Boar. rade Asks Government to Extend Telegraph Lin Salmon Arm and Nelson—Park as Game Prese Extension of Boundaries--To Stock Lakes With Fi.—Freight Service on Arrow Lakes—Telegraph Rates—Arrowhead Gas

A resolution was passed by the board of trade at its meeting on Thursday evening asking the Dominion government to place in the estimates next session provision for the construction of telephone lines to connect Revelstoke with Salmon Arm and also with Arrowhead, Trout Lake Comaplix, Nakusp, Camborne, Beaton and Nelson, whence communication can be made with Calgary and Spokane. Other resolutions were passed petitioning the Dominion and provincial governments to suspend the collection of timber royalties and to postpone the sale of crown granted mineral claims, favoring an addition to the Revelstoke National park and asking that the park be declared a game preserve. The questions of the freight service on the Arrow lakes and the stocking of Eva and Miller lakes in the National park with fish were also discussed

G. S. McCarter introduced the subject of the payment of timber license dues. He proposed that the Dominion and provincial governments be requested to postpone the collection of timber license fees and dues during the present financial stringency. The condition of the lumber industry at present was such that the lumber firms had difficulty in meeting their pay rolls. The provincial government was carrying overdue land payments and might well suspend the penal clauses of the act in regard to timber licenses.

W. M. Lawrence suggested that the suspension might be asked for a stated time and Mr. McCarter suggested six months.

T. Kilpatrick though that it would be better to leave the time open. The suspension would be necessary during the war. He thought that the board should go further than the timber industry, instead of making a special request. He understood that the government intended to insist upon the collection of taxes this year.

F. B. Wells pointed out that the timber holders were in a different position to land owners. Land sold for taxes could be redeemed but timber could not be redeemed.

Mr. McCarter said that timber dues were paid in advance while land taxes were often years in arrears and he thought that the timber holders had a special claim for consideration but would be glad to extend the scope of his proposal.

Mr. Lawrence thought that the government should help things out during the depression and he seconded the following resolution which was drawn up by Mr. McCarter and unanimously passed:

That the Dominion and provincial governments be requested to suspend collection of timber royalties and ground rents and land payments generally pending the settlement of the European war and that penalties payable by timber license holders be waived by the provincial government and that tax sales of lands and crown granted mineral claims be suspended until the financial situation improves

Mr. McCarter said that the Arrowhead gas field had been turned down by R. W. Brock, deputy minister of mines, who said that a permanent gas field could not possibly be found in the locality on account of the formation of the rock. When in Calgary he saw the head of the Canadian Pacific Natural Resources department, who told him not to worry because of Mr. Brock's adverse report. Experts had told the Canadian Pacific railway that there could be no coal at the place where they had discovered one of their best coal fields. He also saw Eugene Coste, president of the Canadian Western Natural Gas company who also told him not to worry on account of Mr. Brock's report and had promised to come to inspect the field himself. Professor Hansen will also look it over. Mr. Hansen has driven 48 gas wells and says that gas is where it is found. Mr. McCarter said that he had prepared the papers for incorporating, but on account of Mr. Brock's verdict he had not thought it advisable to take further steps until a report was received from some man of prominence that would warrant the expenditure of further money.

A letter from Hon. Thomas Taylor was read which informed the board that the report of Professor Emmens on the Arrowhead gas situation had not yet been received by the department of mines. When the report comes to hand Mr. Taylor promised to let the board know whether or not a copy could be sent to the board.

The question of telephone communication between Revelstoke and outside points was brought up by Mr. McCarter who said that not even, Arrowhead or Comaplix could be reached. The lack of communication deprived the city of business and he thought that the board of trade should take the matter up actively. The government was building lines in the south. Revelstoke was cut off from outside points.

Mr. Lawrence said that the lack of communication was driving away trade from the city, especially in the Malakwa valley.

Mr. McCarter said that he did not blame the Revelstoke telephone manager for not extending his lines outside the city as the lines would not pay. The government was getting settlers into the country but was giving them no communication.

Mr. Kilpatrick advised the board not to take the matter up too long before a session of parliament. If a petition were sent to the government now it might be lost before spring, when the board started it should press the matter vigorously.

Mr. McCarter declared that in his opinion nothing was of more import ance to the district than roads and telephones.

The resolution asking the government to provide telephone connection from Revelstoke west to Salmon Arm and south to Nelson including Arrowhead, Comaplix, Beaton, Camborne, and Nakusp was passed unanimously.

The question of freight and telegraph rates was introduced by A. McRae who said that Kamloops had cheaper rates to the east than Revelstoke. It cost $1 to send a night letter from Toronto to Revelstoke where as from St. Paul, nearly half way across the continent the charge was $1.25.

It was decided that the secretary should write to the Kamloops board of trade to obtain a copy of the Kamloops telegraph and freight tariffs with a view of taking the matter up with the railway commission.

The freight service on the Arrow lakes was criticised by Mr. McRae, who said that freight from Revelstoke for Arrow lakes points was carried to West Robson and delivered on the return journey. Freight from Nelson was delivered the same day whereas freight from Revelstoke was not delivered for two days and sometimes was carried backwards and forwards for a week before being delivered, 6

Mr. McCarter thought that there was not time to make the calls on the down trip if passengers were to reach Nelson in reasonable time.

Mr. McRae said that some landings might be cut off, if necessary. Mr. Kilpatrick thought that there were regular days for the delivery of freight at various points and C. R. Macdonald and F. H. Bourne declared that the freight business from Revelstoke had materially diminished because of the unsatisfactory service.

Mr. Lawrence gave an instance in which lumber and nails had been carried up and down the lake for a week because the boats had no time to put off the freight.

Mr. Kilpatrick said that if the board were to collect the facts and take the matter up with the railway commission the grievance would be speedily removed. It was finally decided to write to Capt. J. C. Gore, chief of the inland navigation service of the Canadian Pacific railway, asking him to meet the board of trade when next in the city.

Mr. McCarter proposed that the Dominion government be requested to include in the Revelstoke National

Notes from the Mines

R. J. Kirkwood has started work on the Mabou group of claims adjoining the Enterprise on Ten-Mile. He expects to spend $2000 in prospect work in this group.

J. P. Wilson and R. C. McLandery of Sandon have secured the contract from the Consolidated company of Trail, to take up and load on cars the rails of the old Kaslo and Sandon railway.

The Molly Gibson is looking fine, according to reports from there and is shipping ore taken out only during the progress of development. A few days ago, R.H. Stewart of the Consolidated M. and S. Co., went nearly as far as the mine with an automobile.—Kootenaian.

Alex Paterson, another of the old-timers of the Kootenay and Boundary left on Thursday morning to continue development on his mining property in the Lake Chelan district of Washington. The claims which are fourteen in number, are considered among the most promising in that section of the state assays from picked samples ranging as high as $240 to $360 in gold, silver and copper. A general assay, however, taken two years ago which was considered a fair sample, returned $134.80, $56 of which was in silver. Mr. Paterson has refused what many people think was a very tempting offer.—Phoenix Pioneer.

Emil England, a Swede, was killed while running a coyote tunnel on the Kettle Valley railway construction on Five Mile creek. It was the last shot he was firing to complete his contract when he was overcome with powder gas, and that with the explosion was the cause of death.

The addition to the Standard mill at Silverton is about completed. In this will be placed an experimental plant to test the flotation process to save values that cannot be obtained in the mill. The process has been installed at the Hewitt mill and is said to work satisfactorily.

Billy Morton has made a good strike in the Arlington camp, eight miles above Carmi, of copper-gold ore. The railroad cut it at a depth of 80 feet, but this was overlooked until Morton did the assessment work when he found several feet of high grade ore carrying 10 to 15 per cent copper.

James C. Dale reports mining more active around Carmi and Beaverdell than it has been in 10 years. Considerable ore has been recently treated in the Carmi mill with highly satisfactory results. Mr. Dale says that on the strength of Mr. Alex. Robinson's efforts towards developing the resources of the West Fork the attention of prospectors has been drawn to the camp and many good strikes have been made this summer.

Four Leases are Taken On Reco Mine, Sandon

Sandon, B.C., Aug. 7.—The Watkins brothers have finished their lease at the Reco mine and are having their ore packed down. Johnson, Erickson and Isenor will begin shipping soon from their lease on the Reco. Fred McDonnell and Reuben Horne have begun work on the lease they have taken on another part of the Reco and Con Stewart and James Weatherby have just taken out the fourth lease on the same mine.

A car of iron pipe came in for the new compressor at the Noble Five last week and is being hauled to Cody.

The Surprise mine is shipping three cars of clean ore this week.

The Star shipped 16 cars of zinc and lead ore last month.

Molly Gibson Mine Re-starts Shipping

The Whitewater and Panama mines in Slocan and Ainsworth district, shipped to the smelter of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting company of Canada, Limited, at Trail, last week for the first time this year, and the Molly Gibson mine near Nelson, which is operated by the Consolidated company, shipped to the smelter for the first time since early in the year. The Molly Gibson was closed down during the late winter and spring on account of the heavy snowfall which is encountered in the vicinity of the mine.

The Caaba, a high grade silver lead property near Oroville, Wash., which recently recommenced operations, made its first shipment since work was commenced during the past week It is expected that the Caaba will be a steady shipper to Trail.

During the week 22 mines of Kootenay and the Boundary shipped 8,887 tons of ore to Trail, making a total of 211,105 tons treated at the Consolidated company's smelter during the first seven months of 1914.

Indian Woman is Bitten by Rattler

Too much familiarity with a pair of rattlesnakes on the part of two Chinamen and an Indian woman the other day at the west end of the city resulted in the woman receiving a severe bite from the venomous reptile, says the Kamloops Standard. It seems that the Chinaman had captured the snakes and had placed them in a coal oil tin for safety and in endeavoring to take them out of the tin with the assistance of the Indian woman, the latter received a deep "strike" from the enraged snake, in the upper part of the leg, necessitating immediate medical attendance. Dr. Archibald succeeded in preventing the spread of the deadly poison and the woman is now making as good progress as can be expected.

Sandon Mines Are Looking Well

One of the most satisfactory aspects of the local mining outlook is the fact that the industry in and around Sandon appears to be now on a thoroughly permanent basis. At the present time there are about 280 miners employed in the vicinity of the camp and the forces are being steadily increased, says the Kaslo Kootenaian.

In Sandon itself there is not a vacant house to be had, everything but the poorest shacks being occupied.

The somewhat tangled condition which the municipal finances got into following the depression is now being straightened out and at the present time the debt is being gradually reduced and the city put in the way of getting on its feet again.

The two brightest constellations in Sandon's mining firmanent at the present time are the Slocan Star and the Surprise, both of which mines are working fairly good sized crews.

At the Star a new showing of fine ore, that looms large as a tonnage producer, has been opened up in No. 10, on the lowest level of the mine The rest of the property is looking exceedingly healthy and it may not be long before the grand old standby of the camp is paying dividends again.

The Star mill is steadily turning out concentrates, faster in fact, than its product can be hauled down to the loading platform, notwithstanding the fact that two four-horse teams are on the job.

The Star mill is producing zinc as well as silver-lead and is making as clean a separation as can be found anywhere in the country.

It is confidently predicted that the Surprise will be a second Standard. There appears according to report to be ore everywhere and at the present time about two cars a week are being shipped this being taken out during the course of development work which is being steadily extended.

Plans are now on foot for the construction of a concentrator for the Surprise and it is expected that it will be under construction soon.

The lead on the Payne has not yet been encountered by the long crosscut tunnel but this has caused no uneasiness as the Surprise faced a similiar condition of affairs for a year or two, digging around through the country rock for a long time after the estimated point of contact was past. It may be necessary to upraise from the new to the old workings of the Payne before location of the lead is made, but the finding of stringers of high grade ore at two or three points during the running of the crosscut is taken as ample indication that when eventually found, the Payne will turn into one of the biggest high grade properties in the whole country and recall the days when its comparatively surface workings made in the biggest dividend payer of the Slocan.

Between the Surprise and the Payne lies a stretch of country that will probably receive its share of attention later. The Washington, R. E. Lee Last Chance, Noble Five, Antoine and dozens of claims and fractions are embraced within that area and past them along the rim, extending clear to the Mountain colonies a section that must be rich in unexplored mineral. At the Con Bennett and McClure are reported to have promising things while across the gulch the Freddy Lee, one of the first Slocan shippers, is likely to be worked by A.W. McCune, of Salt Lake City. Bruce White is operating the Noonday and on the Reco an interesting experiment is being tried by a couple of leasers, who are putting a great quantity of stope fillings through a hand jig.

The Consolidated company's Eureka is maintaining a small crew and leasers are at work on the Ivanhoe.

Much interest attaches to the Wonderful, at one time a placer silver-lead mine, where it is believed that the long-sought ledge has been located at last. For the past 16 years the ledge on this property has been diligently sought for by different parties but without success. The syndicate now operating is confident that the ore bearing vein has been definitely located. There is believed to be a huge body of ore somewhere in the neighborhood, as the great blocks of galena sluiced out of the surface dirt in the early days indicate that.

The Ruth, a close neighbor to the Slocan Star is also reported to be showing up well. Taken altogether the Sandon mining outlook is better than it has been at any time since 1897. Expensive and retarding litigation in the case of some of the largest properties is at an end, the interest taken by outside capital in the camp is steadily increasing.

Show The Way, England

The following poem by the Canadian poet, Wilfrid Campbell, will come with especial force home to all Canadians in this hour of trial that faces the British Empire:

Show the way, England
Not in the bright hour
But in the dark hour
When the world threatens,
We are your sons—
Not for the might of you,
Shelter and right of you—
Not for the paid-coin,
Not for your guns,
But that we love you,
Sucked at the breast of you,
You are our Mother,
We are your sons.

Show the way England,
And in the fated
Din of the battle
Stand you alone?
Loyal Canadians,
Sons of the sons of you,
Back of the guns of you,
Bone of your bone,
We will stand four square,
Rock of the rock of you,
Ribs of the steel of you,
Let the world thunder,
Ere you go under
We will follow you,
Might of your might.

Show the way England,
Let that grim master
Of earth's dread disaster
But darken your son,
Trust your child Canada
She will be with you
Shoulder to shoulder,
Run to your gun,
She will reply with you;
Fight for you
Die with you,
So, wide to the world
Be the old flag unfurled,
Show the way, England!

Bush Fires in Salmon Arm District

The fire wardens in this district are having a very busy time seeing to the various fires that have been started says the Salmon Arm Observer. Most of them, happily, have been just ground fires and very little damage has been caused after taking into consideration the large amount of land that has been burnt over.

The fire nearest to town was along the Chase creek which has been burning for two weeks but a fire gang is now trying to extinguish it. The flames can be seen quite plainly from several parts of the town. Last week end it was working towards the Dam and waterworks, and employees of the Adams River Lumber Co. were sent to watch that no damage was done to the flume, as in case that should happen the water supply and fire protection of the town would have been endangered.

A fire going through Scotch creek district burned down a shack belonging to John Westburg, one day last week.

In addition fires are also burning at Squilax and at Adams lake, besides several other smaller fires.

No Flower Show Because of War

Rossland, B.C., Aug. 7.—A meeting of the executive of the Rossland flower show was held in the Bank of Montreal chambers on Tuesday night. It was decided owing to the unsettled condition of affairs resulting from the European war to call off the flower show for this year. The secretary was instructed to write and thank all who had offered to give prizes for the show.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be issued for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to the Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

THE PARK A BOON TO SPORTSMEN

Another good purpose will be served if the Revelstoke National park is proclaimed a game preserve; and the government is hardly likely to refuse the request of the board of trade that this be done. Not only will the wild animals which will then multiply in the park be most interesting and instructive, especially to tourists but the reserve will have the effect of making the Revelstoke district a paradise for sportsmen. The park will become a centre from which neighboring districts will be stocked with game, and ample sport will be provided without depleting unduly the fauna of the park.

SAFETY ON THE FARM

In the province of Ontario, during the year 1912, there were 1,831 deaths due to external violence. Many of these occurred on the farms. No less than 25 were caused by injuries received from animals. Many others were due to carelessness around farm machinery, unsafe harness, causing horses to run away, falling through open trap-doors or down feed chutes, ladders breaking, etc. In some cities and over some railway lines, a "safety first" campaign is under way. "Stop, look, listen," is a splendid warning sign for a railway crossing, but its equivalent should be sounded in many other places. The risks to life and limb on the farm are so numerous and so plain that one could expect to see them largely removed, but they are not. Children on the farm should be taught the dangers inseparable from association with live stock, and to be careful always. The bull may be thought to be safe and gentle, but he can never be trusted. Three deaths, in one week, by goring are among the casualties in the press reports during June, 1914. Farmers are repeatedly taking chances by getting in front of the knife of the mower or binder, to make some adjustment or repairs, while the horses are hitched and liable to start, and thereby cause a serious accident. When threshing and silofilling time comes, every precaution should be taken to guard against accidents. Prevention is a thousand times better than neglect and carelessness, which latter often lead to accidents and loss of life. Human life is held far too cheaply and if the parents fail to teach the children to be careful, and to avoid unnecessary risk and danger, they can scarcely escape responsibility when preventable accidents, causing disfigurement or loss of life, occur.

COMMAND OF THE SEA

In the last fiscal year Canada exported merchandise, coin, and bullion to the value of $478,992,298 and imported articles of all kinds to the vale of $633,564,179. The total value of our external commerce for that year was, therefore, $1,112,557,107. As our exports to the United States amounted to $200,459,373, and our imports therefrom amounted to $410,786,091, that country's dealings with us last year account for $611,245,164, or considerably more than half the value of our external trade. The value of our trade with other countries in the last fiscal year was therefore $501,311,633. This half-billion dollars' worth of commerce was all sea-borne traffic, $400,000,008 of it consisting of exports and imports from other countries of the British Empire. As a considerable part of our commerce with the United States is carried by vessels on the coast routes of the Atlantic and Pacific the value of our commerce that had to take the hazards of the sea last year was in excess of half a million dollars

A risk of the sea that has been long imminent, one for which the marine underwriters have always reserved to themselves the right to impose the highest special rates on sudden notice is the contingency of war among the great powers of Europe. Canada is not yet one of the most populous nations, but she holds a high place in the list of nations that maintain the world's foreign trade. She is one of the rather small number whose external trade exceeds a billion dollars a year in value. There are few countries with weightier commercial reasons for valuing protection at sea in time of war. Without adequate protection on the sea routes she would be exposed to ruinous losses in a war among the great European powers. Her distance from those powers and from the principal scenes of hostilities would have no effect to isolate her from the consequences of the war. In fact, for so great a commercial nation, whose chief exports are foodstuffs, which are the very sinews of war and the most tempting contraband of war, the length of the trans-Atlantic route would mean the greater exposure to loss. There is no other nation in the British Empire that would have more per capita at stake in a time of general European war than Canada, and none therefore with stronger commercial motives for desiring that the British Empire's naval power be kept invincible. And if the purely commercial motives are strong, still stronger are the motives of Imperial loyalty and national self-preservation. Canada has become a great country, has become a granary of the Empire, because her development has gone on securely under the shield of Britannia. The riches of this country would long ago have attracted the greed of envious powers had it not been that Britain's matchless navy was ready at any moment to come to our defence.

FROM THE SANCTUMS

A FIGHTING PARTNERSHIP.

The much advertised Irish firm of "Redmond and Co." has been enlarged for the purposes of defence of Ireland against the enemies of the Empire and will be hereafter known as "Redmond, Carson and Co." May it live long and prosper!—Edmonton Journal.

AN OLD SUPERSTITION.

It is timely to recall the old superstition to the effect that when two powers go to war the one whose name is commonly mentioned first is an invariable loser. Modern instances are the Franco-Prussian War, the Spanish-American War, the Turco-Italian War and the Russo-Japanese War. The present war is likely to be called the Austro-Servian War if no more powers become involved— Toronto Mail and Empire.

NO CAUSE FOR PERTURBATION

The people of Canada ought not to allow themselves to be perturbed because of anything that has transpired or is likely to transpire. The year is proving to be a very different one from what any of us expected, but nothing is to be gained by becoming pessimistic. We do not believe there is anything in the local situation and by this we mean the situation throughout British Columbia, to warrant anything resembling perturbation. It may be necessary to exercise patience with each other in business matters, but if this proves to be the case, it ought to be done cheerfully.—Victoria Colonist.

PUTS TO SEA.

A new day dawns this morning for the Kamloops Standard which will in future be published every day as a morning newspaper. The change was not taken by the management until the matter had been carefully considered. The need of a morning paper has long been felt in the city and many of our readers have urged the change which is initiated today. We start on our voyage with dark clouds hovering in the East, but with the spirit of optimism that has guided us in the past we believe that we shall merit the silver lining that is associated in the ancient proverb with this ethereal condition. At first the sailing may be rough but we will attempt to enliven the journey so that the anxieties of the skipper and his mates may throw no gloom on the passengers. The crew is willing and hopeful and if the travellers who ship with us will overlook our shortcomings and co-operate in the hardships of the voyage we will have no fear for the future.—Kamloops Standard.

Charged With Stealing Sixty-Five Dollars

Harry Boley and D.H. McGilvary, charged by J. H. McLean with the theft of $65 appeared before Police Magistrate Hamilton this morning.

Mr. McLean, who is head packer for the Pioneer Placer mines, said that he came to town from the Big Bend on Wednesday. Yesterday he went down to lower town and bought a purse in which he placed his money, some $60 to $70. He put the purse in the pocket of his shirt went into the Oriental hotel and into the bar where he had a drink. He then went to the end of the bar to hand his purse to Albert Stone for safe custody and found it gone.

Boley was beside him in the bar, and when he demanded the return of his purse ran away. Witness followed and caught him and called the police. McGilvary also disappeared but afterwards returned.

H. Turnross confirmed McLean's story.

Boley said that he ran away because he was afraid there would be a row. He denied having had the money. He was searched by Mr. Stone, and no money or purse was found on him.

Defendants were remanded for two days.

Increased Attendance At Summer School

The summer school at Tappen showed an increased attendance over last year. The idea behind is to combine education with recreation, in the interests of the Sunday school and the working life of the church. Rev. John Dobson, one of the field secretaries of the department of public welfare (temperance and moral reform) of the Methodist church gave lectures each day as well as Rev. J. P. Westman, field secretary for Sunday schools. The beach was lined with tents of campers. The week's exercises came to a close on Thursday, when tents were struck in preparation to leave on Friday, apart from campers who are staying on. On Friday a group of those interested went over to Canoe creek in motor boats to inspect that location with a view to a possible camp there next year, at the invitation of the people of that place, who wanted to exhibit their beautiful beach and bathing grounds. No decision was reached, but the matter is under consideration Over 50 delegates registered in connection with the school, making commutation rates possible.

Several parties from Revelstoke were among those camping, in connection with the school or otherwise, and needless to say having a good time.

park any unsettled lands west of the park and south of the Columbia river canyon. He said that this included one of the most beautiful drives in the country and its inclusion in the park would decrease the danger of fire. It would be a great attraction for tourists.

Mr. McRae said that the land was useless for agriculture but would be ideal for park purposes. He supported the proposal.

Mr. Kilpatrick and Mr. Bourne said that they were not in favor of including in the park any land fit for settlement. Mr. Kilpatrick added that Revelstoke had been granted a city park but had made no use of it.

Mr. McRae said there was plenty of good land suitable for settlement. The park was not a Revelstoke but a national park.

Mr. Kilpatrick said that the inclusion of the land in the park would not preserve it from fire danger. Things had been going well in regard to the park. A larger area than asked for had been included in it and the automobile road was being built. He did not think it wise to ask for more at the present time.

Mr. McCarter was appointed a delegate to take the matter up with the government, Mr. Bourne voting against the proposal.

Mr. McRae thought that the National park should be declared a game preserve. He said that if the game in the park were preserved there would be better shooting in the vicinity, as the park would become a breeding ground. Mr. Kilpatrick said that he understood that the park came under the provincial game act, and on the suggestion of Mr. McCarter it was decided that the secretary should write to the attorney general asking that the park be declared a game preserve if it is not one at present.

C. R. Macdonald suggested that the lakes in the park should be stocked with fish and he was instructed to write to Professor Prince to enquire as to the best fish with which to stock Miller lake.

A resolution of sympathy with President Wilson on the loss of his wife will be forwarded by the secretary to the United States secretary of state.

A. Thiakiason was elected a member of the board and W. A. Anstie, W.J. Coulthard, J. Gordon and H.H. B. Abbott were nominated for membership.

Those present were T. Kilpatrick in the chair, WfH. Pratt, F.B. Wells, D. Gallicano, F. H. Bourne, W. M. Lawrence, G. S. McCarter, C.R. Macdonald, A. McRae, W.H. Wallace, and L. W. Wood.

Fires Still Rage in Timber Districts

"No improvement in the fire situation in the interior." This was the way in which H.R. MacMillan, chief of the forest branch of the provincial government, summarized on Thursday conditions in Cranbrook and adjacent districts, where huge conflagrations have devastated the timber areas for the past few days.

"All telegraphic reports agree that conditions are worse than at any time in the last 20 years," said Mr. MacMillan. "Probably over 5,000 men in Cranbrook district are out fighting the flames at many widely-separated points.

"Weather conditions are alarming in the extreme. Temperatures remain very high, accompanied by strong winds.

"No further news has been received bearing upon the fate of the greater part of 500 men who were on Monday reported to have been surrounded by a wall of flame in the Bull river section. Telephone communication not yet being restored, it is impossible to hear from the rescue party who went in from Fernie.

"There are big fires raging at Waldo, Corbin, Baynes lake, Perry creek and other points, and they are all reported to be beyond control.

"In respect to the situation in the coast districts there are about 20 fires, but they are not as yet out of hand."

Several forest fires, some of large proportions, have been raging in the northern part of the Okanagan valley this week. The most serious were on Grande Prairie, up Irish creek, up Siwash creek, and on the wooded hills just west of Armstrong. At last accounts the fires were well under control, despite the high winds.

During the past week bush fires have been all to plentiful throughout the district, 18 being reported at one time in the territory presided over by Jas. Evans as fire warden, says the Salmon Observer.

Forest Insects in British Columbia

"Forest Insect Conditions in British Columbia" is the title of a new bulletin of the central experimental farm, Ottawa, which is the result of a preliminary survey undertaken by J.M. Swaine, M.Sc., assistant entomologist for forest insects. During the past few days frequent reports of serious forest insect depredations in British Columbia have been received by the Division of Entomology, and in view of the high commercial value of the merchantable timber in the province, an investigation was projected. The present publication has been written with a view to assisting immediately the lumbermen and owners of timber limits in the matter of recognising the commoner species of injurious beetles, and their injuries, with a view to the adoption of the control measures which are described. This bulletin, No. 17, Second series, may be secured free by those who are particularly interested in this subject and make application to the publications branch, department of agriculture, Ottawa.

CO-OPERATIVE EGG CIRCLES

"The Organization of Co-operative Egg Circles," is the title of pamphlet No. 4 by W.A. Brown, B.S.A., of the poultry division of the live stock branch, Dominion department of agriculture. In introducing this subject the writer defines a co-operative egg circle, states the need for organization and the work that can be accomplished.

The benefits, methods, and details of organization are exhaustively dealt with and directions for setting up and using an egg testing appliance are given.

The pamphlet, copies of which may be obtained upon application, from the publications branch, department of agriculture, Ottawa, concludes with a proposed constitution and by-laws suitable for an egg circle.

In establishing a daily car barge service in this lake, the Canadian Pacific railway has put into operation an improvement to the fruit transportation service which is of untold benefit to growers and shippers. The barge calls at Summerland on the down trip early in the afternoon, and leaves Penticton at six p.m. on the up journey, calling here about an hour later. Thus the fruit gets the full benefit of the cool night breezes in transit up the lake, and by losing its high orchard temperature, arrives at its destination in correspondingly better condition. At the Landing the cars are attached to a daily freight train, and by noon of the following day the cars are on their way east or west of Sicamaus.—Summerland Review.

Kamloops Child is Drowned in Creek

A most distressing accident, with fatal results, occurred about 1 p.m. on Sunday, to the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Diehl, of Barnhart Vale, an infant of only eighteen months of age, says the Kamloops Sentinel.

Mr. Diehl had the little mite out on the lawn after lunch, near the creek which runs at the bottom of the garden, and left her toddling around whilst he returned to the house for not more than three of four minutes. On his return he found she had reached the side of the creek and had fallen in, having apparently expired already when he recovered her. All efforts to resuscitate her failed.

The little girl was their only one.

THE HUMAN ELEMENT.

In these days of scientific management there is a tendency to ignore the human element in humanity to create industrial machines which shall turn out their products at maximum speed and at minimum cost. To be sure, the attempt is made to remunerate the workers handsomely for their labor with the purpose of furnishing them the wherewithal to live more comfortably. So far as such a process is mechanical, however, it cannot yield the best results. Man is not a machine and he "does not live by bread alone," no matter how much of it he gets. A prime requisite for promotion to positions of authority should be the possession of those distinctly human qualities which will inspire affection as well as respect. We are all attracted to the organization in which the manager is referred to as "the chief," "the boss," "the mogul" or some such human term.—Eltric Railway Journal.

Jules Verne's Dream is Being Realized

Underwater craft have made marked progress since those early days when the first Holland boat dived clumsily, like a rheumatic porpoise, and the first lake boat bowled merrily along, like an ocean wagon, on the smooth floor of the Atlantic between Sandy Hook and the capes of the Chesapeake. We have now a fair fleet of submarines—31 afloat and 21 building. A squadron of these invisible fighters guards each entrance to the Panama Canal. In size recent submarines approach that of small gunboats and destroyers. Great Britain has six of 1,200 tons displacement, Germany, six of 1,000 tons and France, two of 1,013 tons. The crews of such a boat ranges from 30 to 40 men.

Thus far, no nation has ventured to send its submarines out to serve on the high seas. They have been always relatively small boats for coast defence, driven by gasoline engines on the surface and by electric power when submerged. Now, however, Jules Verne's dream of the Nautilus, under Captain Nemo, is to be realized in the advent of the submarine cruiser, which—on the surface in peace and submerged in action—will accompany battle fleets on the oceans of the world. The British navy is the pioneer in this development. While the details are carefully guarded, the general view of navy experts is that the projected vessels are to be of about 1,500 tons displacement and 21 knots surface speed, and that they will be fitted with five or six torpedo tubes for underwater attack and two twelve-pounder guns for repelling aerial craft. The submerged battle speed of these vessels should not be less than 15 knots. Our Navy department is meeting this advance in the project of an experimental sea-going submarine, for which the Naval Appropriation bill carries an appropriation of $1,100,000. The chief difficulty to be met is that of underwater driving at the high speed demanded. Electric propulsion, owing to the bulk and weight of the necessary storage batteries may have to be abandoned.

This development, if successfully effected, foreshadows another radical change — the disappearance of the torpedo boat destroyer, which the submarine cruisers, when in action on the surface, should replace. In future naval actions the combatant vessels would then be battleships on the surface, submarine cruisers below it, and aeroplanes and dirigibles above, in which the chief enemies of the submarines would be the aerial cruisers. From this height the aviator can readily detect submerged bodies, owing to his freedom from the effect of reflected light at the surface of the water.—Philadelphia Ledger.

BIG FORTUNES PASS.

For those who fear the influences of colossal fortunes such as those of the Astors, Vanderbilts, Goulds, Rockefeller amd Morgans upon the future of the United States, both economically and socially, there should be no little consolation in the present plight of the Missouri Pacific railroad. This is known as a Gould road, control of it having been secured by the late Jay Gould, and the financial troubles into which it has fallen are typical of those which descended upon all the properties left by that most unscrupulous captain of industry to the incapable generation that succeeds him. From the feeble hands of the sons, unable to wield the power bequeathed to them, there have passed in turn the Western Union Telegraph company, the Wabash, the Lake Erie and Western and the Western Maryland railroads, the Wabash-Pittsburgh terminal and the Manhattan Railway Company. Before long it is expected that the Missouri Pacific, the Rio Grande and Western and the Western Pacific railroads will follow the same course.

One may regret the misfortune of these corporations and the distress which they bring upon innocent stockholders but it is distinctly pleasing to see them released from the grip of a family unable to manage them properly.—Philadelphia Record.

This Book Might Save You The Cost of a New Building

HAVE you ever heard of "Intensive Cultivation?" This principle applied to market gardening has resulted in a fourfold increase in yield, with a proportionate increase in profits.

Has it never occurred to you that the same principle might be applied to YOUR OWN organization, whether it be manufacturing, jobbing or retailing? Many of Canada's most prominent business men owe their success to this very thing. Cultivate your available floor space so that every square foot may be made to produce a profit.

This new Book, "The Elevator," will show you how. Write for it to-day. It may save you the cost of a new building by pointing the way to a better arrangement of your present floor space.
