Lunch baskets to soldiers were provided to the 54th Kootenay Regiment when going through Revelstoke overseas.

There were nineteen shipments of hospital supplies to headquarters, Toronta, during the last year, consisting of the following: Dressing gowns 1, pyjamas 162 pairs, flannel shirts 288, hospital, night and surgical shirts 155, convalescent slippers 693 pairs, socks 1208 pairs, wristlets 16 pairs, blankets 2 pairs, pillow slips 12, sheets 7 pairs, towels 13, wash cloths 200, miscellaneous bandages 1448, compresses 4464, old linen in bundles, miscellaneous pads 4693, sponges 14760, surgical kits 156, mouth wipes 2500, abdominal binders 12, hot water bottle covers 5; a total of 30795 articles.

Made up from material supplied from local branch: 120 pairs socks, 10 shirts, 12½ prs. pyjamas; making a total of 142½ articles.

West Demars: 7 shirts, 8 pairs socks, 1½ pairs pyjamas.

Malakwa: 7 pairs pyjamas, 5 shirts.

On the 12th of July a communication was received from headquarters that the making of surgical and hospital supplies be suspended until further notice, and that other comforts were more urgently required.

On the 23rd of August a communication was received from His Honor F. S. Barnard, Lieut.-Governor of British Columbia, to raise funds for the British Red Cross Society on "Our Day," Thursday, 19th October, 1916, when the splendid sum of $384 was raised by a "house to house" canvass.

This report would not be complete without special reference to the great help which has been given to the society by all its members and the various lodges and organizations in the city, together with our kindred institutions at Nakusp, West Demars, and Malakwa, also the many donations, both monthly and otherwise, from private individuals, business houses, etc., in Revelstoke and vicinity.

To Mrs. Foote, Sr., and Mrs. Pagdin a special meed of thanks is due for their whole-hearted endeavors in knitting socks, each lady having knitted over 200 pairs.

In conclusion may I ask that the Press extend its generosity to the Society in the future as it has done in the past, also that the management of the Y.M.C.A. may again afford the Red Cross the privilege of using the library for its future work.

Yours Sincerely,
HANNAH BLACKLOCK,
Secretary.

The President, Mrs. T. Kilpatrick's, report is as follows:

Members of the Revelstoke branch of the Red Cross Society:

Ladies: You have heard the reports of your secretary and treasurer and I am sure you must feel that your work has been most successful. It would be impossible to mention individually each one who has helped and supported us.

Special mention might be made of the visit of our President, H.R.H. the Duchess of Connaught, who was so pleased and interested in the success of our work; the splendid work done by the Nakusp, Malakwa and West Demars branches, the Board and staff of the Y.M.C.A.; C. B. Hume and Co., C. R. Macdonald, The Mayor, W. A. Gordon, N. R. Brown, and the local press for many courtesies; K. G. McRae and Fred Young for assistance in shipping supplies. Those who worked so faithfully in the making of surgical supplies: Mesdames Corning, McVity, Anstie, Foote and Coulthard for successful teas and entertainments. Mrs. Wilson, Miss Madge Wilson, Mrs. Cormier and Miss Joliffe for making our raffles such a success. We regret the loss of some of our best workers: Mrs. McVity, Mrs. McLean and Mrs. Procunier.

In starting another year, I trust the efforts and successes will be greater than in the past. Many have lost interest and enthusiasm, have fallen by the way. When we see what great sacrifices so many are making (some of those among our own members) it should spur us on to greater efforts as each day the need grows greater.

In retiring from office I would like to thank the faithful few who, rain or shine, attended our meetings and were always ready to help. Mistakes have been made. With other demands it is often so difficult to do one's best, but we have tried to do what we could.

May I bespeak for your incoming officers your loyal support and consideration, and trust the relationship of officers and members will be as pleasant in the future as it has been during the two years of our local Red Cross life.

MEMBER FOR REVELSTOKE IS BEREAVED

Miss Cecelia R. Green Daughter of Mr. R. F. Green, M.P. Passes Away at Early age of 25

Miss Cecilia R. Green, only daughter of Mr. R. F. Green, M.P., and Mrs. Green, of 502 Rupert Street, Victoria, died on Monday evening. She had not enjoyed very good health for some years past, following a severe illness, but the end was quite unexpected and her loss comes as a heavy blow to her parents and a wide circle of friends.

Miss Green was born at Illecillewaet B.C., twenty-five years ago, and spent some of the early years of her life at Kaslo. She was educated in Victoria, attending the High school and graduating in the Arts Course at McGill University. Bright, clever and possessed of a most engaging personality she was very popular and formed very many close friendships. Although her health prevented her from being active in the work of women's organizations she was a valued member of the Women's University Club and also belonged to the Ladies' Musical Club.

Besides her parents, Miss Green leaves one brother, Capt. R. H. Green, who is paymaster of the 54th Battalion, C.E.F.

Written Report To Be Forwarded

OTTAWA, October 27.—Beyond the statement that the impending strike has been called off, the department of labor has no particulars as to the nature of the settlement reached in Winnipeg.

That the new agreement contains many valuable concessions to the men is not doubted here but whether these concessions conform with or exceed the findings of the minority report delivered two years ago, is not known. It is considered probable that the terms of the agreement will be made public from Winnipeg and not Ottawa.

The minister of labor has received an assurance from G. D. Robertson, of Welland, Ont., who represented the minister in Winnipeg, that he will forward him a written report as soon as possible.

Mr. Robertson is given considerable credit by the men for the successful outcome of this dispute. He is a high official of the Telegraphers' union and a man of high ability. It is said here that the labor men are advocating his appointment to the senate.

Womens' Forum Elects Officers

A large representative meeting of women assembled at the City Hall last Monday evening to elect officers for the Woman's Forum.

The constitution of the Forum was first adopted. This, in brief, specifies three principal clauses: equal franchise, equal pay for equal work, aad an equal standard of morals. The object of the Forum is to arouse women's interest and gain their co-operation in public affairs. The Forum is strictly non-partizan. The wife of an M.P.P. or an M.P. is debarred from holding any office in the society. Nomination and election of officers is by ballot only. The officers elected for the present year are:

President: Mrs. W. A. Sturdy.
1st Vice-Pres.: Mrs. Andrew McIntyre.
2nd Vice-Pres.: Mrs. C. B. Hume.
3rd Vice-Pres.: Mrs. Southworth.
Corresponding Secretary: Mrs. Stevens.
Recording Secretary: Miss Eaton.
Treasurer: Mrs. Telfer.

An executive will be appointed this week by the officers.

It was brought to the attention of the meeting that very few women householders were registering as voters for the coming municipal elections Several volunteers engaged to canvass the city street by street and bring to every woman's attention the fact that next Tuesday, October 31, is the last day possible for registration. The meeting then adjourned.

HAS THE "SINGLE TRIPPER" GROCERY SALESMAN VISITED YOU

Most Farmers and Many Town Folk have Fallen Victim to this Individual—Always a Sad Awakening When Goods Arive

(Copyrighted 1915. All Rights Reserved.)

A very close rival in the matter of cleverness to the catalogue house are the "single tripper" grocery salesmen. Most farmers know them well nowadays and so do many town folk, for these lads have played no favorites in their "skinning operations." They will drop off a west bound passenger train of a winter morning at some country village, a clothing grip in one hand and a sample case in the other. This is the complete outfit. After registering in at the local hotel they arrange with the livery man for a rig and they are off for their prey.

From farm to farm they go, representing themselves to be connected with some wholesale grocery house in a distant city. These chaps are most always "single trippers," representing some firm of absolutely no responsibility and who, under no circumstances, will ever cover the same territory twice.

The bait they use is to quote exceptionally low prices on two or three staple articles, such as sugar, coffee or tobacco, prices that they know are away under the local merchant. The thrifty farmer is at once interested in such prices, and imagines he is doing a fine stroke of business in ordering enough of those staples to last him a year. He feels so good about it that it is quite easy for the salesman to load up the order with a large quantity of low-grade tea, rice, beans, spices, molasses, etc., an inferior lot of stuff that his home merchant wouldn't dare sell him under any circumstances.

When the shipment is delivered the buyer will invariably find that those staple articles upon which he believed he was making such a saving, have either been omitted, and a notation on the bill to the effect that on account of mill troubles or somethibg else it would be impossible just at present to ship them, or else if they are shipped, the receptacle, (usually a heavy box) in which they come is included in the weighing process to make up the weight stipulated in the contract—a very binding instrument, as most farmers have found to their sorrow. In cases where the 'leaders" are not shipped at all the other stuff nevertheless will invariably be there, and the farmer will have to accept it unless he has been wise enough to write over the face of the order before signing it that unless the entire order is shipped within a certain time that it shall be considered cancelled. Such orders are, of course, never shipped. They are "dead business."

GIVE LOCAL DEALER A CHANCE.

When your home merchant asks for your patronage his appeal is based solely on the ground of dollars, quality and service. He believes it means as much to you as it does to him in those terms to give him the opportunity to offer for your comparison his prices and quality before sending your order away from home.

So the next time you contemplate sending to the city or ordering a bill of goods from a catalogue house, or from a "single tripper" grocery salesman, make out your order as usual, but before buying your money order, take it to one of your local merchants and let him figure with you on the entire order. In a spirit of fairness suppose you try that just once. If he can't save you any money you will at least have shown him your heart is in the right place.

MILITARY CROSS IS AWARDED TO LOCAL SOLDIER

Joined as Private—Capt. E. G. Hadow Wins Military Cross —Many Friends in Revelstoke

The many friends and acquaintances of Captain Hadow, formerly a resident of this city, now attached to the British forces fighting in France, will be delighted to learn that he has received the military Cross, having distinguished himself on several occasions.

Word was received last week by Mrs. H. H. McVity of Golden, that Capt. Erland G. Hadow of the 51th West Yorkshires, had been awarded the Military Cross, particulars of which have not yet been made public, but it is understood to be mostly for his patrol work. One instance of his daring was recited some weeks ago. The commanding officer told him that during the night a German flag had been planted in No-man's Land. The next night Capt, Hadow picked nine men to go with him to capture it. Creeping out ahead of his men he tied a rope around the flagstaff and when he returned to his party they pulled the rope. As the flag was was jerked away a terrific explosion resulted and German machine guns, which had been trained on the spot, commenced firing. Fortunately all the party regained the trench without loss. Capt. Hadow and his men were commended by their commanding officer, who wrote to Mrs. Hadow, praising her husband for the service he had done. After Capt. Hadow had given each of the nine men a strip of the flag he sent the remainder home.

Revelstoke should be proud that one of its best known citizens should have brought such honor to the town, and no doubt this news will be received with the greatest of interest by his many friends. Capt. Hadow first enlisted as a private with the 29th Battalion at Vancouver in October, 1914. Upon reaching England he transferred to the 17th West Yorkshires, having been given a commission in that regiment.

NATIONAL SERVICE COMMISSION

Mr. R. F. Green Returns From Ottawa—Will Have Nothing Directly to do With Recruiting or Militia Department

Victoria.—After attending the sessions of the Board of National Service at Ottawa, Mr. R. F. Green, director for British Columbia, has returned. He stated that notwithstanding what has already been stated in the public press concerning the plan, there appears to be more or less of a misunderstanding in the minds of the public. As a matter of fact, the duties of the board may be described in the terms of the order-in-council as a board of national service. It will have, directly, nothing to do with recruiting, nothing to do with the militia department, will not be under that department nor act for it. Its work, briefly, is to take an inventary of the man-power of Canada for the purpose of tabulating such information and endeavoring to get the public generally in Canada to work with it for the purpose of using that man-power to the best possible advantage at this particular time in the war.

"It is well known," said Mr. Green, "that Canada has sent many men to the trenches who might have served the country, being skilled men, by being retained at home at their vocations for which they are fitted. On the other hand, there is no doubt a large number of men still in Canada who could do better work at the front. We propose to organize the whole Dominion. We will get an inventory first and then classify the men as to the occupation which, in our minds, they are best suited for and in which they can best serve the needs of the country. We have power, under the order-in-council, to say to the militia authorities that they shall not take this man or these men of this particular class who may be of more service at home, such as tool makers, munitions workers and artisans in various manufacturing lines,

A VITAL QUESTION

The women of Revelstoke have formed a society known as the "Woman's Forum," and will take up, among other questions, the "Buy at Home" problem. The merchants are willing to meet the ladies halfway but the question is of such vital importance to Revelstoke that every organization should take the matter up and keep Revelstoke money at home.

The buyers say that the merchants charge an exorbitant price for their goods. The merchants claim that if the cost of freight and postage were added to the articles bought out of town the price would be practically the same.

This is without a doubt Revelstoke's greatest problem. Ten thousand dollars is sent away each month. Is this not a matter that could be looked into by the Board of Trade?

CHILDREN AND JOYRIDING

In looking over our exchanges our attention is arrested by the number of accidents reported, and one particular kind of accident seems to occur very frequently. We refer to the accidents occurring due to the dangerous practice of small boys and girls "hanging" on to the back of wagons. The following is a case in point:

"As a result of injuries sustained by falling from the back of a wagon on which he was "joy riding," little Alec Watson of Victoria, the 7 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Watson has died. The little lad jumped on the back of the wagon, lost his hold, and in slipping his legs caught in the spokes and the little form was carried up by the revolving wheel until it jammed between the wagon box and the hub. The body was so firmly wedged between the spokes and the wagon that it was found necessary to remove the wheel in order to release the sufferer. He was taken to the Jubilee hospital where it was found he had sustained severe internal injuries, a fracture of the right thigh dislocated wrist and other serious hurts."

Not a day goes by in Revelstoke but many children are seen taking the same dangerous chance.

It may not be possible to stop the practice completely but we think that if the matter were taken up by the School Board, and handled through the teachers, a great deal of good might be done. The city council and the citizens in general might also help in this respect.

STOP AND THINK

The home merchant and manufacturer spends his money for rents with home property owners and in nine cases out of ten, his clerks, his stenographer, his bookkeepers, his porters, are bona fide residents of the city in which he does business.

The home merchant in keen competition with other home merchants, offers better values than can be had from mail-order or other business houses outside.

The home merchant or manufacturer allows any customer to examine his merchandise and products without first paying the money into his hands

Good people, stop and think! Ask for local products; demand them from your retailer. Also get acquainted with the producers. Get acquainted with all the business concerns. Let this matter sink deep, for it means much to the future of our city.

Our town should get ALL of the trade in our trade area. We don't worry about our neighbouring towns business. We have enough to do to take care of our OWN. But we should get ALL of our own. The best way to get after this money is to tell the truth about the man or the system that is taking it away.

FROM THE SANCTUMS

Because of the British Navy, and for no other reason, Sir Wilfrid Laurier today is still a British subject. He is not compelled to take off his hat to Prussian officers. He is free to travel and free to pose, free to fill himself with the east wind and unprofitable talk. His principle, he tells his devotees, is that we must not prepare. A principle that does not apply all round is no principle at all but a foliy. Does Sir Wilfrid suggest that the existence of the first and second and third battle squadrons in the North Sea brought Germany at our throats? Let him link hands with the ineffable Bryan and make the round of the Chatauqua circuit, but if he stays in Canada let him walk softly when passing the gates of Bedlam. We in Canada know well what military preparedness means, for the navy is certainly a military force af the finest temper. Our coasts have been scarcely even menaced. Without the navy's watchful care Halifax and Vancouver would no longer exist. Without the navy the war would have been over in a few months and our rulers would be today a crowd of Teuton murderers.—Daily News, Toronto.

COMMUNICATIONS

To the Editor of the Mail-Herald:

Sir; In reply to Mayor McKinnon's attack on me in the City Chamber's last meeting—I consider this the most vicious attack ever pulled off upon a public citizen. He had all the chance in the world to attack me when at the council, did he do it? No! he waited until I had retired. I was perfectly right when I refused to sign the famous Fromey timber cheque. I had inquired before the timber was bought if the public works had use for this. I inquired from the city electrician and city foreman and they were in the dark as to what it was bought for. If the timbers had been bought and the council sanctioned the buying I would have signed the cheque; but the council had not sanctioned the buying and I was quite within my right in refusing to sign the cheque. As long as I am on the council I will not sign cheques that are not approved first by the City Council. Ald. Hobson refused to sign, likewise Ald. Robbins, yet he claims the council are with him. His Worship deals with a horse that was bought by him and nothing was said about it. Perhaps he forgets that he asked my opinion about this same horse. The iron that was bought at the last meeting of the council had already been on a part of the Power house some ten or fifteen days before the council sanctioned the buy. There are dozens of citizens who are behind in their water and light—are they to have their names made public through the press? I hope not. I would be the last one to approve of such a step. In conclusion, I may say His Worship's attack was absolutely a big surprise to me. I never had the slightest trouble with him before, but why now? I have attended the meetings of the council and have been away only some four or five times. I could have got the report for the year out but considered it too early. There are other matters of a municipal nature which might be discussed, and a discussion might prove a benefit to the city at large, and for my part I would welcome it.

Yours truly,

W. A. SMYTHE.

Do not allow combustible rubbish to accumulate in or about the house, but do not burn quantities of paper, or other rubbish in a fireplace or in the firebox of a stove or furnace. The Rev. George Larder, who has been taking duty at St. Peter's church for some months, is now taking up his residence at the Rectory as Priest-in-charge, at the request of the Bishop of Kootenay and with the consent of the Church committee. Mr. Larder is a Master of Arts of Cambridge University, and was formerly Classical Exhibitioner and Scholar, and Greek Testament Prizeman, of Emmanuel College in that University. One of the first things taught to the Naval recruit before he goes on board his ship is that he must "salute the quarter deck" when passing onto it when on board, and that he must salute at the gangway as he passes on board his ship at any time whether from a boat or direct from the shore. This is an ancient custom and is carried out by every officer and man, whether he be the commander-in-chief in his own flagship or the ship cook's youngest boy assistant. It survives from the time when a statue of the Blessed Virgin—or a Crucifix—was in prominence near the quarter deck of every ship when the sailors "uncovered" their heads as they passed. Civilians and soldiers when passing on board should perform the same ceremony. The Naval salute is different to that used in the Army, the upper arm is not raised at right angles to the body, but to an angle of about 45 degrees from the perpendicular, while the palm of the hand, instead of being turned to the front is kept turned towards the face, the forefinger nearly touching the peak of the cap in line with the eyebrow. As in the army the "off hand" is used for saluting. The "able-bodied seaman" (or A.B.) is equivalent in rank to the private in the Army, and is expected to salute all officers (Naval and Military) in uniform, the same remarks apply to the sister service and all soldiers should salute naval officers when in uniform.

Dr. W. R. Sutherland returned from the coast yesterday.

R. D. McDonald has again taken charge of the Capitol barber shop.

Dr. Osterhout, Superintendent of Methodist Oriental Missions for British Columbia, spent yesterday in the city, the guest of Rev. B. C. Freeman. Dr. Osterhout is on his way home from a conference held in the East.

Fire which broke out about noon yesterday did considerable damage to R. Tapping's residence across the track. The fire is supposed to have been caused by an electric wire. Mr. and Mrs. Tapping are at present out of the city. Train No. 2 from Vancouver was held up for about 20 minutes owing to the fire hose being across the track.

At the Presbyterian church, Kamloops, on Wednesday, the marriage was solemnized of Miss Tessie Bain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Bain and Mr. William Barton of Revelstoke. The happy couple left immediately after the ceremony for coast cities where they will spend their honeymoon. The Mail-Herald joins in wishing them every happiness.

On Tuesday night the first of the series of dances under the auspices of Selkirk Lodge No. 12, I.O.O.F., was held and was a very enjoyable affair.

"The powers we have in connection with the prohibition of enlistment will naturally, be carefully used and every care will be taken not to abuse them. The board will get in touch with the management of all industries of the country and secure their assistance in preparing a list of callings and labor necessary to keep at home. We have nothing to do directly with recruiting, but undoubtedly, when the classification of the men is made it will be found that there are a large number of men in Canada who, in the opinion of the board, might well be sought as recruits or persuaded to enlist."

New York City.—"My little boy was in a very weak, delicate condition as a result of gastritis and the measles and there seemed no hope of saving his life. The doctor prescribed cod liver oil, but he could not take it. I decided to try Vinol—and with splendid results. It seemed to agree with him so that now he is a strong healthy boy."—Mrs. THOMAS FITZGERALD, 1090 Park Ave., N. Y. City.
