WOMEN'S RIGHTS AND DUTIES IN MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

Lecture is Listened to With Much Interest—Who May Vote—Question of What are Womens' Duties—Women form 90 per cent of the Buyers

High ideals for women's service to the state was the central thought running through the lecture delivered by W. B. Farris at the City Hall last Monday evening. The audience, composed of women interested in municipal franchise, was a very appreciative one, and it is safe to say no address ever given before women in this city was listened to with deeper interest.

The title announced was "Women's Rights and Duties in Municipal Affairs." Mr. Farris began by saying he had no difficulty in defining women's rights as municipal voters but in ascribing to them their duties he felt he had entered upon a wide field. Those who have the right to vote by the revised bylaw of 1915 are "all persons, male or female, of the full age of 21 years, who are British subjects and have been resident in this district since January 1st, 1916, and who occupy a dwelling or any part of a dwelling." These fall into four classes: (1) Property owners; (2) license holders; (3) holders of agreements of sale; (4) householders. Under the last heading all women not "property owners" may become entitled to vote on payment of the poll tax of $2. This is a sample of "equal rights," it being the requirement for men who are not in any of the other three classes.

Mr. Farris continued: "In defining women's duties the question assumes a wide outlook. To reach a definite line we must get down to first principles. Women are the home makers; they must direct their attention in public affairs into such channels as will result in benefit to the home. Women's first interest and duty is in connection with the home, its cleanliness, cheerfulness and healthfulness. Next to the home comes the neighbours and a still wider view embraces the city and its relation to the home, such as sanitation, food supplies, pure meat milk, etc. Often these things need regulating by civic authority and here the votes of the citizens enforce their requests. Women must therefore thoroughly understand their city and its needs.

"The public school curriculums should come under the parents' supervision. Are we acquiring education for our children at the sacrifice of their health? Are we demanding that they advance, regardless of the after-cost?

"Again, women are not always the wage-earners of the home but they form 10 per cent of the buyers. It is very desirable therefore that women should spend the family income with intelligence, and in this connection too little thought is given to the welfare of the home town. Here in Revelstoke, not less than $10,000 every month is sent out of the city in orders to mail-order houses back east. Most of this $10,000 is sent away by women for dry goods and even for groceries and other household supplies. If a sawmill were erected here with a monthly payroll of $10,000 coming into our city we would consider it an acquisition. There should be a meeting of the buyers of this town with the Merchants' Association to determine how this drain upon our city's dollars could be reduced, if not entirely avoided."

In conclusion, Mr. Farris expressed his pleasure at the keen interest women are showing and have always shown in all matters which are beneficial to the home and state. The ultimate goal will take years of patient endeavor, but the results are sure.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Farris at the close of his address. Many questions were asked and answered and a lively discussion followed.

A short business meeting resulted in the decision to form a woman's association to be known as the "Woman's Forum." A nomination committee was appointed to select officers. These will be elected at an open meeting in the City Hall next Monday evening at 8 p.m. All women are invited to attend. It is hoped that the Forum meetings will be found of great interest and benefit to all women.

Two Popular Soldiers Missing

A telegram from Ottawa reached Mr. Henry Hay on Saturday morning containing the sad announcement that his son, James Henry Hay, was missing and believed to be dead since Sept. 27. While the message leaves a ray of hope that Jim may be a prisoner or in hospital, the deepest sympathy of the entire community goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Hay and the family in these days of suspense.

James Hay was born in Revelstoke March 2nd, 22 years ago, when the Hay family occupied the residence standing on the site of the present Imperial Bank. His whole life was spent in this city until he joined the 54th in the spring of 1915, and left with them for overseas on July 16. He entered the trenches on his birthday last March and had completed nearly seven months of ceaseless duty going through many a hard fight without once being wounded, until the fatal charge on September 27.

On Saturday last Rev. C. A. Procunier received a telegram from Ottawa that his son, Sergt. C. A. Procunier was missing and believed to be seriously wounded. It is hoped that Charlie is in hospital somewhere. We are loth to believe that this bright young life has been sacrificed. Charlie was always one of the most popular and best liked boys of our city and a real Revelstoke boy, born in the Rectory the first week of March, twenty-two years ago. Jim Hay and Charlie Procunier were babies together and were school boys in the old Central only a few years ago. It is one of the saddest tragedies of war that two such bright young lives may have been sacrificed to purchase our liberty.

Grand Forks dairies have boosted the price of milk to 12½ cents a quart.

Resignation of Premier Scott

Hon. Walter Scott has resigned the premiership of Saskatchewan.

The Premier's action in relinquishing the office he has held for eleven years, was rendered necessary by the state of his health. Mr. Scott, never of rugged physical strength, was brought to death's door a few years after he became Premier by an acute attack of pneumonia. Since that time he has found it necessary to exercise great care. About four or five years ago he had another severe illness, at which time he was advised by a specialist that he must take even greater care of himself and refrain from the intense application to public matters which has characterized his whole career.

At that time Premier Scott desired to retire from politics, but he was prevailed upon by his colleagues to remain in office, and this he did in deference to their wishes. Last month however, after having been confined to his home for several weeks, Premier Scott found it necessary to leave Regina, and went South to again consult a specialist. He left the city with the object of getting the very best possible advice, and thus learning whether the hope of himself and his colleagues that a favorable report might be obtained. Word was received from Mr. Scott that after consultation with his medical adviser the latter declares that Mr. Scott must give up all work and responsibility for a considerable time and for a period of at least one year in order to regain his health. Under these circumstances Mr. Scott felt there was nothing else for him to do but to resign. He accordingly forwarded his resignation to Regina, and it reached the hands of the Lieutenant-Governor yesterday.

CITY COUNCIL HOLD INTERESTING MEETING

Mayor McKinnon Makes Change in Chairmanship of Finance Committee —Will Buy Lumber — Request From Y.M.C.A.—Thanks to H. Laugheed—Will Raise Crest at Power House

An interesting meeting of the City Council was held on Wednesday night when his worship, Mayor H. F. McKinnon, made a change in one of the committees, replacing the chairman of the finance committee and making that committee Alds. Hobson, Robbins and Barber until the end of the year.

In announcing the change His Worship said: "During the whole year I have had a great deal of trouble in securing reports from the chairman of the finance committee. I do not like to discuss this in his absence, but he promised he was coming back and has failed to return and I cannot let the matter drag further. The way things are going at present it will be impossible to secure a statement for the end of the year. The council as a whole has given the city clerk and myself every assistance possible in putting the affairs of the city in such shape as will enable us to keep the schools and the city business running smoothly. The chairman of the finance committee, apart from opposing the collection of taxes, by his actions, has opposed and attempted to block nearly every measure that tended to improve the financial state of the city. Mr. Gordon has been instructed to collect all back water and light accounts or else cut them off. The chairman of the finance committee a few days ago agreed to give the city treasurer a cheque for his arrears for water and light, but unless he has done so in the last 48 hours, and same is cashed, it is still unpaid and his water and light are still on. I am taking the responsibility on myself of changing the finance committee. I am taking off the name of W. A. Smythe and substituting that of the committee before mentioned. I think the council will bear me out when I state many matters have been referred to the finance committee but as yet we have never had a written report. It also seems impossible to have Mr. Smythe attend the meetings. I would now like to hear any objections to my action that the council desire to make." None of the council had any objections.

The matter of the purchase of two cars of timber from E. C. Fromey was then brought up. His Worship stated that he was approached by E. C. Fromey, who had property which was to be offered in the tax sale, Mr. Fromey stating that he would let the city have the lumber on condition that the amount be applied on his overdue taxes. The Mayor approached the city foreman and the chairman of the public works committee who stated that the lumber could be used in some work contemplated by the city. The lumber was examined and it was decided to make Mr. Fromey an offer of $10.00 per thousand for 5000 feet of plank and $6.00 per thousand for the balance. Mr. Fromey agreed to this but owing to the cheque not being signed Mr. Fromey's property was allowed to go to the tax sale, although the lumber was being bought at a low figure. "I was told Mr. Smythe's reason for this" said his worship, "was that he would show the Mayor and Ald. Bourne that they could not buy for the city." His Worship continued: "Some time ago I bought a horse for the city for $160.00 and I notice nothing was said against it. The matter of the lumber is up to you gentlemen to turn down or accept. It is immaterial to me what you do." The council passed a unanimous resolution to purchase the lumber and embodied in the resolution the purchasing of corrugated iron for the roofing of the power house.

A letter from A. H. Johnson of New Norway, Alberta, asking that his sewer tax be reduced was referred to the public works committee.

A vote of thanks was passed to H. Laugheed, who made a donation of a 40 foot rtad allowance to the city.

In reply to an enquiry from T. J. Wadman, Agent of Dominion Lands, the city clerk was instructed to write to Mr. Wadman asking the government to reserve the watersheds for the city on all creeks upon which the city might be dependent for their water supply.

A letter from the C.P.R. with reference to their power and light contract was laid over until next meeting.

A request from the Y.M.C.A. for a cement sidewalk at the East side of the building, that body to pay two-thirds of the cost in easy payments, was received. The council decided that as the work would cost in the neighbourhood of $80.00 that the Y.M.C.A. shoul be prepared to pay their share on the completion of the work.

The Women' Political Equality League asked the city to place upon the civic voters' list the names of wives of soldiers. It was decided that all wives of soldiers would receive a refund of the poll tax but would have to apply and fill out the usual form of declaration, only those able to qualify as to length of residence, etc., to be allowed to vote. The City Clerk stated that this was according to the act.

J. D. Sibbald wrote the council asking for a rebate of 5 per cent on taxes paid on certain properties before the morning of the tax sale. This being the amount of commission allowed by law. The council could not see their way clear to grant this.

A letter was read from Mrs. M. A. Hall asking that the refuse from the streets be deposited on a vacant lot owned by her on which there was a deep depression. As the street cleaning is practically over this year the letter was filed.

It was decided to raise the crest of the power dam where the piers had been taken off a height of eight feet.

C. North, city electrician, reported that he had suspicions that several consumers were stealing electric current and had already located and proved an offender and asked the council what steps they wished to take. The matter was referred to the city solicitor with instructions to prosecute.

A resolution of condolence will be sent to each of the citizens of Revelstoke who have lost relatives in the war.

REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING OF REVELSTOKE R.R.Y.M.C.A.

Those present were W. Bews, chairman; T. O'Neil, F. Paulding, N. R. Brown, W. L. Crawford, R. Chisholm Robt. Gordon, Robt. Howson, T. O. Ironsihe, physical director, and Secretary Thomson.

Reports of the following committees were read and adopted: House, Financial, Membership, Religious, Educational, Physical and General Secretary.

President Bews reported the sidewalk situation, after which a motion wgs passed to place application with Council for a cement walk with terms of payment.

The House committee reported that roof needed repairing and that Mr. Nelson had been working for some time on same, and the cost would be about $105.00. The action was approved.

The Educational committee reported that important provincial conferences on Leadership and Boys' Work are now being conducted, and suggested that the local Y.M.C.A. procure some of the leaders while on their way to the coast, and, further, arrange to have a father and son banquet, to be held on Monday, December 4, if the date is suitable for the speakers. This new feature was heartily endorsed by the Board.

The Physical committee placed the winter's program before the board.

An enthusiastic meeting of those interested in bowling was held Monday evening. Fred Bews was appointed chairman and Robt. Squarebriggs secretary. Eight teams constitute the league. Each member of a team is to pay 50c, which will be placed in the Association treasury for prizes. All games to commence at 8 sharp.

The campaign for new members is now in progress. The membership at present is 203. An attempt will be made to raise it to 400.

CATALOGUE BUYING SUMMED UP IN A NUTSHELL

Five concise and Potent Reasons For Home Buying—Business Suicide for Local Merchant to Handle inferior Lines—Quality of Mail-Order Goods—Only One Moral—Buy at Home

(Copyrighted 1915. All rights reserved.)

In summing up the case of the Local Merchant vs. the Catalog House, with you, Mr. Consumer, as high judge and jury, our sole purpose has been to put facts before you that will cause you to think.

If you have read the arguments presented, considered the statements made, then our one remaining hope is that you will dig in and investigate the matter for yourself. It is a problem that concerns you, Mr. Consumer immeasurably more than anyone else. It is a problem you ultimately must solve. No one else can do it for you convincingly. Go ahead and personally investigate the facts for yourself and we trust to your own good sense to conclude as follows:

(1) Considering quality, freight and service, home prices are as low or lower than mail-order prices. Statements by mail-order houses to the contrary notwithstanding. The mail-order house attracts business through playing upon man's weakness to look upon distant fields as greener than those at home.

(2) Home merchants are in position to render incomparably better service than distant houses, and they do give such service. This is true, because one who buys of a home merchant may see the goods in person, discuss merits of articles and prices, may readily exchange articles and have other privileges that are not possible when one deals with a mail-order house.

(3) By the nature of things one may rely upon home merchants more than upon distant mail-order houses. This because the home merchants meet their patrons face to face and have to make good. If a bad purchase is made it will be brought back or a personal complaint made. The mail-order house is virtually free from such trouble. You know what that means.

(4) The home merchant is in position to extend credit accommodations and is generous and courteous in doing so; not so the mail-order house. In this country where men and money are both busy, credit accommodations mean much. The home merchant is your friend when you are in need, and he is at least entitled to fair treatment when you have cash to spend.

(5) The interests of country people and of home merchants are identical and self-interest calls for patronizing such stores. Neither country nor town can exist without the other. The better the country the better the town and vice versa. A thriving town is of much material benefit to adjacent farmers. From pure selfishness farmers should give home merchants the preference when other conditions are equal. Thorough investigation will show the home dealer can meet mail-order competition on the same level and beat it.

QUALITY OF MAIL-ORDER GOODS.

With ever increasing rapidity, the mail-order business is stretching its tentacles over the vast rural districts of this nation, making the people its friend, starving the small retail dealer and killing small communities. Why is it that the supposed intelligent class of American people are so easily lured by these richly illustrated catalogs? What is the remedy for this? There is one thing every man who buys from a mail-order house should do. When his ordered goods reach him he should by all means compare the quality with the same goods sold by the home merchants. In nine cases out of ten he will find them inferior in quality and in workmanship to similarly priced goods offered right in his home town. It is the cheap goods which they sell you at cheap prices. That is what they handle. Here is a case in point:

Waterloo is a manufacturing town of 30,000 people, situated in northeastern Iowa. A firm in that town manufactured a popular line of cream separators, which had quite a sale throughout Iowa and adjoining states A Chicago mail-order house conceived the idea of handling cream separators in its business, and accordingly offered to take an entire year's output off the manufacturer's hands. The terms were liberal and the Waterloo man accepted the offer. No sooner was the bargain completed than the mail-order house sent an expert to Waterloo to cheapen the cost of production. He demanded less expensive materials here, less care and workmanship there until the manufacturer in high wrath declared that the house might put out such cheap shoddy separators if it liked, but that his name and brand should never go on them.

Now this is a fair sample of the factory work of mail-order houses. They talk about cheapening production, which means really that they cheapen it by using shoddy materials and doing slovenly work. The result is an inferior class of goods, which, if it even looks as well as the standard which your home merchant sells, will not wear nor hold its pleasing appearance half as long as the same article bought of your home merchant. His goods can be carefully inspected before you buy. There is but one moral—Buy at home!

St. Johns' Church Rally Banquet

On Friday evening October 13th, 1916, a rally banquet was held in the parlors of St. John's church to mark the opening of the winter's work in the various organizations of the church.

The tables were set and tastefully decorated by the ladies of the congregation. Promptly at 6.45 the gathering sat down. The merry people "fell to" with a hearty good will to enjoy the dainties so abundantly provided by the homes of the congregtion.

After all had partaken of a bountiful repast, the chairman, the Rev. A. Raeburn Gibson, extended a warm welcome to all present, and stated how gratifying it was to see such a large number of the congregation present, there being close on two hundred seated at the tables. The chairman then called on the following members, who spoke of the work being done, and of the work outlined for this winter in the different organizations.

Board of Managers: W. M. Lawrence and W. T. Johnson.

Ladies' Aid: Mrs. E. H. S. McLean and Mrs. Robt. Urquhart.

Sunday School: Ralph Chisholm and Fred Laing.

Adult Bible Class: Mrs. F. Laing and Miss I. B. Crowe.

Young People's Society: Miss F. M. Matheson and Miss E. Walker.

From what each of the speakers had to say, it showed that all branches had an extensive program prepared for the winter, and with one object in view, that of assisting the management in meeting the financial situation, each organization having taken upon themselves the responsibility of a certain amount.

A hearty vote of thanks was given to the ladies for the able way in which they had provided for the needs of the gathering, and a successful and enjoyable evening was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

Trail smelter ore shipments for the year now run well up above 375,000 tons.

THE WOMAN'S FORUM

At a meeting of the women of Revelstoke held in the City Hall on Monday night, an association was formed which will be known as the 'Woman's Forum." It is the intention of this association to take up many matters affecting the city of Revelstoke and to work for the betterment of the city. An association such as this, and run on broad lines, can do untold good for the welfare of any city. We wish the Woman's Forum every success.

FIRST PRINCIPLES OF ECONOMY

Conservation and development of home resources are first principles in national economy. Whether in the nation, the province, or the city, the rule holds good. Perhaps it appertains more strongly when applied to the affairs of our cities and towns than to those of the larger units in our national life. Above all it applies to the new urban communities of the west, striving against great odds to attain their place in the universal scheme of things.

Revelstoke and towns similarly situated are constantly menaced by the efforts of monopolistic corporations in the larger centres to cut the ground, as it were, from under their struggling younger competitors. Once the small town trader is put out of the way, by fair means or foul (it does not matter so long as success is attained) these monopolists know the wide countryside will be practically at their mercy; they may then regulate everything to suit their own convenience, the people MUST trade with them, generally on the monopolists' own terms, and their grip will daily tighten on the throats of their unfortunate victims, as their hoarded gains swell to bursting point.

THE BUY AT HOME CAMPAIGN

That the "Buy at Home" campaign inaugurated by the Mail-Herald is bearing results is evidenced by the many remarks heard on every side with reference to a remedy for the evil of sending money out of town

The remarks made by W. B. Farris on Monday night with reference to the welfare of our home town were to the point. Mr. Farris stated that $10,000 was being sent out of Revelstoke each month to mail-order houses. His suggestions that the buyers in Revelstoke form themselves into a club and interview the members of the Merchants' Association, is one which should not be overlooked. Something must be done and done at once to counteract the efforts of the mail-order houses.

FROM THE SANCTUMS

It may surprise some good Americans to learn that the Mexican members of the International commission have a long list of depridations said to have been committed by inhabitants of the United States south of the boundary. When it comes to keeping books on border ruffianism no one nation can always claim a clean score.—New York World.

The Ottawa newspaper correspondents, would, says the Ottawa Free Press, welcome the appearance of the Toronto World's new party, but only as the wearied spectators of a dog fight might welcome the advent of a third canine. The World's answer to this is that a "third dog has often ended a poor fight between two!" And around the outskirts of the World's mind is hovering the thought that it hates to obtrude on idealists just yet the idea that a third dog happening along may get away with the bone that the other two are fighting for.—Toronto News.

Germany is reported to be preparing a complaint against the destructive British "caterpillar" motors as inventions the use of which is contrary to recognized methods of civilized warfare. Admitting for argument's sake that warfare can be civilized under any methods, one recognizes the instant good grace of this protest coming from the originators of zeppelin warfare on women and children and of the submarine abuse which was marked by the Lusitania massacre. Frightfulness, by the Berlin standard, is the privilege only of a most-favored nation.—New York World.

AT THE THEATRES

Harold Bell Wright's novel, which had such an immense sale in the United States and Canada, and which is probably the most popular of all the novels written by the author of "The Shepherd of the Hills," has been dramatized by Mark Swan. A massive and beautiful production of the play presented by a carefully selected cast will be seen at the Empress Theatre, Monday, October 30. This is the only company presenting this play in either the United States or Canada, consequently the original production is guaranteed. Not a moving picture show,

Change From Last Year

The following schedule has been temporarily adopted by the physical department committee of the Y.M.C.A.

Seniors: Monday and Thursday, 8 to 9.30 p.m.

Busy Men: Monday and Thursday, 10 to 11 a.m.

Business Men: Monday and Wednesday, 5.30 to 6.30 p.m.

Intermediates: Tuesday and Friday, 7.30 to 8.30 p.m.

Older Boys: Monday and Thuraday, 4.15 to 5.30 p.m.

Juniors: Tuesday and Friday, 4.15 to 5.30 p.m.

Ladies' Class: Wednesday, 8 to 9.30.

School Girls' Class: Saturday, 2.30 to 3.30.

It will be noticed that a change from last year was made in dividing the boys into a larger boys division and a smaller boys division and changing the business men's class from Thursday to Wednesday evening at the old hour.

The committee plans to conduct the work in the boys classes on a team basis in an endeavor to make the work more interesting. The idea is to have all games, relays, races, etc., judged by the attendance and the securing of new members will score points for the team. These will be totalled until the end of the competition and the winners recognized in some way.

The classes for young women and girls will meet at the same hour and days as last year and will be started going as soon as possible.

MOST COMPLETE FOREST SYSTEM IN CANADA

Forest Fires in 1916 Result in Losses of over Nine Million Dollars—Cost of Fire Fighting Reduced 75 Per cent

Canada has lost through forest fires in 1916 over nine million dollars. This equals more than six times what has been spent on forest protection work from coast to coast.

The wastage through this year's forest fires, most of which were preventable, would add another $480 to the first year's pension allowances of nearly 19,000 Canadian soldiers.

While some parts of the Dominion owe to rainy weather their immunity from fire damage, the season's record proves beyond gainsay that in areas where first rate fire protection systems were in operation, losses of life and property were held down to a remarkable minimum.

Quebec had some heavy fires in the Lake St. John and Saguenay districts, also in the Gaspe Peninsula and west of Escalana on the Transcontinental Railway. It is a striking fact, however, that within the 24,000 square miles of Quebec covered by the two well-organized associations of limit holders, the amount of green timber burnt is practically negligible. This immunity was not a matter of luck but of consistent patient effort to educate settlers, lumberjacks and others in care with fire coupled with a system of promptly reporting all outbreaks, and attacking forest fires in their incipiency.

British Columbia faced fairly favorable fire conditions through the summer months and the cost of fire fighting was reduced by about 75 per cent. over the record of 1915. The number of fires was about half of last year. The British Columbia forest protection service is the most complete in Canada thus far, and the saving of timber is a logical consequence.

The wheat crop in the Okanagan Valley is lighter than usual this year.

VICTORIA MECCA OF LIBERAL POLITICIANS

Mr. Brewster Having no easy Time—Many Aspirants—A Summing up of the Situation

Victoria is today the mecca of Liberal politicians. The number of men who are ready to assume the cares and responsibilities of office are said to be such that three cabinets, each one about as good as another, could be filled by Mr. Brewster. There is no dearth of cabinet material, nor of cabinet aspirants, and Victoria is honestly curious to find out which particular seven of the thirty-five or forty Liberal members-elect will constitute the next cabinet.

Indeed the number to draw from is even greater, for it is said that two of Mr. Brewster's visitors from the mainland last week were gentlemen who, though outside of political life, felt that they have unique qualities above all other men in the province to take charge of the portfolios of agriculture and of lands. Of course, they have excellent precedent in their favor, for did not Sir Wilfred Laurier go outside the House of Commons to fill certain of his portfolios? And then there is the spare seat in Alberni all ready to be offered to any man of transcendant abilities, who may be needed to help pilot the ship of state into the golden waters of prosperity.

FINANCE FOR HIMSELF.

Mr. Brewster is regarded as positively certain to take the portfolio of finance in addition to the premiership. Finance lies very close to the heart of every problem which Mr. Brewster has set himself out to solve and his followers are all saying that it would inspire confidence abroad as well as commend itself to all at home if the incoming premier was to take personal oversight and charge of the department of finance.

This leaves six remaining departments to be filled, namely lands, works, mines, education, justice and agriculture. "Honest" John Oliver is admitted to have the first claim on the portfolio of agriculture as a practical agriculturalist, a former leader of the party and a stalwart who has fought its battles for many years. But gossip has it that "Honest John" is not ambitious to exchange the comfort of his domestic fireside for the fires and grillings which go with office. "Honest" John is not a downtrodden son of the soil. He is a rather prosperous, contented individual who flies round his constituency in a high-powered car and who can see just about as much service and a great deal more pleasure in being a private member as in being a minister of the crown. Unless his leader insists that he join him in the cabinet, it is said that "Honest" John may follow his own choice and stay out, allowing the portfolio to go to one or other of the younger agriculturalists of the scientific schools, with their parchments to show from the agricultural colleges.

LANDS DEPARTMENT.

Rumor has it that T. D. Pattullo of Prince Rupert and Dr. King of Cranbrook are pretty sure to be called to the cabinet. The first-named being spoken of in connection with the lands department and the latter with the portfolio of education and provincial secretaryship. Then there is Mr. Anderson of Kamloops, who threw the harpoon into John Pearson Shaw. The new member is a surveyor by profession and his friends think his experience valuable for a minister of public works.

Some quite delicate problems are said to arise in the minds of the political wiseacres over the disposition of the remaining three portfolios. Part of the problem arises from the claims and characters of the contestants, and part of it from the rivalry which exists between the upper country, Vancouver Island and the city of Vancouver.

Greater Vancouver contains nearly half of the population of the Province and under Premier Bowser was accorded two ministers. This is said to have aroused Liberal criticism in all the other sections of the province, who demand geographical representation without regard to population.

The latest move is said to be the uniting of the claims of Vancouver Island and of the upper country, in a demand that Vancouver receive but one portfolio, namely the attorney-generalship, and that the other portfolio be given to Nanaimo or one of the upper country constituencies. This is a new way of playing both ends against the middle.

MINISTRY OF MINES.

Both Ralph Smith of Vancouver and Wm. Sloan of Nanaimo have been put forward by various parties and bodies for the portfolio of mines, though the former has also been mentioned as a possibility for the department of public works. Both are old Nanaimo men and understand the coal mining business. Mr. Sloan, who made his fortune gold mining in the Yukon creeks, is also said to be financially interested in the Vancouver "Sun." On the other hand it is urged that coal mining is at its maximum in the province, and is of small importance compared to the great possibilities in metalliferous mining. Under the circumstances a good many shrewd political observers at the capital expect to see the portfolio of mines go to Mr. Thompson of Phoenix or to John Keen of Kaslo. Both of these men are said to understand the metal mining business, while the appointment of either would satisfy the claims of West Kootenay for cabinet representation. Mr. Sloan might then become president of the council and Mr. Ralph Smith minister of public works. Another slate relegated Mr. Smith to the speakership, but friends of the Vancouver member do not think this good enough for a man of his experience and ability. The claims of Mr. Pauline of Saanich were put forward by a coterie who a few days ago were claiming at least three seats in the cabinet for Vancouver Island.

The attorney-generalship is of course expected to go to Vancouver, which has two more or less eminent members of the legal profession among its successful candidates. It is rumored that this portfolio may not be filled for awhile, or filled temporarily until the Gosden case is disposed of so as not to embarrass Mr. M. A. Macdonald, who is the private prosecutor in the Gosden case.

Mr. Macdonald's friends, however, do not see any need for delay in appointing him to the cabinet, merely because the Gosden trial has been deferred, and will probably stoutly oppose any such move,

The Halifax Morning Chronicle says—A festival of music, music that thrilled and stilled, that set the blood tingling and the heart throbbing, yet held an audience hushed and breathless—that is the sort of music that the Royal Gwent Welsh Male Singers provided at the Academy of Music. No one wondered that they had won the prize over all Welsh choirs. Not even Wales could produce such another choir, with the perfection of tone, the delicacy of shading, the volume, the sweetness, displayed by these singers. From the magnificent opening number "The Soldier's Chorus" from Faust (Gounod) to "God Save the King," there was one succession of joys to him who had even the rudiments of music in his soul. St. Francis church was filled to the door at the early hour of 9 a.m., Wednesday, October 18, to witness the marriage of Miss Kathleen Fraser to Mr. Daniel Leary. Rev. Father Mckenzie officiated and the full marriage service of the church was sung. Miss Beatrice Fraser, sister of the bride arrived from Ontario on Tuesday to attend her sister as bridesmaid, while Mr. White assisted the groom. The bride wore a lovely wedding gown of white Duchesse satin with a sheer veil prettily arranged with orange blossoms over her dark hair, and looked the picture of radiant loveliness. After the ceremony the bridal party returned in autos to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fraser. A splendid wedding breakfast awaited them, where guests to the number of 36 sat down. After cutting the bride-cake the happy couple left on the noon train for a trip east, the bride wearing a handsome costume of purple velvet, trimmed with black fur, with hat and boots to match. Many old friends were at the station to see them off and furnish them with liberal donations of rice and confetti. Mr. and Mrs. Leary will visit for several weeks in Winnipeg and other eastern cities before returning to make their home in Revelstoke.
