Dear London:-

Sometime ago I promised to advise you the name of the chap who first operated the Great Northern cannery. Just to-day I found my notes, from which I give you the following:-

The plant was purchased in 1900 by Richard T. Godman, an Englishman residing in England, whose local representative was one H.E. Newton of Victoria. The vendor was W.A. Ward and he and Birdie Anderson, under the firm name of Ward & Anderson, acted as selling agents for the pack.

The price paid Ward by Godman for the property was $16,900. cash.

I hope this is the information you desired.

Yours faithfully,

HD/P.
