FIRST AUTOMOBILE OVER GRADED STREETS

Innovation Takes Place on Miller Section of Prince George

The first automobile to travel over the newly graded streets on the Prince George townsite made the pioneer trip yesterday when Chauffeur Bob Haley drove the editor and Mr. Beckett, a visitor from Toronto, over London street to Bowser and along Bowser to a point near Queen.

Mr. Charles Miller has personally superintended the work of clearing and grading the first streets, and the work has been done under his direction in record time. Thirteen men and five teams have graded nearly half a mile of streets in five days.

Mr. Miller states that he will undertake extensive work of grading as soon as the frost has left the ground in the spring. In the meantime the new streets will serve to open up the property and give a right-of-way through the middle of the addition.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE AT MILNES LANDING

A meeting was held in the Public Hall, Milnes Landing, on October 31, to form a branch of the Farmers' Institute in the Nechaco Valley, for which a charter has been granted by the Hon. the Minister of Agriculture. There was an attendance of 44 members. After the correspondence with the department had been read, the following officers were elected: President, J. B. Armishaw; vice-president, H. Bowers; secretary-treasurer, John Macfie; board of directors, S. Milne, J. D. Charleson, G. Lampier, B. Connelly, Harry De La Meter and O. J. Reid.

A basket social was held in the evening at which $155 was realized to pay off the debt on the hall.

C. P. R. MAY BE ELECTRIFIED

The entire system of the Canadian Pacific Railway may be electrified. This was the declaration of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the road, on his way to Winnipeg to inspect sites there for new terminals. The work now being started in the Rocky Mountains toward operation of electric instead of steam locomotives over several divisions is merely an experiment, he declared, preliminary to installation of electricity throughout the system if the experiments prove successful. The Rocky Mountain division, where experiment work is being done, presents every problem of handling traffic known to railroading, and if electricity succeeds there its universal adoption is certain on the entire system. Freight and passenger trains alike are to be handled by electricity, and there are plenty of water sites available for developing the power over the entire system if the heavy grades in the mountains can be conquered by the electric locomotive.

The first real garage in the Fort George district is now a reality. Harry Coutes, he of the Ford car, has completed his garage on Laselle avenue, the fine large building having accommodation for about twenty cars.

The work of grading in the business section of the Grand Trunk townsite is proceeding rapidly. George street is being graded by contract and a regular dump-car system is being used on the work. A grade, cutting into the hill on Connaught Park, is being cut out at present, leading from City Hall square to the Miller section.

In spite of the fact that this is the middle of November, the weather conditions prevailing here can hardly be equaled. Clear frosty nights and bright, sunshiny days are the message which our weather bulletin reports.

The Fort George Drug Company have received a large consignment of Christmas gifts and cards which are now displayed in their splendid store on Laselle Avenue.

MIGHTIER THAN THE SWORD

Now that the editor has dropped his pen it's a two to one bet that some of our late contemporaries on the coast will rip him to pieces. Ah me!

ILL-FATED OCEAN LINER ABLAZE AT SEA.

Photograph of the steamship "Volturno," of the Uranium Line, as she appeared from the decks of the "Groesser Kurfuerst," while ablaze in mid-ocean. The "Volturno" took fire from some unknown cause on Thursday, October 9, on her voyage from Rotterdam to New York. After a futile attempt to fight the fire, Captain Inch sent out the wireless distress call, which was answered by eleven ships. The first to arrive was the "Carmania." On account of the heavy seas it was impossible for the "Carmania" to proceed with the rescue work. By evening eleven ships were surrounding the "Volturno," which was then sinking by the head. Her passengers were huddled on the after deck, imploring to be taken off the burning ship.

It is estimated that 136 of the passengers and crew were lost, some by the fire on board and some in the two lifeboats which were launched from the "Volturno" and lost.

FAREWELL TO THE PUBLIC.

After five years of work as a pioneer publisher, I lay aside my pen and leave the editorial chair. The circumstances which actuate this departure from the work which I have adopted are sordid and commercial, but in these ultra practical days all ideals, desires and aims in life are rendered subservient to the reins of commerce when financial considerations assume significance.

So it is with myself. After a somewhat chequered journalistic career, in which my bitterest enemy cannot say I have ever strayed aside from the course wherein I considered my duty lay, I find myself, as a result of these principles—which, without maudlin self-praise, I can assure you are rare in the modern newspaper world—in the position of the under dog in a fight in which I had endeavored to aid the unfortunate public. A libel suit in which I entered last year, brought by a strong company against which I made charges of uncommercial conduct, cost me over six thousand dollars to fight. I lost. Whether I am vindicated by present conditins I leave it to the public to judge. In the great jury room wherein public opinion returns the verdict the considerations of legal red tape are flung aside in contempt, and I thank God for this.

With a heavy indebtedness, incurred in litigation, burdening The Herald, it has been hard indeed to bring this small paper abreast of the times. My readers may not know that in addition to the editorial work in this office I have worked week by week in the press room and at the keyboard of the typesetting machine. When the opportunity was presented this week for a sale of The Herald, and being assured that the purchasers would do their utmost towards the upbuilding of this paper, in which I feel a personal interest hard to analyze, I sold without hesitation to the gentlemen who will succeed me here.

The generous support which has always been given to this paper I trust will continue to my successors. The individuality of the man behind a paper must always count for something, but the public are quick to recognize ability and to read between the lines of the printed page. I have no doubt that the future editorial policy of this paper will be clear-cut and precise; that, as heretofore, it will continue to assist in the upbuilding of this town and district according to its lights, and so it will deserve the unqualified support of the public, who will appreciate such endeavors.

After weary years of doubt, conflicting interests, controversy and criticism the future Prince George has emerged as one of the recognized "futures" of the North American continent. Wise, well-versed business men both in the east and the west have marked their faith in the future of this place by heavily investing. The stability of the future town is assured even now, although the townsite of the future is at present a barren common littered with stakes which separate the sites of future enterprises: sites selling amongst the best class of investors for hundreds of dollars a front foot. It is an extraordinary condition and typical of western enterprise and the ability of the present generation to accurately forecast the future and to reap a benefit thereby.

I sincerely hope that The Herald will continue to advance the interests of the wonderful little town of South Fort George. The rapid growth and development of this place has anchored development here upon such solid lines that no matter how important future business sections will become, their importance cannot be complete without direct avenues of communication to this section of the city.

The people of South Fort George must be numbered amongst the virile communities of the wide-awake western world. Ever ready to encourage development and ambitious to promote the future greatness of their town, the citizens of this community may well be proud of the results achieved by their progressive policy and its fruition.

And amongst these people I have lived for many years. I was here long before the townsites of today; here at the old Hudson's Bay post, where a few trappers and G.T.P. engineers, would laughingly discuss the future possibilities of the wilderness in which we lived, and I am a young man and expect to see in my lifetime a great city grown up here, and a wonderful, fertile country where the Indians used to hunt unchallenged. Amongst the men of the old days there are many whose friendship is a thing tested and true. Through the sunshine and the shadows these friendships have never wavered nor been found wanting. They are the jewels in my chain of memory.

And so I step aside. What the future holds for me I cannot tell. Whether the call of the "newspaper business" will again prove too strong I cannot say, but I shall never again publish in this town, as a clause in the selling agreement forbids this.

There are those who will sigh in relief at this news; some will smile; but there are some again who will regret; and who can say who pays the greatest compliment?

Perhaps I have erred in the opinion of some, yet others will say I "played the game," but one and all, I believe, will admit that The Herald has naught to be ashamed of.

And thanking my advertisers, my patrons and my friends for their consideration in the past, and wishing my successors every consideration and success, I bow myself out.

JOHN B. DANIELL.

THE GOLDEN SPIKE IN JUNE OR JULY

Duke of Connaught or Premier Borden will perform Ceremony

[illegible] new Grand Trunk Pacific line will have been completed and the golden spike will be driven in British Columbia in June or July," said Collingwood Schreiber, government engineer for the Grand Trunk Pacific, who was on his way from Edmonton to Prince Rupert.

"At present," he said, "work is proceeding more rapidly than at any time since construction commenced. Over 6500 men are employed. The gap between the two ends of steel, less than 300 miles, is rapidly being closed and the rough grading has been done nearly all the way. Trains are running from Edmonton to McBride and east from Prince Rupert to Rose Lake."

Mr. Schreiber suggested that, although no definite plans have been made for driving the last spike, without doubt either the Gov[illegible] the Duke of Con[illegible] Mr. Borden, will be asked [illegible] the ceremony.

Mr. Schreiber was accompanied on his trip by Mr. J. W. Stewart, president of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, and Mr. B. B. Kelliher, chief engineer for the Grand Trunk Pacific. He will go east from Vancouver to Winnipeg.

OVASKO CASE GOES TO ARBITRATION

Rancher Near Fort George Fighting Right-of-way Case

The great difference of opinion as to the value of land held by an expropriating railway company, and by the owner, who is being dispossessed, was emphasized before Chief Justice Hunter at Vancouver when the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company asked for a warrant of possession of thirty-three acres near Fort George townsite, owned by George Ovasko. The railway produced an affidavit from A. R. Barrow a land surveyor, stating that $3000 was a fair price for the land and offered to pay that amount into court. Mr. Ovasko, on the other hand, put in an affidavit that he values the land at $15,000.

"You might just as well put them in a hat and shake them up," said the chief justice, who ordered that a sum of $4500 be deposited in court by the railway, and that arbitration proceedings be commenced.

Mr. Martin Griffin appeared for the railway, and Mr. E. A. Dickie for Mr. Ovasko.

Mr. and Mrs. George McLaughlin entertained a large number of guests at their pretty home on Fourth street last Wednesday evening. The pleasant event was in honor of Mr. Charles Miller, of Toronto.

Grading on the Miller section of Prince George is in full swing. Six teams commenced work on London street last Monday, and the streets have been plowed, broken up and graded along London to Bowser street and west along Bowser to Queen. Mr. Miller has added a further improvement by planting large sign posts at the street corners showing the names of the streets and their directions.

McCONNELL IN CARIBOO.

John P. McConnell, editor of the Vancouver Sun, has been scouring the Cariboo District in search of "material" to support his miserable attempts to discredit the McBride government by "exposing" the corruptness of the Conservative party. Listening to the loose-lipped street corner loafer, with a grudge against the administration, appears to have fulfilled the mission of the Vancouver editor when in Cariboo recently, for our knowledge of this district, old and new, impresses us with the idea that from such sources he has gathered the data which lends itself so readily to the tracing of webs of iniquity at the point of his laboring pen. Weaving a tortuous mesh of wrong-doing, and spinning the pen-traced web hither and thither wherever his informants have pointed to "doins" which suggested deep political corruption and maladministration, he has conjured in the centre of the web, waiting with gleaming eyes and quivering form the coming of the flies, the giant spider of the Cariboo, one John Anderson Fraser, M.L.A. According to the Vancouver scribe the baseness of our excellent member may not be readily plumbed. According to John P. McConnell, Mr. Fraser is "king" of the Cariboo. Yielding a fairy-tale power at Quesnel, he depicts our member as swaying the district to his iron will, and manipulating the public expenditures to his own particular advantage.

Without visiting the Fort George section of the district, the importance of which relegates the rest of the Cariboo into oblivion, the Sun editor, loaded with the reports of his mud-wallowing informants, brands this city with a danger mark on the map of British Columbia.

This is not the first time, however, that John P. McConnell has visited the Cariboo district. The extraordinary series of articles which appeared in his paper, the Saturday Sunset, during the latter part of the year 1910, still stand out vividly in the memory of people in the Cariboo for their vindictive abuse of well-known and honorable gentlemen, and their pitiful attempt to justify the attitude of the Sunset towards certain unsavory promotions. How any journalist can expect to be taken seriously, or anticipate that the public will give heed to his opinions, when it is a matter of common knowledge that in the past his written word has been absolutely discredited, we cannot see. But John P. McConnell is no ordinary man. He is encased in an armor of egotism which diverts the shafts of criticism from his well-satisfied vitals. He should take from a case of his largest type the capital letter "I" and set it prominently at the head of his editorial column.

Regarding the charges which John P. McConnell makes against the government with respect to their policy in matters regarding South Fort George, we cannot see any necessity for prolonged argument. He charges a "government favorite" with having a monopoly in the liquor business here, and refers to the red-light district as a slur upon the fair name of our city, blaming the government therefor. The hotel to which the reference regarding the liquor monopoly is made was built in 1910. A hotel was an absolute necessity here when the town began, and without a liquor licence it was not to be expected that the town would ever have one in those days. Under an agreement with the G.T.P. the government should not issue licences within so many miles of the construction zone, and the exceptions of the necessary hotels ahead of the steel cannot in justice be suspended when steel arrives. The policy of not granting new licences we cannot agree with, as one hotel can sell as much liquor as a number, but it must be conceded that it would be difficult to know where to stop if exceptions to a general policy were made. This is strongly exemplified by the fact that this issue carries an advertisement in which the Hudson's Bay Company applies for a wholesale liquor licence here, but the application is made for a period when it is anticipated that steel will have passed this point.

The ravings of John P. McConnell are entitled to no more consideration in this district than the whimpering of a whipped cur. The time may come when the writer will have the opportunity of dealing with this assertion from a public platform.

APPLICATION for a Licence to take and use water will be made under the "Water Act" of British Columbia, as follows:—The name of the applicant is The Door River Development Co., agent James R. McLennan. The address of the applicant is Edson, Alberta. The name of the stream is Door River, which has its source in the Rocky Mountains, flows in a northerly direction and empties into Fraser River, about four miles west of McBride, B.C. The purpose for which the water will be used is industrial and power. The land on which the water is to be used is described as follows: Dam on an area of 60 acres, 150 feet long and 12 feet high. The quantity applied for is 2640 cubic feet per second. This notice was posted on the ground on the 14th day of October, 1913. A copy of this notice and an application pursuant thereto and to the requirements of the Water Act will be filed in the office of the Water Recorder at Fort George. Objections may be filed with the said Water Recorder, or with the Comptroller of Water Rights, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B.C.

Most Important Indeed is the Transition of Fort George

A year ago we were a mere hamlet—living together as one great happy family—where the village gossip went its rounds, where we knew each other's business, discussed each other's family history for generations back until the indiscretions of our great-grandparents was common gossip, while today we scarcely know our next-door neighbour. Our streets populated with natives from mostly every part of the inhabitable globe, and our language spoken in a hundred tongues. Where the real estate man is reaping a rich harvest, and men that have scarcely been able to raise themselves above the level of actual want are becoming rich almost every day.

And with all this progress we wish to impress you that the Kennedy-Blair Co. are keeping pace.

A year ago we were a mere country store, where the one clerk sold you beans, silk handkerchiefs and cross-cut saws; while today we can boast of the largest and most efficiently equipped department store in the interior of B. C.

We anticipated this great influx of people and ordered our goods accordingly. We would like to have you call and inrpect our winter clothing. If you are going to build a house call and inspect our hardware. If you want a trapping outfit or a tie contracting outfit don't forget us, we have had many years' experience.

We also appeal to the ladies to come in and see us. We have on hand an enormous stock of ladies' wear. I am not familiar with the names of the particular garments, but we have all colors and they feel to contain great stuff. If you will just step in and have a chat with our ladies' salesman, I am sure you will be interested.

A NEW COUNTRY

From the cramped routine of the class room to the freedom of untrammelled untracked regions of the far northwest—that is the leap that Miss Mary Jobe, professor of history in the New York Normal School has made.

The above is from the Lucknow Sentinel, which goes on to say: "Miss Jobe is now on her way to Prince Rupert where she is to start on a lone hazardous trip, penetrating a country where no white person has even ventured since the Hudson's Bay Company made its discoveries many years ago.

"I hope that as a result of my trip this summer there will be something new to put on the map of northwestern British Columbia. I have helped to do that in Central British Columbia.

"Upon reaching Prince Rupert I expect to do some exploring in motor boats in the waters in that locality and then will proceed up the Skeena river to Hazelton, the last outpost of civilization, with a population of perhaps one hundred and fifty persons."

From this point she will plunge into the unknown, taking with her only two Indian packers.

"I may find a few white persons on ranches near by," she explained. "I have heard that there are some squaw men who have taken up land. You know the traces of the old Hudson Bay Company have persisted through all these years. But aside from these traces I shall probably be the only white person, certainly the only white woman, to penetrate the country.

"I have friends in Prince Rupert who have selected my pack- [...] Siwash, the dialect used by the Indians along the coast, and I have no fear of getting into difficulties. In deference to the urgent request of my friends I shall carry a revolver. Personally I would not feel the need of it. Oh, yes, I can shoot with revolver or rifle. I am not sure, but I do not think I shall use ponies. I think I can do better on foot. I am an excellent walker."

GRAZING PRIVILEGES FOR STOCK RAISERS

The Forest Branch of the Department of Lands, which has been entrusted with the administration of the grazing policy of the provincial government, recently announced by the Hon. W. R. Ross, minister of lands, has given notice that it is in a position to consider applications of stockmen and ranchers for grazing permits on the unoccupied Crown lands of British Columbia.

These permits will specify the kind and quantity of stock and the exact locality on which the animals will be allowed to run.

Bona-fide settlers and ranchers will receive the first consideration in the issuance of permits, and will be permitted to range a reasonable number of head free of charge. For large herds the fees for the present will be only 10c per head per annum for cattle and 2c for sheep. These nominal charges have been established by the minister of lands, as it is the policy of the government to nurture the industry until it can stand alone, before requiring payment in proportion to the actual commercial value of the grazing privileges.

A case of general interest to farmers and others throughout British Columbia was recently brought under the Seed Control Act when the Sylvester Seed Company of Victoria was convicted of selling cabbage seed of low vitality without indicating the percentage of germination of the same. Under section ten of the Dominion Seed Control Act all farm and vegetable seeds which germinate lower than two-thirds the standard vitality of good seed for that particular variety must be labelled with the percentage of germination.

It is the intention of the Dominion Department of Agriculture to strictly enforce all the provisions of the Seed Act of 1911, and any one handling seed should see to it that their seed complies with this Act. The Dominion Seed Laboratory at Calgary, Alberta. is at the service of any one desirous of having seed tested, either for vitality or weed seeds. Copies of the Act and information as to the same may be obtained from the Dominion Seed Laboratory, Calgary, Alta.

STEEL FOR DRYDOCK AT RUPERT

On board the British steamer, Bonaventura, is a special shipment of 500 tons of structural steel to be used in connection with the construction of the huge floating drydock at Prince Rupert. This is the first shipment of the kind that has yet been sent around the South American coast for the structure now well under way at the northern port, although it is understood other similar consignments will find their way to the North Pacific by other steamers. In addition to the big consignment of steel for the drydock, the Buenaventura has on board 2400 tons of steel rails for G.T.P. construction work, which will be discharged at Prince Rupert. The inbound steamer will proceed north after she has discharged at Victoria and Vancouver.

PROVINCIAL NEWS

Two newspapers, an electric light and power plant, a water system and a railway division point are some of the airs the new town of Smithers in Interior British Columbia is assuming.

Northern British Columbia has harvested record crops of all kinds. Grains and grasses not only yielded heavily but all kinds of vegetables made unusual returns. On the Hudson's Bay ranch, near Smithers, in the Bulkley Valley, 100 tons of unusually fine potatoes were grown on ten acres.

British Columbia will this year have exact figures on the extent of land under cultivation and data on agricultural subjects, such as value of crops and products of the agricultural industries. For the first time in the history of the province the Department of Agriculture will have a complete statement of what has been accomplished in this line.

Col. D. R. Wilkins, of Toronto, president of the Bankers' Association of Canada, is a recent visitor to British Columbia, and was greatly impressed by the province. He says British Columbia has more in the way of natural advantages than any of the other provinces of the Dominion, and that her future will outshine most of the others regardless of their big start.

German investors are more interested in British Columbia than in any other part of Canada, according to Baron Van Campe, who recently arrived at Montreal on his way west. He says the great resources of Canada's Pacific Coast province are only beginning to be developed and he expected to see great advancement here with the opening of the Panama Canal.

Australia claims to lead not only the British Empire but the world in the value of its per capita production. During the past year that country produced $210 for every one of its population. British Columbia can make a much better showing than that, for according to Mr. Price Ellison, minister of finance, this province produced $300 for every man, woman and child during 1912.

SOUTH FORT GEORGE SOCIAL CLUB

A society, formed this week, for the purpose of propagating intercommunication of social life in this city was formed by Neville Montgomery, W. F. Cooke, M. C. Wiggins and others. The society, named the South Fort George Social Club, have taken commodious premises over the new Mecca Cafe, on Hamilton Avenue here, and will open its roll for membership by invitation within a few days.

NOTICE.

MAH LUN & CO. beg to announce that they have purchased the restaurant business and all fixtures appertaining thereto, known as the "U & I Cafe," from Mr. Temmistocles Anaynos, and in future that business will be conducted by them under the name of the "Palace Cafe." The new proprietors will not be liable or responsible for any indebtedness contracted prior to their purchase of the property.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company are now disposing of the remaining portion of their lots in the new town of Willow River at the confluence of the Fraser, Salmon and Willow rivers. By those who are in close touch of the true conditions, this new town is considered to be one of future importance in Central British Columbia.

In investing in Willow River property be sure that your property comes to you direct from the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company—make no mistake in this. There is only one official and original Grand Trunk Pacific Railway town of Willow River at the confluence of the Fraser, Salmon and Willow rivers. It is located on Lot 785. Station site was approved by Board of Railway Commissioners under date of March 26th, 1912, Order No. 16179. We have no interest in outside subdivisions. The American Cafe is the name of a new restaurant which has started business on Hamilton avenue. The new cafe is located near the corner of Hamilton avenue and Second street.

A man named Edwards, an old-timer here, was taken to New Westminster from this place last Thursday, having lost his reason. Edwards has for some time past been occupying a piece of land in the Willow river section under the pre-emption act. After doing extensive improvements he found that the land covered by his record was not that on which he was residing and on which he had done large improvements. It is believed that the loss of his land, for this was the end of his mistake, worked upon an already unbalanced mind and drove him insane.

Land Is Great Wealth Producing Power

Statistics Show that Tremendous Growth of Western Canadian Cities Creates More Wealth Than Any Other Source.

Anyone who looks over the statistics showing the growth of Canadian cities in the last ten or twelve years and also the great increase in land values in and around these cities, will readily acknowledge that no other form of investment could possibly equal this for profits.

The following list shows the growth of Canadian cities within the last ten years:

| | |
|---|---|
| Edmonton | 2000 |
| Regina | 1400 |
| Calgary | 975 |
| Vancouver | 270 |
| Winnipeg | 178 |
| Toronto | 80 |
| Montreal | 74 |
| Hamilton | 55 |
| Victoria | 48 |
| Ottawa | 44 |
| London | 42 |
| Quebec | 16 |
| Halifax | 12 |

Think, if you can, what tremendous profits must have been realized from the real estate in any of the above cities, but particularly in the new where the cities have grown the fastest. In twelve years time values have increased to such an extent that $700 lots in Vancouver have sold for $20-000. Lots in Calgary which sold for $100 in 1901, are today worth $75,-000. Lots in Edmonton have duplicated what has been done in Calgary. $100 lots in Saskatoon have increased to $30,000. It will be seen from the above figures that an investment in real estate as the above stands alone. There is no doubt that in the next few years a repetition of this wonderful increase in land values will take place at Prince George whose wonderful opportunities as an agricultural, mixed farming and mining country are known the world over. Anyone desirious of participating in such profits should call or write Murdoff & Gething.
