PLACER MINES IN CARIBOO

T. Graham, Formerly of Revelstoke, and Partner Purchase the Luce Placer Mine.

From Our Own Correspondent.

BULLION, B. C., May 1.—The Luce placer mine on Little Snowshoe Creek has been purchased by Messrs. V. Minisci and T. Graham, ditch superintendent and accountant respectively for The Guggenheim Exploration Co., here. This is one of the highest hydraulic mines in the province, being about five thousand feet above sea level, and is equipped with monitor, pipe, ditches, etc. A crew of seven men is now employed on the property and a good clean-up is anticipated.

Mr. Killeen, late Government Superintendent of Roads for B. C., has been engaged by Mr. J. B. Hobson to lay out and supervise the construction of the wagon roads being built by the Guggenheim Exploration Co. to the various hydraulic mines owned by in Cariboo.

ALBERT CANYON

From our own Correspondent.

Chas. Vinette, of the Windsor hotel, has left Illecillewaet, and intends going to the coast shortly. George Stevenson, who has been travelling along this division for C. D. Morris, of Rogers Pass, for the last few years, will take the management. "George" as he is always called, will have the best wishes of everyone for success in his new enterprise.

Hunting and fishing are excellent. Bears, goat and carribou are seen from the track. Bear were seen from the station on a slide lately.

T. Peller has another kiln of lime almost ready for shipment.

Mr. Gosling, our missionary, has returned to take charge of the mission field. He has taken up his residence here.

THE TRAIN ROBBERY

Done by Same Gang as Held Up C. P. R. Train at Mission —Bill Miner, the Notorious Robber at Head of Gang—Bloodhounds on the Track—Robbers Corralled and Their Capture Seems Certain.

Great excitement prevailed at Kamloops Wednesday as soon as it became known the C. P. R. Express Train had been held up within a few miles of the city. Nearly every man who could ride a horse or handle a gun volunteered his services Within an hour of the robbery being reported at Kamloops Tuesday night Sherriff Wood, Provincial Constable Pearce, and Mounted Constable Fernie had their arrangements planned and expert Indian trackers were engaged and started for the scene of the robbery. Supt. Kilpatrick and Trainmaster Elson started out from Revelstoke by train and engaged in the hunt.

The scene of the hold-up was near Campbell Creek, ten miles east of Kamloops. Two of the robbers boarded the train at Ducks, climbed over the tender, presented revolvers at the head of Joe Callin, the enginee , and instructed him to stop at the next mile-board. The leader assured him that if he did as he was told no one would be hurt. Joe "did," the engine pulled up and the mail car was cut off by direction of the robbers. While all this was being done Conductor Elliott appeared and asked "Has the hose burst?" The leader of the gang replied "This is no hose-burst,

IT'S A HOLD-UP.

Put your head in or I'll blow it off."

Realising the situation the conductor looked after his passengers, while the mail car was uncoupled. Callin had evidently passed the point intended by the robbers for the first part of their operations, as Elliott saw a man running along with the train and carrying a sack, but did not realise he was one of the gang at the time. However this man joined the other two and they then compelled the engineer to run the engine and car another mile west. The men were masked, but the mask on the face of the leader dropped down and the fireman was able to give an accurate description of him.

On the engine being stopped the thieves directed their attention to the mail car, in which were Mail Clerks Willis and McQuarrie. Willis was asleep and McQuarrie at work. The robbers banged the door of the mail car till it was opened, and then presented revolvers at the head of McQuarrie telling him to HOLD UP HIS HANDS.

He did. They then ordered Willis out of the car, covering him and the fireman with guns while one of the crew sought the registered mail. McQuarrie pointed out a sack containing a few registered letters. The man demanded the San Francisco registered mail and was told there was none. He evidently expected to make a haul of relief funds for Frisco. Going through the sack indicated he took out four registered letters consigned to Victoria. He asked if there was any more registered mail and was told there was none. He got Willis in and got no better satisfaction from him, so concluded he had all that was worth taking. As a matter of fact the car contained registered mail to the value of between $35,000 and $40,000, but, thanks to the presence of mind of the mail clerks, the robbers did not get it.

They then enquired about the express, and McQuarrie replied, "I'm a mail man, I know nothing about express." The robbers then remarked:—"We've made a mistake. We've got the wrong car." As a matter of fact on the occasion of the hold-up at Mission the mail and baggage were both on the same car, and the car cut off was labelled "mail" at one end and "express" at the other, which threw the thieves off the scent and caused them to make the big mistake they did in their job. As soon as they found it out they swore a little at getting such poor results for their trouble.

They were evidently

COOL-HEADED FELLOWS.

When Willis was standing outside the cars shivering in his night attire the head of the gang remarked, "I'm sorry to keep you in this condition but wont hold you long."

The mail car was then cut off and the engineer ordered ahead to a point where they told him to slow down. The robbers jumped off, and bid the engineer and fireman farewell with the words "take care of yourselves boys." It was a clear moonlight night and the whole performance was clearly witnessed by those who had to take a hand in it so much against their will.

The engineer backed his engine towards the train, picked up the mail car and then the train and went into Kamloops where the alarm was raised, reports made to the police and the facts wired the superintendent's office at Revelstoke.

The investigation of the robbery showed the following facts: The robbers had been camped in a gulch ten miles south of the track for eight or ten days. Their camp was so concealed in dense growth of willows and poplars that men might ride around it day after day and never see it. There was a little spring of water near by and it was a perfect counterpart of the robbers' camp at Mission on the occasion of the hold up in Sept. 1904, and had evidently been arranged by the same men. They had lain in that camp in comparative seclusion while they figured out their plans as they had not been seen around. On the chase being started the first thing sought was their camp. There were no signs of horses having been used in carrying away the robbers from the scene, and it was evident they must have walked to and from their camp to the scene of the railway on the night of the hold-up, evidently figuring that their footprints would not be very easily traced in this way. Clear prints of their nailed shoes were obtained however near the scene of the robbery.

After some difficulty their camp was discovered and the rest was then easy. They had apparently remained in camp the night, and started out first thing in the morning. One of their horses, a high spirited animal, had evidently got away from them, this being the first hitch in their plans. This horse was captured by the force engaged by the police. The saddle was afterwards found. Then the other two saddle horses were found as the robbers evidently could not get them through the country as rapidly as they had expected. The chase got so hot that they finally abandoned their pack horse, camp outfit and food supplies which came in handy for the sherriff's posse and used in helping to hunt down the robbers.

The Indians did splendid work. The tracking of an Indian known as "The Skunk" was a particularly fine piece of work as he followed the trail of the fleeing robbers by their footprints, broken boughs, freshly turned stones and other marks. The footprints corresponded with those found at the scene of the robbery, and to show the carefulness of the robbers to conceal their tracks they had evidently walked on their heels over the soft places so as to avoid as much as possible leaving footprints.

Before the night of the robbery they had also marked a trail through the timber by which to escape. The Indians quickly caught on to this and followed it at a red-hot speed. The trail of the robbers was eventually located in a rough broken hill, thickly wooded, twenty miles south of Kamloops, and this hill was surrounded by the sheriff's posse. There was no evidence of the robbers having escaped from there up to last evening and unless they got away during the night the police and their co-adjutors felt certain they had them surrounded and that there would be no escape. In addition to the Indians the sheriff's posse included ten of the best cross-country riders and crack shots to be found, and as the men are desperate and some shooting is expected before an arrest can be made, two or three well-armed members of the Strathcona Horse are in the front to take a hand in the shooting if necessary.

Blood-hounds were sent for to Nelson and came through on last night's train, reaching Kamloops last night. They were immediately put on the trail and the police felt sure that by this means they would locate their men, in the same way as the hounds located the notorious Smith in the States recently.

The Dominion government promptly offered a reward of $5,000 for the capture of the robbers dead or alive. The C, P. R. offered a similar reward, and the Provincial government offered another $1,500 making $11,500 rewards offered. Every cowboy on the ranches is out with his gun and every road and trail is guarded between the railway line and the boundary. Of course the robbers may double back on their trail and make for the railway and get out in that way as has been done before in similar cases, but when the blood-hounds are put on their trail they will have the hunt of their lives.

The leader of the gang is known to be Bill Miner, the notorious American train-robber and convict. He it was who robbed the train at Mission sixteen months ago and he got away clear in consideration of returning valuable securities which he had taken from the express car at that time.

These men are the most desperate of their kind, and will probably not be taken alive, but taken they must be at all costs if the holding up of trains and robbery of mail and express is to be stopped on this side the line. Most people express the opinion these men will not be taken as they are too well experienced at being hunted in rough country, and will leave nothing undone to defeat their pursuers.

On the other hand it must be remembered they are without food and camp equipment, have lost their horses, have to pass through a country often difficult to traverse, that their progress must be slow, that the whole country is on the look-out for them for 200 miles south, and that the chances of their escape are reduced to the smallest.

The chief of the Detective Agency went through to Kamloops this morning to assist in hunting down the hold-up men. A detachment of the Northwest Mounted Police also passed through to join in the man hunt.

Provincial Constable Young, who owns the only bloodhounds in the province, left Nelson last night and will reach Kamloops this evening with the dogs, which will be immediately placed on the hunt, and if the men have not yet got out of the country it is believed the dogs will be useful in locating them.

The incident about the bloodhounds is most discreditable to the police administration, and shows that a change is radically wanted. With creditable enterprise Constable Young purchased and maintained these hounds at his own expense, recognizing their value in locating perpetrators of certain crimes. Supt. Hussey ordered Mr. Young to remove these dogs from the Government grounds at Nelson, where he kept them. When the necessity for using the hounds became evident for tracing the hold-up men, Constable Young was ordered to bring his dogs to Kamloops. He refused, unless Supt. Hussey withdrew his obnoxious order. The Superintendent had to cave in and Young is on his way with the dogs. But these dogs should have been on the hunt two days ago and would have been but for the incident narrated.

There is no further news as yet from the scene of the hunt for the robbers.

SYNOD OF B. C. AND ALBERTA

From our own correspondent.

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 8th—The annual meeting of the Synod which closed on Friday night (4th inst.) was a very interesting one in many ways. It was pleasing to find that there were no troubles to be settled by the superior court and that all the congregations of the Synod are in peace and harmony. Many matters of importance claimed the serious attention of those present. As usual the Home Mission work claimed first place, and the Sunday School work was of great interest. The public meeting on Thursday night was an inspiring one when Revs. Dr. McLaren and Dr. Herdman gave addresses on Home Mission work, and Rev. Dr. R. Douglas Fraser, of Toronto, on Sabbath School work. As Dr. Fraser is the publisher of all the Sabbath School supplies of our Church in Canada, and as he had not been west for thirteen years it was exceedingly interesting to see and hear the man whose name is now so familiar in S. S. circles.

On Friday a great deal of interesting work was done. The Synod unanimously decided to ask the Assembly to divide the Synod into two, corresponding with Provincial boundary lines. A deputation of educationalists consisting of Judge Henderson, G. H. Cowan, Dr. Pearson, and F. C. Wade waited on the Synod in behalf of the question of a Provincial University. A resolution was passed recommending to the government the establishment of a university on the lines of a law still on the statute books and the setting apart from the public domain of a tract of land suitable for the endowment of a university. Some discussion took place on the question of establishing some theological training in B. C., and the overture of Kamloops Presbytery for this purpose was sent up to the General Assembly. The work among the Chinese and Indians was presented by Rev. Dr. Campbell and in spite of all discouragements it was decided to prosecute this work more vigorously than ever. A very interesting report on Church Life and Work was presented and earnest discussion followed In spite of all the best elements of present day home life it seems quite clear that the Christian home of the present is not what it ought to be. Young Peoples' Societies also received attention and some hopeful features were noticed.

The cities of Calgary and New Westminster were claimants for the next meeting of Synod. Should the Synod not be divided by next year Calgary will likely be the place, otherwise New Westminster.

The ladies of St. Andrew's Church entertained the members of Synod on Friday to mid-day lunch and this social feature was greatly appreciated and much enjoyed.

The meetings of Synod were brought to a close on Friday night. The Moderator, Rev. D. Campbell, proved himself an efficient official of the Court and worthy of the honor conferred on him.

On Sunday the visiting members of Synod preached in the different churches in Vancouver and Victoria and on Monday the Annual Theological Conference opened in St. Andrew's Church, for which most of the ministers are remaining. We shall speak of this again. J. R.

Shocking Accident.

SANDON, May 9.—Thos. McGuigan, manager of the American Boy mine, an old timer and one of the earliest locators in the Slocan district, was killed by a fall of rock in the mine at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The fatal accident occurred while Manager McGuigan was inspecting an upraise preparatory to putting in the timber. A portion of the hanging wall fell on the manager, crushing him badly about the head and shoulders. He only lived a few minutes after the accident.

Deceased came to the Slocan in 1891 and was one of the original locators of the Noble Five mine. He has been in charge of the American Boy property since 1895.

J. I. Woodrow has fixed up sample cases of ores in front of his office and they have attracted a good deal of attention.

THE HOLD-UP.

The fact that the hold-up of the C. P. R. express train this week and the robbery of the mails is the second incident of the kind in this province within 16 months, draws forcible attention to the inefficient means of detecting and punishing such crimes, which ought to be impossible under the British flag. The first thing that should be done is to make an offence of this kind one of capital punishment—the severest penalty the law can provide. The next thing is to provide a better means of detecting crime and running down the perpetrators. The best way to do this would be to have a body of trained men organised for the whole dominion, such as the North-west Mounted Police, with an officer and two men stationed in every centre of settlement where they would be available at a moment's notice. The men would have such a perfect system of communication that they might organise the covering of a country side at short notice.

The present provincial police system is utterly inadequate. A man cannot be mining recorder, tax assessor, and a hundred and one other things and fulfill the duties of police officer as well. In conjunction with such a system blood-hounds should be kept at proper intervals, so that in the event of a crime being committed they could be used to trace the perpetrator. For instance on the occasion of the murder of the Japanese woman in Revelstoke a little over a year ago a bloodhound put on the spot immediately next morning would have indicated the course taken by the perpetrator, led to the discovery of the clothing probably, and to the detection of the criminal.

These hounds should be available at such points as Golden and Cranbrook in East Kootenay, Nelson and Revelstoke in West Kootenay, Kamloops and Greenwood in Yale, New Westminster and Victoria. In the case of the Mission hold-up, where the men used a boat the hounds would be useless but in the interior they would track successfully. The great principle in the administration of justice by a government should be to hound down every crime at whatever cost, and the people will support any government that takes and carries into effect this view of its duties.

British Columbia wants no unsavory reputation as the scene of successful hold-up operations. Last time they got away with a big swag. If they get away this time, even if they had not the swag, they will consider it an easy job to play the game again with impunity and the danger of business complications, want of safety of the mails, express and train service, will become a serious blot on the public administration generally, and on that of British Columbia in particular.

It is to be hoped the government will spare no expense to hunt down and capture these men dead or alive, and teach the criminal classes of the United States as well as of our own land, that these offences cannot be perpetrated with impunity on this side of the line.

A NEW DECISION.

An important decision which may be far reaching in its results as determining the relations between employer and members of unions, has been handed down by the Supreme Court of Kentucky. The court holds that if an employe of a closed shop meets with personal injuries, as a result of carelessness of another employe, he cannot recover damages from his employer. This is a reversal of the general rulings as regards liability of employer, under which a workman injured could recover if he could show that the employer had failed to employ competent fellow workmen, or a sufficient number. The Kentucky decision, as we understand it, holds that under the closed shop rules the unions have taken upon themselves the responsibility of determining who is and who is not competent and that thereby the employer is released from liability for acts of incompetency which cause injury to other employes. This decision, if sustained, will have an application in many instances in which the liability of mining companies is involved.

COBALT.

The announcement that Mr. Thomas A. Edison has discovered a method for the use of cobalt in storage batteries, is of interest to the producers of cobalt. Heretofore the chief production of cobalt has been from Canadian sources, and it is reported that Mr. Edison has secured the control of some of the Canadian mines. There are cobalt deposits in Oregon and elsewhere in the United States which are likely to be developed if the new demand justifies it. As in the case of tungsten and some of the so-called rare minerals the creation of the demand means the discoveries of the deposits in localities where these minerals were not heretofore reported and the same is likely to be true of cobalt. Mr. Edison has been inclined to make rather exaggerated statements in the past in regard to his inventions. But in view of his wonderful record in the domain of invention, it would hardly be well to pass over this recent important announcement.

HORRIBLE SCANDAL

British Columbia Reserves the Scene of Deplorable Vice.

OTTAWA, May 10.—According to a return secured by Mr. Borden, there seems to have been ample grounds for the statements which appeared in British Columbia papers a few months ago that indications are apparent that Indian children are being sold into slavery in that province.

One official report says: Girls with white skins, brown hair braided down their backs, and big innocent childish eyes are being sold to-day, and have been sold for years. The report points out that many of the girls are sent into the logging camps for immoral purposes, and urges that this practice should and could be stopped.

Agent DeBeck makes a special report to the department from Albeit, Alert Bay. He says that almost every Indian in that agency, who is in the Potlach, is a slave dealer. "Fathers sell their daughters, brothers sell their sisters or cousins," and he quotes where one son offered his old mother for sale as a slave.

"People come here in the garb of missionaries, start a store, commence trading with the Indians, taking what they can out of them; they ride roughshod through the Indian act, and are then upheld by the Indian department. As far as the criminal code goes it is about the same. All manner of crimes are committed among the Indians, even murder, and it is seldom that any of them are brought to justice."

DOMINION PARLIAMENT

(Special to the MAIL-HERALD.)

OTTAWA, May 5th.—Possibly the most important as it certainly was the most interesting incident of the past week in Parliament, was the pronouncement of the Premier upon the question of Senate reform. Almost from the days of Confederation this has been in the category of "burning questions" and it is just as live an issue to-day as ever, even though for the moment it does not obtrude itself. The Premier made it perfectly clear where he stood on the subject. He expressed the belief that a very large number of people in Ontario especially, were in favor of the total abolition of the second chamber, but "for my part," he said, "I believe this would be a mistake, and I could not be induced to reconcile myself to such an idea. A second chamber seems to me absolutely indispensable under our system of government. A second chamber is an absolutely needed safeguard for the smaller provinces against a possible invasion of their rights by the larger provinces." Continuing, Sir Wilfrid said:—"If we were to have a reform I would not be adverse to adopting in one respect the system of our neighbors, and have each province represented by an equal number of members, whether that province be large or small. This principle, having been admittedly adopted for the protection of the smaller provinces, everyone will admit at once that if we were to remove that safeguard, there would be a natural discontent in the smaller provinces, so that, I contend, we cannot seriously entertain even for a moment, the idea of ever abolishing our Senate."

In further elaboration of the suggested plan of reform, Sir Wilfred said: "I have often thought that if we were to have the election of senators by the local legislatures and adopt the mode which is provided for in our rules for the appointment of committees" (namely election by open ballot) "we might find a solution."

In view of so definite a statement by the Premier himself further development will be watched with interest.

The long drawn out debate on the resolution offered by Mr. Foster, condemning the Government for their dealings with the North Atlantic Trading Co., has terminated as everyone knew it would in the sustaining of the Government by a practically unbroken majority.

In this connecting it is worth noting that Mr. Sifton, upon his return to the House after some days absence from the city, took the first opportunity to give the most emphatic and catagorical denial to all and every statement that he had had any dealings directly or indirectly, personally or by agent or in any other way, with the said company, and challenging his accusers to an investigation of that or any other act of his while a minister of the Crown. Even the most inveterate detractors of the member for Brandon will scarcely dare repeat their slanders in the face of such a repudiation and challenge.

Mr. W. F. Maclean, of South York, had a lively time the other night with his bill proposing to cut out the increased indemnities which the members voted to themselves in the dying hours of last session. The honorable gentleman has an unhappy faculty of antagonising even his own friends by his brusque manner, and the criticism he got came as much from Mr. Speaker's left as from the Government benches. He has no shadow of chance of getting the bill through, and, as was suggested in this column some time ago, he is probably counting on that fact, but it is doubtful if he anticipated the active antaganism which he is encountering on all hands. The debate is not yet ended but the result is a foregone conclusion.

After a somewhat lengthy immunity the House has been again invaded by death, and this time the grim reaper has laid low an old and much respected member of the Conservative party in the person of Hon. Peter White, ex-speaker and many years member for North Renfrew. Mr. White was esteemed by his opponents and beloved by his friends and his demise leaves an unusually noticeable gap in the parliamentary ranks.

Mr. Lancaster, Lincoln, has a measure before the House which proposes to compel all trains to slow down to ten miles an hour on approaching a level crossing. This may look like a reasonable proposition at first sight, but the railways are putting up a stiff fight against it. It is claimed that it would very seriously affect the speed of fast trains, while the increased cost of running is declared by the railways men to be equal to $24,000,000 capitalised. These are big figures, but whether they are exaggerated or not the parties interested are making a particularly strong lobby against the bill, and experience teaches that when a railway lobby gets busy the finish of the measure under consideration is as a rule not very far distant.

The budget is still in the future, and so far no hint of anything startling has come out. As a matter of fact, it is thoroughly understood that there will be no proposal of tariff changes of any moment offered until after the tariff report is presented next session.

TWO YEARS TRUCE SIGNED

Operators and Miners Reach Agreement Which Will Last Two Years.

NEW YORK, May 10.—After carrying on negotiations for nearly three months, sub-committees representing the anthracite mine workers and operators of Eastern Pennsylvania agreed to continue the award of the strike commission for another three years, and the men will return to work as soon as practicable, probably Monday.

All miners who have committed no violence against persons or property will be re-employed, and no one will be discriminated against because of any activity he may have taken in the strike movement.

This outcome of a dispute which threatened to develop into a long bitter struggle and paralyse a great industry was looked upon with considerable satisfaction by the coal roads presidents, as the agreement entered into is their first proposition made early in March and a reply to the mine workers original demands. The mine workers had little to say regarding the agreement, except that it was the best they could get.

While the compact entered into yesterday was predicted last week, the agreement was not reached without a final struggle on the part of the miners to get something more. President Mitchell, in stating to the operators the action of the Scranton convention asked that the proposed agreement be made for two years.

SYNOPSIS OF REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE DISPOSAL OF DOMINION LANDS WITHIN THE RAILWAY BELT IN THE PROVINCE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.

A LICENSE to cut timber can be acquired only at public competition. A rental of $5 per square mile is charged for all timber berths except those situated west of Yale for which the rental is at the rate of 5 cents per acre per annum.

In addition to the rental, dues at the following rates are charged:—

Sawn lumber, 50 cents per thousand feet B.M.

Railway ties, eight and nine feet long, 1 1-2 and 1 3-4 cents each.

Shingle bolts, 25 cents a cord.

All other products, 5 per cent on the sales.

A license is issued so soon as a berth is granted, but in surveyed territory no timber can be cut on a berth until the licensee has made a survey thereof.

Permits to cut timber are also granted at public competition, except in the case of actual settlers, who require the timber for their own use.

Settlers and others may also obtain permits to cut up to 100 cords of wood for sale without competition.

The dues payable under a permit are $1.50 per thousand feet B.M., for square timber and sawlogs of any wood except oak; from 1-2 to 1 1-2 cents per lineal foot for building logs; from 12 1-2 to 25 cents per cord for wood; 1 cent for fence posts; 3 cents for railway ties; and 50 cents per cord for shingle bolts.

Leases for grazing purposes are issued for a term of twenty-one years, at a rental of two cents per acre per annum.

Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres may be acquired by one individual or company.

Royalty at the rate of 10 cents per ton of 2000 pounds is collected on the gross output.

Entries for land for agricultural purposes may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken up is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior at Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration at Winnipeg, or the local agent for the District, within which the land is situated, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

A fee of $10 is charged for homestead entry.

A settler who has received an entry for a homestead, is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

It is the practice of the Department to require a settler to bring 15 acres under cultivation, but if he prefers he may substitute stock; and 20 head of cattle, to be actually his own property, with buildings for their accommodation, will be required instead of cultivation.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of the Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of the Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of the Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years before the local agent, sub-agent or a homestead inspector.

Before making application for a patent, the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

Deputy Minister of the Interior.

Nicola sent $100 to the relief of the hungry and shelterless San Franciscans. Kamloops scraped up the munificent sum of $12. There is nothing like advertising.—Sentinel.

A passenger from San Francisco, who was on Friday's train, informed us the awfulness of the catastrophe to that city could not be described on paper. He said there were open chasms in several of the streets and on Market street the street car rails were bent up like waves of the sea.

Clifford Sargeant, aged eleven, was brought before R. Gordon P. M., charged with theft. As the boy seem incorrigible, he was sent to the reformatory for a term.

A company is being organised at Kamloops to take up Adams river for supplying power and light for that city. Although the falls on Adams river are 37 miles from Kamloops, by means of such valuable natural power this company could supply the city with light cheaper than the council can now produce it with their present steam plant.

Three hundred painters in Winnipeg went out on strike Monday morning. The demands of the men are for an eight-hour day in the winter and a nine-hour day in the summer, together with an increase in wages to raise the minimum pay to 33 1-3 cents an hour and the maximum pay to 40 cents an hour.

At a special meeting of the City Council to consider the appropriations for the year it was resolved to set aside $3,300 for street improvements this year, the principal items being the repair of the wharf and grading of a roadway to it, construction of a new bridge over stream on Third St., to give access to Calgary Brewing Co's cold storage warehouse, the laying of an 8-foot sidewalk to the school, and other works.

Says the Enderby Progress:—"Never growl because a newspaper fails to give every scrap of news, so long as you take no pains to give the editor information. We have seen readers who were much put out at times because we make no note of the arrival or departure of a friend visiting them, or of a local affair, or of the heaven-sent babies that visit their homes over night. The average newspaperman is not a mind reader, but gets most of his news the same way the dairyman gets his milk—by pumping.
