CITY COUNCIL

The regular weekly meeting of the City Council was held in the City Hall, Monday evening. Present: Mayor Kealy, and Aldermen Smith, Crickmay, Irwin, Wheeler, May and Braim.

The minutes of previous meeting were read and approved.

The following list of communications were read and disposed of:

From Walter Owen, requesting the council to give him the permanent grade of First street east, as he intends erecting a two-story building on lot 8, block 166, D.L. 274. The egineer was instructed to give Mr. Owen the required information.

Mr. J. P. Roberts, of the Northern bank, asking that the council remove the stumps and logs piled between lot 1, block 238, and the street, as he intends erecting a residence on the lot. He also requested the council to do any blasting that may be required, under the local improvement by-law. Referred to the board of works.

The Deputy Minister of Marine and Fisheries wrote informing the council that the Brackman-Ker Milling Co. have applied for a water lot in front of lot 14, block 176; D. L. 274, on which they intend building. He asked the council if they had any objections, or if the proposed building would in any way interfere with navigation. In reply the clerk was instructed to state that the council had no objections, and saw no reason why construction would interfere with shipping.

The North Vancouver Fire Department laid before the council a few suggestions, and asking the council to supply some necessary appliances. The letter stated that there was no alarm at No. 2 fire hall, and there was no proper way to dry hose there. The road was almost impassable either for horses, carts or firemen, and in case of fire it would be impossible to draw the hose reel along the street. Equipment was badly needed at this hall, too.

The letter mentioned several articles also needed for No. 1 hall, and recommended the purchase of a 36-foot ladder, 100 feet three-quarter-inch rope, a set of three-dies, and rubber coats and boots.

The council was asked to fix the length of shift and rate of pay for regular firemen, and also pay for men who turned out on false alarms. The letter was referred to the fire committee.

The usual bi-monthly accounts of the several departments were read and passed.

Relative to the school estimates, the council passed the ordinary expenditure account, and laid over the extraordinary expenditure, which was asked for the purchase of school sites and buildings.

Permission was granted Architect Bailey to move the building on the Esplanada now occupied by Mrs. Hogg, onto the adjoining lot and alleyway, until such time as the proposed new building was erected, when it was to be moved to the rear of the lot.

The engineer's report on the grading of Eleventh street, between Ridgeway and St. George's avenues, was read, and after some discussion was laid over for further consideration.

Ald. Braim, who has in hand the wiring by-law, recommended the council to accept the 1907 code, and gave notice of motion to that effect, and also that Mr. Parkin be retained as wiring inspector.

Wedding Bells Merrily Peal

FAWCETT—LEWIS.

Two of North Vancouver's popular residents were the contracting parties in a pretty wedding, which took place at 129 Sixth Avenue W. Mount Pleasant, Wednesday morning, when Mr. Richard Fawcett and Miss Leonora Alexandra Lewis were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. B. H. Balderston. After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding breakfast was partaken of at the residence of Mrs. Crawford, Sixth Avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Fawcett left on the afternoon train on a honeymoon trip to the Sound cities. They will take up residence in North Vancouver on their return. Mr. Fawcett is connected with the B.C. Electric in this city.

The EXPRESS joins with a host of friends in wishing the happy couple every happiness.

EMERY—CROSS.

Of particular interest was the marriage on Thursday morning at the residence of the bride, Lynn Valley, when William Frewin Emery led to the altar Lilian Elizabeth Cross, as both parties are well and favorably known throughout the district. Mr. Norman Cross, brother of the bride, and Mrs. B. Walker assisted in the duties of best man and bridesmaid. The house was elegantly decorated with flowers and bunting, and a large number of friends of both bride and groom gathered to join in well-wishing. The Wedding March was rendered by Mr. Norman Cross.

After the wedding breakfast the couple left for an extended honeymoon down the coast. On their return they will take up residence in the city. Mr. Emery is an ex-alderman, and has resided on this side of the inlet many years.

Boxing Contest Draws Many Spectators

The much-talked of bout between Bob Ritchie, of the North Vancouver Athletic Club, and Kid Howell, of Minneapolis, was pulled off Wednesday evening before a crowded house. Prior to the main event three good preliminaries were given. Alex. Smith, jr.; and Stewart Ross went three rounds, as did also Bob Rowley and J. Stewart, of the N. V. A. C. Whyte and Williams, of the V. A. C., amused the crowd in a three-round sparring exhibition.

Ritchie and Howell came next, and did nothing but spar for a better knowledge of their opponent. The first four rounds were much the same, Ritchie doing all the aggressive work, and continually driving Howell into his corner. In the fifth round Howell opened up a bit and landed a few side swings on Ritchie's neck and ribs. Howell seemed to be playing strong for a clinch with one arm free, in which he showed cleverness by his long reach.

For the rest of the fight things didn't mix much, Ritchie doing all the work, while Howell was kept busy on the defence.

The referee, J. Hewitt, sporting editor of the Province, gave Ritchie the decision; although neither fighter did no more than the law allowed. Considerable money changed hands, as Howell's formidable aspect gave the impression that Ritchie would have his hands full.

HOSPITAL COMMITTEE UNANIMOUS ON BUILDING

Resolution Outlining Approximate Cost, and Suggestions As to the Most Advisable Course to Pursue.—Will Be Referred to their Respective Bodies

The first meeting of the committees appointed by the City and Municipal Councils and the Board of Trade met in the municipal office on Thursday afternoon. The following representatives were present: City Council, Aldermen Irwin and Smith; District Council, Councillors McNaught and Nye; Board of Trade, Mr. J. S. J. Murray. Clerk Alex. Philip was appointed honorary secretary and Councillor Nye occupied the chair. Drs. Campbell and Verner were also present.

Minutes of previous hospital meeting were read by the secretary. Full information as to what had already been done and the information to hand was given the members.

The needs of an hospital was pointed out in a general discussion which followed, after which it was moved by Councillor McNaught and seconded by Mr. Murray that the committee report in favor of the establishment of an institution for the treatment of the sick and injured of the city and surrounding district of North Vancouver, and "That we find the cost of an an hospital building to give accommodation for twelve beds for patients and other necessary convenencies will be about $6,000; that the furnishings and equipment will cost about $1,500, and that a suitable site in a central location can be purchased for from $2,000 to $2,500, making a total capital outlay of $10,000.

"We find further that the cost of maintaining the hospital, if fully occupied, would be about $600 per month, and we estimate that this could be met as follows:

Government Aid Grant	$200
Transient Patients	200
Yearly and Monthly Subscriptions (Public and Private)	200
Total per Month	$600

"We recommend that the sum of $5,000 be raised by public and private subscriptions, and that the city and district municipalities pledge themselves for the balance.

"Further, we recommend that the above be carried out by an hospital society, to be organized under the provisions of the Hospital Aid Act, and that steps be taken without delay to have a District Hospital Society formed.

It was decided that the representative committee bring this matter up at the first meeting of their respective bodies, and urge upon them the great necessity for an hospital.

The meeting then adjourned to meet again at the call of the secretary.

LOCALS.

On Sunday over 100 people crossed the suspension bridge over the first canyon on the Capilano river.

The Wallace ship yards have again resumed operations, after being closed down since the first of the year. Several scows are to be built, and it is expected that a large force of men will be constantly employed.

The city treasurer has his hands full these days. The time for the rebate on water rates lapses on the 10th. If you have not already paid, save 20 per cent. by paying before that date.

The North Vancouver Home Furnishers is the name of a new concern opening up in the Horne block, Lonsdale avenue, about March 1st. They will handle furniture, crockery and carpets.

You might as well try to reach the orb of day by walking on a sunbeam as to attempt to reach THE EXPRESS readers by advertising in any other medium.

The members and friends of the Horticultural Association are invited to attend a lecture on "Poultry," given by the President, Mr Alex. Smith, at his residence, Fifth Street, Wednesday evening next, the 12th inst. A good attendance is requested.

A bylaw for the expropriation of certain property for the widening of St. David's Avenue at the corner of First Street is being advertised in this issue.

For the clean way the affair was conducted the athletic club officers deserve great credit, there being not one instance of that which has characterized matches in other places.

A twenty-six foot motor launch is being constructed by Fyfe & Duke for the Canadian Fairbanks Co., to be used as a demonstrating boat.

Dr. A. McKay Jordan paid North Vancouver a flying visit this week. The doctor has opened a branch of his optical business in Seattle.

The local Conservative Club have tendered an invitation to Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper and Mr. C. E. Tisdall to give an address in the K.P. hall on the 19th inst. Should these gentlemen accept the invitation, the local members will be sure to hear something good, as both speakers are well-known orators. The meeting will be for the members and their friends only.

Wheeldon's Shingle Mill will in future be known as the North Vancouver Shingle Mill, having been purchased by Mr. W. H. Stubbs, of this place. The present proprietor intends running the mill to the full capacity, and deal in cordwood, shingles, etc.

Forty-nine years ago this month Rev. Dr. Robson arrived on this coast as one of a company of the first Methodist Missionaries to British Columbia. The doctor is a fifty-niner, and is never more interesting than when telling reminiscences of the early days. The honored veteran has many thrilling stories to tell of the days when in the interior might was right, and the trip from Vancouver Island to the mainland was made in a row boat. In celebration of the 49th anniversary of his arrival in this country, arrangements have been made with Dr. Robson to deliver a lecture in the Methodist Church here on Tuesday evening, Feb. 11th, at 8 o'clock. The subject will be "Tales of the Early Days in British Columbia."

Lots of Fun at Firemen's Concert.

Friday evening last will long be remembered by those who attended the concert given by the North Vancouver Fire Department in their new hall, known as fire hall, No. 1. It also dedicated the opening of the hall.

When chairman, His Worship the Mayor, took the chair, the seating capacity was found none too large. In opening the ceremonies His Worship eulogised the members of the brigade and the citizens generally on the splendid hall now being opened. He made a resume of the steps that had been taken to bring this about, the good to become of it, and the general scheme of a complete firefighting system as has been laid out by the Council, and which will, from time to time, be materially added to as occasion warrants.

The program, which was a lengthy one, showed that the boys had expended much time and work in getting such a splendid array of talent, and consisted of instrumental selections, songs, recitations, comic skits, minstrels, etc. Probably the most unique character of the evening was a redheaded nigger who in local puns and witty songs amused the audience in proper style. The recitations of Mrs. Hall were well delivered, while the songs of Dr. Anthony were encored repeatedly Mr. Bert. Perry, the ever witty local tinker, succeeded in lifting above his head two 250 pound weights, which feat brought forth loud applause. The weights were afterwards carried off the platform by his six year old son. On being applauded back to the footlights Mr. Perry got off some very funny ruses of a local character, which were also well received. Mrs. Lawson rendered "Killarney" which brought forth the many rich notes in a most pleasing form. Messrs. Gardner and Salmon gave recitations and songs that were well rendered. Mayor Kealy also gave a song in his usual old-time musical expression. The proceeds go towards the forming of a gymnasium for the firemen.

Band of Thieves Rounded Up.

On Thursday the provincial police arrested three boys who are thought to have been implicated in the robbery of several villas on the North Arm of the inlet as well as other places.

When arrested Frank Williams, the leader of the band, showed fight, and after an encounter lasting several minutes, was handcuffed and taken to the city goal. Along with Williams are two other young men, Andy Ward and Burns.

The police also found a quantity of blankets and much household paraphenialia believed to have been stolen.

Counterfeit five-dollar bank notes are in circulation. They are a photographic reproduction of the Quebec bank notes. If you ever see a V take a good look at one. They are about as scarce as hen's teeth these days.

The Young People's Club will hold another of their debates on Tuesday evening next. The subject for discussion is: "On Municipal Ownership."

Mr. W. Greenway, son of ex-Premier Greenway, of Manitoba, accompanied by Mrs. Greenway, is a guest of Mr. A. R. Steacy.

Wireless Station Being Ratified

Some weeks ago mention was made of the fact that a wireless station would shortly be opened up in North Vancouver. The United Wireless Telegraph Co. negotiated with the City Council for a suitable site, which was granted, the location being Victoria Park. In conversation with Mr. E. C. Young, the special fiscal agent of the company for North Vancouver, we learned that that the delay in the erection of the station, which they said would be erected forthwith, was no fault of the wireless company. Permission for same from the Dominion Government was afterward found to be necessary, which also has to be ratified by the imperial authorities in Downing street. A special representative of the company had to go to London for the purpose, which takes considerable time, and Mr. Young informs us that just as soon as the necessary agreements are drawn up and signed work will be rushed to completion.

Two cases of timber stealing is likely to occupy the attention of the court in a few days. One case is alleged to have been committed in Lynn Valley and the other at Point Atkinson.

Rev. J. P. Henderson gave an instructive and interesting lecture before the Young People's Club on "A Ramble Through Wonderland," which related in a thrilling manner many personal experiences in his travels in many parts of the world.

THE HOSPITAL

"The Highest Exercise of Charity is Charity Towards the Uncharitable."

We are glad to see that the hospital committee have lost no time, after its reorganization, in getting down to solid business. Of course the work done in December last paved the way for this, and the intervening time gave a chance to carefully consider the line to be followed.

Some may think that an outlay of $10,000 is a large sum for our present actual requirements. It may be so, but if a well equipped institution can not be provided for less money, no one can seriously advise the establishment of either a temporary or ill-equipped place. Twelve beds for male and female patients, including some private wards, does not seem a large provision to make for a population of 4,000 now, and which is rapidly increasing.

It is estimated that about 1,000 men are engaged in busy times in work of a more or less dangerous character. No one is exempt from danger of sickness or accident, and if even a few lives are saved by prompt treatment the outlay is warranted.

The proposal to raise one-half of the fund by subscription is a very prudent one, and every property owner, as well as every citizen, should feel that the cause is his own. Hospital facilities are a necessity—almost as urgent as schools and churches—for a residential, as well as for an industrial location. The councils represent many who either cannot or will not subscribe, hence there is ample justification for a liberal subscription being made by them and they have ample statutory power to give it.

The recommendations of the committee will come before the District Council at their meeting this evening. The City Council will consider it on Monday evening, and the Board of Trade will meet on Tuesday to receive the report of their representatives.

We may therefore hope for very prompt action to give effect to the recommendations which were made with such hearty unanimity by the committee after full deliberation.

Sons of Scotland Organize Over Here

Twenty-two members were at the organization meeting of Wallace Camp, Sons of Scotland, which was duly constituted Tuesnight by District Deputy Grand Chief Vert and other officers.

The following is the personnel of the office-bearers for the ensuing year :

Chief, John Alexander; Chieftain, Jas. Grahame; Financial Secretary, J. B. Bennett; Treasurer, G. Smith; Marshal, A. A. Crowston; Standard Bearer, P. Stewart; Senior Guard, Mr. White; Junior Guard, W. C. Smith; Physician, Dr. Verner.

The regular meeting night is the third Monday in each month in the K. P. hall. There are fifteen new members to be initiated at the next meeting, which convenes on the 17th next.

Poultry Notes

In selecting eggs for hatching purposes make choice, first, of all eggs available from the 2-year-old and over hens. These will hatch larger chicks, hardier, and chicks of speedier growth. Pullet eggs may hatch well and grow well, but the rule runs the other way. If one does not have enough eggs from the other hens, naturally, on the farm, anyway, we are bound to make up the deficiency with pullet eggs. Give each hen, as near as posssible, eggs of uniform size. As a rule they hatch more evenly. Eggs too long at each end; eggs of oversize, as well as undersize for the breed; crooked eggs; eggs too flat at the sides; too rough shelled; eggs mottled with white spots or corrugated do not put under the hen. But eggs with brown spots will hatch, although it was once thought useless to bother with this kind. — B. C. Poultryman.

The hen oftenest in mischief is frequently the best layer in the flock.

No man can raise poultry and produce eggs at so low a cost as the farmer.

Put a few tobacco stems in the nest of the setting hen. It will drive away the lice.

If your chickens need charcoal, burn corn for them. It is the best for the purpose.

You can lose a valuable customer by allowing just one bad egg to get into the basket.

Colonize your young chicks in the orchard. It will be good for them and the trees.

Handy nests are a comfort to the hens and a great convenience to the egg gatherer.

Experiments show that the yearling hen lays 40 per cent. more eggs than the hen two years old.

When you are directed to provide good food for your chickens, it means to give them a variety of sound, wholesome food.

B. C. "Gazette" Announcements

Among the appointments announced in the Gazette are the following :

Thos. Shepherd, of the City of North Vancouver, to be a registrar of votes for the Richmond electoral district, in the place of Sidney Ash Fletcher, resigned.

To be commissioners for taking affidavits in the supreme court of Richmond electoral district : William Nicholson Lailey, Dugald Henderson, John Bertram Bennett, Julius Martin Fromme, Geo. Jekyle Phillippo, Walter Owen, John W. Manley, all of the city of North Vancouver.

Driver Miller is now after Kid Howell, and challenged him to a bout on this side of the inlet in the near future Miller was on a bout with Ritchie some few weeks ago, in which the latter got the decison. Miller is a hard hitter, and could probably stand Howell in his corner the same as Ritchie did Wednesday evening.

"I guess," said Mr. Subbubs, "I'll have to give a big dinner." "What for ?" asked her husband. "It's the only excuse I can think of to borrow back those fine plates I loaned to Mrs. Naybor."

"Charity begins at home," remarked Titedad to the beggar. "That so?" replied the medicant. "S'posen you ask me up to your house for dinner then?"

Conservative Association Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the North Vancouver Conservative Club was held on Tuesday evening in the Knights of Pythias hall. The president, A. R. Steacy, occupied the chair, and Secretary Thomas Shepherd fulfilled the office of secretary for the evening.

In opening the meeting the president regretted the fact that the attendance was not as large as might have been expected owing to the other counter attractions. The membership, which numbered over thirty, was being added to, and it was essential that the members pay up their arrears, as the success of the club largely depended upon that.

The election of officers was first on the list, which resulted in the following being elected:

President—A. R. Steacy.

Vice-president—A. S. Bruce.

Secretary-treasurer — Thomas Shepherd.

Executive Committee—J. M. Duval, W. J. Gladwin, A. Kennedy, C. McKenzie.

The secretary was instructed to make inquiries regarding the obtaining a complete list of the voters for Richmond riding.

The secretary was instructed to extend a hearty invitation to Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper to address the organization at a date to be subsequently arranged.

The following were recommended to the local lagislature for the appointment as commissioners for taking affidavits: E. A. Peers, A. Kennedy, A. S. Bruce, H. E. Reid, H. W. Fuller, W. H. Smith, F. G. Gladwyn, J. G. Bressy.

After considerable discussion the meeting adjourned.

About two inches of snow fell on Monday in the Capilano Valley, above the old waterworks dam. There were about 15 degrees of frost there, and thin ice covered the reservoirs of the Vancouver City waterworks.

Alex. C. Noble, a fisherman for 66 years at New Haven, Midlothian, Scotland, but now of Keefer street, Vancouver, was a visitor in the city on Sunday. Though up in years he is still hale and hearty.

"It is a pity that the banks just now are not like scandal." "What do you mean by that?" "Scandal, you know, always gets currency."

"It's hard to lose the savings of a lifetime." "Oh, not so hard. I know of a dozen men with schemes that you could go into,"

To toss a coin for office
Is dazzling to all eyes;
Both financier and statesman
The action typifies.

"I've just been thinking," said Willieboy. "Thinking what?" demanded Silliman, to whom the idea Willieboy's thinking was somewhat disconcerting. "That in Adams's case it must have been a real re-leaf to change his clothes," said Willieboy.

The farm journal sez ye kin cure a cow of kickin' by ketchin' holt of her leg while in the act. That's right. An' ye kin cure a bee o' stingin,' too, by ketchin' holt of her sting while in the act.

A milliner says that every woman who ever tried on a hat in her store first said by way of preparation: "My hair isn't fixed right."

You are always hearing people talk about a jolly good time. Did you ever have one? They are quite rare.

If all the people in the world should agree to sympathize with a certain man at a certain hour, they could not cure his headache.

A word that we dislike very much is that word "natural," when used by women in describing the appearance of a corpse.

LOCALS

"What's the matter, Algy?" "Why, dash it all, that big girl over yonder, don't ye know, she asked me if I had a powder rag with me!"

"John, they don't ever sell dress goods in wall street, do they?" "Gracious, child, what put such an absurd idea in your head?"

The commuter handed the brakeman a five-cent cigar. "Say, George," he said, "why does the engine always let off such a heart-rending howl just as we pass Long Oak?" George shook his head sadly. "Ah," said he, "it was here that the engineer, poor fellow, first met his wife."

No man can be contented who has too much time to think of the things that don't suit him.

An Atchison man is so cross and stingy with his wife that when she tries to get him to give her a dollar she calls it "working the growler."

When everything else fails to furnish talk the neighbors can always think of some mother too indulgent, and some stepmother too impatient.

When a man marries a woman for her money the people applaud when she ties it so tight he can't touch it, and then can't reconcile such sense with the folly she showed in marrying him.

The young husband looked up, a little dubiously from the household accounts. "By the way," he asked, "how are you getting on, love, with the new grocer?" "Oh, delightfully," the bride replied. "He is the most generous man! Do you know, Harold, whenever I order a two-pound steak, he sends me one weighing four pounds at least."

The firm of Hill & Miller, proprietors of the Princess woodyard, have become involved in financial difficulties. Since the latter part of December up to a few days ago they were clearing land for the North Vancouver Land and Improvement Co., and also hauling cordwood from the cleared district. They have become heavily indebted to several North Vancouver firms, and this week appeared on the list in the small debts court in Vancouver. An adjournment to the 12th was granted, when the several accounts against the firm will be heard. It is claimed by Miller that Hill was not authorized to do any contracting on this side of the inlet, and hence the trouble.

"MOTHER."

(James Whitcomb Riley in the Century

I'm gettin old—I know—
It seems so long ago,
So long since John was here!
He went so young—our Jim

'S as old now most as him,
Close on to thirty year'!
I know I'm gittin' old—
I know it by the cold,
From time 'at first frost flies,
Seems like—since John was here—
Winters is more severe;

And winter I de-spise!
And yet, it seems, some days,
John's here with his odd ways
Comes soon-like from the corn-
Field, callin' "Mother" at
Me—like he called me that
Even 'fore Jim was born!
When Jim come—(La! how good
Was all the neighorhood!—
And Doctor!—when I heerd
Him joke John, kind o' low,

And say: Yes, folks could go—
"Pa" needn't be feared!)
When Jim come—John says—'e—
A-bendin' over me
And baby in the bed—
And jes us three, says 'e,
"Our little family!"
And that was all he said.
And cried jes like a child!—
Kissed me again, and smiled,
'Cause I was cryin', too.
And here I am again
A-cryin', same as then—

Yet happy through and through.
The old home 's most in mind
And joys long left behind!
Jim's little h'istin'crawl
Across the floor to where
John set a-rockin there!
I'm gettin' old—that's all!
I'm gettin' old—no doubt!
Healthy as all git-out!

But, strangest thing I do,
I cry so easy now—
Iry jes anyhow
The fool tears wants me to!
cut Jim he wont be told
At "Mother's" gettin' old!
Hugged me, he did, and smiled
This morning, and bragged "shore"

He loved me even more
Then when he was a child
That's his way; but ef John
Was here now, lookin'on,
He'd shorely know and see;
"But, 'Mother,'" s'pect he'd say,
'S'pose you air gettin'gray,
You're younger yet than me?"

I'm gittin old,—because
Our young days, like they was,
Keeps comin'back—so clear,
'At little Jim, once more,
Comes h'istin' 'crost the floor
Fer John's old rockin' cheer!

Oh, beautiful!—to be
Agittin' old, like me!
Hey, Jim! Come in now, Jim!
Your supper's ready, dear!
(How much more, every year,
He looks and acts like him)!

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor:

Why should not our aldermen receive remuneration for their services to the city? Is it reasonable to expect poor men to do great deal of hard work for the city, extending over fifty-two weeks in the year, to devote all the time and thought necessary to the adequate discharge of the responsible duties devolving upon them as city councillors and not receive one dollar in compensation? If some of them object that they are not poor, let them still have a salary. There will be no law against returning the amount four fold to the board of works or to the park committee. If the sum of the duty of an alderman be to make one or two flowery speeches per year to a public gathering of his friends and pay one or two visits on summer afternoons to our gardens, parks and public buildings, then let us continue the old system of no pay, because there is no work. But if, Mr. Editor, our aldermen are responsible for the working out of old by-laws and the introduction of new ones; if they are to properly direct our fire and light department, take reasonable superintendance of our waterworks, do their work properly as license commissioners and police commissioners, make proper arrangements in connection with the ferry system, wisely expend the money raised by taxes and sale of debentures, etc., etc., then I claim that in all reason they ought to have some monetary consideration in return for long and arduous labor. Where did this idea of having the civic representatives work without salary come from? Has it not been imported from the old world? And is it not a relic of the old aristocratic form of government? This old-world spirit which claims for the favored few a monopoly of all wisdom and good judgment and right to govern, and takes for granted that laboring men and mechanics, et al., are in the world as the servants of the high born and should possess their souls in patience, and should go about with their faces earthward and hold no opinions except such as are handed down to them. I claim, sir, that "the man with the hoe" may make good aldermen—witness Chris. Foley, a quondam miner, of Rossland—but our present system practically shuts him out. A common objection made to paying aldermen is that it would put the government of our cities into the hands of professional politicans. One might reply that the present plan tends to put the city government into the hands of men who have an ax to grind. One argument is worth as much as the other, and neither is worth much. Trust the people to choose the right man. One might make the point, however, that our present system of service gratis tends to put the government of young western towns into the hands of real estate men, because even if a real estate man is poor he may not interfere with his business as a real estate agent. If the business is to be handed over to men of one occupation perhaps it could not be in better hands, for their business fits them for the position, and the interests of the real estate man are to a considerable extent the interests of the city. But why should we continue a system which virtually shuts out many other worthy men from a place on the city council. Most of us are ready to criticise pretty freely the acts of alderman during their term of office. Are we not a little unreasonable and somewhat lacking in good taste to criticize an alderman who, perhaps, has made some blunders or has neglected to do some work that might be considered as properly belonging to his office, because, forsooth, he may have been compelled to use a part of his time that was needed in his work for the city in providing for the wants of his own family? I do not claim that it is impossible to find men who will govern our city without monetary reward, but I do claim that an alderman sometimes slights his work, partly because his private finances are in such shape that he cannot donate as much time to the city as his office demands. A monetary consideration for service will not take the public spirit out of our aldermen. Will it not rather, by showing appreciation of their service on the part of the citizens, make them feel their responsibility the more and lead them to be more efficient in service, and, in case of a representative, who is a poor man, the compensation will make it possible for him to serve his city as he would wish. These considerations, added to the important fact that having a reasonable salary attached to the office of city councillor, would greatly enlarge the field from which aldermen could be chosen, leads me to conclude that as a matter of good principle and good policy we ought to pay our aldermen.

Yours truly,
CANADIAN DEMOCRAT.

SECOND STREET, - - - - NORTH VANCOUVER, B. C.

Area of Canada.

Three hundred million (300,000,000) acres is the latest estimate of the forest area of Canada. This was given recently by Dr. B. E. Fernow, Dean of the Faculty of Forestry in the University of Toronto. Dr. Fernow was for years head of the forestry work of the United States, and is regarded as one of the best authorities on forestry and timber on this continent. Dr. Fernow said: "If we look at this vast forest area from the manufacturer's point of view, from the standpoint of supplies for the arts and industries, of its commercial value, and study merely the geography and nature of the country in the light of the reports on the more or less outlying parts of the same, we will come to the conclusion that three hundred million acres, and perhaps less, will cover fully the commercially valuable timberland area, actual and potential, or not much more than one-half of the commercial forest area of the United States."

At one time eight hundred million acres was the generally accepted estimate of the timber land of Canada. Mr. R. H. Campbell, Superintendent of Forestry for the Dominion Government, was not quite so pessimistic in a recent estimate. Speaking at a forestry convention held in Yarmouth, N.S. he calculated the forest area of the Dominion at about 535,000,000 acres, divided as follows:

British Columbia	182 million
Manitoba, Saskatchewan & Alta., and unorganised territories	180 "
Ontario	40 "
Quebec	120 "
New Brunswick	7½ "
Nova Scotia	5 "

Look at it as we may, one thing seems clear, and that is that, on further knowledge, Canada's "inexhaustible" forests and forest areas are shrinking, and that this country does not possess the wealth that it was once thought that she did. The moral is plain: it must be Canada's duty to look carefully after what she has and carefully preserve it, and also make provision that these areas shall be so handled that a future supply of timber from the same areas can be obtained. And this means the introduction of forestry management of these timberlands.
