PROVINCIAL BUDGET REVELSTOKE ITEMS

Completion Scenic Auto Road and Revelstoke Court House Provided for.---Large Amounts for Roads, Trails and Bridges ---Pushing Forward Connection with Okanagan District via Mara.

That the development of the Interior of British Columbia, especially the constituency of North Kootenay, is being kept well to the front by the Provincial government, is strikingly illustrated in the estimates of expenditures on public works for the current year, which will be brought down in the Victoria House within the next few days.

From advance information received, following the visit to Victoria of prominent citizens of Revelstoke and district, we are enabled to forecast some of the principal items slated for completion under the heading of Public Works throughout our section during the twelve months of the financial year now commencing. The gross amount of appropriations for Roads and Trails is expected to reach the huge sum of $120,000, in addition to this some $15,000 will be set aside for repairs and maintenance of bridges, with a further vote for the adequate protection of stream and river banks. Besides these expenditures, the Provincial government will supply for road work in this vicinity, a new gasoline power roller, and which will be a welcome addition to the machinery already available to the gangs who are each year making more and more progress in the art of roadbuilding, so rapidly turning the trails of a few years ago into up-to-date, well surfaced, moderately graded automobile highways radiating from Revelstoke as a center, and serving the entire surrounding country.

SCENIC AUTO ROAD.

With a portion of the funds thus rendered available, the Mount Revelstoke Alpine Auto Road, which when completed will be unique among the tourist and scenic attractions of the continent, will be pushed to completion and it is expected that the first medium power car to climb the seven thousand feet high mountain, overlooking the town, the Columbia Silver Streak, and towering up amid the age old peaks and glaciers of the MightySelkirks, will be able to reach the summit towards the close of the coming season's operations, when the eleven and a half miles stretch connecting the present work with the peak, is hoped to be completed sufficiently to admit of occasional travel. The surfacing of the entire road however, will not be altogether done in less than an additional season's work.

Over and above the foregoing, the present Big Bend Road will be improved and repaired giving a fine auto track to Eight Mile Point.

OTHER WORKS.

Among the other roadwork down for completion this season, is a wagon route from Downie Creek to Goldstream, a distance of some 18 miles; the Trout Lake-Beaton wagon road, will be re-built to a maximum grade of eight per cent. compared with maximums of 17 per cent at present, which improvement will be a great boon to the travellers, settlers and homesteaders travelling in that district. The present South road will be extended to beyond Green Slide, several poor stretches between Revelstoke and that point will be permanently improved out of existence, and at the West side of the River will be completed to a point six miles South ofRevelstoke, and graded for automobile travel.

CONNECTION WITH OKANAGAN

The Eagle Pass Road will be extended as far as the length of the season will permit, straight towards Clanwilliam, and will form part of the main road leading to Vernon and Kamloops. The Hon. Thomas Taylor Minister of Public Works, announces that he is taking steps as rapidly as possible to have the road Clanwilliam to Mara completed, thus giving a through connection from Revelstoke via Clanwilliam and Mara to Vernon, and the Okanagan district, and as much as possible of this work will be put in hand during thecoming season

Comingback close to town again, the Greely Creek Road, heavy grades will be cut out, and two miles of the road re-built.

Nearer home still, Nineth street will be opened up, and roads round Columbia Park opened up and graded for automobile traffic.

GENERAL APPROVAL.

The above schedule of works, will meet with the hearty approval of all citizens throughout the Revelstoke district. It includes virtually every item of real importance to the city and surrounding country, and the manner in which under the present capable road superintendents, these works have been executed in the past, is sufficient guarantee that the improvements and extensions planned for this season, will be carried out in a workmanlike manner, and that the moneys appropriated will be spent in a businesslike way to ensure absolutely the best results.

The work already performed on the Scenic Automobile Road, is sufficient to prove to any inquirer that the government are getting one hundred cents worth of value for every dollar expended, and now that the scheme has so far advanced as to prove its absolute feasibility, it is gratifying to find that the government are prepared to rush same to completion, as when finished, this work will be a valuable asset to the city of Revelstoke and this entire district.

These great appropriations are proof that when it comes to anything vital to the interests of his own constituency, our present member at Victoria is not only willing, but capable and energetic in securing for us that necessary amount of money which the growing population and increasing development of North Kootenay demand whilst the manner in which the funds are distributed among the various works, gives evidence of that intimate knowledge of and practical acquaintance with our problems and the geography of this constituency, which assist in making our member himself a pattern for the representatives of other districts, and the efficient champion of every movement which is for the welfare and prosperity of this city and district.

TERRIBLE BLASTING FATALITY

Two Doukhobors were killed and five were seriously injured, one probably fatally, when three or four sticks of dynamite which were being thawed out on top of a queen heater in one of the new concrete buildings at the pumping station at Brilliant exploded at about 7 o'clock yesterday morning.

There were probably a dozen Doukhobors sitting around the stove when the explosion occurred and the havoc wrought was fearful. In addition to killing W. Rebin and P. Planiden, one man lost a hand on one side and an arm on the other and suffered terrible injuries to his eyes. Two others had their legs broken and there was hardly a person who will not carry scars as momentoes of the tragedy.

Dr. Gilbert Martin, coroner, of Nelson, was called to the scene of the explosion and held an inquiry. He found that the Doukhobors had been warned on several occasion by John Sherbinin, business agent for the society, of the dangers of thawing out dynamite by the method which yesterday resulted in such havoc. Both the men killed were married.

SHOOTING AFFRAY BEFORE COURT

Italian Ben Rallion Committed for Trial.—Ald. J. Guy Barber Gives Evidence.—No Plea by Accused.

In the police court last Monday evening before Police Magistrate Hamilton, Ben Rallion appeared to answer to a charge which was in part as follows:—"That he did shoot at the person of William Harris with intent to main him by discharging a loaded pistol at him, the said William Harris on the 17th February inst."

To this charge the accused did not plead.

The first witness was Mr. J. Guy Barber, who upon being duly sworn, testified as follows:—I never saw the accused before that I can swear to. I was in my store on February 17th, when there was a row outside. I came out and saw a man about the size of accused being held by Mr. Stump and some other men in front of Manning's store. I walked up to him and said come along with me. He said all right. I started up the street, met constable Ferguson. I said take this man and Ferguson took him. The man did not say a word to me.

Cross examined by Mr. Briggs—The man did not object to going along with me at all. I cannot swear positively to description of man. He walked along with me.

The next witness was William Harris, who said after being duly sworn—I do not know accused. I saw him on Feb. 17th in Revelstoke near Molsons Bank on McKenzie avenue about 6:30 or 6:15 p.m. on the 17th inst. I was travelling southward. I was with Watson and Kenward. The accused was with two men I recognized Loseva as one of them. I went on to Cutler and Stokes cigar store and bought some cigarettes. We found we had no matches. Near the Molsons Bank we met accused and two others. Either Watson or Kenward asked accused for a match. Saying have you a match you will give me. It was said in a civil way. Accused said there are lots of matches in the store, go and buy your matches. I turned round and looked at accused and said we can easily do that. I said you needn't get sore over it. He said, I am as good a man as what you are. I replied not in your present condition. Thinking that this man was drunk I started to come away. I had my back towards accused. He struck me on the back of the head with his hand. Watson and Kenward were not more than 3 or 4 feet away from me. I turned around and hit accused under the jaw with my right hand knocking him down. Getting up the accused made the remark. I will fix you. He put his hand towards his hip pocket and drew a weapon and fired a shot. Looked as if it was at right angles to me. I slid aside before accused could pull again. I closed with him. He then got towards my back, striking me on the head with the butt-end of the pistol twice. Mr. Watson and Kenward then came to my assistance pulling him off, and Kenward disarming him. Accused only fired one shot. The shot went to my right side. Accused was about three feet away from me when the shot was fired. I moved towards the building. Accused said nothing more. I took the loaded shells and one empty one out of the gun. This is the same gun. I cannot swear to the cartridges but they look to me to be the same exhibit "B". I took the gun and gave it to Mr. Tom Bain that evening and let the man go, or rather told Kenward and Watson to let him go. I never met accused previously.

Cross examined by Mr. Briggs— I knocked the accused down once, I swear positively to this. I saw the flash of fire, but the shot did not seem to come my way. I did not call accused any names

A. J. Kenward, sworn, said—I saw accused Monday night, February 17, I have heard the evidence given by Mr. Harris. His evidence is a correct statement of what accused said. There was nothing said in the conversation other than what Mr. Harris said to my knowledge. Loseiva gave us some matches. Gave them to Watson while accused and Harris were wrangling. I never heard accused say anything. I was just behind accused when the shot was fired. Harris had his back towards Burns' butcher shop, accused was before me and Harris. Harris was right on the corner of the pavement, accused about eight feet away from Harris. Did not see flash of shot, but saw Harris knock accused down. I saw accused strike Harris with butt end of gun. I took gun away from accused. The gun was just about this size "exhibit A" I turned the gun over to Harris. Harris told us to let accused go and we did so.

Cross examined —We were not very much afraid, I suppose accused had lots of chance to shoot Harris. Accused was about eight feet from Harris. He pulled the gun as soon as he got up off the street. Harris clinched with accused after the shot was fired.

In addition to the above evidence testimony was obtained from George Watson, Melton Fee, James Smith, Frank Stump, H. McCleneghan, Jas. Munro, Constable Ferguson and Chief Parry.

Mr. Briggs for the defence waived the reading of the depositions after which Magistrate Hamilton after a brief summing up of the evidence committed the accused to stand his trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction.

NEW BANK ACT IS DELAYED

Ottawa, Feb. 24—When the banking committee resumed consideration of the bank act today, Hon. H. B. Emmerson pointed out that the Liberals tomorrow are going to have a little "family gathering," and he suggested that committee should not sit then.

Major Sharpe then moved for comparative reports of banks since the last revision, including a statement of stock, capital, new stock issues, dividends, bonuses, and circulation.

This was concurred in and J. A. M. Aikins give notice of an amendment to clause 88, so as to allow banks to loan money to any one engaged in farming, upon threshed grain.

On the sections respecting the powers of curators, C.J. Thornton (Durham), said there had been much dissatisfaction respecting the handling of assets of defunct banks and he suggested that seven clauses stand.

Hon. W.T. White demurred, but finally the clauses wre held over. The section maintaining the double liability of shareholders went through without objections. That authorizing calls upon shareholders after insolvency was held up.

There was some discussion on the clause imposing a $20 penalty upon anyone who mutilates and defaces a bill. Mr. Wmmerson thought it was often advisable to identify a note by marking it, whereupon Mr. Ames pointed out that all are numbered.

"I think the magistrate would exercise wise discretion," observed the minister, and the clause passed.

The committee reserved for discussion later the clause affecting annual statements, auditors reports, securities of banks, privileged liens and defining lines of prohibitd business. The requirement for monthly returns was next taken up and J. E. Armstrong inquired if the banks keep the law.

"On the whole," remarked Hon Mr. White, "the returns are made very promptly and very completely. There has been some difficulty however, during the period of emergency circulation, but the penalties in regard to this are stiff. We have collected as high as a thousand dollars from one bank."

The committee considered this sufficient and approved the $50 a day penalty.

Duncan Ross objected to the section respecting note issues being the first charge in cases of a bank's insolvency and it was deferred. The section prohibiting undue reference to certain creditors and prescribing two years' imprisonment was ratified. Mr. White stated that it would be necessary to establish wilful intent before conviction.

The prohibitory clause respecting the word "bank" or "banker" was allowed to stand, along with most of the schedules. This finished the discussion of the non-contentious clauses of the bill. Fifty-five out of the 160 have been passed since the consideration of the measure began, but in no instance has a really debatable section been passed.

Chairman Ames suggested that a fresh start be made and the contentious sections taken up, but Mr. Guthrie proposed an adjournment till Wednesday. This was agreed to. In the meantime the proposed amendments will be printed.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT PROCEEDINGS

Senator Cloran moved the second reading of a bill providing that where divorce is granted in Canada the person who has been found to have offended and against whom the divorce was granted, should be forbidden to marry again, under penalty of prosecution for bigamy.

Hon. Mr. Lougheed, said the bill by imposing an impediment to remarriage, seemed to fringe upon the statutory authority of the provinces over divorce so recently decided by the privy council. In view of the legal complications involved in this bill he thought it would be unwise for the senate to pass it.

On division the motion for second reading was defeated by a vote of 12 to 27.

The third reading was given to a bill granting divorce to Minnie K. Clappison, to George G. McDonald and to Frederick F. Saunders.

LECTURER FILLED CHURCH

St. John's church was filled to the doors last Wednesday evening to hear the lecture on New Zealand, given by Miss Anderson Hughes. Miss Hughes was born in that sunny southern land and has spent most of her life there, therefore she spoke with greater interest of the advantages of her native country. She told of the advanced place New Zealand holds in the matter of women's franchise and temperance. She said the granting of the vote to women in her country had been productive of great good and none of the evils predicted had really resulted. New Zealand has a splendid system of local option in dealing with the liquor problem, and finds that it works admirably.

In speaking of the Maoris, the natives of New Zealand, Miss Hughes, said they were a very superior race both physically and mentally. They were kind hearted and generous as a class. The lecturer described the scenic beauty of New Zealand in most vivid language. It has volcanoes and hot springs, mountains and lakes, rivers and bays, that equal those of any country in the world. A number of colored slides illustrating the beauties of the island, were thrown on the screen, and gave the audience some idea of its scenic granduer.

Mrs. Hughes had on part of a native costume, while twelve girls were on the platform dressed in full Maori costume. The lecture was intensely interesting from beginning to end and Miss Hughes, who appeared here under the auspices of the local W.C.T.U. closed her address with a strong plea on behalf of temperance.

Parcel Post This Session

Ottawa, Feb. 20—Hon. L. R. Pelletier is working out his scheme of parcels post for Canada, and is apparently determined to make good. He promises something tangible this session. Hon. Mr. Lemieux stated in the house this afternoon that he had been forwarded the resolutions of the Grain Growers' Association calling for a parcels post system and he desired to know if the postmaster general had gone any further in the matter.

"When the subject was up before, I said that I would deal with the questions some time during the session, and I am working at it," said Hon. Mr. Pelletier.

DEVELOP B.C. FRUIT INDUSTRY

During the recent visit of the Hon. George E. Foster, Dominion minister of Trades and Commerce, to Victoria, he met in conference the Provincial Minister of Agriculture, the Hon.Price Ellison; Mr. W. E. Scott, the deputy Monister, and Mr. W.H. Ricardo, the president of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, and these gentlemen laid before him the present conditions of the fruit industry of the Province and its immediate needs.

As was brought out fully at the conventions of growers and ranchers here in January, their industry is being injured by competition, which they cannot help but feel to be unfair, from the fruit-producing states to the southward. American growers pay only thirteen cents a box on large fruits shipped into Canada, while Canadian producers have to pay twenty-five cents a box duty to reach the markets of the United States. South of the line, with cheaper labor, the average cost of production works out at about fifty cents a box. In this province, the cost is sixty-five cents. Moreover, the United States growers have an older industry proportionately better organized and the above facts, in the fruit growers' opinion, point to an inequality of conditions which gives them a claim on the Dominion government for a remedy in the shape of an equalization of the duty.

In addition to this, the American growers, after selling the best of their fruit to their own Eastern markets at perhaps $1.50 a box, are able to flooh the Canadian markets with their second grade stuff at prices which are considerably lower than the cost of production, at times ranging as low as thirty cents a box, thus, naturally enough, preventing British Columbia and other Canadian growers from reaping the profits they are entitled to from their own markets. To remedy this state of affairs, representations are being made at the present time to the Dominion government at Ottawa that changes in the dumping act are desirable, putting the market price on any quality of fruit at not less than the cost of production, and also recommending a more rigid enforcement of the Canadian Fruit Marks Act, which would result in all American fruit not properly marked according to Canadian law, being turned back at the frontier.

Last year no less than 540 carloads of apples and other large fruits were shipped into Vancouver from the United States, besides an equal number of carloads of citrous fruits and tomatoes, the former amount being equal to the total distribution of Okanagan fruit for the year. This is but one concrete example of what is going on, and considering that this province has twenty-five millions of capital invested in orchards, it is evident that it is to its interest, and to the interest of the Dominion of which it forms part, to see if it is not possible to check the enormous drain of money being paid out to American growers each year, and which might be returned to the ranches of British Columbia for purposes of further development, and for the good of the trade of the province generally.

British Columbia is already a province with a surplus of fruit which will enable it to supply the prairie markets. She buys her grain and other supplies largely from there, and so has a claim on support from the other provinces in building up her young industry, by which the Western states of Canada will all benefit.

Birmingham, England., Feb. 21.—The city council is being asked to vote £21,000 towards assisting poor working people to emigrate. Last year of the 30 families thus helped only one family asked for help to go to Australia, the rest went to Canada.

Police Seek Missing Husbands

LONDON, Feb. 18—The Metropolitan police are at present searching for 291 husbands who have deserted their wives and 673 children, leaving them dependent on the gaurdians in London. The distribution varies from 178 in Woolwich to nine in Whitechapel.

The average cost for the maintenance of a poor law child is about $1.25 a week, and therefore the nine London unions concerned are being mulcted in a weekly expenditure of about $855 through having to assume the responsibilities of the defaulting fathers.

In these days of rampant feminism, sex equality, and suffragettes, it is not surprising that an increasing number of mere men in London and other British cities, are found quite willing to steal silently away from the troubles of a harassed married life, leaving the all-powerful woman, in that complete economic and maternal control of the home and children, which the suffragettes profess themselves so anxious to acquire. The fact, that immediately following this move, the women and children in spite of all vapourings regarding economic equality between the sexes find themselves absolutely dependant upon public charity, is sufficient to prove at any rate to those concerned that even with all the moral and social shortcomings of his kind, so long as he has a weekly paycheck available, a mere man is a very handy thing to have around a house.

PROMINENT GIRL WEDS LUNATIC

Montreal, Feb. 24—How Maud E. Baker, the debutante daughter of Walter R. Baker, secretary of the C.P.R. realized a month after her wedding in the Montreal Cathedral that she had been courted and won by a lunatic is revealed in the referee's report of a secret annulment suit, commenced on Saturday in New York.

Her husband, Ernest Foster Slocum a son of General "Jerry" Slocum, of civil war fame, and vice-president of the Safety Car Heating & Lighting Co., jumped from the upper deck of a Staten Island ferryboat before the eyes of his bride and narrowly escaped drowning. Two deck hands saved him. The identity of the would-be suicide and the circumstances of his act remained a mystery until Mrs. Slocum, who is described as beautiful, blonde and young, brought out the facts before the referee who took the testimony.

Slocum since has been committed to an asylum, a victim of acute melancholy. His bride, who treasures the days of their courtship before Slocum's reason was dethroned, waited four years for his mind to mend and then appealed to the courts to annul the marriage. She returned to her father in Montreal.

CRITICIZE WOMEN OF THE WEST

Berlin, Feb. 24—Another selection of chapters from the diary of Abdul Hamid, the ex-Sultan of Turkey appears in the March number of the Review Nord. Giving his views on women, the ex-Sultan says: The countless divorces and scandals in Europe and America show that many men in those countries incline to ploygamy."

"The West," he goes on to say "has an entire misapprehension regarding the position of women in Turkey. Even though woman is fortunately debarred from taking part in Turkish public life and compelled to leave everything to men, at any rate she is the autocrat at home.

"As I observe the stern and imperious faces of western women," says the former ruler, "comparison with them easily favor our women.

"Who do the people of the West criticize our women? Which is the more sacrificing or the more beautiful the Oriental woman or the European? "In Turkey a woman belongs to her home. She belongs to a man alone. In Europe she has too many liberties to remain womanly. If only half of what one reads in newspapers and books about Western women is true, then the lot of men there must be truly lamentable."
