

THE COBWEBS GATHER

GOVERNMENT BUILDING SITE STILL AN UNDECIDED PROBLEM—WILL MATTER END IN A FIASCO?

When Premier McBride was here eight weeks ago he investigated personally the local situation, and must have arrived at a mental decision regarding the relative merits of the claims put forward by the two townsites here as prospective sites for the offices of the district agent of his government.

Premier McBride is a man of decision. He is also a keen observer and, being a politician, is entirely capable of separating, by a simple mental process, the legitimate claims of the trusting public from the insolent demands of a corporation. The public want the government buildings located in the town here for their convenience. The "interests" want these interests on their townsite—for advertising purposes—and after eight weeks' time, being in possession of all the facts, Premier McBride appears unable to arrive at a decision.

The need of a resident government agent here next spring is obvious. Fort George is the new distributing centre for the whole interior section. Barkerville is the last place in the district where the government business should be transacted, owing to its position on the map. Sixty years ago, when the gold was in the gravel, Barkerville was the capital of the interior. Today, its golden glories past, it serves as a seat from which the enormous volume of government business from the developing sections of the district is transacted.

In a warehouse on the waterfront here lies the material for the construction of the offices, complete from office furniture to steel goal. The contractors, who were to do the building, have long since left. It was not necessary to send in contractors to do this job. There are local men perfectly capable of handling the contract, and if the government wants to save expense, it will be let by public tender.

There is a clique in Victoria fighting for the Natural Resources Security Co.'s interests. They are a powerful clique. They want the buildings on the Nechaco river townsite, because it pays them to want it there. The Natural Resources Co. are advertising every day the fact that the government buildings are on their site, and by so doing are making the government of British Columbia a party to the sale of lots on their property under a misrepresentation. If a decision was arrived at by the Premier, whatever it is to be, this stigma would be removed.

We have been told that Bob Green figured in a deal which transferred one of the latest additions, a pre-emption, to the Natural Resources Co.'s townsites.

It is rumored that he netted $10,000 on the deal. The pre-emptor, who let Bob—he of the grass-colored name—in on the deal, went to Victoria as an emissary of the "interests," when the deluge broke out, which stopped the work of building the offices in the wrong place. Now, whether the president of the British Columbia Conservative association is working in the same interests as his journalistic foe, "Bruce," or not, we are not prepared to state, but as a Conservative organ we wish to point out that in the event of the government deciding against the interests of the public, in favor of a corporation, presided over by aliens, a roar will be raised in this section which will echo and re-echo along the marble halls of the Capitol, and the good results wrought here during the last election will be totally obliterated at the next.

A University commission was called into being to decide upon the location of the Provincial University by the government. Their decision was received, and in spite of strong claims from other sources, it will be acted upon.

The government agent formed a government building commission here in July, every man in this section had an opportunity of expressing his views. That commission unanimously decided upon the location of these buildings, but up to the present their decision has been ignored—and the people want to know why.

Malcolm McNevin, superintendent of the Blackwater and Fort George wagon road, arrived in town early in the week. He reports the road complete from end to end. The grades are light and a first-class sleigh road for the winter season can be relied upon as a route of supply. Before the road is in shape for heavy wagon traffic considerable work will yet have to be done to improve the drainage and roadbed. This work should be undertaken early in the spring. Mr. McNevin has a gang working on the construction of the road from Mud river over the Rognass survey. He is at present engaged upon the first government building in South Fort George.

A conservative estimate placed on the hay crop of the Bulkley valley—a continuation of the Nechaco valley—for this year, coming from one of the best posted men in that section, is 3500 tons. This is by far the largest crop ever harvested there, resulting from a good year and more land being brought under cultivation. No estimate is put on the amount of grain, but a number of ranchers state that their crop ripened well and was fully up to expectations, says the Omenica Herald.

Potatoes did not do well and the crop this year is below the average, estimated to be not over one-third the yield to the acre that it was last and previous years. Some of the farms visited showed little if any reduction in quantity from the average and the tubers were of good quality. In the absence of an outside market, potatoes are only raised for local use and are not a large part of the farmer's output.

No one can travel through the valley without realizing that there is a great future ahead of it. The depth and richness of the soil, many places being a black loam three or four feet deep, accumulated from ages of growth and decay of vegetation, and the fact that wild grasses and weeds grow higher than the head of a man on horseback, prove the contention sufficiently.

An application was made to the provincial government on the 10th inst. by the G. T. P. railway for permission to employ Mongolians on their line of work through British Columbia. The application was not entertained by the Conservatives.

The government's trunk road building program in the province was voiced by C. H. Lugin at a meeting of the board of trade, Victoria, on the 13th, when he stated he had been informed by the minister of public works that not only would trans-provincial roads be connected so as to make a continuous highway from the coast to Alberta, but also a north to south trans-provincial road would be built. The latter will be a continuation of the old Cariboo trail, which will follow the east bank of the Fraser river to Fort George, thence by the Nechaco valley to the divide separating the Nechaco valley from the Bulkley and by the Bulkley valley as far as Hazelton. The north and south road would be between 500 and 600 miles in length. The provincial trunk road building policy involved construction of over a thousand miles.

The Victoria board of trade has taken up with the board of railway commissioners of Canada the complaint of excessive charges on telegrams dispatched from Vancouver to Fort George. The secretary of the commissioners had taken the matter up with the general solicitor of the C. P. R., who stated that messages from Fort George are dispatched via Ashcroft, going from the latter point to Blackwater by Dominion government telegraph, from where the message was phoned. Over the Dominion government wire and phone the railway company had no control, its service terminating at Ashcroft. The charges now made from Victoria were 25 cents for ten words as far as Ashcroft, 75 cents from Ashcroft to Blackwater, and a further 75 cents from Blackwater to Fort George, between which points the message is phoned. The board of trade council has decided to take up the matter with the Hon. Wm. Templeman who, it is hoped, will use his influence with the Dominion government to have a reduction made in the charge on the line which is federally owned.

William West, a bona fide pre-emptor, who is located on Fifteen-mile lake, on the Blackwater road, was in town this week, on his way out to Ashcroft and Cranbrook, where he goes to close up business connections in order to devote his entire time to the working of his pre-emption next spring. The location was made early in the year and considerable work has been done since then. A five-room house has been erected, several acres placed under cultivation, a lot of grubbing done and a co-operative boat built by himself and other ranchers for transporting supplies, etc., to and from the pre-emptions which skirt the lake. The lake is four miles long, with a breadth of one. The lake's approach is a pebbly beach, with gradually rising slopes of rich black loam. There is good timber in the vicinity, and a small sawmill is in contemplation. Fish abound in this lake, such as trout, ling and white fish. The name on the map for this lake is Nads Il Nich—Indian—and most of the locators are desirous of having it changed to Fifteen-mile, owing to their inability to pronounce it in one breath. There are eight resident locators there at present, among whom are James Fife, Max Bourgo, Frank West, William West, Maurice Quain, William Kenier. W. West comes back in December.

TINHORN PRE-EMPTORS

THE MEANEST CLASS OF "SPECULATOR"
IS THE MAN WHO PRE-EMPTS
PSEUDO TOWNSITE LAND

Every pre-emptor in British Columbia is a protege of the provincial government. Absolute observation of his rights are amongst the most sacred responsibilities of the administration in Victoria. The government encourages in every way the home-seeker who would build for himself a domicile upon their unalienated lands, till the soil and transform the wild into man's habitation, pleasing to the eye, adding to the province's development.

Price Ellison, who has just resigned the portfolio of lands, in order that he might assume the greater charge of handling the province's finances, did much for the pre-emptor. Before he abandoned his chair in the lands department he set aside great areas for pre-emption only. His map of the northern interior, showing the reserves in red, looks as though he had upset the red ink bottle in the middle of it and rolled it promiscuously around without discrimination.

This is all as it should be. The pre-emptor is the bona fide settler. The hewer of wood and drawer of water, who wins his land holdings by the sweat of his brow. In two years from the time he plants his stake he may obtain absolute title, confirmed with the great seal of the province and the signature of our Lieutenant-Governor. To obtain which he must conform to the lenient requirements of the Land act regarding the improvement of his quarter section.

There are, however, pre-emptors and pre-emptors. The man, honest in intention, who is looking for a good piece of land, suitable for farming purposes, and the tinhorn pre-emptor who seeks a quarter section in proximity to possible "townsite" lands, regardless of its agricultural fitness, seeking to scrape through with the barest possible improvement requirements and relying on some friendly neighbors to perjure themselves regarding the legal requirements of his "residence" when applying for a certificate of improvement.

The operations of these moneyless speculators are common to all rising frontier centres. Of course, they have a perfect right to win a jack-pine flat by pre-emption, and to sell it for fabulous figures if they conform to the requirements of the act in so doing, but our article is prompted by the acts of these would-be subdivision owners who stake over the prior rights of purchasers in the hopes that the department will discriminate in their favor, being "bona fide" pre-emptors.

The Liberal organs still raise their howl against the sale of government lands. Their editors are basing their arguments on theories which would have done them credit five years ago. The sale of the pick of the interior lands by the government at absurdly low figures, at that time, is to be deplored; but if our contemporaries, who are against the government's policy, only knew from actual experience how beneficial to the province's finances is the sale of the lands now being acquired, they would shut up. Enormous blocks of land have been taken up during the year past, which would not have been settled by pre-emption in the next half century. The purchasers are paying a wild land tax of 4c per acre on these areas until brought under cultivation. They will populate these areas when the G. T. P. is an accomplished fact, for those who can afford to buy these lands are the farmers who have passed through the pioneering period in other territory and have no need to do so again. There is room for thousands of pre-emptors in this northern interior country. If they are bona fide settlers they will soon locate on good farming land. If they are of the tinhorn class their wail will be heard again, after planting their stake on the other fellow's land, and taking oath that they are applying for vacant land, and when later their sins have found them out and they are informed that their application is void.

"Farmers in the vicinity of Dawson have finished digging the potato crop," says the Dawson News. "Hundreds of tons, worth many thousands of dollars, are represented in the Klondike potato crop for the year. Some of the growers have as much as $6000 to $8000 worth taken from single farms of 70 to 80 acres. The price they obtain, averaging the receipts for the full winter, is 5c to 6c per lb. The potatoes this season are said to be of exceptional quality. The crop is probably under that of last year in quantity, but the quality is said to be superior."

J. B. DANIELL, Editor.

October 29, 1910.

Our contemporaries are devoting much space to the high cost of living. The Week, published in Victoria, astonishes us by remarking that its home city is the limit in the line of high cost for the necessities of existence. That editor ought to live in South Fort George for a few winter months and pay $1 a dozen for eggs, $1.75 to talk ten words to the nearest railway point, $40 a thousand for lumber, 25c a loaf for bread, and ten cents on every pound of freight brought in from the C.P.R.—380 miles distant.

We require no knowledge of politico-economic conditions to find out the reason why. Transportation is the problem, and it will remain unanswered until the G. T. P. reaches here. In the meantime that child of the Laurier government is waiting for Mongolians to do the job cheaply. There is a Canadian railroad commission which should investigate the labor question for this railroad and show the magnates where the brawn could be procured to grade their line and lay their steel, if white men were wanted for the job instead of Chinamen.

CITY AND DISTRICT

J. H. Gray, Mrs. Gray, Miss Gray and Miss Pierce arrived in town Thursday evening, having come over the trail from Quesnel.—Omenica Herald, Oct. 1.

Bob Alexander returned from Alberta this week, having piloted two Englishmen, Messrs. Craig and Horne, from this point to Edmonton by the Giscombe Portage and Peace River route. The trip was made in thirty-two days. This is a trip that will be made by many of the more venturesome globe-trotters, who want to tell how they did it, during coming years. Bob tells us that Edmonton is growing into a beautiful city, which will some day be compared with Fort George.

The "B. X." arrived here on Sunday last for the first time since the accident of some weeks ago. The big boat brought in the largest cargo ever carried into South Fort George by a steamboat, 138,000 pounds. The damage sustained in her recent accident is scarcely noticeable.

The Fort George & Alberta Telephone Co. intend to install an exchange and local service in town next spring.

The Chilco arrived from the south on Monday last with a load of freight consigned principally to Messrs. Seebach & Hubble, at Giscombe Portage. She left on Tuesday for the latter point, delivering her load and returning here by Wednesday.

The Vancouver Board of Trade advocates the advisability of spending two or three millions in making a harbor at the mouth of the Fraser. The same sum spent on river improvements would make the Fraser navigable from the mouth to Tete Jaune Cache. The harbor could come later.

A prosaic English contemporary condemns the hobble skirt. In a scathing editorial it calls for its utter abolition. We have read much comment upon this ultra-fashionable mode, but up to the present South Fort George has been denied the privilege of gazing upon such an attire. If any of the ladies hereabouts own such a costume we would entreat them to don it just once before parliament passes its act preventing the hobbling of ladies.

T. J. Templeton, a member of the firm of Gore & McGregor, returned from a business trip to Victoria this week.

Alexander Faulds, of the G. T. Lands Co., of Vancouver, is reported in a Prince Rupert paper as having recently covered three thousand miles of northern British Columbia by canoe, horses, stage, steamboat and afoot in ten days less than two months. Last year Mr. Faulds covered over a hundred thousand acres of this section of the interior with legal posts in half that period.

The Natural Resources Security Co. are circulating a petition to have the Nechaco river dredged in order that the steamboats can land at their townsites. Mr. Burden, a P. L. S., recently surveyed the river and reports the necessity of closing the mouth of several sloughs, in order to give the main channel the benefit of all the water. The work would aid the steamboats in reaching the upper Nechaco, but the business of the boats at the Nechaco river townsites will not warrant such an expenditure as would be necessary.

N. C. Clark, head of the Fort George Lumber & Navigation Co., accompanied by Dr. J. K. McLennan and J. A. Adamson, two prominent financial men from Winnipeg, arrived by canoe late Thursday night from Fraser lake, where the party spent several weeks looking over possible lines for investment. The Manitobans have had exceptionally fine weather in which to travel through this unpeopled section and the impressions formed will bear fruit the incoming season. The party leave on the "B.X." tomorrow.
