VOLUME 6. NORTH VANCOUVER, B. C., FRIDAY, AUGUST 21, 1908. NUMBER 27

CITY COUNCIL

A confusion of dates as between the advertisement, which read August 17th, and the typewritten notices, which read the 18th, necessitated the postponement of the court of revision on the Eighth street improvements, which was to have been held Monday evening. The court of revision will be held on Monday, 24th inst.

Ald. May, Irwin, Crickmay, Wheeler, Smith and Braim were present at the council meeting, with Mayor Kealy in the chair.

Thomas Deasey, president of the B. C. association of fire chiefs, wrote, inviting the mayor and aldermen to attend the annual convention of the association, to be held in New Westminster on September 28th to 30th; clerk to acknowledge.

A belated invitation was read from the secretary of the New Westminster citizens committee, inviting the mayor and aldermen to the reception to the returning lacrosse club; clerk to acknowledge.

C. A. Lett wrote, calling attention to the unhealthy condition of the drain in front of his lots on 13th street. A. Clark interviewed the council with reference to this drain. Ald. Irwin suggested that it would be well to have these drains flushed out periodically; the health committee to act.

The mayor read a letter of thanks from the secretary of the relief fund at Fernie; received.

The finance committee, Ald. May chairman, recommended the payment of accounts totalling $1100; adopted. Board of works, Ald. Irwin chairman, recommended the payment of accounts totalling $229.32; adopted. Waterworks committee, Ald. Smith chairman, recommended payment of accounts totalling $58.31; apopted.

Under reports of committees, Ald. May stated that the bank had agreed to accept the deposit for sale of $72,000 in city debentures, as per the request of the district council.

The mayor asked if the bank had agreed to advance any money upon the debentures when deposited. Ald. May replied that no such arrangement had been made. The mayor could not see how the handing of the debentures over to the bank was going to assist the district in any way in that case, whereas on the other hand it would be detrimental to the city, as it would saddle the situation with certain conditions, whose fulfilment would be exacted by the bank, once the debentures were in their possession.

Ald. Irwin suggested that the city would be prepared to issue the debentures to the district at the going rate of 89 cents, with interest, in payment of outstanding accounts. Ald. Smith mildly intimated that the district might be able to succeed in selling the debentures to better advantage than the city, if they took them on the basis suggested. The mayor was agreeable to this, provided the district would give a clear receipt for the amount represented by the debentures at the price named.

Ald. May was not prepared to state the district would accept this proposition. He could not see that the placing of the debentures in the hands of the bank would prove detrimental to the city, but it might assist the district in financing their undertakings.

The mayor held otherwise and could not see how the scheme would at all benefit the district, unless the bank would advance money on the debentures, which they had not agreed to do.

Ald. May strongly contended that it was the duty of the city council to do what they could to relieve the situation. The district had carried the city along in this matter for a year or more, much to their inconvenience, and the city should feel under obligation to take some steps to discharge this obligation.

Ald. Crickmay was of opinion that the matter could not be disposed of at that session and moved that it be referred back to the finance committee. Carried.

City Clerk Shepherd read a report of the waterworks committee, recommending that the water service be laid to the house of A. H. Scriven, Lonsdale ave, and J. C. Keith, 6th street, opposite Ottawa Gardens. With reference to the unsatisfactory condition of the valve at the corner of 19th street and Ridgway ave, the committee recommended the construction of a cement reservoir, measuring 10x 10x20 feet, the cost of which would be about $500. First portion of report adopted; latter portion referred back for engineer's report and other details.

The special committee with reference to heating the city hall recommended the removal of the present furnace, which is unsatisfactory, and the installation of a coal furnace to heat the entire building. Carried.

Ald. Braim called attention to the bad condition of the crossings of the tramline on Lonsdale ave at 3rd, 4th, and 5th streets. The B. C. Electric is to be requested to repair same.

The city clerk reported the reception of a cheque for $163.40 from the Wallace Shipyards Co., in payment of expenses in connection with the submission of the Wallace Shipyards bylaw to the ratepayers. Authority was given to draw cheques in payment of the accounts owing under this head.

Council adjourned.

Horticultural Exhibition

Some special features of exceptional interest will mark the exhibition to be held in the horticultural hall on September 5th. Arrangements are about completed with the British-Canadian Wood Pulp & Paper Co., to instal a plant for the exhibition of their complete process for the production of gas, as a by-product in the manufacture of paper pulp. The Swayne Copper Mining Co., will have on display samples of ore from their mines, to which will be added a representative collection from the Lynn-Seymour mineral belt. Supt. Sharpe, of the experimental farm at Agassiz, with the sanction of Dr. Saunders, will put on a special exhibit, which will be well worth inspecting. The agricultural department at Victoria will probably make a display as well.

The general committee met on Tuesday last, when the above report was submitted. The resignation of Geo. J. Phillippo was accepted with regret. C. E. Lawson was appointed successor on the board.

Committees were appointed as follows: Reception and transportation, President A. Smith, Mayor Kealy, Reeve May, Ald. Irwin, Coun. Nye, A. B. Diplock, B. J. Cornish, A. Philip, Wm. Morden, W.B. Bunbury. Hall committee, T. S. Nye, J. Y. McNaught, W.H. Davidson, B. J. Cornish, J. Snodgrass, C. E. Lawson, G. H. Morden, A. Philp. Advertising committee, A. Philip, Geo. H. Morden, C.S. Young, W.C. Green. Music committee, T. S. Nye, A. Philip. Decorating committee, W. N. Lailey, J. Parkins, Geo. Smith, J. Bruce Hodge.

Assistant secretaries were appointed as follows: W. N. Lailey, R. Simpson, H. A. Shaw, W. C. Stone, C.S. Young.

Mrs. Dougall will be requested to take charge of the ladies' department and to select a committee to act with her.

Tekahionwake (Miss Pauline Johnson) the talented Mohawk authoress, will be heard in one of her popular recitative entertainments in the hall on Tuesday next and arrangements were completed accordingly.

Capilano Awakening

Several developments have combined recently to cause a considerable increase in the demand for Capilano property. It is known that large purchases of acreage were made some time ago, and the belief has taken shape that the Canadian Northern Railway is the real purchaser. In fact, it is openly asserted in influential circles that the western terminals of this line will be located opposite Brockton Point. The provincial government survey party is re-surveying the old lines and the prospects are good for the expenditure of considerable sums of public money in the construction of roads this autumn. The survey party of the B. C. Electric Railway Co. is now also in the field, running preliminary lines for the tramline up the canyon, the line to be in operation next spring. The district municipality has a survey party at work, on lines for a marine driveway to Eagle Harbor.

Another significant feature is found in the fact that the available offerings of property are almost altogether in small holdings, the large owners not being desirous of selling at the present time. The signs point to gratifying progress in the near future in Capilano district.

All Nation Social

The "All Nation Social," held under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society in St. Andrew's church last night resulted in a very decided success. The church was crowded. Rev. J. D. Gillan, pastor, presided.

The ladies of the congregation presided over beautifully decorated stalls depicting almost every nation of the world. The ladies themselves along with their attendants, were dressed in costumes characteristic of the nation they represented. A musical treat was provided those present in a lengthy and varied programme of vocal and instrumental music. Several recitations were also contributed.

The articles on sale at the various stalls were quickly disposed of and the ladies are to be congratulated upon the success which attended their untiring efforts.

School Opening

The public schools of the city will open for the autumn term on Monday. The school board wrote the superintendent of education requesting that an additional week of holidays be granted because of the protracted heat and also because the seats for the addition to the school have been delayed in transit. This morning a reply was received by wire with the peremptory directions, "The school must open on Monday." Because of the absence of seats for the new grade and because of the fact that the supply of school books requisitioned from the department has not yet come to hand, the sessions will be conducted under difficulties, but the only course open under the circumstances, is to do the best that can be done.

New Business Firm

Jack Loutet has severed his connection with the firm of Inkster & Ward, and has opened a real estate office of his own on Lonsdale avenue above 2nd street. He has a thorough knowledge of local real estate which will doubtless prove of advantage to his clients. W.S. Compston is associated with him and in conjunction with the real estate a general commission business will be carried on. Mr. Compston has been operating in this line in Vancouver for some time, acting as manufacturers' agent for jute, linen, etc. Various additional lines will be added for several of which arrangements are practically completed.

Capilano Tramline

A survey party under the directions of A.W. McGahen, C.E., took the field on Wednesday for the purpose of running the preliminary lines for the extension of the B. C. Electric Ry. Co., to Capilano. The party comprising the engineer and T. R. Solley, C. A. Walker, W. Black, E. Morrin, S. McMillan and W. Clark will make their headquarters at the Hotel North Vancouver for the present. Engineer MacGahen accompanied by Reeve May and W. H. Bunbury went over the ground in order to locate the general direction of the different lines of survey preparatory to actual operations. The party will be in the field for several weeks.

Football Tomorrow

The football season opens tomorrow when the local club will be at home to try conclusions in a friendly game with the Celtics. As the result of the game tomorrow is of no material consequence to the attainments of the club, the management committee have thought it advisable to avail themselves of this opportunity to ascertain the powers of several new players whose capabilities with the leather are not yet known to the committee. The kick-off is timed for 3.30 and admission to the game is free. Ladies are heartily invited to attend.

Public Work in Capilano

A provincial government survey party in charge of G. H. Dawson, C.E., is at work in Capilano district re-surveying the lands, sold at auction by the government in 1906. This action is taken at the request of the Capilano Property Owners Association, in order that their holdings may be more readily defined. Negotiations with the government with regard to the construction of roads have been progressing favorably and it is anticipated that at the conclusion of the survey from $10,000 to $20,000 will be expended for this purpose.

The B. C. Electric will spend $4,800,000 in improvements.

LYNN-SEYMOUR MINERAL BELT

The fact is ever becoming more clearly brought to view that in Lynn and Seymour valleys, the city of North Vancouver has, at her very doors, a district of fabulous richness and of boundless possibilities of development and of wealth production. The agricultural value of the lands will render them of great moment in the commissariat of the city that is to be, and the valuable forest areas are destined to yield their timber to the enrichment of the province.

But it is from the viewpoint of the vast mineral resources of the district that its chief importance for many years to come is to be seen. Considering the fact that the mineral belt at the head of Lynn creek and Seymour creek is comparatively so near at hand and not difficult of access, it is surprising that much more has not been heard concerning it. Those who are aware of its possibilities have not been slow, however, to avail themselves of the opportunities it offers.

At the present time it is asserted, on thoroughly reliable authority, that there are 30 different properties on Lynn creek upon which more or less development has been done, prominent amongst these being the properties of the Swayne Copper Mining Syndicate. The provincial department of mines recently sent their representative, Mr. Carmichael, into Lynn valley, to make a report upon its mineral resources, and while no information was given out, it was understood that he was most favorably impressed with the showing made and that his report would be of an encouraging character.

The country at the head of Seymour creek abounds in mineral and there is a considerable population in that district at present engaged in mining operations. There are many properties upon which extensive work has been done with most gratifying results. On one property, comprising eleven claims, some 2000 feet of tunneling has been done around the top of the mountain. Every tunnel is in ore, demonstrating the fact that there is practically a mountain of ore. The conditions are similarly encouraging with respect to many other claims. There appears to be every reason to conclude that a mining community of large proportions is destined to be located at the head of these creeks.

The district in question is all naturally tributary to North Vancouver. At the present time, because of the absence of satisfactory trails along the creeks, supplies are taken in with great difficulty and expense, via Howe sound. It is to the interests of North Vancouver, as well as of the portion of the district involved, that this unsatisfactory condition of affairs be remedied as soon as possible. The grades up Lynn and Seymour creeks are comparatively light and a moderate expenditure would give easy access from Burrard Inlet, making the entire section tributary to this city. It is asserted that a trail suitable for pack trains could be built for $100 per mile, or a good wagon road for about $500 per mile.

It is understood that the provincial government has intimated that it is not prepared to proceed with construction, as petitioned recently by the city and the district councils and the board of trade. The advantages to be derived, however, are so desirable and so evidently sufficient to justify the expenditure that if necessary the government should be importuned to give this matter favorable consideration. The suggestion that an effort be made to have the party of the Dominion geological survey, now operating at Van Anda, visit the district in question to make an exhaustive report upon its resources, is a good one and would doubtless accomplish a very great deal towards providing the most reliable information as to its mineral wealth.

ATTRACTIVE ADVERTISING

As Rev. Charles Stelzle says, the human mind is stirred by a change. It becomes tired of a monotone and soon becomes drowsy under its influence. No one method of advertising will long continue to attract attention, no matter how good it may be. Even the flashing of the electric sign soon loses its effect on the man who becomes familiar with it. Neither should the advertiser confine himself to a particular style, excepting as shall be hereafter designated. In any case there should be a regular freshness of appeal.

The successful advertisement speaks in different accents. It shouts its headlines to attract attention. As the reader comes nearer, it reduces its tone, and when he comes close it whispers its secrets in a voice which appeals to his heart as well as to his mind.

The advertisement which appeals to the largest number of senses is the most successful. One must constantly remember that people of every shade of temperament and disposition are being appealed to. Therefore, every attractive element which can be employed should be enlisted. The general style of the production, the character of the type, the color of the ink, the quality of the paper, may produce a combination which is truly artistic, or it may result in a job which will drive a man still further away. Some people may not be able to tell why they dislike the appearance of the advertisement, but they will plainly indicate their displeasure. It may be a very small matter, but it will be enough to nullify the effect of the effort.

Important, then, is the appearance of the job that is put out, aside from the quality of the reading matter which it contains. It always pays to employ a good printer. A cheap job is dear at any price. It rarely pays to get estimates on a job of printing. Find a printer whom you can trust and tell him what you want. He will do the job in good style and you will get the results—so far as he is concerned.

CORRESPONDENCE

The Special Audit

TO THE EDITOR OF THE EXPRESS:

Sir,—You are to be complimented on the full report, in your issue of the 14th inst., of the findings of the special audit committee, and the reply thereto by the regular auditors; though in justice to all concerned the annexed balance sheets referred to in that report should also have been published, else how can an opinion be expressed as to the form in which it would be desirable to have the accounts presented to the ratepayers at the close of the financial year.

So far as an onlooker could judge, the demand for a special audit did not arise out of any suspicion as to the honesty and ability of the staff at the city hall; but, at the meeting when the question of a special audit was mooted, such a denseness was manifested in regard to the finances of the city, bonds and rumors of bonds, debts and rumors of debts, and to crown all, Councillor McNaught appeared to understand even better than the mayor the financial situation, and drew a far from rosy picture of the city's total indebtedness in relation to its income.

This was how I understood the demand for the special audit arose, the "instigators," to use your unhappy expression, feeling that after this exhibition, it was time that a full and complete account of the financial position of the city be placed before the ratepayers.

Yours sincerely,

WILLIAM KNOWLES

A New Industry

A. J. Henderson, C.E., has leased from H. A. Jones the waterfront property at the corner of Mahon ave and Esplanade, and purposes establishing there a factory for the curing of smoke dried and salted fish. Mr. Henderson's former home was at Lowestoft, Suffolk, where he had an extended practice in his profession, which he was compelled to relinquish because of nervous breakdown. Mr. Henderson is an associate member of the institute of civil engineers, a member of the association of municipal and county engineers, and an associate of the royal sanitary institute of Great Britain. He planned and superintended the construction of one of the best known racing courses in the north of England, and has had extensive experience in the construction of large drainage systems.

The town of Lowestoft has a fleet of 1500 steam drifters engaged in the fishing trade. and in the course of his practice Mr. Henderson has gathered a thorough practical knowledge of the industry. It is his intention to cure salmon, halibut, cod, herring, etc., and also hams and bacon. The establishment will be ready for business in about two weeks, and goods will be placed on the market for both the home and export trade.

Fernie is Thankful

The following letter of thanks has been received by Mayor Kealy from the Fernie fire relief committee:—

"We beg to acknowledge receipt of your telegram of the 10th inst., conveying resolution of sympathy and promise of financial support to the fire sufferers in this district.

For this very generous expression of sympathy kindly convey to the citizens of the city of North Vancouver our most hearty and sincere thanks; also accept thanks for the generous donations which we have already received from you.

The situation is a hard one to cope with, but we anticipate that everything will be in good shape before winter, if we are not handicapped for lack of funds. However, contributions are pouring in from all directions, and we think we will have sufficient to carry on the good work. Yours respectfully,

FERNIE DISTRICT FIRE RELIEF COMMITTEE

Fernie, August 12th, 1908."

The Tuberculosis Question

EDITOR THE EXPRESS.

SIR,—Every right thinking person will give sympathetic support to any effort tending to prevent the occurrence of consumption, and doubtless Ald. Crickmay's letter in your last issue is such.

He makes, however, a series of assumptions and arrives at a conclusion one would like to examine. The first is that bovine phthisis is communicable to human beings. Up to the present this has not been proven to be a fact, the results of investigations being negative or inconclusive. It is not even yet clear that consumption is one of the contagious diseases, and the nature of it would lead one to think that it is not; no doubt similar conditions will bring about similar results.

The next is that the cow is primarily the main source of the bacillus and that other sources are like the Scotchman's falling short of perfection, "naething to speak o'." Yet it may be taken for granted that consumption, under existing social conditions, will be with us, were no cows in existence. It is not for a layman to air his convictions, but it must be evident to anyone who has studied the subject, that when the parts of the individual become dead, there the tubercle and partuers will be found doing their work, i.e., finding their food and that their products will cause further ills and more dead matter. Considering that the lungs are principally affected, the argument for the deposit of the tubercle in the lungs with dust need not have been so summarily dismissed.

As the udder of the cow does not, as a rule, contribute directly to the milk, it is assumed to get there, via the different processes and excretion. There are quite enough sources of milk contamination during milking without the revolting one of the animal's dung; but even then, has it been proved that the particular bacillae will survive the passage?

The last on which I will touch is the one that probably will do most harm if it finds expression as a by-law. It is that a never failing method has been found whereby it is possible to tell, without slaughtering, whether the animal is suffering from phthisis or not. The animal's daily condition will shew if it is diseased, but I could place no reliance whatever on the method to be adopted in the proposed bylaw.

The drinking water supplied to communities is now judged by its "bacterial context;" why not apply the same test to milk? The state board of health of Massachussets has placed the sanitary world under a debt by their magnificent work on kindred subjects and it is not surprising to find in that state an appreciation of the conditions surrounding the milk supply. The milk is classed by the number of micro-organisms it contains. If in a cubic centimetre, a quantity less than a half inch cube, there are found less than 10,000 organisms it is classed first; if under 50,000 as second and under 100,000 as third class. Such a test governs the whole conditions, compelling the milker to adopt sanitary precautions—cleanliness in everything surrounding the milk produced. It is a simple reliable test, preferrable to a doubtful operation which would permit filthy conditions to still continue. If it is not possible to obtain milk free from contamination indicated by the Alderman and as a rule further fortified by bovil acid, the sooner milk is discarded as an article of diet, after boiling, the better.

I am, Sir, yours truly,
DONALD CAMERON.
