CITY COUNCIL

Aldermen May, Irwin, Crickmay and Braim were present at the meeting of the city council on Monday evening, Mayor Kealy presiding.

Walter Owen wrote, to the effect that a leaky water pipe on the adjoining lot was causing him annoyance, because the waste water runs under his building; the water committee to act.

T. A. Martin wrote with reference to the proposed improved postal facilities. Council considered a free delivery in the city the greatest desirability, and laid the communication on the table for action later.

Alex. Philip advised council of the action of the district council in resolving to grant fourteen days for the deposit of bonds with the bank as requested. The letter of the city solicitor was read, advising that unless the district would accept the bonds in payment of the debt, he considered it not advisable that the bonds be deposited as requested, as they would thus be tied up with no corresponding advantage to the city. Alderman May stated that the district had intimated its willingness to concede the right of the city to sell the bonds at any time. The letter of the district purporting to agree to this was read. Mayor Kealy read the resolution of the finance committee and adopted by the council, to the effect that the city will deposit $20,000 in bonds, reserving the right to sell the same at any time. The city is endeavoring to accord the district every possible consideration. Ald. May remarked that the district council considered $20,000 insufficient. Ald. Irwin thought that the matter should be referred at once to the city solicitor, as the city council had offered to do all that they could do, and, as for further developments, matters must take their course. Ald. Crickmay said that it was unfortunate that matters should take this turn, just when, after prolonged effort, the city was succeeding in paying some of the debt. He concurred with Ald. Irwin as to referring the matter to the solicitor. The mayor repeated that the finance committee had gone very carefully into the matter, and the council was trying to do its best, but if the district was not satisfied with this, nothing more could be done. Ald. Braim suggested that it might be well to appoint a committee to confer with a committee of the district council in the matter, and he moved that Aldermen Irwin, Crickmay and the mover be such a committee. Carried.

J. R. J. Murray, secretary of the special audit committee, wrote, to the effect that the committee considered that an omission had occurred, in that the balance sheet of the special auditors was not published along with the reports, and asked that these, together with the report of the special auditors, the city auditor's balance sheet for 1907, and an accompanying letter from the city solicitor, be published. The letter referred to by the committee was read, and stated that, in the opinion of the city solicitor, clause 67 of the municipal clauses act, must be interpreted in harmony with the other clauses of the act, and advising that the position of the city auditors as to what constitutes a city's income is incorrect, while that of the special auditors is correct. Ald. Irwin observed that the publication of the schedules would be a very expensive undertaking. The special auditors' report showed that all amounts expended were properly vouched for, and that the books were so kept that all facts were easily arrived at. To effect any radical change in the system of bookkeeping followed by the city, would cost several thousand dollars, and the expense was not advisable at present. The matter was laid over and reverted to later. A lengthy discussion took place, the mayor forcibly observing that the city auditor advised the council in one way and the city solicitor in a way directly opposed. Now the question is: what action is the council to take? It was finally decided that the only feasible way out of the dilemma, is to employ a firm of chartered accountants to act as arbitrator auditors, and the probable cost of this is to be ascertained. The special audit committee is also to be requested to state upon what additional grounds, if any, they wish action to be taken, with reference to the reports.

Mr. Fell wrote, to the effect that the owners of the abutting property were not prepared to survey their half of the 66 feet for the extension of Sutherland avenue from Keith road to 14th street, and consequently he would be compelled to clear the avenue along the west one-half, instead of in the centre, board of works to report.

S. D. Green-Armytage wrote, agreeing to provide the plank for a walk to his residence, if the city will haul and lay the same; board of works to act.

H. Hutchison complained strenuously of the wretched condition of affairs existing on 3rd street, as the septic tank overflow runs into the trench where the water pipes are being lowered. The mayor characterized the conditions as scandalous, and as remaining unremedied in the face of his express orders and those of the health officer. Matter to be investigated and dealt with Thursday evening, meantime the difficulty is to be obviated.

The city solicitor returned the draft of the proposed agreement with the ferry company, with certain memoranda; received.

The matter of the exemption of the church of St. John the Evangelist from the local improvement assessment was referred to the city solicitor for his opinion.

A plan of sub-division for lot 3, block 32, laid over at last meeting, was approved.

The finance committee recommended payment of the following accounts: Police $309.75, school $2178.95, board of works $767.01, water committee $465.82, fire and light $164.32, board of health $25, adopted; board of works, under local improvement by-law $2820, adopted, subject to arrangements therefor being made with the bank.

The medical health officer's report for past four months showed five cases of chicken pox and one of measles. Nine notices of nuisance were served. Filed.

Minutes of a meeting of the waterworks committee were read, recommending that a two inch wooden pipe be laid along Ridge-way to 25th street, and that connection be made with the houses of E. H. Cardman, W. H. Wise, and C. M. Woodrow; tabled for one week for estimate of cost. Ald. Braim reported, that owing to the arrival of the wet weather, the reservoir for reducing the pressure at Ridgeway and 19th, would not be required until spring; adopted.

Minutes of a meeting of the finance committee were read, recommending with reference to the remitting of taxes in favor of the athletic association, that the council has no power to comply with the request; adopted.

Ald. Irwin suggested that in view of the approaching winter season, it would be advisable that sidewalk work be given precedence over other work on the streets; council concurred.

The engineer's report with reference to a sidewalk on the north side of Victoria park, will be ready for consideration Thursday evening.

Upon motion of Aldermen May and Irwin, the assessment rolls were made returnable on Monday, October 19th.

Alderman Crickmay, as chairman of the fire and water committee, reported affairs in the fire department are not in a satisfactory condition. The brigades do not turn out to practice, and matters generally are in a condition that calls for decisive action. A meeting of the firemen will be held on Wednesday evening, of which all the members have been notified. The fire committee was instructed to attend the meeting to investigate.

Court of revision of voters' list will be held November 2nd.

Choral Society

A number of the musical people in town are planning to have a choral society formed, to begin the rehearsal of good choral works, at an early date. Such a society would indeed be a welcome addition to others of a different nature which already exist here. In a town with a population of 3000, there ought to be ample material for getting up a good body of singers, for there are many, doubtless, who, though not giving their services in any of the church choirs, have been blessed with the gift of song and have a sufficient knowledge of music to make them valuable members of a choral society. Great Britain's unique position at the present day in the domain of choral music is almost entirely due to the existence, in nearly every village of some choral body.

The American nation are now just realizing this, and with their characteristic energy are doing all they can to diffuse correct ideas about this most important factor in civil life, for they see that not only is there here an immense field for artistic pleasure, but that the study of the compositions of the greatest musicians by many thousands of individuals has a most ennobling influence on the conduct of a community. It would seem that one of the crying needs in this western country is to have some recognized influence, both of an educative and refining nature, which would regulate, if not check, the absorbing pursuit of the almighty dollar, to the neglect of the finer instincts of one's nature. A choral society in the town would be greatly appreciated, both by singers and listeners; as it would be quite undenominational, the active support of all musical people would be heartily welcomed. A meeting of all interested will be held at an early date, of which due notice will be given.

Lynn Valley

Mr. Bailey and family have taken up their residence in the house recently completed on D. L. 2003, adjoining the property of Councilor McNaught.

A couple of residents in the valley, while cutting wood along the plank road, a day or two ago, had a surprise visit from a young bear. A fight between the contending forces was postponed to a later date.

The Lynn Valley Lumber Company expect to begin to cut logs this week, from the new berth recently opened up around the spur of the mountain. The new road gives access to a large quantity of extra choice timber, and Manager Fromme expects to turn out lumber that cannot be surpassed anywhere.

B. C. Electric Improvements

Improvements to the value of $300,000 are to be effected by the B. C. Electric Co. at their power station on the North Arm. The hydraulic power house, which is built of stone, is to be extended another 60 feet, and extra machinery is to be installed capable of generating 10,000 horse power of electrical energy. To supply this two additional pipe lines will be run from the dam at Lake Buntzen to the power house.

This week the company awarded a contract for the installation of a new turbine wheel at the power house. It has a capacity of 11,000 horsepower and is of the Doble type, one of the most successful wheels in operation today. The contract was awarded to the John McDougall Co., Montreal.

Court of Revision

The city council sat as a court of revision Monday evening, on the proposed improvements on 8th street. William Morden, as owner of certain lots in the locality took exception to the assessment as submitted and requested some changes to make it equitable. The wardens of the church of St. John the Evangelist wrote, requesting that the church property be exempt from the assessment. The court adjourned for one week, in order that these matters might be looked into carefully.

Preacher and Bear

The pastor of one of the local churches is now able to affirm from experience that the sensations are entirely distinct, which arise from viewing the bears in Stanley Park at a distance of a few feet, with substantial barriers between, and being brought face to face with the real thing at a distance of a few paces, in his native haunts. Upon returning on Tuesday evening about dusk from the outskirts of the city, whence his duties had called him, and traversing an old skid road, he was somewhat disconcerted (not to be accused of extravagance in choice of terms) by suddenly finding himself standing within about ten paces of a good sized black bear. Bruin appeared somewhat inclined to dispute the passage of the roadway, but with admirable presence of mind the worthy pastor laid hold of a good sized bolder stone and hurled it forcefully at the brute, and the aforesaid stone coming in contact with a telephone wire, so startled the bear that he gave a grunt (doubtless of fear) and beat an orderly, but highly satisfactory, retreat, to all parties, into the bush. Accepting the authenticity of the Biblical narrative, that a certain worthy of old slew a lion, in a pit on a snowy day, the hero of this adventure feels that these new and unsought laurels are altogether becoming his person and calling.

Fire Department

The meeting held at No. 1 fire-hall Wednesday evening to consider what steps can be taken to improve the condition of the department, was well attended. Ald. Crickmay, chairman, and Ald. Irwin of the fire committee were present. A practice was held previous to the meeting and the work of the brigade satisfied the committee of their capability for the work under proper discipline and with regular practice. At the meeting held after the practice, the affairs of the department were thoroughly discussed and arrangements were made whereby it is hoped to equip a gymnasium and reading room, as well as to provide other means of making the institution more attractive for the members.

On Tuesday evening next, at 8 o'clock, a meeting will be held at firehall No. 2, on 13th street, for the purpose of organizing a brigade in that section of the city. It is hoped that there will be a hearty response to this effort.

Nye-Janes

A quiet wedding was celebrated on Saturday last, when George Gordon Nye, a well known business man of this city, was united in the bonds of holy matrimony with Bertha M. Janes, likewise of this city. The ceremony was performed in the church of St. John the Evangelist, at the hour of 10.30 a.m., in the presence of a small company of immediate friends. In the absence of the vicar of St. John's, the nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Lewis Hooper, vicar of Langley, who was temporarily in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Nye will reside on 2nd street, where cozy apartments have been arranged in connection with the photographic studio operated by Mr. Nye. Every wish for lifelong happiness and prosperity is extended by hosts of friends.

St. John's Church

A deanery service was held in the church on the evening of Wednesday, the 9th inst., which was largely attended by the congregation. The service was Evensong (choral), and the preacher was Rev. H. G. Fiennes Clinton, of St. James' church. The lessons were read by Rev. Havelock Beacham, of Holy Trinity Church, and the Rev. Harold Buttram, of All Saints' the service being intoned by the rector of the church, the Rev. Hugh Hooper. The preacher gave a vigorous discourse on the duties of the clergy in the triple capacity of messengers, stewards, and teachers, and of the people as responsible members of the Protestant church.

The Masonic hall, in the Owen block, has had its walls and ceiling decorated, presenting a very attractive appearance. Stoney & Co. were the artists in charge. In addition to the decorating of the hall, a swell carpet has been laid on the floor, the whole combining to make cosy meeting quarters.

Mrs. T. F. Foster, who has been in Jubilee hospital, Victoria, for some time past for treatment to an injured knee, is making slow but satisfactory progress toward recovery. She writes that the hospital is overcrowded and that the staff of nurses are scarcely able to cope with the heavy duties devolving upon them.

The board of directors of the Horticultural Society met Tuesday evening and arranged for the distribution of the money prizes. The final result will show a satisfactory surplus of money from the exhibition. The W. C. T. U. has been granted the use of the hall for a series of five lectures by Miss Murrutt, in the near future.

Mrs. J. A. McMillan returned on Saturday from a visit to Seattle. On the way down from here, she stated the voyage was very rough, a stiff gale blowing outside Bellingham. Several hundred passengers were aboard and many of them became sick, while all were much shaken up by the buffeting given the boat by the huge waves.

The football match last Saturday, North Vancouver vs Nationals, resulted in a tie at 0-0. Thos. Shepherd refereed the game to the satisfaction of both teams. Two members mixed things up and were laid off for the game. A practice match will be held Saturday afternoon, when all football enthusiasts are invited to participate in the game. Play commences about 2.30.

W. K. Burnett acted as host to a party of North Vancouverites on Sunday, who had an enjoyable outing and picnic at Indian River, at the head of the North Arm. Ald. Braim's launch was chartered for the occasion and the day was spent in sight seeing. Those in the party were: Mayor and Mrs. Kealy, Mr. and Mrs. Bunbury, Mr. and Mrs. Cornish, Mr. and Mrs. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Green, W. K. Burnett, G. Williams, Dr. Campbell, W. Braim and C. Wheeler.

A very enjoyable outing was participated in by a large party of young people from the city, on Saturday afternoon last, at Lynn canyon. Those in attendance were as follows: Mrs. Fowler, chaperon; Misses M. Phillips, F. Russell, M. Lang, N. Philip, N. Phillips, D. Fowler, A. Wilson, A. Pitt, L. Lindsay, G. Kennedy, A. Morden, M. Hall and M. Fugler; Messrs. T. Nelson, A. Philip, V. P. Cross, C. Cross, Ed. Robertson, Wm. Knowles, Wm. Philip, G. Baxter, C. Wheeler, F. Atkinson, Ed. Jackson and O. Peers.

Malcolm McMillan with characteristic cordiality, seized an opportunity to prove himself "a friend in need" this week, when he successfully piloted Kenneth Martin through the many intricacies by which a man is beset when he is bent on matrimony. Mr. Martin, who is a prominent business man of Rossland, was married on Tuesday last, to Miss Agnes Martin, of South Vancouver. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Cameron at the residence of the bride's parents. Malcolm McMillan was a groomsmen and Miss Flora Martin, sister of the bride, bridesmaid. The happy couple will take an extended trip south before returning to make their home in Rossland. The common opinion amongst Malcolm's many friends is that he is fully due himself and that he might wisely conclude matters while the whole procedure is fresh in his mind.

NORTH VANCOUVER, SEPT. 18, 1908

TRAFFIC BRIDGE SUBSIDY

A word in season, with reference to the necessity for traffic accommodation, in connection with the proposed bridge across second narrows, was spoken by Mayor Kealy at the opening of the Horticultural exhibition. Following the remarks of Hon. F. L. Carter-Cotton with reference to the agricultural possibilities of the district, and the unlimited market for our produce, afforded by Vancouver, the mayor took occasion to observe that the immense traffic that was destined to grow up between the two communities on both shores of Burrard Inlet, rendered it in the highest degree imperative that adequate provision be made, in the construction of the bridge, for the accommodation of that traffic, in all its forms and at all times. It was hoped, therefore, that in the near future an announcement would be made, of such substantial assistance to the project, as would ensure the conjunction of traffic and railway facilities in the bridge.

While these remarks were probably a diplomatic intimation to the representative of the riding, and the president of the executive council of the government, in the presence of a considerable body of the electorate, that the provincial government would again be approached for a subsidy for a combined railway and traffic bridge, they were apparently intended to convey the further meaning that the agitation accompanying this appeal of the electorate of the several constituencies concerned, would be allayed only by favorable governmental action in the premises.

The very meagre expenditures of public funds that have been made in North Vancouver district serves to confirm the electors in their sense of the reasonableness and the justice of their request. These grants are easily reviewed: A grant of $5000 was made the district in lieu of taxes lost to it, because lands sold by the government were held unenclosed for a very long period, namely 12 years. A grant of $500 per year was made for several years, in aid of the ferry service. Several small donations have been made from time to time, in aid of local institutions of a public character. These constitute the total governmental grants to North Vancouver. On the other hand, the district has built and maintains out of its own treasury, some 38 miles of trunk road, namely Keith road 22 miles, and roads up Capilano, Lynn and Seymour creeks, 16 miles. These roads (and more particularly that portion of them running north and south) afford the only means of access to governmental lands lying beyond. While they are roads of a character that are ordinarily heavily subsidized by the government, yet in these instances, no payments whatever have been made out of the provincial treasury. It may be maintained that even such grants as have been made to the district have been more than repaid in the construction and maintenance of these roads, and that therefore the government is to be credited with practically no expenditures in this district to date. Inasmuch as North Vancouver constitutes, by a great deal, the more important portion of the electoral riding in which it is included, it is not unreasonable to expect that, under existing conditions, the government will give its appeal favorable consideration.

The case then stands somewhat as follows: Because it is as clear as sunlight to every man who gives the matter intelligent consideration, that a combined railway and traffic bridge across Burrard Inlet at second narrows is but a logical product of the situation, a necessary adjunct to the development of the territory contiguous to the best harbor and the largest centre of population in British Columbia; because of the large area of agricultural and fruit lands, as well as the immense resources in mineral and timber, that will be tributary to the bridge; because of the teeming population that is destined to occupy the territory on both sides of the Inlet, whose needs will be met by such a bridge; because the district of North Vancouver (which may be said to be most immediately concerned in the construction of the bridge) has indisputable right under existing conditions, to favorable consideration at the hands of the provincial government, in the matter of money grants; because the project, as outlined, commands and receives the strong support of adjacent municipalities, comprising the greater portion of the population of the coast districts of British Columbia, and practically one-half of the entire revenue producing population of the province; because the bridge will be, in the strictest and fullest sense, a public work of the most permanent character and the most extended usefulness—a valuable asset to the province as such. Because of these and other considerations, it is confidently anticipated that the government of British Columbia will place the realization of the scheme beyond all peradventure, by voting an adequate subsidy for the traffic features of the Second Narrows bridge.

This district is fortunate in having, in the person of its representative in the local legislature, a man of acknowledged ability, a man of wide experience in political affairs in British Columbia, and of high standing and great influence amongst his governmental colleagues.

When to the inherent merits of the project, and the many favorable external considerations which attend it, is added the weight of the personality of Hon. F. L. Carter-Cotton in its favor, there is certainly good ground for concluding that the voting of a subsidy by the government will not long be delayed.

many cases people who started fires showed poor judgment, having no thought of danger of damage. Campers were responsible for many of the fires. There were 65 bush fires during the month and it took 519 men to fight them, of whom 315 were hired by the fire warden. Green timber to the value of $2800 was destroyed, while the fire at Magee burned two shacks, one mill and 3500 cords of wood. Property in the immediate vicinity was saved by the energetic action of the fire fighters, the value being set at $16,300. The patrol covered 5425 square miles of territory. Sixteen persecutions had been instituted, two being dismissed, ten convicted, and the others awaiting trial.

FRUIT GROWING IN B. C.

Interesting Statement by Inspector Cunningham

An interesting statement of the development of the fruit growing industry in British Columbia was made this week by Thomas Cunningham, provincial fruit inspector. For two months he has been at work among the orchards on Vancouver Island. He was in Vancouver over Sunday and on Monday he returned to the Island to continue his labors.

In 14 years Mr. Cunningham says the money invested in fruit growing has increased from $3,000,000 to upwards of $15,000,000. Of general conditions of the industry he says:—"California fruit this year has been particularly dangerous. It seems that codlin moth has been more in evidence this year than for a long time, despite efforts made to counteract it by the introduction of predacious insects. Last Saturday we had condemned in Victoria 1,800 cases of fruit, and like proportions in Vancouver.

In contrast to California, I may say that Washington fruit is very free from insect pests this year. This I attribute to the strict legislation of that state dealing with the matter. There anyone found distributing infected fruit in any way is liable to a fine of not less than $50 for the first offence, or $200 or two years' imprisonment for the second. Washington is our closest competitor, and British Columbia cannot afford to take lower ground than that State in the protection of fruit."

Mr. Cunningham continued that a short time ago he met a gentleman who was enquiring for 75,000 boxes of apples for export to Australia, but the only condition on which he would purchase them was that they should be guaranteed to be absolutely free from insect pests or disease. He believed that he had succeeded in obtaining that supply because in the greater part of British Columbia we were free from such pests or disease as would disqualify the fruit from entering Australia.

"I have been absent on Vancouver Island for two months having the orchards cleaned up. I find that all intelligent fruit growers are co-operating most cordially. Our trouble is mostly with farmers who grow a little fruit and pay very little attention to their trees. I expect at the next session of the legislature that the horticultural act will be so amended as to compel careless people owning fruit trees to keep them in such condition that they will not be a menace to the enterprising fruit grower. The hope of British Columbia is the man who makes fruit growing a specialty.

We had a meeting of the Horticultural Board last week, and from the data furnished we find the investment in fruit growing in British Columbia today has reached the enormous sum of $15,000,000. It is reasonable to expect that within the next five years this will have increased 100 per cent., so that you can easily understand the importance of protecting this industry by all lawful means. I was never so much impressed with the necessity of keeping our doors closed against the importations of all infected trees and fruit.

I am glad to notice that the importations of fruit into Victoria are falling off, and the market is fairly well supplied with very superior local fruit. I predict a great increase in the acreage under fruit on Vancouver Island during coming year. Land there is far too valuable to be devoted to raising grain and hay. I viewed one fruit orchard in Saanich and remonstrated with the lady who owned it for growing oats under the trees. She said that land was so valuable now that they required to get all the revenue they could out of it. I asked her how much the fruit orchard yielded last year, and she said a little over $400 an acre, while a field of oats adjoining yielded $30 an acre. I take this as an indication of the folly of devoting first-class fruit land to growing inferior crops of grain.

This has been a very dry season on the island, but where the orchards have been cultivated and the ground kept clean, the fruit is very fine. In orchards where the land is in grass or grain the fruit is shrivelled and inferior, and the trees have made practically no growth. What is true of Vancouver Island is true of the whole of British Columbia. No man has a right to expect a crop of grain and a crop of fruit from the same soil.

Another thing I was pleased to note in reference to Vancouver Island was that the fruit was exceedingly well packed. In this respect the Victoria Fruit Exchange is doing excellent work. No badly packed box of fruit is permitted to be shipped from their establishment, and they are realizing very good prices in consequence.

I am returning to the Island to complete the campaign of orchard cleaning, and may have something more to give to you on my return. I wish again to express my gratitude to the press for the generous support they have given the department. You see that we have increased from less than $3,000,000 investment in fruit growing in 1894 to over $15,000,000 in 1908. For this I am naturally very proud and thankful, because in the advancement of horticulture we are not depleting the wealth of the country as some other industries do, but on the other hand we are adding to its permanent resources.

Next Tuesday evening the Pythians of the city will entertain a large contingent of Vancouver visitors, who are coming over to assist in conferring the third rank on a class of five candidates. The famous Mt. Pleasant drill and senate team will conduct the ceremony.

POLITICAL POINTERS

The Martin has accepted the Exclusionist nomination.

A meeting of the Conservatives will be held here next Tuesday night, in the Eagles' hall.

The Socialists met in Vancouver Wednesday night and nominated E. T. Kingsley as their candidate.

The Dominion elections have been set for Monday, Oct. 26th, with the nominations on the 19th.

Vancouver is stated to be the best organized town west of Montreal, according to Conservative ethics.

Thomas H. MacKay, Vancouver, has been appointed returning officer for this constituency in the Dominion elections.

Three constituencies in this province have had their elections postponed, viz., Comox-Atlin, Yale-Cariboo, and Kootenay.

G. H. Barnard, K.C., has been nominated to contest Victoria, in the interests of the Conservatives, against Hon. Wm. Templeman.

The Conservative nominee, G. H. Cowan, has gone east on a three weeks' trip. He will return in plenty of time for his fight here.

The Liberals held their second rally of the campaign Wednesday night, at Fairview, Vancouver. W. W. B. McInnes was the principal speaker.

There will be a four-cornered contest in this constituency, the Conservatives, Liberals, Exclusionists and Socialists all being represented.

J. D. Taylor, the Conservative nominee in Westminster, is actively organizing his district. He hopes to win out owing to the split in the Liberal ranks.

The Liberals will hold the opening meeting of their campaign here on Monday night, when W. W. B. McInnes will address the electorate, in Larson's pavilion.

The Conservatives in Comox-Atlin met at Prince Rupert lately, but did not nominate. Sloan, the Liberal nominee, is actively canvassing the constituency.

The Conservative campaign in this constituency is marked by much enthusiasm and confidence, being aided thereby by the fact that all the newspapers are supporting their nominee.

Martin Burrell and Duncan Ross, Conservative and Liberal respectively, are conducting an energetic campaign in Yale-Cariboo. The Conservatives expect to carry that constituency by a large majority.

Liberal papers concede the Conservatives two seats in B.C. this election. The Conservatives are confident of reversing those figures, or even better. Mild-going politicians give the Conservatives three, and possibly four seats.

Hon. Mr. Bowser is going east to assist the Conservative leaders in their campaign in the various provinces. He will make a number of speeches, particularly dealing with the questions of Asiatic exclusion and better terms.

A three-cornered fight is on in Nanaimo, Ralph Smith being the Liberal nominee; Hawthornthwaite for the Socialists, and Shepherd for the Conservatives. The campaign is in full swing and promises to be a lively one indeed.

In the Kootenay electoral district, Goodeve, the Conservative nominee, has opened his campaign against Smith Curtis, the government candidate. He has been holding a series of enthusiastic meetings in East Kootenay towns.

The Asiatic Exclusion League held a warm meeting on Tuesday evening in Vancouver, there being a fair attendance. The proceedings were anything but harmonious, but the nomination of a candidate was made, Hon. Joseph Martin being selected for that honor.

On Thursday evening, of last week, the Liberals of this constituency, opened the campaign by a meeting in the City hall, Vancouver, at which there was a large attendance. Speeches were delivered by the Liberal candidate, W. W. B. McInnes, and others.

Friday evening last, the Conservatives opened their campaign in this riding by a monster gathering in the O'Brien hall, Vancouver. The crowd filled both halls, and was very enthusiastic. The members of the provincial cabinet, together with the candidate, G. H. Cowan, all delivered addresses.

Zest has been added to the political fight now on, by the publication of a letter, from the pen of Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., in reply to recent strictures on himself by Sir Wilfred Laurier. Though well up in years, Sir Charles shows that there is considerable fight left in him, and he vigorously resents any aspersions upon himself or the Conservative party. The letter will make telling campaign ammunition.

A meeting of the North Vancouver Conservative Association was held in the Orange hall on Wednesday evening, President A. R. Steacy presiding. After a short discussion Percy King was elected secretary, in place of T. Shepherd, who could no longer continue in that office, the members generally expressing their regret at Mr. Shepherd's decision. The chief topic of discussion was the approaching Dominion elections, and ways and means were discussed in relation thereto. The delegates to the Conservative convention were instructed to attend a special meeting in Vancouver this evening at O'Brien hall, for purposes of organization; and it was decided further to hold a business meeting in the Eagle's hall, Esplanade, on Tuesday evening next, at eight o'clock, when further arrangements will be made for the conduct of the campaign in this city.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

Regular meeting of the district council will be held tonight.

The Seymour creek water service for Vancouver will be completed next week.

W. H. Stoney & Co. have received the contract for painting the new Methodist school and home at Kitimaat.

The foundations are now completed for the new pier for the Seymour Creek bridge, which was rendered necessary by reason of the fact that the cement failed to harden properly in the first pier.

Mr. Dockrill of the legal firm of MacDonald & Dockrill, Rossland, accompanied by Mrs. Dockrill, visited the city today and enjoyed an afternoon's picnic on the grounds of Hotel North Vancouver.

The city engineer's department was operating on 3rd street east on Tuesday running a cross section for the purpose of framing up an estimate of the cost of block paving the street, in accordance with the terms of the local improvement bylaw.

Dr. H.B. Howell, optician from the Burrard sanitarium, Vancouver, has been busily engaged at the Chesterfield avenue school for the past week, making a thorough examination of the eyesight of all the children in the school. The work will require a week or more yet for completion.

City Treasurer Woods states that tax collections this year have proven very satisfactory. The percentage who took advantage of the rebate was greater than last year. The crush at the city hall was sufficient at times to overtax the accommodation provided for the public convenience.

At the regular weekly meeting of the local lodge of Oddfellows held last evening, a number of new members were initiated, the degree work being done by a team from lodge No. 26, of Vancouver. Next Thursday evening the 1st degree will be conferred by the degree team of lodge No. 8, also of Vancouver.

The young people's club of St. Andrew's church will hold their general meeting on the first Tuesday in October. The committee appointed at the concluding session last spring is ready with a syllabus, for consideration by the club. The syllabus outlines a very energetic and attractive programme for the winter season.

E. J. Bennett, clerk at the Palace hotel, received the sad intelligence Wednesday of the death of his mother, at Ottawa. Although ninety-two years of age, Mrs. Bennett had never sustained any appreciable illness during her long life. The immediate cause of death was a stroke of paralysis, from which she passed away without recovering consciousness.

Sample Blouses

We are pleased to announce that our opening week has been marked with decided success, our volume of business going far ahead of everything we expected. Our aim, if possible, was to meet every shopper in the city and district and this we believe we have almost, if not wholly, accomplished. Indeed it was interesting to notice how, without exception, every customer left our store, not only satisfied but actually delighted to know that it was no longer necessary for them to go to Vancouver to do their buying in Dry Goods and Gents' Furnishings, since they find our prices to be as low and in most cases even lower than in Vancouver.

2nd Week Greater Bargains

For our second week selling we were successful in securing a full set of traveller's sample waists at a big cash discount. These are direct from the factory and the very latest production for fall. They come in Blacks, Whites, and Colors, all the Newest Cuts and Styles, including: All-over Lace Lined with silk, Chiffon Taffetas, Japan Taffetas, Louisines, China Silks, Lawns, India Linens, Organdies, &c., all prettily trimmed and tucked.

These will GO ON SALE SATURDAY and following week while they last at little above half their regular prices, RANGING FROM 75c TO $6.50.

A considerable number of delegates from North Vancouver went over to attend the reception given the Scottish delegates in Vancouver on Wednesday eve. Amongst the number were noticed Mayor Kealy, Ald. The project of establishing a second ferry service across the inlet has taken practical shape in a proposition that is made by the owner of several steamers in Vancouver. This owner is prepared to enter into an agreement with the district to operate a ferry from a point about midway between Brockton and Prospect Points, to a point west of the Capilano Indian reserve. The assent of the department of marine and fisheries has already been secured. The plan contemplates the extension of the B. C. electric line through Stanley Park on the Vancouver side and its extension along Keith and Robson Roads on the North side, to the place of landing in each instance.

Lynn Valley License

The adjourned meeting of the board of license commissioners to consider the application of Harry Holland, for a license to sell liquor in Lynn Valley, was held Wednesday afternoon. The decision of the legal advisor of the commissioners was to the effect that the formation of the Lynn valley water district did not constitute the district a township, for the purposes of the liquor licenses act. The report of the clerk of the district was to the effect that if the board were to proceed as for a township, then there were 40 favorable signatures out of ninety, and on the basis of a district then there were 68 signatures out of 180. After extended discussion, the board passed a motion to adjourn until the regular meeting inasmuch as there were not sufficient signatures to bring the petition under consideration.

Envelope Social

The envelope social held at the home of W. H. and Mrs. Parkin, last evening, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church, was a pronounced success. The attendance was large and was considerably augmented by a goodly company from Central church, Vancouver. The programme was an informal affair, comprising vocal solos by Mesdames Terryberry, Rich and Gavot, and Misses Morrison and Vickers; instrumental selections by Mrs. Smith and Miss Ada Morden; recitations by Mrs. Hall, Miss MacKenzie and Messrs. Hall, Heal, Clark and T. Martinson. The financial proceeds were highly satisfactory and will be devoted to the purposes of the organization.

Flag Raising at School

The Union Jack, presented to the Chesterfield avenue school by the education department, will be hoisted for the first time on Monday afternoon. The occasion will be marked by appropriate ceremonies. The flag will be run to the mast head during the singing of "Up With the Union Jack, Boys," by the school children. The other items of the programme will be "The Maple Leaf Forever," "Rule Britannia," by the school; recitation, "The Union Jack," by Dorris Anders. The items will be interspersed with speeches by Revs. Gilliam, Hooper and Balderstone, Mayor Kealy, Messrs. Philip and Geo. H. Morden. The proceedings will begin at two o'clock. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance of the public.
