Dominion Election September 21. Get in touch.

Mr. Drummond, Indian agent, is again in our midst, dealing out the necessary.

Mrs. M. R. Eagleson and Mrs. Ed. Dougherty drove down the Lytton road to the Stougenberg ranch last Sunday, on a visit.

B. Stevenson of the 100 mile house on the Cariboo road, drove in with his automobile from Ashcroft on a visit en route for his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Logan of the 19 - mile ranch drove into town last Saturday evening and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Keary.

Tuesdays stage brought in the smiling face of M. R. Eagleson from Victoria, he is greatly benefited by his vacation. He left in B. Stevenson's car for Clinton, on Wednesday.

J. Birch of the North fork was in Lillooet this week and registered at the Victoria hotel. He reports the crops all around compare favorably with the showing of Lillooet.

Joe. Russell, local game warden arrived in town Thursday, after having been on patrol in the vicinity of North fork of Bridge river and Watson Bar creek.

C. Phair, Government agent is away at present assessing and collecting taxes, his route goes as far north as Fort George and as far west as the end of Chilcotin. He will be away about six weeks.

Pearl Mays made a hurried trip to town from the Pioneer mine to secure the services of Dr. H. A. Christie to the assistance of Mr. Frank Holton the foreman of the mine who was taken suddenly ill with paralysis and in a precarious condition. The doctor left immediately and through the courtesy of Captain Kinder the steamboat was held on Saturday morning until the arrival of the doctor. Last evening's report is that Frank is considerably better. The Advance sincerely wishes Mr. Holten a complete and speedy recovery.

VANCOUVER TO LILLOOET LINE MUST BE BUILT

Pemberton and Lillooet Districts Described by President of Vancouver Board of Trade

Mr. A. G. McCandless, president of the Vancouver Board of Trade, and Mr. W. H. Collister have returned from a ten day's trip covering the ground between Newport and Lillooet by way of Pemberton Meadows, the Birkenhead river, Anderson and Seaton lakes. This is along the line of the proposed railway to the Peace River which the coast merchants are now anxious to have constructed, in order to be in a position to compete for the trade of the Northern country which is now being rapidly filled with settlers. Asked as to what he thought of the country travelled thru Mr. Candless stated that its resources exceeded his most sanguine expectations.

"It is generally conceded that the timber between Squamish and the Pemberton Meadows is alone sufficient to justify the construction of a railway. Along this line there are numerous lakes well stocked with trout, which would make ideal summer resorts Green lake and the Green river falls are picturesque in the extreme. At the falls the water rushes through a narrow gorge and drops some 170 feet in about 1000 yards.

"The Pemberton Meadows are about 30 miles long by two miles wide with the Lillooet river running through the entire length of the valley. The land is in my opinion equal to any in British Columbia for small fruits, vegetables, potatoes, hay, etc. The yield is little short of marvellous. At Ronayne's ranch, near the center of the valley, we saw a patch of strawberries that were planted last year. The berries were of a good size and the yield exceeded anything I have ever seen before. But it does not pay to raise anything except stock owing to the fact that the settlers have no market, being unable to ship anything to the coast on account of the cost of transportation. At present the only means of reaching this district by Howe Sound is over a trail nearly 60 miles long, which in some places is about on a par with the famous Skagway trail of 1877. While the residents of this district are less than 60 miles from Newport where a steamer calls every day they get a mail only once every two weeks. Passing along to Birkenhead river where the Dominion government

BRIEFS FROM THE MINING CAMPS AND DISTRICT

J. C. Rackliff who is prospecting on the South fork, paid a visit to town and left on Tuesday's boat for the mines in company with Messrs. Abbott, Peterson, and the Grull Bros. who will be employed in doing considerable development work on the claims located by Rackliff and Carl.

F. A. Jenkyn of Vancouver accompanied by A. Landon of Seattle, Wash. were passengers on Mondays Lytton stage and departed for the Bridge river mines to meet Mr. J. Hunt and examine certain mining properties in the vicinity of Gunn creek.

R. P. Bishop, P.L.S. with his party of surveyors left on the automobile in charge of "Dave" Yule, for Quesnel on Wednesday, after completing numerous surveys in the vicinity of Pemberton meadows and the lakes. They will be employed in survey work in the vicinity of Quesnel until the snow flies.

Mr. Moses Foster has sold his ranch at the 15-mile. The reported price is $25,000. Mr. Mitchell of Notch hill is the purchaser and will be an addition to the local family. Mr. Foster is endeavouring to secure a domicile in town.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Mrs. F. Kinder and daughter "Dot" visited town Wednesday from Terrace Hall.

John Lawson came down from the grading camp on Mission mt. last Saturday.

Mrs. Focault, Miss Scott-Elliott and Miss Francis, all of Ashcroft were visitors to town this week. They left for home this morning.

Divine services will (D.V) be held in Methodist church tomorrow as follows: Sunday school at 11 a.m. Evening service at 8. Mr. Richard Clarke will sing.

Joe DeShields is very busy with hammer and saw on the new addition to the school house which will certainly be a great improvement when finished.

James O'Brien and Frank Nelson registered at the Excelsior hotel on Tuesday on a visit to town from the road camp at 11 mile.

Harold Burkholder arrived in town this week from the ranch en route for No. 1 road camp on Mission mountain where he will be employed.

Improvements are still being made at the Victoria hotel. A twelve foot writing desk for the use of guests has been placed in the sitting room. Mr. Barr did the carpenter work.

Ralph Webster an old Lillooet boy visited Lillooet the past week and made a flying trip to North fork of Bridge river; and is at present employed on the new road being made at the 11 mile hill.

Chas Noel left this week for the Lorne mines where he will take the position of amalgamator at the stamp mill. According to all reports there is a nice dump of ore ready to be milled and a good clean up for the summer is the prophesy of those who are supposed to know.

A. H. Martley has just returned from his ranch below Texas creek where he has been making improvements in the shape of fencing and building a house. Arthur says that he has got one of the prettiest ranches in the country with lots of water and sunshine.

LILLOOET MINING DIVISION

Extracts from the report of W. Fleet Robertson, Provincial Mineralogist, for 1910

The summit group, owned by W. Jones, Babb, and others, consisting of three claims—the Summit, South Side, and North Pole—is situated at an altitude of 5,000 feet on the north slope of Bridge river, a couple of miles above the mouth of Alexander ck. and directly across the valley from the mouth of Thomas Green creek. On the mountain-top and forming the edge of the bluff facing the river, there out-crops a very large basic dyke running in a north and south direction; cutting through this in a general N. 40° E. direction are a number of quartz veins carrying iron, zinc, and lead sulphides, with appreciable gold and silver values.

There a number of exposures of the veins on the bluff hillside, slightly developed by open-cuts and pits. About 50 feet below one of these outcrops a tunnel has been driven in for some 40 feet, disclosing a somewhat irregular quartz vein carrying a small quantity of the minerals described. Some 400 feet to the east of this first tunnel, at an altitude of 5,175 feet, a small upper tunnel has been run in for a short distance.

The main tunnel was started in at the outcrop of a vein striking N. 40° E. but the tunnel was driven in a due east direction for 50 feet, leaving the vein on the left-hand side; at this point the tunnel was swung round to the left and continued for 27 feet in a N. 40° E. direction, when the tunnel was again turned to the left in a N. 50° W. direction and continued for 10 feet. The tunnel has thus run away from the vein and by calculations would have to be driven 28 feet farther in the last direction before it would cut the line of the vein.

A sample taken of the ore as it could be hand-sorted assayed: Gold, $8; silver, 2.2 oz.; lead, 10 per cent.

On the main Bridge river valley, just above the mouth of Gunn creek and opposite the ranch formerly occupied by Arch. Trevarge, the hills are generally low and rolling although rocky and precipitous in places, rising above the valley to a height of 400 feet—the mountains being about a mile farther back.

The rock-exposures on these hills are chiefly volcanic, agglomerates, etc., which have been cut by numerous basic and porphyrite dykes, very much weathered and decomposed on the exposures. Accompanying these dykes are lenses of quartz, scarcely sufficiently continuous to be styled veins, but sometimes of considerable length and reaching a thickness of 2 or 3 feet. These quartz lenses carry in places considerable quantities of galena and stibnite, lead and antimony sulphides, which contain small values in gold and silver.

A general sample of such mineralization gave, upon assay: Gold, 40c; silver, 0.6 oz., the sample was not assayed for lead or antimony.

On this series of quartz croppings the North Star and University mineral claims have been staked by W. W. Jones, Christie and Smith, and a small amount of work done in the way of open-cuts, etc. On the former, in an open-cut 10 feet long, quartz of about 4-feet wide is exposed carrying lenses of stibnite from 3 to 4 inches wide; on the latter several open-cuts have exposed a vein showing extensive mineralisation for a width up to 8 inches, but not averaging more than 3 inches. These quartz lenses, while not continuous, seem to be more or less in line, as though following some definite fissuring which has a strike of N. 40° E. and dips at an angle of 45 degrees to the south-east.

The Wayside mine is located on the north side of the Bridge river valley, about three miles above the mouth of Gunn creek and opposite the mouth of the South fork. The property was staked by John Paterson, and is now held by H. M. Babb et al., of Lillooet.

Here the country-rock changes from the prevailing character of the lower valley to a diorite, a large body of which is found on the east side of Cadwallader creek, extending down into the valley of Bridge river at this point.

Through this diorite country-rock is a regular fissure, with a strike of N. 30° W. (mag.) and a dip of 30 degrees to the south-west, cutting into the hillside nearly at right angles and so outcropping down the face of the hill, which has a slope of about 20 degrees.

Running in from the outcrop on the vein are three adit tunnels, Nos 1, 2, and 3. No. 3 tunnel is the highest, at an elevation of 2,950 feet, and has been driven in about 25 feet, disclosing in the general fissure a quartz vein about 20 inches in width and of considerable regularity. The tunnel was the first prospecting workings driven by the discoverer, and the vein here is seemingly at its best, having clearly defined walls, and being well mineralized with iron-sulphides carrying appreciable values in gold, samples of hand-sorted ore running as high as $50 to the ton in gold. No. 2 tunnel has been driven in from a vein out-crop for 135 feet, starting at a point some 270 feet lower down the hill than No. 3, and at an elevation of 2,680 feet, on what was supposed to be the same vein; but, as the intermediate outcrop between the two tunnels has not been uncovered, and the dip in the upper tunnel would appear to strike to one side of No. 2 tunnel, this is by no means certain, and it may prove to be a parallel vein. The quartz vein at the portal of this No. 2 tunnel is about 12 inches wide, and continues in for some distance of this width, pinching out, however, at 90 feet in, to almost nothing, but again widening out farther in. Still farther in, the vein splits into three stringers, and so appears in the face at the inner end of the tunnel.

On the dump just outside the tunnel there is a pile of about 15 tons of ore—quartz heavily mineralized with iron sulphides, expected to carry good values in gold. A sample shipment of ore from this dump was taken out by pack train in September, 1910, but no information has been obtained as to its assay value. Occasionally a little free gold visible to the eye, is seen in the ore, but it does not occur in quantity, and the values are chiefly in the sulphides.

No. 1 tunnel, at an elevation of 2,590 feet, or 90 feet lower than No. 2, has been driven in for about 150 feet; the fissure or crushed zone is

WRECK OF THE EMPRESS

C. P. R. Steamer "Empress of China" is wrecked off Japan. The passengers are all rescued, but the ship will probably be a total loss. Mr. R. H. Brown, late managing editor of Ashcroft Journal, was aboard and we are glad to learn that he is safe. From reports we understand that amongst other passengers he was housed in a temple and afterwards proceeded overland to Yokohama.

AGAINST FRUIT FLY

Sacramento, Cal.—So as to seal the entire Pacific coast against the possible introduction of the Mediterranean fruit fly from the Hawaiian Islands, State Horticultural Commissioner Jeffrey has taken the matter up with the authorities of Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. Small vessels and one large steamer ply between Honolulu and the ports of the north, and the California horticulturist desires every possible precaution to be taken so as to keep the fly from getting into California.

While the states of Oregon and Washington and the province of British Columbia have not taken so much interest in the exclusion of the fly, which preys upon fruit and trees, it is thought that action looking to investigation and inspection of fruit shipments if not a strict quarantine against fruit, will be inaugurated. Ships from Honolulu land at Vancouver and also at Gray's Harbor, and it will be at these ports that the danger will lie. Mr. Jeffrey said that while there are not so many in the northwest that the fly attacks, the danger is always present so long as a port is open to Honolulu shipments.

Lillooet 13 Years Ago

Lillooet Prospector, Aug. 26, '98

Miss Latalien arrived in town and is the guest of Miss Noel.

Mrs. Robb arrived in town last Saturday evening from Ashcroft.

T. Cole of Pavilion who was cut some time ago by his mowing machine is now able to be around again.

T. J. Derby, of Crow's Bar, spent last week in town and has gone to the Bridge river to take a look at the country.

A. M. Fraser who has been employed at the Golden Cache returned to his home at New Westminster on Tuesday.

P. Burnet, P.L.S., spent Sunday in town. The major and party are surveying a number of mineral claims on Cayoosh creek.

The frame work of the new school house is up and the contractors Messrs Duguid & Miller are pushing the work.

The carpenters have about finished the cottage for Mrs. A. McIntosh at the west end. It is very neat and nicely situated.

Frank Tinkham and wife have moved to town after camping out several weeks near Cayoosh creek. They are living in E. S. Peters' house on main street.

F. Thomas who have been prospecting on Cadwallader left this week for Lytton and Spences Bridge where he will work on some claims in that vicinity.

H. Atwood one of the owners of the Pioneer came down from the claim Thursday night and will remain in town some time as he has not been well lately.

Mr. Paul Santini is having a furnace put under his store and will have his whole building heated during the cold weather with hot air. R. Atkin the tinsmith is doing the work.

H. Hodge while up Cayoosh creek last Saturday helping Major Burnet's party survey mineral claims, accidentally fell over a cliff about ten feet landing on some very sharp rocks bruising his shins. He came to town Sunday and received relief for his bruised limbs.

James Rowbottom and N. J. Pendergrast returned to town on Sunday after an absence of several weeks. They located claims on McGillivray creek and also in the Blackwater. They will return shortly to Blackwater and work on their respective claims. When leaving McGillivray creek Rowbottom cached the most of his grub and on his return from Blackwater found to his sorrow that most of it had been stolen. He has an idea who it was and swears vengeance. To relieve a prospector of his cache in the mountains is a rather mean offence, and no party should be shown anyone found out in such an act. During his sojourn in the mountains "Jimmy" added to his long list of game, by killing the largest grizzly yet found in this neighborhood.

VANCOUVER TO LILLOOET

established a fish hatchery about four years ago, there is found a country and climate altogether different from the valley. The elevation is higher and fruit such as apples, pears, plums and cherries seem to do very well.

From there we followed the old Cariboo road to the head of Anderson lake, a distance of about twenty-five miles. There are a number of settlers along this road, and while the country generally speaking, is rough and mountainous, there are many stretches of rich bottom land. Anderson lake, about 15 miles, is crossed by canoe, but I understand there will be a small steamer running on this lake next summer. After crossing a portage of about one and a half miles Seton lake is reached. Seton lake is somewhat larger than Anderson lake, and is the entrance to the Bridge river country, which is now attracting considerable attention on account of its mining possibilities.

"Lillooet is about three miles from the mouth of Seton lake and is reached by a very good wagon road. Here the same conditions exist as in other parts along the route. Although the finest kind of fruit and vegetables can be raised, it is impossible to market anything for lack of transportation, the nearest railway point being at Lytton, nearly fifty miles away. The whole country is crying for a railway. "Give us transportation and we will show what we can do, is the cry all along the line. I just want to add that this road must be built, and when it is built it will be the scenic road of America. There is hardly a mile from Newport to Lillooet where the road does not follow some lake or river, and the snow-capped mountains are nearly always in view. J. D. Nelson, who ran the preliminary survey for the Howe Sound & Northern Railway from Newport to Lillooet, accompanied us as far as the Birkenhead river and gave us valuable information as to the elevation, location and grades of the line."

THE UNWRITTEN LAW

The untutored mind of the Indian or the savage often appears strange to us, but there is sometimes reason in what at first sight seems eccentric. A South African tribe has an effectual method of dealing with boers, which might be adopted by Western peoples. This simple tribe considers long speeches injurious both to the orator and his hearers, so to protect both there is an unwritten law that every public orator must stand on one leg only when he is addressing an audience. As soon as he has to place the other leg on the ground his oration is brought to a close.

London.—Dr. Blow of Calgary has interviewed Lord Strathcona and secured from him a promise to give $25,000 to the Calgary University.

She—I consider, John, that sheep are the stupidest creatures living.

He (absent-mindedly)—Yes, my lamb.

He—Ah, speaking of electricity, that makes me think—

She—Really Mr.—! Isn't it remarkable what electricity can do.

Knicker—Bread is to be sold by weight.

Nuwed—Then my wife can make us rich.
