Canadians Ready to Die to Protect English Homes

Interesting Letter from Geoffry Still, now Encamped on Salisbury Plain—Shares Tent with Four Revelstoke and One Comaplix Volunteers—Quaint Villages—Troops are Comfortably Quartered.

The following interesting letter from Geoffry Still who is now with the Canadian contingent at Salisbury plain has been received by Allan Thomson.

My Dear Thomson,—Just a line to let you know that we have arrived another thousand or so miles on our journey to the front. We will 'halt' here for a month or two for further training.I don't think any of us certainly none of the Revelstoke boys have lost an atom of desire to be 'up and at em', rather the other way One thing is very sure none of us who passed through Revelstoke on that famous Sunday will ever forget the reception given us, it was simply grand.

We are being treated very well here, I am enclosing you a newspaper cutting from one of the Plymouth papers which will save me describing our entrance into that "little isle just off the north coast of France," as an American school boy once said in answer to the teacher's question. "Where is London and what country is it the capital of?" Well I will not attempt to describe my impressions of England until I have seen a little more of it to judge the whole country by Salisbury Plain would be an awful injustice. The plains themselves look very like some parts of north western Alberta and I suppose is the only part of England that any way resembles the prairie, there are numerous little quaint, old fashioned villages nesting in the hollows composed of a dozen or so thatched roofed cottages, which look very strange to me, but one can hardly look at one of them without being impressed with the picturesqueness, cleanliness of windows, etc. and of the quiet peaceful life of their inhabitants. It makes a fellow think of what an awful thing it would be to bring war into the midst of it all. No wonder the British soldier fights. I don't blame him a bit, and believe me there is a 'bunch' in this little 'round up' that will lay down their very lives to help them to defend it and that 'bunch' is the little known regiment called the 102nd, Rocky Mountain Rangers, now known a little more widely as the 1st B.C., and I am sure Revelstoke won't have any reason to regret placing her honor in the hands of G. company.

Well, I started out to write you a letter not a novel, so I will try and give you some news of our camp life in England. In my tent I have G. D. Hamilton, C. F. Reede, A. D. Legge, and A. Y. Fulton all of Revelstoke, J.O. Creighton of Comaplix and two others, making eight all told, we have a board floor and straw mattresses with three blankets apiece which makes us very comfortable, in spite of the fact that winter is coming on. Our main training consists of route marching with just enough drill to keep us from getting rusty. The Canadian 'Tommies' is by for the best equipped when compared with the territorials in this country and when you consider his wages as well you will find he is a much sought after man especially in the villages $1.10 goes quite a long way in England, well now that is just about all I can say right now. Give my regards to J. Little, J. Hay, W. L. Stewart and others, and wishing the Revelstoke branch of the R.R.Y.M.C.A. every prosperity and good luck, I'll quit for a spell and give you a chance to say something, I remain,

Yours very sincerely,
GEOFFRY STILL

P.S. The Y.M.C.A. tent is about a hundred yards away from my tent, but I have not been down to it yet, guess I will go now. My address is:

(17059) Pte. G. Still, G. Coy. 1st, B.C. Regiment, 7th Battalion, 2nd, Brigade Canadian Expeditionary Force, West Down, South Salisbury Plains, England.

October 24, 1914.

The clipping from the English paper referred to is as follows:

Plymouth had the distinction yesterday of being the first to welcome the Canadian troops which have crossed the sea for active service on the continent. During the day some of the biggest English-Canadian liners steamed into Plymouth Sound and anchored in the inner waters. The arrival of the force was quite unexpected by the public. When the news became known cheering crowds welcomed the Canadians with the utmost enthusiasm.

Early in the morning two liners arrived in the Sound and were towed by government tugs into the Hamoaze. The rumor then spread that these were the first of the transports conveying the Canadian Expeditionary Force, and later in the day a long line of big ships was seen making for the port They stretched away far as the Eddystone, and presented a from the entrance to the sound as magnificent spectacle.

As each ship approached the harbor it was taken in charge by a government tug, which towed it through the narrow waters of the entrance to the harbor and conducted it to the anchorage off the dockyard. Crowds of people lined the Hoe and piers, while others went out in boats and heartily cheered the ships as they passed. All the decks were crowded with soldiers, who were evidently pleased to find themselves at the end of another stage of their journey to the front. Each time the people cheered the troops enthusiastically responded.

The arrival of the ships continued until late in the afternoon. When they reached the port they were formally welcomed by Admiral Sir G. le C. Egerton, the Commander-in-Chief, and Major-General A. P. Penton, who is in command of the fortress.

An Inspiring Scene.

As the ships passed into the Hamoaze their decks were seen to be swarming with troops, and there was great cheering by the people on shore. This was taken up by the Canadians, and the inspiring scene was continued throughout practically the day. Bands on board the vessels were playing lively airs. One transport which was moored close to Devonport Dockyard had a huge canvas bearing the word "Strathcona," indicating that those on board—a fine body of men—belonged to the regiment bearing the name of that famous Canadian. The first liner was moored at 9 o'clock in the morning and the last nearly 12 hours later. Some few of the troops were allowed ashore for a time at Devonport. As the ships lay in the stream at night they were ablaze with lights, and sounds of music and merriment came across the waters to the crowds, who responded heartily to the enthusiasm of the Canadians.

The Canadians are splendidly equipped. All are in khaki and on their shoulder straps is the one word "Canada." They have had a splendid though a somewhat long passage, 16 days having passed since they embarked.

Relief Society Enriched By Patriotic Sale

The patriotic sale at C.B. Hume & Co's. store goes merrily on. The bad weather yesterday proved neither dampening nor chilling to the patriotism of the citizens of Revelstoke. A steady stream of customers poured in the doors of C.B. Hume & Co's. departmental store all day and the coffers of the Revelstoke Relief society were very materially increased when the sales closed last night.

The department managers were all in their places and each had a splendid staff of willing and efficient helpers, chosen from among the young ladies of the city, and the service given justified the praise received.

The sale will continue all today and tonight. This evening an orchestra will be in attendance and a splendid program of vocal and instrumental music will be furnished.

The tea room has proved a most attractive rendezvous for all visitors and is offering even greater attractions today.

GENERAL SIR HORACE LOCKWOOD SMITH-DORRIEN

REVELSTOKE FOURTEEN YEARS AGO

(FROM THE KOOTENAY MAIL, NOV. 1, 1900)

At the sitting of the supreme court held in Revelstoke on Thursday last with Mr. Justice Irving presiding there were two cases referred to the grand jury, one of unlawfully wounding and one of stealing gold out of a sluice box, and true bills were presented in each. The grand jury composed of Dan Robinson, R. Howson, T.J. Graham, T.E.L. Taylor, C. E. Shaw, Thos. Lewis, C. J. Aman, H. C. Pratt, John Abrahamson, R. Tapping, W.M. Lawrence and Fred Baker elected T.E.L. Taylor as foreman and Messrs. Taylor, Pratt and Abramson a committee to draw up a presentment. Joseph Broom was arraigned on a charge of unlawfully wounding Frank Wollatz in May last. A. verdict of guilty was soon brought in, a sentence of three years imprisonment with hard labor being imposed. In the case of Jas. Pinkerton charged with stealing gold from a sluice box, several witnesses were heard, the evidence being chiefly circumstantial. Geo. S. McCarter appeared for the crown, and J. D. Swanson, of Kamloops, for the prisoner. Several witnesses spoke as to character and the judge, though stating that he had made up his mind to impose a sentence of seven years—half the maximum limit—placed the penalty at three years.

A sitting of the county court was held yesterday by Judge Forin the only case of importance being P. Burns & Co. vs. R. Samson, poundkeeper, to recover the amount of $225 paid as fee on sheep which were claimed by plaintiffs to have been illegally impounded. The witnesses included Charlie Montgomery, Freddie Turnross, R. Samson, Constable Shaw and H. N. Coursier. Geo. S. McCarter appeared for the plaintiff, and J. M. Scott for the defendant.

Frank F. Fulmer, of the Half-way House on Trout Lake road, S. Sutherland, of Ferguson, and E. J. Kerr, of Arrowhead, were in town yesterday. Louis Benoit is again on duty with the Revelstoke Street Car line having recovered from his injuries received almost four months ago. "Billy" Spellman and Miss Alice Northey were married at Northport Tuesday. Their many friends are offering congratulations while "Billy" is buying the cigars.—Industrial World. F.T. Abey returned Tuesday from his trip to the northwest. A. V. Stewart came up from Kamloops on Monday and is making preparations for the opening of a cigar factory in Revelstoke. His partner, Mr. Harris, will be here in a couple of weeks. Hon. W. C. Wells, chief commissioner of lands and works, and H. C. Killeen, government road inspector, were in town Tuesday. "Tom" Downie, who has been dispatching trains on the Pacific division of the C.P.R. ever since the road was built and who is now chief dispatcher at Revelstoke, was in Nelson on Saturday.—Nelson Tribune. The residence of the "'Appy 'Ome' family has been changed from the Savage building to that of the Salmon Arm Co-operative association on First street where the boys will hereafter be at home to their friends. W. B. Pool is up from Ferghson. He says the Nettie L. is showing up better than ever and that this winter it is expected that a shipment of 1000 tons will be made as they can now take out 10 tons a day easily with 18 men working. D. T. Hall, of Arrowhead was in town Saturday. A. Maroney, of Albert Canyon, was in town this week. W. H. Sargent came in from Bear Creek, Tuesday evening. Chris Foley is expected to speak in Arrowhead this evening. P. H. Peterson and John Olson registered at the Central on Friday. S. Daney, of Ferguson, was in town for a few days during the past week. Ralph Smith, M.P.P., has placed his resignation in the hands of Speaker Booth. Ches. and Ed. Armstrong returned this week from a two months visit in the east.. T. McNaught, of Halcyon Springs, came up from the south Tuesday evening. J. Nelson left Sunday for the Okanagan with his pack horses and will leave them there for the winter. Ed. Hillman came up from Thomson's Landing, Tuesday evening and left this morning on a week's visit to Calgary. The Inland Sentinel is advocating a curfew law to prohibit Indians from entering the city limits between the hours of 6 p.m. and 6 a.m. The Lardeau is the most talked of sectionin British Columbia, and, railway or no railway, it will be a warm place next year. The moment supplies can be got in next season several properties will commence sacking ore in addition to the Nettie L., Tribune and Silver Cup.

FIELD CONTRIBUTES TO PATRIOTIC FUND

Proceeds of two dances	$113.60
Cash collections, ...	167.00
Special donation for flour	100.00
Total	$380.60

The ladies of the society meet every Thursday and have made and shipped 8 cases of new clothing, etc., for the relief of soldiers.

CONCERT COMES NEXT FRIDAY

Excellent Programme Arranged For Patriotic Concert—Songs and Dances

Everything is ready for the Patriotic concert to be given next Friday in the opera house under the auspices of the Revelstoke Relief society and Mrs. H. H. McVity who has the management of the affair promises patrons an excellent evening's amusement.

The program which is published elsewhere in this issue includes solos, duets, instrumental music, glees, octettes, choruses and dances and the scenes to be presented are extremely pretty and attractive. The soloists and choruses include some of Revelstoke's favorite singers and bands of pretty children daintily attired will give some of the most enjoyable numbers on the program. Judging from the large numbers who have arranged to attend the performance the opera house will be crowded and those wishing to be present are advised to obtain tickets early.

ENGINEERS GO EAST MONDAY

British Columbia Horse to Assemble at Coast—Awaiting Orders

No recruits are being called for at present for the B. C. Horse. This statement was made authoritatively in order to clear a misunderstanding, apparently existing in some quarters, as to the steps being taken to mobilize a mounted regiment in the province. Not for a short time, it was explained, would it be known how many, if any, troopers are required to bring the force, which it is proposed to muster at the Willows Camp, up to full strength. As there are 125 officers and men there now, upwards of 320 in camp at Vernon, where they have been since August, and smaller detachments at both Kamloops and Vancouver, there is a possibility that no more will be required. That, however, is a matter which has yet to be decided. There is a possibility that about 25 more cavalrymen will be taken on, but until the plans now in tentative form assume definite shape, no official statement can be secured.

A detachment of 50 men and two officers will leave Vancouver for Ottawa next Monday. The majority have volunteered from the ranks of the 6th Field Company of Engineers.

HALF PROFITS PATRIOTIC FUND

Prizes Offered for Costumes at Firemen's Ball—Gallery for Spectators

Half of the profits of the seventh annual masquerade ball of No. 1, fire brigade, which will be held at the opera house on December 2, will be devoted to the Patriotic fund. Much interest is being taken in the event and costumes are already in preparation. Those in costume only will be allowed on the floor, but the gallery will be reserved for spectators and the scene is likely to be one well worth watching.

Handsome prizes are being offered for the best gentleman's costume, the best lady's costume, the best couple's costumes, the best original costume and the best comic costume. The music will be by Orr's orcheatra and delicious refreshments will be served. Robert Gordon will be floor manager Masks will be worn until the supper dance and costumes to qualify for prizes must be retained during the whole evening. The grand march will take place at 9.30. The affair will be one of the events of the season and a large number have already signified their intention of being present.

BUY CANADIAN MADE GOODS

Women's Canadian Club Advocates Support of Home Industries—Appeal Issued

At a meeting of the Womens' Canadian club held at the home of the president, on the afternoon of Aug. 16, the suggestion was made by Mrs. S.G. Robbins that the club adopt a resolution to the effect that the members buy only Canadian products and manufactured goods. After a somewhat animated discussion the suggestion was overruled and a motion passed that the members, in so far as possible, confine their buying to Canadian goods and come prepared at the next meeting to discuss the feasibility of adopting the proposed resolution.

At the next meeting, in September, the matter again came up for discussion and a committee composed of Mrs. Robbins, convenor, Mrs. J.W. Stevenson and Mrs. N. R. Brown was appointed to take up the matter systematically and ascertain in how far it was possible to supply the needs of a household confining the purchasers to Canadian goods, manu-

Dixmude Reported Again Captured by Allies

Russia has driven the Austrians out of the towns of Tarno Jaslo and Krosno in Galicia and the Austrians probably now are backing before the Muscovite forces towards the Carpathian mountains.

"The enemy has marched into Tarno Jaslo and Krosno" is the cryptic style in which Vienna officially announces this reverse to her arms. Petrograd merely announces the taking of Krosno with heavy losses to the Austrian rear guard. Nothing is said about the other two towns in the Russian report.

On the western battle front the allies are said to have retaken Dixmude from the Germans. This report is an unofficial one and has not been confirmed by either Paris or London. The fighting in the vicinity of Dixmude and also around Ypres continues extremely violent although it has slackened somewhat as compared with previous days.

In the western zone, both the allies and the Germans make claims to successes at various points. These claims however do not carry with them announcements of decisive victories at any point. The French say they have progressed to the south of Bixschoote, retaken the village of Ypres and repulsed a German offensive to the south of Ypres.

The Germans say that their marines at Nieuport inflicted heavy losses on the allies and that they captured 700 prisoners, that 1100 allies were taken captive at Ypres and that heavy casualties were inflicted on them in repulsing attacks around Soissons.

That big engagements are already in progress or are about to begin in the east all the way from the northeastern part of East Prussia to the eastern point of Galicia seems evident from the disposition of the Germans and the Russians. The battles have already taken place in the north east where the Germans are making preparations to contest vigorously any Russian attempt to gain a foothold in Eastern Prussia.

That huge sums of money will be necessary to prosecute the war is indicated by the British government notification that it will require parliament to vote a credit of $1,125,000,000 for expenses up to March 31. The French supplementary credit for the month of November amounts to $182,154,504 or a daily average of $6,000,000.

Emperor William is said to have established his headquarters at Goblens where armed Zeppelins constantly circle over his apartments.

HONEY CROP IS EXCELLENT

Total Output in Kootenay and Boundary Grows to Six Tons—Fine Quality

The honey crop for the past season in the province has been an excellent one, states W. J. Sheppard, provincial apiarist in Kootenay and Boundary. Favored by good weather during July and August the bees were able to do good work while the clover and other nectar yielding plants were at their best.

"In Kootenay and Boundary the total honey production this year has been six tons, the average per hive, spring count, being about 32 lbs. Although this average may not appear very high this is to be accounted for by the fact that a goodly proportion of the bee keepers are beginners and have not yet reached the producing stage. The largest apiary in the district produced 1½ tons of honey from 48 hives, spring count, or an average of about 5 lbs. per hive. The largest average yields in individual apiaries are as high as 200 lbs. and 170 lbs. per hive respectively. The latter yields were obtained in locations where white clover was more than usually abundant. There are many instances of an average yield of 100 lbs. per colony.

"In addition to the honey produced the colonies have now increased to a total of 750, or double the number of the spring count. The number of bee keepers is at present 108.

"The grade of Kootenay-Boundary honey is very even, as might be expected seeing that practically the same bee flora exists throughout the entire area. The color is generally a nice amber, being a little lighter in those localities where white clover predominates. The quality is first class and cannot be excelled anywhere and it would command the very highest price in any of the world's markets.

"This should be good news to those who realize the importance of the development of all natural resources within the province and the home production of all the foodstuffs possible. There is no question but that this industry is capable of very great expansion and there is no reason why any imported honey should be brought into the province at all when a better article can be produced here than can be obtained from outside and much more than sufficient for all requirements both now and in the future. To attain this the public could greatly assist by asking for the home grown article when purchasing honey, and seeing that they get it, and so benefit themselves as well as the honey producers," said Mr. Sheppard.

THE MAN WHO DOES NOT ADVERTISE

Breathes there a man with soul so dead
That to himself he hath not said,
"My trade of late is getting bad,
I'll try another ten-inch ad."
If such there be, go mark him well,
For him no bank account shall swell—
No angel watch the golden stair.
To welcome home a millionaire.

To such a man the noisy din
Of traffic may not enter in,
For bargain hunters by the score
Shall pass nor heed his dingy door;
For though his sign is on the wall
And on some barnyard gate a scrawl
No people who have cash and sense
Go prancing round to read the fence.

The man who never asks for trade
By local line or ad displayed
Cares more for rest than worldly gain
And patronage but gives him pain;
Tread lightly, friends, let no rude sound
Disturb his solitude profound.
Here let him live in calm repose
Unsought except by men he owes.

And when he dies, go plant him deep
That naught may break his dreamless sleep,
Where no rude clamor may dispel
The quiet that he loved so well,
And that the world may know its loss
Place on his grave a wreath of moss
And on the stone above, "Here lies
A man who wouldn't advertise."

Gratifying Showing In Sales of Timber

Despite many adverse circumstances the timber business in the province, shows a healthy stamina, which as reflected in returns to the forest branch of the provincial government, augurs well for the future. H. R. MacMillan, chief of the forest branch says that a remarkably good showing is made in the returns for October, the figures for timber sales in the month this year being very little short of the record set by the sales in the same month a year ago. Recent sales are:

To George Summer, a tract at Port Neville, containing 9,000,000 feet This realized $14,000 Three years is given in which to remove the timber, and the land when cleared will be admirably suited for settlement. To Ben Roberts, a tract on Redonda Island, containing 2,000,000 feet, which realized $3,000. To A. P. Allison, a tract at Cardero Channel of 400 acres, containing 16,000,000 feet, also 3,300 cords af shingle bolts. This realized $20,000. A portion of the land when cleared will be suitable for agricultural purposes. To the Kitsegukale Sawmill company, of Hazelton, an Indian concern, 1,000,000 feet, at Hazelton, which realized $1,300. This is fairly good land when cleared. To Prentice, Ramsden & Mack, at Deep Bay, north of Lund, 4,500,008, realizing $8,500. To the Western Logging Co., Vancouver, 925,000 feet of timber on Valdez Island, for $16,000. To T. B. Anderson, 475,000 feet at Pender Harbor, $800.

The total forest revenue for the month was in the neighborhood of $180,000, of which the great bulk was for timber license fees.

WORLD NEWS TERSELY TOLD

Owing to an outbreak of foot and mouth disease in Michigan and Illinois, railways have been notified not to bring into Canada any live stock, dogs, hay, fodder, straw, etc.

Germany has notified Britain through Jas. W. Gerrard, the American ambassador in Berlin, that if German civilians in Britain, excepting those against whom there are grounds of suspicion, are not liberated by November 5, all British subjects in Germany will be similarly arrested. The feeling on this subject in Berlin is high.

Marked improvement in the unemployed situation in Great Britain is contained in official reports made public by the British embassy at Washington, last week. The statement said the unemployment in manufacturing trades in October was 4.46 per cent., compared with 5.59 for September. These figures are remarkable since general unemployment is increased since the coming of winter.

Sydney messages indicate that the Australian government proposes going beyond the proposals made by the Saskatchewan farmers and to guarantee a fixed minimum price of four shillings per bushel for all wheat of all newly cultivated areas, also to guarantee 20 per cent of the bank advances for the clearance of new land and to supply seed wheat. It is expected 1,000,000 extra acres, at least, will be cropped next year, thus partially solving the unemployment difficulty.

A largely attended meeting of the Canadian club, held in the Metropolitan club in Seattle, appointed a committee to raise funds to relieve sufferers from the war, in connection with the British-American Relief association, after an address from H. Sheridan Bickers, formerly proprietor and editor of the Spokesman of British Columbia. L.G. Pattullo spoke of the work of the British-American Relief association and appealed for the co-operation of the Canadian club. Other short speeches were made by G. V. Holt and Prof. Sidey of the University of Washington.

The British navy has its full complement of men and is in a state of thorough efficiency. Such is the conclusion to be gathered from an intimation received at the naval service department at Ottawa to the effect that no more naval reservists or naval volunteers are required. One of the first calls made upon Canada by the Imperial authorities, when war broke out, was for the sending to England of all naval reservists, and no more are now required. The intimation is considered here to be a most gratifying proof of the tremendous efficiency of the British fleets.

The navigation of the Hudson Bay route will be much safer than formerly, this season, owing to the installation of buoys and other aids to navigation. Steamers and lighter ships have travelled to and fro in the straits and bay without a single mishap. Next year navigation conditions will be even better. The steamers Minto and Aronmere have just returned from the bay after having constructed ten light-houses which will be ready for next year's navigation. Seven of these are on the straits, and three of them on the bay. The lighthouses are built of iron and are 35 feet high. Sufficient gas will be provided each spring to keep the lighthouse alight during the season.

Fred Salter, European manager of the Grand Trunk railway in London, who served many years in the United States, has approached a number, of American friends, inviting them to support the Canadian War Contingent association. The result has been remarkable, not only in the generosity of subscriptions, but expressions of wishes accompanying them for the success of the British and allies. Several donors send $100 apiece, and with them are letters saying that while it is impossible publicly to go beyond President Wilson's expression in his message, the best opinion of America is fervently with those who are now seeking to root out the present German military policy. Many of the subscribers are German-Americans.

Boundary Between Alaska and Yukon Delineated

The task of delimiting the international boundary line between the panhandle portion of Alaska and the Yukon territory, which was started in 1904, has been finished and Noel J. Ogilvie, who has had charge of the work for the Canadian government since 1909, has returned to Vancouver. He will leave for Ottawa to prepare his maps and reports shortly.

The delimiting has been done jointly by the Canadian and the United States government. The latter finished its portion of the work last summer. Monuments made of metal and imbeded in concrete have been placed at intervals along the border. In the wooded sections a path 20 feet wide has been cleared to mark the division between the territories of the respective nations. The line of demarkation stretches over rugged mountain crags and summits, streams and torrents for approximately 1,000 miles. William Dennis has acted as assistant to Mr. Ogilvie. A party of 30 men has been engaged in completing the survey.

Okanagan in Direct Touch With Klondyke

With the completion of the Government Telephone line connecting Kamloops and Ashcroft, which has just been officially announced, there is now through telephonic communication between the Okanagan and the Klondyke, and in fact a large portion of Southern B. C., is now linked with the Cariboo country, Prince Rupert, the northern interior of this province, and even with Dawson City. When the southern extension, now being made, is completed, the country south to Oroville and the Boundary district will be included. It is very evidently the purpose of the Dominion government to make their very extensive telephone system as complete and serviceable as possible.—Summerland Review.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be issued for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to the Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

It is today less than six weeks to Christmas, and the familiar injunction to shop early once more becomes appropriate.

This year, particularly, there should be no procrastination in commencing Christmas shopping.

Many will, no doubt, this year send gifts to soldiers at the front and it is already time that such presents were dispatched if early delivery is to be assured. Gifts for the troops on Salisbury plain and for friends in England and abroad should also be soon dispatched.

In addition early shoppers should remember that they will have the first choice of the stores' Christmas stock, while those who come later will be forced to content themselves with what is left. This year merchants have bought more cautiously than usual and an early choice will be particularly desirable.

These are reasons which affect the interest of the purchaser but unselfish motives also prompt an early beginning of preparations for the Christmas gift giving.

Owing to the war business this autumn is comparatively quiet and merchants who are endeavoring to avoid the necessity of reducing their staffs would be encouraged in their public spirited desire to avoid unemployment if the public would spread the Christmas shopping over as long a period as possible.

For those employed in the stores the long hours and over work which often precede Christmas are a physical strain which deprives the holiday of half its joy. When shopping is begun early the tension is alleviated and Christmas becomes for salesman and purchaser alike a season of pleasure and good will.

The stores are preparing their Christmas displays, the up to date merchant will soon be advertising his seasonable wares in the columns of the Mail Herald and the public should prepare to take advantage without delay, of what is offered.

ANTI-MILITARISTS AND THE WAR

The Toronto Globe cannot, even in the face of the present crisis, abandon its familiar role of denouncing the so-called militarists of Britain and Canada. If the Old Land, it declares, increased its armaments and had compulsory military service, "the German autocrat would merely have precipitated this conflict earlier."

On the same principle, doubtless, as that which leads a footpad to attack an armed rather than an unarmed pedestrian. Things would be in a pretty mess now if men like the editor of the Globe had been taken as public guides by the people of the British empire.

The Toronto Star is a much better type of the newspaper which has had its pet theories knocked into a cocked hat by the course of events in Europe. The frankness of the following does it credit and stands out in marked contrast to the utterances of the other Liberal journal just quoted:

"The German attack on Belgium" it says, "was just what was needed to convert the advocates of non-intervention into relentless opponents of Germany. They had refused to believe the alarmists, and there was some reason for their scepticism. The cry of "wolf, wolf," had been raised so often that they would not hearken when the German wolf was really at their doors. When the wolf began to gobble up Belgium they were convinced. Some of the alarmists are now saying 'I told you so,' and we see no reason why they should not receive the credit due to men who gave a warning that was required. They are not to be blamed because others had raised false alarms. Let the whole world admit that it did not realize how malignant and how dangerous was the wolf of German militarism. And let the whole world unite in the wolf hunt."

The cause of peace has been much damaged by some of its professional advocates, who have devoted themselves largely to denouncing as jingoes those who have urged that though they recognized war as an evil, it was necessary for a nation to make reasonable provision for possible conflict.

The way to end war is not to go about attacking those who are alive to the necessities of national defence, and to speak of soldiers as if they were criminals.

Viscount Bryce, a sane friend of the cause of international peace, whose achievements in its behalf are many, pointed out the other day how such devastating conflicts as the present could be prevented. It was only, he declared, by the nations coming into agreement to settle all their disputes by arbitration, but they would still require armed forces to coerce recalcitrant powers, those which, like Germany, had no respect for "scraps of paper." If Germany, in defiance of the most solemn kind of an international agreement, won out in this war, all progress that has been made along this line would be wiped out.

FROM THE SANCTUMS

A REAL NEED

Nelson News: The success of the public market at Grand Forks and Nelson proves that these institutions are filling a real need in the communities which they serve. If any special provisions are necessary for their continuance during the winter they should if possible be made.

LOYAL CARLSTADT

Medicine Hat News: In the formation of a home guard which includes every adult male person within the corporation limits, Carlstadt has established a precedent and set an example for the towns of the Dominion. The guard, as a unit, will hardly be called upon for active duty, but in the event of Carlstadt being asked to contribute its quota for some future contingent, the town will be in a position to furnish men who are familiar with the manual and who are able to handle a rifle effectively. The older men, in enlisting in the home guard, have done much to stimulate and fire the ambition of the younger citizens. The further information that a thousand pairs of socks have been forwarded from Carlstadt to the boys at the front is additional evidence of the loyalty and patriotism of the citizens of that progressive town.

SPEND YOUR MONEY AT HOME

Nelson News: There is scarcely a business man in the Kootenay and Boundary districts but will admit that his prosperity depends to a very large extent upon the pay rolls of the various industries of this part of southern British Columbia, therefore they should do everything possible to assist in making the pay rolls larger. One way in which this can be done is by having every possible lot of printed matter required in their stores done in their own locality. The printing and publishing industry in the Kootenay and Boundary district represents an invested capital of a quarter million dollars and a pay roll of at least one hundred thousand dollars per annum. The various shops have sufficient equipment to handle almost any variety of work and yet there are a few business men who unthinkingly contribute to the pay rolls of eastern cities by placing orders for work there that might just as well be done at home. About 60 per cent of the total income of printing and publishing plants is paid out in wages. When a merchant sends a $50 order east for printed matter, he deprives a man in his own town, who might be a customer of this same merchant, of a full week's wages. The moral is plain.

A JUDICIAL VERDICT

Edmonton Journal: The Philadelphia Public Ledger, a daily paper with a long and honorable history, which was recently purchased by the proprietors of the Saturday Evening Post and the Ladies' Home Journal, conducted an interesting experiment recently. It gathered together the 'white,' 'orange' and 'grey' books of the warring nations and submitted them to Mr. James M. Beck, a leader of the New York Bar and a former assistant attorney-general of the United States, with the request that he analyse them and render a decision as he would if he were on the bench. That now appears and occupies two whole pages of the Public Ledger. No more complete or dispassionate review of the case between the nations has appeared anywhere. Was England justified in declaring war on Germany? Mr. Beck holds that England was not only abundantly justified, but was in honor bound to do so, for Germany's action in regard to Belgium, whose neutrality England was solemnly pledged to protect, was "the negation of all that civilization stands for." A supreme court, he declares, could have no ground for doubt or hesitation on this point. Its judgment would speedy and inexorable.

AT THE THEATRES

Peg O' My Heart, provided a most pleasant evening's amusement to play goers at the opera house on Thursday evening. It is a charming comedy, full of bright dialogue and was given the fullest justice by Oliver Morosco's capable company. The plot contrasts the attractive character of a daughter of the people with less attractive members of a family in a higher social sphere and the heroine's sententious sentences drew much applause. The captious critic might find improbalities in the story but it is plausible enough and the characters were well taken. Helen Raftery as Ethel and L. Yorke Erskin as Alaric gave especially satisfactory portrayals and Marion Dentler as Peg won a warm place for herself in the affections of the audience.

The great society drama "The Two Waifs" will be the leading picture at the Empress theatre tonight. The Strand war series will be shown as well as "Out of the Valley," "Battle Royal" and "Sophia of the Films." On Monday night "Allah 3311" in three parts will be shown. Other pictures on that night will be "Universal Boy," "His Brothers Wives" and "The Man of Her Choice." Tuesday night will see a return of the "Famous Players" series in four reels. On Wednesday night the feature will be "Discord and Harmony." A great serial "The Trey of Hearts" is coming in the near future.

Mrs. Robbins handed in her report on Monday night at the November meeting of the club. She had entered into correspondence with the authorities and read the following letters:

Mrs. Jeanne A. Robbins,
Revelstoke, B. C.

Dear Madame,—Yours of 26th inst. to the secretary of the board of trade, Vancouver, has been referred to me. I notice that a motion was carried at the last meeting of the Canadian Womens' club at Revelstoke that the ladies of Revelstoke should as far as possible buy and use Canadian goods exclusively.

I am sending you by mail a directory entitled "Who makes What in B.C." This book shows a number of the staple commodities manufactured in this province, and I would suggent that the ladies of Revelstoke endeavor to use the goods manufactured here, and failing them obtaining same then goods manufactured in Canada and after that the British Empire.

We have to build up our province, by so doing we build up Canada and assist the Empire, and in this present time when work is scarce and there are so many unemployed, every dollar spent on British Columbia goods means employment for someone.

If I can give you any information along those lines I will be pleased to do so, and so far as Canadian made goods are concerned would recommend that you write the secretary of the Canadian Manufacturers association at Toronto and get a copy of their trade index.

Yours truly,
J. HART, Secretary.

Mrs. Jeanne A. Robbins,
Revelstoke, B.C.

Dear Madam,—We have your letter of the 19th instant making a request for a copy of the Trade Index.

In advising you that we have sent this to you by Dominion Express, prepaid, with the compliments of the association, permit me to express my sense of pleasure in knowing that the Womens' Canadian club of Revelstoke is partaking in a thoroughly patriotic action.

Yours faithfully,
ALEX MARSHALL

The Trade Index is in the hands of the club and any one desirous of looking over it may borrow it by applying to Mrs. Robbins.

The Canadian club have since listening to this report adopted a resolution, as is being done generally in the Dominion, to buy only such goods as are grown and made ready for the market in Canada. The club members are only a small portion of the women of this city so an appeal is made by the club to all the women to help in this way and buy only articles made first in British Columbia, second in Canada and lastly in the British empire.

Civilized Being is Happier than Barbarian

A good crowd turned out to the meeting of the Literary and Debating society of the Y.M.C.A., last evening. The subject for debate was, resolved: "That the civilized being is happier than the barbarian." On the vote of the audience the affirmative won.

Next Friday evening at 7 o'clock, the following subject will be debated upon, resolved: "That more crimes are due to wealth than poverty." The affirmative side will be taken by H. N. Coursier, James L. Lawrence, and Dalton L. Twiss, the negative by H. Mortimer, James L. Hay, and R. D. Colpitts.

The time of meeting has been changed to give the members an opportunity to go to the Patriotic concert.

Volunteer Writes Letter from Willows Camp

The following letter from L. W. Norris, D. Co. 102nd regiment has been received from the Willows camp:

Willows Camp, Victoria B.C.

Dear Mrs. Creech:—I will endeavor to write you folks a few lines now. There is such a darn racket in here that you can hardly hear yourself think I am lying in bed writing and I expect "lights out" any moment. We had a good trip out here, considering the accommodations that we had. It is raining here tonight. I am bunking with Walter Robinson, we just came in from down town where we were taking in the show and other things too numerous to mention. We are being drilled pretty hard and being fed light. Believe me I won't be so plump after I have been here for awhile. I was assigned to the duties of table orderly today. We have to take turns at that job, and it is some job. After everyone has eaten we have to wash all the tables and clean up generally, after 900 men have had grub. Some job, and some dirty. Passed my exam. all O.K. yesterday. There are very few being sent back. Only one out of our crowd was turned down.

I will try and finish my letter now the lights were turned off last night and I had to stop writing.

We were roused at 6.30 this morning and given a half mile run out on the track to work up an appetite. We don't need an appetizer, because we only had bread and butter for breakfast. Well Mrs. Creech I will ring off. Remember me to all the folks and tell Frank to write.

Recruits for Home Guard Are Being Enrolled

Capt. T.E.L. Taylor and Lieut. Wallace are inviting new recruits to join the Home Guard, as many members of the guard have already gone to the front.

"What does it cost young men", says Lieut Wallace, "if they prepare in this manner even though peace should be declared before a third contingent goes and the invasion does not come. One hour of time per week.

"Then the question arises, what do you gain? You gain exercise, knowledge, discipline, self control, confidence in yourself and your companions and a feeling that you are helping out. Join the Home Guard."

Engineers Go East

This is hard on the medicine man, but good for the rest of us. Canada has a million and a half barrels of apples to eat this year that always went to Germany. How will you have yours, baked, stewed or in pie. Personally, I prefer the old fashioned "Apple Sass."

Notes from the Mines

Owing to the cold weather causing the pumps to freeze, all work has been suspended for this season at the diamond drill camp in Windfall canyon.—Hedley Gazette.

A meeting of the shareholders in the Silver King group, the Iron Mountain group, and the Sunset group (gold) was held recently in Chilliwack, when the report of Mining Engineer Crossland on the three properties was received. Mr. Crossland is highly recommended, and is retained the year round by large mining interests in the north. On behalf of the local companies he made an inspection of the claims in the Chilliwack Lake district. His report on the Silver King, on which there has been expended about $6,000 in development work, was very encouraging to the owners. The group contains gold, silver and copper, and Mr. Crossland reported 25,000 tons of ore in sight, and recommended the driving of three sixteen foot tunnels in the property. The iron in the Iron Mountain group was stated to be of good quality, but that it does not exist in sufficient tonnage to be a paying proposition. It was strongly recommended that the Sunset mine be opened up and developed, as there is an immense formation, with the indications good, and a first class prospect.—Chilliwack Progress.

Granite Creek placer camp, is one of many historic episodes and gold stampedes of bygone days, has lost nothing of its mineral attractions. It is the opinion of experienced gold hunters that the placers there are by no means exhausted, and that both bar and bench diggings will well repay systematic mining. Some large nuggets and coarse gold with platinum have been taken from the creek this summer. Miners have had satisfactory returns from paystreaks, and all are encouraged with the season's operations. It is estimated that about $5,000 in gold and platinum have been extracted from the creek this season. For the past four years J. A. Macpherson has been prospecting on Chrisholm Creek, near Stanley, in an effort to locate the original channel of this creek. The past few months, with the assistance of an eastern capitalist, he has been conducting boring operations, and we learn that they have been successful in locating the original channel, up near the base of Oregon Gulch mountain. Their boring has proved up a well defined channel, with excellent prospects. This creek has an interesting history. It is the centre of the Cariboo gold belt, and was extensively prospected in the early days, in the deep ground directly beneath the present creek bed, but without paying results. Mr. Macpherson is now boring directly over the channel, and will tap it by a tunnel during the coming winter. The locating of the channel will mean much to that section of the Cariboo.—Observer.

Alfalfa is Profitable Crop in Alberta

Irrigated lands in Southern Alberta when devoted to alfalfa growing, return a net profit of eight per cent. on a valuation of over $100.00 per acre, according to S. S. Dunham, chairman of the Rural Relations committee of the Lethbridge board of trade.

Mr. Dunham presented his figures at a meeting of farmers recently held near Lethbridge to petition the Dominion government to extend the irrigation systems in southern Alberta. A petition, preying the government to undertake important irrigation enterprises, was signed by over 200 farmers. The cost of bringing the land under irrigation was estimated at $18.00 per acre, and the farmers expressed their willingness to pay this amount, with interest at four per cent., the government to extend repayment over a period of 40 years.

It was in connection with the estimated cost of $18. per acre that Mr. Dunham presented his figures.

"Get irrigation at $18. an acre if you can," he said. "If you cannot get it at $18 an acre, get it at $50 or $60, but get it."

Mr. Dunham proceeded to show the profits which irrigation made possible. He instanced alfalfa, which has come to be an important crop in the irrigated areas of Alberta, and presented the following figures for an acre of Alfalfa: $1.00 an acre for water; 75 cents for applying the water three times during the season, and $3.75 per acre for putting the crop in stack—a total cost of $5.50 per acre. A crop of 2½ tons per acre (many irrigation farmers are getting four and five tons per acre) would show a net profit of $8.25 per acre at the low price actually increasing its fertility. On this basis alfalfa will pay eight per cent. net profit on land valued at $103.33 per acre.

The fact that farmers were irrigation is not available are petitioning for it and are willing to bear the whole cost of its installation is a tribute to the success of the irrigation enterprises already established in Alberta, which include the immense undertaking of the Canadian Pacific railway, the largest irrigation project on the American continent.

Nelson Market is Proving Great Success

J. E. Annable, formerly mayor of Nelson, was in the city on Thursday and left yesterday morning for the south.

Conditions in Nelson, he says, are not unfavorable and business in Rossland he declares is particularly good. The public market in Nelson is proving very successful, some 20 farmers wagons arriving every Saturday. Large quantities of meat and poultry are offered for sale as well as fruit and other produce. The market is well patronized by buyers and good prices are obtained.

Increase in Membership in Women's Institutes

The success attending the formation of women's instututes in the province under the auspices of the agricultural department, has been very marked. At the end of 1913 there were 34 women's institutes incorporated in the province, with a total membership of 1,905. These institutes held altogether some 364 meetings in that year, at which there was an attendance of 7,300, thus averaging 20 per meeting. At these meetings there were 245 papers read and addresses given. Chilliwack headed the list with 20 meetings during the year.

The financial side is well to the fore, the total receipts of the thirty-four institutes during the year being no less than $7,853.23, with an expenditure of $5,556.66, leaving a balance to carry over to this year of $2,296.57.

The Women's Institute of Penticton headed the list in the matter of financial receipts, with a total revenue of $1,068.75. This, however, represents the result of a special effort on behalf of the local hospital fund.

During the present year the movement has gone ahead even more vigorously than before, until there are now no fewer than 45 women's institutes, with a membership of 2,500. On Vancouver Island there are twelve, founteen on the lower Mainland, and nineteen in the Upper country, including Kootenay, Okanagan and Boundary districts.

Calgary curlers will be homeless this winter. And the war can be directly blamed for it. A short while ago it was announced that the military authorities would use the horse show building and several of the stables at the exhibition grounds as a training school for the recruits, but it now develops that in addition to this the agricultural building will also be used. The agricultural building has been used for a number of years as a curling rink during the winter months. Before the horse show building was utilized as a curling rink the agricultural rink housed the Victoria club. For the past two seasons the Civic Curling club has used the agricultural building and had planned to use it again this season.

Military Tactics

The wise military commander changes his plan of campaign to fit conditions as the progress of events dictates. The wise business commander does the same.

Firms that have never before seen the tremendous power of well directed, skilfully-prepared advertising based on a plan that is fundamentally right, will make use of this modern merchandising force now; old advertisers, wise and experienced, will expand along new lines—by means of advertising.

Canada is face to face today with enormous opportunities. new markets are opening, new opportunities are unrolling before established business. What is required is quick re-adjustment, a change of the plan of campaign to fit the new conditions.

Newspaper advertising will be the right-hand assistant of those who forge ahead in this crisis, not ordinary advertising however; the efficiency will have to be high, the plan and copy carefully laid out and skilfully prepared.

No expense nor obligation attaches to a friendly discussion of the new opportunities either in person or by mail. The fate of YOUR business may rest on your decision to act on this suggestion.

VON KLUCK

GERMANY'S GREAT GENERAL

Gen. Alexander H. R. von Kluck, the commander of the German right wing, whose spectacular march upon Paris and even more spectacular retreat have focused the attention of the world upon him, will be 69 years old on May 20 next.

He was born in Munster and his father was a commoner of no influence. Young Kluck (his "von" is very recent) become an ensign in the 65th regiment of infantry when he was 20, and saw service a few months afterward in the Austro-Prussian war of 1866, in which he won a lieutenancy. In this modest rank, says the Baltimore Evening Sun, he remained for seven years, despite the fact that he fought gallantly in the France-Prussian war of 1870-71, and was twice severely wounded before Metz, and got the Iron Cross for valor. In 1873 he was promoted to a captaincy and three years later he was made an adjutant of the 28th brigade of infantry. During the remainder of the 70's he served with various commands as a captain, helping to drill the huge army that the new Germany was gradually bringing into training.

Promoted by Von Moltke.

Meanwhile he had attracted the attention of old Helmuth von Moltke, the victor of 1870 and in 1881 he was made a company commander in the school for officers in Pulich. In 1884 he was transferred to the school at Annaburg and three years later he was made a major and transferred to Neubreisach. It was during this time that his remarkable grasp of military science began to show itself. He was one of the young officers who battled steadily and persistently for modern artillery, modern equipment and modern methods, and bit by bit he forced his views upon his superiors. In 1893 he was transferred back to the line as lieutenant colonel of the 66th regiment and in 1896, at the age of 50 he got his colonelcy. His first command was the 34th regiment of foot.

By this time Kluck's unusual capacity began to be thoroughly understood in the highest circles, and he kept on climbing the ladder. In 1899 he was made a major general, in 1902 a lieutenant general and in 1906 he was put in command of the 5th army corps. In the same year he was promoted to the high rank of general of infantry and was transferred to the 1st army corps with headquarters on the Russian border and in 1911 the kaiser granted him the right to use "von" before his name and so lifted him to equality with the aristocrats of the general staff.

During his term of service in East Prussia Kluck was engaged upon the construction of the long chain of submerged forts which the Germans now rely upon to keep the Russians out of Berlin. The forts according to the best available accounts, are quite different from those that the German "Busy Berthas" have been pounding to pieces at Antwerp. They are flat with the ground and present no target whatever. The great guns with which they are mounted are in deep pits and arise on disappearing carriages only at the moment of firing. How many of such forts the Germans have between Dantzig and Allenstein is not known, but it is highly probable that they are not more than two or three miles apart.

A short time before war was declared Von Kluck was made inspector general—there are but eight of these in the whole of Germany—and put in command of the 2nd, 5th and 6th army corps, with headquarters in Berlin. His office, of course made him a member of the general staff and he took a leading part in those preparations that have contributed so much to the amazing progress of the German army.

Kluck is essentially an infantry commander and his great dash through Belgium and northern France to the very gates of Paris was made almost wholly with foot soldiers. In the course of this dash he broke all world's marching records. After the first battle with the British at Mons he pushed forward four whole army corps at the rate of 25 miles a day and after his delay at Cambrai, which allowed the retiring British to get a day's start of him, he proceeded for a while even faster.

So fast was the movement of his army, in fact, that it came in contact with the outer ring of Paris forts before the force under Von Boehn, on his left, had covered much more than half the distance from the Belgian frontier. As a result Von Kluck was compelled to turn sharply to the eastward, and so march across the front of the French position. His successful accomplishment of this manoeuver in the face of 400,000 fresh French troops, not to mention the British retreating in front of him made him stand out as the first truly arresting figure of the war. And his successful resistance of all efforts to envelop him since has made even the French acknowledge his amazing capacity as a leader.

As for the Germans they feel secure with Kluck in the field. His tremendous enterprise and unshakable pertinacity recall forcibly the tactics of Stonewall Jackson. Like Jackson he is a scientific soldier, and like Jackson he is also of vast daring and resourcefulness in the field.

SHEEP RAISING IS PROFITABLE

Canada Should be a Good Sheep Country—Small Flocks Pay

Conditions in Canada are as favorable for raising sheep as for cattle, horses or swine. Yet we find these latter have rapidly increased during the past 35 years, while there has been a considerable decline in the number of sheep raised during the same period. Various reasons are given for this falling off. Mutton and wool prices fell, and sheep-keeping, conducted carelessly, brought little profit. The thorough-going sheepman, however, did not find it necessary to abandon the business, and he has consequently reaped the reward of good prices and cleaner and richer land.

Much effort has been put forth to further the swine and cattle industries, but sheep culture has been allowed to drift along with the current of indifference. In 1911, however, work was undertaken by the Ontario Department of Agriculture having as its object to stimulate this neglected industry and to demonstrate that sheep-raising pays. Nine flocks, of from ten to twelve grade ewes per flock, in various parts of Ontario, were used in the demonstration. These were owned by the farmer in each case and the work was conducted in a manner quite within the reach of all other farmers who own, or could own, sheep. Interest on the capital invested in the flock and the cost of feed were in each case deducted from the receipts. In every instance substantial net profits were made, the average being within a few cents of $39.00 per flock per year, or $3.50 per head. Leading sheep papers of the United States are forecasting good times for sheepmen, and do not seem far wrong; when it is considered that during the war there will doubtless be thousands of sheep destroyed in Europe, it would seem to be an opportune time for those contemplating entering upon the breeding of sheep to get a few breeding ewes and start a flock.

It does not cost much to start in business, and the monetary returns are rapid; the wool and the lamb crop are saleable annually. Sheep eat almost all classes of weeds and, as their manure is rich and evenly distributed, they are great soil improves. Expensive buildings and constant care are unnecessary.

"Sheep-Raising Pays." Try it with a flock of ten or twelve grade ewes, and a pure bred ram, and increase the profits from your farm, and at the same time, you will be cleaning and enriching your land.

YOU CAN'T EARN MONEY WHEN YOU'RE LAID UP

There are a lot of people in this town who cannot afford to be sick. Perhaps none of you feel that you can, but certainly some of you can't for as soon as you are sick, your wages stop and worry and debt begin to pile up. The sensible thing for you to do, as soon as you feel rundown and woro out, no matter what the cause, is to take something just as quick as you can to build up strength and health. Make yourself more comfortable and provide against serious sickness.

We don't believe there is any other medicine made that will do as much towards saving your health and thus helping you save your money as Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. It is a medicine that gets right at the trouble and relieves it by toning the nerves, enriching the blood, and giving new strangth and health to the whole body. It doesn't do this by means of alchol or habit-forming drugs, because it contains none. Its strength and health-giving power is due to pure Olive Oil and the Hypophoshites, long endorsed by successful physicians, the one for its food value, the other for its tonic value. Here, for the first time, they are combined, and the result is a real nerve, blood and body-building medicine—a real strengthener that we are proud to tell you about. You don't need to hesitate in using it, because if it doeso't do all we say it will and satisfy you in every way, it will cost you nothing. If it doesn't ake you strong and well again, come back and get your money. It will be given to you without word or question. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us. $1.00. —Bews Drug Store.

Summerland Volunteer Shot at Penticton

Summerland Review: It was a happy little group of four that left here last night to join others of the Rocky Mountain Rough Riders at Penticton to proceed from there this morning to camp at Vancouver. Today one of the party, Tom Hickey, is lying in the Summerland hospital with a bullet in his leg. The accident—it was an accident as far as Tom was concerned—occurred in the Aquatic club at Penticton last evening.

There had been speeches by the Reeve and Councillors and the ministers of the different Penticton churches, delivered from the bandstand, and after the crowd followed the volunteers to the Aquatic clubhouse, where a photograph of the group was taken. They then leisurely dispersed, and there were not many left in the building when a rifle shot was heard, and Hickey, who was just shaking hands with G. Harmount, grasped the latter's shoulder, crying that he had been shot. He was near the front door facing the Incola hotel at the time, and the shot was seemingly fired from a door on the opposite side next the lake.

It is currently reported that on several occasions a certain citizen of Penticton has been threatened, and that more than once he has had narrow escapes. This man so marked is said to have been one of the volunteers, and to have been standing close to Hickey when the shot was fired.

On enquiry this morning the Review learns that the Penticton police have not yet made any arrests, although they are actively engaged on the case. Certain footprints in the rear of the building were discovered this morning, and may lead to an early arrest.

The injured man was given first aid treatment at Penticton and brought up to the Summerland hospital this morning. The bullet struck a short distance above the ankle of the left leg, and it was found that the bone was shattered and the bullet embedded in the back of the leg. It was not not until after considerable trouble that the missile was located. The attending surgeon says that Hickey has received a compound fracture, and will probably be laid up for six or eight weeks.

One of Hickey's first requests last night was that his position in the troop be kept open for him.

BRUCE McRAE

In "The Ring and the Man" in Four Reels of Moving Pictures at Empress Theatre, Tuesday Next

Bruce McRae in "The Ring and the Man" in four reels of moving pictures, at Empress theatre, Tuesday next. Bruce McRae, the distinguished dramatic actor, makes his first appearance on the screen in the popular story of love and politics, "The Ring and the Man," by Cyrus Townsend Brady. The commanding personality and splendid poise of Bruce McRae fit him peculiarly for the role of Gormly, the man whose bravery and self-possession in the face of crucial circumstances enable him to successfully oppose the corrupt forces of the gigantic political ring that is trying to ruin him. Gormly's real name is Fordyce, but the shadow of a crime which hangs over his past has caused him to change it to Gormly, by which name he is known to his business associates and the public, who respect him as a great merchant-prince and reform candidate for Mayor. Back of Gormly's ambition is a good and beautiful woman, Eleanor Haldane, whose father is President of the Gotham Traction Co., a powerful corporation which has always controlled the city's administration. The Gotham Company and Gormly become involved in business complications, and Gormly, seeing the evilness of city politics, partly through a desire to destroy the power of the Gotham Company, and partly to realize Miss Haldane's faith in him, decides to enter the mayoralty race, and is seen far in the lead of the Gotham Company's candidate. Another woman in Gormly's life—a woman of the past—now tries to regain her power over Gormly, and failing, takes the great secret of his former life to the Chief of Police, who is a tool of the Gotham Company. The Chief calls on Gormly and threatens to expose him unless he withdraws from the race. Gormly courageously refuses. Haldane is informed of this development by the Chief of Police, and knowing of Gormly's love for his daughter urges her to offer herself as wife to Gormly if he will cease his fight against the Gotham Company. Loving her father, and wishing to test Gormly, Elizabeth does this, and is both pleased and grieved when Gormly sacrifices even his love for his principles, and refuses to be bribed even with the gratification of his greatest wish. How the shadow of the crime of his past is lifted from him, how he defeats the vicious ring forces and finally wins his election and his bride is dramatically visualized in this gripping production.

Among Bruce McRae's recent stage triumphs are numbered "Nobody's Widow," and "Nearly Married."
