DISTRICT COUNCIL MEET

The regular meeting of the District Council was held last Wednesday evening instead of Thursday, the regular meeting night.

Reeve McNaught presided and Councillors Allan, Bridgman and Lawson were present.

A few matters of correspondence of minor importance were read as follows :

Letter Chief Commissioner of Lands acknowledging receipt of council's letter giving a list of matters which they wished to be considered by the Water Board when formed.

Letter H. Bose, Sec'y. U.B.C. M., acknowledging receipt of council's letter regarding amendment to the Municipal Elections Act.

Letter from T. O. Ostter and H. M. Wood asking for the extension of the road in Woodlands up to lot 40, D.L. 950.

The writers stated that building operations had already started and the road was a great necessity. Referred to the Board of Works to report.

Jack Loutet wrote asking the council to complete their promise regarding road to lots 1 and 2 block "C" D.L. 785. He said Mr. T. S. Nye, who was interested, had agreed to certain allowances being made.

It was referred to the engineer.

Capt. Chas. Cates wrote in reference to a request from the council to lay a water main through his property, lots 97 and 98, D.L. 2169. He advised that before deciding definitely he would like to be furnished with a sketch plan of the proposed work. It was referred to the clerk to furnish the information asked for.

Raymond Labrosse, who intends soon to reside on lot 33, D.L. 825, wrote asking that some stumps on the road near the property be blown. Referred to the engineer with power to act.

As reported in the Vancouver press the statements of Alderman Hepburn at last Monday evening's meeting of the Vancouver city council was the occasion for some severe criticism by the district body. The following resolution was passed :

RESOLVED "That this council is very pleased to see that the Vancouver city council is taking up the problem of securing more power for the districts to deal with subdivisions, a matter upon which this council has been working hard for the last two years, but exceedingly regret that the mayor allowed Alderman Hepburn to make such unfounded, uncalled for and false statements (as reported in the press) against a neighboring council in respect to a question upon which the said alderman shows lamentable ignorance, and must request in common justice that the alderman in question withdraw his reported unwarranted statements in as prominent a manner as that in which they were made."

The statements made were to the effect that the North Vancouver district council were accessaries in the "boosting" of untenantable subdivisions.

When the plans were laid on the table for consideration, Councillor Bridgman moved That all plans for submitsion to the district council must have the signature of the owner on them before being sent in for approval. The resolution was passed unanimously.

Councillor Bridgman further moved, seconded by Councillor Lawson, That the engineer be instructed to procure the services of an assistant engineer.

The following plans were passed : resubdivision part D.L. 852 and 853, block 5, D.L. 2022, lots 23 and 24, block 6, D.L. 553, lot of block 12, D.L. 764, conditionally, block 43, D. L. 2022, blocks 22 and 23, D. L. 2169, block 1, D. L. 791 conditionally, part of D.L. 813, conditionally. Those referred back were subdivision block 11 of D. L. 622, lots 61, 62 and 63, D.L. 802, lots 27 and 28, block 2, D. L. 785, block 26, D. L. 826, and lots, 1, 2 and 6, D.L. 827.

The board of works regular statement of accounts was read and adopted, the total amount being $1,242.65.

The question of appointing constables in different sections of the district was discussed and referred to the councillors to look up likely appointees in the parts in which they lived.

Councillor Allan for Lynn Valley, Councillor Bridgman for Seymour and Councillor Lawson for West Capilano.

It was resolved to offer the position of road tax collector to Mr. Peers of Capilano on a basis of 20 per cent.

The clerk laid on the table a list containing the amounts required for the fixed charged of the year in connection with the yearly estimates. A preliminary discussion took place when it was intimated that the rate for 1910 would be very similar to last year, about 17 mills on the dollar.

The meeting adjourned till next Monday evening, March 21st.

PRESENTATION

On the eve of his departure for Port Essington, Mr. Wm. Philip, son of Alex. Philip, clerk of the municipal council, was accorded a hearty send off by his friends and fellow members of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church in the vestry of the church last Friday evening. Mr. Philip was presented with an address, delivered by the Rev. J. D. Gillam and a handsome gold-mounted Gillette safety razor. In making the presentation Mr. Gillam took occasion to refer to Mr. Philip's unfailing efforts during his connection with the duties in the church in which capacity he was an active worker for the last seven or eight years. His long and continued service in the choir of that church will make his departure felt very much and the loss of a superior bass voice such as his will not soon be replaced. At the close of choir practice a social entertainment was enjoyed, the members contributing several solos of a pleasing nature. The evening was brought to a close by the singing of Auld Lang Syne. Mr. Philip left for the north the following morning, where he and his brother-in-law, Mr. DeWolf, will be engaged in the cannery business at Balmoral Cannery.

NEW STREET CARS

Three double-truck air-brake street cars were landed on this side of the Inlet on Wednesday afternoon for use on the local service. Along with the three cars was one center dump and a side dump car which will be utilized in connection with the work train which will be kept continually busy as a consequence of the extensions and the large amount of new work which it is expected will be entered upon this season. It is expected that one of the new cars will be put on the service at once and the others just as soon as the local motormen have familiarized themselves with the workings of the air-brakes.

Mr. G. A. Clothier, late of Nevada, and Mr. T. A. Morrow of Rossland were in the city this week the guests of Mr. Malcolm McMillan, who himself is an old Rossland man. Mr. Clothier is a mining engineer and also an old Rosslandite, and the meeting of the three old friends after a parting of a number of years, was particularly pleasing. Mr. Clothier is for the present located in Vancouver, but expected soon to leave for Stuart, a mining camp in the northern waters of B. C.

W. P. Peacey

The city of North Vancouver has suffered the loss of one of her most public spirited and enterprising citizens, in the death of Mr. W. P. Peacey, which occurred at the family residence, corner of Fourth street and Chesterfield avenue, during the early hours of Sunday morning. About two months ago Mr. Peacey underwent an operation for appendicitis which reduced him to a condition of extreme weakness, but from which he eventually rallied and regained his health. In response to inquiries he uniformly informed his friends that he was enjoying better health than he had known for some years. It was with consternation, therefore, that his friends received the information on Sunday that he had passed away. On Friday evening Mr. Peacey complained that he was suffering from an attack of indigestion and the family physician being summoned, administered restoratives which appeared to have a beneficial effect, but on Saturday his condition became worse and ultimately developed such alarming symptoms that consulting physicians were called in. It was discovered that the patient was suffering from hemorrhage of the stomach, the utmost efforts to stop which proved unavailing, and he gradually sank until the vital spark sped. Mr. Peacey was one of the older citizens of North Vancouver in point of the length of time during which he had resided in this city. He was a valued member of the Board of School trustees, having been elected when the board was first constituted and retaining his position continuously until his death. As secretary of the board he was faithful and efficient in the discharge of his duties. He was ever ready and willing to devote any portion of his time and energy to the educational welfare of the city which those interests might demand. His practical knowledge as a builder and contractor made him a particularly helpful and valuable member of the board and his wise council and efficient services will be greatly missed by the members of the board.

The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon. The cortege left the house at 1.15 p.m., and proceeded to the church of St. John the Evangelist, where an impressive service was conducted by the rector, Rev. J. Hugh Hooper, who likewise conducted the service at Mountain View cemetery. The procession which formed at the church was one of the largest ever witnessed in the city and was comprised of the city council, together with a large body of sympathisers, amongst whom were many of the most prominent citizens. The pall bearers consisted of the confreres of the deceased upon the Board of School Trustees, A. R. Steacy, Dr. H. B. Howell, M. S. McDowell and Geo. H. Morden. The school children attended in a body in charge of Principal Bennett and the entire staff of teachers. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful, adding yet further testimony to the universal respect and regard in which Mr. Peacey was held by the entire community, the list being as follows : Mrs. Peacey and family, anchor ; Mr. Peacey's employees, wreath ; Board of School Trustees, wreath ; public schools staff, wreath ; public school children, cross ; Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Steacy, spray ; Mr. W. J. Irwin, spray ; Mr. A. B. Diplock, cross ; Dr. and Mrs. Verner, cross ; Mr. and Mrs. William Morden, spray ; Mr. and Mrs. Wakefield, spray ; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McMillan, spray ; Mr. E. Eldridge and family, spray ; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. J. Phillippo, spray ; Mrs. Baxter, spray ; Mr. and Mrs. F. Tuck, spray ; Lim Yong, spray ; Mr. Fox, wreath ; Mr. and Mrs. J. Foster, wreath ; Mr. and Mrs. Abbey, wreath ; Mr. and Mrs. Kaymes, spray ; Mr. Curtis, cross ; Mr. F. C. Wright, wreath ; Mr. B. Cornish, wreath ; Mr. and Mrs. L. Hodge, spray ; Mr. and Mrs. Fillier, spray ; Mr. and Mrs. H. Holden, spray ; Mr. and Mrs. G. A. McBain, spray ; Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Nye, wreath ; Mr. and Mrs. E. McMillan, wreath.

New Buildings

Architect Alexander Law is preparing plans for a new residence to be erected on Fifteenth street east for A. J. McMillan. The dwelling will consist of seven rooms and will be of the bungalow type. Plans are also in hand for a residence to be erected on Lonsdale Ave. north for Mr. Rae of Galiano Island.

The Pythian Castle Hall Association is considering the erection of a re-inforced concrete block on the property on Fourth street. The sketch plan shows a large assembly hall on the ground floor measuring 56x82 feet and two lodge rooms, a large one and a small one on the first storey with the usual complement of ante rooms, paraphenalia rooms, etc.

ALD. HEPBURN AND THE DISTRICT COUNCIL

To the Editor of the Express:

Sir,—Referring to Alderman Hepburn's remarks at Monday evening's meeting of Vancouver City Council, as related in the Vancouver press, regarding the Reeve and Councillors of the District of North Vancouver, were one to take them seriously as might be done, they could only be characterised as very impertinent and even as contemptible. But they are evidently an after-dinner deliverance, and in the rush of business his digestive organs were overtaxed, and his imagination as well as his stomach became disordered. It is hardly necessary to defend the reeve and Councillors from such an attack upon them personally and as a Council. They one and all have great confidence in the future of North Vancouver, and they do not hesitate to say so, and to work with goodwill and hearty perseverance to promote her best interests.

In the matter of subdivision plans they have laid on them a task the magnitude of which Alderman Hepburn has no conception of, and no body of men can have a clearer sense of their responsibility than they have. On several occasions they have taken the responsibility of refusing to certify plans of lands unsuited for subdivision, but they have very little power in this matter, and have to be careful not to involve the District in unwarranted litigation. They have also insisted on larger subdivisions being made in some cases than those mapped out, but after these were conceded the lots were sold in halves or in quarters.

It is not with the North Shore real estate men that the Council have had difficulty. One and all they have confined attention to lands of real value. It has been unnecessary for them to do otherwise, as we have plenty of such land without subdividing the mountains, and being on the spot and dealing with those who come to see for themselves they can be relied on.

Let me say sir, that the worthy members of the city council of Vancouver have ever been treated by the Councillors and Citizens of the North Shore with the respect due to their high office. We think we have a right to similar treatment for our Councillors at their hands to assure that goodwill which should ever be present where so many common interests are at stake. Yours, etc.

ALEX. PHILIP.

North Vancouver, Mar. 18th, 1910.

Wedding Bells

MURRAY-SHARPE

A very pretty and popular wedding was celebrated in the city Wednesday evening at the home of Dr. Howell, 15th St., when Mr. J. R. J. Murray, one of North Vancouver's most prominent business men and a member of the brokerage firm of Elder Murray and Company, and Miss Janet R. Sharpe, also of this city were joined in the holy bonds of wedlock by the Rev. J. D. Gillam. The ceremony was conducted at 5.30 p. m. amid an array of floral decorations of Easter lilies, azelias and palms, and presented a very charming picture as the young couple took their oaths. Mrs. McKeith acted as bridesmaid, and the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Jas. Murray. The flower girls, Lottie Murray and Marjorie Howell, were attired in white and looked very handsome, each with her large bouquet of spring flowers. The bride and bridesmaid carried a bouquet of carnations. After the ceremony was over Mr. Alex. T. Spence of the Holt liner Teucer, entertained the company with a number of solos on his violin. Mr. and Mrs. Murray will most probably take a short honeymoon trip when they will take up their residence in this city in a new residence which Mr. Murray is having built.

FAY-JONES

In Vancouver last Tuesday was celebrated the wedding of Mr. John Fay, the popular barber of this city, and Miss Catharine Jones of Vancouver. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. McLeod at his private residence with only the immediate friends of the contracting parties present. Mr. Fay is well and favorably known in this city and the addition of Mr. and Mrs. Fay to the residential section of the city will be welcomed most heartily. After enjoying a short honeymoon the young couple intend taking up their residence on 15th street in Mr. L. LeRuox's house.

MISCHIEVOUS BOYS

About a dozen boys between the ages of 12 and 17 years, were up in the police court on Thursday morning before Magistrate Kealy on a charge of window breaking in a house located somewhere in the east end of the city. The numerous complaints that have been coming into the police of late caused the officers to be on the lookout for some mischievous lads who for some time have successfully evaded the efforts of the force to lay their hands on them with the result that these small window breakers were soon located. The magistrate, having consideration for their tender years and the fact that this was their first offence, let them off with a severe reprimand and a caution not to appear again or the consequences would not be so light.

LICENSE COMMISSIONERS

The Board of License Commissioners for the city of North Vancouver met in the city hall on Wednesday afternoon for the consideration of several matters which were of a semi-private nature and were in connection with some reported irregularities on the part of the local hotels.

The question of fire escapes was discussed and the chief of police was instructed to make a tour of inspection and also see that the proper notices giving information where these escapes were to be found were properly posted.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eves are en route home from their visit to England, and are expected to reach this city about Thursday, April 7th.

Ferry Directors Meet

His Worship the Mayor and all the directors with the exception of Mr. McNair, were present at the regular weekly meeting of the Ferry Board.

Very little important business came up for discussion and the proceedings were almost featureless.

The regular monthly accounts were passed and the estimates for the steel bridges which are to be constructed between the main wharf and the outer float of the Lonsdale Ave. wharf were submitted by the engineer.

The matter of awarding the tender for this steel work will, in all probability, come up at the next sitting of the board, which will be held on Thursday afternoon, March 14th.

Mrs. Jas. Hay and her son, Austin, left today for Toronto, Ont., for a three months' stay. Mrs. Hay had not intended to leave for the east so soon, but on receipt of the news that her mother was failing in health, decided upon an immediate departure.

Mr. C. Wiegand of Vancouver paid a friendly call at the Express office on Thursday. Mr. Wiegand has been the owner of extensive property interests on this side of the Inlet for some years and is now preparing to erect buildings on his lots on First street. The plans are completed for the building to be erected on the property east of St. George's avenue and show a building with a frontage of fifty feet and a depth of sixty feet. The ground floor is arranged for store purposes and the first floor is divided into four suites of modern light housekeeping apartments. Mr. Wiegand's other property on First street immediately adjoins the Russell on the east. The plans are not yet completed for the proposed structure to be built on this lot, but it is his intention to proceed at once with all necessary arrangements.

University Site

A large and representative meeting was held in the city hall Tuesday evening to consider the question of advocating North Vancouver's claim as a site for the provincial university. It transpired, however, that the concensus of opinion was in the first instance for the location of the university on the lower mainland near the center of population of the province as against the strength which is being put forth by Vancouver Island. Alderman McRae was chosen chairman of the meeting.

The speakers of the evening were Alderman Schultz, Reeve McNaught, Councillor Bridgeman and Lawson, G. H. Morden, A. Philip, W. J. Irwin, Dr. Campbell and the chairman.

The first speaker, Alderman Schultz, gave an outline of steps had been taken at the former meeting and also the actions of other municipalities on the south shore in their almost unanimous selection of Deer Park, midway between Vancouver and New Westminster, as a suitable site for the proposed institution.

Alderman Schultz pointed out that in comparison with Vancouver Island, the lower mainland was more advantageously situated from the standpoint of the larger enrollment of students which would be had from the cities of Vancouver, New Westminster and North Vancouver. He said that the special features which North Vancouver could lay claim to were the value of the mineralogical resources and the forestry to the students of such a college.

Reeve McNaught gave encouragement that the district might be in a position to offer such a site as would be required for a provincial university.

Speaking in this connection Mr. A. Philip drew attention to the fact that a most suitable site could be had in D.L. 889, West Capilano or in D.L. 805 or 850, in which locations the District Council was in a position to provide some lands, adequate to the needs of the university should it come to North Vancouver. Mr. Philip said that this matter of selecting a site for a university was taken up by him about 17 years ago in Central Park and again about 8 years ago when the government had some 1,500 acres near Hastings Park. Mr. Philip continued that comparing the north shore of Burrard Inlet with the south shore in the matter of marine sites there was no question as to the superiority of the north shore. He concluded his remarks with the statement that, although North Vancouver had been associated with the name of "boosters" the city and district had no equal in British Columbia from a residential or commercial standpoint and could well hold up its head in the face of all of the accusations.

Councillor Bridgman emphasized the fact that it was first a matter of securing the university for the lower mainland and that all the municipalities to the south as well as to the north of Burrard Inlet co-operate with this object in view.

Rev. Harper heartily supported the position taken in regard to settling on a site mutually, if possible, between the municipalities on the lower mainland.

Rev. Gillies speaking from the students point of view, stated that it was essential that the site chosen be not too far from the center of population, as many of the students depended upon their own earnings to pay their way through college and it was, therefore, necessary to be conveniently close to where employment could be obtained.

Councillor John Lawson stated that he had taken Principal Haywood over a portion of the district to the west of the Capilano river and that the Principal had expressed great satisfaction with what he had seen and had assured him that he would support any effort to locate the university there, because of the natural advantages which that section afforded.

Dr. Campbell emphasized the fact that it was necessary for medical students to be within easy reach of the hospitals, and as a consequence it was desirable to have the university as near to hand as was convenient with respect to the other requirements of the college.

Alderman Schultz, in a measure, explained this objection away. It was further pointed out that when the Tunnel under the First Narrows was an accomplished undertaking, the students would be in close touch with all Vancouver institutions, whether for medical or law purposes.

G. H. Morden moved and A. Philip seconded, That this committee is of the opinion that it is in the best interests of education that the provincial university be located on the lower mainland, and in a position contiguous to the present center of population in British Columbia.

It was further moved That the clerk of the meeting forward a copy of the resolution to the several other municipalities of the lower mainland who are interested in this movement.

A committee was then appointed to look into and report to a meeting of the general committee at a later date on a suitable site for the university in North Vancouver and that they should be empowered to confer with the other municipalities in respect to securing the site for the lower mainland.

The committee appointed were as follows: G. H. Morden, representing the citizens of North Vancouver; Alderman D. Schultz, the city council; Jas. A. McNair, the Board of Trade; Councillor Bridgman, the District Municipality, and the Rev. J. H. Hooper, the professional and educational interest of the city and district.

Alderman Irwin remarked that it was practically an acknowledged fact that the District of North Vancouver must be looked to to provide a suitable location on the north side.

Those present on the general committees last evening and the public bodies which they represented were Reeve McNaught, Councillors Bridgman and Lawson, for the district council; Aldermen McRae, Irwin and Schultz for the city council; Rev. J. H. Hooper and Rev. Gillies for the clergy, Drs. Campbell and Newcombe for the medical profession; City Engineer Hanes and Messrs. G. H. Morden, A. G. Percy and Mr. Andrews for the Board of Trade.

A dissolution of partnership has taken place between Messrs. Sale and Brewitt, the stationers of this city. The interests in the business held by Mr. Brewitt has been taken over by Mr. Sale and will hereafter be conducted under his management, which, if followed out on the same principles as heretofore adopted will be a credit to the business fraternity of the city.

City Council Meeting

His Worship the Mayor and all the Aldermen were present at the regular meeting of the City Council held last evening.

A lengthy list of business of minor importance was the only feature of the evening's proceedings.

Arbor Day was proclaimed for Saturday afternoon, March 19th.

Under the head of correspondence the following communications were read:

Letter from F. Carter-Cotton M.P.P. intimating that he had conferred with the Attorney-General regarding the joint telegrams from the city and district of North Vancouver in reference to cities and municipalities holding stock in joint stock companies. The Attorney-General had given his opinion to the effect that this was already provided for in subsection 4 of section 50 of the Municipal Act.

E. Buchan, the Vancouver manager of the Bank of Hamilton, wrote in connection with the city's request that the bank dedicate a certain portion, (about 10 feet) of their property at the corner of First street and Lonsdale avenue to the city in order that the corner might be cut off and made easier for traffic. Mr. Buchan enclosed a copy of a letter from the bank's engineer agreeing to the city's proposal, on the condition that the city allow the banks to utilize about 8 inches of the sidewalks for a portion of the base of the large columns which they intend erecting at the front of their proposed block. The bank's proposition was accepted unanimously with thanks.

R. H. Tarn wrote offering the city $20 for a horse which the city has for sale. The offer was accepted.

C. A. Lindsay wrote complaining of the overflowing of a ditch on 13th street which caused the water to flood his lot immediately south on twelfth street.

Mr. Lindsay also made application for a sidewalk on the south side of 12th street east of St. Andrew's Ave.

Both matters were referred to the board of works committee.

The clerk read the estimates of the board of police commissioners for 1910 which totalled $4,856.50. The opinion was expressed in the report that the police force would be required to be increased before the end of the year. Reference was also made to an undesirable shack located on 14th street. The latter was referred to the health committee and the estimates were referred to the finance committee.

J. H. Senkler, ex-city solicitor wrote acknowledging the city's resolution dispensing with his services. He enclosed with his letter his account including his retainer for the year 1910. It was referred to the committee of the whole.

The statement for the month of January of the North Vancouver Ferries Company was read and showed the receipts for the month to be $4,274.10, disbursements $4,136.18, and including depreciation of $416.50, $4,550.68. The net loss for the month was stated as $276.58 over operating expenses.

The city engineer reported that he had been informed by the registrar that the present registration forms were inadequate. The engineer also expressed the opinion that the council had very little to do with the passing of plans. Referred to the committee of the whole.

Another communication was received from the engineer stating that approximately $54,425 was required in the construction of the main sewer in the city. Only $40,000 had been provided by law and he suggested that some arrangements be made to provide funds for the balance under local improvement. It was referred to Alderman Schultz and the Clerk to take this matter in hand.

The Mayor spoke in touching terms of the death of the late Mr. Peacey and expressed a desire on the part of the city in general that the last respects to the dead be paid by every citizen who could find it at all convenient to attend the funeral services on Tuesday afternoon.

Alderman Irwin moved and Alderman Schultz seconded a resolution of deepest sympathy to the bereaved family and that a copy of the resolution be forwarded to Mrs. Peacey. Alderman Schultz remarked "that the city could ill afford to lose so valuable a citizen."

The Mayor reported a proposition which had been placed in his hands purporting to have eminated from the chiefs of the mission. The conditions asked for in the last proposal, as a compensation for the extension of Third street through their reserve, were as follows: 12 taps, fire hydrant, 3000 feet of fire hose or as a substitution for the latter, another fire hydrant, three street lights on First street, three more street lights on Third street, lighting for their church, sidewalks on all the streets throughout the the mission and that Third street be fenced on both sides for its entire length through the reserve. This proposition was not even considered by the council and one of the chiefs who was present was apprised of this fact.

Several plans were laid on the table for the engineer's approval.

A requisition for the local improvement of 5th street clearing its full width, macadamizing to a width of 36 feet, also constructing a sidewalk between Mahon and St. David's was read and referred to the city clerk to ascertain if the requisite number of signatures were attached.

The Clerk reported that he had found local improvement petition No. 1. was not in order on account of an insufficient number of signatures. Alderman Irwin said that these would be forthcoming at once as the petitions were already signed.

The following statements of accounts were read and adopted: Finance, $4,208; Board of Works, $298.40, and for the purchase of a team of heavy horses, $750; Waterworks Committee, $672.95 and school trustees' account for purchase of H. L. Radermacher's property on Upper Lonsdale for a school site, $15,900.

The recommendation of the Board of Works Committee that the salary of Foreman Dan Amscold be increased to $100 per month was referred to the committee of the whole.

Alderman Irwin stated that he did not know what arrangements the B. C. Electric Railway Company were making to handle the summer traffic, qut from conditions experienced on Sunday it was evident that this year's travel would greatly exceed that of former years and he thought it was expedient for the company to prepare for the extra travel. The transportation committee was instructed to take the matter in hand. Alderman Schultz volunteered the information that he understood that the company were getting four extra double truck cars over from Vancouver on the 17th of this month and that the present cars would be used as spares.

Some one suggested that the Ferry Company should get busy to which His Worship replied that the Directors had this under advisement.

The Mayor, supported unanimously by the council, condemned the actions of some real estate firms in the city for keeping their offices open on Sundays. The question of leaving sign boards on the streets over Sunday and of the numerous cigar signs that were being plastered up on public places was discussed and referred to the police commission with certain recommendations.

The Waterworks Committee recommended that the engineer and city treasurer be instructed to ascertain the amount of water being used in the district. They also recommended that the Wallace Shipyards Company and the McDougal-Jenkins boiler works be furnished with water at a minimum flat rate of $1 per month. The report was adopted.

The special University Site Committee rported on their meeting of last week and that it had been decided to hold a representative meeting on Tuesday evening of this week.

On motion of Aldermen Fowler and Schultz, the Board of Works were empowered to pro-

MUST SUBMIT PLANS

At a meeting which was held in Ottawa recently of the mayors and representatives of large cities in Canada, a resolution was passed declaring that in order to prevent confusion of plans of operation and of different councils, provincial, federal and civic and to prevent injury to local franchises, it is essential that all plans of railways or telegraph companies be not granted rights by parliament except that the plans be subject to the consent of municipalities expressed by bylaw.

The cities represented at this conference were Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, Fort William, Winnipeg and Calgary. Resolutions of assent were received from the mayors of Halifax, Victoria, Vancouver and Port Arthur. There were present also a number of the officers of the Union of Canadian Municipalities.

FISHING SEASON OPENS

The lovers of rod and stream will welcome with zest the opening of the fishing season which takes place on the 26th of this month. The restrictions this year are generally thought to be very stringent when it is unlawful to catch a trout less than eight inches in length, as most of the fish usually caught in the local streams are less than that length. No trout of less weight than three pounds can be offered for sale.

Mrs. A. E. Kealy and her sister-in-law, Mrs. McLeod, returned Saturday from a pleasant trip of several months' duration in Spokane, Wash. Mrs. Kealy appears greatly improved as a result of her holiday.

IF YOU WANT TO MAKE MONEY

WHY NOT BUY A FEW LOTS IN

BAYVIEW

We do not ask you to buy either in a mud swamp or a mountain top, as Bayview is neither; and to prove that this is correct we will gladly take you over any afternoon and shew you the proporty if you come to this office about 1 30.

When the Second Narrows Bridge is built Bayview will be in as much demand for building sites as Kitsilano is now. Before that time street cars will be running through the property on their way to the steel car plant.

Bayview is only about half a mile from the northern end of the Second Narrows Bridge, and the Keith Road goes right through it.

The southern end of Bayview is just five minutes' walk from a lovely bathing beach and has a nice gentle slope towards the water. The soil is good, and clearing easy. In fact we could not say too much in praise of the property—but come along and see for yourself. The trip is free and you will enjoy the boat run.

Prices are $275 to $325

Terms:—$50 cash and $10 a month, or quarterly, if you prefer it.

Prices will be advanced $50 in a few days. Come and buy before prices go up, and a year from now you will be glad you took our advice.

Funeral of Chief Joe Capilano

Sacred, pathetic and picturesque was the funeral service and burial of the late Chief Joe Capilano, Wednesday and over the bier of the dead young Chief Mathias, Joe's only son, donned the chieftain's robes of his late father, and was, before an audience of the sages of the tribes of B. C., proclaimed chief of all British Columbia.

The burial was held according to the ancient customs of the Indians, there was no priest present and the service was conducted as in the days gone by, when a great chief died. Representative chiefs from all over the province were present. Chief Johnny of the Musquiem tribe at the mouth of the Fraser river was senior chief over the proceedings.

The scene at the Capilano church, the building of which was done by the late Chief Joe, was most impressive.

Around the coffin stood several of the chiefs including the chief mourners and behind on a slightly elevated platform stood an array of chiefs in their native robes and ornaments, each wearing that sincere and sober expression characteristic of the race.

Chief Jonny spoke in Indian of the late great chief, whom they all honored and in whom they had had a great adviser. His words were assented to by tokens of approval from his brother chiefs. His closing remarks were translated by interpretec Simon Pierre of the Koatzie tribe, Port Hammond. Simon Pierre was the only one present who accompanied the late chief to Buckingham Palace and it was he who was the interpreter and spokesman for his brothers at the memorable audience with King Edward.

The address delivered was the composition of Simon Pierre who speaks English fluently, having been educated in both English and French at St. Mary's College. It read:

"Ladies and Gentlemen—On behalf of the Capilano band I am permitted to offer their sincere thanks to you one and all. You ladies and gentlemen see the great gathering of Indians and Indian chiefs from all posts of British Columbia. The late Chief Jos. Capilano will be remembered by both whites and Indians that he was a great Indian. There never in all history of Indians in the province that a native of British Columbia has crossed the great Atlantic ocean of which Chief Joe did some four years ago with his two brothers, Chief Charley Tsilpaymelt of Cowichan tribe and Chief Basil Bonaparts from Ashcroft with interpreter Simon Pierre of the Keatzie tribe Port Hammond on the Fraser river to see his Majesty King Edward VII.

You ladies and gentlemen see that the Indians are dressed in their native costumes and are marching behind the corpse. They have a great honor for their late chief, they honor him as if the late chief was going for another journey through the world again, as he used to do and as he used to be bid farewell by his people. But they are marching their great chief to the cemetery where he is to be laid for eternity, where he shall be mourned by all the Indians of British Columbia as well as their respected white friends all over the continent of Canada.

The late Chief Joe leaves a widow, one son and two daughters to mourn his loss. I announce to you, ladies and gentlemen, that after three months is passed there is going to be a gathering of Indians from all parts of British Columbia to honor their head chief. Again, I thank you one and all for your kind sympathy to the family of the late chief. I remain, yours very truly, Simon Pierre of the Keatizie tribe, Port Hammond, B. C."

Then followed the ceremony, the most impressive of all, the declaration of the young Chief Mathias.

He was led forward to the side of the coffin and from on its corner, draped in crepe, was the old chief's head dress, coat and blanket, royal they might be called, for it was in them that he visited the King, and amid a breathless silence, Mathias first donned the heavy fur cap, then the coat and blankets after which one of the chiefs stepped forward and pinned on his breast the two gold medals presented to his father by the King and Queen of England.

Outside the church, on either side of the door, two postilians were posted bearing the flags presented to Chief Jonny of the Musquiems by the King.

The funeral cortege left the church about 3.30 and proceeded to the Indian cemetery on the Keith road west of the Capilano river. In the procession were many of the late Chief Joe's white friends, including Mayor May, Reeve McNaught, Councillors Lawson and Bridgman, A. Philip, Wm. Morden, Mr. Copeland, Chief Davies, Mr. and Mrs. A. Gibson, Geo. Bartley and W. Newman. Miss Pauline Johnson, the famous Mohawk Indian lecturess, was present at the grave and administered comfort to the afflicted.

With muffled drum the North Vancouver mission band led the procession to the grave. Most of the spectators and friends who witnessed the ceremony at the church accompanied the cortege to the cemetery, the chiefs in costume, led by Chief Jonny, carrying the royal septre sent him by their Majesties, followed behind the hearse.

Under a slightly overcast sky the body of Chief Joe was laid at rest in his shallow grave in Capilano cemetery. Previous to the interment the sacred native rites were administered. Chief Jonny again officiated and commended the young chief to the tribes of the province and wished that he would follow the same course of action as was taken through the life of his late father.

Chief Mathias, on whom the burden of sorrow rested, and on whose young shoulders so recently had been placed the heavy responsibility of which his new office necessarily gave him, spoke a few words in Indian to the effect that it was his intention to erect a tomb for his late father's remains in a few months.

The grave was about two feet deep and the bottom was covered with boards, on these boards were placed two large Indian blankets. The coffin was placed on these and covered with more blankets of white.

The rough box was then inverted and placed over the coffin. The earth was then filled in and the body of Chief Joe Capilano was left to its long rest. Several floral contributions were placed over the grave.

A resolution as follows was sent from the District Council to the bereaved family: "This council having heard of the death of Chief Joe Capilano, desires to express its regret at hearing of the sad event and its sincere respect for the memory of the deceased chief and they hereby tender to the widow and family an expression of their sympathy with them in the great loss they have sustained."

Amongst the visiting chiefs who were present were:

MILITIA CORPS.

In an interview which Reeve McNaught had with the Minister of Militia and Col. Otter while he was in Ottawa recently in connection with other municipal business he received the assurances from these officials that a corps of engineers for North Vancouver will be formed this summer. The announcement will be received with a great deal of pleasure by the citizens and especially by those who have identified themselves with the movement for some time past and which appears now to be in line for successful consumation at an early date.

In the preliminary canvas which was undertaken on the initiative of Mr. Alexander Philip some 50 names were signed of the young men of the city who had intimated a desire to join the corps.

Mr. Donald Cameron, who has manifested his assent to take charge of the local company, is in high favor with the young for this position and doubtless under his command the corps will make rapid progress.

RUNAWAY

An exciting runaway occurred last Tuesday afternoon when the team attached to the N.V. laundry rig dashed away from in front of R. Tarn's blacksmith shop on First street.

The horses were evidently bent on making the best of their freedom for they ran up Chesterfield Ave. to Keith Road then along to Lonsdale Ave. when they headed at a breakneck pace down the grade of that street. Pedestrians along the avenue took to their heels and found refuge in every doorway within reach. The runaways continued down on to the ferry wharf where the wagon turned on its side. This necessarily retarded their progress and before they passed the ticket office they were brought to a stand still.

Neither the horses were hurt beyond a few minor scratches, but the rig was somewhat demolished. In the overturning of the vehicle on the wharf some of the electric lighting wires were torn down and dragged for some distance. The driver, who was out of the rig when the horses bolted, did a marathon around the streets in hot pursuit of his team, but was several laps behind at the finish.

RESIDENTS SUFFER

A slight inconvenience was suffered by the residents on Second street east last Monday afternoon and evening as a result of a leak in the city's water main. It was thought that the repairs would only take an hour or so to fix, but when the water was turned on after the break was mended it was found that another and more serious leak was giving offence. The waterworks gang worked till about 10 o'clock that night before the pipe was finally mended.

NORTH VANCOUVER, March 18, 1910

REAL ESTATE METHODS.

Somewhat of a commotion has been created during the past few days because of certain adverse criticisms which have appeared in the daily press relative to the methods of some real estate operators.

It is deeply to be regretted that these strictures have not in every instance been attended by just discrimination such as would protect reputable firms and honorable men from harrassment and loss because of reflections which, when viewed in the light of the upright dealings of such firms can not be characterized by any terms short of "gross ignorance" or "crass stupidity."

Any individual of ordinary intelligence who has observed conditions with respect to realty as they are found in the west today has put it down as one of the most elementary features of the situation, that the ranks of the realty brokers include many of our most able and honorable citizens and that as a class there are no business men in the west who are more uniformly deserving the confidence of the investing public than are the real estate agents. At the same time it is a fact the recognition of which is clear in the mind of every man who is gifted with the average modicum of mental acumen, that however upright the members of any particular section of the social order may be as a class, it is possible that in occasional instances, individuals may enter the ranks who are more or less unscrupulous and whose methods will be reprehensible or even dishonest. This principle holds good in every trade, industry, profession or employment under the sun. No sane man, however, ever thinks seriously of condemning all the members of any class because of the misdemeanors of any individual member thereof. When the fair minded man considers it incumbent upon him to voice strictures upon the actions of such an individual, he likewise considers well the fact that it is incumbent upon him to extend even-handed justice to the great body of honest members of that class by choosing those terms by means of which to express his criticisms which will manifact the fact, that in his own thinking he properly discriminates and which will ensure the fact that those to whom he addresses himself will properly discriminate between the object of his attack on the one hand, and those who in their characters and their dealings are fully as irreproachable as is the critic himself on the other. It is no unusual circumstance, however, to find that same self constituted censor of the actions of his follows rushes into the limelight upon such an occasion and delivers himself of utterances, the intemperance of whose language is sufficient to incline many thoughtful hearers to the opinion that the critic himself is deficient in that "self mastery" which we are assured is "the basis of sanity" and to lead them therefore to conclude that common prudence renders it advisable to withhold acceptance of his statements and insinuations until adequate proofs are submitted for their substantiation.

Dealing specifically with the possibility of dishonest practices in real estate transactions no one will seriously dissent from the statement that if an operator is inclined to be dishonorable, real estate will provide him with a field which will afford him wider scope for the exercise of unscrupulous methods than would some other vocations which might be enumerated. It is also quite credible that some localities are so constituted geographically and topographically that they will lend themselves in certain portions thereof more readily than others to the purposes of such persons. At the same time let us not forget that the ethical quality of real estate transactions has no essential relationship with the contour of the ground in any locality but it emanates altogether from the character of those persons who are promoting the same. An honest man will be honest under all conditions and a rogue will find an opportunity to exercise his evil propensities under practically any circumstances. So far as the necessities of the case are concerned, there is no need that any real estate investor should be deceived, at any rate with respect to North Vancouver realty, inasmuch as he has only to exercise reasonable caution to assure himself that he is dealing with one of the many reputable firms, or perhaps better, to buy nothing without first inspecting it on the ground. If the purchaser proves lacking in ordinary business sense, he himself cannot be held free from culpability, should he make an unprofitable investment.

For many reasons it is a most regrettable feature of the incipient agitation which has developed that certain animadversions should have been directed toward the council of the district of North Vancouver. It is impossible for anyone acquainted with that body to conceive how such an untoward circumstance could have transpired, other than out of ignorance of the powers vested in that council with respect to plans of subdivision as well as ignorance of the exceeding caution invariably exercised by the council in considering all such propositions together with their unfailing watchfulness for the protection of the public. The personnel of the council is such that any attempt to defend that body from such absurd insinuations would be not only superfluous, but altogether presumptuous. Mutual friends of all parties will confidently anticipate that the amende honorable will be promptly forthcoming from the source from which emanated the unworthy insinuation and in the same public manner in which the unjustifiable utterances were made.

MUNICIPAL VOTERS

The desirability for the exercide of every reasonable precaution to guard against too great readiness upon the part of public bodies to recommend amendments to existing statutory enactments has been strongly emphasized by the withdrawal during the recent sessions of the provincial house of a proposed amendment to the Elections Act. The amendment, it is understood, was recommended by the executive of the Union of B. C. Municipalities, and provided that only registered owners of property to the value of one hundred dollars should be qualified to vote at municipal elections. The announcement of the proposed alteration called forth prompt and strong protest from some municipal councils, chiefly that of the District of North Vancouver. Had this amendment become law, it would have effected a radical change in the composition of many municipal voters' lists, inasmuch, as it has been the practice to insert in the lists, the names of all those who produced agreements of sale or satisfactory evidence other than a certificate of registration, in order to establish the fact that they were bona fide owners of property interests to the required amount.

From a technical viewpoint, the recommendation of the executive of the U.B.C.M., was presumably correct, and the amendment doubtless was not devoid of commendable features in other respects, but these considerations could not be held to outweigh the manifest disadvantages which would accrue from its enactment into law.

The disfranchisement as for municipal affairs, of that vast body of intelligent voters whose money has been invested in good faith, but whose title for the time being, is in the form of an agreement of sale or some instrument other than that particular form of conveyance that would be accepted for registration was of itself a contingency sufficiently formidable to render the proposed amenhment a piece of legislation of doubtful expediency. Followed to its logical conclusion, such an enactment would have deprived every citizen of the ballot, excepting those who held a deed of the property without any encumbrance, for the reason that even where property is held under deed and mortgage, the mortgagor's rights consist only of an equity of redemption, the situation being similar in this respect to that under an agreement of sale.

In a district such as North Vancouver the effect upon the voters' list would have been little short of startling, for the reason that hundreds of electors have qualified upon pieces of property which were portions of large estates subdivided, and as these purchases have been practically all made upon the deferred payment plan, under agreement of sale, the right to the franchise under the amendment would have been available to only the original owners of these large tracts who held the deeds for the same. The result would have been that a dozen men or thereabouts would have exercised the ballot as representing property really owned by hundreds of citizens.

Under the peculiar conditions existing in British Columbia at the present time relative to titles to realty, it is certainly a triumph of democratic principles that the municipal franchise should be made to adapt itself to those conditions and that the right to the ballot should be extended to every man who establishes a bona fide right of ownership in property, to the amount required by the statutes.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

Mr. Dan. Amscold, the popular city's foreman, is receiving the congratulations of his friends on the occasion of the arrival at his home last week of a small boy visitor. Mrs. Amscold and the baby are reported to be progressing very favorably.

Miss Bertha Sale, who has for the past two weeks been on a holiday trip to Victoria, returned last Sunday looking much stronger and feeling considerably better after the vacation. Miss Sale has resumed her duties in her brother's stationary store.

Mr. W. A. Gibson of Third street returned the first of this week from a two weeks' trip to Vernon and through the Okanagan Valley, where he was in quest of a car load of first-class saddle horses for the local trade. He was unsuccessful, however, as he found that the cost of horse flesh in that country was even more expensive than at the coast.

Mr. Jas. Ross, late of San Francisco, who has recently accepted a position on the staff of the B. C. Telephone Company of Vancouver, was in the city last Sunday and spent the day as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Williams, Lonsdale Ave. Mr. Ross' friendship with Mr. and Mrs. Williams dates back many years ago when they were residents of the same town in the east. Reminiscences of school days were also renewed with W. C. Green of North Vancouver.

Invitations are out for the Odd Dress Dance to be held under the auspices of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society of this city in the Horticultural Hall on the evening of Friday April the 1st—April-Fool Day. "Come in odd dress, evening or fancy dress" the invitation requests. A lengthy program of 24 dances will be provided and a thoroughly good time is promised to all who avail themselves of the pleasures which the society offers on that evening.

CITY COUNCIL

ceed to clear up some of the street at once while the fine weather was on and that it should not be delayed until the estimates were brought down. The motion was carried unanimously.

Alderman Irwin moved that in connection with the dangerous state of a bridge on Larson Road where a large amount of travel passed over, that the matter be taken in hand by the board of works. —Carried.

Aldermen Schultz, Smith and Irwin were appointed a special committee to draft a memorial to the Dominion Government asking that some action be taken in reference to dealing with Indian reserves. Alderman Schultz was the mover of the resolution and spoke of the general movement amongst municipalities throughout the Dominion toward some solution of this ever increasing and pressing difficulty.

The question was asked as to the city's intention with regard to remedying the evil of septic tanks on Third street flowing into the street. This was the initiative for a general discussion on the septic tank system in the city. It was generally admitted that the only remedy was a sewer system, but until the debentures for that purpose had been realized on it was considered advisable to do what temporary repairs that were especially urgent. It was referred to the health committee with power to evoke the aid of the city health officer.

Inquiry was made in regard to the city having power to regulate the style of chimneys to be used in the city.

The questioner stated that a tin chimney had been put on a house near his residence on Chesterfield Ave. and there appeared to be no protection provided between the tin and the wood.

It was referred to the fire chief to report any disorder to the chief of police. Alderman Schultz emphasized the fact that it was high time that the city start the issuance of building permits.

The clerk was instructed to proclaim a half holiday on Saturday, March 19th, Arbor Day, A committee composed of the board of works and the engineer was appointed to outline a program for the day's events.

The council then went into committee of the whole.

RATEPAYERS' ASSOCIATION

An informal meeting of the executive of North Vancouver Ratepayers' Association was held in the city hall last evening when a number of subjects of civic importance was discussed with a view to recommending them to the next meeting of the Association for approval.

Principle among these was a resolution to the effect that the name of North Vancouver for shis city is misleading, cumbersome and undesirable, and should be changed at the earliestp ossible moment and that the ratepayers association request the city council to take steps to obtain that object.

The opinions expressed at the meeting were almost unanimous in favor of the name "Lonsdale."

Another resolution passed was that whereas the city solicitorship is now vacant, and the association considers it advisable that a local resident lawyer should be appointed to fill the position and that it would be in the interests of the city to secure the services of Alderman Schultz in that capacity in view of his familiarity with the work of the city council.

Resolution number three was in effect that the executive suggest to the city council that the disposal of refuse and garbage might be done in an expeditious manner by means of a hopper scow to be dumped periodically into the Gulf.

The question of allowing civic officials and the members of the city council to be eligible for membership in the Ratepayers' Association was discussed and will be gone into further at the next general meeting of the Association.

METHODS OF RECORDING

Statistics as a rule are dry reading, but in some cases the facts disclosed create an interest even amongst common place things. The ordinary reader, perhaps, never gives a thought to the methods of computating those myriads of figures in the Government and other like offices. The scheme of reporting field crops and live stock in Canada as presented to the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome in December 1909, outlines the plan followed in Canada of gathering this information.

In the first place it is not practicable in a country as large as Canada, extending over half a continent to make an accurate count of its crops and live stock every year and to accomplish this in as economical manner as possible the census of the whole Dominion is taken in the first year of each decade, when every person alive at the close of a specified day is recorded by name, sex, age, birthplace, occupation and religion, and when every person who has died within the year ending with the same date is recorded in like manner.

Careful enumerations are made at the same time of the areas occupied and in crops of the product of the crops, or the numbers, kinds and products of live stock and of the values of real estate and domestic animals and of products of the land and animals. The manufactures of the country are also enumerated at the same time, together with the fisheries and the mines, to show values of products, persons employed and payments for salaries and wages. The compilation of the schedules in the Census office in 1901 required the service of 200 clerks for one year and of 50 clerks for three additional years.

Much of the success of the undertaking depends necessarily on the correspondents, nearly all of whom are practical farmers. Each month of the year has a special relation to agriculture and its varied interests, and the schedule of questions for each month is prepared at the beginning of the year to bring out the most suitable information. In the month of June, for instance, correspondents are asked to report on crop areas and number of live stock, and on the condition of crops and live stock in relation to a standard —each person reporting for his own locality as compared with the previous year on a per cent. basis. If there is 10 per cent. more of oats in crop, for example, it will be donated by 110, but if five per cent. less by 95, and if the number of milch cows is 15 per cent. more it will be donated by 115, but if 10 per cent. less it will be donated by 90; and if there be no change in area or number it will be denoted by 100. And so the entries are made according to each correspondent's observation and judgment for his own township or parish to denote the relation of area of field crops and number of live stock in the current year to the area and number last year for each kind of crop and animal.

In treating of the condition of crops and live stock correspondents are required to report in relation to a "standard," which as applied to crops means the condition for a full crop, and as applied to live stock a healthy and thrifty state. In each case 100 represents a standard condition, and any number above or below 100 a condition better than or not as good as a standard. Five classes of conditions may be reported, viz., "full" by 100 or over; "good" by any number from 75 to 99, "average" by any number from 50 to 74; "fair" by any number from 25 to 49; and "poor" by any number under 25.

Upon the information thus prepared and returned to the Census and Statistics Office from all parts of the Dominion the reports for each month are made up and are issued by telegraph as bulletins to the newspapers about the 10th of each month, to be followed a few days later along with other information by the Census and Statistics Monthly, which is a publication devoted exclusively to this service.

It is the intention of the family to return to this city in about three months.

The S. S. Prince Rupert is tied up at the Wallace Shipyard dock where she is to undergo a thorough cleaning and painting. The appearance of so large a ship at a North Vancouver wharf certainly gives the impression of activity along the waterfront and a forecast of the possibilities of this place as an industrial and shipping center.

BOARD OF TRADE

The regular meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the city hall last evening. President Irwin was in the chair and there was a large attendance of members.

A variety of topics of general importance were discussed and an address by Reeve McNaught was was listened to with great interest.

The rules of proceedure were dispensed with after the meeting was called to order for the purpose of hearing the reeve's speech on his trip east in the interests of the Burrard Inlet Tunnel and Bridge Company.

"If it had not been for the efforts of the delegation," he remarked, "the position of North Vancouver at the present moment would be in rather a precarious state." The V.W. & Y. Ry. Company's supporters had been working on their plans for an extension for months ahead of the time when the Bill was expected to be brought to the railway committee and had not the interests of the municipalities been represented at Ottawa in person the possibilities are that the Company's wishes would have been granted and North Vancouver would not have been any nearer to the bridge that it was five years ago. As the matter stands now the Burrard Inlet Tunnel and Bridge Company is on equal footing with the V.W. & Y. so far as competition for the privilege of building the bridge is concerned. The matter of difference lie in the fact that on the one hand the Company have until August of this year to commence construction in order to retain the bonus and even this is questioned from the fact that the Minister of Railways stated emphatically that there shall be only one bridge and that should be a joint railway and traffic bridge. On the other hand the municipalities have been granted bonding powers which the Company made a supreme effort to obtain but were refused.

The Reeve declared that he believed that when the municipalities were in actual possession of the charter that it was the intention to proceed at once toward its successful completion. "We have not got the bridge yet, gentlemen," continued the speaker, "for there are many difficulties to be surmounted before it is an actuality, but we are now placed in a position where it is possible with energy and enterprise to accomplish that end in the not distant future." The matter of financing was the great problem to which he referred. It would seem in these good times that money for a public good such as the bridge would be, could be easily obtained, but he said it was surprising how "tight" money became when the matter of subscribing to the stock of the bridge company was mentioned.

Mr. McNaught was of the opinion that the construction of a joint vehicular and traffic bridge across the Second Narrows would cost close on to a million dollars. He noted that the municipalities could now subscribe to stock in the Bridge and Tunnel Company and expressed the opinion that he would not be surprised to see the tunnel in operation before traffic was crossing the Second Narrows bridge.

Speaking on the transportation facilities on the north shore he dwelt briefly on the qualification of this side of the harbor and the excellent advantages afforded to shipping and industries.

He stated that there were three trans-continental railroads heading for the coast and he was confident that part of their terminals would be on the north shore for the reason that from observations which he had made in the east in large railway centres there was not the requisite areas to be found in the vicinity of Burrard Inlet other than in North Vancouver. In conclusion he remarked he expected to see Burrard Inlet one of the greatest harbors on the North American continent in a very few years.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the reeve for his excellent address and the success of the expedition to Ottawa was most favorably commented upon from the fact of its almost tremendous importance to North Vancouver.

The regular course of business was then pursued and a number of matters of correspondence were read and disposed of through their proper channels.

Following a report from Mr. Perry, chairman of the Settlers and Tourists Committee on the large number of visitors and tourists that already commenced to travel to North Vancouver, a general discussion arose on the question of the shortage of houses in this city at the present time. Inquiries for houses to rent were becoming more frequent every day but the supply was exhausted and it was becoming a serious matter and one which needed very careful consideration. It was noted that the opportunities for a loan company to open up on this side were never brighter. The house building contractor was also offered very bright prospects in his line of trade.

The president remarked that he thought the owners of property here should seriously consider building on their holdings as the revenue from a house was sometimes as high as twenty per cent. The investments in the land would necessarily be taken care of by the increase of property which was advancing at a rapid rate.

Speaking for the Public Improvement Committee Alderman Schultz advocated the securing of additional sites for park purposes, planting of trees in all public places and the establishing of attractive boulevards through the city. On a recent trip to Seattle he had noted the advancement that was being made in that city in this line and the great improvement it made to the city's appearance.

J. F. O. C. Wood introduced the question of acquiring some suitable site in or near to the city of North Vancouver for the purposes of a bathing beach.

He spoke at some length on the necessity of such a resort to the city and being as this place is so advantageously situated on the water it was one of the essentials to a tourists' resort which North Vancouver has rightfully inherited.

Alderman Schultz spoke to the question of transportation facilities across the inlet. He said there was a feeling that the fare should be reduced especially to monthly ticket holders. He was of the opinion that the district council might be approached with some proposition in this regard. It was referred to the executive to deal with.

A communication was received from the publishers of Westward Ho inviting the Board of Trade to contribute an article to their magazine and if there were any local views obtainable they would be pleased to have cuts made of same and run them along with the article. It was referred to the chairman of the publicity committee, Mr. A. Philip and Alderman Schultz to get up an article for publication in this magazine.

Messrs. J. J. McDonald and W. O. Boult were new names admitted to the membership roll.

CITY COUNCIL IN COMMITTEE

The city council late Mond evening in the committee of the whole took up the several matters laid over from the open meeting.

In dealing with the City Engineer's opinion that the council had very little power in the acceptance of plans of subdivisions, it was declared that the provisions of section 249 and 250 of the Municipal Clauses Act should be adhered to hereafter by the city council.

Section 249 of the Municipal Clauses Act of 1906 provides the following regarding surveys and plans of city lots: "All future surveys into building lots of property within a city which is contiguous to the boundaries of a city, by owners and others shall be subject to the approval of the City Engineer and the Mayor when the city has a city engineer, or to the approval of the mayor when the city has not a city engineer and no plan of survey shall be registered unless it bears a certificate of such approval, but such approval shall not be unreasonably withheld."

In regard to the subdivision of city lots section 250 of the Municipal Clauses Act reads: "The City Engineer, where the city has such an official, or the Mayor, where the city has not a city engineer, may sanction the subdivision of any property already subdivided into building lots, and every plan of subdivision of such lots shall be certified by the city engineer or by the Mayor, when the city has not a city engineer, as having been approved before the registration thereof."

In this case all future plans of subdivisions will have to be first submitted to the city engineer for his approval and signature and also bearing the mayor's signature before they can be passed upon by the council. It would seem, according to the foregoing clauses and in accord with City Engineer Hanes' opinion that the council had, practically no jurisdiction in the matter but in the amendment to the Registry Act of 1905—two years later—it provides for the council approving of plans of subdivisions and in case any dispute arises between the owner and the municipal council the former may have recource to the Surveyor-General and the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, which shall be sufficient for the registrar.

In regard to the park on the Queensbury Ave. boulevard, donated to the city by Messrs. Mahon, McFarland & Procter, the board of works were empowered to take all steps necessary to complete the conditions contained in the agreement with reference to Haywood Park.

It was resolved to call for applications for waterworks foreman to be in by March 28th, salary to be $125 per month.

The recommendation of the board of works that the salary of D. Amscold, city foreman, was adopted. His salary will now be $100 from the 1st of March to the 31st of October and at the rate of $80 per month for the ramaining months of the year.

A resolution was passed that the foremen of the different departments in the city hereafter will be under the supervision of the engineer's department and that the city engineer will be empowered to discharge or employ men, the employment to be ratified by the council.

ST. ANDREW'S AND CALEDONIAN SOCIETY

At a meeting of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society, which was held in their rooms recently, a resolution was passed to proceed with the purchase of the three lots on Sixth street near Chesterfield Ave. for which negotiations have already been entered into.

It was further resolved to incorporate the Society under the Industrial Committees Act and to form a joint stock company for the purpose of selling the stock in the proposed St. Andrew's hall which the society intend to erect on their new purchase on Sixth street.

At the next meeting of the society which will be held on the second Tuesday in April the ladies will be invited and arrangements will be entered into for the formation of a ladies' auxiliary of St. Andrew's society. A musical program will also be provided by local talent.

A number of new members were enrolled that evening.

The president, Mr. A. Philip, was in the chair and there was a good attendance of members present.

SEASON OPENS.

Last Saturday and Sunday was virtually the opening of the summer season in North Vancouver. Excellent weather with the balmy temperature found only on the southern slope of the north shore of Burrard Inlet afforded the pleasure seeker the height of out-of-door enjoyment. The crowds started coming over on the ferries in the early morning and continued up to nearly noon when there was a little lull until they began returning about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when the local car service was taxed to its utmost capacity. Most of the visitors brought their lunch with them and spent the day in one of the numerous beauty spots of nature in North Vancouver. Capilano, Lynn and Seymour each had their share of picnic parties and to such a degree that look where one might the incessant travel of pedestrians and rigs was everywhere to be seen. The B. C. Electric Ry. Co. carried close on to 4,000 passengers on their North Vancouver lines on Sunday and this has been equalled on one occasion—the time of the Sunday baseball when the record was made and has never since been broken.

The Lynn Valley line held the lead for the number of passengers carried, it having doubled the Lonsdale Ave. line and half as many again as the Capilano line. An unofficial report from the North Vancouver ferry office is to the effect that last Sunday was the record since the system was taken over by the city and, in fact, better than any Sunday last year with the exception always of the baseball Sunday.

Proclamation

All citizens are hereby required to take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

By order of the Council.

City Clerk.

N. V. YACHT CLUB

The adjourned meeting of the North Vancouver Yacht Club was held in the Eagles' Hall last evening when a good attendance of the members was present to participate in the election of officers for the ensuing year. The interest shown was highly satisfactory and every member felt that this year's board of management was well chosen and excellent results are expected from the organization during the year 1910.

The officers elected were: Commodore, F. W. Robertson; Vice-Commodore, J. J. Woods; Rear-Commodore, R. Evans; Captain, J. N. J. Brown; Vice-Captain, S. Wright; Secretary, J. B. Payne; Treasurer, Henry Woods; Executive, W. W. Gilmour, J. W. Donaldson, G. Smith, J. A. McMillan and J. B. Brown. The honorary members elected were: Hon. F. Carter-Cotton, J. C. Keith, J. R. Leckie, W. J. Irwin, E. B. Deane and A. B. Diplock.

The annual report of the secretary was read and showed that the club was in good financial standing. The constitution and bylaws were brought up and discussed fully and were laid over for further discussion at a meeting to be held a fortnight hence when they will be finally adopted.

The secretary announced that applications for membership were now being received and the application forms could be obtained from any of the officers.

The club's membership books will be made up about the middle of next month when they will be ready for disposal to any interested in the Yachting Club.

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Nye returned last Saturday from a seven months' visit to the old country. Both Mr. and Mrs. Nye express great satisfaction in getting back to North Vancouver although they had the best of times while touring the British Isles and the continent. They appear to have benefitted greatly by their trip as from outward appearances they excel in avoirdupois.
