What to you are bleeding hearts,
Wounded by oppression's darts?
What to you are mother's tears,
Children's wails and wifely fears
When your greedy eyes you hold
On the juggernaut of gold
Crushing labor's honest ranks
As it rolls toward your banks?

Though you sit upon the throne,
Hearts more honest than your own,
Souls more pure in yonder eye
Of Omnipotence may lie
'Neath the jacket soiled with black
On the honest miner's back.

Run them in, ye tyrant lords,
Slavish Asiatic hordes,
Beasts who care not brittle straws
For our country or its laws;
Creatures of idolatry,
Heathen hordes who bow the knee
Of devotion to their own
Hand made gods of wood and stone.
Guard them with your hirelings' guns
From Columbia's outraged sons.
Flood your mines with yellow slush
Though you bring shame's painful blush
To the face of every true
Son of Freedom! What care you?

This the land of Liberty!
This the country of the free!
This the boasted home of rest
For the weary and oppressed!
This the land in which we claim
Men are freemen! O! the shame!

SETTLERS WANTED

What is the Trouble With the Province—Chinese Competition.

"A great need of British Columbia at the present time," says the report of the Oriental commission, "is actual settlers, and especially upon the land. A settler with small means can only afford to clear his land by utilizing the wood and timber upon it and by getting outside work. Under the present conditions he is cut off from this assistance from either source. Will he realize from his wood and timber or find work in the lumber mills, shingle mills, or as surface worker at the mines? In all these and other occupations where unskilled labor is employed he finds the Chinese, working at a wage that bars him out. It is not correct to say that there is plenty of work for unskilled labor in British Columbia, unless you add: "at a wage for which the Chinamen work," and even then it is not true, because in most cases Chinamen work in gangs under a Chinese boss, where white men are not wanted, and for a part of the year numbers of Chinese are also out of employment."

NOTICE.

The strike has been settled a the Le Roi mine, but it it is still in force at the other mines as before.

Negotiations are being carried on with the other mining companies of the camp which have been effected by the strike but they are not yet completed.

Working men in outside camps are advised to keep away from Rossland for the present, as there are more union men at the present time here than can secure employment until a settlement has been effected with the other mining companies.

STOCK MARKETS

Tone is Still Distinctly Weak.

THE CENTRE STAR SHIPMENTS

The Latest Quotations and Sales Locally and on the Toronto Market.

The wires being down there was no word from Toronto as to the sales upon the market. The dealings here and and at Spokane were few and there is little doing in general. One or two sales of late with regard to the mines of the Republic seem to point out that with the opening of the railroad there will be a revival of interest which may assume considerable proportions. Centre Star is shipping regularly at the rate of some 800 tons per week but as there exists no certitude as to the continuance of this output little stiffening effect is exhibited on the market.

Official reports as to the strike upon the Annie may have a good effect upon the London market which, however, has been largely discounted by the recent revelations as to the methods of finance. There is little indeed that will give strong hope of permanent improvement except the postponed rise in copper.

Owing to the late severe storm the telegraphic wires are down everywhere, and in consequence there is no telegraphic news in the columns of the WORLD today.

Tom Long has been appointed truant officer. It is the willing horse that gets the work. He had better lay in a store of diacholn for he will surely be stuck up on his job.

At W. F. Lingle's you can get wood that will burn. Phone 149.

MORE FAKE ADVERTISING.

Another Man Making a Deal on a Credulous Public.

More than once has the Rossland public been done up and done up brown by the fake advertiser with his souvenirs and his other schemes of like nature. Indeed the field was at one time so profitable that a thorough paced faker took up his residence here for quite a time. Rossland is however now somewhat shy.

The latest is a man who wants to get up a souvenir for firemen. He interviewed one strong adjectived citizen today and said he was not patriotic if he did not advertise. But he was sorry he spoke. The air became sulphurous and the climate uncomfortable.

The attention of the police might well be bestowed on the matter.

If you want first-class bottled goods go to the International Liquor Store.

THE NOME FLEET.

Twenty Steamers and Ten Sailors to Run North.

Seattle will have twenty steam and ten sailing vessels engaged in the Nome trade during the season of 1902. The thirty vessels have an aggregate freight carrying capacity of 40,000. The indications are that these vessels will all make one voyage, and a few of the larger steam craft, three, four and five round trips each. The sailing vessels will not attempt more than one trip, and a nnmber of the steamers expect to make only one.
