BRIDGE AGREEMENT--SIGNED SEALED & DELIVERED

All Parties Now United — Immediate Movement Toward Construction–Type of Bridge to Be Decided at Once.

The conference of the interested companies and municipalities held on Tuesday with respect to Second Narrows bridge finally and satisfactorily disposed of all matters which have been the subject of negotiations and the way now stands perfectly clear for active operations. Briefly stated the conclusions arrived at unanimously by the conference were as follows: First, that the amended agreement between the V. W. & Y. Ry. Co. and Burrard Inlet Tunnel and Bridge Co. be adopted; second, that the two companies would sign the agreement the following day (Wednesday); third, that the application of the V. W. & Y. Ry. for an increased Dominion subsidy be energetically pushed at Ottawa at once and that each of the municipalities interested appoint a delegate to proceed to the capital to assist in this regard; fourth, that each of the municipalities interested be requested to purchase the shares as authorized at once and that their representatives be appointed to the Board of Directors of Burrard Inlet, Tunnel & Bridge Company; fifth, that a meeting be arranged immediately to take under advisement the question of the exact type of bridge to be constructed.

The number and the nature of the conclusions arrived at together wit the spirit of unanimity and enthusiasm that prevailed throughout clearly showed that the representatives at the conference were sure of their ground and were convinced that they could proceed with the full confidenc that the bridge is now an accomplished fact.

At the conclusion of the regular business, Dr. J. A. L. Waddell of the engineering firm of Waddell & Harrington, addressed the conference by request. Dr. Waddell stated that there were three types of bridges that might be considered, namely, the vertical lift span, the swing span or the bascule. He was of opinion that the vertical lift bridge would be the most suitable in this instance in view of all the requirements. A lift span bridge 1,800 feet in length, not including approaches with a lift clearance of 150 feet with a horizontal clearance of 220 feet would cost approximately $1,341,000 and if required an additional forty feet could be added to the lift clearance at a cost of $16,000. The cost of this type of bridge would be about $100,000 less than that of a swing span bridge. The bridge outlined as above would carry two railway tracks having a vehicular roadway on each side of them and sidewalks for pedestrians on the extreme outside.

Since the date of the conference it is learned that the agreement was duly signed by both companies on Wednesday and that a meeting will be held next week to consider the question of the type of bridge to be built as well as other matters.

To Help City Band

Admirer Starts Subscription Towards Additional Uniforms—Several Hundred Dollars Needed for New Equipment—Express Will Acknowledge All Contributions.

The article which appeared in the Express of the 7th inst. with reference to North Vancouver City Band has caused considerable discussion of band matters in which many highly complimentary remarks have been made as to the efficiency of that organization. The opinion is universal that the band has made splendid progress, that it is a credit to the city and that the highest commendation is due Bandmaster Chance and the members of the organization. The fact that more uniforms are required and that additional equipment in other respects is urgently needed has called forth the suggestion that the citizens would be prepared to contribute toward providing the same if opportunity were accorded them, one enthusiastic supporter of the band having voluntarily handed the editor a cheque for ten dollars with the suggestion that the Express accord the use of its columns for subscription purposes.

We are very pleased to follow up this intimation and subscriptions for band purposes will accordingly be received at this office and will be duly acknowledged in each issue of the Express.

RE WALLACE SHIPYARDS

Editor Express:

I am sorry that Mr. Wallace has so hurriedly rushed into print with his double barrelled complaint against North Vancouver. He complains of excessive taxation when as a fact he is only paying taxes on less than one-half the actual value of his land and he pays no taxes on his improvements. Personally I urged at the election that he get exemption from taxes altogether for a time—not on account of excessive taxation but on account of want of railway transportation. Others did the same and we regret the bylaw did not carry. But Mr. Wallace has himself alone to blame for that. Unfortunately he has not for a long time taken a kindly view of North Vancouver and his references to it have not commended for him the respect and influence of many who do believe in our young city. Mr. Wallace is in a position to do more for North Vancouver than almost any other man but the good he does with one hand he withdraws with the other. This is clearly seen in his second complaint that he has inadequate fire protection. It is difficult, yea it is impossible to give complete fire protection in a work like his where no watchman is kept on the premises. In the case of the recent fire the place was enveloped in flames before discovery but I can bear testimony to the splendid work of our brigade and of the many volunteer assistants in restricting the area of the conflagration. The best kind of evidence of the value of the brigade's work is seen on the ground. The shipyard was surrounded by very inflammable buildings but the fire was kept within a narrow area. I venture to say that it ill becomes Mr. Wallace to rush into print when such excellent work was done in his interest and in his own absence.

Going back to Mr. Wallace's taxation complaint let me say advisedly that there is no man in all North Vancouver that has had more direct benefit from the expenditure of North Vancouver taxes that Mr. Wallace and that he received in remission of penalties incurred in connection with the building of Ferry No. 3 alone nearly as much as all the taxes he has ever paid to North Vancouver.

I am sure every citizen will regret losing Mr. Wallace's industry if he decides to move it elsewhere, but certainly the reasons he gives for moving are not well founded and I exceedingly regret that he saw fit to publish them to the serious prejudice of a city which deserved better at his hands.

I am,

ALEX. PHILIP.

City Was Represented

Ald. Dick Attended Vancouver Council Meeting during discussion of Bridge Agreement.

We regret that in our report of the regular session of the city council last Monday evening, the correct reason for the absence of Ald. Dick was not assigned. Ald. Dick was absent by agreement with Mayor McNeish and was in attendance at the session of the city council of Vancouver for the purpose of watching the progress of the consideration of the bridge agreement, upon behalf of the city of North Vancouver. It was considered advisable that the local council should have a representative present, when matters so nearly associated with North Shore interests were under consideration.

Mr. F. Phamplet of Victoria, is a guest at the Hotel North Vancouver.

Mr. Armstrong of Toronto, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Foreman.

The Catholic school on Mahon Ave. is completed and will be opened in September under the direction of a lay teacher.

Dr. and Mrs. Martin have arrived in the city. The Doctor will practice in partnership with Dr. Newcombe.

The business of the North Vancouver Transfer Co. has changed hands, the former proprietors, R. Anson and Son having sold out to Messrs. Booth and Phillips.

Weather permitting North Vancouver city band will give one of their popular open air concerts at Victoria Park this (Friday) evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Foreman, Lonsdale Avenue, are expecting their son and wife up from California in a few days, to spend a week in North Vancouver.

A number of North Vancouverites spent Sunday, Monday and Tuesday in Seattle, among those away were Mr. E. McMillan, J. A. McMillan, Miss Brooks and Dr. Morrison.

Two drunks were brought before Mayor McNeish on Wednesday morning As both pleaded guilty the mayor imposed a fine of $2.50 and costs with a recommendation that they drink water during the balance of the hot weather.

Work in the interior of the new post office building is proceeding rapidly, already the pribate boxes are in position, and the other fixtures show promise of early completion, it is thought it will be ready for occupancy about the middle of the coming week.

Mr. Hurtibus of the Rainbow Cafe, has removed his business to the premises formerly occupied by the Esplanade Cafe, Esplanade West. Patrons of the old Rainbow will find the new cafe even more conveniently arranged, and will appreciate the many improvements which Proprietor Hurtibus has installed.

Mr. W. C. Green, local representative of the World, has purchased a seven h. p. Indian motor cycle. This machine is the speediest of its kind made and will do 90 miles an hour with ease. Mr. Green will use the machine in connection with his newspaper work as well as for pleasure.

Ferry Directors

With a view of supplying the waterfront with adequate fire protection Director Williams at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the ferry board, suggested that the old North Vancouver ferry No. 1 be utilized as a fire ship. Nearly all the directors seemed to rather favor the proposal. After a lengthy discussion, however, the matter was laid aside although it is certain it will crop up again at the next meeting.

A letter was received from Mr. J. A. Thompson, inspector of steamboats, re the recent application of Manager Heard to the department of Marine and Fisheries, for enlarging the certificate of passenger carrying capacity on Ferry No. 3 which at present is only licensed for 700 passengers. Mr. Thompson promised that he would give his attention to the matter at an early date.

Mr. J. W. Donaldson, secretary of the local Board of Trade, wrote stating that the McDougall-Jenkins, Engineers Ltd., had communicated with the Board of Trade alleging that they had been hardly used in the matter of preference in awarding contracts by the Ferry Company. The secretary of the company in a letter to the Board requested an audience in order that these complaints might be aired. The secretary was instructed to reply to the effect that an audience would be given any Thursday afternoon at the regular ferry meeting.

Mr. J. W. Donaldson, secretary of the Board of Trade, also wrote regarding this matter stating that the Board of Trade had appointed the president, Mr. A. Philip, Mr. A. G. Perry and Coun. E. H. Bridgman as a delegation to be present at the meeting between the directors and the McDougall-Jenkins.

The application of H. North, ferry freight clerk at the Vancouver side for a raise in salary was filed temporarily

District Council

Little business other than that of a routine character, occupied the time of the district fathers at their regular meeting last evening. Many applications for roads and sidewalks were received from property owners in the municipality and these will be dealt with by the committees under whose direction they come. The engineer also had many reports on the progression of work in the district in connection with the opening up of roads and the supplying of better water service.

Architect D. McAulay recommended that the account of Contractor Jay in reference to the municipal hall, Lynn Valley, be paid on the event of the district authorities taking over the work. In this connection Burns and Walkem, solicitors, wrote the council enclosing copy of letter which had been sent to Contractor Jay notifying him that the council would give him six days written notice of their intention of taking over the contract providing a sufficient crew of men were not put to work at once thereby causing only a small delay in the completion of the work.

Mr. A. G. Perry, local manager of the B.C.E.R. in a letter gave notice that the directors of his company who are at present in Victoria, will be here during the coming week. The council decided that when the directors should arrive a delegation from the council will meet them with a view of applying for the extension of some of the lines of the tram service in the district.

The city clerk wrote re the request of the district council to the city authorities, that they should co-operate with them in making application for an amendment to Clause 3 of the Land Registry Act, stating that Mayor McNeish had been appointed a delegate to act with the delegation from adjoining municipalities who will meet the premier of the province in Victoria shortly for the presentation of several petitions.

Hon. W. W. Foster, deputy minister of the department of public works, in a letter acknowledging receipt of the council's communication regarding the dredging of Lynn Creek stated that he would inform the authorities when any action was taken in the matter.

A petition received from six property owners residing on Kilmer Road for a sidewalk was referred to the Board of Works and the engineer for an estimate.

Mr. John McAffee, a contractor in Lynn Valley, in a letter of protest to the council alleged that he was the victim of the engineer's spite. Mr. McAffee said that he wished the council to inquire as to the reason of his road gang and himself being laid off work by the engineer. He had worked over three years for the municipality and was a resident and property owner.

A special meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, the 25th inst., to consider this matter and the engineer was instructed to bring in a report at this meeting.

A petition was received from eleven property owners on King and Nye streets asking that a temporary flume be constructed from Mosquito Creek to the pipes already laid on those streets, as the water supply of the community had entirely failed within the past two days. This was referred to the engineer for an estimate.

ENJOYABLE FUNCTION

On Wednesday evening at the Canyon View Hotel, Capilano, the manager of the hotel, Mr. C. M. Sloane, and his wife, celebrated the anniversary of their wedding by a banquet. Over 150 guests were present and the host and hostess received many handsome and valuable presents as tokens of the esteem in which they were held by their friends. Representatives of the Eastern Star lodge, the Burrard Lodge No. 3 and the Vancouver Lodge Alexander No. 4 were present. The hotel was delightfully decorated, the dining room in particular showing to great advantage the good taste in arrangement.

Yesterday morning the annual picnic of the Sacred Heart Catholic congregation took place to Bowen Island. The picnickers were conveyed to the Island in the SS. Barambo.

RECORD PAY ROLL

The city pay roll for the twelve days immediately preceding Wednesday of this week was over $15,500 or upwards of $1,250 per day, according to the statement of City Treasurer S. Humphreys. This sum applies only to workmen employed on the several extraordinary works which are at present being carried out under the direct control of the city and is therefore exclusive of the ordinary work that is always in hand as well as all those undertakings which are proceeding under contract.

ENJOYABLE BAND CONCERT

The band concert at the Palace Hotel roof garden was much enjoyed last evening by those attending. Many took advantage of the proximity of the contents of the refreshment stand to supplement the musical feast which was rendered so delightfully by the boys of the City Band.

Mr. George Miller has left the employ of the Express.

The novel feature which the proprietors of the Japanese Tea Gardens are advertising, free motion pictures, is attracting many to the Gardens.

The ways at the Wallace Shipyards undergoing temporary repairing will be ready to dock boats as usual at the beginning of the week.

The attention of the health authorities might be called to the obvious unsanitary conditions on the Esplanade west near Lonsdale Avenue.

Constable Lifton of the district police is working energetically to capture the wild man who has been seen several times in the vicinity of the Capilano. The constable has a clue and expects to discover the whereabouts of the man shortly.

Mr. J. J. McAleece, the local dry goods merchant, is making extensive alterations to his store on Lonsdale near First street, having secured the premises recently occupied by the Bank of Hamilton for that purpose.

A LIBERAL DONATION

North Vancouver City Band has been giving a series of excellent concerts of late on the roof garden at the Palace Hotel. At the conclusion of the concert last evening Manager Reda handed Bandmaster Chance a cheque for fifty dollars as a tangible expression of his appreciation of the services of the band. This contribution, coming as it does at a time when the band is in need of additional equipment, is very acceptacle and with reasonable response to the appeal which is made in another column, upon the part of the citizens, the finances of the band will be placed in position to meet all present requirements.

A NEW SCIENCE

The Science of Aerial Navigation is the latest claimant for recognition in the field of human knowledge, and there is now no doubt that a permanent and prominent place must be provided for it. The ability of man to sail through the air is demonstrated beyond all question, his ability to guide the airship (by whatever particular designation it may be known) unerringly, from the place of departure to the desired destination, for long distances, has been fully vindicated. Practical aerial navigation is no longer an experiment, it is an actual fact, and there is no intelligent ground for any conclusion other than that travel through the air is destined to become one of the established and customary methods of transportation.

Such being the case, it becomes necessary that the fullest and most accurate knowledge be acquired with reference to every phase of aerial navigation, that this knowledge be gathered together, systematized and rendered readily accessible to all people. It becomes necessary likewise, that methods be devised for the guidance of aerial navigators in shaping their course from one point to another. It will be necessary that charts be prepared showing air currents, etc., that landmarks be designated and that a system of specially constructed devices for the guidance of air pilots by night as well as by day, be provided.

The salient features of the science of aerial navigation will doubtless follow closely those of water navigation, with such deviations as may be required by the special characteristics of the new method of travel. In those centres in which the most rapid progress has been made in aeronautics, much has already been accomplished along these lines, the nucleus of the new science has been formed, and about this centre is destined to be gathered a mass of data, ever increasing in volume, ever extending in scope, that will constitute a valuable addition to the sum of the serviceable knowledge of the race.

While it is certain that a very great deal of the information which will result from this new field of human enterprise will be of a special or technical character, such as will be of interest or of service to those only who are actually engaged in aerial transportation, it is likewise true that there will result a very great deal of knowledge of a more general nature, with respect to which every well informed person will desire to be more or less familiar. As one writer has recently stated the case, "Aerial Geography" may shortly assume a place with the other text books now employed in schools." As a practical comment upon the progress which is being made along these lines, a recent news letter from Montreal states that the first official air maps ever prepared in Canada are now being drawn and chartered in that city. The letter states that the task is an enormous one, and when completed, will provide maps and charts, undreamed of a few years ago.

Some idea of the scope of this new aerial geography may be gathered from the fact that it will show all the air currents and air routes of this country, most favorable to aeronauts. Landmarks, including not only lakes and mountains, but also the distinguishing night lights of the different cities, will be explained in foot notes on sections of the map, just as buoys and lighthouses are explained in foot notes on ocean charts. Lighthouses too, will be shown, and it is proposed to construct a series of inland lighthouses, as has been done in Germany, for the guidance of travellers by air routes. Sectional maps showing different air routes in different sections of the country are also to be made. These will be printed on long strips of parchment and fixed to rollers, which in turn may be hung in a permanent place in an air ship, just as is a ship's compass. As the airmen pass over each part of the country, they will be enabled to identify it at once, by reference to the map. These sectional maps will represent areas about ten miles wide, thus making allowance for the possibility of the air pilot being blown off his course. "Altogether" concludes the letter, "the coming of the air age, among its many other results, may revolutionize the study of geography."

Aerial geography, aerial navigation, aerial travel and transportation will doubtless rank during future epochs as the most important contribution of the earlier portion of the twentieth century, to human knowledge and progress.

News Items of City and District

Within the past few days a number of holiday hunters have departed for the head waters of the Seymour and Capilano streams, with tents and blankets, and grub to spend their vacations far from the madding crowd.

The death occurred on Wednesday morning at the North Vancouver city hospital of the little two-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Burges of this city. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon from the undertaking rooms of Hanson Bros. to the Mountain View cemetery where the body was interred.

BAND CONCERT TONIGHT

An unavoidable postponement had to take place in the advertised Wednesday concert of the City Band, and as a result the concert will be held in Victoria Park tonight.

BASEBALL

The baseball game between a picked team from Spencer's department store, Vancouver, and a North Vancouver team at Recreation Park this evening, is attracting a good deal of attention. Al. Loyal, the one time Vancouver catcher, and coast league star will do the receiving for the home team, while either Larson or Tompkins will do the hurling. Altogether a very good exhibition of the game may be looked for. Play will commence at 6.30 sharp.

GETTING GOOD

A very noticeable feature has lately been the scarcity of offenders against the long arm of the law. This is very gratifying to North Vancouverites, who put it down to good influences at work. This law abiding tendency is all the more remarkable on account of the large number of foreigners who are at present employed in the city.

THE TALE OF TWO CITIES

Charles Dickens' literary masterpiece as told through the medium of motion pictures will be presented at the Gem theatre tonight, for the first time and will also be shown on Saturday afternoon and evening. These instructive and interesting films are ones that the public of North Vancouver should not fail to see.

Mr. P. Larson, proprietor of the Hotel North Vancouver, is carrying out considerable improvements in the arrangement of the grounds in front of the hotel. Judging from the results accomplished at this stage of the work it will make a decided improvement.

The North Vancouver City Band returned on Wednesday evening, from a day spent at Bowen Island, where they had been playing for the Master Bakers' picnic. A delightful trip was enjoyed by the party who travelled on the Baramba. Mr. Jimmie Varnes acted as bandmaster in place of Mr. Robert Chance, who was unable to accompany them.

TENNIS COURTS OPEN TOMORROW

Local tennis followers are looking forward with much interest to the official opening of the new tennis courts at North Lonsdale, which will take place tomorrow. An entertaining program has been arranged. The tournament will commence at 2 o'clock and a large number of visitors from Vancouver are expected to participate. A flannel dance in the Horticultural hall will conclude the day's enjoyment.

Precautions Against Forest Fires

Commissioner W. C. Gladwin Sounds Warning Note

While the province has been exceptionally fortunate in the matter of forest fires and consequent loss thus far this season, in large part owing to ceaseless watchfulness, it is only by observance of the utmost care that outbreaks can now be avoided in certain dangerous districts, points out Commissioner W. C. Gladwin.

"In some districts," says the Commissioner, "the conditions existing at present are such that should a fire originate, it will only be with the greatest difficulty that heavy loss will be prevented. The department, of course, has a considerable force of rangers out patrolling the various districts night and day, but one careless individual may cause all their efforts to count for naught and start a fire occasioning heavy loss in lives and property."

This fact cannot be too frequently impressed upon the public mind, now that the dry season of midsummer is at hand.

Josiah's Devotion to God

The pendulum of national life in Judah swung often to heathenism. Some powerful personality must needs rise to neutralize the magnetism. It was the hand of a young man that was to loosen the nation from that evil loadstone. Skill, resolution, strength, were the characteristics of the hand that finally laid hold of that task. Josiah was a lily on a dunghill. He exhaled the fragrance of a pure spirit above the prutrescence of his time. He donned the purple at eight and straightway gave himself to God. There were few advantages in the boy's environment. The book of the law was lost. There was no regular worship. It had been two hundred years since any attention had been given to the temple. It was in ruins, its ritual suspended. Yet in the darkness of the hour the pure theistic faith of the boy-king shone out. He was not simply negatively good. He was positive and aggressive against evil, not only pious but powerful. The record is significant. At eight years he began to reign and at the same time "seek after the God of his fathers." When he had reigned twelve years he "began to purge Judah." What he did he did well. Down came the high places with their altars. The images were pulverized and as an object lesson to the living the dust was strewn on the graves of those who had worshipped them. Six years later Josiah undertook the repair of the temple—the money and material having been previously collected. He showed wisdom by associating the officials with him. That was a sign of its being a national undertaking and not the private affair of the king. The "overseers" are honored by having their names preserved in the record. It is added "The men did the work faithfully." Significant! Sufficient! Josiah shares the laurel with Hezekiah the other good king of Judah. It is very simple but under the circumstances an expressive notation "They did right. They turned neither to the right nor the left."

THE TEACHER'S LANTERN

Josiah stands high in the catalogue of those who have done great deeds while yet in their youth. Mosart filled all the world with unearthly music before he was thirty-five and Raphael gave us all his glowing canvasses before he was of that age. Luther was thirty-four when he nailed his theses to the church door. William Cullen Bryant was nineteen when he wrote "Thanatopsis" Garfield was twenty-six when he became a college professor. Edison became the "wizard" before he was thirty-five. Summerfield preached all his sermons before he was twenty-seven. William Nichols Crouch composed his serenade "Kathleen Mavourneen" at nineteen. The author of the "Watch on the Rhine" was twenty-one when he wrote it. Every boy and girl is heir apparent to a kingdom. It is not a realm of gold lace and empty functions, but a kingdom of character and service. Clear vision of this, careful preparation for it—courageous entrance upon it, that is the only genuine royalty. There is subtle meaning in the original Hebrew word translated "destroyed"—"the houses which the kings of Judah destroyed"—literally "destroyed by neglect." They did not need to raise iconoclastic hands against the sacred building, all that was necessary was to leave it alone, just cease repairs. It costs as much as would build a small cathedral every year just to keep St. Peter's at Rome in repair. And there are other things besides buildings that can be "destroyed by neglect." A vacuum must always be filled. When Josiah had emptied the land of paganism he filled it with theism and restored the worship of God. It is not enough to destroy evil. One must go on to construct good. Here is a fine example of co-operation and organization. Josiah did not attempt to do the work single-handed. He associated others with him.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S DEVOTIONAL SERVICE—July 23, 1911. Psalm civ: 10-31. Lessons From Animals

Bible is a camera obscura in which the whole world—animate and inanimate, can be seen. Every feature of natural scenery is in it, all beasts, birds fishes, besides trees, shrubs, fruits, and flowers. The bible is botanical horticultural, zoological, ornithological. The "supernatural" book is full of the natural and is always true and faithful to it, while making no pretence to scientific exactness.

Started Fire Without Permit --- Fined $50

Joseph Davis of Comox has learned as a result of a recent invitation extended to him to appear in court, that there are occasionally two sides to a joke. Mr. Davis thought he had a joke on the government of British Columbia, and the Forests Protection department thereof. His joke arose out of the fact that he had recently set out a large fire for the purpose of clearing land, a fire which occasioned his neighbor settlers very considerable alarm, and had done so without concerning himself with obtaining a permit as required by statutory law. Indeed he had boasted openly that he had secured no permit and did not propose to do so. Evidence to this effect was offered before Mr. Bates, J. P., at Courtney, and upon conviction Mr. Davis was taxed $50 and costs for burning without a permit, the minimum fine prescribed.

JAPANESE WORKMAN DROWNED

On Monday, while working a boom near the Second Narrows, a Japanese workman met his death by drowning. The man was attempting to push a portion of the boom away from the shallow water, when the pike pole he was using slipped and precipitated him into the water. Some of his companions who were near by, and some boys who were fishing in a row boat, hurried to his rescue, but it was forty minutes or more before the body was recovered, owing to the presence of drift and logs. The body was brought to the undertaking parlors of Harron Brothers, North Vancouver, and an inquest was held Wednesday morning. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death by drowning.
