VOLUME 7. NORTH VANCOUVER, B. C., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1908. NUMBER 13

RATEPAYERS

The adjourned meeting for the formation of a ratepayers' association, held on Wednesday evening, was largely attended, and a great deal of business was despatched. Percy King occupied the chair and H. W. Young was appointed secretary pro. tem.

C. F. Jackson, chairman of the committee of fifteen, submitted the report of the committee with reference to constitution and bylaws, which was considered seriatim and adopted with amendments. The name of the organization is the "City of North Vancouver Ratepayers' Association". The objects of the association are to promote the general interests of the city of North Vancouver, and particularly to aim at the adoption of such measures as will result in an economical and progressive administration, in all the departments of municipal government ; to support the mayor and council in all measures that may commend themselves to the association; especially to strengthen their hands in protecting the city from encroachments upon public rights by individuals or corporations ; to protect civic interests by zealous attention to legislative and municipal measures, with a view to remedying and preventing injurious legislation, unfair or excessive taxation, or other evils ; to arouse interest in civic elections ; to secure the election of good and able citizens, to the offices of mayor and aldermen ; and for such other purposes as may appear desirable.

The membership clause reads: "All ratepayers and municipal voters, resident or non-resident, of the city of North Vancouver, shall be eligible for membership in this association, but the mayor and aldermen and city officials shall not be eligible for membership." The fee for membership is fixed at one dollar per year.

The following ratepayers paid the fee and were duly enrolled as members: W. Morden, A. W. Sargent, H.W.Young, J. F.Wood, H. Hutchinson, F. W. Fowler, B. Rochussen; W. McNeish, H. M. Burns, E. J. Peck, J. Loutet, A. Philip, W. Loutet, B. H. Balderstone, C. F, Jackson, D. Donovan, E. Ericsen, C. R. Hickman, D. Laing, A. T. Kennedy, P. A. Askew, R. I. Blackburn, W. A. Gibson, D. Reeve, H. T. C. Eves, W. Holdsworth, C. Biss, R. J. Barton, H.V. Smith, W.D. Jones, R. J. Fowler, G. W. McRae, P. Webster, J. Y. McNaught, A. E. Anders, Percy King, D. McLennan, H. Fogg, A. M. Ross, J. C. Bailey, W. Russell, A. F. Beasley, Capt. Cates, J. Nicholis, W. C. Smith, W. L. Keene, S. D. Scultz, L. Platt, E. L. Kinder, W. H. Smith, G. Smith, T. O. Mills, F. Tarn, F. G. Kelly, F. McAlpine, J. B. Bennett, R. E. Macnaughten, H. L. Radermacher, J. Sanderson, T. L. Kennedy, Geo. P. Baxter.

Nominations for the officers of the association were then called for and resulted as follows: President, Wm. Morden; vice-president, S. D. Schultz, secretary, H. V. Smith; treasurer, H. W. Young. The executive committee comprises the above with the following: Percy King, C. F. Jackson, H. W. Young, A. Philip, R. J. Fowler, W. Russell, W. A. Gibson, A. W. Sargent, D. Reeve, Percy Webster, W. McNeish.

The reading of the resolutions as prepared by the committee of fifteen was laid over until the next meeting.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded Percy King for his efficient services as chairman pro tem.

William Morden, upon taking the chair, said that he appreciated the honor that had been conferred upon him. He commended the movement as a worthy one and deserving the wide support of the ratepayers. The association was not at all antagonistic to the city council, but wished to assist the council in every possible way. It would be a pleasure to be of assistance in municipal affairs in any way. The existence of the association would stop a lot of street talk by providing for the free discussion of civic affairs. He asked for the hearty co-operation of the electors to make the association a success.

S. D. Schultz, vice-president, said that the association had a great work to do, but that success must depend upon the faithful efforts of the individual members. There is lots of work calling for attention and it should be taken up without delay. The purpose should be at all times to discuss principles and measures, rather than men. A platform should be brought out, embodying the principles of the association and, if neceasary, candidates should be put in the field. The association wished to work in harmony with the council for the prosperity of North Vancouver.

H. V. Smith and H. W. Young made a few remarks upon the need of hard work in the interests of the association.

W. A. Gibson was allowed the privilege of making some statements as to the 3rd street work. He said he had received a letter, asking him to apologize to the city engineer, because of certain remarks he had addressed to him. Mr. Gibson rehearsed the circumstances which led up to his makiug the remarks, to which exception has been taken, and considered that he had made them under provocation from the city engineer, which made it equally incumbent on the engineer to apologize to him. Mr. Gibson was prepared to do his part in a mutual apology from one to the other. The meeting adjourned until Tuesday evening next at the city hall.

Sad Shooting Accident

Ichi Ochi Nagai, a Japanese logger, living about a mile above the suspension bridge on Capilano canyon, while shooting at rats on Tuesday, shortly after the noon hour, accidentally shot his wife, the wound being so serious as to cause death within twenty minutes. The facts were fully elicited at the inquest held by Coroner A. B. Diplock, on Thursday afternoon. Herbert Young, of Vancouver, acted as interpreter.

R. S. Sasaki, Buddhist missionary, deposed that he had visited the scene of the accident and had made several sketches of the house and locality. These were entered as exhibits. He deposed that the house stands on the edge of the canyon, and that the ground immediately behind the house is considerably higher than that upon which the house stands. He had examined the hole in the roof through which the shot is said to have passed.

Ichi Ochi Nagai, husband of the deceased, deposed as follows : We had been troubled a great deal with rats, carrying off clothes and food. On Tuesday I returned from seeing the body of a Japanese infant, which had just died, and, as I was returning, I saw the rats running away with articles from the house. The rats were in my bedroom under the roof. As I sat on the bed smoking, I noticed a rats' nest and removed it from under the roof. I heard the rats in the next room and my wife said "Let us shoot them". I got the gun, took it out of the house. I removed a weather board from the side of the house and saw the rats. My wife came to the door and asked if the rats were there. I told her to go inside and chase the rats out of that place. My wife called out and asked me if I could see the rats, and just as she called a rat came out from under the roof. I fired and I heard her call, "You've shot me : What have you done?" I came into the house. She was sitting down by the door with her hand over her left breast. Kurita, a Japanese, who was sleeping in an adjoining room, came in and we gave her a cup of water and then placed her upon the bed. For twenty minutes she said nothing and died. I sent Kurita into Vancouver to report. The ground rises behind the house, so I was firing downward, with the muzzle of the gun about eight feet from the roof. There is no ceiling in the portion of the house, through the roof of which the shot went.

Kurita, being examined, gave evidence corroborating that given by Nagai. He further testified that he had known Nagai and his wife since August, 1907, and they were on the best of terms with each other.

Dr. Campbell deposed that he had visited the scene of the accident and had found the body of a woman, which he had examined. There were shot wounds scattered over both breasts, more numerous on the left side and running around under the armpit. In his estimation the wounds were sufficient to cause death. Death resulted from internal hemorrhage. The shot entered the body in a downward direction and crosswise.

W. T. O'Farrell testified that he had known Nagai four years and his wife three years. Far from being quarrelsome, they appeared very fond of each other. The building is at the bottom of cliff and close to it, so that the ground behind the house is high.

In charging the jury, Coroner Diplock referred to the numerous shooting accidents that are being recorded throughout the country from the careless use of firearms, and read explicit directions to them upon the legal phases of the case.

The jury was composed of H. V. Smith, foreman; R. W. Evans, T. Booth, T. L. Kennedy and Wm. McKerrow. After a short retirement, the jury rendered a verdict as follows: "The deceased came to her death by a shot wound from a gun in the hands of Nagai, and we find the death entirely accidental."

The body was conveyed to undertaking parlors in Vancouver, whence the funeral was held this afternoon, Rev. S. Sasaki officiating.

Lawn Tennis Club

A movement is on foot for the formation of a club for the construction of a bowling green, lawn tennis court, etc., in the city, A. B. Stevenson and others taking an active part in promoting the project. The proposed purchase of a portion of the horticultural society's property by the city, it is thought, will provide an opportunity to secure suitable grounds in a good location. The laying of a bowling green requires time and close attention, but if a start were made early in the new year, there would be ample time in which to have the grounds in good shape for all purposes by the first of April. There are many residents of the city who have enjoyed "bowling on the green" in former places of residence, and who would greatly enjoy an opportunity to engage in this delightful pastime, while the character of the game is such that those who have attained middle life, find in it an interesting pastime and wholesome exercise. The establishment of such a club, which would be available to all classes of the community, old and young, would fill a felt want in the social life of the city. It would go far to break down fictitious walls of separation; it would give our merchants, mechanics, and others an opportunity to mingle together during the long summer evenings, under enjoyable conditions, and would promote harmony and good fellowship in the community. A list is now being circulated for signatures by those who would desire to unite with such a movement, and it is hoped that the result will be sufficiently encouraging to ensure the success of the project.

New Business Firm

A new firm is to be added to the brokerage houses in this city, under the name of Thacker & Thornton, who are now arranging their future place of business, just east of the Palace hotel, on 2nd street. S. W. Thacker comes from Glenwood, Minn., where he was engaged in a mercantile line for some years, but for the past six years has been operating in real estate, promoting extensive colonization schemes in Manitoba. C. C. Thornton comes from Benson, Minn., where he was until recently assistant cashier in the First National Bank, having resigned to come to the coast. It was their original intention to locate at Prince Rupert, but upon looking over the ground, they became so deeply impressed with North Vancouver, as offering opportunity for the investment of capital with assured returns, that they decided to cast in their lot with the Ambitious city. The partners bring to the business an extensive eastern connection that will be of material benefit. It is their intention to operate in general realty, making a specialty of timber.

A Suggestion

EDITOR EXPRESS:

Sir,—Our champion wrestler, Rod Renshaw, has returned from Seattle, where he met with defeat, much to our regret. But, be that as it may, he was representing North Vancouver, and in consequence this city received considerable advertising among the cities of the Sonnd.

Another individual who has done much to bring this city before the eyes of the public is our champion oarsman, J. N. J. Brown, who has been a representative at several regattas in Nanaimo, New Westminster, Seattle, and other places. At all these affairs Brown has, so I am told, always paid his own way, though representing the colors of North Vancouver.

Now, I would suggest that the business men and citizens generally of North Vancouver tender these two athletes a complimentary banquet, to show at least that the advertising achieved by these two champions has been appreciated.

Yours truly,

W. P. PERKERS.

RATEPAYERS' ASSOCIATION

The satisfactory arrangement of the details of organization on Wednesday evening, fairly launched on its career the "City of North Vancouver Ratepayers' Association". The tenor of the discussion upon the several clauses of the constitution revealed the fact that the meeting was fully alive to the necessity of laying the foundations on a broad basis, so that the entire electorate might be free to ally themselves with the association. That this end was attained in the estimation of the meeting, was evidenced by the ready manner in which the ratepayers came forward to pay the enrollment fee. While the progress thus far made points to the successful consummation of the plan, the general acceptability and the future usefulness of the association will, in very large measure, be determined by the conclusions arrived at, at the meeting to be held on Tuesday evening next, when the resolutions recommended by the committee of fifteen, which embody the platform upon which the association will operate, will be considered. The necessity for wise counsel, mature judgment, and discreet conclusions in these matters will be vital to the movement.

The most momentous matter that presented itself in the consideration of the constitution was the laying down of those principles that define the relationship which the association desires to sustain toward the board of aldermen. The warmest debate of the evening arose out of the question as to whether or no the mayor, aldermen and the city officials who may be elected from year to year, or appointed from time to time, should be eligible for membership in the association. In favor of their eligibility, it was argued that they will invariably be ratepayers and, as such, should not be in any sense disfranchised as to the association; and further that their exclusion might possibly be misunderstood, and leave the mistaken impression that the genius of the association is antagonistic to the city council.

On the other hand the inadvisability of their being included in the membership, was argued from the fact that, in similar associations elsewhere, they are not eligible for membership; that the presence of the members of the aldermanic board at the meetings might retard the full discussion of current civic affairs, and that the deliverances of the association from time to time would prove much more effective, and would assist the city council to a much greater degree, were they arrived at without any conference whatever with any member of the aldermanic board. The latter view prevailed and the membership clause as adopted reads as follows: "All ratepayers and municipal voters, resident or non-resident in the city of North Vancouver, shall be eligible for membership in the association; but the mayor, alderman and city officials shall not be eligible for membership."

To counteract the suggestion in this action of antagonism toward the city council, and to give unmistakeable expression to the fact, that the fundemental purpose of the association is to strengthen the hands of the council and to render every possible assistance, the first two sections of the clause declaring the objects of the association were formulated as follows: "The objects of this association are, (a) to promote the general interests of the city of North Vancouver, and particularly to aim at the adoption of such measures as will result in an economical and progressive administration in all departments of municipal government; (b) to support the mayor and council in all measures that may commend themselves to the association; especially to strengthen their hands in protecting the city from encroachments upon public rights by individuals or corporations."

No discussion took place as to possible action in view of the approaching civic elections. It is evident that the constitution is constructed to permit the association to take any action that it may deem expedient in the election of mayor and alderman, as it is stated that one of the objects is to "arouse interest in civic affairs" and "to secure the election of good and able citizens to the office of mayor and aldermen." Whether the procedure under these clauses will be the placing of a ticket in the field by the association, or the endorsation of such candidates as may present themselves and who are in accord with the aims and objects of the association, does not as yet, appear.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Many compliments have been paid The Express by reason of its 20-page edition of last week, which contained all documents and reports in connection with the special audit of the city's finances. Last week's issue was evidence emphatic and clear of the improvement that has taken place in the paper since its acquirement by the present owners—an improvement that is noticeable in every department of the business. Not only has the circulation wonderfully increased, but the capabilities of the entire plant have been greatly enlarged. As the city has grown, The Express has kept pace with it, and will continue to do so. Many other improvements are being undertaken by the management of The Express, not the least of which is the installing of a typesetting machine. When this machine is installed, about a month hence, the paper will then be in a position to issue a daily edition, and this will eventuate just so soon as the growth of the city will warrant. The plant now affords employment to a number of householders in the city, and it is the intention of the management to continue the line of policy that is making The Express not only a source of pride to the citizens, but an organ of influence in advancing the well being of the community. In a few weeks' time this institution will be equal to any demand made upon it, either in the newspaper or job printing departments; and, such being the case, there will be no need in the future for anything in the printing line being sent from this side of the Inlet to Vancouver for execution.

Horticultural Association

A general meeting of the North Vancouver Horticultural Association and Farmer's Institute was held in the pavilion Friday evening.

In opening the meeting the president, Alexander Smith, stated that the members had been called together for the reason that the association found itself in financial difficulties, and in order to relieve the situation a proposition had been made to dispose of three acres of the property to the city, for public purposes.

The first difficulty that presented itself was the fact, which discussion brought out, that there is a clause in the deed to the association, which stipulates that the property shall be used for certain specific purposes for a stated term of years.

Alex. Philip reviewed the history of the movement up to the present, stating that the term referred to was five years and would terminate in two years. The present deficit is $650, and another $650 would be required for incidentals and for completing the building. Several plans had been considered, of which the only practical one appeared to be that outlined by the president. True, it meant the alienation of three acres of ground, but this would be used for an allied purpose, while at the same time the association would be able with the proceeds ($6000) to carry out their complete plans as to building, grounds, etc. They would then have a thoroughly first-class property, the maintenance of which would, in large measure, be provided for by proceeds from rental of building.

In response to the request of H. L. Radermacher, the secretary, R. L. Docherty, read an itemized financial statement, showing receipts amounting to $4843.38, and disbursements totalling $4729, leaving a cash balance on hand of $114.38. He also read a statement of liabilities totaling $1133.66, leaving $1019.28 to be provided for.

William Morden noted the fact that the proceeds of the loan of $3000 were $2938.75. He considered the costs of the loan excessive and would like to see a statement showing what they were.

S. D. Schultz recollected that when the loan was authorized, there was a motion restricting the cost of the building to a stated amount, which he thought was $3000, whereas it had actually cost $3686.89, and would yet require $500 to complete it.

After an extended discussion, participated in by Messrs. Keene, Kealy, and those already mentioned, a special committee was appointed, comprising Wm. Morden, A. E. Crickmay, and J. Y. McNaught. This committee will procure a copy of the deed of the property, a statement of the costs of the loan, and excerpts from the minutes bearing on the original authority given the board of directors relative to the building. These documents will be submitted to an adjourned meeting, to be held in the city hall on Tuesday, the 24th inst.

District Road Making

The detailed report of District Engineer Donald Cameron, with respect to the road making machinery which will be required for road building, and for which specifications are now being drawn, preparatory to calling for tenders, is as follows:

Road Roller.—The roller suitable for the gradients of the roads within the district is a compound steam roller weighing ten tons, six tons on the driving wheels. The two cylinders give two advantages over the single, first in economy of fuel and absence of noise, and secondly the ease with which the engine can be started on steep gradients. When rolling, the engine is stopped, reversed and started a great number of times in the hour, and it is of great importance to be able to stop and start quickly without jerk or jarring the machinery. Besides doing its particular work of rolling and consolidating the road surface hard and smooth, the engine may be used for driving machinery, for breaking stones for road metal, or it may be used for hauling trucks for distributing the broken metal on the roads, I have also employed the engine for driving centrifugal pumps in getting out foundations, etc. The engine can be put to a variety of uses, but I mention them principally for the purpose of cautioning against its too great use in these ways to the detriment of the special work for which it is originally purchased. For the purpose of driving machinery, the engine should be fitted with a governor, also a small steam ejector, and a length of suction hose is useful for raising feed water to the engine tank.

Scarifyer.—For the purpose of making the road foundation and grading, and the preparation of old road surfaces for metalling, there should be attached to the roller a scarifyer; this instrument is so useful and necessary that no roller should be without one.

Tool and Coke Truck.—A two wheeled truck, carrying a vice and other tools, with oil and coke, is a necessary attendant on the roller.

Watering Cart and Pump.—When rolling, especially the finishing coat, it should be well watered. A handy two wheeled water cart is necessary, with a pump attached to fill it, where water from hydrants is not available.

Metal Trucks.—Two ten ton capacity tripping trucks for distributing and hauling the metal to the road is an economy. These should be provided with springs and screw brakes.

Sleeping Truck.—A light truck with sleeping bunks for four men, and a compartment with cooking utensils, is very necessary in this district, and a vehicle of this kind is usually provided in country districts.

Stone Breaking Plant.—One 16 inch by 9 inch knapping motion jaw stonebreaker, with suitable pulley and adjustable toggles, having a three compartment screen, and fitted with elevating machinery for loading. To be mounted on wheels and frame with a draw bar. The breaker should also be fitted with a suitably wound electric motor, so that it may be electrically driven where electricity is available, setting the roller free for its proper work.

If a quarry suitably situated for the more populous parts of the district is opened where electricity is not within reach, the most economical form of power is the suction gas plant and gas engine. The cost of power by this method is about two cents per hour for twenty horse power, with coal at $5 per ton. The attention required by this plant is filling the hopper every three hours and seeing to the running of the engine. One man is easily able to overlook the driving plant and breaker.

There are now in the market light 5 ton steam and motor trolleys that have been coming into great favor from their reliability and economy in work. They travel at the rate of 7 to 10 miles an hour and are easily handled and turned in narrow roads. Such a machine would do much more than a team of horses at a cost per day of about $2. They are provided with tipping platforms and made for the haulage of road metal.

When it is decided to invite tenders for this machinery a careful specification will have to be prepared on the lines of the best practice.

The estimated cost of Roller, Trucks, Water Carts and Stone Breakers, is six thousand dollars.

District Politics

A deputation from Lynn valley recently waited upon Reeve May, to ascertain whether he will again be a candidate for the position that he now holds. Reeve May was assured by the deputation that, if he was in the field, he would be unopposed, so far as Lynn valley was concerned; but if he did not intend to seek re-election, they would like to be apprised of the fact, in order that such steps may be taken as might be deemed wise. Mr. May expressed his appreciation of the kindness of the electors in thus offering him the refusal, so to speak, of the reeveship, but intimated that he had decided not to present himself as a candidate for the position for the ensuing year. It is understood that the situation is now under consideration, with a view to concerted action by the ratepayers. From present indications it seems probable that Councillors McNaught, Nye and Robson will be in the field for the reeveship.

The Vancouver Mountaineering Club, to the number of 25, visited the Capilano hotel on Sunday, and were entertained at luncheon by the proprietor and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Kells.

R. Renshaw, the local wrestler, was defeated at Seattle last week, by V. Venables, the latter securing two falls out of three.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING

There were present at the session of the city council, on Monday evening, Aldermen May, Irwin, Crickmay, Wheeler, Smith and Braim; Mayor Kealy presiding.

A letter was read from Henry Gordon and John Stewart, requesting that Alder street be opened up to their property, lots three to six, block 170, sub-division 274, where they have built a house; referred to the board of works to act.

A. B. Day wrote requesting that an arc light be placed at the corner of Ridgeway ave. and 14th street. There are six or more residents in that vicinity, and the nearest light is so far removed that it does not relieve the darkness; light committee to report.

The B. C. American Mining & Development Syndicate, through their president, A. B. Welbon, wrote requesting a donation of $100 toward the opening up of the Lillooet trail along Seymour creek. The company intends approaching the district council for assistance, and if it is forthcoming in each instance, the company will open up the trail from the wagon road to Copper mountain. Alderman May reported that there is every probability that the district council will undertake to open up the trail from the end of the present road to the northern boundary of the district, a distance of about one and one-half miles. Matter referred to the finance committee to report.

City Engineer William Loutet presented his resignation to the council, requesting that it take effect at the end of the current month. Filed.

The city auditors, Messrs. Stein & Co., made application for an increase of stipend to $400 per annum. The auditors based their request on the fact that up to the present their annual fee has been $87.50, and, in addition to this, there has been paid this year by the ratepayers, for a special audit, the sum of $350 or more. The city auditors therefore conclude that the efficient auditing of the city's accounts is worth $400 per annum. The city auditors likewise submitted an account for services rendered in connection with the special audit. This account was rendered previously and overlooked. The city clerk was instructed to request a copy of their former communication, with itemized statement of account.

A plan of sub-division of lot 1, block 17, sub-division 549, was examined and approved.

Board of works accounts, totalling $201.71, and waterworks committee accounts, totalling $51.18, were ordered paid.

Alderman Smith reported that tenders for 10,000 feet of four inch wooden pipe had been received from several companies, and he would recommend the acceptance of the tender of the Canadian Pipe Company for four gauge pipe, 250 foot head, at 19½ cents per foot. Adopted.

Ald. Crickmay reported that the B. C. Electric track, from 21st street north, is in need of attention; board of works to act.

Ald. May reported that the new culvert, recently installed on the upper Keith road, is doing good service, and that another should be constructed on lower Keith road. He further stated that if the old culvert across Keith road, near the Indian school, were enlarged somewhat, it would carry off all the water and do away with the present difficulty. Ald. Irwin thought that the culvert would need to be twice the present size and was favorable to the idea, provided the consent of the B. C. Electric Railway could be obtained; board of works to report.

The liquor license by-law was given its last reading and finally passed.

Ald. Smith resigned from the board of works, and Ald. May was appointed in his stead.

Lynn Creek Notes

During the high water of this week, the water in Lynn creek rose to a depth of seventy-two inches over the intake. The high water also washed out about two hundred feet of the upper flume.

The recent swelling of Lynn creek, consequent upon the heavy rains, has afforded opportunity of observing how the new Lynn creek bridge would sustain itself, under one of the severest tests that it is ever likely to meet, and the result is gratifying to all interested. The structure has stood the strain without any sign of weakness in any portion of it. One of the wing walls, however, received a blow from a heavy log, which broke off a portion weighing about three tons. The force of the water was sufficient to carry the heavy slab of concrete a distance of 100 feet before it found lodgment. The current has run in through the aperture and has formed a channel behind the west abutment and under the approaches, but no damage beyond the break in the wing has as yet resulted. A gang of men is now at work under the direction of District Engineer Cameron, making temporary repairs to the wall and when the waters subside permanent repairs will be effected. The course of the current has altered in several places of late, and certain improvements will require to be made, in order to keep the waters under proper control.

The Grand Theatre

The management of the Grand theatre, Vancouver, announce a change of policy, to be inaugurated Monday, and will present a bill of all-star vaudeville acts. The special feature for the first week will be Maud Allan, the renowned Canadian dancer, in her Salome dance of the seven veils, the original dance which caused such a sensation in London. It was commanded to be given before their majesties and has been the raging sensation all over the world.

Emmerson and Van Horn will present a beautiful and elaborate musical sketch, which has just finished a successful tour of the Orpheum circuit. R. E. Edwards will illustrate with his heavy baritone the delightful western song of love and daring, "Pride of the Prairie." Sporting fans will take special interest in the fact that M. Matsuda will wrestle at each performance with his trainer, George Brechin, and will also meet all comers in fifteen minute bouts.

The moving pictures will present "The Road to Ruin," a melodrama of absorbing interest, whose story will not easily be forgotten. The comedy, "Biscuits like mother use to make" will conclude this attractive bill.

Horticultural Finances

A detailed statement of the finances of the horticultural association has been prepared by Alex. Philip, and is as follows:—Receipts—Cash in bank in January, $25.28; loan for building, $3000; donation for building, $890; receipts re first July, $299.90; receipts exhibition, $526.20; membership fees, $71; per capita grant, $41; sundry receipts, $51.25; total, $4904.63. Disbursements — Old accounts, $199; paid on building, $3298.25; paid on furnishing, $299.20; insurance, taxes and interest, $330.67; expenses 1st July, $262; expenses of exhibition, $305.35; sundry expenses, $95.78; cash in bank, $114.38; total, $4904.63. Liabilities—Balance due on building and furnishings, $897; caretaker and interest to 31st December, $80; secretary fee for 1907 and 1908, $50; sundry creditors, $106; estimated cost of furnishing the building, $450; total, $1583; less cash on hand, $114; total, $1469.

Choral Society

There was a good muster of members at practice on Wednesday night, and a start was made with the cantata, "The Rose Maiden". The beauties of the composition were abundantly evident, even in a first reading, and as the rehearsals provide an opportunity for all who can sing to spend an enjoyable hour and a half in studying such a characteristic work of one of the best of modern composers, it is hoped there will be many additions to the membership.

The claims of business are apt to be so absorbing that the importance of cultivating the arts is often lost sight of. Yet every civilized community is more or less under the influence of such refining pursuits.
