FATAL ACCIDENT

Work Train Hurled over a Steep Bank at Rogers Pass —Fireman Killed — Three Others Injured.

An accident attended with fatal results occurred at about 10 o'clock on Thursday morning at Rogers Pass, when a work train of 14 cars leapt over a fill in that was being made at a bridge a little east of the depot, the engine and cars falling in a mass of tangled and twisted scrap iron. It appears that a work train belonging to McDonell & Gzowski, who are contracting for the grade reduction at the Big Hill, and also making a diversion at the Pass, was employed in filling in at a point a few hundred feet east of Rogers Pass depot, and engine No. 9 with a full train and crew had backed down the grade preparatory to dumping the cars. Whether the hand brakes failed to work or not is just a question, the train not being fitted with air brakes, but as the last few cars were being emptied the train suddenly commenced moving towards the edge of the fill. The engineer, W. R. Newman, who was standing near made a jump for his cab but missed his footing and fell onto the ties rolling down the bank a distance of 12 feet sustaining a serious fracture of the left leg. The fireman, Axel Johnston, also jumped to the cab but not being able to stop the train endeavoured to leap clear but before he could get away he was hurled over the bank, the engine turning over on top of him. His mangled body was picked up a few minutes later. Mike Moronchok, one of the crew sustained a cut head and other injuries in jumping from the moving train, and Daniel Desbracy, a laborer, met with an injured knee. The wounded men were brought into Revelstoke the same night on No. 97, and conveyed to the hospital where their injuries were attended to. An inquest was held by Coroner Buckham of Golden, on the body of Johnston.

SHOT TO DEATH

Detective Uses Revolver Fatally on Fleeing Man.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 18.—Oscar Gans, who is believed to have been a professional thief, was shot dead yesterday in the yard of Mrs. Walker, Francis street, by Detective Smith while he was trying to escape arrest. The police have been on his track for several days, he being suspected of several thefts. It was not, however, until Monday evening that opportunity offered to trap him. Gans then called at McFarlane & Cairns' tailor shop, 335 Notre Dame avenue Gans was trying to sell a pair of otter skins for $40, a price considerably below their value. This aroused the suspicions of McFarlane, and he notified the police, arranging an appointment with Gans later.

Detective Smith arrived to await his man, and Gans arrived. He caught sight of Smith and evidently knew him, for looking at his watch he said to McFarlane: "I have an appointment with a man. I'll come back and see you later."

He then left the store and ran as fast as he could up Notre Dame avenue. Smith called upon Gans to stop, but he ran on, and the officer began firing his revolver, cornering him in a yard where he shot him in the back of the head. Smith, after investigation by Chief McRae, was placed under arrest.

AUSTRALIA'S NEW TARIFF

General Disapproval of Increased Protection.

The tariff which the Australian Treasurer recently introduced with his budget was generally expected to be protectionist and to provide higher duties on a number of lines, but its provisions amazed protectionists, manufacturers associations amongst others. The old tariff was high enough, with some little adjustments to suit most of them, but this one has gone from 10 to 20 per cent. higher than the last. In some cases it is ridiculous, for instance, the minimum duty on a chair amounts to nearly four times the cost of one kind of chair. In harvest and other machinery, boots and shoes, rubbers, leather, bicycles and buggies and other lines the duty is practically prohibitory. Opposition to the new tariff is steadily growing and there is a possibility that a combination of the labor and protectionist elements may be made, which will pass a high tariff but not in its present shape. Meanwhile, the effect upon Canadian trade, as upon trade generally, has been to suspend it. Orders have been cancelled by cable, one importer promptly cancelling one for 70,000 chairs to a Canadian manufacturer While on a number of lines a preference is provided for the products of the United Kingdom there is no provision for a preference to Canada. There is, however, a possibility of some agreement being arrived at between the two governments which will establish matters upon a more satisfactory basis.

B. C. IMMIGRATION

Letters are being constantly received by the Bureau of Provincial Information from persons desiring work on farms and orchards. These applications are from the Middle and Eastern provinces of Canada, British Isles and Northern Europe, and are divided into four classes:

1 Young men inexperienced in farm work willing to learn practical farm work and horticulture.

2 Experienced farm hands, unmarried.

3 Experienced farm hands, married (with families or otherwise), whose wives are willing to take service with their husbands.

4 Women domestics.

Most of the married men are desirous of having a dwelling separate from that of the employers, an arrangement which should commend itself to those who look to securing permanent help. Under an existing agreement between the government and the Emigration Branch of the Salvation Army, a considerable immigration of farm hands and domestic help is expected from Great Britain during the spring and early summer of 1908. The government is desirous of securing immigration to British Columbia of a reliable class of white labor and invites co-operation of all farmers and fruit-growers, etc. Necessary forms for filling in may be obtained at the City Hall, and also at the MAIL-HERALD office, Revelstoke. The above is the substance of a letter sent to the city council by Hon. R. G. Tatlow.

Don't wait for the cold snap, come in and select a stove, we have over two hundred to choose from, and we set them up ready to light—Lawrence Hardware Co.

SERIOUS COLLISION

S. S. Charmer and Tartar Collide Off the Mouth of the Fraser—Both the Steamers Badly Damaged.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19.—Steamers Charmer and Tartar were in collision last night at 6 o'clock off the Sandheads light at the mouth of the Fraser river.

Both vessels are seriously damaged. That one or both did not sink immediately is a wonder, for they hit with a hard smash.

The accident occurred in a heavy fog. The Tartar left here at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and by 6 o'clock was steaming slowly south of the Fraser. There she ran into a heavy bank of fog.

Suddenly the Charmer, bound from Victoria, and running almost on time, loomed out of the fog. She struck the Tartar squarely on the port bow.

The Charmer's bows were crumpled up for fifteen or twenty feet. Her forward compartment bulkheads saved her, however, from sinking, for the water rushed into the passenger vessel in a big stream.

The Charmer's bows cut through the plates of the Tartar, which was low in the water with a heavy load of freight. The Tartar began to sink at the bows, but she did not sink far, as her bulkheads, too, saved her from going down.

A later report says the Tartar took thirteen inches of water into her hold during the first hour and a half after the accident.

A report at noon was current that the Tartar had been beached in English Bay, near Kitsalano. The Joan has been sent out to bring in the passengers.

The steamers stayed by each other. Captain Whitely of the Charmer says that very little excitement occurred. All of the ferryboat's passengers were transferred to the Tartar, which was considered to be in the safer condition.

Both boats immediately started back for Vancouver, but in the darkness and fog were unable to reach the mouth of the Narrows. They stayed in English Bay all night with the pumps of both vessels going all the time to keep down the water.

It was nearly 11 o'clock before the fog lifted sufficiently to allow the Charmer to come in. She reached the C.P.R. wharf under her own steam.

REFUSE $75,000.000

Mackenzie & Mann Astonish Railway Circles.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 18.—An offer of $75,000,000 cash for the Canadian Northern Railway has been turned down by its chief owners, Messrs Wm. Mackenzie and Donald D. Mann. The news leaked out a few days ago. The proposition emanated from the banking houses of Messrs. J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., New York. Owing to intimate financial relations of this house with J.J. Hill, the offer is believed to have emanated from the Great Northern Railway whose plans for an invasion of the Canadian wheat fields have had a great deal of publicity and have been partially realized during the past two years.

Messrs. Mackenzie & Mann have always cherished the ambition of ultimately extending their road to the Pacific coast; and less than two months ago Mr. Mann while in Vancouver stated that the project would be realized, adding that construction work on the mountain section would not be undertaken until they had secured a government subsidy.

CONTRIBUTE $48,500

VANCOUVER, Oct. 18.—Forty-eight thousand five hundred dollars head tax money was paid in by 97 Chinese who arrived yesterday from the Orient by the R. M. S. Empress of China, which reached port in the afternoon. She brought a big list of passengers, and one Japanese stowaway, and no Hindus. Of the Chinese 88 were landed at Vencouver, 71 of this number paid the head tax, a hundred and fifty-four are certificated to return to Canada free; a hundred and fourteen are in transit to United States points, and a hundred and sixty-one are bound through in bond to the West Indies, and other countries.

Cranberries, the first of the season arrived today at C. B. Hume & Co's.

A QUESTION OF RIGHT

The tragic ending to the chase after a supposed thief at Winnipeg on Wednesday has turned the eyes of Canada towards that city, and many and varied are the comments on the action of Detective Smith in the case. That a man who has not been arrested, or who even if suspected and wanted by the police, is a free man, and again, even if under police surveillence for a petty theft, can be shot down and killed is a thing which will take some explanation. In this case, Gineuz, like any other thief, was only avoiding capture and had been guilty of no violence, and although it was the duty of the police to exercise his authority still a police officer should exercise judgment in his execution of the law. The Winnipeg Telegram says:

"The shooting of Oscar Gineuz by Detective Smith will arouse very painful feeling among the citizens of Winnipeg. Gineuz had come under the supervision of the police, but nothing was known or proved against him. The presumption that he was guilty possession of the furs is very strong, but even admitting the victim's guilt, admitting also that the detective was inspired wholly by zealous devotion to duty, is it excusable, under any circumstances, to make death the penalty of petty theft? In Canada we must maintain the highest respect for the law, and we intend to maintain it, but the law must be equally evoked to protect the citizen as to reinforce the authorities. By this act, a most appalling breach may have been made in the foundations of social order. It may have been a hasty act. It may have, so far as the killing goes, been an unintentional act, but there it stands—a very dark and ugly blot upon our social administration, affixed by an officer of the peace in plain clothes, who neither understood his duty nor realized the limitation of his position.'

Public opinion has been roused because the victim was only suspected at the time of shooting, there being no proof that he actually stole the furs. It is also a question if Gineuz understood the words of the detective when told to stop.

FRATERNAL PRESS

The Fraternal press is an indispensable adjunct to successful fraternal work and the societies could not get along without it. Fraternal orders hold a very important place in the internal life of Revelstoke and where so many of us are so closely concerned and benefitted we should do all we can to support those who are, by means of the fraternal press, materially aiding the cause. It should be liberally supported and encouraged, for deprived of this great factor in their upbuilding the growth of fraternal orders would be immeasurally retarded and their usefulness as well as their good works would be known only to the few who participate in them. Fraternity is a marked feature in Revelstoke and as instanced in the past year, when the various orders have extended the hand of charity and benevolence to their afflicted brethren, the good work done here has been noised abroad and incidently the kindly spirit of our citizens brought to the notice of those in distant parts Publicity even in matters of this sort will bring its own reward.

CENTRALIZED INVESTMENTS

One of the best methods to make a nation strong is to instill into its citizens the desire to develop and maintain at a high standard the financial institutions of the country. There is a positive danger in allowing large amounts of Canadian money to be diverted at this junction for the supporting of speculation on the other sside of the line. There is ample scope right in Canada, British Columbia and even in our own district here today for every dollar of this money and the loyal Canadian who has the best interests of his country at heart and desires to see its interests developed, will look after Canadian interests first and let others come after. The general public could exercise a most helpful influence along this line by giving its assistance particularly to Dominion institutions which make a part of their announced policy, the conservation of their financial interests. There are no better opportunities in the world today than are offered within easy distance of Revelstoke and it is certainly a question for comment that money for this development of property and resources is not being furnished as largely as seems to be desired.

"OTHER PEOPLE'S MONEY"

Melrose Stock Company, in Amusing Comedy.

The Melrose Stock Co. under the personal direction of Joe Melrose played before a large audience on Thursday night in the Opera House. By a clever and ingenious method of advertising by imitation telegram forms and cheques Mr. Melrose drew a large house to witness "Other People's Money," a particularly amusing comedy. Joe Melrose as the pater familias figures well as the rather foolish old avaricious man who in the scheme to obtain money, connives with his nephew, unknowingly, in aiding him to elope with his pretty daughter, who has been promised to an irascible United States naval officer, by the command of her mother. The mother (Mrs. W. Chambers) rules the household with a rod of iron and also with an extremely sharp tongue, and throughout the piece exhibits the same highly acute temper to the ultimate subjection of her spouse. Mrs. Chambers carried out her role in true style imitating to perfection the elderly old ady, her make-up being splendid. Mr. Chambers as the nephew fulfilled his part to the letter, the duet with his fiancee, Rose, (Mrs. Melrose) being a feature. C. Palmer as Col. Blake does some good work and makes an admirable peppery officer. Joe Melrose, as usual, was funny, very funny, and as the father carries out an excellent part, his subjection to his wife while in her presence being extremely amusing. Mrs. Melrose, as Rose, is dainty and fetching and added considerably to her list of theatrical admirers on Thursday. The company as a whole work together without any hitch. Between the acts, in order to avoid long waits which are often such a feature in Revelstoke entertainments, Mr. Melrose gave an exhibition of moving pictures, the Highway Robbery being particularly good. Illustrated songs are also popular, the "Holy City" being rendered. The performance concluded with a dance.

A HAPPY OLD AGE

depends greatly upon the retention of the sense of sight. Other faculties may lose their vigor from the lapse of years, but if the eyes can see, old age is not all a regret. For this reason the youthful and middle aged should use every endeavor to preserve the eyes. Many lose them through the use of improper glasses. A CITY OF OPPORTUNITY Resume of Advantages for Home Seekers in Revelstoke —Glowing Prospects—Natural Resources.

The city of Revelstoke, the Gateway of the Interior, and one of the most promising cities of the province on the main line of the C.P.R., bids fair to become the metropolis and trade centre of the extensive districts of Kootenay and the lands which must in a very short time be opened up to the north. Located on the banks of the navigable waters of the Columbia River, in a well situated valley, and surrounded with majestic mountains, Revelstoke can claim to be one of the most prettily situated cities on the continent. Few cities have better possibilities for the years before it than we have here. It is not only an ideal location from a picturesque point of view but also from a commercial standpoint. It has all the best facilities that a growing city could wish for in the way of resources of all descriptions, industries and transportation and it has been amply demonstrated within the past few years that the city is destined to be one of the chief industrial and commercial centres of the interior. Revelstoke has had no boom, no frantic or absurd rise in land prices, but she has slowly and surely forged ahead, without faltering or hindrance, growing out of a few log huts away back in years and from that, mainly by the enterprise of her people and the knowledge that a city was bound to come, has a city been established, an entrepot of transcontinental trade and a depot for untold resources in mineral, forest and agricultural wealth. The names of those men who are Revelstoke pioneers, so well known now, should never be allowed to die out, and it is the duty of the citizens to perpetuate their memory in some form or another in order that successive generations may know the founders of and pioneer settlers in Revelstoke Although a western city, she has improved rapidly and now affords her residents many modern conveniences afforded to larger and older established places.

From an industrial stand point the possibilities of Revelstoke are surprisingly vivid. The resources of the adjacent country varied and substantial, and transportation facilities lend especial importance to her centralization cannot be over estimated. Lumbering and mining are, of course, the most staple resources of Revelstoke, while fruit growing and agriculture are taking up considerable attention. Almost every variety of produce known to the agricultural world, with the exception of tropical fruits, can be raised in the vicinity and realizing this, many of our business men are engaged in clearing land, and laying out farms and ranches, orchards and pastures, from which even now substantial returns are being made. The fruit of this district is becoming more and more known and as this industry is developed so will the orchard land round us become fruit bearing. The city is an important lumbering centre and immense quantities of lumber of all kinds, from bridge timber to shingles and from rough planks to finely polished material for interior finish, are manufactured. The local mills compare with any in the province and have most extensive timber limits in all parts of the country, from which they will be able to draw on the forest wealth of British Columbia for many years to come. Mining has contributed largely to the commercial advancement of Revelstoke, for up in the Big Bend in particular and in all the adjacent territory there are known to be rich minerals, and many valuable claims of low grade ore, which will be worked very profitably as soon as the means of developing them has been obtained. Moreover there are now several rich placer mining properties in the Bend which are making handsome returns at the present and others again where preparations are going on to commence development. As an industrial centre Revelstoke can take a prominent place, and during the last few years great strides along these lines have been made. There are now in the city, a sash and door factory, cigar factory, carriage works, aerated water plant, two breweries, besides several smaller concerns. The merchants possess handsome and attractive stores, at which a large general supply business is carried on. With the installation of a new electric power plant, the establishment of even more industries will be the result and cheap power for sale in Revelstoke will be a great inducement for prospective capitalists to build and operate manufacturing machinery.

Revelstoke is an important divisional point of the C.P.R. Pacific division, and the shops operated here by the company employ a large number of men. As a tourist centre there is every attraction, magnificent scenery, excellent shooting and the headquarters of some of the finest excursions to be found on the continent.

As regards the city itself, the stores and private residences are handsome and numerous. Accommodation for visitors is found in nine hotels, while among public institution the Y. M. C. A., Opera House and other halls afford ample pastime. The spiritual side of the people is well cared for by six churches of various denominations. Fraternal societies, Masons, Knights of Pythias, C.W.O.W., I.O.F., I.O.O.F., L.O.L., and others, hold a prominent place. Municipal government plays a very important part in the history of the city. In addition to the fire department, public works, etc., the lighting system and water works are also owned by the city under direct superintendence of the council. Telephone communication throughout the city as well as long distance line to Arrowhead, Trout Lake and Ferguson are operated by private capital.

Revelstoke is one of the most important Government centres in the Interior. Some of the principal offices for the Interior of British Columbia, both for Federal and Provincial governments are located here. An efficient hospital looks after the sick of the district.

Like all other western cities Revelstoke has engaged a steady and substantial growth in population. New industries and the development of resources have brought men and families from every quarter and provided them with steady occupation and then they have become permanent residents. Others have found it a desirable place for healthy living, and not a few have settled because they have interests in the development of the resources in the district. With growing wealth and population property values have naturally enjoyed a rapid increase. During the past year a large quantity of city property has changed hands at continually increasing prices and the home seeker and home builder have been much in evidence, more so now than the land speculator.

Real estate in Revelstoke is valuable and will be more so as years roll on and as the city grows, which growth is visible on all sides by the activity in building operations. From the foregoing resume Revelstoke will at once be recognised as one of the most prosperous and progressive centres of the great west and those who have studied the city's location and prospects declare that the near future holds in store much greater things for the 'Gateway of the Interior" than she has yet enjoyed.

A TEXAS RANGER

"A Texas Ranger" will be given at the Opera House on next Tuesday night. Without doubt this will be the leading melodramatic attraction of the entire season. It is a typical story of the panhandle and all who want to see what real life on the great plains of Texas really is, should not fail to see this performance.

In criticising "A Texas Ranger" The Salt Lake Herald of February 18, says the following:

"The 'S.R.O.' sign was displayed early last night at the Grand Theatre when 'A Texas Ranger' was put on for an engagement of four nights and Wednesday matinee. The play is a picturesque tale of the Texas plains and handled as it is by a capable company with the interest heightened by adequate scenic effects, 'A Texas Ranger' makes a strong bid for the approbation of lovers of startling situations. Jack Dallam as played by Ray F. Brandon is a strong charected. May Roberts is an excellent Rose Meiford, the girl for whose love two of the chief figures in the play are rivals. The villan too is well portrayed and the support generally is of high order. The tragic and sensational do not monopolize the movement of the drama. A strain of tender sentiment prevades the piece and the comedy is excellent. 'A Texas Ranger' is well worth seeing."

One of the most remarkable freak newspapers ever printed was the Luminara, published at Madrid. It was printed with ink containing phosphorus, so that the paper could be read in the dark. Another curiosity was called the Regal, printed with non-poisonous ink on thin sheets of dough, which could be eaten, thus furnishing nourishment for body as well as mind. Le Bien Etre promised those who subscribed for 40 years a pension and free burial.

Now wifey bakes the bread without a

CIVIC VOTERS LIST

October 31 is the Last Day for Application.

October 31st. is the last day on which applications may be made for enrolment on the municipal voters list with any hope of the applicant being allowed to vote at the January elections. Many would-be-voters are filling in their statements at the city clerks office every day now and the list is considerably bigger than last year. In connection with this matter it should be stated that this voters list has no connection whatever with the list governing the votes on money by-laws, this latter being privileged only to bona fide property owners.

FRUIT LANDS

C. B. McAllister, of the Nakusp Fruit Lands Company, is in the city. Mr. McAllister speaks glowingly of the development of the fruit growing along the Arrow Lakes. His own company has now 20 settlers who will develop fruit ranches in and around Nakusp. And the same story comes from all along the Arrow Lakes. Within a year or two both sides of the river will be dotted with fruit ranches. —Nelson Canadian.

McLENNAN'S

OPERA HOUSE

"A Texas Ranger" which comes to the Opera House for one night only next Tuesday evening, is claimed to be the greatest of all Western melodramas.

The characters are all clean cut types of men and women who count in the world of the strenuous life. The story centers around a typical cowboy named Jack Dallam, and the most exciting escapades of his wild career are graphically told. While sensation is a feature of the piece, the comedy element has not been overlooked, with the result that "Dalrymple" and "Wildcat" are two as laughable characters as were ever conceived.
