OTTAWA DELEGATION OPTIMISTIC

Bridge Subsidy; Federal Buildings for North Shore

A telegram from W. J. Irwin at Ottawa to Alexander Philip, president of the local Board of Trade, received this morning states "Prospects for Second Narrows Bridge subsidy this session very bright. Dominion building for North Vancouver practically assured. Board of Trade incorporation now effected. All other matters receiving attentive consideration."

Information of a most reliable nature gathered from other sources leads to the conclusion that the Dominion subsidy for the bridge is practically assured to the Burrard Inlet Tunnel and Bridge Company as soon as an agreement with the V. W. & Y. Railway Company granting them some concession for the relinquishment of their claim in the subsidy and in the charter for the construction of a railway bridge. Suggestions as to the nature of this concession have already been made from influential sources and are of such a nature as to leave no doubt that an amicable adjustment will be reached. The representatives of the V. W. & Y. Ry. Co. arrived in Ottawa this week and it is hoped to carry negotiations to an early and successful conclusion.

City Council Makes Record for Despatch of Business

Last evening's meeting of the city fathers, with Acting Mayor McRae in the chair and all the members excepting those in Ottawa present, was a record one for brevity, the terminating point being shortly after nine o'clock.

Correspondence was read as follows:

From H. C. Constan, asking for a road to his property, lot 6-3-616. Referred to the Board of Works.

From W. C. Wiles, asking if it was the council's intention to extend 8th street between Ridgeway and St. Andrew's Ave. Referred to the Board of Works.

From Mrs. Geo. Fotheringham, asking for a street grade at the corner of Keith Road and Moody Avenue for a dwelling and store she was building. Ref. to the engineer to report.

From S. J. C. Atkins, giving notice of organization meeting of the "Made-in-Canada fair association in the Board of Trade rooms, Vancouver, on March 6th.

From the general superintendent's office, C. P. R., Vancouver, advising that on Mr. Busteed's return from the east the city's letter re a crossing over the company's tracks would be brought to his attention.

From H. E. Kemp, secretary ferry board, acknowledging city's resolution re overhead bridge crossing C. P. R. tracks and intimating the board's willingness to co-operate with the council in the matter on Mr. Busteed's return. Two members of the board had been appointed on a committee and Ald. Smith and Henderson were appointed from the city council.

From R. N. Baylis, acting C.M.C., acknowledging city's resolution re subway underneath C.P.R. tracks. He intimated district council's intention to co-operate with the city in this matter. Filed.

From H. E. Kemp, sec. ferry board, recommending, pursuant of a resolution from the Ratepayers' Association through the Board of Police Commissioners that a constable be detailed on the ferry wharf to meet every ferry.

Commissioner Williams said that this was an urgent matter as the traffic was becoming greater and there were acts committed on the ferries in the way of foul language and the board deemed it expedient that an officer should be on the wharf at these times. The constable should meet all the boats. He appealed for a recommendation from the council to the police commissioners. Commissioner P. Larson spoke in a like strain.

Ald. Kittson moved that the chairman of the police commissioners be asked to call a meeting of the board at an early date to take the matter up. The resolution passed.

From the provincial premier's office, acknowledging receipt of city's resolution re the Land Registry Act.

From the provincial public works department re the construction of the road through Moodyville and D. L. 272-3 stating that it was the intention of the government to commence work on the road at an early date. The new road through Moodyville would follow very nearly the route of the old road.

From Clerk Shepherd, recommending in view of the circumstances arising in connection with the Victoria elections that a committee from the council be appointed to consider who should be assessed and the names to be placed on the voters' list. The whole council was appointed a committee.

From the Fraternal Order of Eagles, asking council to consider their formal application for a large plot in the cemetery for the burial of their members. Ald. Biss said the matter would receive immediate attention as soon as the mayor and Ald. Dick returned from the east when it would be decided definitely if the site should be changed or not.

From the M. P. Cotton Co. advising that Evans, Coleman & Evans had intimated that they could not deliver vitrified sewer pipe under their contract to North Vancouver while the city engineer adopted such rigid rules in examining the pipe. If the pipe was inspected on the company's wharf in Vancouver the cost of transporting the culls back would be avoided. To enable them to continue their work on the Lonsdale Ave. storm sewer they asked that some means be adopted to comply with the wishes of Evans, Coleman & Evans.

Evans, Coleman & Evans alleged, in a letter along similar lines that the engineer had returned two car loads intact without giving any reason. They objected to this way of inspecting and unless the inspection was made on their wharf they would be unable to ship any more pipe under the North Vancouver contracts, allowance being made for breakage in transit.

The engineer replied to these charges by saying that the specifications called for a certain class of pipe and he was standardizing the pipe accordingly. He had previously pointed out to Mr. Foster the company's agent, that the quality of some of these pipes was not what it should be and Mr. Foster replied that he had not then read the specifications. You had better read them, observed the engineer. Mr. Hanes denied that he had returned two car loads as alleged. The majority of the pipe was all right especially that being used by the Macdonnell Gzowski Co., but there were some pipes which he would not accept, especially the large pipe complained of by Mr. Cotton which had large fire cracks clear through the shell rendering them unequal to the water test prescribed.

It was Ald. Kittson's opinion that Evans, Coleman & Evans were out of their province in addressing the council on this matter. It was with the contractors that the council had to deal. He moved that M. P. Cotton & Co. be asked to abide by the specifications of the contract. Ald. Henderson seconded the motion which passed.

Two resolutions from the Ratepayers' Association which were dealt with at last week's meeting were taken as read and filed.

From Messrs. Dalton and Eveleigh, asking permission on behalf of Messrs. Lett and Son to erect area spaces underneath the sidewalk on First street in front of their new block. This was granted subject to the approval of the engineer.

A. Williams asked for the opening up of Ridgeway Ave. between Keith road and Lion street and a sidewalk to lots 6-105-550. It was referred to the B. of Works.

The engineer advised that some of the sewer pipe being put in by Macdonnell Gzowski would not stand the water test. He had advised them that he could not pass the work. It was his opinion that all the pipe should be inspected before the trenches were filled in and the same had been communicated to the contractors. The council sanctioned the engineer's action in this matter and on the motion of Ald. Henderson and Kittson, copies of this report will be sent to the contractors.

An application from the B. C. Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals for a grant was filed.

Tenders for the alterations to the city hall were opened as follows: Allan and McKay, $5,500; Manville and Woodard, $5,660, and Smith Bros., $6,742. The former was accepted. Tenders for supplying sidewalk lumber to the city were received from the North Vancouver Lumber Co. the price quoted being $16 per M and from the Seymour Lumber Co. at $18 per M. The contract was awarded to the N. V. Lumber Co.

The following plans were passed: Block 236, D.L. 546, lots 21 and 22, block 49, D.L. 548 and blocks 217A and 230A D.L. 545 and 546.

Acting Mayor McRae said it was his intention upon the return of the mayor to resign the chairmanship of the finance committee.

The engineer reported as follows on the installation of sanitary sewers on the local improvement plan on the Esplanade, 1st, 2nd and 3rd streets. The estimated cost per street was given by street as Esplanade and Crescent street from St. George's to St. David's Ave. $33,450, city's share $1,110; 1st street from St. Patrick's Ave. to St. David's Ave. $10,827; 2nd street, 300 feet east of St. Andrew's to St. David's $14,800, city's share $405, and 3rd street from St. Andrew's to St. David's $16,784, city's share $1,250.

The report was adopted.

Ald. Biss wanted to know if anything was being done in regard to widening the Grand Boulevard to a uniform width of 150 feet from St. George's to St. Andrew's Ave. and down Jones Ave.

Acting Mayor McRae said that last year's council had not made any promises in regard to expropriating lands. It occurred to Ald. Smith that the 1910 council had passed a motion to expropriate the necessary property and the assessor had been instructed to report on the cost.

Ald. Kittson strongly objected to the council expropriating on its own initiative in this case. If the property owners came forward with a petition under local improvement he would be agreeable to institute expropriating proceedings. The matter was finally left with the parks and lanes committee to bring in a report.

Council adjourned at 9.20.

Provincial Legislature

Review of the Session Just Closed.

(Express special correspondent)

Victoria, March 1—The second session of the twelfth parliament of British Columbia, which was prorogued by Lieutenant-Governor Paterson on Wednesday afternoon, was a remarkably quiet and non-contentious one, and for that very reason, in all probability, more actual legislation was put through in the seven weeks that it lasted than in many a noisier and longer period. The number of bills introduced in proportion to those that actually became law was remarkably small, for of 88 measures that went through first reading assent was given to 78. Of the latter 63 were public and 15 were private bills.

To attempt to give any extended review of the legislation in a short article, would be impossible, but some of the leading legislation is worthy of mention. There were several important measures making for greater public safety. Among these was Attorney-General Bowser's bill to regulate automobile traffic. The requirements imposed upon the automobilists in this act may seem rather stringent but it is a recognition of the principle that on the road the pedestrian has first place, the horse the second, and the mechanically propelled vehicle the third. It will tend to make drivers of motor cars more careful, and their punishment for wrongdoing more sure.

The Premier's amendment to the Coal Mines Regulation Act was considered by many to be the most important bill of the session. To one not actually engaged in coal mining most of its clauses must seem unintelligible, but those who should know say that it safeguards the working coal miner in almost every possible way, and Mr. Hawthornthwaite, who had criticised some of the sections rather severely, admitted when it came up for third reading that the bill was a credit to the government and to the legislature.

Hon. Dr. Young's amendment to the Health Act to provide for the inspection of logging camps, saw mills and similar places, should make for better sanitation where it is often much needed. His other amendment, a conscience clause excusing vaccination to the scrupulous anti-vaccinationists, may not make for public health, but it certainly provides for individual convenience in many cases. The tramways inspection act is another measure that tends to greater public safety.

Among regulative acts of considerable importance were the Fire Insurance bill and the Trust Companies Act both brought down by Attorney-General Bowser. The trust Companies bill is intended to insure greater safety for those who place their money with Trust Companies for investment. The Fire Insurance bill which comes into force at the beginning of next year, will harmonise insurance regulations and taxation, prove a defence against incendiarism, and at the same time place companies with local agents on an equal footing with outside companies, which have formerly escaped taxation in this province.

PUBLIC MEETING THIS EVENING

Dr. Elliott S. Rowe, Manager of the Vancouver Tourist and Information Bureau, will address a public meeting of business men at the City Hall this evening at eight o'clock upon the subject "Community Publicity." The meeting is called by the Joint Civic Advertising Committee.

FIRE CHIEF ASKED TO RESIGN

Incorporated in the recommendations from the fire and light committee to the council last evening was a report of the chairman to the effect that certain dissatisfaction existed among the firemen because of the treatment received at the hands of the fire chief. Four of the men had seen fit to leave the service. The committee decided to recommend that the fire chief be asked to resign at the end of the month. The recommendation was adopted.

THE CHINESE FAMINE RELIEF FUND

Mr. Philip desires to acknowledge receipt of the following sums towards this fund making a total to date of $78.25 which he has forwarded to the treasurer of the Vancouver fund for the same object:

Per Rev. J. H. Hooper	$21.00
Per Rev. W. C. Schlichter	24.75

BID OF 100.03 ACCEPTED

The bid of Amelius Jarvis & Co. of Toronto of $100.03 for the city's 20-year 5 per cent. debenture issue of $141,000 was, upon the recommendation of the finance committee accepted at last evening's city council meeting.

MAPLE LEAF DANCE

The next regular dance of the Maple Leaf Dancing Club will be held in the Horticultural hall on Friday evening of this week. Werner's orchestra will be on deck with an unusually attractive program.

The SS. Fugal unloaded a cargo of hay and grain at the Brackman and Ker wharf this morning. The cargo was consigned to this firm.

Remember! The Hicks choir of 60 voices of the 6th Ave. Methodist church will give a grand sacred song recital in the North Vancouver Methodist church on Tuesday evening, Mar. 21st. Keep this date for the recital.

Dredging First Narrows; Work to Commence Early

"You may announce that the work of dredging the First Narrows of Burrard Inlet is to be proceeded with immediately on the arrival of the new dredge which is expected in about ten days—no truth in rumor of dredge being first sent to Alberni."

The above telegram received from Ottawa was sent by W. J. Irwin, representing North Vancouver Board of Trade on the delegation at present in Ottawa, to Alexander Philip, president of the Board of Trade.

District Council Considers Many Road Applications

The regular meeting of the district council was held last Thursday with Acting-Reeve Allan presiding and all the councillors excepting Coun. Ward present.

As usual there was a large batch of correspondence, principally applications for roads. Those read were as follows:

From C. W. Mathers asking for the removal of a number of stumps on the road allowance in front of his premises at the N.W. corner D. L. 1063. Referred to the Board of Works.

From J. N. Bunker, asking payment for boulevarding 100 feet in front of his property, lots 17 and 18, block 8, D. L. 553. The account was for $8 and was referred to the engineer with power to act.

From P. Westover, secretary of the Lynn Valley Institute hall, stating that the present hall was inadequate and it was proposed to build a new hall. The Institute was a public institution for the benefit of the whole Valley.

Mr. Allman, spokesman for the delegation, said they wished the council to aid them in appreciation of their efforts. The present building was not up-to-date enough to meet the growing population.

J. M. Fromme said the proposed building was estimated to cost $2,000. There was a free library in connection and it was intended to have provision made in the new building for athletics. The application was referred to the committee of the whole council.

From C. H. Morgan asking for the grading of 12th street and water connections to his property lot 8-8-555. Ref. to engineer with power to act.

From J. A. Mayhood and others, asking for a means of access into lots 22, 23, 24, 25, block 3, D.L. 785, to enable them to get in building materials. Two houses were projected. Ref. to the engineer to report.

From Jas. Roberts asking for road connections to his property lots 1, 2, 3, 4, block 3, D.L. 600. He also asked that some dangerous trees be removed nearby. It was referred to the Board of Works.

From the city clerk, North Vancouver, submitting a resolution passed at a recent meeting in regard to taking immediate steps toward providing a temporary foot bridge over the C.P.R. tracks at the Vancouver approach to the ferry wharf. It was resolved to reply that the district would co-operate in any way possible.

From Mrs. Kate Hepburn, making a third application for a road and water connections to her lots, 17 and 18, block 4, D. L. 600.

Coun. Loutet said at the present time there was no road allowance. The engineer was instructed to report on the cost of getting water to the property. The matter as to a road will be taken into consideration.

From Geo. Cranton, asking when a road would be put into the NE part of D. L. 617. He owned lots 17 to 21, block 3 and was waiting to build. Referred to the B. of Works.

From S. Gintzburger re a notification that damage had been done to Hollyburn wharf. Although the cost

LICENSE BOARD MEETING

The quarterly meeting of the North Vancouver Board of License Commissioners will be held in the city hall tomorrow afternoon. Interest will centre in Messrs. R. E. Macnaghten and P. Rochussen's application for a bottle license.

N. V. HOCKEY TEAM WINS

Before a large and enthusiastic crowd of spectators at the Boulevard grounds here last Saturday afternoon the North Vancouver hockey players put a quietus on any hopes the Vancouver aggregation might have had towards giving free transportation to the Dick Cup which was hung up by Ald. Wm. J. Dick for the most number of wins in a series of three games between Vancouver and North Vancouver. When the game was called Saturday each club had a win to its credit and during the course of the contest the crowd went wild with excitement over the single victories of their favorite players. At the conclusion of the game with 3 goals to 1 in favor of North Vancouver, the shouting could be heard at North Lonsdale. The success of the win was drunk with several bumpers in the handsome trophy which by the way cost $20 to fill each time.

It was the home team's game from the face-off and although Mr. Deane, one of the Vancouver players, was injured by a nasty cut over his eye which required to be sewed up at the North Vancouver, thus making the visitors one man short, the local eleven seemed to have more advantage when the full Vancouver team was playing than when they were one man short. The first half was very much in favor of the locals while the visitors bucked up somewhat in the beginning of the second half. They failed to make good connections through the superior ability of goal tender Marsden and did not score their solitary goal till near the close of the game.

W. C. T. U.

North Vancouver ladies are reminded of the parlor meeting to be held tomorrow (Wednesday) afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Jas. Hay, 6th street east. Mrs. Bryan, district president of Vancouver will preside. Members urgently requested to be present. Time 2.45 to 4.30 p.m.

SENT UP FOR TRIAL

I. V. Graham, a well known resident of this city was yesterday morning sent up for trial on a charge of having illegal relations with a young girl between the ages of 14 and 16 years about the 15th of May last year. The court was presided over by Justices of the Peace Woods and Foreman and appearing for the defense was H. D. Ruggles of North Vancouver and for the prosecution Hamilton Reid of the Vancouver firm of Bowser, Reid and Wallbridge.

The case was twice before remanded because of the inability of the principle witness to be present, but on Monday morning all the parties were present. Although only a preliminary hearing it took nearly two hours to hear the evidence which was heard behind closed doors.

It is understood that no amount of cross examining could shake the witness's statements which were corroborated by the evidence of other members of the family as to dates.

A new Rebekah lodge was formed in the city last evening when about 12 members were enrolled. The temporary officers appointed were Mrs. Markle president and Mrs. (Dr.) Morrison secretary. The name of the new lodge is "Truth."

TENDER AWARDED

At last evenings city council meeting the Columbia Foundry was awarded the contract for supplying the city with covers for sewer manholes for $1504.12.

West Vancouver News

(Express special correspondent)

The weekly meet of the West Vancouver Athletic Club was held on Monday evening last and a most enjoyable time was spent in Indian Club drill and exercises on the horizontal bar. It was decided to purchase a mat in place of the hay which has temporarily been used as a substitute.

Mr. Charles Nelson has gone away south for two or three months and before leaving Vancouver put a subdivision in district lot 554 on the market, which goes under the name of "Belle-Vue." These fine lots are now for sale at the office of Andrew E. Liddle, 800 Hastings street west, Vancouver, who has the exclusive agency for the handling of this sub-division.

It has been decided to put on an extra ferry run on Sundays commencing from 5th March, which will leave the city wharf at 6 p.m. and Hollyburn at 6.30 p.m. This will be more convenient for those who wish to visit their friends in West Vancouver and also for those wishing to attend church on Sunday evening in Vancouver.

West Vancouver's first store is now open for business and is under the charge of Mr. Crearer. A general stock of groceries and provisions will be carried which will be a great advantage to all those who are now residing in this district. The post office will shortly be moved into this building and as it is situated on the Keith Road and near the wharf it will be most convenient.

The real estate market in this section has been exceptionally brisk during the past month and a great deal of property has changed hands. Th is no doubt that people are now beginning to realise what a great future lies before West Vancouver and last week-end the West Vancouver ferry carried over two hundred passengers. One of the most enjoyable walks in or around Vancouver can be had by taking this ferry to Hollyburn wharf and those who took advantage of the fine weather last Saturday and Sunday were not disappointed with their first impressions of this beautiful locality.

The West Vancouver Transportation Company have purchased a very fine 40 h.p. Cowie gasoline engine for their launch "Sea Foam" and this boat has been in dock at New Westminster for the past week being thoroughly overhauled and having the new engine installed. The "Sea Foam" will most likely be ready to take the West Vancouver run next week and as her speed will be greatly increased it is intended to make the round trip every hour during the summer months. A scow has now been purchased to meet the demand for carrying freight and many loads of building material have already been carried over to Hollyburn wharf.

LYNN VALLEY NOTES

The new Presbyterian church building is now almost completed and details are being arranged with regard to the opening. It is hoped that the dedication will take place on April 9th at 11 o'clock in the morning with Dr. Pidgeon preaching the dedicatory sermon. It is expected at this service to combine the dedication and the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

ST. ANDREW'S LADIES' DANCE

The ladies St. Andrew's and Caledonian society of this city propose holding a dance in the Horticultural hall on the evening of March 31st. Odd, fancy or evening dress will be permissable. Chance's three-piece orchestra has been engaged and a feature on the program will be the dancing of the "fool's jig" at the midnight hour as March is giving way to April—the arrival of April Fool's day.

The BLACK BAG

By Louis Joseph Vance

Copyright, 1908, by the Bobbs-Merrill Co.

He took her hand and bowed above it, but when his head was lifted he still retained her fingers in a lingering clasp.

"Good night," he said reluctantly. In a sudden flush of daring he turned and nodded coolly to Calendar. "With your permission," he said negligently and drew the girl aside to the angle of the stairway.

The boat dropped away, the oars lifting and falling.

"Miss Calendar"— he began, but was interrupted.

"Here—I say!"

Calendar had started toward him angrily.

Kirkwood calmly waved him back. "I want a word in private with your daughter, Mr. Calendar," he announced, with quiet dignity. "I don't think you'll deny me. I've saved you some slight trouble tonight."

Disgruntled, the adventurer paused. "Oh, all right," he grumbled. He returned to the boat.

"Forgive me, Miss Calendar," continued Kirkwood nervously. "I know I've no right to interfere, but"—

"Yes, Mr. Kirkwood?"

"But hasn't this gone far enough?" he floundered unhappily. "I can't like the look of things. Are you sure—sure that it's all right—with you, I mean?"

She did not answer at once, but her eyes were kind and sympathetic. He plucked heart of their tolerance.

"It isn't too late yet," he argued. "Let me take you to your friends—you must have friends in the city. But this—this midnight flight down the Thames, this atmosphere of stealth and suspicion, this"—

"But my place is with my father, Mr. Kirkwood," she interposed. "I daren't doubt him, dare I?"

"I suppose not."

"So I must go with him. I'm glad—thank you for caring, dear Mr Kirkwood. And again good night."

"Good luck attend you," he muttered, following her to the boat.

Calendar helped her in and turned back to Kirkwood with a look of arch triumph. Kirkwood wondered if he had overheard. Whether or no, he could afford to be magnanimous. Seizing Kirkwood's hand, he pumped it vigorously.

"My dear boy, you've been an angel in disguise. And I guess you think me the devil in masquerade." He chuckled, in high conceit with himself over the turn of affairs. "Good night and—and fare thee well!" He dropped into the boat, seating himself to face the recalcitrant Mulready. "Cast off, there!"

The boat dropped away, the oars lifting and falling. With a weariful sense of loneliness and disappointment Kirkwood hung over the rail to watch them out of sight.

Somewhat wearily the young man released the railing and ascended the stairs. "And that is the end!" he told himself, struggling with an acute sense of personal injury. He had been hardly used. For a few hours his life had been lightened by the ineffable glamour of romance. Mystery and adventure had engaged him. He had served a fair woman and been associated with men whose ways, however questionable, were the ways of courage, hedged thickly about with perils.

Disconsolate and aggrieved, he gained the street. He was miles from St. Pancras, foot weary, to all intents and purposes lost.

In this extremity chance smiled upon him. The cabby who at his initial instance had traveled this weary way from Quadrant mews, after the manner of his kind, ere turning back had sought surcease of fatigue at the nearest public. From afar Kirkwood saw the four wheeler at the curb and made all haste toward it.

Entering the gin mill, he found the cabby, soothed him with bitter and, instructing him for St. Pancras with all speed, dropped, limp and listless with fatigue, into the conveyance.

CHAPTER IX.

FROM the commanding elevation of the box "Three 'n' six!" enunciated the cabby, his tone that of a man prepared for trouble, inclined to give trouble a welcome. His bloodshot eyes blinked truculently at his alighted fare. "Three 'n' six," he iterated aggressively.

An adjacent but theretofore abstracted policeman pricked up his ears and assumed an intelligent expression.

"Bermondsey Ol' Stairs to Sain' Pancras," argued the cabby assertively, "seven mile by th' radius—three 'n' six!"

Kirkwood stood on the outer station platform, near the entrance to third class waiting rooms. Continuing to fumble through his pockets for an elusive sovereign purse, he looked up mildly at the man.

"All right, cabby," he said, with pacific purpose; "you'll get your fare in half a shake."

"Three 'n' six!" croaked the cabby, like a blowsy and vindictive parrot.

The bobby strolled nearer.

"Yes?" said Kirkwood, mildly diverted. "Why not sing it, cabby?"

"Lor' lummel!" The cabby exploded with indignation, continuing to give a lifelike imitation of a rumpled parrot "I 'ad trouble enough wif you at Bermondsey Ol' Stairs hover that quid you promised, didn't I? Sing it! My heye!"

"Quid, cabby?" And then, remembering that he had promised the fellow a sovereign for fast driving from Quadrant mews, Kirkwood grinned broadly, eyes twinkling, for Mulready must have fallen heir to that covenant. "But you got the sovereign? You got it, didn't you, cabby?"

The driver affirmed the fact with unnecessary heat and profanity and an amendment to the effect that he would have spoiled his fare's sanguinary conk had the outcome been less satisfactory.

NORTH VANCOUVER, B. C. - - - MARCH 7, 1911

NORTH VANCOUVER AND B. C. UNIVERSITY

Now that the permanent site for the provincial university has been definitely fixed by the passage of a bill through the provincial legislature, it is in order to consider the situation in relation to the future requirements of the North Shore in relation thereto.

The situation of the university in such close proximity to North Vancouver confers valuable advantages with respect to higher education, upon the youth of both sexes resident upon this side of the Inlet. Under proper conditions it should be easily possible for a student residing at North Vancouver to live at home and attend the university. In this connection however transportation facilities become a matter of very great importance. The university site is situated at a distance from the centre of Vancouver such that considerable time will be required to reach the colleges under even the best possible arrangement. It is quite evident, however, that the transportation of large numbers of students such as may reasonably be expected to attend the university, will necessitate the provision of special facilities in this respect. As the matter stands at present a student residing at North Vancouver would find it necessary to make so many changes and would be subjected to so many delays en route if the whole body of students were required to travel by means of the ordinary car schedule, that residence in the city of Vancouver would be well nigh imperative. It is very desirable from the local viewpoint that the North Shore be placed in a position that will enable it to annex the provincial university to the local educational system and inasmuch as this transportation problem is the key to the situation, North Vancouver is very closely interested therein. The opening of the university classes is yet sometime in the future it is true, and yet it can scarcely be held to be too early to take into consideration a problem which is destined to be a very essential one in rendering the university easily accessible to the hundreds of young men and young women who will receive their education within its walls. The establishment of a through car system—a "University Special"—particularly at certain hours during the day for the accommodation of university students would appear to be the best means of meeting the situation and would prove a great boon locally by enabling North Vancouver parents to retain their children in residence at home while enjoying all the advantages of university training.

MERCANTILE INTERESTS AND CIVIC DEVELOPMENT

If a community is merely a suburb of a large centre of population having interests in every way identical with the whole and looking for its improvement and progress to only those sources which are common to the entire city of which it is a part, then the presence in that community of a capable and prosperous merchant class may perhaps be held to be a comparatively unimportant matter. If, however, a community constitutes a separate and distinct civic corporation, having strong aspirations and ambitions in the direction of city building on its own account, then the presence of a large company of merchants in all lines, becomes a matter of the foremost importance and the welfare of those merchants becomes a matter of deep interest to that community.

The diversion of any large proportion of local shopping from local merchants to merchants of another community (when the goods required are obtainable at local stores) necessitates the conclusion that those residents who habitually do their shopping out of town, think of their own city as merely a suburb of the place in which their trading is done, for it is quite evident that if all residents were to follow their example, then there could be no local merchants and without them the local city could never become anything but a suburb of that centre to which local residents contributed all their earnings.

The merchants and business men of any community invariably stand closely related to every movement for the upbuilding of the city in which their interests are located. They take as a class an intelligent and an active interest in all matters pertaining to the welfare of their city. Their patronage constitutes the substantial basis for the presence in any community of banks and other requisite financial institutions, without which the status of a city would be impossible of attainment. They create the distinction usually made between "business property" and "residential property" thereby giving to a very large proportion of the realty a revenue earning power to which it could not otherwise hope to attain and indirectly benefitting a great deal of property not actually occupied by them. It is not sufficient to declare that the merchants and business men of any city are helpful factors in local welfare and progress, for in point of fact they are prime factors therein and indispensible thereto.

A "so-called" city which did not possess a business section within its borders would be an anomaly. It would be a city only in name, not in fact and its identity would inevitably become merged into that of the centre which provided the necessary facilities for procuring those commodities required by the residents. Every property owner who consistently does his buying for himself and his household at home, manifests not only a true sense of loyalty to his own town but manifests likewise the fact that he is alive to his own interests because the worth of the property that he owns depends very greatly indeed upon whether it lies in a suburb on the outskirts of a large city or close in in a rising, growing, prosperous city "on its own."

There are broader interests and deeper issues involved in this matter of trading at home than the mere shaving of a nickle or two off the price of an occasional purchase. The problem is really fundamental and is connected in a vital manner with the possibilities as to growth and general prosperity which lie before any city. Money spent by property owners with local merchants is money invested to build up their own town and to render possible thereto larger growth and expansion as well as to yield to them individually a valuable return in the increase in value of their local interests and in the general prosperity of their home city.

BAND CONCERT FOR 17TH

A concert which is designed to go down in the musical annals of this city as a production of exceptional merit will be given at the Horticultural hall on the 17th of March by the North Vancouver band assisted by some of the best Vancouver vocal talent. Bandmaster Chance has the affair in hand and it is his ambition to bring the standard of this entertainment to a high plane. While the date is significant of the savoring of the Shamrock, it is not the intention to make it a St. Patrick's concert in its entirety. The program will consist of eight numbers by the band. H. J. Cave, the noted tenor singer of Vancouver will sing twice. Madama Rosina K. Burke who is well known on this side of the Inlet, will render "The Green Hills of Ireland," by Del Riego and A. B. C. "Songs my Mother Taught Me," by Dvorak, "On the Way Home" by Liddle and "Mavourneen," by Lang.

A strong appeal is made to North Vancouverites to take in this concert for it will surely be out of the ordinary and for a worthy object.

Lynn Valley Notes

(Express special correspondent)

Mr. Hanniwell is enlarging his house.

Mr. J. Roberts has moved into his new house on Doran Road.

Mr. D. Cook has sold his lot on corcorner of Center and car line.

Rev. Mr. Wilkinson, Ladysmith, was the guest of Mrs. Brown last week.

Mr. W. Archibald is contemplating building two houses on Doran Road soon.

A meeting of the Lynn Valley ratepayers was held in the hall last Wednesday evening.

Mr. Mitchell is about ready to start building his new house on Campbell Avenue.

Orders for lumber etc. for no less than ten houses in the Valley—looks like a building boom.

Mrs. Lewis, Fromme Road, has been visiting Mrs. Davis, Hollyburn, for a few weeks.

Dovercourt Road would be much better for travel if there was more rock and less mud.

The council is cutting a road through Lynn View to Mr. Greer's house and under Foreman Evas direction the work is progressing.

Mr. Calliphroness has sustained a loss by the poisoning of his good dog Bess by some person in the Valley.

Mr. S. Allman, Center Road, has made his debut in the real estate business in Lynn Valley.

A number of dogs in the Valley are getting the same dose as last year. Mr. Millar's dogs got a touch, also Mr. George's and several others. Whatever the trouble is the person doing the work will not be lightly dealt with if they are discovered.

HAS OPENED OFFICE HERE

Dr. G. P. Dillon, D.V.S.C., graduate of McGill university and late of New Westminster, has leased the log cabin on Keith road west of the Capilano river which is owned by E. Mahon of the Vancouver firm of Mahon, McFarland and Proctor. The doctor is at present residing at the Palace hotel where he has opened a temporary office pending the completion of the house. Dr. Dillon is a most congenial practitioner and has seen Vancouver in its maiden days. He practiced veterinary science there 25 years ago. Following that he went to the N.W.T. and was quarantine officer for the Northwest Mounted Police for a number of years. After that he came west again and located in New Westminster where he practised until recently.

wood might have come from the land of his clients he thought it was a matter for the contractor to settle. The council was advised to confer with Mr. Ogawa, the contractor in Vancouver. If no arrangement could be effected Mr. Gintzburger wished to be notified when he would try and collect the amount.

From J. Moore asking what compensation would be made to a client of his for any portion of the land required for road allowances. Ref. to the B. of Works.

From J. P. Crawford asking for water connections to two houses on lot 10, block 55, D. L. 2087. Ref. to the B. of Works with power to act.

From W. J. Smith offering to do certain road clearing in D. L. 852-3 at the rate of $350 an acre. It was laid over.

From the Vancouver Power Co. submitting an account for $3190 as the district's portion of constructing the Hastings Creek bridge in Lynn Valley. Referred to the finance committee.

From W. E. Burns, solicitor, regarding remuneration for his services during the current year. For a retainer he asked $50 a month and to cover the entire district business $100 a month with expenses. Reference was made to a former letter from the clerk. It was resolved to lay the matter over to next meeting.

From T. S. Nye asking payment of an account for clearing of one acre used as a road allowance by the district in blocks 31 and 32, D. L. 2026.

It was resolved to pay the amount asked, $255, if the engineer was satisfied.

From Burns & Walkem, setting forth an arrangement which had been agreed to by Mr. John Lawson regarding the latter's application for foreshore grant in front of D. L. 775. On consideration of Mr. Lawson quit claiming to the government the easterly portion of the foreshore lot at present owned by him in front of lot 678, one rod in width, the council would approve of his present application as was described in detail.

The arrangement would be for the purpose of having ample access to the wharf in all respects and the solicitor asked the council to consider the arrangement and advise him at once.

It was agreed to approve of Mr. Lawson's application.

From Hall C. Chene stating that if retained as auditor for the current year he could not undertake to get the balance sheet out by the 6th of January next year, owing to the growth of the municipality. He advised that the expenses be charged against each ward. He made application for an increase in his remuneration to $20 a month.

Joseph Chapman asked for the construction of a road to lots 2 and 3, block 5, D. L. 2028. Referred to B. of Works.

From Martinson & Co. on behalf of Mr. J. M. Roberts, whose application for a road was dealt with previously, urging that access be given their client into his property.

From F. J. McDougall on behalf of J. T. W. Jay, inquiring the reason why his bid for the construction of the municipal hall, being $60 lower than Mr. Young's, the successful tenderer, was not accepted. In this connection Coun. Bridgman explained that when the tenders were considered the council was under the impression that Mr. Jay was not a local resident and according to Mr. Young being a well known contractor of North Vancouver was awarded the contract. Since then it was found that Mr. Jay had been a resident of Lynn Valley for nearly a year.

Mr. Young was heard from and said he did not want to insist on pressing the matter. He, however, wanted the reasons well advertised why the contract was awarded elsewhere after having been given to him.

Coun. Bridgman and Loutet favored putting an advertisement stating these facts. It was thought that the council had made a mistake in awarding the contract to Mr. Young when Mr. Jay's tender was the lowest and he was a resident of the district.

On motion of Coun. Loutet and Lawson it was resolved to rescind the former motion and award the contract to Mr. Jay. The reeve objected to advertising.

Coun. Bridgman and Lawson reported a visit to New Westminster where they had a meeting with the water commissioner, Mr. Fletcher, in respect to preserving the district's interests on Lynn Creek. The application was adjourned to April 3rd.

Mr. Hocking's application for a street light, Coun. Bridgman reported that local manager Perry of the B. C. Electric Ry. Co. could not see his way clear to put in this light.

Coun. Bridgman reported that Mr. Mahon was not agreeable to paying a proportion towards the construction of the extension to Philip Ave.

DEATH FROM PNEUMONIA

Death from pneumonia brought on by a severe cold and worry over the death of her son took away one of North Vancouver's much respected citizens in the person of Mrs. Bailey, wife of Mr. A. W. Bailey at the family residence corner of 17th street and Mahon Ave. at an early hour Monday morning. Deceased had been ailing for some time and since the death of her son Alex. this winter was unable to rest at nights. She was about 40 years of age and leaves a husband to mourn her loss. Interment will be made on Thursday, March 9th, at 12.45 o'clock from the Methodist church.

TO WIDEN ROAD

The district council at its recent meeting appointed a committee to interview the water committee of the Vancouver city council for the purposing of advancing the proposal to widen the Capilano road to 66 feet. In committee the council made a grant of $200 towards the construction of the new Lynn Valley Institute hall, providing that the charter and constitution meets with their approval.

After a vacation of about three weeks Dr. Verner returned from a trip to San Francisco on Saturday evening last and early on Sunday resumed his practice. The Dr. went south for a rest but was summoned north to the Stevenson case in Vancouver otherwise he would have enjoyed the warmth of the southern state for some time longer. He does not intend going south again for a while.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

SEALED TENDERS on the prescribed forms will be received by the undersigned until 5 p.m. on Thursday, 16th March, 1911, for the clearing and grubbing of a road in D. L. 204 from the Lynn river to the east boundary of said District Lot in accordance with the specification and plan to be seen at this office.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

CASE ADJOURNED

The adjourned hearing of Joseph Nicholich came up before J. P's. Woods and Foreman yesterday and in consequence of an application from the defence for a further remand of two days which was not opposed by the prosecution, the case was adjourned to Wednesday morning.

Mr. B. P. Wintermure appeared for the defence and stated in opening that he believed the accused gave the lease on the property in question for ten years on the understanding as to his legal rights and if given an opportunity could probably make a satisfactory explanation to the complainant. He expected his uncle from Bellingham up in a few days. Mr. J. W. DeB. Farris, prosecuting for John McEwen, the complainant, made no objection to the remand which was granted with the same bail.

During the season of Lent Rev. Father Brooker will assist Rev. Father Peytavin with the services in St. Edmund's church Father Brooker said mass at Sunday service.

I. O. G. T.

A very successful open night and box social was held last evening in 3rd street hall and Chesterfield Ave., presided over by C.T. Bro. C. Cross. After the excellent and lengthy variety programme was concluded a large number of really handsome boxes and baskets were auctioned off by P.C.T. Bro. Haskell who made an efficient salesman. About sixty-five or seventy people remained for refreshments and social intercourse.
