The Kootenay Star

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1891

A VERY numerously signed requisition has been presented to Messrs. E. G. Prior and Thos. Earle, asking them to again stand as candidates for Victoria District.

A NEW paper is to be started in Vancouver to be called the British Columbia Commercial. It will be specially devoted to the industrial development and the extending of the trade relations of the Province.

F. S. Barnard who has represented Cariboo in the Dominion parliament for the past two years is a candidate for reselection. He has proved himself an able and energetic representative and it is not likely he will be opposed, as his constituents are well satisfied with his efforts on their behalf.

THE political campaign now raging in the Dominion barely causes a ripple of commotion in British Columbia. The election will be a very quiet one here, and it is probable that all the old members will be re-elected. As will be seen by an address to the electors in our columns, Mr. J. A. Mara is a candidate for reelection in Yale-Kootenay district. During the past four years Mr. Mara has proved an excellent representative of this district, and of British Columbia, in the Dominion parliament, and it would be difficult to find a man who could fill the position as well as he. Mr. Mara, is undoubtedly one of the first men of the province, as well as an able parliamentarian, and is thoroughly acquainted with the needs of his constituency. Though a supporter of Sir John Macdonald's government, he is independent, placing principle before party at all times. Mr. Mara defines his position clearly in his address, which we would advise our readers to carefully peruse.

Concert at Golden.

On the evening of 9th February the Golden Glee Club gave their first entertainment and scored a grand success. The program consisted of glees, songs sentimental and comic, not to mention a violin solo rendered by Miss Wallinger. It would be impossible to particularize—like trying to select the best from a cluster of perfect gems—and I can only repeat "it was a grand success," and the audience, one and all, were delighted with the evenings entertainment and are looking forward in happy anticipation of another enjoyable evening at no distant date. The tickets announced the fact that the concert was held in aid of the Church of England, and as the new school house was fairly filled, that "sacred edifice" must have done very well indeed.

PROGRAMME—PART I

Glee, "Hunting Song" Glee Club. Duet, "Pianaforte" Misses Wallinger and Halliday. Song, "Good Company" Mr. E. Plowright. Song, "Across the far blue Hills" Mrs. Moodie. Song, Mrs. Moodie. Song, (in character) "Whistling Coon" Mr. A. B. H. Cochrane. Vocal duet, "I would that my love" Mrs. Moodie and Mr. Wallinger. Dance, Messrs. Vachon and Riley.

PART II

Quartette, "The Chajers." Duet, (in character) "Family jars" Messrs. Chandler and Plowright. Song, "Goodbye" Mrs. Moodie. Song, "The Postillion" Mr. Wallinger, Song, "Ballyhooley" Mr. C. Warren. Dance, Messrs Vachon and Riley. Glee, "Hymen's Torch" Glee Club. "God save the Queen."

TO THE ELECTORS OF YALE-KOOTENAY.

GENTLEMEN,—Owing to important proposals having been made by the Dominion Government through the Imperial Government, to the United States, with a view of forming a treaty covering trade and other relations between the two countries, and that the people may have an opportunity of expressing their views upon these proposals, Parliament has been dissolved, and you are now called upon to select a representative to the House of Commons. The most important question that has occupied the attention of the Administration and the House of Commons for several years past and probably the most important one that will come before the new House, is our trade relations with our neighbors. In seeking your suffrages at the last general election I stated, "I should favor a reci-"procy treaty with the United "States that would include the "products of British Columbia, but "would oppose any modification "of the tariff which should have a "tendency towards free trade, so "long as our neighbors keep their "markets closed against us by high "protective duties."

The question now comes before us in a definite form. Shall we adhere to the National Policy, under which Canada has prospered, and endeavor to secure a treaty with the United States that will be fair to both countries, or shall we, on the other hand, accept Unrestricted Reciprocity as advocated by Mr. Laurier and the Reform party?—a policy that can have no other meaning than a common tariff for Canada and the United States against the rest of the world, and one that will be framed at Washington and not at Ottawa.

I admit that a high protective tariff falls more heavily on our Province than any other portion of the Dominion, as we are consumers rather than producers, and owing to the great distance from the manufacturing centres of Ontario and Quebec transportation adds materially to the cost of goods laid down. But we must not forget that we are an integral part of the Dominion, and that no Province has participated to so great an extent in the general prosperity of the last five years as ours. We must also bear in mind, that without a protective tariff Canada would not have had either the means or credit to push to completion within so short a time the Canadian Pacific Railway, and without that work British Columbia would only be a member of the Confederation in name. British Columbia covers an immense area, our population is small and scatted, our mining districts are in many cases almost inaccessable, and our mineral wealth will remain undeveloped until the mountain ranges are pierced with railways. The burden of railway building is too heavy to be borne by the Province, and we must largely depend on Federal aid. How can we claim that assistance unless we contribute our quota of taxation? The Premier in his recent address, states: "We have "by liberal grants of subsidies pro-"moted the building of railways "now become an absolute necessity, "until the whole country is covered "as with a network."

This may be the case in the older provinces, but it is certainly not so in British Columbia, except on paper

There is, I believe, an agitation in the eastern provinces in favor of an export duty being placed on nickle ore, and a feeling of alarm in a portion of this district, lest such a tax should be imposed. I do not apprehend any such danger, but should the government contemplate placing an import of that description I will certainly oppose it. I would favor the duty on lead being increased as soon as our smelters are running, being confident that before many years Kootenay will produce more lead than will be required by the whole of the Dominion.

In common with the other members from this province, I strongly urged upon the government the advisability of placing mining machinery on the free list, and pointed out the advantages that would accrue, not only to British Columbia but to the whole Dominion if this encouragement were offered to the mining industry. Our efforts were so far successful that all mining machinery not manufactured in the Dominion, is now admitted free, and I am glad to know that more than one mining company in East and West Kootenay has taken advantage of this concession.

In endeavoring to secure assistance for public works, I have at least been partially successful. During my term subsidies were granted to only two railways in this province, one in Yale and the other in Kootenay. The Columbia river above Golden has been improved so that a month and upwards in the season has been added to steamboat navigation, and work is now being done below the mouth of the Kootenay, which it is hoped will give navigation on the lower river all the year round.

The government decided to establish four Industrial Schools for Indians in our province. Two of these are now in successful operation in this district. So thoroughly are these institutions appreciated by the Indians, that the Principals and Indian Agents have difficulty in selecting pupils, the number offering being so much greater than there is accommodation for.

There has been considerable dissatisfaction on account of of delays that have occured in extending post office facilities to outlying districts. I may say that I have not been idle in this matter, and whilst the Postmaster General has not acceded to every request as readily as I could wish, 22 new offices have been opened within the past four years, with an increase of about 600 miles of service.

Now, gentlemen, I hope I have placed the issues fairly before you. If you have sufficient confidence in me to re-elect me, I will as in the past, give the present government a generous support, and I will endeavor at all times to carefully guard your interests.

Yours faithfully,
82 J. A. MARA.

Court News.

County Court was opened here before His Honor Judge Spinks on Wednesday last. The was nothing on the docket and the court immediately adjourned.

A sitting of the County Court of East Kootenay was held at Donald on Monday and Tuesday. The principal case before the court was an action brought by J. McCrimmon against P. Murphy, to recover damresulting from an assault committed upon McCrimmon by the defendant on the 13th of January. The particulars of the assault were given in the STAR some weeks ago, briefly: McCrimmon came to Murphy's hotel on the evening referred to, repeatedly attempting to kick in his door. The defendant resented this action and after warning McCrimmon to go away (during which time the complainant used grossy insulting language to Murphy) he struck him several blows with a poker. The judge charged in favor of the plaintiff, but the jury gave a verdict in favor of the defendant.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

To a Number of Tobogganers at Donald.

A serious and what may prove a fatal accident occured at Donald on Monday night last, to a tobogganing party. The slide on which the accident occurred is such that the toboggans run down one hill and up another hill for a considerable distance. One party started down the the hill and were quickly followed by a second. The first party reached the end of the course, and were sliding to the level between the hills when they collided with terific force with the second party. Five persons were badly injured in the collision. Miss Lawrence, had one of her lege broken in two place, her ribs fractured, and her forehead cut open. Miss May Evans was bruised about the head and body; Thomas Taylor also had a leg broken, while Charles Crandon, had his ankle sprained, and T. Henderson was injured about the head and face,

Miss Lawrence lies in a very critical condition and indications of her recovery are not very encouraging.

Sangubor Bonded.

Walter Scott, of Illecillewaet has bonded for one year his mineral claim, the Sangubor to Sir James Grant, of Ottawa, for the sum of $22,000. The Sangubor is situated eight miles from the C. P. R. at the end of the Government trail from Albert Canyon. Sir James Grant is satisfied the property is a good one and will have it thoroughly tested next summer.

Great Silence.

We can hear the thunder rattle and roar,
Can hear the tramp of the tide on the shore;
Hear the furious winds rush blustering by,
Or the pelting rain from a darkened sky.
We may hear the lark as he soaring sings,
Not the growth of the grass from whence he springs;
Nor hear we the soft snow-flakes as they fall,
And trooping shroud the dead earth with a pall;
Nor yet the rise or descent of the dew
That gems and freshens the rose and the rue;
Nor hear we the moments that make up time
Though we tick them off with metallic chime;
Nor hear we the growth of the human soul,
Though demon or seraph may be the whole.
For thoughts and feelings come like the show,
And virtues or vices like grass will grow;
And no moment slips to the silent sea
That makes not its mark for eternity.

Breaking the Law.

The Victoria Times says: The preservation of fish from total extermination has been one of the aims of the Dominion Government for some time, but unfortunately in this part of the country there is no officer empowered to enforce the law, which is consequently broken with impunity. Complaint is being made of the useless slaughter of small food fish by the Italian fishermen in this vicinity. These chaps are really more destructive than the Chinese, and if allowed to go on without restriction, will eventually destroy the food fish altogether. Every day around Victoria the law is disobeyed in the matter of fish killing. Fishermen use nets and other illegal means of capturing fish and are not taken to task for it because there is no Dominion officer here. The law strictly says that no nets shall be spared from bank to bank of streams for the purpose of catching fish, yet this is done every day up the Gorge and on small streams tributary to it. Officer McNeill, of the provincial police, has been active in the matter, but finds that if he brings any of the lawbreakers to justice that all the fines have to be remitted to the department at Ottawa, while all the expense of the convictions fall on the province.

What Goldwin Smith Says.

Prof. Goldwin Smith of Toronto, in a letter to the New York Times, explains the political situation in Canada. He says: "The immediate issue is that of trade with the United States, but beneath this lies a broader issue between continental and anti-continental policy.

The Liberals of Canada, whether they look for an intimate entrance of Canada in the American union or not, are now men of this continent, and regard the inhabitants of the rest of it as partners and desire to cultivate the closest relations with them.

The Conservatives are are anti-continal. They desire to keep Canada in all things divided from her continental tendencies and attached to Great Britain, where the social centre of their party lies. Practically they seek to make Canada the engine of the Conservative aristocracy of Great Britain for averting the triumph of democracy of the new world, and keeping part of the American continent under the aristocratic institutions or influence of their party.

Sir John Macdonald is chief, and his whole policy has been directed against closer relations with the United States. The Canadian Pacific Railway was his destined instrument, though in the course of events his 'National' railway has been converted into half an American road, and seems to prove a helpless fight against nature. For the commercial question by itself he may be said to care comparatively little.

Among the people, whatever may be said of their political bearing toward the United States, the desire for free trade in their country grows apace. If the people are let alone there can be no doubt that the verdict will be in favor of reciprocity and against a protectionist governgovernment. But the people will not be let alone. The country has been governed for 25 years largely by corruption carried on by means of federal subsidies to the provinces, (which our constitution fortunately permits,) federal grants to local public work, concessions to contractors and bribery of all kinds. These engines will all be plied on the people whose political tone has been sadly lowered by long subjection to their influences.

The Government's majority in the late parliament was over 50 on a division in a house of 215 members, so that the Liberals have considerably leeway to make up. On the other hand many Government seats were won at the last election by small majorities which, if people were to vote freely according to their convictions, the commercial question would do doubt be reversed."

British Columbia Lumber.

The Canadian Review, in reviewing the lumber trade for the past year, says: "Advices from British Columbia state that the capacity of the mills of that province is being taxed to its utmost in supplying the rapidly increasing demand for Douglas fir, which is being transported to Australia, China and South America."

Two sticks sawed at Burrard Inlet and used on the Montreal harbor improvements, are said to have been the largest ever transported through Canada by rail. Both were the same size, and measured sixty feet in length and three feet square containing 6,480 feet each, their combined weight being a fraction over twenty-five and a half tons.

A Rascally Trick.

During the progress of the Royal City Social and Debating Club concert on Saturday evening some reckless blackguard threw a large glass bottle through one of the windows, breaking it into a thousand fragments, and throwing a shower of the dangerous little missles over the gentlemen present. Mr. John Fraser, who happened to be sitting on the left side of the room, facing the window, received a splinter of grass in his eye, causing intense pain, and making it necessary for him to call in surgical assistance. It is possible that Mr. Fraser may loose the sight of his eye. Every effort will be made to discover the perpetrator of this dastardly deed, and it is to be hoped he will be caught and punished to the fullest extent of the law. Blackguardly tricks of this kind are fortunately rare in Westminster, and they must not be allowed to become common. —Columbian.

Censures the British Government.

The St. John Telegram, the organ of the Newfoundland Government publishes a fierce attack on Canada and England, in connection with the collapse of the reciprocity negotiations between that country and the United States. It says that it was agreed to with Mr. Blaine, and only awaited the signature of the British Minister. The Telegram concludes: "It seems that the mischief has been wrought in London, not in Washington. Canada has no influence with the American Government, not a particle, but with the Imperial Government it is different. Sir John Macdonald and Sir Charles Tupper, who are in effect the Dominion Government have managed to persuade the Imperial authorities that a treaty between the United States and Newfoundland would be detrimental to the interests of Canada, and so her majesty's assent is withheld. We do not know in what principle of equity or fair play Premier Salisbury justifies his anomalous position in this respect, but we know the moral effect of the British Government's action in refusing its sanction to this trade treaty after delegating to our commissioner full power to negotiate it, will have a damaging influence in the colonies generally on estimates of the integrity and honesty of English statesman. What colony will now care to trust the British Government, in view of the frithless manner in which it has acted toward us in this connection.

Will be Strictly Enforced.

The instructions lately forwarded from Ottawa to the magistrates of British Columbia, are very strict, and the offenders against the Indian Act will be more severely punished than ever. Under the amendment of last session to the Indian Act, penalties may be inflicted on anyone who, by himself, clerk, servant or agent, directly or indirectly, or on any pretence, sells, trades, supplies or gives liquor to an Indian. A fine of $300 and six months imprisonment may be imposed for any offence.

They stood at the gate in the pale moonlight.
Observers there were none;
He pressed her hand and said "good night,"
And added, "Kate, just one?"

"Just one!" she said in feigned surprise,
And she dropped her lashes then
And curtained the bright, love beaming eyes—
"Well, I should say, just ten!"

"All right!" he cried with a rapturous look.
And did not a moment wait,
But he drew her to him and ten he took
Ere she could expostulate.

She gasped for breath as she fixed her hat,
And her blushes came and went,
As she murmured, "You know I didn't mean that;
I—I thought 'twas the time you meant."

The differences between the men on the eastern end of the C. P. R. and the company have been amicably settled.

The steamer Empress of India, of the C. P. R. Pacific fleet left Liverpool, on Saturday on her trip around the world. She is carrying a full list of passengers, many of whom are Canadians.

It is said that a regular system of transportation of Chinese is carried on between Victoria and Port Angles without the formality of entrances and clearances at the custom house, and in defiance of the laws of both countries.

The Puget Sound and Alaska trading and Fishing Company has been organized at Tacoma for the purpose of engaging in the cod fishing business. Fish will be caught in the Alaskan banks and and brought to the Sound cities for marketing.

At an early hour Saturday morning George Shaeffer and Billy Doyle engaged in a glove fight at the People's theatre, a variety dive of the lowest order located in the basement at the corner of Third and Washington streets, Seattle. Shaeffer, who was thoroughly game, did all the rushing, but being entirely devoid of science, was met with terrific blows in the body and face. At the commencement of the seventh round, bleeding and groggy, he faced his opponent, who delivered the knock out blow on the chin. Shaeffer never regained consciousness and died a few hours after. The police made arrests by the wholesale, but did not succeed in getting Doyle. Detectives are scouring the state in search of him. Considerable excitement prevails, and prize fights in Seattle will receive a check.

During the past six months over 150 timber claims have been taken up in Washington by young ladies.

The big McLaren saw mills at Ottawa, were destroyed by fire on Monday. Loss $150,000; no insurance.

Landon is overrun with American theatrical artists, and the invasion is being met on the whole with much favor.

Mr. G. A. Sargison, of Victoria, has been appointed chief census officer for the Province of British Columbia.

A report comes from Poplar Point, Man., that a young Englishman was attacked and devoured by wolves near there.

On Monday the 16th inst., the dentists of British Columbia will meet in Victoria for the formation of a provincial association, whose object will be the advancement in every way of the profession.

The vacancy in the Ontario legislature created by the unseating for corrupt practices of Mr. Stinson, as the representative for Hamilton, will be filled by an election to be held on the 24th inst. The candidates are Hon. J. M. Gibson, the provincial secretary, and Mr. Stinson.

A scandal is brewing in the highest English circles, which is said to be the most serious since the Mordaunt divorce case in 1875, and not very dissimilar in character. This scandal should it come boiling over, will be of great interest in the United States, for the chief party to it is a lady well known in America. The prince of Wales is very blue over the affair.

The British Steamer Knutsford, which arrived at London on Feb. 6, collided in the river Mersey with the steamer Drumhendrie, carrying a cargo of dynamite. While the force of the collision was sufficient to crush in the sides of the Drumhendrie, it was fortunately not sufficient to to cause the dynamite to explode. The Drumhendrie sank quickly and now lies at the bottom of the river, a menace to shipping.

Baron Hirsch, the Jewish philanthropist, has cabled to Jesse Seligman, representing the trustees for the Hirsch fund for the benefit of Hebrew immigrants to America, that the trustees may draw on him for $2,500,000, to be used in carrying out the work already undertaken. If the income is not sufficient to do all that is intended, the trustees are authorized to use part of the principal, and Baron Hirch will make good the amount. For nearly a year Baron Hirsch has furnished the sum of $10,000,000 a month for work among the poor Hebrews in the United States.

The Cataract Construction Company was organized a short time ago in New York for the purpose of utilising Niagara Falls for manufacturing purposes. Owing to the magnitude and importance of the undertaking an international commission was formed to pass judgment on the plans submitted for the machinery to be used in directing and transmitting the enormous power. The committee met in London during January and had under its consideration the plans submitted by firms of Europe and America. The Norwalk Iron Works submitted a plan for hydraulic and pneumatic transmission of power, which was accepted, and a prize of $1,000 awarded for the scheme.

The prince of Wales will shortly appear as a witness in a London court of law. During St. Leger race week, the prince stayed at Arthur Wilson's house at Doncaster. During the stay of the prince a wealthy baronet was accused of cheating at baccarat. He denied the impeachment. The Prince of Wales, dreading the unpleasant notoriety and disagreeable comments of the radical press, interposed and a settlement was made. One of the stipulations was that the baronet should give a written agreement, undertaking not to pay cards for money in the future. On the other hand the baronets accusers agreed not to comment on the unfortunate dispute. But it seems that the baronet found that the charges were soon publicly discussed and commented upon in aristocratic London clubs. The baronet has served the members of the committee who watched his actions, while playing, with writs in an action for libel, and a sensational trial is looked for.

At Ruetli, in the Canton of Glarus, an avalanche swept down the mountain, burying a party of twenty-two wood cutters.

Hon. Edward Blake has decided not to run again in West Durham, and will retire from public life, for the present at least.

It is said that Colonel Otter will succeed Herchemer as Commissioner of the Mounted Police. Several other changes in the military service are expected.

A story comes from St. Petersburgh that a young man and his sweetheart were attacked by wolves near Keiff in Russia. The man vainly tried to beat them off, and then climed a tree, whence he saw his affianced devoured. The sickening sight caused him to faint, and he fell to the earth and was likewise eaten by the brutes. The mystery is, who saw the tragedy?

Sara Jane Robb, daughter of the late Mr. Geo. Robb, of Kingston, Ont., has been declared legitimate, and is entitled to $20,000 left by her father. Her title to the amount was disputed on the ground that the marriage of her father to a daughter of Waukusa, Chief of the Comox Indians of British Columbia, which was celebrated in the in accordance with the tribal customs, was irregular.

The senate of Indianapolis has passed a measure which provides that all trusts, pool contracts, combinations, arrangements or corporations, which attempt to decrease the output, or control prices, or limit production, shall be considered conspiracies to defraud the people, and any person being a member of such organization shall be subject to a fine of from $1,000 to $5,000 and imprisonment in the state prison from two to five years.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto World tries to create a sensation by stating that he has information from a high authority that within the next few days the country will be startled by arrests, on account of treason, of men now prominent in political affairs. He says, "I am assured that the evidence on which these arrests will be made is overwhelmingly direct, and that the government is only awaiting the perpetratson of one or two minor moves before putting the law in motion."

LOCAL NEWS NUGGETS

Picked Up in the Town and District.

Ice is being harvested at Griffin Lake.

Four inches of snow fell at New Westminster on Monday.

To-day is St. Valentine's day. It was not observed in town.

Mr. Richardson, of Illecillewaet, spent last Saturday and Sunday in town.

There was a crowd out on the toboggan hill on Monday night and some lively sliding was done. The slide near the station is well patronized nightly.

Eli Perkins, the humorous lecturer intends visiting the Pacific coast shortly, and wants to know if a date can be arranged for Revelstoke. Get here, Eli, any time.

The members of the Revelstoke Total Abstinence Society at the regular meeting on Tuesday night decided to have the society organized into a Lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars.

The attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement of Dr. C. E. C. Brown, the well-known dentist, who will pay a professional visit to Revelstoke about the 20th inst., at the Columbia House. Those requiring dental work will do well to consult the Doctor.

Brakeman John Hopgood who had his foot crushed at Beaver some weeks ago and now at the Donald Hospital, will have to have the foot amputated, it is said, as mortification is setting in. Al. Vye, who had his leg taken off by falling under a car wheel at Rogers Pass, also at the Donald Hospital, is doing very well.

Mr. J M. Kellie, M.P.P., arrived in town this morning from the capital. He will be present at a public meeting to be held in the school house at 7.30 o'clock this evening, for the purpose of discussing public questions of interest to the people of this place, and will be pleased to see at the meeting as large a representation of his constituents as can possibly attend.

During the past week C. P. R. Bridge Inspector Jake Sosson and a gang of men have been engaged in driving piles along the Smelter dock, to make it secure against the ravages of the river at high water. The piles have been driven into the earth twenty-five feet, and the dock will be bulkheaded and filled in with brush and rock. It is likely the dock will be continued up to the inclined tramway, a hundred feet or so, and the piling and filling in, will be extended around the bend of the river, the work to be done jointly by the Smelter Company and the C. P. R. Company. These improvements will prevent any further washing away of the bank of the river at this point.

F. McCarty began cutting ice from the river this week. Others who will require ice during the summer, have cleared places on the river, but will wait for a time before cutting, in the hope that the ice will grow thicker than it is at present.

Thursday evening a passenger on the Victoria bus provided a little amusement at the station. He seated himself on the rear of the sleigh, and when the vehicle was started turned a not very dignified nor graceful semersault out of the rig.

While Thos. Righton was driving down the hill on Thursday, his horse bolted over the steep embankment, at a point where there is almost a straight drop of ten or twelve feet. Thos. aided his movements with a whip, and the horse succeeded in making its way safely through the stamps, etc., back to the roadway at the foot of the hill.

The car which ran into the river at the Smelter dock last summer has been located, only a few feet from where it slid in. It was predicted that by this time the powerful current of the river would have rolled the car down to Sproat. The only effect it had was to bed the car in a bank of gravel, and it will require considerable work to get it out.

The Winnipeg Free Press says: Mr. Anthony Egan has shipped twenty tons of ore from his gold mine near Rat Portage, to the Omaha reduction works to be crushed. He has ten teams at work drawing ore from the mines to Rat Portage. Nearly two hundred tons have been taken out, which will be shipped to the Revelstoke reduction works as soon as they are ready to receive it.

Rev. John Serkis, an East Indian missionary, gave a lecture in the church Thursday night. There was a fair attendance, and the lecturer's descriptions of the people and customs of the East, in contrast with those of our own country proved very interesting. A collection was taken up for the Orphan's Home in India, to which country the lecturer returns in a short time to continue his work.

Mr. J. W. Thompson returned this week from a visit to the Spallumcheen country. He says the work on the S. & O. Railway goes on apace, the grading being almost completed to Enderby. The cut through the rock about twelve miles from Sicamous is the principal work unfinished, and this is being rapidly pushed along. The settlers along the line of the railway are busily engaged in getting out ties for the road,

Mr. F. Roeser, Assayer for the Revelstoke Smelter Company, returned to town on Monday, after an absence of two months, during which time he has been visiting his home in New York city. Mr. Roeser had not been home for six years, and it may be naturally inferred that the wanderer from the "wild and woolly west" received a warm welcome home. He says Gotham has grown considerably since he last saw it.

The Chinese of Revelstoke celebrated their New Year season with great eclat. The New Year was ushered in Sunday morning with a fusilade of fire crackers, bombs, etc., and the Celestials kept up the racket —with slight interruptions for effect —for the prescribed three days. "Allee samee white man" they made and received calls, and "Sam Suey," other kindred drinks and cigars suffered in consequence. A decoration of their premises, offerings to their josses and big dinners were, as usual, features of the event.

Jas. Liberty was arraigned before Judge Tunstall Friday afternoon charged with the larceny of two cans of coal oil from the C. P. R. depot, the property of Bourne Bros. Two full cans of oil were found on the premises of the accused, one of which the defendant said he purchased from China Charlie and the second from J. Fred. Hume. Mr. Hume testified that Mr. Liberty had not purchased the oil referred to from him. The complainants could not prove that the oil produced in court was theirs, and the judge dismissed the charge, after giving the accused a lecture gratuitously.

A Court of the Independent Order of Foresters, was organized at the Central Hotel, on Saturday night last, with a membership of seven. A meeting will be held at the same place to-night to elect officers, etc.

MASONIC.

Installation of Officers at Donald.

The annual installation of officers of Mountain Lodge No. 11, A. F. & A. M., took place at Donald on Monday last. In addition to the resident brethern there were present Bros. Dr. Clarke and J. Bannerman, of Kamloops, J. Hamilton and T. J. Lendrum, of town and J. B Johnston, the past W. M. of Mountain Lodge, now of New Westminster, and others from up the line, who participated in the ceremonies. The officers installed were:
