THE POWER BY-LAW

Public Meeting of Citizens to Discuss Same

On Wednesday evening about 80 ratepayers attended the Opera House at the invitation of the Mayor to discuss the proposed power bylaw which is being voted on to today. The Mayor presided and with him on the platform were Ald. Macdonald, Pradolini and Kimberley.

In opening the meeting the mayor said the Council had given a great deal of consi eration to the condition of the power plant and had twelve meetings over it. This was one of the most important questions that had ever been raised in the city. It was fully as important as the purchase of the plant in the first place. The whole council, without one dissentient voice, was absolutely unanimous on the question. He would ask the aldermen to give their views.

Ald. Macdonald said the Council had put in a lot of time on this matter. The dam and flume were a complete wreck. The timbers were rotting and if they had a freshet next spring like last the dam would go out. As to the flume it was blowing out everywhere, and it was an expensive matter to keep the flume in order. The interest and sinking fund for the amount required to put the plant in proper shape amounted to $6000 a year and the amounts that had to be spent on repairs alone amounted to that much, while this money spent in repairs was practically wasted, because it had to be renewed every year. They had employed one of the best engineers in Nelson to look into the matter and it was now up to the people of Revelstoke to say whether they wanted this plant put in the best possible shape and in a condition that would be a credit to the city. (Cheers).

Ald. Kimberley said the proposal before them was the only course open to ensure the plant being put in permanent shape, and cut out the unnecessary expense they were under in regard to their street lighting. The system was now that when the lights were turned on in the houses in the evening the streets were also lighted up at the same time before it was necessary and the same thing happened in the mornings, as they could not shut off the street lights till the house lights were also cut off. By altering the circuit so they could put on the house system independently of the street system they would save a couple of hours street lighting in the morning and evening. As to the flume it was absolutely rotten from one end to the other. He did not know how the dam stood. He was in favor of something permanent. He advised them to look at the flume for themselves and they would see the necessity of this work. (Cheers).

Ald. Pradolini said his opinion of the present state of the power was that it was very bad and he wanted to see something of a permanent character undertaken, instead of spending money as they were on temporary repairs. They had to spend a good deal of money every year in repairs and got nothing for it. Unless they put their power plant in proper shape they would have this town in the dark and the town would go back and property would go down in value instead of increasing. The work now proposed would be the best thing they could do, and unless they did this work instead of the town going ahead it would go back. (Cheers,)

Mayor Lindmark said he would like if the citizens would take the trouble to go to their council meetings sometimes. They wanted the meeting to discuss the question fairly and squarely and he asked them for their candid opinion. They would meet the other fellow round the corner and talk about how it should be done and it would be better to give the council their opinion. Now coming back to the question of the power plant they had tried to get the best engineers in Canada to advise them, and by all accounts they had secured them. That in itself should be a guarantee of the bona fide way in which they had gone about the improvement of this plant. The firm they had employed were not only handling the largest works of the kind in Canada but had in charge the construction of works on the other side of the line involving an expenditure of fifteen millions. The firm had been highly recommended by Mr. Busteed, General Superintendent of the C.P.R. His Worship here read the reports of the engineers, Messrs. Smith, Kerry & Chace, J. P. Forde, C.E., and A. G. Duck, superintendent of the power plant. In the estimate of $89,000 as proposed under the bylaw, provision had been made for the separation of the house and street lighting systems. He gave figures showing the growth of the demand for light during the past three years. Now they were up against it. They could not supply any more, without the proposed improvements to and increase of their plant.

The way their city was going ahead showed that things were going the right way. They were pulling together for the city and its extension, and their land was being developed. They would have to supply power outside the city and had already applications. Before polling day he would be able to give an absolute guarantee that the C.P.R. would use the power. The C.P.R. would increase their shops and for various reasons the C.P.R. had made up their minds that they

WILL BACK REVELSTOKE

They had also the proposal to start new industries here but at present they were not in a position to supply power though if this bylaw carried they would have 1250 horse power, which would enable them to supply power to any new industry that came along. There was every reason to believe that a flour mill, machine shop and an iron foundry would be added to their industries and were within their grasp if they could meet conditions. There were people who advocated the city letting go their water and light and placing them in the hands of a private company. He would show them what this plant had done for the city and would separate the revenue from water from the power plant. The light plant in the first place cost the city $48,000 and the water system cost $14,000; added from revenue $9,308; debentures, $12,048, making a total of $68,356 which the light plant had stood them. The net earnings from light had been $56,856, an amount which, after deducting the amount of $9,308 added to the plant left a margin larger than the sinking fund of $23,008, which they had in the Bank. They still have a balance of $23,640 received from that plant. To any reasonable man that was a very good showing. When they had the franchise, which was a valuable one.

THE WATER PLANT

had stood them in $35,706, and the receipts had been as follows:
1902—$5,792, with a profit of $3,400.
1903—$19,431, with a profit of $9,614.
1904—$21,756, with a profit of $14,900.
1905—$23,346, with a profit of $15,843.
1906—$30,079, with a profit of $11,591.
1907—$33,761 with a profit of $18,649.
1908—$35,087, with a profit of $20,423.
It was the tendency of the time to promote municipal ownership of public utilities as far as possible. With regard to the

that was doing all it was guaranteed to do, and the council had seen to it it that the contract made with the previous council was strictly carried out. In the interest of the city he urged them to do their best to secure the passing of this by-law, and to pull shoulder to shoulder to make Revelssoke a city in which it was a pleasure to live and have a home. (Cheers.)

J. Mathie—Does this $89,000 cover the cost of installing the first and second sections as proposed by the engineers?

The Mayor—Yes.

Mr. Mathie—Then it only leaves the third to follow?

The Mayor—Yes. With reference to

THE WATER SUPPLY

I want to take this meeting into our confidence. When the water supply was at its lowest we sent a man out to find a probable source of further supply and he found a stream on the same summit with four times the quantity of water at that stage that was in our present source of supply. By cutting through a hog back we could utilise this supply which would give ample water for fire and other purposes for some time to come, so that we shall not have a recurrence of a shortage of water and well-kept gardens suffering in consequence. The present Council intends to investigate this supply fully and the next Council will take up the improvement of the water supply. We are very fortunate in having located that stream. (Cheers.)

Mr. Manning—What is the extent of your borrowing powers?

The Mayor—Last year the assessment was about a million and a half. The borrowing power is 20 per cent. of that amount. If this bylaw should pass there will still be a margin of $25,000 to $30,000.

Mr. Manning—We shall have to provide for the water supply and increased school accommodation next year.

The Mayor—I thought you were posted on this. A school bylaw or any local improvement does not effect the borrowing powers.

Mr. Manning—The reason the school bylaw was defeated was the water and power plant was strongly advocated and people argued it would be better to borrow the money for these than for the schools. They understood the plant was in bad shape and it was up to them to protect it, and endorse the Council. He urged the placing of the plant in the hands of the best mechanics and electricians to operate so that a failure should not be made of it by men who were ignorant of the work. He believed that if the municipal business were conducted by a commission it would ensure better results, and said they would never have a success unless they change their system. No one would be more sorry than he if the bylaw were to fail. He condemned the local press, stating last time he addressed a meeting every word of it was misconstrued.

The Mayor said there was one matter the city council should give their attention to. The water and light accounts should be kept on a different system. At present the profits went into the general fund.

Mr. Haggen said he would like to ask Mr. Manning when he addressed the meeting where he said every word of it had been misconstrued in the press.

Mr. Manning explained he had addressed the school-children before the last by-law was submitted, and his remarks were entirely misconstrued in the Observer.

Mr. Haggen said he had never heard of Mr. Manning addressing a public meeting, and knew nothing about the address he mentioned. If Mr. Manning, as chairman of the school Board, had taken the public into his confidence, as the Mayor and aldermen had done on this occasion, his school bylaw might have met a different fate.

Mr. Manning said it had not been customary to call meetings to discuss these bylaws though he believed it was the proper course.

Mr. Tapping said the system on which the light plant was run was not the best business system. He was supposed to have good ideas of business, having done business in these mountains for many years. The cost of placing a bylaw before the people was poor business. There should be $5000 kept in the bank for the power plant which could be used as required without the necessity of calling council meetings and putting these bylaws before the people. He had great faith in the plant after hearing the reports of these scientific men. He advocated calling tenders for works not only in the local paper but in the B. C. Gazette, and Calgary. Should the bylaw fail to pass this time try it again and never give up. They should show themselves progressive, and should have 10,000 people here.

Mr. McLennan—How long will it take to carry out this work?

The Mayor—If the bylaw carries the work can be completed before high water next spring.

The Mayor then closed the meeting, urging them to pull together for the good of the city.

Get cash prices at Howson on carpets and linoleum. We can beat eastern catalogues, come and let us prove it.

BOARD OF TRADE

The Board met Thursday afternoon, W. M. Lawrence, President, in the chair.

Mr. Allen asked how the Publicity building was progressing and the Mayor replied the lumber was being got on the ground.

Arthur Branwell & Co., of London, England, wrote asking names of firms who would be interested in development of exports from Canada to Britain and the Continent.

The Publicity committee reported $964 has been subscribed by the citizens towards the publicity fund and amounts to come in would bring it up to $1,000.

Mr. Allen suggested getting statistics and particulars of the mineral resources of the district, timber, land, forest attractions, etc., and incorporating these in their advertising matter. Also, in the book that would be published, there should be a directory of the business firms in the city, so that the book would bring them some practical return for their contributions by enabling people interested to communicate with the local men in regard to business or investments. He expressed his appreciation of the liberal way in which the people of the city had come forward to back up the Board in their efforts to advertise Revelstoke.

The chairman reported Mr. McLennan and he waited on the City Council on the matter.

The Mayor said they knew how the city stood at present. The subscription list presented was one of the most satisfactory evidences they had that the way the people had taken hold of this publicity scheme would do more for Revelstoke than many other things. They should look to one thing, and one thing only, and that was the advancement of the city. The business men had got together as they never had before and there was no longer anything standing in the way of the progress of their city.

The following were appointed to compile statistics and particulars for the Board's booklet, of which it is proposed to issue 10,000 copies:—Land—Messrs. Sibbald and Fraser; Mines—Messrs. Haggen and Robertson; Timber—Messrs. Sine and Lindmark; Descriptive Writing — E. A. Haggen.

A report was read from W. B. Robertson, who went to the Spokane Fair in connection with the mineral exhibit. Mr. Robertson thanked Mr. Armstrong, who was in charge of the mineral section of the fair for the courtesy shown, and in giving them the best site for their exhibit, which, with that from Trout Lake, was best there, and it was only because their exhibit arrived late though shipped two weeks ahead that they had not been awarded a trophy. He regretted British Columbia was not represented in the Dominion exhibit, although this province had been invited to join. He suggested sending to the Dominion Government office at Spokane a permanent exhibit of minerals, fruits, etc., and that they should start now to collect for next year's fair.

Resolved on motion of Mr. Allen, seconded by Mr. Sibbald, that the Minister of Public Works be asked to make provision for construction of a wagon road from Downie Creek to McCullough Creek.

On motion of Mr. Fraser seconded by Mr. Sibbald, it was resolved that the Secretary aaain write the Premier asking what action the Government propose to take in regard to a land registry office for Revelstoke.

It was resolved to draft a circular letter asking the ratepayers to support the bylaw being voted on today for increase of the power plant as necessary in the best interest of the city.

Winter Train Schedule

By the new winter schedule a solid passenger train for passengers for Kootenay points will be run from Vancouver to Arrowhead, without transfer at Revelstoke as hitherto. The train will have both sleepers and dining car, and the passengers will enjoy all the comforts of a main line train. Passengers from the coast will reach Nelson on the late Rossland train at 10.30 p. m. The transfer of passengers at Castlegar on outward trains will be abandoned. Under the new schedule the Rossland train will run from Nelson instead of from Castlegar. The train for the coast will leave Nelson at 7:15 instead of 6 p.m. as at present.

The double through service, consisting of 1 and 97 westbound, and 2 and 96 eastbound, will be continued with slight variation of schedule for Nos 1 and 97 till Dec. 31. Nos. 5 and 6 will be discontinued on Oct. 31st. but in their place a local will be run between Revelstoke and Vancouver. The local will leave Vancouver two hours ahead of 96, and arrive here 20 minutes ahead of that train, both trains connecting at Revelstoke with train to Arrowhead.

The up train from Arrowhead will connect with the local to Vancouver leaving Revelstoke about two hours ahead of 97.

UNION LABEL

SATURDAY, OCT. 9, 1909

It is a pity the little Revelstokers who are opposing the power by-law today could not find some secluded spot where their miserable souls might find consolation in each other's pessimism.

Revelstoke is entering on her growing time, and the big, broad-minded men of the city are going to lead the van, with the best element of cititenship to the front of the fighting line of progress.

Revelstoke affords a magnificent opening for some new industries, such as a flour mill, an iron foundry, machine shops, a box factory, and if the manufacture of wood alcohol from mill waste is a success a better location than Revelstoke could not be found for the industry.

The Trail News says:—"Get back to the land," is a shibboleth that is often heard these days, and the putting into the effect of the idea crystallised in the cry would do much to cure many of the ills that men suffer from and would greatly add to material prosperity. John Oliver, member for Delta, in a recent interview, stated that the prosperity of the province was being seriously retarded because between eighty and ninety per cent. of its present population are dwellers in cities, and his advice, and it was full of wisdom, was for people to get out on farms.

THE MAIL SERVICE

The mail service to which Revelstoke has been treated of late has been a disgrace to the postal department. The hours of clearing the boxes make no provision for the late mail east and the early morning mail west. Many people have been in the habit of posting their mail at the station to catch the first trains, but it is now stated the only trains which cleared the station boxes were 96 and 97. While the public have been under the fond delusion that their mail has been hurrying to its destination the truth has been that it was still in the station boxes which were so filled to overflowing they would hold no more. Then the conditions at the local postoffice have been most unsatisfactory. We have seen letters stamped showing they had been received here nearly a month before they were delivered to the addresses and being of a public character, considerable unpleasantness to parties concerned in the correspondence resulted.

BOOSTING REVELSTOKE

The fact that within a few days practically $1000 has been subscribed by the citizens of Revelstoke for the advertising of this city is one of which the Board of Trade, who promoted the scheme, have reason to be proud. There is no surer sign that Revelstoke is throwing off her swaddling clothes and forging ahead to her place in the cities of the west. The narrow, picayunish ideas of the past are being left in the background and the people are taking on new hope, renewed energy, and a virile spirit of progress which is a credit to the city. Revelstoke can make good, and will do so in spite of the clogs on the wheels of progress of the little Revelstokers who are never done croaking like the frogs they imitate.

Revelstoke will be heard from henceforth. Now that our lands are about to be settled up, new industries are being promulgated, business enterprise is taking on a more aggressive attitude, the future of Revelstoke has never been so assured, and that assurance so generally recognised. The fact that there is not a vacant house speaks volumes for the growth of population and development of the industrial life of the city.

EXPRESS CHARGES

The evidence given before the Railway Commission has shown that the express services are little better than a legalized hold-up of the people of Canada, and much disappointment has been felt by the public that the commission has not taken the vigorous action that the exposures of their rates and system of capitalisation warranted. The Winnipeg Telegram says of the subject:—

"The Railway Commission, under Chairman Mabee, has already done some promising work in the regulation of the express companies. Its work up to the present time has however, been largely confined to individual grievances. The big task, the real task, lies in dealing with the grievances of the general public, grievances which had their origin in licensed monopoly without the restricting influence of competition or public control."

If it is the difficulty of arriving at a basic system of regulating rates that has caused the delay in relief being given to the public there is of course some excuse for the commission having so far failed to make the announcement expected of it in regard to express rates, but the commissioners are expected to do their duty with as little delay as possible in this matter.

It has been suggested that the delay has been due to consideration of the vested interests of these express companies, but the interest of the Canadian people must supersede any such considerations. Indeed, this matter of express rates is one in which the Postal Department has failed in its duty. Parcel post rates have been regulated is one in which the Postal Department has failed in its duty. Parcel post system should have been adopted in Canada before now. It has been conducted so as to give the public the best service at the lowest cost. The Postal Department of Canada is now adopting the principle, but this is not enough. It could very well assume the duties which the express companies perform and that at a very great saving and convenience to the public as well as putting an end to the highway robbery that has been going on in this direction.

SETTLING THE LAND

Tributary to Revelstoke are 15,000 acres of Land which, as soon as the timber is off, will be available for settlement. There is no land in British Columbia better adapted to certain kinds of fruit-growing, vegetable and poultry farming, potato culture, and dairying. The latter industry is one that should take an important place in this the Columbia Valley.

The Dominion Government very properly have adopted the principle of smaller holdings by cutting down the surveyed lots from 160 acres to 40 acres, and as they have had their surveyors through the valley subdividing the land accordingly, as soon as the timber is off it will be available for settlement. When we look at the 160 acre holdings round the city, and find the land for the most part still in its wild state and unimproved, there could be no better illustration of the folly of 160 acre sections, unless they could be placed in the hands of people who would clear up and improve the bulk of the areas held by them.

Forest land is costly to clear and there are few men who care to undertake the clearing of more than a few acres. For the average settler ten acres of the land around here cleared and in cultivation is ample for the profitable employment of himself and family. When it is considered that a ten acre section in British Columbia will yield more than a hundred and sixty acre section on the prairie the folly of attempting to settle B. C. forest land on the same conditions as the prairie is self-evident. Of course the speculator will kick about the Government limiting the areas now proposed, but the bona fide settler knows and recognises that the proposed limitation is a fair and reasonable one with a view to securing settlement and preventing the land being monopolised and held in large areas for speculation.

The land around Revelstoke is capable of supporting a population of 20,000 people and it is not improbable that another ten years will see such a condition realised. The great trouble with British Columbia is the over-crowding to Vancouver and other cities. Some day there will be a reaction, when the cry of "Back to the Land" will take hold of the people. A vigorous policy of land settlement is vital to the progress of any community. The clearing of the land by up-to-date methods and its settlement is one of the best signs of the times.

The folly of local people buying their house furnishings and fittings from eastern deparement stores was evidenced this week from a shipment we saw in which the furniture had been badly smashed about by the time it was delivered to the purchaser here. It is a pity that people owning their homes and interested in the city will not take the trouble to compare local prices before sending east. They would find they could save money by spending their money at home, personally selecting the articles they require ansuring satisfaction with them, besides being free from the risk of having their goods damaged by the frequent handling of shipments from the east such es we saw.

THE MINES

The Crow's Nest Coal Co. spends annually in wages and has expended in cash on capital account since operations begun, over $5,000,000. The daily output at present is 3,000 tons of coal a day, a considerable portion of which goes into coke. Elias Rogers, president of the company, says that in three years, provided the Government will co-operate, the company will be spending $5,000,000 a year in wages besides adding considerably to its plant.

A gold dredge is working the Lardeau River near Goldhill.

Reports that the C. P. R. are arranging a purchase of the Dunsmuir coal rights on Vancouver Island, and are generally credited.

It is stated that W. O. Young has bonded the Lanark mine, east of Illecillewaet. He went to Albert Canyon on Thursday with a view to arranging for development work.

On his last trip out from the Big Bend mica country J. F. Moodie brought out a crystal weighing 80 lbs., and of fine quality of mica.

(STEGER SYSTEM)

CAPITALIZATION $100,000 IN SHARES OF $1.00 EACH, FULLY PAID UP AND NON-ASSESSABLE

The people of B. C. are gradually awakening to the fact that a vast amount of capital, that should be kept in circulation at home, is now being sent abroad. For instance in the construction of the Dominion Trust Building, the new sky scraper, now being erected in Vancouver, bricks were imported from St. Louis, at a cost of $76 per thousand laid down in Vancouver, and yet the Steger System Silica Brick is Successfully Competing with this self same brick, in the market at St. Louis, today. We can manufacture the Steger Brick as cheaply in Vancouver, as any portion of the United States; consequently we have a margin of Twenty-two and one-half per cent. duty and high Transportation Charges to eliminate competition. Can you see any money-making possibilities in our proposition?

We are not seeking large capitalists for our proposi ion, to freeze out the small shareholder. Experience has shown that all stable enterprises, even to the Government, are founded upon and supported by the people. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is composed of 45,000 shareholders and this company is one of the best paying and most successful enterprises in the business world today. Our proposition is founded upon one of the most staple articles in use—Bricks. We Know what we can manufacture for. We Know the enormous price being paid at the present time for inferior bricks. We Know the large market now awaiting us, and the contractors and architects Know the excellence of our bricks, because many of them have used our bricks in the United States.

THE POULTRY YARD

Winter Egg Production---Some Useful Hints

METHODS OF HOUSING.

There has gradually come about a great change in methods of housing poultry. This change has taken the form of opening up the houses more and more for fresh air and sunlight, and it has resulted in very great gain in the health and vigor of the stock and better success in poultry keeping. Practically all the houses I have seen around here are fresh air houses. Only a few years ago, it was considered essential that the poultry houses should be tight and warm Poultry writers urged that to stimulate summer conditions as far as possible was the best way to promote egg production in winter. But ideas of poultrymen are continually changing. The introduction of the curtain-front house about 1893, was the first step in opening up the houses to fresh air and sunlight. Hens do not like too close confinement, and the fact of their having been in the cooler air during the daytime seemed to make the fowls less affected by the colder air during the night. But the curtain-front house has given way to the open-front house, and what the curtain-front house was to the old closed-in type so the open-front house is to the old curtain-front type. The advantages of this house over the curtain-front house are many. It is less expensive and requires less labor. A larger supply of fresh air is supplied the fowls all the time, thus improving the health and increasing the egg yield.

DESCRIPTION OF HOUSES.

In building a poultry house the two main essentials to be considered are, first the comfort of the fowls, and second, simplicity in construction. In simplicity of construction, the cost of construction is also to be considered. The poultryman must be economical. Here, on the Island, the cost of houses should not exceed $1.00 per head, this being the maximum estimate. Cheaper houses which give satisfaction have been put up. Interior arrangements should be simple to make the cleaning of the house easier, and also to give vermin as little chance as possible to breed and increase.

One simple and inexpensive house is that adopted by Mr. W. Bayliss. A house of a little different type, though it involves the same principle, is that adopted by Mr. Ernest T. Hanson, of Cowichan, and Mr. S. G. Hanson, of Duncans. These houses are of the shed type, with the entire front open, facing south. Originally these houses were about 8 feet wide, but it has been found advantageous to make them somewhat wider. They are comparatively low at the back and high enough in the front to allow the attendant to work in them conveniently. One of the greatest difficulties in the housing of the flock, especially on the Island, is to keep the scratching quarters dry throughout the winter season. Many methods have been adopted by poultrymen to overcome this difficulty. Mr. Ernest Hanson has adopted a pitched roof type of house, having a very large angle. His idea was that in projecting the front slope over the front of the house about 2 feet, it would tend to keep out a certain amount of dampness during the winter. He, as well as Mr. S. G. Hanson, has boarded up the front of his house for a few feet up from the floor. This tends to keep out a great deal of dampness, keeping the room in a drier state. One commendable feature of Mr. S. G. Hanson's house, is his method of protection from the downward-driving rains. His houses are of the shed type and are constructed of shiplap material. At the top of the front he has three shiplap boards projecting over at an angle of about 120 degrees. This gives a certain amount of satisfaction, and is very inexpensive.

But a type of house which is well adapted to all climates is the Tolman type. The principle of this house is just about the reverse of that of the former open-front houses. This house is generally about 16 feet deep, any width convenient, and is 5 feet high in front and 6 feet behind, with a pitched roof, the long slope running to the 5 foot side. The front is entirely open, and is covered with a 2-inch wire mesh. The roosts are placed at the back of the house, about 5 feet up from the floor, thus avoiding any draughts upon the fowls while on the roosts. This is a very important feature. The nests are placed immediately under the dropping boards. The whole floor space is economized, and board floors are preferable.

Startling Encouragement.—"Was Amelia's father encouraging when you went to ask him for her hand?"

"Not very. He asked me to put the proposal in writing so I couldn't back out as all the others did."—Baltimore American.

Not Surprising.—Concerning the opening of the Orthopedic Hospital The Daily Telegraph says:

"Externally the design is modern, and internally the treatment is somewhat severe, as is usual in a hospital."—Punch.

PURITY FLOUR

And Its Keeping Qualities

SOME people find it necessary to buy a considerable quantity of flour at one time—sufficient to last for a long period. Naturally they are anxious to procure a flour of the kind best adapted to lengthy storage.

There are two important reasons why PURITY FLOUR possesses these qualities. One is that it is made entirely from Manitoba Hard Wheat. The other lies in the fact that the careful milling necessary to produce "Purity" absolutely excludes all low-grade particles of the wheat berry. It's the high grade Manitoba Hard Wheat Flour that keeps—stands longest storage. That's "Purity."

"Purity" flour may cost a little more, but is more than worth the difference. Try it. Watch results both for quality and yield.

TRAIL SMELTER

A Thriving Mining Industry---A Large Output

During July and August the gross output of the smelter at Trail was $985,000, as compared with $635,000 for the same two months last year. The tonnage smelted in July was 36,000 tons and in August 44,000 tons, the latter being the largest quantity of ore smelted in one month at the Trail plant since it was established.

An addition is being made to the lead refinery building, which is 250 feet in length and 60 feet in width. This will give the refinery structure a total length of 600 feet. The older portion of the structure has a width of 50 feet. The addition is so arranged that the travelling crane used will convey the bullion to the tanks before it is refined and lift the refined lead out; in other words, the crane will be run through the entire length of the building. There are now 240 working tanks in operation and 180 are being added. With the settling tanks, etc., there will be a total of 596 tanks in the refinery. The present capacity is 70 tons a day, and when the addition is completed and the additional tanks in place it will have a maximum capacity of 120 tons a day.

The lead refinery began operations as an experimental plant in May 28, 1902, with 28 tanks, a capacity of 6¼ tons a day and with ten men on the payroll. Now the capacity is 70 tons a day, or about 2,000 tons a month. Fifty men are employed and the refinery is a pronounced success. Since it was started many improvements have been made in the electrolytic process used, and in addition to this numerous labor-saving devices have been adopted to much advantage and economy.

The Runaway Girl

"The Runaway Girl" will be one of the attractive bills in the repertoire of the San Francisco Opera Company this season. The Province in its issue of August 12th, said:—

"The Runaway Girl at the Empress is playing to capacity houses nightly. This delightful musical comedy is entertaining from the rise to the fall of the curtain. Its reputation as one of the greatest successes ever produced at the Gaiety theatre, London, is aptly justified when one listens to the tuneful gems that follow one another rapidly. The comedy is very ludicrous and Teddy Webb scintillates in the leading role of "Flipper." He is more than usually well supported by the company as there are several new members that greatly add to the strength of the company. Charles Couture sings splendidly and Amy Leicester, James Mack and Alexander Dale are all good. The scenery and costumes are elaborate and make the production a most attractive one."

The Runaway Girl will be given by the San Francisco Opera Company at the Revelstoke Opera House tonight.

BIG BEND

Good News Comes From the Mica Fields

On Wednesday W. O. Young, the mining expert, returned from a two week's trip into the mica country in the Big Bend. He went in with Jack Moore, of Golden, taking the new trail which was built up Mica Creek with the assistance of the provincial government, and despite the bad weather made a thorough examination of the mica claims owned by Messrs. Moore, Anderson and others from Golden. He was very favorably impressed with these mica deposits and brought with him as a sample a magnificent mica crystal, weighing 150 lbs

Jack Moore, Fred Anderson and D. McDougal, who accompanied Mr. Young out, entrained their pack horses for Golden.

The Surgeon's Knife

BOSTON, Oct. 5.—"The operation for appendicitis should be considered a criminal operation and as such should be prohibited by law," declares Dr. Charles E. Page, one of the best known physicians in Boston. "I have been following records of appendicitis operations ever since the craze for this form of surgery started, and I confidently believe that the day is coming when the people will realize that the cutting of the appendix is a criminal operation. As for the claimed benefits and saving of life by operations to cut the appendix, it seems hardly necessary to cite the long list of deaths following the operation."

PRAIRIE FIRE

Terrible Experience of Settlers Near Calgary

Calgary, Oct. 7.—Joe Belville, a young American land seeker, came into the Herald office this morning and said he was back from the region to the north-east of Calgary which has been burned over by the big prairie fire, and reports that there is a complete sweep. He was out as far as township 8, range 27, and says as far as he could see in all directions was all black. The point that he reached was a little northwest of Medicine Hat and about 100 miles north.

He tells of some miraculous escapes from the flames. The only fatality he heard of was the burning of the Norwegian, Segelstat, whose death has already been reported in the Herald. The damage to settlers Mr. Belville cannot attempt to estimate, but on the trip down to the Red Deer he only saw a few haystacks left out of the many which dotted the prairie previously. Many settlers have lost all they had. Five families have already arrived in Brooks who have practically lost all they had. One man he saw coming in on the trail who had only the clothes he stood in. What the unfortunate victims are going to do he is unable to say.

The stories told by some of the people who passed through the ordeal are marvellous. One man whom Belville was talking to said that he was in his shack when he saw the fire coming There was no chance to get away, the fire was coming at such speed. He stood outside and watched the flames approaching, until the fire actually drove him inside, which was some little time before the fire actually reached where his house was. With an awful roar and a glare like an inferno the fire passed and in a few minutes the worst was past and he ventured outside. His little shack had caught fire in some places and with a supply of water he put these incipient fires out and the flame swept along in its awful work of destruction. He estimated that the flames were ten feet higher than his shack.

Belville saw a team of horses all scorched which a little boy had rushed through the flames when surrounded. He had no chance to run before the fire, so when he saw he was to be surrounded he dashed the team through the encircling danger and got through without serious danger.

The Canadian department of the Interior has recently been estimating the available water power of Dominion streams, and concludes that there is over twenty-six million horse-power in accessible localities, of which only half a million has been hitherto developed. The largest power is on the Hamilton River in Labrador where 9,000,000 horse-power is available, the Canadian part of Niagara Falls coming second.

William Jacobs, of Proctor, B.C., and Miss Florence M. Woods, of Trout Lake, B.C., were married on Tuesday, Oct. 5th, at 10 a.m., at the residence of J. D. Kennedy, First street, Revelstoke. The newly married couple went west for a visit to the Coast, after which they will take up their residence at Proctor, B.C. Rev. J.R. Robertson, B.D., performed the ceremony.

CIVIC DEVELOPMENT

Value of Publicity Enterprise---What Nelson Has Done

Mr. Gillette, of the firm of McDonald and Gillette, contractors for the Columbia river bridge, has been one of the pioneers and most active citizens in the development of Nelson. He is a thorough believer in publicity and has made up his mind that the city that is going ahead is the one where the business men and the citizens generally have confidence in their town and in themselves, and are not afraid to let the world know it.

The citizens of Nelson, says Mr Gillette, have ever been to the front in supporting any movement for the development of and publicity concerning their town and district. They have pulled together shoulder to shoulder in the work. Look at the result! Nelson is the best known and most progressive city in British Columbia today. Its territory is being settled up by the best classes of people who are bringing in a large amount of capital and who help to promote the good work.

"We never made a success of our publicity work there till the Board of Trade took hold of it. Then they showed results, and one of the most effective ways of raising funds for the work was the monthly subscription system, when almost every business man and many of the citizens put their names down for a stated contribution monthly and made it, enabling the Board of Trade to achieve their splendid record.

Why, said Mr. Gillette, look at what the citizens of Nelson have done this year to build up their city. They contributed $4,000 for publicity. They put up $29,000 for a new church. They raised $16,000 for a new rink. They subscribed $30,000 for a Y. M. C. A. $2,500 was put up for the first of July celebration; $2,600 was subscribed for the Fair. That is a sample of what Nelson has done and is doing.

Let Revelstoke go and do likewise.

The Revelstoke police were recently asked to endeavor to trace a Miss Turner who had left Vancouver with her baggage checked to Calgary. Her body was found in the Kicking Horse river, near Field, and as there was nothing to identify her by, the body was sent to Golden for interment Now the Calgary Herald has attacked Dr. Taylor and the Golden Hospital authorities for not making further efforts to have the body identified.

POLITICAL

Proposed Change of Conservative Leadership

Great changes are in contemplation in the political world. One of the main objects of Hon. G. E. Foster's visit to the west is to pave the way for a change of the leadership of the Dominion Conservative party. The new leader in view is Premier McBride. Now that a provincial election is coming on in British Columbia is a favorable opportunity for the change. The idea is that Mr. McBride will not be a candidate in the coming provincial elections, but that he will resign the Premiership, recommanding Hon. W. J. Bowser, the Attorney-General, as his successor. The Provincial Conservative party will then go to the country under Mr. Bowser's leadership.

Then a way is to be found for Hon. R. McBride entering federal politics. The plan now under consideration is that Mr. Barnard, M. P. for Victoria, shall resign his seat in the Commons, and that Mr. McBride shall be the Conservative candidate for the bye-election in the belief that he can easily carry Victoria. The next move on the chessboard, presuming the plan carries so far, will be a caucus of the representatives of the Dominion Conservative party at which Mr. Borden will tender his resignation as leader and Mr. McBride will be chosen in his stead. The Conservative party will then go to the country next Dominion election under the leadership of Mr. McBride.

R. R. Green is at Nelson getting the interests of the provincial Conservative party in shape for an early election.

At Ymir it is not likely Schofield will be opposed.

At Nelson there will be a fight for the Conservative nomination between Harry Wright and F. S Lennie. The Government propose to straighten out the difficulty by giving Harry a good appointment in some other part of the Province.

R. Tapping exhibited this week in the windows of C. R. Macdonald's drug and book store the largest stalk of corn ever grown or shown in the city. It was ten feet in length and bore a good crop of cobs. By way of showing what "the old plantation" can do, Mr. Tapping walked down McKenzie Avenue on Monday with a stalk of rhubarb grown by him and which was large enough to cover him like an umbrella.

NEW BUILDINGS

A. W. Perry's New House on Second Street

D. McCarthy has just about completed his contract for the erection of a new residence on Second Street west for A. W. Perry, C. P. R. brakeman. The building covers a ground space of 24ft by 26ft., and is two storeys in height. It has a frame basement full size of building. The main floor is raised four feet above ground level. The house is subdivided on the ground floor; sitting room 16ft. by 14ft., dining room 12ft. by 14ft, hall 10ft. by 14ft., kitchen 12ft. square, and pantry 6ft. square. On the upper floor there are two bedrooms, respectively 12ft. square and 14ft. by 9ft., bathroom 10ft. by 12ft., and sewing room 10ft, by 8ft. The house is splendidly finished. The front door is of a handsome design with large oval panel of bevelled glass in centre. The house is plastered throughout and the manner in which this work has been done reflects credit on Messrs. Macdonald and Osborne, who handled this portion of the work. The colors used in the painting are green and white, with the facings varnished in oak, John McLeod, who had the sub-contract for the painting, having made a first-class job of it. Furnace heating is provided, hot and cold water laid on; the pantry is complete with shelving and sink. The sitting room is splendidly lighted with large windows 44x36, fitted with diamond tops. The plumbing was done by Bourne Bros., the bathroom fixtures being of superior make. The bedrooms and bathroom are fitted with roomy linen closets. The windows are hung with sash weights. The front veranda is of rustic design and over it is a balcony 9ft. by 12ft. A veranda also extends along the back of the house.

The plans were prepared by Mr. McCarthy, and the design is one new to the city.

A. J. M'DONELL'S NEW SAMPLE ROOMS

A. J. McDonnell, the popular lessee of the Hotel Revelstoke, is taking a hand in building up the city and providing commodious sample rooms for the commercial men who visit our city from time to time. Opposite Molsons Bank, on First street, he has started the construction of a two-storey building to be used as sample rooms. The contract has been let to W. Bethune.

The building will be 24x60 feet. and will contain ten sample rooms—four on the ground floor, four on the upper floor and two rooms in the addition.

The building will be furnace heated, provided with first-class lavatory accommodation and an elevator will be installed for raising and lowering travellers' samples between the upper and ground floors. The sample rooms in the main building will each be 15x20 feet. The accommodation provided will prove a great convenience to commercial travellers. The building is being set on concrete footings.

BANKING

Bank deposits are continuing to pile up, as shown by the August bank statement. Total deposits in Canada are now, for the first time in the history of the country, over seven hundred millions. The growth in bank deposits, in fact, continues to exceed the ratio of increase in mercantile credits. Savings accounts alone during August increased $6,254,000, while commercial loans are enlarged by little more than half that sum.

MAKE 20 PER CENT. ON YOUR MONEY

Whether You Have Much Or Little

Here are the Facts, we shall tell them to you as Briefly as possible

Light houeSaop has been manufactured in Vancouver for several months. Lighthouse Soap is a first-class laundry soap, a superior laundry soap manufactured by a new process. The manufacture has been wonderfully successful. The Company has been able to supply only part of the demand which has arisen, so quickly has the new soap won its way to popularity. The Company must increase their output, the demand must be met, so the investors are given an opportunity to participate in the profit of supplying this demand. A new, three-story factory, with 150000 feet of floor space, is to be erected. This is to be equipped with all the best modern machinery for the manufacture of soap most economically and profitably. The new process, controlled exclusively by this Company, enable it to manufacture soap more cheaply than it has ever been manufactured before. The process is secret. Its control rests entirely with this company The company is started on the highroad to success, with a present demand for its product far greater than it can fill, with a process which it controls exclusively, a process which enables it to cheaply manufacture a superior soap Based on the business already done, based on the demand which already exists, to say nothing of what it will develop, a return of 20 per cent. on the investment is an exceeding conservative estimate.

Work will be begun as soon as Mr. Gamble, Provincial Engineer, makes the necessary soundings. The Power Bylaw

Mr. Gillette, who from his municipal experience in Nelson, is a high authority on civic affairs, is of the opinion that the city council of Revelstoke is doing the proper thing in taking steps to put the power plant in first-class shape and on a permanent basis, providing ample margin to cover demands for some years to come. He also considers the city council could not have employed a more capable and reliable firm of engineers than Smith, Kerry & Chace, who have been employed to report on the plant, recommend the necessary improvements and supervise the carrying out of the work.

We hope the ratepayers of Revelstoke who have not yet voted will roll up at the poll and record their votes in favor of the by-law. The poll will be open till 7 p m. this evening so that there is ample time for every well-wisher of the city to record their vote for this by-law, and thus relegate to obscurity the knockers and little Revelstokers, who would if they could, do a serious injury to the interests of the city and their more progressive citizens, and all for the sake of their pigmy politics which have nothing to do with civic affairs.

Revelstoke Defeats Kamloops

The baseball game between Revelstoke and Kamloops on Wednesday at the Kamloops Fair was a fine exhibition of ball. In the pitching, Scott of Revelstoke had the best of it, and seemed to get stronger as the game wore on, while Tait weakened in the seventh innings giving Revelstoke 2 runs. The weather was very cold and rainy, making clear fielding very difficult. The Kamloops boys never got what could be called a hit off Scott, getting their two runs on errors; while Revelstoke got their six runs through good clean hitting. The game went the full nine innings and was very exciting, being possibly one of the nicest ball games Revelstoke has participated in this season. Mr. Kelly of Calgary refereed the game in a very satisfactory manner, giving every decision quickly and plainly. This is probably the last game this season and the boys may well feel proud of their record for the summer.

The score by innings was as follows:

Revelstoke, 0 2 0 1 0 1 2 0 0---6
Kamloops, 0 1 1 0 0 0 0 0 0---2

The line-up was:

Revelstoke		Kamloops

Worth	3rd b	Munn

The Pole Controversy

Quebec, Oct. 5—The government steamer Arctic with Capt. Bernier, Canadian explorer of northern regions on board, arrived here this morning.

Pressed for an affirmative or negative statement regarding both Cook and Perry's success in the far north, Capt. Bernier said: "You must give credit to both for having reached the pole. If they have gone within a few miles of the pole they deserve the credit of having reached it. Scientists, however, will determine the matter."
