SACRED CONCERT

Pleasing Musical Production on Good Friday

Good Friday passed quietly yesterday in the city. The weather was cloudy and dull, typical of an occasion which is the greatest and most solemn in the history of the world. The chief feature of the evening was the Sacred Concert at the Opera House under the auspices of the Methodist church choir. The audience, though not large, was none the less appreciative. The programme was varied, containing many fine numbers, chief among which were the selections from Wagner by the Independent Band who were in splendid form. The choir and chorus work with orchestral accompaniment formed a feature of the concert. Among the many soloists, Mrs. Squarebriggs was heard with pleasure, while Miss Pagden, a recent acquisition to Revelstoke, gave a sweet rendition of "Oh for the Wing of a Dove." The many other vocal and instrumental numbers were all well rendered and a pleasing entertainment was brought to a close with the greatest of all musical inspirations, the Hallelujah chorus.

Great credit is due to Miss Creighton who has worked hard in producing the concert, and the excellence of the voice production is mainly due to her excellent training.

Mr. R. R. Copeland had charge of the staging arrangements and the effect was artistic and conducive to voicing choral works. Miss M. Byrd deserves great credit for her pianoforte accompaniment, another evidence of the thorough training of her teacher, Miss Creighton.

REVELSTOKE SCHOOL LEAGUE

Public School Pupils Will Compete for Championships.

A meeting was held on Friday, March 26, in the public school at which it was resolved, "That an organization called 'The Revelstoke Schools' League' be formed for the purpose of promoting sports between the two schools."

The following officers were elected: Hon. president, Mr. Coursier; president, Principal Pollock; vice-president George Matheson; secretary, M. A. Leet; assistant secretary, Fred Fraser; treasurer, Principal McLaurin; executive committee, E. Coursier, C. Procunier, E. Dickie and D Calder.

The large and handsome shield now in the possession of the public school will be competed for in five lacrosse games to be played between now and the end of the season. The first regular game of this series will be played on the Y. M. C. A. grounds on Friday, April 23. A practice game was played yesterday and resulted in a score of 3-0 in favor of the public school. At the outset the public school appears to have a fair chance to retain possession of the shield, but Captain Coursier of the high school team has not got his men down to steady drill yet, and when he does the luck may turn the other way.

Local Option Meetings

Rev Dr. Spencer, superintendent of the Provincial Local Option League, is visiting Revelstoke and will hold two public meetings in the interests of the local option movement. The first will be on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the gymnasium of the Y.M. C.A., and the second on Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the same place. A joint choir will lead the singing and some special musical selections will be rendered. As this is Dr. Spencer's first visit here, and as the question is a live one in the province, all who can get into the gymnasium are invited to come whether agreeing or not with local option. Dr. Spencer will also preach in St. Andrew's church on Sunday morning and in the Baptist church on Sunday evening.

Summer Five O'Clock Closing

At a meeting this week of retail merchants and other business men it was decided to close the stores at 5 p.m. in the afternoon instead of at 6 o'clock as in the case now. The question of longer hours of daylight for recreation during the summer after business hours, has been freely discussed in this city, and although the idea of putting the clock on one hour ahead, as was done at Nelson last year, is not considered advisable owing to the extreme difficulty of having two distinct times in the city, yet, some plan for giving the store employees more daylight in the evening was found necessary. The Wednesday half holiday is not popular and the merchants have decided that they will from May 1st close at 5 p. m. instead of 6 p.m. The only objection to this is made by the Italians who seem to be unwilling to act in conjunction with the other merchants in this matter. This, however, should not prevent the greater portion of those affected by the change to give way, and the Italian business men should realize that the move is in the interests of the community generally. Should the Daylight Saving Bill, now before the Federal House, become law, the new law will be enforced throughout the Dominion.

HORRORS OF CAMP LIFE

EDMONTON, April 8.—That working in the camps of the great transcontinental is by no means romantic, nor yet unattended with hardship, is testified to by a gang of men from the far west last night, who unfolded a tale of dissatisfaction which seemed to have a good deal of ground in fact. The men had been working in a tie camp 100 miles past the Pembina, where they went in the early fall last year. They went out on a contract to get out ties at a rate of 9 and 12 cents for first and second class.

The timber was fair and the men, being nearly all Canadians, mostly from the Ottawa and Glengarry country in Ontario, and therefore natural axe men, settled down to a good winter's work, with the prospect for a starter for a bank account in the spring. Before they got along very far, however, it became apparent that the company had not the necessary teams to get the ties out of the woods, and until they were hauled out they could not get a settlement. Some of the men demanded a settlement, and failing to get it refused to go ahead, with the result that they lost the biggest part of the month of January and had to pay board besides.

The saddest blow came, however, when the camp was broken up. The men were given orders on the contractor in Edmonton for their pay, but no money and no checks. They were told that the orders were good when they got to Edmonton, but they were not furnished with anything negotiable for travelling purposes. A gang of 25 or more among whom there was hardly the price of a meal altogether, had to make their way 150 miles into the city without money, in a country where meals are 50 cents cash and the road houses are always chock-a-block with good pay customers. Some of the experiences related by the men are not such as to encourage emigration to the tie camps. One Scandinavian boy, whose control of English was limited, had to walk two days without anything to eat, and his case was a distressing one indeed. The men explain that they hadn't thought of legal action, and as there were no lawyers among them they did not know what the law about the matter was anyway, but that if the province of Alberta has no law requiring settlements at stated periods in cash, it should have for the protection of the men who have to earn their living in the tie camps.

Easter Attraction

The Edison Parlor Theatre management has arranged a particularly attractive program for Easter Monday. Among the various items are:

"Jack and the Beanstalk," a well known children's pantomine.

"As You Like It," the great Shakespearian drama, acted in the open air.

"Animated Clock," a highly interesting and amusing comedy.

"Uncle's Bull Pup," a richly ludicrous film.

An illustrated song by Mr. Aman and instrumental music, make up a good evening's amusement. This program will be put on to-night and Easter Monday.

Card of Thanks

The members and choir of the Methodist church desire to thank all those who so kindly assisted in the G od Friday concert, especially the Independent Band and Mr. R. R. Copeland.

GAS PLANT TAKEN OVER

City Accept Report of 30 Days' Test—Must Use Better Coal —Sewage Work Commences At Once.

A special meeting of the City Council was held on Thursday night with Mayor Lindmark and Alds. Wells, Pradolini, Stone and Kimberley present.

The meeting was called for the purpose of receiving the report of Supt. Duck of the thirty day efficiency trial test of the new gas engine plant; the sewerage contract and other business if deemed necessary. The following is the substance of the report brought in by Mr. Duck:

Clause 1.—That the gas generator should be capable of producing gas to supply the engine to its full capacity and that the fire should not require drawing out more often than four days with a run of twelve hours per day.

Result—Clause 1.—The generator is capable of supplying the engine to its full capacity, but, although a new grate was installed, it is almost impossible to run the four days without drawing the fire. The clinker creeps on the refractory lining very quickly, and the gas is impaired to such an extent that the quality cannot be relied upon for regular and perfect running of the engine. After drawing the fire and thoroughly cleaning out, good results were obtained for two and sometimes three days.

Clause 2.—That the purifying apparatus should be capable of cleaning the gas in the proper manner.

Result—Clause 2.—The purifying apparatus is as good as can be expected considering the conditions under which it has to work. The amount of tar coming over from the gas generator is abnormal. Mr. Coleman has improved the sawdust scrubber by adding a layer of broken cke on the bottom. It seems to be a matter of experiment and this part of the plant can be operated fairly satisfactory.

Clause 3.—That the engine shall run smoothly and develop the full rated horse power guaranteed by the builders. That the gas valves should not require cleaning oftener than every six working days.

Result.—Clause 3.—The engine has proved itself all that can be desired.

Mr. Owen made a thorough test of its operation with his indicator and pressure recording instruments. Taking indicator diagrams at different loads, and one of the full capacity, which have been submitted to you. For a while the gas valves were giving trouble owing to tar collecting on them. Mr. Coleman has arranged a system of lubrication for them since that we have had no further trouble and they can run for over a week without cleaning.

From meter readings taken every night: Max. Elec. h.p. at peak load 201 h.p., engine and producer doing an overload. Average electrical h. p. for one night, 105.08; coal consumption 1 03 lbs. per Elec. h.p. hour; Max. E. h. p. at peak load was 192. During the test the plant was idle eleven days, including Mr. Owen's fire day test and four days taken up in shortening the best. The fact of gas valves sticking and poor gas on one or two occasions, prevented a full day test. The engine and gas plant are in good condition and would have given every satisfaction if the coal had been of proper quality. The coal was filthy—clinkers and ash being abnormal, valatile matter percentage high. Mr. Owen suggested anthracite and coke mixed, but this would be expensive. The bad coal is at the bottom of all the trouble. The report concludes by saying that the plant is hardly large enough to carry the load during the winter months, as the load has increased since the plant was ordered.

From this report it appears that the bad coal being used has caused all the trouble. Mr. Duck and Mr. Coleman, of the C. G. E Co., were present and corroborated the report, condemning the coal used and suggesting coke.

The council in discussing the matter asked Mr. Coleman if he could arrange with his company to aid the city in obtaining decent and satisfactory fuel.

Mr. Coleman promised to do this.

Taking the report as satisfactory except the quality of coal used, the council passed a resolution accepting the report and that the city take over the plant from the Canadian General Electric Co., subject to the terms of contract.

Mr. Duck said that he felt satisfied that all though in his opinion successful operation had not been attained through lack of good fuel, it could be and was sure that the plant was good.

The matter of the sewerage contract was discussed and a resolution passed that the work be commenced forthwith starting at the central section. Mr. L. H. Buck will be engaged to locate the lines.

A resolution was passed ordering the completion of the boulevards, J. Maley will be in charge.

It was decided that the insurance on the new power plant be divided up among the local insurance agents.

The meeting then adjourned.

SPORTING NOTES

Good Friday saw the opening of summer sports in Revelstoke. The paper chase did not come off owing to some of the boys not turning up. The baseball fellows had a good practice, while the football men were also busy and had a scrub game. The lacrosse match between the Y.M.C.A. and City teams drew a large crowd, the City boys winning by 7-3.

On Monday night at 8 o'clock the Y.M.C.A. boys meet to elected a captain and to decide practise nights, and on Tuesday night the Intermediate baseball boys will meet for a similar purpose.

EASTER

With the roll of the seasons the specially significant celebration of Easter verities is once more upon us. For the observance of the day itself the churches have made elaborate preparations and during the associated days of feasting the more social features of the observance will be carried out. Whether Christmastide or Easter, the two chief festivals of the Christian church should receive most prominence in the thought and worship of men is a question which must be left to the individual for appraisement. The first marked the beginning of the earth life of the Redeemer and the other the opening of the doors of his spiritual triumph. In a sense all that had gone before Easter is lost in the climax which the day celebrates. It is probably this fact which leaves Easter free from the hocus-pocus and generally irrevalent encumbrance of artificial ceremonials which are associated with other days.

It is not absolutely necessary to accept in all their literalness the statements of the New Testament as to what transpired on that day. There is enough evidence of the truth of the deep spiritual vereties that underlie the significance of Easter to make it obligatory upon anyone to be bound down to ecclesiastical traditions. Events followed each other so rapidly during the last few days of the life of Jesus of Nazareth that imagination may have played a large part in their recital of the story and the arrangement of its parts afterward.

Moreover, modern psychology has provided an elaborate series of well authenticated incidents which, when properly understood may come to play a large part in the interpretation of the Scriptures. These things however need not detract an iota from the warmth, devotion and zeal with which the devout churchman hails the day that celebrates the resurrection. If one does not become too retrospective and fix his eye upon the too remote past, the present and everpresent spirit of the Man of Gallilee will furnish inspiration for newer religious conceits worthy of the Twentieth century and we are pleased to observe that this tendency appears to prevail.

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC

The people of Canada are at last beginning to realise that in the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway they will have the privilege of paying for a long stretch of road whether they will ever have the pleasure and responsibility of owring it or not. The last proposal, submitted by Mr. Fielding to the House of Commons last week for an additional loan of $10,000,000 made the House sit up and brought Mr. R. L. Borden to his feet with a statement of the total obligations of the country in the matter of the G.T.P. to date. These he showed to be nearly $300,000,000 against $28,750,000 to be provided by the Grand Trunk Pacific.

It may safely be assumed that if the country had known at the outset that such a vast expenditure would have been saddled upon the Dominion the sanction of the country would never have bean obtained for the G. T. P. contract. Not that Canada would have balked at the expenditure of three hundred million dollars for a railway but the conditions under which the money would have been loaned would have been quite different. As it is Canada does not own a foot of the road excepting a section of the eastern branch which is leased rent free for seven years. It is true, the contract contains a provision which empowers the appointment of a receiver in case the company cannot make the road a paying enterprise. But the same clause stipulates that, should the receiver be a good business man and succeed in pulling the road out of the hole transforming it into what should be a national asset it must revert to the company at any time they may choose to claim their right of recovery.

Altogether the situation is one which would fill one with bitterness especially as it is now known and has been all along that other terms could have been negotiated for a National Transcontinental railway under which, having paid the price Canada should own the road.

It is rumored in high financial circles that by the time the G.T.P. is ready for operation the control of its stock on the London market will have been secured by the Canadian Pacific and that the line will be operated as an adjunct or auxiliary of the latter. There may be no foundation for the rumor but when one considers the enormous capitalization and earning power of the C.P.R. more improbable things might easily happen.

In their disappointment and chagrin there is one hope toward which the people of Canada may turn. While there can be no receding now, even at still further cost to the country, it may be anticipated that the immense landed areas and mineralized tracts through which the G.T.P. will pass will, in their development afford some restitution for the immense sums the country has had to pay. And all this for a road which at the outset Sir Wilfrid informed the House would not cost the country a cent more than $13,000,000, and Hon. Mr. Fielding explained that on account of arrangements for a bond issue it would not exceed $8,000,000. No one will accuse these political leaders of attempted deceit but certainly the reflection upon their business capacity as railway builders does not leave them much to choose from between the two.

PROVINCIAL PARAGRAPHS

Happenings Throughout Week in B. C.

The death occurred on Tuesday night of Mr. Edwin Pimbury, one of the oldest and most public-spirited citizens of Nanaimo. The late Mr. Pimbury was 76 years of age and had a well established stationery and drug business in the Coal City. He was for two terms a member of the Provincial Legislature, the last election being in 1878.

W. S. Stanley, editor of the Fernie district Ledger is on the anxious stool, through having been cited to appear before the Supreme Court to answer as to why he should not be indicted for certain things published in his paper. The article appearing in the Ledger was a criticism of a judgment of His Honor Judge Wilson and Deputy Attorney General Maclean says the paragraph is about as culpable as it could well be. The citation for appearance if fixed for April 19th, at Vancouver.

Magistrate A. E. Watts, of Wattsburg, after hearing a charge against a young man in the Watt's colony for enticing young girls of tender years, gave the culprit choice of his punishment. When the culprit heard the evidence he made a full confession and in sentencing him he was given the choice of the lash or gaol. With rare physical courage he chose the lash and Mr. Watts acted as the executioner of his own sentence. The culprit was stood up against a flagstaff in the grounds of the villas and, with his back bared, he received his flaggelation with howls for mercy.

Labor Agent Conway, of Prince Rupert, reports that the strike at that point has been settled, and that as soon as the season opens not less than 2,500 men will be immediately required.

Reports from Bulkley valley convey the information that 1200 settlers have already booked their passage to that section and will go to their new homes as soon as navigation opens. Windermere, which is about 60 miles south of Hazelton, has about 400 settlers with every indication of a busy and prosperous season. Between 500 and 1,000 prospectors will be engaged locating gold on the Telqua summit during the summer.

HON. MR. TAYLOR ON TOUR

Will Inspect Public Works in the Province

Hon. Thomas Taylor, Minister of Public Works, has commenced a tour of inspection of the various public works now going on in the province. In the course of an interview at the Coast, just prior to his departure, Mr Taylor remarked:

"It would be impossible to enumerate all the work which the Department has on hand at present. On works and buildings the Province is spending this year something like $666,000. Probably the chief enterprise is the Vahcouver Court House, which should be about ready for occupation by the spring. The building, when completed, will cost about $750,000.

Then the plans and specifications for the new wing of the insane asylum on the Government farm at Coquitlam are about ready, necessitating an outlay of $121,000. Then there are the Fernie Court House, New Westminster Land Registry offiees and the Court Houses in Nelson and Kamloops which have just been completed.

The most important work of the Department is that of the construction of trails, streets and bridges throughout British Columbia, for these are the arteries not only of commerce but of settlement.

An example of the work of this kind can be seen at Revelstoke in the new Columbia River traffic bridge which is being built to open up a large and valuable territory between Revelstoke and the Okanagan valley.

Upon surveys, and improvements of land, the Government will spend some $560,000. This work is necessary for it must go hand in hand with settlement.

I have so far since taking over the Department, endeavored to get in touch with local conditions as far as possible. I will inspect especially any of the roads and trails in the different districts as I am able to. After visiting the municipalities along the Frazer river, meeting the Reeve of each, the Government agents and road superintendents, I shall go on up into the Okanagan as far as Vernon. About the middle of April I shall return and leave at once for Prince Rupert."

Canada Pays Three Hundred Millions

During the debate in the House of Commons last week on the motion of Hon. Mr. Fielding to grant an additional loan of $10,000,000 to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway for the completion of the prairie section. R. L. Bordeh submitted a statement which showed the relative obligation of the company and of the country. While it has been known for months that the obligations of the country were being considerably increased, the concise statement given below will materially aid in arriving at a conclusion as to the business acumen of the bargain.

The statement is:

PEOPLE'S CONTRIBUTION

Government total guarantee $66,658,000.

Government loan, $10,000,000.

Interest for seven years on mountain section, $13,413,750

Cost of eastern section $190,000,000.

Total (approximately), $270,000,000

GRAND TRUNK CONTRIBUTION

Guarantee,—$28 750,000.

Mr. Borden criticized at length the position of the government with regard to the construction of the railway and asked: "What is it proposed to secure for the people of Canada?" The Grand Trunk, which is to provide a guarantee of $28,000,000 out of a total of $300,000,000, is to receive for the assistance so given $25,000,000 of common stock, and the people of this country, who are providing nine-tenths of the whole expenditure and guarantees, are to receive absolutely nothing in respect of any share whatever in the future development, which shall result from this enterprise when the great western country shall have made this $25,000,000 of stock worth at least $100 a share.

"Having regard to the money the people of this country have put into this great enterprise, is it not pertinent to ask. What do you purpose to do for the people of Canada?"

Moving Pictures tonight.

FLORENCE ROBERTS

At the Opera House on April 16th in "House of Bondage."

Long experience, amid favorable surroundings, together with their natural ability, without which no great artistic accomplishment is possible, has made Florence Roberts a distinguished figure among American stage celebrities. Miss Roberts, who will appear at the Revelstoke Opera House, on April 16th, as "Lady Joan" in "The House of Bondage," was born in New York, but was taken to the Pacific Coast when a mere child. It was in San Francisco that she made her stage debut, then in her seventeenth year, in support of Louise Morrison, to whom she was afterwards married. Later she supported Wm. Gillette, Otis Skinner and Julia Marlowe, and then returned to her husband's company in the role of "Marguerite" in Faust. Later she was chosen to head Alcazar company in San Francisco, where she enacted a range of roles from Shakespeare to Charles Hoyt, and always with superior artistry. She toured the country with Melbourne MacDowell in the Sardou repertoire, starred in "Zaza," "Du Barry," in "Tess of the D'Urbevilles," in "Marta, of the Lowlands," and in "Ann La Mont," in which she was ably supported by Max Figman. "The Strength of the Weak" was her next offering, followed by a season in which she alternately produced "The Struggle Everlasting," "Sham" and "Zira." It was in "The Strength of the Weak" that Miss Roberts first appeared as a New York star and it firmly established her as a metropolitan favorite. Therefore unknown, she won the praise of every newspaper in Gotham and her business doubled and trebled during the engagement. Despite her numerous successful impersonations, Miss Roberts declares that she has had nothing that suited her so well as her present role in "The House of Bondage."

G. H. Wright, of Vancouver reports that he has taken one year's bond on the Majestic group of claims on Payne mountain at Sandon from F. H. Bourne, of Revelstoke, and C. French, of Vancouver, and that a staff of ten men will be at once put to work on the property which is near the well known Payne mine at that place.—Nelson News.
