THE LILLOOET ADVANCE

Vol. 2 No. 2 SATURDAY, JULY 29, 1911 $2.00 Per Year

LOCAL BREVITIES

Rifle club meet see page 4.

D. W. Rowlands of Savona, is in town on a combined business and pleasure trip.

Work at the hatchery is now in full swing, there are at present six men being employed on the weirs.

Miss Irene Keary left yesterday afternoon by auto, on an extended visit to Mrs. Harry Logan of the 19-mile house.

J. Rowbottom made a flying visit to Gunn creek this week and reports everything looking exceedingly well.

R. T. Buxton, traveller for Leeson, Dickie and Gross of Vancouver, spent a few days among the local tradesmen this week.

Mrs. R. Smith who has been visiting Mrs. W. Manson for the past few weeks, has returned to the coast.

J. Hunt who has been on a business trip to the coast returned last evening and left this morning for Gunn creek where he has mining interests.

Game is reported to be very plentiful this season. Six goats were seen on Friday morning at the back of J. Dunlop's store on Cayoosh creek.

Dr. S. H. Haynes of Victoria, arrived last evening from the Cadwallader district where he has been for the past two weeks, looking over the likely investments.

Messrs T. Brett, H. P. Keary and Chas Keary arrived home last evening from the Bridge river section, where they have been on a fishing and prospecting trip.

Dr. Irving of Kamloops and W. S. Mitchell of Notch hill made a flying visit to Lillooet this week, by auto. It is reported they completed the deals for the Foster and Dickey estates.

W. H. Slipper who has been spending the past few weeks here, fishing and recuperating his health, returned home this week after having spent a very beneficial time. He went by way of Lytton in the Auto Lillooet.

BRIEFS FROM THE MINING CAMPS AND DISTRICT

J. Rowbottom registered at the Gunn creek hotel last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Noel left their ranch at the Big Horn, and are on a prospecting trip up the South fork of Cadwallader.

Dan Hamilton and Geo Gibson are still hard at work striping the bedrock on Dan's claim, the Boulder at South fork. They report very favorable indications and will undoubtedly make a good clean up this fall.

Messrs Ratcliff and Carl have located quartz claims on the South fork and are now busy running open cuts on their property which lies to the north of the Lorne mining company's property.

Slucing is still going on at the Marconi Hydraulic claims at Sucker creek, and Ferguson and Walker must be credited with great energy for completing the mile and a half ditch which is now in full working order.

P. H. O'Connor came in from Anderson lake and Blackwater and is at present making his head - quarters at Gunn creek weere he will prospect this season. He likes the appearance of country and intends doing some rustling.

Wm. Leach and Bert Williams have completed their contract of 50 ft on the Pioneer mine, and paid a flying visit to town. Bert will be occupied at his ranch for some time, and Bill has secured another contract from the owners of the Pioneer.

F. W. Smith has left the camp at the Lorne mine in company with Sugar Alexander, to operate the big ledge that he has had for the past few years, at the head of Cadwallader and McGillvary creek. In all probability Smith will shortly start perations on a larger scale.

The ladies of Cadwallader Ck. intend giving a dance shortly in the Coronation mine dining room invitations have been received by all the boys in the locality, it will undoubtedly be the event of the season, also like everything else the ladies undertake, a great success.

Gaspard packed in two prospectors as far as the Cadwallader mines. Wm. Kedd and C. E. Powel expect to put in the whole summer in that vicinity prospecting.

Mrs. D. Hurley and her daughter Minnie are thoroughly enjoying their visit to the Lorne mine and have already located a good Huckleberry patch, so that pie will undoubtedly be one of the delicacies at the forthcoming dance.

Grant White and Geo. Bell are rushing through the haying at Tyaughton ranch in order to get up to their claims on the upper Tyax. They expect to do considerable development work this season which will show up the property to a better advantage.

W. Jones of Fairhaven ranch is busy with his hay crop, and is supplying the two road camps, Nos 1 and 2 respectively.. The rock work and grading is progressing favorably and due credit must be given to all concerned. It is estimated that the completion of these sections will take take place in about five weeks.

Joe Shuster, Thos. Alford, and John Lucas have located claims in close proximity to Gunn creek lake and at present are showing some good specimens. The vein has been stripped in one place for over six feet and no walls in sight yet, so in all probability the boys have struck a good thing. Joe says it pans good and they are prepared to do extensive work shortly.

J. L. Owen of the Pemberton Meadows is a visitor for the first time to Lillooet and is highly pleased with the appearance of the town and local conditions. In company with the mail carrier he made the trip over the Lakes in record time. Mr. Owen has one of the banner ranches in the meadows and is full of praise for that section. In addition he is also very much interested in prospecting and has great hopes of the future of that country as a mining centre. In all probability we shall hear more of this in the near future.

PEMBERTON LOCALS

No high water and no mosquetoes is the general report from the Meadows this season.

Pat Dermody and family are in good health and quite busy at present. There are no grizzly bears around Pat's house yet, as it is a little early.

Will Haylmore is still busy fighting fire in the Meadows with the co-operation of some of the natives as assistants. Makes one think of ice cream soda.

William Elliott and D. Coughlan are busy at present erecting houses on their respective ranches and are expected to make a visit to town for supplies, in the near future.

Jack and Ed. Ronayne are busy with their hay crop which is exceptionally good this year and there will be no fear of a shortage of provender for the horses next winter.

Mr. Punch, road superintendent, has a gang of men at present working on the road between Ronayne's and McLeod's, and is doing good work which will be appreciated by the settlers in the vicinity.

Thos Graham, foreman of the Birkenhead Hatchery, and his bunch of men are busy at present building a weir across the creek to secure the salmon. It is expected that there will be a good run this year and preparations are being made for their arrival.

Mr. J. McKenzie has just arrived from a visit to the coast by way of the Squamish and undoubtedly made record time on the trip. He reports that estimation of the Pemberton Meadow land values are as good as ever and everyone in the city is very much interested in the future of the valley.

LILLOOET MINING DIVISION

Extracts from the report of W. Fleet Robertson, Provincial Mineralogist, for 1910

The Spokane group, owned by Dr. Christie, of Lillooet, and others, is situated on the headwaters of Holbrook gulch; the mine cabin is at an altitude of 6,520 feet and the upper tunnel at 7,050 ft. This upper tunnel has been driven in 20 feet, disclosing a quartz vein about 30 inches wide, cutting through diabase country-rock with a N. 70° W. and a nearly vertical dip.

The quartz is, in parts, quite heavily mineralized with white and yellow iron-pyrites and some copper-pyrites carrying values in gold and silver. A sample taken of one of the well-mineralized portion of the vein gave, upon assay; Gold $7.20; silver 0.7 oz. to the ton; and copper 2.3 per cent.

A lower crosscut tunnel has been started to cut the vein at depth, and had been driven in about 160 feet, but required to be driven farther before the vein might be expected.

A system of later basic dykes was noted as following up the course of the gulch, forming a small subordinate ridge, on which, near the mine cabin, a small shaft had been sunk to a depth of about 15 feet on a crushed zone in the diabase, about three feet wide, which showed some copper-stain, and from which a sample was taken for assay, which did not, however, disclose any values.

The mine cabin is at the entrance of the upper limit of timber-growth and the mine is above timber-line, so that all mine timber has to be hauled nearly a mile.

The proper entry into this section is by following Big Big creek, and this would be the route used should more extensive mining operations be undertaken.

The headwaters of Holbrook gulch are only separated from the valley of Bridg river by a range of precipitous mountains, the distance being not more than four or five miles, but this route is so steep it can only be followed by experienced prospectors unencumbered by horses or baggage.

From Holbrook gulch a route was taken across a ridge to the westward and down over a snowslide to the great basin on the summit of the Tyaughton range of mountains. On the west side of this basin the main Tyaughton trail was found; this is a trail much used by the Chilcotin Indians when travelling to Bridge river during the hunting season, and follows Alexander creek down to its junction with Bridge river, some eight or ten miles above the canyon on that river.

The whole summit of Tyaughton mountain and its slopes—in fact, all the upper Bridge river district — was found to be covered on the surface with a deposit of powdered pumice-stone, som etimes in pieces an inch or two in diameter, evidently thrown out in recent times by some volcano.

The Tyaughton trail was found to be almost obliterated by fallen trees, so much so that, although the start from Holbrook gulch was made at 8 a.m., it was 5.15 p.m., before the first open flat on Alexander creek was reached, a small opening and meadow at an altitude of 3,500 feet, taken up some years ago by Oliver Brett, but later abandoned owing to the continued summer frosts due to the elevation.

On September 2, the trail was followed down Alexander creek, and at about half a mile from its mouth the Babb hydraulic plant was found.

The Babb hydraulic plant is situated on Alexander ck. about half a mile from its mouth, and is held by a syndicate or unincorporated company. The property was operated in a small way in 1909 but not during the year 1910, being in charge of a watchman only. The gravel-bank that had been worked is on the left side of the creek and is quite extensive; the bedrock is slate, somewhat irregular as to dip, rising slightly into the hill.

The fall of the creek for 2,000 below the mine is so flat that the tailings have to be carried in a block-lined sluceway, but at the end of the flume a good dump is found at a fall in the creek. The irregularity of the bedrock has caused the excavations to assume very irregular form, and conducive to economical working.

The plant consists of a good water-supply under a head of 340 feet, taken from Alexander creek about two miles farther up, brought down the right-hand side of the creek by flume. The pen-stock is 16 inches in diameter, of iron. The water was used through two 7-inch giants assisted by a by-wash from another small creek.

The company has erected suitable mine buildings and a small sawmill, sufficient for its needs, driven by water. Although not at present working, it is understood that, although the plant is, as yet, only a prospecting one and has not been commercially successful, it has given sufficient encouragement to induce the company to continue operations in 1911.

An interesting deposit of carbonaceous shale with coal was visited on September 2; this is located just above Jones' ranch, on the steep hillsideto the north of Bridge river valley, and about two miles down-stream from the mouth of Alexander creek. The river valley here has an elevation above sea-level of about 2,300 feet, and the so-called coal-cropping is at an altitudeof 4,175 feet; a horse trail extends up the mountain to an elevation of 4,000 feet.

The upper portion of this mountain is capped with more or less horizontal beds of volcanic deposition, consisting of scorriae, breccias, overlying a whitish volcanic crystalline flow, and overlain by beds of volcanic mud and gravel in which are beds of sandstone of irregular thickness.

Interbedded with the intermediate series mentioned are one or two beds of a black carbonaceous shale from 1 to 2 feet in thickness, in which occur lenses of coal, these sometimes occupying the entire bed, but always retaining the lens shape.

This coal, while not developed in quantity, gave the following remarkably good analysis on a small sample of clean coal; Moisture, 8.1 per cent.; ash, 5.6 per cent.; volatile matter, 33.6 per ct.; fixed carbon, 52.7 per cent.; total 100 per cent.

OTTAWA SESSION PROBABLY BRIEF

It is believed in Ottawa that the general elections will be held during the last week of September. Parlinment will sit for three or four weeks, disolving about the middle of August. The date of voting will then be fixed for the interval between the end harvest and the arrival of the Duke of Connaught as governor general. His Royal Highness will reach Montreal on October 12 and the government wants to have the business well over and things running smoothly by that time. The signing of the disolution order is likely to be Earl Grey's last official act in Canada. Standard.

STEAMER BELFAST IS TOTAL WRECK

Nanaimo.—The small steamer Belfast lies a total wreck off Vancouver Island, near this city, resulting from striking a rock and rock and subsequently catching fire. The Belfast left Blubber bay, Texada island, for Seattle, with a cargo of lime, and was heading for Nanaimo to discharge part of her cargo.

The water coming contact with the combustible cargo caused a fire in the hold of the vessel, and with the smoke and flames pouring down her hatches the coaster went down and is a total loss. The crew of the vessel landed safely.

Australia's Census

The final census returns for Australia have now come in, says a Melbourne telegram, and give the population of Australia as 4,449, 495. New South Wales leads with 1,648,212 inhabitants, but West Australia has only 280,316 and Tasmania 190,808.

Valuable Gift

Mr. Arthur Cheatle, F.R.C.S., has presented his private collection of several hundred specimens demonstrating injuries and diseases of the human ear, to the Museum of the Royal College of Surgeons. Mr. Cheatle is well-known, and is one of th cleverest specialists in the British Isles.

Montreal. — Electrical storms unusually severe, accompanied by hurricane gusts of wind and rain did considerable damage in Montreal today. Lightening was responsible for several fires.

Calgary—So serious has become the shortage of corl, caused by tne Crows' Nest strike, that Alberta industries are forced to import fuel from Pennsylvania. In order to prevent a tie-up of its entire plant one coal company is bringing in 4,500 tons of Pennsylvenia coal. The freight on this coal alone will cost the company a pile of money.

Lillooet 13 Years Ago

Lillooet Prospector, Aug. 19, '98

A. W. Smith, M.P.P., left on Tuesdays stage for Victoria, on a visit.

Elmer Richey arrived on last Mondays stage from Vancouver.

J. C. Morrison has gone down to Lytton to look at some claims owned there by himself and partners.

W. F. Gibson and W. H. Slipper returned Thursday evening from Cadwallader creek after a short visit.

R. H. Brett has sent for several copies of "Jews and Gentiles" Secure them at the post office store before they are all gone.

Geo. Irving, the plasterer, returned to town last Saturday after an absence of a few months. Mrs. Irving and family are at present at the coast.

Fred Appleyard is building a neat little house at the bridge near Seaton lake, and expects to have it completed shortly, when he and Mrs. Appleyard will occupy it.

The work on the Lillooet-Lytton road will probably cease tomorrow. It is hoped that it is only temporary and that the necessary money will be forth coming for its completion.

T. A. Brett, clerk in the government office here left town Monday on horse back on a tour through the district collecting taxes. He will go as far as the 150-mile house on the Cariboo road and will then come down through Dog creek and Empire. He will probably be absent about three weeks.

The public school opened last Monday morning with Miss A. Davidson in charge.

T. C. Harris returned the first of the week from Cadwallader where he had been working on some of his claims.

Mr. Scott a mining engineer from the coast agent a few days in town this week and visited properties on Cayoosh creek.

Miss Noel a sister of Arthur and Chas. Noel is a passenger on the stage today from Wisconsin and will make her home here with her brothers.

The salmon run in the Fraser has been falling off steadily since last Sundays spurt. The cannery men are again becoming very anxious.

R. H. Brett has started work on the water works ditch, which he has by contract. He expects to have the ditch completed by the time the pipe arrives. The pipe has been ordered and will be along in a few weeks.

D. Fraser and P. Santini spent four days up the North Fork of Bridge river this week. They are taking a look over that section to see what chances there are for mineral locations, and were well pleased with their trip and favorably impressed with the showing.

FOMENTERS OF DISLOYALTY

Men, who, on the trade question, talk disloyally in Canada are the breeders and fomenters of disloyalty,

Those Canadians who inspire editors, even of the less influential newspapers in England, to write stuff questioning the loyalty of Canadians because they are following in the footsteps of the Motherland, are notorious mischief makers, traitorous alike to Canada and the Empire. In earlier days the state dealt severe ly with such characters. In our times we have to rely upon good sense of the public to rate such mischief-breeders at their true value.

Old countrymen resident in Canada are in a position to distinguished between the "fixed," sensation - mongering sheets of London and newspapers of reliability, but unfortunately many Canadians are led into believing that the fulminations of some of these London journals are really British opinion of Canada and Canadians. This is where the mischief is being done. The antagonism of the Canadian people is aroused. For the sake of gaining some cheap party advantage there are men who would stir up discord between Britain and Canada. This is discreditable and diseraceful.

A lot of newspapers and some public men went off at half-cock the other day on the proposition before the Imperial Conference that the Dominions should be relieved from the operation of the most-favored-nation clause of the old treaties. It was disloyal, they said. After consideration the Conference unanimously adopted the proposal, which was nothing but fair.

Canadians will act wisely if they listen to the true voice of the British people, as they hear it from such men as Premier Asquith, Sir Edward Grey, the Duke of Connaught and the King himself.

The lack of discrimination in sending English press comment to Canada, without qualification as to its source and authority, is a matter that Canadian newspapers might look into at an early date.—Winnipeg Tribume.

WOMEN-WORKERS SUPPLY LEAGUE

The Colonial Intelligence League has established a representative in Vancouver. Miss D. M. Davis of 1020 Nicola Street, who invites applications for women-workers of all sorts.

This movement aims at the immediate benefit of the educated women in England for whom the league hopes to find suitable careers in the Dominion. There are waiting in England now over a hundred women and girls of the very best type, who share the eagerness of their brothers to find scope for energies and abilities in Canada and other overseas Dominions. These are of two main classes — Those who have a little money of their own and those who are entirely dependent on their earnings. In either case, each one of them is not only thoroughly qualified in her own line, but is also able and willing, if necessary, to undertake successfully domestic work of any kind.

Miss Davis will be glad for any help in this work and for any information as to reliable openings.

The fellow who realizes that he is his own worst enemy might try matrimony.

Voice over phone — Hello, is that you dear?

Miss Coquette—Yes! Who is talking.

A.—When a man and woman get married they become one.

B.—Nonsence, they become ten

A.—How do you make that out

B.—The woman is the one (1) and the man is (0) the cipher.
