C.P. RAILWAY OFFICIALS

Pass Through Revelstoke en Route to Coast on Saturday Last---Met By a Deputation from the Board of Trade

On Saturday afternoon the special train of the President of the C. P. R, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, passed through Revelstoke bound for the Coast. Accompanying Sir Thomas were Mr. William Whyte, Second Vice President, Messrs. Angus, Osler and Matthews, directors, and Mr. Aldridge, manager of the Trail Smelter. Messrs. Matthews and Aldridge stopped off at Revelstoke to go south to Trail while the rest of the party went on to the Coast and will take in the A. & Y. P. Exposition at Seattle, returning via Spokane and the Crow's Nest.

While at Revelstoke a Board of Trade deputation waited on Mr. Whyte, there being present Mayor Lindmark, Messrs. Lawrence, (president) Haggen, (Secretary) Sibbald and McLennan, C. B. Hume, W. H. Pratt, A. McRae, and E. M. Cooke.

The deputation discussed with Mr. Whyte the question of putting on again a full force at the C. P. R. shops here, and handling at these shops the whole of the work on the division.

Mr. Whyte said he was in sympathy with the aims of the deputation, but they knew the company had had a lot of trouble with their men in the shops here, and had in consequence been obliged to make other arrangements for their work. He recognized, however, that they were getting around the shops again a good lot of men. As soon as the City of Revelstoke was in shape to guarantee them an efficient and reliable power service he would assure them of his support in arranging to use it and to have all repairs and mechanical work on the division again done at the Revelstoke shops. The C.P.R. were anxious to co-operate with the citizens of Revelstoke to their mutual advantage.

The construction of the

was mentioned and Mr. Whyte replied that while they could not go on with the work immediately they would soon be up against the necessity of a better route for their heavy traffic than over these mountains, and the construction of this road would then have due attention.

Y. M. C. A.

Mayor Lindmark said it was proposed to further improve the Y. M. C. A. by the addition of a library, and to accommodate this another wing would have to be built, when further financial aid would be required. He referred to the appreciation of the Y. M. C. A. among railway men, and the good work it was doing, thanks to the assistance already given the institution by the C.P.R. through Mr. Whyte.

In reply Mr. Whyte said they could depend on the co-operation of the company in their further efforts to make the institution of value to the railway men of thecity.

The deputation were well satisfied with the result of the interview.

RAILWAY Y.M.C.A.

To Be Enlarged and Reading and Billiard Rooms Installed

The management of the Y. M. C. A. are determined to make the institution fulfill to the utmost extent the purposes for which it was inaugurated, and with this object in view they have had plans prepared for a three-storey addition to the building. The addition will provide for, on the ground floor, a commodious reading room and billiard room, while the two upper floors will afford rooming accommodation to the extent of 34 additional rooms. The plans for the proposed addition have been prepared by Mr. J. P. Forde, C. E. The C.P.R. have been asked to provide the cost of the new addition, which, it is estimated, will amount to $15,000.

The Y.M.C.A. proposes to take steps to establish a first-class library in connection with the new reading-room and when the plans are carried out the Railway Y.M.C.A. of Revelstoke will be one of the most up-to-date and complete institutions of its kind on the continent.

MINISTERIAL INSPECTION

Hon. T. Taylor Tells What he Saw---Declares he will build Revelstoke - Arrowhead Road and New Court House.

Speaking to the Post of his recent trip into the Interior, Hon. Thos. Taylor, M.P.P. for Revelstoke Riding and Minister of Public Works, expressed his views as follows:

That Revelstoke is entitled to a new government building is the opinion the minister has formed after listening to the representations of the citizens and making a personal inspection of the present structure. He has decided, therefore, to ask for an appropriation for larger, more commodious and more modern buildings at the next session of the legislature.

Another important project that the department of public works has set afoot is the construction of a wagon road from Revelstoke south along the line of the C. P. R. Arrow Lake branch. Here is found a fine fruit-growing district. The new thoroughfare has been built for six miles already end, before it is finished, it will run to Wigwam, a point fifteen or twenty miles from the city. These works, it is explained, are deemed absolutely necessary because the interior districts are attracting many more settlers than heretofore. This has been brought about, it is stated, through the action of the Dominion government, which has control over all the land through which the railway runs, in stationing an agent there to attend to the interests of the newcomers. He allows them to take up forty acre homesteads immediately the timber has been removed thus eliminating a difficulty which has hitherto created much dissatisfaction. Hon. Mr. Taylor points out that now that settlement has begun in earnest the government consider it its duty to attend to the people's requirements in the way of public roads.

MILLS WORKING FULL BLAST

Later the Hon. Mr. Taylor, went to Arrowhead, where he found two large sawmills working to their full capacity. At Comaplix there was another in operation night and day. Enquiry elicited the information that the lumber business throughout the interior was flourishing, that the marketnever had been in a healthier condition, and that the total output when estimated, it was expected, would exceed that of any other season.

The Hon. Mr. Taylor also visited Camborne, one of British Columbia's mining camps, and while he did not find the same prosperity as elsewhere everyone was optimistic, looking forward to better things. The minister declared that near this town were some of the richest mineral deposits anywhere in the West. There was not the slighest doubt that Camborne, with its wealth of resource and its accessibility, would forge to the front in the near future.

At Golden it was reported that the new six-room school being built by the government, was ready for occupancy. The news was imparted that His Excellency Earl Grey, while en route through the town on an outing in the Columbia valley, would open the building. Over this marked honor the townspeople were rejoicing. H.G. Parsons, M.P.P., Charles Warren and Mr. Hope met the minister here and accompanied him on an automobile tour of the valley.

BOOM ALONG COLUMBIA

Among other points stops were made at Spillamachene, Wilmer, Athalmer, and Windermere. Everywhere there appeared to be a boom in progress, not of a frenzied character but healthy and substantial. The fact that the Kootenay Central Railway had been graded for fifteen miles out of Golden and it was authoritatively reported that its promoters were serious in their intention of carrying through the work as quickly as possible had inspired confidence in the district. The result was that the magnificent stretch of farming country lying along the Columbia between Golden and Cranbrook was being taken up and would be more extensively developed during the next few years than ever before.

Cranbrook, the minister said, was exceedingly busy. New buildings were going up and they were all modern being constructed of brick for the most part, and intended for business use. The Imperial Bank, he was informed, contemplatad putting up a fine block. He was pleased with the new government and civic buildings which had been finished but a short time. They had been paid for by the government and the corporation jointly and were a credit to the city. Another work of importance decided on was a new school to cost about $50,000. On this the government was contributing $15,000.

C. P. R. ACTIVITY

The Company Takes a Hand in Boosting Revelstoke

True to his promises to the Revelstoke Board of Trade, Mr. McNicoll, Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, has lost no time in giving effect to the representations made to him on his recent visit here.

As a result, Mr. Lanigan, head of the C.P.R. freight department, wrs here last week and satisfactorily adjusted matters in the department as affecting Revelstoke.

Now Mr. McNicoll has taken action to thoroughly advertise through the Company's literature the scenic attractions and resources of Revelstoke and surrounding country. The local officials have had instructions from Mr. McNicoll to obtain from the Board and other sources the best local photographs and information available and they have arranged with Mr. W. Bews to get this in shape to be sent to Montreal immediately.

The splendidly illustrated and well balanced contents of the September issue of Westward Ho! marks a decided improvement in this popular monthly. The contributors, too, now number several prominent magazine writers, including Cy. Warman, Isabel B. Macdonald, Bonnycastle Dale, Agnes Lockhart Hughes, Ernest McGaffey and others. Among the features calling for special mention is a timely character sketch of Dr. Torrington, Canada's famous music master, by William Frederick Tasker, and an instructive article by Percy F. Godenrath, the Editor, on "Advertising a City"—telling how Vancouver was so successfully exploited at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition at Seattle. The forthcoming October issue will be a "Homeseeker and irrigation" number.

RAILWAY ACROSS B. C.

Hon. Thos. Taylor Declares for This Policy

The Post says:— "One continuous line of excellent roadway from Vancouver, through East Kootenay and over the Rockies by the Crow's Nest Pass, will be an actual fact before long. Hon. Thomas Taylor, Minister of Public Works, who returned from an extensive tour of the Interior, announced he was confident, after investigation, and as a result of the reports he has received from survey parties that have been at work for some months, that the project, seemingly colossal, can be easily accomplished. Already he has taken the initial steps towards the end and he expected that the Government would be able to declare the Pacific Coast in direct communication with the Middle West by wagon road in the not far future. Workmen, he said, were engaged in connecting up the different roads, and they would be through sometime in 1910, without doubt.

REVELSTOKE'S BRIDGE.

The minister travelled for twelve days or more, making a tour of his constituency—the district adjacent to Revelstoke, Golden and the Columbia Valley and Fernie. At the former point he inspected the immense bridge which is being built by the Government across the Columbia river from Revelstoke to a splendid agricultural country. This is one of the most important provincial public works under way and it is expected to do much for the section which Hon. Mr. Taylor represents as well as for British Columbia as a whole. It will cost about $50,000 and should be completed and in use by next December.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 22, 1909

THE CITY AND THE C.P.R.

The progress and prosperity of Revelstoke are intimately linked with the progress and prosperity of the Canadian Pacific Railway. It is in the interests of this city that there should be a good understanding and cooperation with the railway company. Much has been done during the term of office of the present Mayor and aldermen to bring this about.

There was a time when the mechanical work of the Mountain and Shuswap Division, as well as a lot of work in connection with the C. P. R. steamers on Arrow Lakes, was done at the shops here. Since the mechanics' strike, however, much of the work hitherto done at the Revelstoke shops has been sent to the Calgary and Vancouver shops. This entails unnecessary haulage and loss of time to the C. P. R., while the labor which should be employed here in effecting the mechanical repairs and maintenance of the company's plant is lost to the city under existing conditions. It is in the vital interest of Revelstoke that conditions shall be restored by which this shall be brought about. Mr. Whyte has shown the action necessary on the part of the City of Revelstoke to have this done. The conditions are fair and reasonable and it is certainly worth an effort on behalf of the city council and citizens to give effect to the company's requirements. These have practically to do with the supply of permanent and reliable power at reasonable cost for the operation of the shops. It is therefore up to the city council and citizens of Revelstoke to meet the conditions. At the present time the power is unreliable and what is available is now all used up. The city council have taken time by the forelock and secured a report from one of the most capable firms of Canadian hydro-electric engineers, showing what is required and cost of same. To put the power plant and equipment in shape to supply permanent and reliable power, and enough of it, to meet the demands of the city and C. P. R, involves a present expenditure of $70,000. The engineer's report provides for this expenditure forming the basis of a plan to generate six times the power now available by additions from time to time as required. The financial market is favorable. There is a big demand for Revelstoke debentures at the best price. Now is the time to take this matter up in earnest, call a meeting of the ratepayers, lay the scheme fully before them and ask their authorisation for the amount required to put in a new and substantial dam to replace the present one (which is in such bad shape it may go out any day,) and provide the additional plant to meet the growing requirements of the city as well as the C. P. R. This is a case where delay is dangerous. The report of Supt. Duck, which appears in another column, states plainly the serious condition of the present dam, and the shutting down of the plant by such a mishap as seems likely to happen under existing conditions must be forestalled. The power plant and water supply are the two best assets the city of Revelstoke has. They bring in a revenue of nearly 20 per cent. on the capital invested in them, and it is vital to the welfare of this city that these valuable franchises should be protected to the utmost.

IMPROVED WATER SUPPLY

An old timer who knows the district and surrounding mountains thoroughly, with their sources of water supply, advises us that in his opinion the MAIL-HERALD is on the right track in urging the securing of an additional supply of water for the city from Greely Creek. He points out that this being a glacier fed stream, its reliability in summer, just when the supply is most important, places it far ahead of anything that can be derived from Mt. Revelstoke, while it also has the advantage of being sanitary as compared with water filtering through the decaying vegetation of the parks on the latter mountain.

It would be well if the City Council got this matter in shape during the winter months, so that by next spring a contract could be let for the work. The new water supply could thus be made available for next summer so that the City shall not again experience the shortage of water supply felt last month. It must be remembered that the city is steadily growing and the demand for water increasing, so that the present supply will not be able to meet the demands made on it by another summer and an increased supply must be sought for in any case.

OPENING THE NORTH COUNTRY.

Mt. Robson, at the Western gateway of Yellowhead Pass, is attracting mountain climbers from all parts of the world. When it was first proposed to organise expeditions to explore and climb this mountain, Revelstoke was fixed upon as the outfitting point, provided access could be got to the north. That is three years ago. The Board of Trade then took the matter up of opening a trail to Tete-Jaune-Cache and putting a ferry across the Columbia River. The trail was only completed last fall and the ferry is not yet in operation though authorized months ago. This is an instance as to how Revelstoke has been handicapped in its efforts to forge ahead and get the country opened up.

The result is that northern business and outfitting has so far been lost to this city. The first expedition went from Laggan, and all other expeditions have gone from Edmonton, although the route from there is 400 miles as against 180 miles from Revelstoke. Is it any wonder there is a strong feeling abroad that the Provincial Government has not done its duty by Revelstoke in the matter of roads and trails? Certainly this year better work is being done in this direction but the delay in carrying out the works asked for has seriously handicapped the development of this city, which, from its geographical position, should be the supply point for the country around Tete Jaune Cache and the head waters of the Fraser River.

Two of the first works that should be undertaken by the Provincial Government in the way of opening the northern country and putting Revelstoke in direct communication with Grand Trunk construction work, are roads around Death Rapids and between the head of navigation on Canoe River and the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific at Tete Jaune Cache. While it is too late to arrange for and carry out these works this fall, they should be provided for and put in hand immediately the snow is off the ground next spring.

WATCH REVELSTOKE GROW

We have never seen the people of Revelstoke more hopeful and full of confidence in the future of their city and district than they are today. Developments which have taken place within the last few days point to the fact that this town is entering on a new era of progress and prosperity. There will be a great deal of building of a substantial character next year. This is as it should be. From a geographical point of view Revelstoke holds the finest position of any city in the interior of the province. It is surrounded by a vast territory, rich in land, timber and minerals. The development of these resources must come, and when they do Revelstoke will grow in size and importance with rapid strides.

PATRONISING THE HOME MERCHANT

If the people of Revelstoke want to do their quota towards the up building of this city, they should patronise their home merchants. There has been an impression abroad that the cost of living is higher in Revelstoke than in other cities. Several merchants have been comparing notes with Vancouver, and the prices quoted there and here on the lines referred to show prices here to be as favorable in most cases and less in others than quoted at the Coast on the same goods. Cases have come under our notice where people in the public employ, drawing good salaries directly from the pockets of the tax-payers, have sent to Timothy Eaton's or some eastern department stere for the whole of their furnishings and supplies when they could have been better served in their home town. They could have personally selected at home what they wanted. By the time they paid freight they would find, quality for quality, they have not saved a dollar, and have injured their town to the extent that they have sent out of it the money they earn and should spend at home.

In contractors supplies for instance it is a fact that Revelstoke prices are as favorable as at the Coast, and we know of a case of a citizen who was furnishing a house here who got prices both in Revelstoke and Vancouver, with the result that he made all his purchases in Revelstoke. Those who patronise the eastern department houses in preference to their home merchant are disloyal to their town and fellow-citizens, and fail to do their duty towards the up-building of Revelstoke. Everybody should pull together with the object of boosting Revelstoke. The more the city grows, the better will be the advantages offered to its residents and the more economical will it become to live and make a home here.

We should like to see the City Council or Board of Trade arrange to offer prizes for the best-kept workmen's homes in Revelstoke, the competition extending over two years. The conditions of the contest should provide that the homes are owned by the competitors themselves. The prizes should be substantial, the first being, say, $1,000, and $1,000 between five or six others in proportion to the merit of place that they earn. Such a policy would help to build up Revelstoke as a home town, and would probably result in a substantial increase of the industrial population.

An advance of half a cent a pound has been made by the B. C. Sugar Refining company on their granulated product. Another stipulation is that dealers shall sell only the prducts of the trust.

What Our Trade-Mark Means to You

IT means that the flour contained in bags and barrels so trade-marked is decidedly whiter, a great deal stronger and more nutritious than other flours.

It means that the flour has been properly aged to mature its full strength.

It means

"More bread and better Bread" and better pastry, too.

It means elimination of uncertainty—"your money back" if Purity fails to give entire satisfaction.

Costs more than the other kind, but worth the difference.

NEW MAP

Of Railway Belt Issued By the Dominion Government

A map of the railway belt of British Columbia has just been issued by the Department of the Interior, Ottawa. The map is handsomely printed in colors on heavy map paper. The information upon it is corrected up to July 1st, 1909. A glance at the map will show a person exactly how any particular area in the Belt stands, colors being used to indicate lands that have been dealt with in any way. For instance, all homesteaded lands are marked in yellow; sales, special grants, mining lands sales, in red; lands disposed of by Provincial Government in grey; Indian reserves in pink; forest reserves and parks in green border; timber berths in brown hatching; grazing leases in brown hatching. There are also figures as to the acreage included under each of these headings.

In addition all available information regarding railways, post offices and topographical features of the provincial lands adjoining the Belt have been inserted so that the map provides useful information with respect to a comparatively large part of the province. In fact the map covers British Columbia from north of the railway belt right down to the United States border, including the Boundary country, the Arrow and Kootenay Lake regions, and the Crow's Nest district.

To make the map complete an insert has been added under the title, showing the lower Coast line and a portion Vancouver Island.

The map was prepared under the direction of Mr. R. E. Young, Supt. of Railway Lands, Department of the Interior, Ottawa. It is to be issued to the public free, and applications sent to Mr. Young will be promptly dealt with.

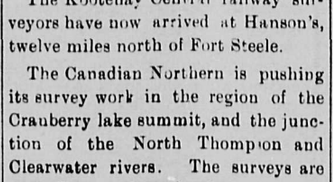
RAIL AND STEAMER

The Kootenay Central railway surveyors have now arrived at Hanson's, twelve miles north of Fort Steele.

The Canadian Northern is pushing its survey work in the region of the Cranberry lake summit, and the junction of the North Thompson and Clearwater rivers. The surveys are extending northwards along the valley of the former river. The Cranberry lake summit is about 60 miles north from the Tete Jaune Cache. Another party of the same company is now working westward through the foot hills of the Rockies towards Yellowhead Pass.

The latest report with regard to a steamship service for the Grand Trunk Pacific, is the company is negotiating for two fine turbine liners, the Cairo and Heliopolis, for service in the Pacific. They are reputed to be two of the finest steamers in Great Britain—both turbines,—and fitted up for a company, recently wound up, in the costly and rich style for the Marseilles and Egyptian trade.

A woman contractor, Mrs. Bennett, runs one of the best construction camps on the C.N.R. She has also been eminently successful as a railroader. She handles with equal facility a scraper or plow, and talks about cubic yards of earth, six foot grades, "scoops" and "dumps" as glibly as most women talk about fancy work, frills or furbelows. Her crew consists of herself, husband, three boys and her brother in-law, and each handle their own team.



THE POULTRY YARD

Frank Cooper, purchasing agent of the C.P.R. commissary department, has written to the Pioneer Poultry Ranche offering to purchase their entire output for the next 12 months of poultry and eggs.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

Attend Divine Service

The members of Gold Range L dge No. 26 Knights of Pythias held their annual church parade on Sunday evening, Sept. 19th, attending divine service in the Baptist Church. The preacher of the occasion was the pastor of the church, Rev. W. P. Freeman. The music rendered by the choir was excellent. The preacher took as his text the second great command as given by Christ, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." He said, while the first great command set forth a man's relations to God, this second one set forth all a man's relations to his fellowman, and covered the ground of the last six commands of the old Decalogue. In answering the question as to "who is my neighbor" the preacher said that the stability of the basis of any fraternal order is strong as it approximates the universal. Then, as in the teachings of Christ, every man in need is our neighbor. Every man is our brother irrespective of race or tongue or creed, for the breath we breathe is from one God.

The Knights of Pythias as a fraternal order stand in the very front rank, with their motto of "Friendship, Charity, and Benevolence." as their principles, they have done a splendid work in relieving the distress of widows and orphans, the helpless and aged. But far greater things still remain to be done.

This command presupposes a love for self, a love based on the first command, that will always seek to make the highest type of manho d possible. A man loves his life, his manhood and his integrity. Then to carry out this command, and be the true brother of men, he must first love himself, then give himself to guard these in the person of his neighbor, to give unto him sympathy, practical help, and seek to remove the temptation that will destroy him.

THE CITY POWER PLANT

Matter Introduced at City Council Meeting---Mayor Declared Increased Provision Necessary Supt. Duck's Report

In reply to a question by Ald. Wells at the meeting of the Council Friday evening, the Mayor said the city was in a serious position as regards its water power plant. They had a sample the previous evening of the light going out. A portion of the old flume had to be taken out the previous day to put in the new portion and they had to rely on the gas producer and engine to provide the light in the meantime. To enable this to be done they cut out the arc lights, but the engine proved inadequate for the work and the plant broke down. The capacity of the hydraulic plant was 400 h. p. and of the gas engine plant 250 h. p. so that in case of anything going wrong the gasoline plant was wholly inadequate to the requirements of the city. In fact the present demand for power absorbed the whole of the power available from the hydraulic plant, and some action must be taken without delay to meet the position.

The following report from Supt Duck was then read!—

POWER HOUSE REPORT

During the spring flood of this year the dam received a bad buffeting, and about 60 feet of the flume at the upper end, the head gate, and pressure box were completely wrecked, as was also the cribwork buttress. It was thought, however, at the time, the dam had not received any great damage, but as the water falls in the river, a forlorn state of things is revealed.

The underworks of the dam received such a shaking that the face boards are torn from the timbers, allowing the water to percolate through the structure undermining and leaving it in an unsafe condition. When working in the stop-log pit a day or two ago I found that the heavy timber framing was very badly sprung. It is not at all a safe place for any man to work in. I am afraid that if such a flood takes place next spring as did this year, the dam will be completely wrecked.

The flume is getting in very bad condition. The framing timbers the whole length of the flume are in a more or less decayed state, and I am expecting that sooner or later there will be a serious breakdown. I might put down new timbers, but to make a good job I should have to renew them all, and I question if it is worth the time and labor Of course I renew such as get too bad.

The flume has been in use now for 12 years, exposed to the action of water, sun and air, and must be near its finish as far as strength goes. There is almost enough water leaking from it to run the plant.

The condition of the water turbine is fairly good, except that one of the runners slipped off the key, damaging the hub rather badly. I have a new runner to put on, but the trouble is to find the opportunity to put it on. I intend to try while the flume is being repaired. Owing to sand and gravel action the shaft is being gradually reduced in size, but there is no immediate danger from this. The generators are all in good condition and giving no trouble whatever.

Perhaps, gentlemen, you can realise how difficult it is to maintain a 24-hour service under such unfavorable conditions. There is nothing duplicate, and should the jack shaft gear get out of order I can neither run water nor gas plant. And trouble is a thing always to be looked for where there are so many friction clutches, pulleys and belts, without even considering the amount of power absorbed in these several apparatus.

I estimate our load for the coming winter to be in the neighborhood of 224 k.w. per hour at peak load. This represents about 410 h.p. required at the turbine shaft. The water turbine is capable of developing about 420 h.p. under the present head of water.

From these figures it can be seen that there is no margin left. The gas engine has a guaranteed capacity of 260 b. h.p., which is entirely inadequate for the work, should the water fail us at any time during the winter months. Facing the situation I am impressed with the fact that something must be done and done very soon, if we are to have a satisfactory service from our electrical plant.

A. G. DUCK,
Superintendent.

Owing to the small meeting it was decided to call a special meeting to consider the whole and matter.

The Bowman Lumber Company will not guarantee prompt delivery of mill wood after Nov. 1st. See their advertisement in this issue.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Theo. J. Hutton the Foremost Musical Entertainers

On Friday and Saturday of this week. Mr. Theo. J. Hutton, the well known musical entertainer, will appear at the Opera House. Mr. Hutton comes highly recommended by the press of the province and no doubt will receive a good reception from theatre-goers of the city. The following speaks of his entertainments:

Vancouver Saturday Sunset.—"At the Veterans' Society Concert, prominent among the performers was Theo. J. Hutton, whose musical sketches were very clever and amusing and were well received by the audience."

Chilliwack Progress—"It was a large and appreciative audience which attended the concert given by Theo. J. Hutton in the Oddfellows' Hall on Saturday evening. Artistic in every sense of the word was the concert. The audience entered into the spirit of the evening and were carried away with uproarious laughter or breathing in the sentiment of the music which only a finished musician can convey. His performance on the piano was well nigh perfect. His recitations showed mastery in elocution and the humorous and musical sketches were very clever and amusing and fully satisfied the audience."

Talking and Singing Pictures

A remarkable exhibition will be given at the Edison Parlor Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. This will be the first introduction to Revelstoke of the cameraphone, depicting living pictures, which actually talk and sing. This remarkable invention is one of the wonders of the age and will interest all those who attend. There will be a change of programme Saturday evening, two performances nightly. The programme includes a representation of the world's leading stars in mechanical opera, drama and vaudeville. It introduces Alice Lloyd, England's famous comedienne; the McNaughtons, England's star Comedians; Vess L. Osman, the banjo king; Collins and Harlan, comedians; Lillian Swain and Will Rising, famous opera singers. There will be dances, cakewalks and in fact all varieties of the amusement features of the day.

Laymen's Missionary Movement

The spirit that is stirring Canada in the form of the Layman's Missionary Movement made itself felt at a meeting held in the Methodist church last Tuesday evening, the 21st inst. Secretary Cook of the Y. M. C. A., occupied the chair.

The chief speakers of the evening were Mr. Allan and Mr. Armstrong, representatives of the movement, from the east. Mr. Allan clearly and tersely outlined the aim of the movement as being the upbuilding of the Christian church at home and the evangelization of the world abroad. This work was not to be left to the clergymen and faithful few, but to be undertaken by all Christian laymen. He pointed out that not money alone was needed, but that, by prayer and intelligent study, every man should become interested. Thus all should be at the work, and always at it.

Mr. Armstrong then rose to explain the purpose of the meeting. After briefly describing the work of the movement last year he said that in continuance of last year's policy a deputation of prominent business men from all parts of the Dominion would tour western Canada, from Port Arthur to the Coast, beginning October 19 and ending November 30. The purpose of this deputation was to arouse interest among business men in the great Layman's Missionary Movement. It was not a money-raising campaign, but a stimulating, inspirational, educational movement. Would Revelstoke receive this deputation? In conclusion Mr. Armstrong suggested a banquet as being the most effectual method of receiving the deputation.

It was then moved by Mayor Lindmark and seconded by Mr. F. W. Lang that a committee be appointed to arrange for a banquet for the reception of the travelling deputation. This motion was unanimously carried.

Mr. R. Howson moved and Mr. C. E. Anderson seconded, that the pastors each appoint four from their respective churches to form a joint committee to arrange for this banquet. The motion carried. It was decided to hold the first meeting of the committee Tuesday evening, September 28, in the Baptist church.

With a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Allan and Mr. Armstrong for the wholesouled inspiration they had given, the meeting closed.
