The Hazelton Leech.

Vol. 1. Caledonia &c. No. 13.

Saturday March 12th 1821.

Our Seasons.

How differently the spring is ushered in, in these Northern and Western climes, to what it is in England, or nearly all parts of Europe; Here we have heavy dark storm clouds winds that in themselves tend to loosen, the ice, and melt the snow; then, as it were, the battles between winter and spring the one apparently disliking to give up his cold grasp that he has had over land and water for so long, while the other bravely fighting for his rights melts, and becomes the heat of all nature, while frequent visits of winters power, make his task somewhat a hard one, but at last he conquers, and later on, the rush of long imprisoned waters the crashing of ice, waterfalls brought back to life and rushing with impetuous glee down the mountains side the trees bursting into bud the eyesight relieved from the white, white, everywhere! to a more variegated picture faint traces of green, and all in a week of time; While in the Old Country the gradual blending of winter and spring, make it hard for one to tell where the former ends or the latter begins. Vegitation must be very rapid here, as our season is so short that were it not so, we would reap no fruit; and while in more favored places people are enjoying the already matured vegetable we are only sowing our seeds, thus the summer comes and goes with great heat and rapidity hardly with us, before it is gone, but still giving us plenty of growing and ripening power for all ordinary vegetables. Then for awhile we cheerfully rejoice in the autumn and express our delight for the beauties of the Indian summer!! when down goes the thermometer to Zero, the birds have left us, the waters become silent, the ground white, and the winter has us again fast for another six months. ———

Walking through the town yesterday, we could not fail to see depicted on the faces of our friends gloom and sorrow, with kind intent, we buttonholed one whose had a most woe begone look and asked the reason of the depression of spirits, He replied in a hollow tone; You pretend not to know? when it is your fault, why the Leech has left us, our brow became overcast and our eyes bent in deep study; when an idear struck us, and we left him we would try and win once more, Ah! what an altered countenance, and his step was light as he walked off to inform his friends of the good news, that another issue of the "Leech" would take place. ———

No mail arrived as yet from the coast, the steam could not have left Victoria so soon as we expected.

Jno

[illegible] Saturday the [illegible] ago [illegible], has left for Stewart's Lake and will most likely return about the 10th of next month
Mr Kynaston will we understand attend to the place in his absence. —

[illegible] Various [illegible] with out insten[illegible] to our readers an[illegible] the truth of it [illegible] named h[illegible]uts" a few years ago erected a big pole at his village, it was a very large cedar stick, and as the case generally is, was hollow about 15 feet up from the big end, it had been lying for some time on the ground at the place where it was to be erected, and some dogs had made
a house at the hollow end, on the day it was to be put in its place, 3 dogs where in side, and nothing could induce them to come out of it, so the pole was erected with the 3 live dogs in it and for (8)
eight, days [illegible]
and whenever the poor brutes was heard when
it then ceased.
A good case for the Society
"for the prevention of cruelty to animals"

March is coming in, with its time honored manner great bluster and big winds, side hills are now bare, and those that have cattle or horses, need no longer spare the hay, the ground on the level is even in many places quite free from snow, a month at least earlier than last year

His Lordship Bishop Ridley has been very unwell for the past week; but we are happy to state now
very much better. —

The men on Vitale Creek are putting their shoulder to the wheel and getting out 1000 ft of lumber per week. —

[illegible] heard by [illegible]
week of [illegible] and
[illegible]

When it is [illegible]
And only one [illegible]

How cross we[illegible]
because the[illegible]
and drank h[illegible]
Nor seemed to care about the

"

John! has the Postman come no
No Miss! and I'm sorry he's lat well I'm sure there'll we a big ro Papa's in a terrible state

"

We have not the post mas[illegible]
To bring us the "Times" with an [illegible] but much could be said pro & con that outsiders hardley would see

"

When one does the best that he ca Gives pleasure th[illegible] 'tis once a week if it is not the "Times" or the "Sun"
But only a Whistling "Zeuch"

"

To us all alone for so long a Paper has infinite [illegible] be it "Leader" "Item" or "Long"
We have a right to think it the

"

[illegible]well to all
[illegible]ly is true
[illegible]
think the will