William E. Boeing stows the mail sack on his lap in the front cockpit of the Boeing Model C at Vancouver, B. C., March 3, 1919, as the seaplane gets ready to begin the first Canada-U.S. international airmail flight. The flight ended three hours later at Lake Union, in Seattle, Washington, and the mailbag was handed over to the Seattle postmaster.

FROM: News Bureau
The Boeing Company
Seattle, Washington 98124

P4390