ARROW LAKES FOURTH FAIR

Hon. Price Ellison Performs Opening Ceremony at Nakusp.—Speaks on Marvelous Developments Along Lake Shore. Annual Banquet Brilliant Success.—W. W. Foster and Other Prominent Speakers Present.

Nakusp, B.C., Oct. —The fourth annual fair of the Arrow Lakes Agricultural and Horticultural association has taken place. The exhibition was graced with the presence of the minister of agriculture and finance, Hon. Price Ellison, who gave the opening address, as well as by the presence of several other distinguished visitors, who seconded his expressions of enthusiasm. At 2:30 sharp the doors of the large building were opened to visitors, the Nakusp brass band being in their places on the platform rendering music, and the visitor accompanied by President Fauquier and Manager Abriel, walked up to the platform. F.G. Fauquier, in well chosen words, introduced the Hon. Price Ellison to the audience. Mr. Ellison was received with cheers.

The speaker expressed his pleasure of having this opportunity of being among the farmers and others to declare the opening of the exhibition. He was impressed with the immensity of entries before his eyes from a district which only a few years ago seemed impossible to produce them, a land which was only looked at from the value of its timber and the possibility of bearing mineral to some extent. British Columbia, especially the interior portions of the province, was not as favorably known for its agricultural possibilities until comparatively a short time ago, and well may his hearers be surprised at what they saw before their eyes that day in that building. Closely connected as he necessarily was with matters of this kind in every part of the province, he could say that, optimistic as he was, he had no idea that the people of Nakusp and the Arrow lakes were making such strides as where shown him that day. He knew that the government had contributed what he considered handsomely towards the erection of the building in which he was then speaking, and as was sometimes the case, he expected that perhaps the government grant was the only, or nearly so, amount expended on the building. But instead, he found this huge structure over his head, unfinished it was true, but showing that private funds were added and much voluntary labor furnished in order to make it adequate and a credit to the town and district, and he eulogised the work of the people locally. Yet he found that it was already too small for the ever-increasing fruit and vegetables placed in competition, and that a better and larger building was necessary. He felt that if the wind blew hard on the outside, he did not wish to be inside this structure, and he realized that somethin- had to be done, and he assured his hearers that he would see that a special appropriation was set aside for the Nakusp building for completion and enlargement, until it would be second to none within this province (cheers). The government was ever ready to help those who did a little helping themselves, and the Nakusp people deserved anything he would grant them. This impressed upon him the necessity of a visit of this kind sometimes, for without such opportunity, he would have but little idea of what was required, but now he saw with his own eyes.

Speaking of the exhibits, he did not the vicissitudes of farming life besaw before him that day an assortment which he could not credit had he simply been told of them. He was himself a pioneer of the famous Okanagan valley and had gone through all the vicissitudes of farming life before the days of transportation and good roads, times when present conditions were undreamt of and when the farmers' life was a truly hard one. From Vernon to Enderby he was compelled to haul his grain and hay over the most primitive roads in the pre-railroad days, selling his product at less than for what he could grow it. En route he paid 50c. for his meals and the apology of beds, such meals and beds as the present generation would hardly be satisfied with. But he had the satisfaction, if that was any, of doing his part in this grand province, for he considered his vocation was one of the grandest that man could occupy. Farming was, and is, and will be, the backbone of British Columbia, and without ranching everything else fails. Fruit growers should not be satisfied with growing for local needs alone, but should reach out for the export trade as well. He drew attention to the policy of growers across the line, who infested the markets of western Canada with their second and third rate grades, keeping their No. 1 at home. British Columbia farmers should educate themselves that they be able to take care of themselves and meet legitimate competition from all quarters. Always go in for the other fellows money, and he instanced a grain deal at Victoria in early days where a Washington farmer sold apparently at a loss in order to take some good British Columbia money across the line to Seattle. Competition these days was the soul of life of the farmer. A Prince Rupert farmers along the Grand Trunk for the time being were getting, or had got, as much as $125.00 per ton for hay. That was easy farming, but it was only momentarily. But that was not farming. Anyone could farm under those conditions, but it required a great deal of application and intelligence to farm in competition with the world, and everyone should prepare himself for this. They had the assurance of the Canadian Pacific railway that it would do everything possible for the farmer of Canada to meet the competition with United States growers if the farmers themselves would do their part. He emphasised the necessity of growing the right varieties of apples, such as Grimes Golden. He had seen no better apples anywhere than he saw there that day and he looked forward to the day that the Arrow lakes district would perhaps be the banner district in British Columbia for apple growing. He was not losing sight of the Okanagan, but the two districts were so mingled together that there was no difference in their growing qualities. He drew attention to the United Selling agency, which the provincial government assisted wherever formed by a loan of 80 per cent. of the capital of the agency at the low rate of 4 per cent. interest. The province had loaned the banks of Victoria $8,000,000 at low rates and he and his colleagues had considered that if money should be put out at low interest it would benefit the country far more by lending it to the farmers, who would use it in cultivating the soil and helping them to market their product to the best advantage.

He desired to especially express his surprise at the grand display of the Women's institute here. He had just come from the New Westminster fair, and had seen the work of seven institutes there, but the ladies' work at Nakusp would actually put the whole of them to shame, in comparison. He was about to sit down when he remembered he had not officially declared the exhibition duly open to the public, and jocularly said that this reminded him of the Irishman who had had a similar duty, and who said "What's the use anyway, begorra, you are all inside already."

DEPUTY MINISTER SPEAKS.

The fruit fair banquet in honor of the minister of agriculture at the opera house was a pronounced success, nearly 100 being seated. F. G. Fauquier, president of the association, was in the chair. The tables were tastefully decorated with flowers and the trophies contested for by the various exhibitors. The menu was excellent, catered by Mr. Bohart of the Leland hotel. The toast to the King having been drunk, that of the Dominion and provincial governments was proposed by L.J. Edwards, and responded to by W.W. Foster, deputy minister of public works, J.P. Forde, Dominion engineer, and B. R. Atkins, customs collector of Revelstoke. Mr. Foster dwelt chiefly with the work of the government in road making, which was such a necessity to the farmer, and without which no rancher could expect to succeed in bringing his products to market cheaply enough to compete with the outside world. He gave figures where it was shown that with roads in certain conditions it cost from 27c to 30c per ton per mile to haul grain to the station, whereas it was hoped with modern equipment and up-to-date roads this cost would be reduced to 7c and 8c per ton. In years gone by the financial condition of the province of British Columbia had been such that road work as well as other expenditures were of necessity limited in their scope, but with the progress and increased revenue now enjoyed the government saw fit to spend the money where it would do the greatest good to the settlers, and that was in giving them facilities to reaching the markets. But when it was considered that this province covered the huge proportions of 400,000 square miles, good roads could not be built everywhere at once, but they had a set policy, and as soon as money was available from year to year, so were the roads throughout the length of the province extended and improved. The old Dewdney trail and the Cariboo road were instanced as the best the government could do in those days in the way of road construction and he lauded these landmarks, now almost obliterated, as being excellent under the conditions then prevailing. The country was small in population, and without population there was no revenue. But all this was changed from year to year in line with the continued prosperity of the country which was inducing increased immigration and settlement, until before long there would be standard roads throughout the length and breadth of the province. The advent of railways brought settlement with them and he compared the requirements of roads now with nearly 5,000 miles of railway to a few years ago when there were only 500 miles of railway. The government looked upon the scenic magnificence of the province as a great asset which would induce thousands of tourists to come to our midst, bringing money with them to spend, and they felt that roads should be built for that class of people as well as for the settlers.

COLUMBIA NAVIGABLE.

J.P. Forde dwelt on the work his government was having done in this district, one gang of surveyors being placed between Revelstoke and Arrowhead another at Burton City, with a view of making the Columbia river navigable throughout the year. A suction dredge was being built and the narrow channels would be deepened and windened, until he felt assurance that steamers would run through from Revelstoke to Robson any time of the year within three years. The plans for the wharf at Nakusp had been prepared and estimates made and the whole would be in readiness to forward to Ottawa by Monday for final approval. The removal of the dangerous snags south of Nakusp would be carried out within a week, and he felt that R.F. Green, M.P., was alive to the interests of the Arrow lakes in all matters tending to the district's progress necessitated by increased settlement which was evidenced by what he saw with his own eyes that day at Nakusp.

B.R. Atkins gave an interesting address relating to the progress of the district and gave statistics of his department which showed that in a few years the increases had been tenfold. The toast of the evening was proposed by Thomas Abriel, who in a splendid speech gave figures relating to the district, his efforts in inducing the minister to attend that day, enlarging on his abilities as a minister of agriculture and on the keen interest Mr. Ellison always took in matters pertaining to his department by aiding societies and organizations for the betterment of the farming community.

Mr. Ellison, in reply, gave an address in which he considered that he could justly claim to be the pioneer settler of the Arrow lakes for, many years ago, he had staked what was afterwards known as the townsite of Killarney, just below Edgewood. He, like many more, full of enthusiasm and optimism as to the greatness of this country and its future, had failed to find the money to pay for the land, and had consequently allowed it to lapse. Had he held it, the location would have proved a remunerative investment. He had the foresight, but he lacked the capital. He, however, little dreamt that the valley would produce the luscious fruit he had that day seen at the exhibition building, apples, pears, and plums, the better of which it was impossible to find. So impressed was he with what he had seen that as minister having charge of such matters he was gathering the best the province could produce to send to the land show at Winnipeg just now, and he begged that boxes seen that day might be sent tothat show with others from other parts of British Columbia. It was late to send with the original consignment, but he would be glad to purchase the fruit and to send them specially by express so impressed was he with what the Arrow lakes grew. He advised the farmers to try and go in for mixed farming, instead of growing fruit wholly. He dwelt on the policy of good roads, which enhanced the value of lands. He advised the farmer to go in strongly for poultry raising. Nothing paid better. One man on Vancouver Island had bought 11,000 head of poultry, cheaply, fattened them and sold them at a handsome profit, at 36c per pound. The farmer need not be afraid of the so-called money depression so much heard of today. There was just as much money available today as at any time, and if the farmer did his part, he had no need to fear the cry in this country where the opportunitieswere such that exist in no other country.

NO MILITANTS.

The toast to the agricultural interests was proposed by the chairman, himself one of the pioneers in the fruit industry of the Arrow lakes. In reply, the audience was treated with one of the brightest addresses of the evening by Mrs. James Johnstone of Nelson, who was one of the judges at the fair. She took the audience by storm, and in reply to one of the audience who felt that certain districts were neglected for want of roads contended that if they would only be a little indulgent and consider that all portions could not be supplied at once, she was sure that in due time means of access to their properties would be furnished. She mentioned what the government had done near Nelson, giving them an automobile road to Balfour after years of waiting. The government were to be commended on its assistance to the women's institutes, which taught women modern house keeping qualities and to be of assistance to the settler. These institutions were the means of giving women delightful occupations at their homes, and as long as this continued there would be no suffragettes in British Columbia, at least not militant ones. These remarks brought down the house in applause.

Among other speakers of interest were: Messrs. Boyd of Halcyon, Ben Hoy, W.A. Banks of Salmon Arm, S. Hall of Burton, W. Tomlinson of New Denver, J. Naylor of Arrow Park, and J.H. Vestrup of Nakusp. The toast to the ladies introduced by H. L. Rothwell and responded to by Messrs. Leary and Lavelle, brought a memorable evening to a happy conclusion. During the evening songs were given by Messrs. Lavelle, Hansen, Bastin and others.

Revelstoke District Exhibit

Mr. W. E. Smith, who went down from Revelstoke to New Westminster in charge of the Revelstoke District general exhibit of farm produce for the fall fair held in the Royal City, 30th September to 4th October, returned to town on Tuesday.

Interviewed by a Mail-Herald reporter, Mr. Smith stated that he left Revelstoke on the 26th with the exhibit, comprising the pick of the showing at the recent local fall fair, and some additional features secured in the interval from this district.

LICENCE COMMISSION ADJOURNED MEETING

Tapping Hotel Temporary Permit and Licence again Considered.—Five Eminent Lawyers Engage in Battle of Argument Before Commissioners.—Tapping Granted Extension of Temporary Permit for Two Months.—Name of "Selkirk Hotel" Approved.—Court Adjourned to December.

The Board of License Commissioners met in public session at the City Hall, Revelstoke, B.C., Friday afternoon, October 10th, 1913, in adjourned meeting.

Mayor Commissioner, T. Kilpatrick occupied the chair.

Commissioner S. Sutherland was also present.

The chairman called the meeting to order at 3:00 p. m.

City Clerk Gordon acted as Clerk to the Board Meeting.

Miss J. Hardy was duly sworn as Official Stenographer.

Mr. E. Gillan appeared on behalf of applicant, in support of the following application as read by the clerk:

Revelstoke B. C., September 22nd, 1913
To the Board of License Commissioners,
Revelstoke, B.C.

Gentlemen:

Application is hereby made for the transfer from Lots 1 to 7 both inclusive, in Block 10, Plan 636, Revelstoke, to Lots 17 18 and 19 in Block 17, Plan 636 A., Revelstoke (being the corner of First Street and Orton Avenue) of the retail liquor license held by me in respect of the "City Hotel," Revelstoke. I have already commenced the construction of the new hotel of a substantial character on the new site acquired by me, and the completion of this hotel will be rushed with all possible dispatch. I propose to give the new hotel the name of "The Selkirk Hotel" and would like to have the Board's approval of the name selected.

The notice required to be published is now being published in the Mail-Herald newspaper and will have been completed by the date of your boards meeting on October 10th, 1913.

I enclose $10 fee payable on this application.

My application has the support of practically all the property holders and householders in the vicinity of the new site, and I can assure you no time will be lost in building and equipping a hotel property which will be a credit to the city.

Yours truly,
J. C. TAPPING.

Sept. 22nd, 1913.

This applicatian was accompanied by the usual declaration as to publication of notice.

Mr. W.I. Biggs, associated with advocates E. Miller, M.L.A., and McIntyre of Kamloops, appeared to oppose the application on behalf of certain property owners and householders.

Mayor T. Kilpatrick—The sitting is now open.

Mr. C.E. Gillan—I am here to request that the application be granted as applied for.

Mr. W.I. Briggs—I associated with these other learned gentlemen, appear on behalf of objectors.

Mr. McIntyre—Mr. Gillan, as I understand, is applying for a transfer of a license. It is usual to support these applications in some way and I think Mr. Gillan should be good enough to say what material is here before the board for the board to go upon. It is usual to supprt these applications in some way.

City Clerk Gordon then read the application as above, and the various other applications for temporary permit, etc., as previously published fully in the Mail-Herald.

Mr. Gillan—I also hand in this petition.

Mr. E. Miller—We are asking for material upon which you base your claim for this transfer.

Mr. McIntyre—And which is equivalent to a new license in a way.

E. Miller—Your city bylaw reads,—"Mayor shall, upon receipt of any application for a license or a new license inspect the premises and report in writing to the board, and such report shall contain, A. Description of the house, and furniture. B. Statement as to whether any previous licensed premises owned by applicant have been properly conducted. C. Whether such person is a fit person to hold a license. D Whether applicant is the true owner. E. Regarding any convictions against applicant. F. Whether the applicant has complied with the fire regulations. The report shall be presented for the information of the Board which shall, nevertheless, exercise its own discretion in respect of the application."

It seems to me that all these are vital to this application, and such matter should have been properly brought forward.

This should have been put in, and if we are here to oppose this transfer, then we can proceed to put our views regarding same before the board.

Mr. McIntyre—Mr. Gillan is placing this board in a false position if he does not place all this material before the board in a case of this kind it is up to our learned friend to place everything before the board, this is a public meeting, and this material should justify their action. If he does not do so he cannot blame the board if they cannot see their way to grant the application.

C.E. Gillan—On the present occasion I do not see any excuse for my taking up the time of the board.

Mr. McIntyre—I will call attention to one matter. "Application is hereby made for the transfer from lots one to seven of a liquor license to lots 17 to 19, block 17." Now, I am creditibly informed, it is almost unsupposable, that there is no building, or was not on that property at the time the application was made. Apparently this is correct, because applicant says:—"I have already commenced the construction of a hotel of a substantial character upon the site acquired." I take the liberty of saying, Mr. Chairman, that it is not within your power to grant a license which is to be held up in the air until a building is erected under that license. You gentlemen are created by statute as a court, you cannot go outside the strict limits of your powers. If my learned friend can show me where a license can be granted to land where there is no premises, I shall be glad to hear about it. There is no provision in the act allowing of a license being issued under such circumstances.

Chairman T. Kilpatrick—We are talking now about premises, are you willing to accept Wharton as an authority on premises.

Mr. McIntyre—Wharton is an authority, and there are other authorities.

Chairman—Premises according to Wharton, includes houses or lands.

Mr. McIntyre—The only authority on which you are permitted to transfer under these circumstances is Section 339. Most fortunately that very section besides other sections, defines what premises means in this act, and I will leave it to you. "In the event of the premises named in such license being destroyed, torn down, removed, or closed." Can you tear down, move or destroy land or lots. If the premises are burned down it is only under that act you can grant a transfer and you cannot take part of the act and go in violation of the section which you are proceeding under. That section permits you to transfer from one premises to another under the circumstances that the premises are burned down. We are ready to stand on that. We are willing to stand on that and my colleague here Mr. Miller, quite agrees with me.

The word premises is recited in the text.

NEWS FROM FAR AND NEAR

Another new comet, the second to be discovered this month, has been located definitely in the constellation Pisces west of the star Omega, according to an announcement made by Prof. F.E. Barnard, of the Yerkes Observatory at Williams Bay, Wis. The new heavenly body will not become visible to the naked eye, but can be seen through a five-inch telescope, according to Prof. Barnard.

Playing tag with a number of companions, Wilfrid Thompson, aged 11, suddenly darted in front of Sir Rodmond Roblin's automobile, as the premier was being driven home at Winnipeg one day last week. He was knocked down, both wheels on one side of the car crushing his face. He was rushed to St. Boniface hospital, where he died later. No blame is attached to Sir Rodmond's chauffeur.

Premier Zachle introduced a constitutional reform bill in The Danish Parliament last week. The bill establishes among other things woman suffrage. The Premier said the municipal elections in which women have taken part have shown that they vote exactly as their husbands, the the only result being to increase the number of votes cast. There was no danger in extending the franchise to women.

The situation in the Balkans is again extremely threatening to the peace of Europe. Italy may take strong measures, even to the extent of a blockade at Piraeus, should Greece continue to encroach on Southern Albania while it is rumored that Austria will form an alliance with Bulgaria to prevent Servian aggression in Northern Albania. Late advices from Belgrade say that Servia intends to mobilize a division to deal with the Albanian situation, because Albania only respects force, and any delay in the negotiations would be fatal to Servian interests.

New mining regulations are provided in a bill to be introduced at the next session of Parliament by Hon. Louis Coderre, Secretary of State and Minister of Mines. It is expected that a mining law will be placed in the statute books and that the system of mining regulations now governing the administration of mines will be abolished. The difficulty encountered in framing a Dominion mining law is found in the provincial rights. The mining laws at present in force in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Ontario and British Columbia were passed before Confederation, while Alberta only last year passed a new provincial mining law.

An "exhibition on wheels" is the latest project on foot before the people of Canada. The idea is to buy a train and stock it with British products, and send it on an almost continuous run extending over four years from the Atlantic to the Pacific in Canada. The chamber of commerce in London, which has taken the initiative in the matter is now negotiating with eighteen of the principal chambers throughout the United Kingdom.

An erroneous impression appears to prevail that the export of cedar poles from British Columbia is illegal. Such timber products can be exported, but before shipments are made it is necessary to have an order-in-council passed granting the necessary permission. It may be said that such permission is never refused when the application is properly made out and complies in every instance with the law.

NEWS FROM FAR AND NEAR

There is an export tax of one-half cent per lineal foot on all cedar poles exported.

William H. Taft, until recently President of the United States, has lost 80 pounds in weight since resigning the cares of office. There is no need for his friends to be alarmed however, for he still tips the beam at 240 pounds, so that a romantic writer would have to indulge in considerable romance to describe him as slender. However, his reduction is noticeable, and if he still projects a little beyond the building line it is not enough to cause the big Yale professor to seem more than portly.

Following the Indian tragedy at Kimsquit, on the Northern British Columbian coast, in which one Indian is alleged to have killed four others after a drunken orgy, the provincial police seized a large quantity of whisky in the possession of a Chinaman working in the canneries. In the Riders inlet district this year 750 bottles of whisky were emptied into the sea by the police. The Chinaman buy Canadian rye whisky of an inferior kind for fifty cents per bottle and sell it to the Indians at five or 10 times that price.

In spite of the best efforts made all during the closed season to rid Tillamook Bay of seals, the salmon fishermen there report that they are playing great havoc with their nets. Not a net is examined but that shows many salmon bitten and spoiled by these tigers of the bay. The fishermen are becoming discouraged because the runs have been small, and when they do stand to make good hauls the great number of seals hovering around the nets do much damage.

The Danish papers are issuing warning to bridegrooms under forty years of age to get mar(ied—this month. If they persist in planning weddings they may be missing when the hour arrives, for this is the month when the war department is expected to give twelve hours' notice of mobilization for manoeuvres. All men under forty years who are liable to bear arms will be compelled to obey the summons, and not even a wedding will serve as an excuse.

GIN PILLS Brought Relief

Larder Lake, Ont., March 26th.

"I had been suffering for some time with my Kidneys and Urine. I was constantly passing water, which was very scanty, sometimes as many as thirty times a day. Each time the pain was something awful, and no rest at night.

I heard of your GIN PILLS and decided to give them a trial at once. I sent my chum 60 miles to get them and I am pleased to inform you that in less than six hours, I felt relief.

In two days, the pain had left me entirely. I took about half a box and today I feel as well as ever and my kidneys are acting quite natural again."

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1913.

The article appearing elsewhere in this issue, describing the journey of Mr. Smith, who went down to New Westminster fair in charge of the Revelstoke district exhibit, will be appreciated by every one interested in the agricultural development of this section. It is evident from Mr. Smith's experience, that Revelstoke can and does, in certain classes of products, "produce the goods." It is also equally evident, that our arrangements for securing and staging the displays entered on such occasions under the name of Revelstoke, are far from being satisfactory.

It is obvious, that if we intend to compete with success, in these days of strenuous competition, at such annual meetings as the Westminster fall fair, we cannot rely upon individuals or scratch exhibits, but rather that either the Agricultural association or some other qualified body, must take in hand the entire burden of securing the exhibit, and must also be prepared to furnish a certain amount of the funds needed to put same on show at least on an equality as regards condition and display, with the exhibits from other districts.

The columns of a newspaper, published first and foremost in the interests of the district, are not the proper medium wherein to commence a discussion as to whether our Agricultural association is succeeding in its primary duty of encouraging in every possible manner the agricultural and horticultural development of this territory such an organization exists only to serve.

We believe many well wishers of Revelstoke are profoundly dissatisfied with the system now prevailing both as regards the management of our own fall fair and exhibition, and in respect of the organizing of district or individual exhibits intended to compete under the Revelstoke colors, at outside exhibitions.

It is up to every individual member of the Agricultural Association, and especially those who have joined same entirely from the view-point of making progress in Agricultural matters, to attend the next general meeting of that body, and give expression to their opinions as to whether the Association is really filling its proper functions, or if it is not being year after year sidetracked along lines which are not in sympathy with its ostensible aims and objects.

One of the best proofs of proper management of any organization is to achieve a result where the entire monetary income, or as large a proportion of same as possible of any society organized for definite purposes, is actually economically and efficiently expended in a manner to directly bring about the objects in view. It is claimed by some that, out of the large annual income of the Revelstoke Agricultural Association, only a small amount is actually disbursed in ways which might be said to benefit Agricultural and Horicultural industries of this district, whilst by far the major sum is expended along lines which have nothing whatever to do with agriculture or its branches.

If we as a district, are going to embark in the business of encouraging agriculture, by holding annual exhibitions and sending exhibits to outside cities, we certainly shall have to get down to business on a very different basis from that upon whlch we are at present working, and it is to be hoped that these matters will be fully discussed at the next meeting of the Association.

It would certainly seem that the preparation and staging of outside exhibits should be handled by the Association, and if the amounts being expended yearly on such subjects cannot be increased without cutting out some other sides of the Association's activities, then it is a question for the membership to decide, whether they are content to continue along the present unsatisfactory basis or otherwise take the proper steps to furnish sufficient funds for prizes and preparation of exhibits, to ensure first a very high-class competition at the local fair, snd subsequently the picking from that display, of exhibits of that quality which will uphold the prestige of this district when properly displayed alongside the produce of their competitors at the big Provincial Exhibitions.

ELECTRIC MOTIVE POWER

The Canadian Northern Railway has just placed with the Canadian General Electric Compgny an order for the complete electrification of its tunnel, under Mount Royal, and of its terminals on Dorchester street, Montreal. The contract which amounts to about $800,000, includes seven locomotives, multiple unit cars, generators, switchboards and other auxiliary apparatus.

The same company was given an order recently by the Canadian Pacific for the electrification of the Castlegar branch in the Kootenay district. Heavy electric locomotives are to be used in each case, and the system will be operated at 2400 volts direct current, which has been adopted as the standard by the Canadian General Electric Company for electric service of that nature.

W. O. W. PRESENT CUTLERY

At the meeting of the local lodge of the Canadian Order of Woodmen of the World, last Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wilson, popular members of the Camp, were presented with a beautiful set of table cutlery, a gift from the members on the occasion of their recent marriage

In making the presentation reference was made to the good work done for the lodge by Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and the best wishes of the members conveyed for their continued happiness and prosperity.

Others' Views

Battle Lake Review:—A Kansas editor says that the most embarrassing typographical mistake that ever occurred in his experience was in connection with a marriage notice. The bridgeroom was a man by the name of Gunn, whose father, Abraham Gunn, was a leading citizen. The editor wanted to give the young couple a good send-off, but turned in the copy and trusted to a drunken printer to get it into the paper all right. The next morning he read the announcement head, Gun-Smith. The girl's name was Smith. The notice went on to say that the blushing bride was tastefully arrayed in a dress of white mule (instead of white mull) and that she carried a large red nose. The copy said rose. He had written in regard to the groom that he was "the well-liked son of a Gun." The compositor set it up: "The groom is a wall-eyed son of a gun." The editor fired that compositor, but just the same he has never been able to square himself with bride or groom or with old man Gunn.

Falcon and Hope Islands of the Friendly or Tonga group in the South Pacific have disappeared from view with several hundred natives and white men. News to this effect was brought to San Francisco by Captain J.H. Trask, of the steamer Sonoma, wharved from Sydney, via Pago Pago and Honolulu. "One of the regular trading steamers between Sydney and the Tonga group reported the sinking of the islands," said Captain Trask. "The vessel steamed to where Falcon island should have been, but it was nowhere in sight. Just prior to this the instruments at the Sydney naval station showed that several violent earthquake shocks had taken place about 2000 miles northeast of Sydney

Microbes in Your Scalp

Authorities say that a microbe causes baldness. If you are losing hair try our remedy at our risk.

Professor Unna, of Germany, and Dr. Sabouraud, the great French Dermatologist, claim that a microbe causes baldness, and their theory has been verified by eminent scientists. This microbe destroys the hair follicles, in time causing the scalp pores to close and the scalp to become shiny. Then, it is believed nothing will revive the growth. If treated before this occurs, baldness may be overcome.

We know of nothing that has given such universal satisfaction in treating the scalp and hair as Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. It has been designed after long study to overcome the cause of falling hair as discovered by Prof. Unna, Dr. Sabouraud and other scalp and hair specialists, and we believe it will do more than anything else can to remove dandruff and stop falling hair; and if any human agency can promote a new growth of hair it will do that, too.

We want you to make us prove it. We will pay for a month's treatment of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic used during a trial, if you will use it according to directions, and are not thoroughly satisfied. When we will do this, you surely should not hesitate to at least try it.

Start the treatment today. Your mere request will get your money back if you want it. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00.

You can buy Rexall "93" Hair Tonic in this community only at our store:

Flour trial is essential but—it is not your work!

PURITY

Flour varies from time to time in baking quality. This is because wheat continually varies according to soil conditions, etc.

Therefore, if baking results are to be constantly high, baking tests are essential. It is unreasonable to expect you to make these tests at your expense.

So from each shipment of wheat delivered at our mills we take a ten pound sample. This is ground into flour. Bread is baked from the flour. If this bread is high in quality and large in quantity, we use the shipment. Otherwise we sell it.

By simply asking for flour bearing this name you can always be sure of more bread and better bread.

NEWS NOTES

Cheap cable rates are essential to the progress of the Empire, through the distribution of news from one part to another, in the opinion of the Right Hon. Hezbert Samuel, postmaster-general of Great Britain, who spoke at a luncheon of the Canadian club at Victoria. "The various portions of the Empire," he said, "should have an understanding of one another, and they cannot acquire it better than through a good news service. The more we can cheapen the inter-imperial press rates, the more we will be doing to maintain the homogeneity of the Empire."

The interior storage elevator which the Dominion government will build in Moose Jaw and the work for which will be commenced in the course of a week, will consist of a series of plants capable of storing 3,000,000 bushels of grain, according to the plans. The storage elevator will consist of 150 bins. The drier plant will be equipped with an Ellis patent drier plant, capable of abstracting excess moisture from all grains, with a capacity of 1000 bushels an hour.

Official notification has been received in Vancouver of the appointment of R. H. Maitland as consul for Honduras. The notification, which came from the governor-general at Ottawa, stated that the appointment had been made at the request of the secretary of state for the colonies. Mr. Maitland who is the senior member of the legal firm of Maitland & Maitland, is a prominent Conservative, and is acting as counsel for the Dominion government in the litigation over the Spanish Bank leases.

One of Wisconsin's strange laws passed by the last legislature, commonly known as the Gossip Law, was first applied last week, when a warrant was issued for the arrest of Peter Kesoki, of Niagara. The law provides that gossip shall be subject to legal penalties under the same conditions as slander, though with milder punishment, the amount of malice in the conversation being the distinguishing point between slander and gossip. The arrest follows the charge that Kesoki called Rosa Burney, of Niagara, an unsavory name in conversation with friends in Niagara.

A cheque for $50 has been sent by Harry K. Thaw to F. Garceau, for a kindness shown the Matteyan fugitive the day he was deported. Garceau was the man who ran to get an overcoat for Thaw on the cold morning when he was rushed across the boundary into the United States. Thaw sat shivering in an automobile and Garceau, noticing this, hurried into the station and got his own overcoat for him. Thaw sent a letter of thanks to Garceau with the cheque.

At the Y.M.C.A. on Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m., Rev. Lashley Hall will discuss in his own way the question,—"Where are we at?" This will be of special interest to all students of social conditions.

Last night, Trustee H. Manning and Mr. T.E.L. Taylor, on behalf of the school board and the Agricultural Association respectively, visited the Selkirk and Central schools, and distributed the prizes won at the recent fall fair and exhibition to the successful competitors.

Rev. Lashley Hall will occupy the pulpit at the Methodist church, McKenzie avenue on Sunday. His morning discourse (11 a.m.) will deal with "The Initial Teaching of Genesis"; and that in the evening (7:30 p.m.) will bear upon "The Standing Invitation.." Sunday school and Bible claeses at 2:30 p.m. In the J.B.C. the discussion will be sociological, concerning methods of settling disputes

The next attraction at the Empress Oct. 13th will be "The Country Boy," the greatest comedy hit seen in recent years. The story of the play is taken from real life and was written by Edgar Selwyn, the well known actor-play wright. The piece will be presented here under the direction of the Henry B. Harris Estate and his name alone guarantees to the public a production of more than ordinary merit. The engagement will be for one night only

Mr. John Bingham, who for four years has been connected with the Revelstoke music store is making arrangements to transfer the business here to other parties, and will shortly leave for London, Ontario, where he has accepted a position as head salesman with the Newcombe Piano Co., who will require him to make his headquarters there. Mr. Bingham, however, expects to visit Revelstoke from time to time, as his duties will occasionally carry him over the western territory of his firm.

grounds, Mr. Smith found that owing to the system of judging which is based on points given for distinct classes, including many classes not represented in his exhibit, there was not much chance of his carrying off any of the district awards.

Mr. Smith himself entered as an individual seven exhibits in various classes, and carried off seven prizes, including two first, four second and a third, against as many as thirty competitors in certain cases where the classes were a popular entry.

"Langley," carried off the District Prize. For years past the various districts have been fighting one with the other for the honor of winning the greatest number of first places to such an extent is this rivalry carried that some districts spend as high as $700, arranging and displaying their stands

The present was the first attempt on the part of Revelstoke to compete and we have reason to be proud of the results achieved, especially in view of our lack of experience at such affairs. In the fruit class out of ten district exhibits, Revelstoke was placed third, and according to the judges remarks, after the judging, it would have been possible for Revelstoke if fully represented in all the fruit classes, to have scored very high points under that heading. In the vegetable classes, the exhibit was graded high, but owing to the same having been held over from the fair, and the long journey, the condition of the exhibits detracted many points which would otherwise have been gained.

Mr. Smith discovered that it is the practice in other districts, for the Agricultural Society or Organization handling the same, to procure in the springtime specimens of seeds and issue free to growers in the locality provided they will furnish from the product of such seeds a few samples to make up the exhibit in the ensuing fall

These samples are frequently given special attention during the growing period, and are right from the outset raised with a view to exhibition alone. The same procedure is followed in the case of preserves and other classes, whose total points swell the figures of the district exhibit; of course under this latter heading no exhibit whatever was included in the showing from Revelstoke.

Many inquiries were made regarding Revelstoke and the capacity of the district from an agricultural point of view, which Mr. Smith answered, and he received assurances on different occasions that parties intended to come this way and look over the farming lands of this portion of the Kootenays

Mr. Smith continued:—"I consider it is to the advantage of Revelstoke and district to be represented at these big exhibitions. Thousands of people pass through the grounds and inspect the exhibits, they are the mecca of every bona fide land seeker and farmer, and furnish a splendid opportunity of getting before the very class of people we are seeking to attract. The exhibition authorities pay $200 towards the cost of district exhibits, which gives the opportunity of getting a great advertisement at a minimum of outlay."

Whilst at New Westminster, Mr. Smith purchased on his own account, four registered Berkshire Pigs, a boar and these sows, which have taken firsts in their classes and championships everywhere they have been exhibited, including Toronto.

These will be utilized to improve the breed locally.

AT THE EMPRESS

There will be several first-class attractions at this popular play house during the next few weeks. Theatre-goers will do well to keep their eye on these colums where the theatrical news will be found.

The Allen Players

"NOBODY'S WIDOW."

One of the bright spots of the repertoire of the Allen Players is the farcical romance by Anthony Hopwood — "Nobody's Widow.-' It is with this comedy that Miss Blanche Bates broke away from heavy emotional roles and demonstrated her ability as a comedienne.

"Nobody's Widow" is ultra-modern in both theme and treatment. The story of the American woman who marries an English Duke and then pronounces him "dead" is replete with a spirit of diablerie that is captivating. The Duke refuses to stay dead, follows her to America and pursues the widow with a courtship as lively as it is passionate. Unwilling to be his wife and feeling a strong aversion to not being his wife the tempestuous young woman gets herself into some astoundingly funny predicaments. Miss Felton outdoes herself in the role of the volatile "widow" and gives added interest to it by wearing several imported gowns of spectacular beauty.

The Allen Players will open their local engagement at the Empress theatre October 20th, with the sensational comedy-drama "The Spendthrift."

GREEN STOCKINGS.

A genuine treat is assured by the announcement that the Allen Players will present A.E.W. Mason's exquisite comedy of English home life during their engagement at the Empree theatre. "Green Stockings" is well-known from the success Margaret Anglin attained with it as a starring vehicle.—The story of Celia Faraday, who grows tired of the aspersions cast upon her spinsterhood and announces her engagement to a mythical Colonel Smith, is the foundasion for the play. It gives a delightfully informal and intimate glimpse of an English family and their friends, bringing all their pet foibles to light, with a delicate touch of satire that is irresistable. When Celia goes so far as to write a love letter to her fiancee she finds she has cast an amatory boomerang, which rebounds with amazing results. Her endeavors to extricate herself from the dilemma, assisted by her American aunt, produce situations hugely enjoyable.

Miss Felton regards this as her favorite role this season. She is a more than interesting type, her mouse-like quietness before her engagement going through a startling change afterward Mrs. Allen will be seen in one of those roles in which she is considered a riot. Her fund of spontaneous humor will be seen in full play, which means a good deal.

Miss Felton and Allen Players open their local engagement, Oct. 20th with the much discussed comedy-drama, — "The Spendthrift."

"The Country Boy"

The Country Boy tretretretreere Edgar Selwyn's popular comedy — "The Country Boy"—will be the attraction at the Empress theatre, Monday, October 13th.

The story of "The Country Boy" is that of a young man from a small town in New York state who goes to the metropolis to win his fortune. In

Scene From "The Country Boy" Empress Theatre, Mon., Oct 13th

New York he is enthralled by the maelstrom and loses sight of the stimulus for his ambition by attaching himself to a chorus girl. He soon comes to the end of his rope and is about to make away with himself when he is caught in the firm grip of a man with a healthy and optimistic view of life. This man labors hard and succeeds in restoring the boy to his original self respect and enthusiasm.

To-night, Star Theatre, 7:15 o.k.—"Quo Vadis," in three parts, Flossie Visits the Bar U Ranch; Monday—Monday, "Badge of Policeman O'-Roon," in two parts; Tuesday, "Powder Flask of Death," in two parts, Civil War story. Matinee every Saturday afternoon at 2:30.— At the Star Theatre.

Miss Aileen Macdonald, who will play "Jane" The Management have been very fortunate in securing this clever and dainty artiste. Possessed of a charming personality, she never fails to fascinate her audience. Among the many and varied parts she has played in England are:—"Fifi" in the "Belle of New York"; "Henri," in "La Poupee," and "Lady Bickenhall," in "Sergeant Brue," a role in which she scored an enormous success. She is a great favorite with English audiences, and her impersonation of "Jane" has met with the unanimous approval of both press and public.—Empress, Oct. 16th and 17th.

Miss Elsie Moryson has toured England in many plays under the management of Ben and William Greet, Miss Emma Huchison, etc, An actress of great versatility and mezzo-soprano of tre, Oct. 16th and 17th.

W. W. FOSTER TOUR OF INSPECTION

AT ROSSLAND

A trip was also made to Rossland, under the guidance of L. Campbell the Rossland member.

Trail town and district were also included in the tour of inspection. Here also a most distinct indication of the revival of the mining industry was noticed.

Thursday afternoon Mr. Foster and Road Superintendent Trimble made an inspection of the road work to the south of the city, and yesterday other public improvements were visited.

Mr. Foster left last evening for the coast after having completed a most successful and thorough inspection of the public works in the Kootenays.

Thanksgiving Shower

Has everyone borne in mind that Saturday, October 18th, is the day set apart by the ladies of the Hospital Guild for the Thanksgiving shower of pickles and jam? If not make a note of the date now. All are invited to come to the hospital and spend a social hour and enjoy a cup of tea. But above all everyone is to be sure and bringsome contribution, either of jam, jellies, pickles or relishes to stock the hospital larder and help make the approaching holiday a feast of good things for those in that institution.

The response to this appeal, however small, is bound to be appreciated and will surely bring its own reward.
