LIBERAL RALLY.

The first shot of the campaign was fired last night at the liberal rally in Larson's pavilion. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather there was a good turnout of voters, and the proceedings were orderly throughout. Chairman Phillippo called the meeting to order, and in a neat speech introduced the liberal candidate, J. W. Weart. On the platform besides were Robt. McBride, independent Conservative candidate, and Alex. Smith.

Mr. Weart was received with applause. He said that he felt little diffidence at his first public appearance to seek the suffrages of the people. In the past he had stumped the riding in the interests of Mr. Kidd, and also of Mr. J. C. Brown. As long as he had followed law for a livelihood he would not go into politics, because his business would prevent him doing so. He had always kept this resolve up, and, till two days before the nomination, he had no intention of going into the political arena, and only accepted the nomination because he did not think that he would get it. Asked if he would be a staunch follower of the liberal party, he replied that he would be staunch to Mr. Macdonald. Mr. Weart then paid a glowing tribute to Mr. Macdonald and his sterling worth in the house as leader of his party, especially his good work in the notorious Kaien island investigation. "In supporting Mr. Macdonald I will not be bound to any machine rule," added Mr. Weart, "and on this pledge I'm going to be returned to the house for this riding." (Loud applause.) The lands and works department was sadly neglected. The provincial business should be conducted on business lines. (Hear, hear.) In 1903, a certain six mineral claims were applied for by him for his clients. Hon. Mr. Green suggested that all interested meet and settle the dispute as they had been given to others. On investigation it was found that a company, consisting of J. C. Carroll, C. Gardiner-Johnson, Geo. de Wolf, C. F. Law and Robt. G. Tatlow, had received a grant to these coal lands, which had been given unlawfully by the department. (Shame.) He held that all vacant crown lands should be open to all, and the priority rights of everyone should be protected by the government. But in this regard Mr. Green resolved to let the matter be fought out in the county court. There were numerous other such dealings. In 1896 the Columbia and Western Company was incorporated to build six sections of railway—which were subsidized with 10,240 acres for narrow guage and 20,000 acres for standard guage. The whole road was to have been completed in five years, and no land was to be given after seven years. In 1898 the company asked the government for cash instead of land. In 1899 a further attempt was made by the C. P. R. to get it. In 1901 an act was passed giving the company three years extension of time to complete the road. In 1902 the C. P. R. succeeded in getting two valuable coal land grants. The investigation, forced by Messrs. Kidd and Oliver, brought out in evidence that Premier Turner and Hon. Mr. McBride gave to the C. P. R. these grants. In 1906 the government came forward with the balance of the grant of 800,000 acres. (Applause.)

If I am elected my time will be devoted to the interests of the province, especially my district. In this regard attention must be given to better railway facilities. A bridge should be built across the Second narrows, and the right of the municipality to get her just dues from the crown established. (Applause.)

Mr. Joseph Martin, being the accredited solicitor for the V., W. & Y. Railway Company, and a member of the firm of Martin, Weart & McQuarrie, Mr. Weart said that it would be a breach of trust for him now to go into the plans of that company. But he had no hesitancy in saying that North Vancouver need not worry about the course he would pursue in the matter of additional railways. Anyone could see the proposed plans of this company and the lands covered by them by going to the registry office. (Applause.)

All representatives seeking an election for public office in North Vancouver should be pledged to support the building of a free traffic bridge, operated by the government, without the people paying tolls. (Applause.)

The manifesto issued by supporters of Hon. Carter-Cotton was taken up and criticised. "The right of the municipality to tax railways within its boundaries," should be given to every municipality, said Mr. Weart. The C. P. R. controlled the entire waterfront of Vancouver, and why should these monopolies be encouraged and given further privileges at the public expense. (Applause.) Why had not Mr. Cotton supported the V., W. & Y. in its proposed undertaking? The Vancouver Province, a liberal newspaper, has come out flat-footed for the McBride government, why?

A voice—C. P. R. (Applause.)

Another evidence of the laxity of the business methods of the lands and works department was the fact of the grant—or supposed grant—of $5,000 to the municipality for taxes and interest on the crown lands recently sold by the government. The clerk told the speaker the amount should have been $10,000. (Applause.) Has the Hon. Mr. Cotton ever consulted with his constituents as to the requirements of the district? ("No" and applause.) North Vancouver would be able to demand redistribution. When the V., W. & Y. connected with the G. T. P. who could predict the future of this growing place? (Applause.) Regarding the question of better terms, Mr. Weart said that he would not be doing justice to his hearers or to himself by going into the question at this hour. (Applause.)

"You should not elect the sixth member for Vancouver, but have a straight representative of your own," said Mr. Weart. He (the speaker) had arranged with his partners for a dissolution of partnership, which would take him about three or four months to wind up his business. (Applause.)

Robt. McBride, independent conservative, was well received. He said that he never would have come forward if the municipalities could get justice. Lawyers and newspaper men were not the ones to look after the people's interests. Parties were all right if they kept their promises. (Applause.) The question of cheap money and cheap telephones was taken up by Mr. McBride. He thought that neither Mr. Cotton nor Mr. Weart had any show. (Applause.)

Mr. Duval spoke briefly on better terms.

Alex. Philip spoke at some length, and charged the conservative party with being accessories with the socialists in pulling down the flag of our country and hoisting the red flag of revolution.

A voice—"Rot, rot!"

Mr. Philip—I say just so long as the conservatives associate with the socialists they deserve the condemnation of every loyal citizen. (Applause.) He moved that "the action of the convention in nominating Mr. Weart be confirmed, and that we pledge our hearty support in his election." Carried.

W. J. Irwin moved, seconded by Councillor Morden, that a vote of confidence in the leader, J. A. Macdonald, be passed. Carried.

The meeting then adjourned.

BECAUSE

He has carefully guarded the general interests of the district.

He has secured for it appropriations three times as large as had previously been granted, $30,000.

He is a member of the Government and can do more than would be possible for an outsider, much less an opposition member.

He is pledged to do his best to carry out for North Vancouver two matters of great importance:

One is to give the civil municipality, about to be incorporated the right to tax railways within its boundaries.

The other is to assure the certainty of the municipality being able to collect the taxes on the lands sold by the Government recently, but for which the title is still in the crown.

He has recently obtained for the municipality a grant of $5,000 as a compensation for the taxes it had lost through failure of purchasers to complete their agreement with the government.

He has stood up for the rights of the rural municipalities against the exorbitant attempt of the City of Vancouver to get control of the water in Seymour Creek, and has taken steps to preserve the watershed for North Vancouver.

The Government is sure to be re-elected, and it is to your interests to be represented by a Cabinet Minister.

He is a man of deeds, not words.

Dr. Chases' Kidney-Liver Pills have a direct and specific action on the liver. FASHIONS OF THE PAST

Strange Modes that Prevailed in the Time of Chaucer.

Compared with the gay apparel worn by the dandies of the past ages the youths of our time in the gayest of gay raiment make but a poor show.

The Bishop of Ely in the fourteenth century had a change of raiment for every day in the year. The Earl of Northumberland boasted of no less than 60 cloth-of-gold suits at this time. Much later, in Queen Mary's time, the wardrobe of a bishop must have been the envy of Solomon for the variety and costliness of its contents, and even a simple village priest wore "a vestment of crimson satin, a vestment of crimson velvet, a stole and fanon set with pearls, gown spaced with taffetas," etc.

In the time of Chaucer the men wore clothes as many-colored as Joseph's coat, so that, says the American Tailor and Cutter, while one leg would be a blaze of crimson, the other would be tricked out in green, blue or yellow, without any regard for harmony or contrast. Even as late as the middle of the eighteenth century a dandy would dress himself in a vivid green coat, a waistcoat of scarlet, yellow breeches and blue stockings.

And the gentlemen of a few years later wore, among other vagaries, a coat of light green, with sleeves too small for the arms, and buttons too big for the sleeves; a pair of fine Manchester breeches without money in their pockets, clocked silk stockings, a club of hair behind larger than the head which bore it, a hat not larger than a sixpence on a block not worth a farthing.

Another quaint chronicler of one fashionable epoch of our ancestors tells us "they would wear clothes so tight to ye skin that it might well be conceived that they wore no clothes at all," and at another time they would wear them "so voluminous that a single suit might well have afforded raiment for a whole familie, and so stuffed out with feathers that of a verity their wearers resembled nothing so much as walking sacks."

A la' which had great vogue was to combine on one person the dress of all the countries of Europe. At another time shoes with square toes were the rage, and a royal proclamation was issued limiting the width to six inches. These were succeeded by shoes with the finest of points. In the time of Henry II. shoes with points two feet long were worn by the fashionables, and in the reign of Henry II. these points had grown to such a length that in order to be able to walk at all it was necessary to attach the tips to the knees by chains, which were of gold or silver. The tops of the shoes were carved with all kinds of curious designs or patterns.

It was a common thing in the early part of the eighteenth century for a man of fashion to spend several hours daily in the hands of his valet. Among the many operations which took up time was "the starching of the beard and the proper perfuming of the garments, the painting of the face and anointing with oils, tinctures, essences and pomatums." It is even said that some of the dandies of that day bathed in milk and wine "for the rejuvenation of their complexions and of their energies."

Mexican girls are sometimes curiously wooed. Their lovers walk up and down on the opposite side of the street for hours, staring at their windows. If the young lady is agreeable, she appears at the window after a few days and they soon become acquainted.

THE ROAD TO HEALTH.

Lies Through the Rich, Red Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make.

Common pills purge the bowels. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new, rich blood. Purging pills gallop through the bowels—tearing the tissues, irritating the organs and weakening the whole system. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do not purge at all. They're tonic pills, soothing pills, strengthening pills, blood-building pills. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood. That is why they are the only scientific cure for all blood diseases. That is why they cure headaches and backaches, kidney troubles, indigestion, neuralgia, rheumatism, heart troubles, and the special ailments of growing girls and mature women. Purging pills act only on the symptoms of disease; Dr. Williams' Pink Pills go straight to the root of the trouble in the blood and cure. Mr. John Burke, Elmdale, P.E.I., says: "I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the best medicine in the world. I had an attack of pneumonia which was followed by extreme nervousness and rheumatism. I tried some of our best doctors but got nothing to help me until I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking the pills some weeks I could actually feel the new blood they were making coursing my veins and in the course of a few weeks more I was completely restored to health." Remember that it is only Dr. Williams Pink Pills that can make this new, rich, health-giving blood. Imitations and the so-called "just as good" medicines never cured anyone. Insist on the genuine with the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," on the wrapper on each box. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Canadian Folk Song.

The doors are shut, the windows fast,
Outside the gust is driving past,
Outside the shivering ivy clings,
While on the hob the kettle sings—
Margery, Margery, make the tea,
Singeth the kettle merrily.

The streams are hushed up where they flowed,
The ponds are frozen along the road,
The cattle are housed in shed and byre,
While singeth the kettle on the fire—
Margery, Margery, make the tea,
Singeth the kettle merrily.

The fisherman on the bay in his boat
Shivers and buttons up his coat;
The traveler stops at the tavern door,
And the kettle answers the chimney's roar,
Margery, Margery, make the tea,
Singeth the kettle merrily.

The firelight dances upon the wall,
Footsteps are heard in the outer hall,
And a kiss and a welcome that fills the room,
And the kettle sings in the glimmer and gloom—
Margery, Margery, make the tea,
Singeth the kettle merrily.

The Plain Truth.

One of the most notable banquets is unique. Though it is one of the most expensive dinners that the Waldorf Astoria serves, and though it is attended by some of the most eminent professional men and some of the wealthiest financiers in the country, no wines are served, no cigars are smoked, and the only bottles found on the tables are those containing the pure and sparkling Apollinaris. Furthermore the diners all sit down promptly at 6.15 p.m., and the banquet is adjourned at 10 o'clock. It is one of the happiest, freest, jolliest banquets served in the city of new York, and it celebrates the work of an institution universally admired and respected. We refer to the banquet of the Y.M.C.A. At the twenty-fourth annual dinner, marking the thirty-ninth anniversary of the international committee of the association recently, the guests included Governor Utter of Rhode Island, Lieutenant-Governor Bruce of New York, General F. D. Grant, Rear-Admiral Coghlan, President Schenk of the Mercantile National Bank of New York City, Vice-President Cannon of the Fourth National Bank, James Stokes, Morris K. Jesup, a number of college presidents and clergymen, and many gentlemen noted in the field of politics and in literary and artistic circles.

Heart-Sick People.—Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart is a herat tonic that never fails to cure—is swift in its effects—goes closer to the "border land" and snatches from death's grip more sufferers that any other remedy for any family of diseases and ailments in the category of human sufferings. Gives relief in 30 minutes.—75

It is a Liver Pill.—Many of the ailments that man has to contend with have their origin in a disordered liver which is a delicate organ, peculiarly susceptible to the disturbances that come from irregular habits or lack of care in eating and drinking. This accounts for the great many liver regulators now pressed on the attention of sufferers. Of these there are none superior to Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. Their operation though gentle is effective, and the most delicate can use them.

A Gallery of Forgeries.

Paris possesses a very fine gallery of modern masters, largely of the Barbizon school, not one of which is genuine. It is to the painter Hardignies that France is indebted for this queer collection of the spurious. Passing through the Rue de Vaugirard one day, his eye caught some canvases in a window. They were all signed by prominent names—including his own—and every signature was forged. Passing inside, the list became more extensive, and the painter found himself in the presence of false Corots, Diazs, Daubigays, Lancrets, Isabeys, Neuvilles, and even English Turners. The revelation of his own identity enabled Harpignies to become possessed of this collection for something less than the proverbial old song, and it may now be inspected by those interested in such matters at the State furniture depot, where it is preserved as a kind of high-water mark in sophistication.

The Gun Queen's Income.

The yearly income of "Queen" Bertha Krupp, who inherited the famous ironworks at Essen, Germany, is steadily increasing, it having amounted in 1905, to about £1,000,000. Miss Krupp, manages her great properties with remarkable ability. Her business is expanding, and the number of those dependent on her for employment and subsistence is now fully 300,000. To protect the works she has a small army of 900 men, armed and under strict military discipline. She also has police and a secret service.

THE HORNBILL.

A Bird That Imprisons His Mate During the Brooding Season.

A remarkable mode of incarceration is practiced by the hornbills, birds with immense bills and horny crests, which inhabit southern Asia, the Malayan islands and central and southern Africa. In most if not all species the brooding female is walled up in a hollow tree and fed by her mate.

She remains confined in her prison until the eggs are hatched, and in some species until the young birds are able to fly. Meanwhile the mother has become temporarily incapable of flight, as she has molted, or at least shed all her wing feathers, during her captivity. But the male is indefatigable in providing for his family and is said to work so hard that he is reduced almost to a skeleton at the end of the brooding season.

According to the theory of many natives, the female is imprisoned to prevent her neglecting her duty of brooding, and if she has been unfaithful or negligent her mate closes the little window of her cell and abandons her to a painful death by suffocation. The true story, perhaps, is this: The female walls herself in so that she cannot fall from the nest after losing her feathers and also to protect herself from enemies. The building material is her own excrement. This version is less poetical than the other, but it is probably nearer the truth. It is supported by the statement that the female liberates herself as soon as the young birds are well grown, so that her prison is less formidable than it appears.—Scientific American.

THE cost of living is an important thing in most homes. You may have to figure closely in these matters. A little extra on a barrel of flour may look big to you.

But there is a difference between spending money wisely and spending it foolishly.

M. E. NICHOLS.

M. E. NICHOLS.
Editor-in Chief, Telegram, Winnipeg, Canada.

That the Canadian West is not only the country of opportunity but the country of young men, the prominent positions held by many in the Province of Manitoba, who are in the first years of the fourth decade of their lives afford ample evidence. No more striking example could be given than that of the success met with by Mr. M. E. Nichols, President of the Telegram Printing Company and Editor-in-chief of the daily paper published by that company. Mr. Nicholls is not a western man in so far as years of residence may be counted, but he is western in his trend of mind, his virility, his energy, his independence of thought and fearlessness of expression unrestrained by the fact that he is a loyal and leading exponent of the views of a great political party in Western Canada.

Mr. Nichols has only been a resident of the Canadian West for a short time but his career and work are familiar to the readers of the public press throughout the Dominion. There have been few Canadian Parliamentary correspondents who have contributed brighter or better informal articles to the papers they represented in the Press Gallery at Ottawa than Mr. Nichols during the numerous sessions of the Dominion House in which he represented the Toronto Telegram. To Mr. Nichols may be given the credit of introducing into Canadian parliamentary correspondence the bright style which in now demanded, containing not only departmental news, quasi-editorial comment and picturesque description, but also the personal note as to the parliamentary characters that had hitherto appeared in the public eye of the Dominion merely through a verbatim or curtailed report of a speech. The clever, racy communications of Mr. Nichols to the Toronto Telegram during the Parliamentary sessions at Ottawa became a feature of that paper during the years he was the Ottawa correspondent of that newspaper.

Upon Mr. Nichols becoming Editor-in-chief and the principal editorial writer on the Toronto World the same clever brightness distinguished his style that had given him his reputation as a special correspondent. In close touch for years with Canada's greatest Parliamentarians and public men on the vantage ground of special correspondence at the Dominion capital, compelled in the course of his calling to follow the progress of measures of the greatest moment in their passage and in the debates of parliament, Mr. Nichols obtained a political and personal knowledge of public affairs that has served him well as an editorial writer.

Mr. Nichols' ability was recognized by that astute Parliamentarian and newspaper man Mr. W. F. Maclean, M.P., President of the World Publishing Company, and a few years ago he was tendered the position of managing editor of "The Toronto World." His success in that position as editor of the leading Independent Conservative daily in the publishing centre of Canada is a feature of Canadian journalism and attracted the attention of the leading Conservatives of Manitoba and the shareholders of the Winnipeg Telegram.

Mr. Nichols shrewdly saw the opportunities offered a young man as managing editor of a great Conservative organ in Western Canada and the desirability of financial investment in such an enterprise and he became Editor-in-chief of the Telegram and President of the Telegram Printing Company. In the few months that he has had editorial charge the evidence of his personality and his newspaper acumen has become apparent and the Telegram is considered one of the brightest as well as one of the best informed daily papers published in the Dominion.

Mr. Nichols is a young man to hold such a responsible and important position in Canadian journalism, probably the youngest man in Canada in a similarly important position but if this is the age of the young man Western Canada is peculiarly his country.

He was born in Halton County in the Province of Ontario on February 11, 1873, his father being a native of the state of New York who came to Canada in 1825 and settled first in the Niagara District and afterwards in the Township of Trafalgar in Halton County, where he died in 1898.

Mr. Nichols' mother was a native of Tyrone County, Ireland. Educated at the Public and High School of his native county he for two years taught school in the County of Grey-a training considered by many as invaluable to those who subsequently assume managerial authority in the business world.

In 1895 Mr. Nichols began his journalistic life as a reporter on the Toronto Telegram. During the Dominion Parliamentary session of 1897 he went to Ottawa as sessional correspondent of the Telegram and continued to represent that paper until January 1903 when he became Editor of the Toronto World. This position he occupied until October 1905 when he resigned to accept the management of the Winnipeg Telegram.

Mr. Nichols has the advantage of being an all-round newspaper man, having occupied every position on a daily paper from junior reporter to managing editor. During his newspaper career he has had several important assignments of national and international interest among which was the meeting of the Anglo-American Commission which convened first at Quebec and later at Washington.

An Anglican in religion he married in March, 1905, Miss Dora Wood, daughter of Senator Wood, of Sackville, New Brunswick.

In politics Mr. Nichols is a conservative and a member of the Albany Club, Toronto. He is also a member of the Masonic Order, Ionic Lodge, A.F. & A.M., Toronto.

The Great French Mining Disaster.

Appalled by one of the most disastrous coal mine tragedies in the history of the world, France has forgotten that a Government has resigned or that the nation's peace has been in the balance. In the presence of the awful visitation the French people are plunged in sorrow. Down in the coal pits are the bodies of eleven hundred men, while among the twenty-five thousand people who crowd about the pits are hundreds of women and children whose breadwinners they were, and to whom the tragedy comes home with stunning force.

The scene of the catastrophe is in the mountainous region near Lens, in the Department of Pas-de-Calais. Here are huddled the hamlets of the mine-workers. The subterranean chambers form a series of tunnels. Six of the outlets are near Lens, and others are at Courrieres, Verdun, and many other points. About 2,000 miners work the group of mines, and with their families, make a population of from 6,000 to 8,000 people. The explosion of after-damp, which has had such terrible results, took place just after the men had entered the mines.

It is estimated that there are at present 75,000 political prisoners in Russian jails.

They Seldom Smile.

London.—A special to the New York Sun says:—Andrew Carnegie has written to a newspaper here declaring that the advantages of wealth are trifling. He says:—

"Beyond a competence for old age, which need not be great, and may be very small, wealth lessens rather than increases human happiness. Millionaires who laugh are rare."

Snuff and Savagery.

The habit of snuff-taking has been confirmed among savage tribes for ages past. In South Africa it is used among Swazis, Basutos, and Matabeles. Every Zulu to-day, even in towns carries a little square box suspended around his neck by a piece of string or gut, and the snuff spoon (for they do not indulge in the homely "pinch"), carved out of sheep's bone, often ornamented with intricate geometrical designs, and for convenience carried hanging downwards through a slit in the lobe of the ear. The Zulu regards the lobe of his ear as a useful receptacle for various articles he meets with. The umfaan, or houseboy, universally met with in Natal, has a penchant for safety pins, which have to be carefully hidden from his sharp eyes; even then, after going through the rooms, he is usually to be seen with a string of these pins suspended from each ear until they reach his shoulders.

GIVES TWO REAL GOOD REASONS

FOR BELIEVING DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURE ALL KIDNEY AILMENTS.

Cured His Backache of Twenty-Five Years' Standing and Satisfied Everyone He Recommended Them to.

Economy Point, N. S., March 19—(Special).—George S. McLaughlin, of this place, gives two splendid reasons for his belief that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the one remedy for Kidney ailments. Here are the two reasons in his own words:

"I was troubled with lame back for 25 years or more, sometimes so severe that I could not turn myself in bed. One box of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, and I have had no return of the trouble since.

"I have recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills to a number of persons who had Kidney trouble. All who have used them have been benefitted or cured."

Dodd's Kidney Pills not only relieve all Kidney Diseases, from Backache to Bright's Disease, but they absolutely cure them. But sometimes where one or two boxes relieve it takes more to make a complete cure.

Strange Cure For Lunacy.

Our forefathers were so fond of the whip that they seem to have regarded it as a cure for lunacy and even for smallpox. The accounts of a Huntingdonshire parish, under date 1691, have the entry, "Pd. in charges taking up a distracted woman, watching her and whipping her next day, 8s. 6d," and a few years later eightpence is paid for "whipping two people yt had the smallpox."

"Bang beggar" was evidently no mere fancy name for the parish beadle. He thoroughly earned the title in the days of his greatness. The name outlasted the whip and the brutal performance at the whipping post or the cart's tail. Fifty or sixty years ago "bang beggar" was still the provincial name for a beadle in several of the midland counties. A Cheshire glossary defines a "bang beggar" as "a beadle, one of whose duties it was to take up and drive away any beggars in the district and prosecute them as the law directs."—London Graphic.

Fox and Fleas.

Reynard is a knowing animal. The foxes are much tormented by fleas, but when the infliction becomes too severe they know how to get rid of the insects. They gather from the bark of trees moss, which they carry to a stream that deepens by degrees. Here they enter the water, still carrying the moss in their mouths, and, going backward, beginning from the end of their tails, they advance by slow degrees till the whole body, with the exception of the mouth, is entirely immersed. The fleas during this proceeding have rushed in rapid haste to the dry parts and finally to the moss, and the fox, when he has, according to his calculation, allowed sufficient time for all the fleas to take their departure, quietly opens his mouth. The moss floats off down the stream with its burden of fleas, and when it is out of jumping reach the fox finds its way to the bank, much relieved.

TIRED OF CULTURE.

Famous Surgeon to Study Civilization at Lowest Scale.

Chicago.—Dr. Nicholas Senn, one of the most famous surgeons in the United States, is tired of civilization, and is going back to the simple life in the wilderness of Africa.

"I want to get into the Zambesi district before it becomes too civilized," said the great surgeon. "The savages will give me a good vacation. The flora and the fauna, are the things that interest me. It will be a somewhat dangerous trip, owing to the unhealthy climate, and it looks now as if I would have to take it alone."

With the possible exception of the Andaman Islanders and Bushmen, the equatorial peoples of Africa are said to represent the lowest scale of civilization in the world. It is these races Dr. Senn will study. Anthropologists consider observation of their habits and customs to be of the highest importance before civilization shall obscure or destroy them.

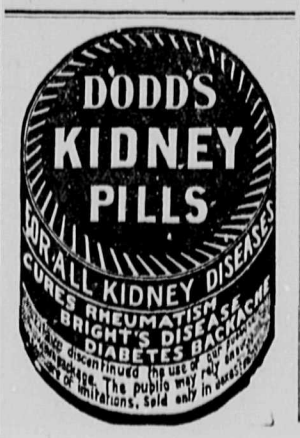
The Poisoned Spring.—As in nature so in man, pollute the spring and disease and waste are bound to follow — the stomach and nerves out of kilter means poison in the spring. South American Nervine is a great purifier, cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and tones the nerves. The best evidence of its efficacy is the unsolicited testimony of thousands of cured ones.—76

Canada's mineral production during 1905 aggregated over $68,500,000, as compared with $60,073,897 for the previous year.



Lincoln's Orderly Mind.

Lincoln's mind was orderly, though his methods were not. He neglected details because his thought, which was "as direct as flight," passed instantly to the vital spot, and all else seemed unimportant. "If I can free this case from technicalities and get it properly swung to the jury I'll win it," he used to say; and this was his mental attitude toward all legal questions. He had no training in technicalities as long as the firm of Stuart & Lincoln lasted, and it is doubtful if any teaching would have qualified him for attorney work or made him a master of detail. Yet as an office lawyer, such as rules the destinies of our modern corporate interests, he probably would have been invaluable. His mind comprehended large subjects without the slightest effort. Once concentrated on an issue he passed directly to the point, disregarded the thousand and one contingencies, all the academic pros and cons and reduced the problem to its simplest possible form.—Frederick Trevor Hill in Century.

Street Crowds In Caracas.

One of the features of the city of Caracas, Venezuela, that most strongly impresses a foreigner is the rapidity with which a crowd gathers in the streets. This is best exemplified when some of the many wandering musicians, in whom Caracas abounds, prepare to give an impromptu open air concert. Their first notes no sooner echo through the neighborhood than there gathers to listen a vast throng that almost blocks up the thoroughfare. The cobblers and all the other tenants of the entries, having no doors to open or stairs to descend, are on the spot almost instanter. They eagerly drink in the music, but at the same time bear a wary eye upon the hats of the musicians, and no sooner do they observe the slightest indication that one is about to be taken off for the purpose of taking up a collection by passing it around among the crowd than they disappear even more quickly than they came.

Tact and Policy.

A high fence should be built between the words tact and policy for the benefit of those who cannot see the bordering line.

"Oh, I have no tact!" they say with a satisfied air. "Tact and policy are things I know nothing about."

And yet the two qualities are as distinct as north and south. Tact comes from the heart, and policy from the head. Policy is inspired by selfish interests and is a treacherous quality that one might well boast the lack of. Tact springs within from an unwillingness to hurt feelings, and it is the mark of innate kindness that has no personal motive. Tact is no enemy to truth. It offers truth on a salver instead of throwing it in the face, that's all.—Philadelphia Press.

A Melancholy Career.

A young man who will some day inherit an enormous fortune and who is being brought up as a "gentleman" was interviewed the other day. Among other things he said, "If I did not have my career cut out for me, if I were to lose my fortune, I should turn to the law and study some phases of it that interest me greatly."

Probably if the young man were actually thrown on his own resources he would resort to something less entirely "elegant" and more useful. But, that aside, what is this "career" that he fancies he has "cut out" for him? To take care of his property—that is, to spend his life at an occupation similar to that of a watchman or a policeman, but far more mechanical and less exciting. What a miserable, what a melancholy conception of a career! To spend one's life at just making money is poor enough use of the one chance to live; to spend it at watching a heap of money—what dullness, what dreariness! And in a world teeming with opportunities to live intensely, vividly, interestingly, usefully!

Waterproof Shoes.

To prepare waterproofing for boots and shoes mix together in a saucepan over the fire two parts of tallow and one part of resin; warm the boots and apply the hot mixture with a painter's brush till they will not absorb any more. If well polished before applying the waterproofing, they will take the polish afterward.

Holland is, on the continent, the only country loyal to the principle of free trade.

"A Grand Medicine" is the encomium often passed on Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and when the results from its use are considered, as borne out by many persons who have employed it in stopping coughs and eradicating colds, it is more than grand. Kept in the house it is always at hand and it has no equal as a ready remedy. If you have not tried it, do so at once.

Charles Lamb and Tobacco.

Charles Lamb, according to his own confession, was "a fierce smoker of tobacco." One day when puffing vigorously the coarsest weed from a long clay pipe in company with Dr. Parr the latter asked him how he managed to acquire this "prodigious power." "By toiling after it, as some men toil after virtue," was the prompt reply. As he advanced in years, however, "Elia" was obliged to relax his intimacy with the weed, so that, to use his own words, he was "like a burnt out volcano emitting now and then only a casual puff." Eventually he took his formal leave in a "Farewell Ode to Tobacco," and in forwarding a copy of the poem to Wordsworth he writes, "I have had it in my head to do it these two years, but tobacco stood in its own light when it gave me headaches that prevented me singing its praises."

King and Kaiser Still Out?

La Matin of Paris declares that King Edward had expressed a desire to pay a visit to the kaiser next summer. The report is received in Berlin with skepticism. "No wonder," exclaims the London Chronicle, "for the kaiser has not yet returned the visit of the king at Kiel the summer before last, and it is not customary for sovereigns to run up an account of courtesy without some due return from the other side."

Animals' Play Is Exercise.

The relaxed rhythmical movements so common among animals at play, the gamboling of lambs, the play of kittens and many similar animal activities, are imitated by man in the primitive dances which form so large a part in the social and religious life of all aboriginal peoples. These motions of leaping, swinging, swaying and twisting of the body have, all of them, a most intimate and powerful influence upon the body's activities, organic and muscular. Rolling is a form of exercise which is a favorite with many animals and is especially practiced for the purpose of relieving fatigue. Rolling is peculiarly enjoyable and grateful to the animal because it provides not only relief for the tensed muscles, the depleted organs and the slow moving circulation, but because as the animal rolls the firm pressure of the ground upon his body constitutes a most effective and agreeable massage.

Cotton Still King.

It is not difficult to understand why reports from the south indicate that the people of that section of the United States are prosperous and contented. During the last six years the total value of the cotton crop, including seed, has been $3,600,000,000 against $2,130,000,000 for the six years preceding. An enormous increase like this indicates the source of southern prosperity and substantially braces up the claim that in that section of the Union cotton is still king.—San Francisco Chronicle.

ARTHUR G. SMITH

Barrister, Solicitor, Notary, Etc.

THOMPSON BLOCK, NORTH VANCOUVER, B. C.

LOCALS.

W. J. Irwin, secretary of the Board of Trade, has consented to run as councillor for Ward IV.

Mr. Phillippo's letter, replying to "Citizen" of last issue and being crowded out this week, will appear next week.

The next regular meeting of the executive council of the board of trade takes place on Tuesday next, at the municipal hall, at 8 o'clock p. m.

Now that North Vancouver is to have a customs office, it should be in order for the residents here to have one of their number to fill the position of customs collector. In this regard we would suggest the name of W. L. Boult, who is a pioneer resident and thoroughly qualified for the billet.

Dr. A. McK. Jordan will be a candidate for councillor for Ward III.

A very enjoyable birthday party was held in honor of Henry Larson at the Hotel North Vancouver on Wednesday evening. There was a large number of young folks present from Vancouver, as well as hereabouts. There was dancing, vocal and instrumental music. After refreshments were partaken of, the jolly crowd dispersed about midnight. Master Larson leaves for Victoria to attend college next week.

Inspector Stevenson, of Victoria, is here inspecting the boats and scows now being built at Wallace's shipyard.

Furnished room for rent; near wharf. Apply at this office.

Everyone is awfully tired of some one thing.

H. L. Radenmacher, Twenty-first street, has some fine specimens of white Wyandoets, which he will exhibit at the poultry show next week at Vancouver. He receives 15 eggs from 17 pullets.

A new phonograph song is: "He Walked Right in and Turned Around and Walked Right Out Again." This is what the World man done the other day in a lawyer's office, and now offers $25 to anyone guessing the name of the barrister.

Lynn Valley Notes.

We understand that Messrs. Fromme, Allen & Cook have taken over the saw mill of the Hastings Shingle Mill Co., in Lynn Valley, and will operate the mill from the beginning of the year.

Mrs. Sugden invited the school children of Lynn Valley to a treat the last day of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Westover had a party of friends to dinner on New Year's Day. Amongst the invited guests were Mrs. E. Lauder and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carleton, of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Bradley, of North Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Sugden, and Mr. J. M. Duval, of Lynn Valley were present, what with an excellent dinner, combined with jests and repartee, all hands had a jolly time.
