THE ENABLING BILL.

Full Text of the Measure as it Was Finally Passed.

Very few citizens it is to be presumed have ever read the Enabling Bill recently passed, and for the public edification we reproduce it here in full as follows:

Whereas the Corporation of New Westminster has without due authority let contracts and expended large sums of money for the construction of Water Works; for Electric plant and machinery, as well for lighting the city and suburbs; for a Steam Ferry between New Westminster and the Municipality of Surrey, and ferry landings, pontoons, and other things for the operation of the ferry; and for the erection of a building for a Public Library and other purposes:

And whereas it is expedient to make provisions in reference thereto:

Therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of British Columbia, enacts as follows:

1. The term "Corporation," wherever used in this Act, means the Municipality of the Corporation of the City of New Westminster, and wherever the term "works," is used in this Act, such term shall include all the works, matters and things hereinbefore recited.

2. All moneys heretofore expended by or under the authority of the Council of the Corporation, for or on account of or with reference to the works, shall be and shall be held to have been valid, and it shall be lawful for the corporation to pay all the moneys owing and accruing up to the 17th of April, 1891, in respect of the works, exclusive of the steam ferry and private electric lighting.

3. The Corporation shall make compensation to all persons whose property or interests are or have been in anywise injuriously affected in consequence of anything done or suffered to or by any persons or their property, or interests, by the reason of the carrying out of the works, and the amount of such compensation shall be arrived at according to the provisions of the Municipal Act in respect to arbitration.

4. The Corporation may make bylaws for the conduct of the public library, including the renting and leasing of the stores in the library building.

5. Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, the Corporation shall have full power and authority to sell and dispose of the steam ferry and the electric light plant, including the power house and site thereof; and after the sale has been ratified by the ratepayers, the respective purchasers shall have full power to operate and carry on the same respectively.

6. This Act may be cited as the "New Westminster Enabling Act, 1891."

Municipal Single Tax.

Although not in reality an accurate expression, "municipal single tax" is a phrase meaning the exemption of improvements such as buildings, etc., from municipal taxation. The amendments to the Municipal Act at the Legislative Session just closed provided for this, sub-section b. of section 121 of the Amending Act providing that a by-law may be passed "declaring that improvements situate within the municipality shall not be estimated for the purposes of assessment in excess of 50 per cent. of their actual cash value, as they would be appraised in payment of a just debt by a solvent debtor, or that improvements shall be altogether exempt from assessment or taxation." Mr. Brown, in furtherance of the single tax idea, secured the insertion of a clause in this act that the above provision would apply to the city of New Westminster. It will therefore be no longer possible for the City Council to excuse itself from considering municipal single tax on the plea that it has no power to act. However the time has gone past for the adoption of this plan this year.

The Van Horne Party.

Mr. C. W. Van Horne, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and a party of gentlemen from eastern Canada, reached this city in two special cars yesterday. They had remained the previous night at North Bend. Besides Mr. Van Horne the party included R. B. Angus, John Cassels, P. A. Peterson, Chief Engineer of the C. P. R.; J. J. Davidson, President of the Toronto Board of Trade; E. B. Osler, W. D. Matthews, ex-President of the Toronto Board of Trade, and Hon. George A. Kirkpatrick, Senator McInnes of Hamilton, Mr. Owneyesenberg of Chicago, H. J. Cambie, W. Downie, W. A. Grant, Mr. Van Horne's private secretary, and Percy C. Geddes, secretary to Mr. Abbott. Upon arrival in the city, the whole party took carriages and enjoyed a drive through the principal streets, afterwards proceeding to Vancouver in their equipages, the special train being sent round empty to the Terminal City. Mr. Van Horne was in fine spirits, and expressed himself, on the authority of Mr. Downie, as being delighted with the activity and progress manifested by Westminster since his last memorable visit. It is believed that the excursion to "the burgh" was for the purposes of pleasure only, and with no idea of contemplated slaughter at all.

The Kanucks Make a Bold Bid for a Big Business in Breadstuffs.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—The British bark Arthur Stone arrived from Pisagua, Chile, this afternoon, and Captain Adams says he never wants to see that port again. While the bark was in Pisagua, the crew say bullets came on board like a shower of hail. The Arthur Stone was ordered to leave the port, but Captain Adams decided to stay and finally got a load. He had to leave without clearance papers and will have some trouble entering at this port. In talking about the trouble Captain Adams said: During the fighting a shell struck the British bark Birdstone between wind and water and she nearly sunk. The Birdstone is still at Pisagua. The American bark, Lottie Moore, had her yards shot away and the British bark Strathern had her mizzen shrouds shot away. During the engagement the Chilian admiral's flagship dropped a shell into the coal depot and set it on fire. A fortnight later, when the Arthur Stone left, it was still on fire. All around the bay barges were at anchor, and the people of the town took refuge in them at night. One day, while walking up the street, I counted eighteen dead bodies. The day the rebels captured the town there was a frightful explosion. The rebels were on the slope of the hill, and began dropping shells into the town. Half a dozen families had taken refuge in a warehouse in which were stored seventy-five cases of dynamite. A shell dropped into the warehouse, exploding the dynamite and blew the building and all the women and children into the air. The concussion made all the vessels roll as if in a storm.

Failures in Business.

NEW YORK, April 24.—The Dominion of Canada reports 33 business failures this week against 39 last week and 38 this week last year. The total number from January 1st to date is 705, against 675 last year.

Canadian Aggressiveness.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The bureau of the American Republics is in receipt of [illegible] effect that the Canadian commissioners to the exposition there are making extraordinary efforts to extend the sale of Canadian breadstuffs and manufactures in the island. The Canadian millers are trying to introduce their flour by giving away daily samples of the flour and bread baked from the same at the building of the exposition.

A Frightful Death.

OREGON CITY, April 24.—An accident occurred at the Crown paper mills last night, by which Edward Fishburn, late of La Camas, Wash, lost his life. He was engaged in taking paper from the steam rollers on a reel and the paper broke. In stepping forward to catch the broken sheet a set screw on the shaft caught Fishburn by the vest and in a moment he was whirling on the shaft at the rate of 50 revolutions a minute, his head striking the floor at each revolution. Before the machinery could be stopped all his clothing except his shoes were torn from his body, and his head was terribly bruised. Unconsciousness and death relieved his suffering this morning. The deceased was about 30 years of age and unmarried.

Intentionally Vague.

NEW YORK, April 24.—The Herald's St. Petersburg special says: Secretary Blaine should make no mistake about the position of Russia in the coming arbitration of the Behring Sea question. I know the views of the Government, although it would not be fair to hold it responsible for my words. In the first place there is nothing on record to show that Russia intended to convey to the United States any special rights in the open waters of Behring sea. The Alaska purchase was the result of private negotiations between Baron Edward De Stockl and Secretary Seward. Russia purposely left the question of special jurisdiction or special privileges in the sea out of the bargain. The whole matter, as far as I can ascertain was intentionally put aside and any attempt to draw Russia out of this vague and reserved position would have been evaded or resisted.

The Ripper in New York.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Jack the Ripper is believed by the police to have come to this city. This morning, in the East River Hotel, a low resort, the body of a woman was found with the abdomen horribly cut. Her name is not known. The resort is one of the lowest in the city. The woman was known as one of the half-drunken creatures who hang about Water street. She came to the hotel last night with a man who registered as Knickoe and wife. The couple were assigned to a room on the upper floor. Nothing was seen or heard during the night. This morning the attendant rapped on the door of the room occupied by the couple, and as there was no answer, finally broke the door open. A horrible sight met his gaze. On the bed lay the woman in a pool of blood, dead for hours. The woman's head was bandaged and a cloth had been tied about the neck and face, but whether for any foul purpose or to hide traces of the murder, the attendant did not wait to see. He gave the alarm and a messenger was hastily despatched to the police station. The police responded at once and after viewing the body the captain of the precinct lost no time in notifying headquarters of the horrible tragedy. In a short while Inspector Byrnes had three of his sharpest detectives on the case. No one had seen the man since he went up stairs. He had escaped under cover of night, when the deed was done. An imperfect description was given of him to the police and they went to work with much secrecy. The little learned was that he was shabbily dressed, and about 33 years old. At noon today the detectives arrested a crony of the dead woman, too drunk to tell what she knew. She was locked up to sleep off the effects of liquor and the police hope she will give them some further clue. The coroner says the woman was strangled and afterwards the body mutilated. Her murderer is described as being a short, thick-set German sailor.

CANADIAN NEWS.

KINGSTON, Ont., April 24.—Last evening Sergeant Matthew Coye of "A" Battery; died after an illness of several months during which time he suffered great pain. The cause of his death was a cancer which developed from a splinter of a bullet which lodged in his throat during the engagement at Cut Knife Creek at the time of the Reil rebellion. Deceased was an excellent soldier and brave in active service. He spent many years in the Imperial service before coming to Canada.

ELECTION PETITIONS.

HALIFAX, April 24.—Petitions have been entered against the return of Kenny and Stairs as members for Halifax. A petition also has been filed against the return of J. A. Gillies in Inverness. All three were Conservatives.

MAILS FOR THE ORIENT.

OTTAWA, April 24.—Yesterday the first mails from Great Britain for Japan and China via Canada, left London under contract with the Canadian Pacific. It is to be a regular service once in every three weeks.

DEATH OF A MISSIONARY.

TORONTO, April 24,—A cable dispatch has been received here announcing the death of Rev. John Jameson, who for several years has been a missionary of the Canadian Presbyterian Church at Formosa, China.

GONE TO THE SENATE.

The Globe's correspondent announces that Mr. Carling has accepted a seat in the Senate.

They Will Play

It has been finally decided to send a lacrosse team over to Vancouver on Monday to compete in the series for the celebration trophy. It will be hard scraping to get enough men together, but the boys are anxious to make the tourney a success, so far at least as entries are concerned. The team will not be representative of Westminster lacrosse strength, but they will nevertheless make an interesting game. All members are invited out to practice on the exhibition grounds this afternoon.

Daily Boat to Victoria.

Mr. Briggs, of the C. P. N. Co., yesterday informed THE LEDGER that his company had notified him that as soon as the repairs at present being made on the steamer Yosemite were completed that boat would be put on the route for a daily service between this city and Victoria. She will probably have one or two regular ports of call on the Fraser river, and freights from the other ports will be gathered by a river boat and brought here for transhipment on the Yosemite. This daily service is in fulfilment of Captain Irving's promise of last fall to that effect. It will be a great convenience to Westminster people, and the ume of passenger and freight traffic at this port. The new service will begin in the early part of May.

Do Not Obstruct Them.

Capt. Peele's army of census enumerators are now going their rounds in the city, and are working forward very satisfactorily. Occasionally they meet a citizen unwilling to answer the questions put to them. It is well to remember, in this connection, that the census officials are clothed with power to order the arrest of any who refuse to make replies to their questions. Some of the questions asked do sound a trifle inquisitive, but they are really not inquisitorial, for the answers, under heavy penalties, are not to be divulged, and when they are finally returned to Ottawa they will be treated with like respect. The information obtained, when treated statistically as to the general result, will serve a valuable purpose, and the labors of the enumerators, always arduous, should therefore not be made more so by stubborn resistence to answer the questions asked.

Vancouver Opera House.

The re-opening of the above theatre, after the extensive alterations now being completed, will take place on Monday evening next, on which occasion there will be given an entertainment for the benefit of the Hospital for Women and Children. Particulars of this entertainment will be found in an advertisement appearing in another column. The bill includes a comic operetta, entitled "Prizes and Blanks," and the famous comedietta "Ici on Parle Francais." The talent will be the best to be obtained in the Terminal City, and doubtless the fact that the entertainment is in aid of so meritorious a charity, will induce a very large attendance of those who will be present in Vancouver on Monday next to witness the celebration of the arrival of the steamship Empress of India.

In order to facilitate those who may attend from this city, the C. P. R. has arranged to run a special train from Vancouver to Westminster immediately after the close of the performance. The railway fare also has been reduced to $1 for the return trip, good to go on Sunday or Monday and return up to Wednesday night.

Mr. Rankin's Success.

Yesterday Mr. J. V. Rankin, of the B. C. P. M. Company, received a telegram from Halifax, Nova Scotia, saying that his son James had won the Waverly Prize at Dalhousie University. This prize is given to the student standing highest in mathematics at the end of the second year. The mathematical course at Dalhousie is not inferior to that of any other on the continent. The professors of this subject are men who have distinguished themselves in Great Britain and Germany, and, therefore, to carry off this prize at a university noted for mathematics is highly creditable to the winner. Tony Rankin's educational course has, so far, been an exceptionally brilliant one. At the time he entered the High School of this city, although he had passed with high marks, he was so young and small, the Superintendent of Education thought it a pity he could not remain longer in the common school. But the small boy was made of the right stuff. So he rapidly gained on all his fellow-pupils, till in his thirteenth year, he was the most advanced scholar attending the schools of the Royal City. He was not fourteen when he matriculated. At the commencement of his course, in a competitive examination in Halifax, he won a Monro Bursary of several hundred dollars, being the youngest student that ever took one of these scholarships. And now the Waverley Prize, taken after two years of hard work and keen competition with some of the most carefully trained and most talented young men in Canada is more than an ordinary victory. Young Rankin is expected home in a few days, and it is quite likely that he does not yet know that he has been successful, for he must have left Nova Scotia before the results of the examination were announced.

As the steamer Belle was coming up the river yesterday with a large boom of logs for the Royal City Mills, she ran aground, just in sight of port on a mud bank at the head of Lulu Island. Vancouver is all excitement now awaiting the arrival of the Empress of India. The committee appointed to look after the celebration feel the full weight of the responsibility and are working hard to make it a great success. Scarcely anything else is talked of in the Terminal City. A large party from the Royal City will be present at the reception.

As the warm weather comes on the art-loving portion of the community are dusting their easels, stretching canvas and otherwise preparing for the season's work in the shape of sketching and painting. Two or three of our best known artists are hard at work on pictures of local scenery, of more than usual merit, which are destined for the coming exhibition.

Lots for $325 on Douglas road; ⅓ down; balance, 6 and 12 months at 8 per cent. The cheapest property on the market.—BRENCHLEY & BENNETT.

Many persons who have occasion to visit Brownsville for business or other purposes hardly care to face the three quarters of a mile tramp through the bush or along the shore from the ferry landing. It was noticed yesterday that two or three boatmen were raking in the bossile at a great rate by ferrying parties across to that locality in opposition to the regular ferry. At one time four boat loads went across in close succession, each boat holding about four or five passengers.

A large percentage of the oolachans caught here are shipped to Vancouver, to supply the markets there, and prices rule rather higher than in Westminster. It is a fact not generally known that if this fish is dried in the sun, and a match applied to the tail, it will burn like a torch, and in the early days it was almost the only means of illumination known to the native Indians.

Queenstown.—Owing to the exceptionally rapid sale of lots in this important townsite, prices will be raised on May 1st. P. M. Watson & Co., Agents.

A detective has been placed in Westminster by a certain agency doing business in the Province, with instructions to watch for two or three individuals who are expected to drift this way from the Sound. It is needless to say that they are scarcely likely to be found in Westminster, as it has a widespread reputation of terror amongst evildoers, thanks to our vigilant police force.

Steamboat racing on the Sound is reaching a dangerous pitch and the Seattle Telegraph thus warns those who indulge in this sport: "These races call for a repetition of the warning that there will be an awful disaster some day, and the owners and captains of the boats may be held liable for homicide. There is no excuse for this racing. It is a deliberate risking of many lives."

"There is a tide in the affairs of men, which taken at the flood, leads on to fortune". Those who take Mission City at the flood tide will be fortunate mortals.

Work on the library building has been creeping steadily forward to a finish, and it is expected that the two stores will be ready for occupation by the end of the month. They are two of the finest stores in town, perhaps the finest. The main entrance to the building has elicited a good deal of admiring comment on account of its imposing appearance. The front elevation is exceedingly handsome.

The World says that Mr. Wallace Law who has been in the employ of Messrs. Davidson Bros., jewellers, for some time past, has gone to Westminster to take charge of a branch store his firm are opening in the Royal City. Mr. Law was a hard working member of the lacrosse club and put up a good game in some of the matches in which he played. The Vancouver lacrosse club members regret his departure and hope that his lines will fall in pleasant places.

Towle & Wilcox, architects and superintendents have opened an office over D. Lyal's book store, Columbia Street. Modern designs made promptly and practically.

Says the Bellingham Bay Bee: The Oddfellows of New Westminster have made arrangements for a grand excursion to Fairhaven on the Queen's birthday, May 24th. The excursionists will number between 1,000 and 1,500 people. The railroad company have arranged to furnish two excursion trains for the order at a merely nominal charge, and the profits from the sale of the excursion tickets will go towards rebuilding the Odd Fellows hall, which was burned down in the recent fire. Fairhaven will give them a cordial welcome.

To investors—There will be few lots left for sale after the excursion to Queenstown. Get in now before the advance in prices. Particulars from P. M. Watson & Co., agents.

Another Accident.

It is a very singular thing that there should be three accidents on three consecutive days at the same place. A man named Tachiner, engaged at the Royal City Planing Mills, yesterday afternoon was babbitting a box containing a small quantity of water which caused the molten metal to fly, burning his face very severely. The unfortunate man was in great pain for a considerable time, and it was at first thought that he might lose his sight, but it is learned that this is not likely to be the case, and he may congratulate himself on a very narrow escape from total blindness. It is probable that he will be able to resume work in a few days.

The Action of the Council.

In accordance with the action of the public meeting on Wednesday evening, the Mayor and Council met in private session last night to consider the municipal situation. All the members were present. It was expected that the Mayor would propound his plan to extricate the city from its present dilemma, but he did not do so. A long informal discussion took place. The plan of action proposed by THE LEDGER yesterday morning was brought up and advocated as the most feasable scheme. At length a resolution was moved by Ald. Keary, embodying the principle involved in that plan, namely, the sale of the electric works to a few trusted citizens under an agreement whereby the city might regain possession of the works at a certain stipulated rate of valuation as soon as the present legal obstacles were overcome. The resolution was carried unanimously. A discussion then took place regarding the action of the public meeting, and it was pointed out by several members that the appointment of the committee by the public meeting was a virtual expression of want of confidence in the Council. No matter what that committee might do, the question would have to be finally settled by the Council. The Council generally were not averse to considering any propositions that might come from the citizens' committee, but they were not willing to be guided by the conclusions of that committee. It was finally decided that a subcommittee of the Council should be appointed to meet the citizens committee and listen to what they had to say, and afterwards to report to the Council any plan that they (the subcommittee of the Council) thought should be adopted. The Mayor and Aldermen Curtis, Walker, Scoullar, and Keary were appointed as the subcommittee, and they will be present at the meeting of the citizens committee to be held tonight.

A Pointer to the Public.

District Lot No. 28 lies immediately adjoining the city limits. The continuation of Mary Street goes directly through it, and the Electric Tramway will in a couple of months be running its cars every hour of the day through the centre of this property. The lot (No. 28) is composed of 128 acres of land as level as a table. Contracts have been let to clear and grub the ground, and leave it in perfect condition for building purposes. Already six citizens have decided to erect handsome residences there, ranging in price from $4,000 to $7,000 each. The whole of this splendid piece of property (except some limited portions already disposed of) will be put on the market in a few weeks. One great advantage in buying a lot and erecting a residence on this property is that the owner will avoid heavy municipal taxation. Make a note of it, and wait till the property is put on the market before buying.

SENSATIONAL ARREST

Of a Prominent English Clergyman on a Terrible Criminal Charge.

DEATH OF GENERAL VON MOLTKE

The London Rumsellers Up in Arms Against Chancellor Goschen.

STANLEY UP ON HIS DIGNITY

The Kaiser's Deep Seated Hatred and Distrust of the Iron Chancellor.

LONDON, April 24.—It appears, by the action taken by the Portuguese cabinet, that in connection with the representations made by Lord Salisbury to the Government of Portugal as to the recent events on the Pungwe River, in South Africa, the British Premier has forwarded an ultimatum to that Government declaring that unless immediate facilities were afforded to British subjects to open the Pungwe River in accordance with the modus vivendi now existing between Great Britain and Portugal, the former Government would have recourse to force in order to compel respect on the part of the Portuguese Government for its treaty engagements, and the results would be disastrous to Portuguese enterprises in that quarter of the world. Under the pressure of this ultimatum the Portuguese cabinet today granted free passage of the Pungwe River.

DEAD FOR THE GUARDS.

The recent cases of insubordination among the Guards in London, following so close upon the outbreak at Gosport, have had the effect of causing breaches of discipline to be treated with unusual rigor. The artillery men who refused to do duty at Fort Grange and who mobbed the officers' quarters have been tried by court martial, pronounced guilty of mutiny and sentenced to two years imprisonment. The Duke of Connaught, commanding the district, has been appealed to, but refuses to remit any portion of the sentence. An investigation into the causes of insubordination and discontent in the British army is being pushed and will be made thorough. The simultaneous occurrence of these disturbances indicates the existence of deep lying and widespread defects in the service, which cause no little uneasiness as to the home guards.

FALLEN FROM GRACE.

A sensation has been caused in the Parish of Winkfield, the church of which is attended by a most distinguished congregation including many members of the court, owing to its contiguity to Windsor, by the arrest of its curate Rev. Augustus Pulling. The charge against the reverend gentleman is that he is too intimate with the female members of his flock.

Instances of his debauching young girls of the parish are also disclosed and have aroused great indignation. The farmers of the vicinity threaten to lynch him, and he was lodged in jail last night as much for his own protection as in accordance with the warrant for his arrest. Rev. Mr. Pulling is 35 years of age. He has been for many years curate at Winkfield, and has been presented at court, and was regarded as the soul of mothers' meetings and other charitable works conducted by the ladies of the congregation. The Queen, while residing at the castle, has often attended his church. The parish is one of the largest in England. One girl 15 years old has made some startling statements against the curate and it is upon the inquiries that resulted therefrom that the charges and arrest are based. On being brought before the magistrate today for examination he presented a pitiable spectacle of abasement and humiliation. He acknowledged with tears in his eyes that he could not deny the charges which had been made against him and confessed that he had been led into evil courses by temptation beyond his control. An officer of the court testified that the prisoner sought to offer him a bribe. The accused was remanded for further investigation, but was subsequently released on giving bail to the amount of £3,000.

HAUGHTY MR. STANLEY.

Henry M. Stanley, who has just returned from the United States, seems to have contracted an iciness of manner during his sojourn in that country. His cool treatment of people who formerly considered him approachable is quite widely commented upon. He remains in his apartments as much as possible, seldom being seen walking or driving. Reporters who seek to interview him are as a rule haughtily snubbed. A representative of the International Telegram Company, however, was more fortunate, his card as an American seeming to be an open sesame to the great explorer. When asked for an opinion on the action of the American Senate in rejecting the Brussels anti-African slavery treaty, Mr. Stanley begged to be excused from criticising the view taken by that distinguished body. He seemed to fear that such an expression might unfavorably affect further negotiations toward the end. He informed the reporter that he had heard through private sources that the Arabs have of late been slave raiding on an unusually extensive scale. Without saying in so many words that this was due to his absence from Africa, he allowed the impression to be conveyed that had he been in a position of authority the slave trade could have been reduced much below its present proportions.

JACK THE RIPPER.

Great interest is taken here in the news of the Jack the Ripper murder in New York. Scotland yard received yesterday advices of the tragedy and it was hastily forwarded to the various chiefs of departments. The police authorities are inclined to think the absence of a gash in the throat of the New York victim indicates that the work is not that of the London Ripper. Superintendent Arnold states his belief that the original Jack is still in London.

Speaking of the death of Coquilhat, late governor of the Congo State, Mr. Stanley said that Coquilhat suffered from chronic dysentery before he went to Africa. It was sheer madness for a man so afflicted to brave the climate of the Congo. Coquilhat would have been alive today if he had taken Stanley's advice.

THE LIQUOR DEALERS

held a mass meeting at the London Aquarium this afternoon to protest against the continuance of the extra tax on spirits and beer. Speeches made were to the effect that the budget showed that the tax could be removed without injury to Imperial interests, and that having been imposed for extraordinary reasons it ought not to be continued at a period of large surplus in the treasury. The liquor dealers protested against the burden of the free education experiment being thrown upon them. Meetings of a similar kind have been called in different parts of the country and resolutions passed calling upon all interested in the liquor traffic to use their influence in the elections to secure just and fair treatment for the trade.

MICHAEL DAVITT'S RESIGNATION

From the editorship of the Labor World was made necessary by the state of his health. The doctors told him he must take a long holiday or break down. He still retains his stock in the company which controls the paper, and he will contribute to its columns occasionally. Mr. and Mrs. Davitt will soon start for San Francisco and will remain on the Pacific Coast for an indefinite period.

REMAINS CONSERVATIVE.

The Conservatives have carried Whitehaven. Sir. James Bain, the Conservative candidate, was elected today by a vote of 1338 to 1105 for Henry Gordon Shee, Liberal. At the last election the Right Hon. Geo. Cavendish Bentinck received 1216 votes to 1110 for Shee, Liberal.

PRINCE AND KAISER.

The bitterness of the Kaiser's animosity toward Bismarck is shown by the fact that he has caused to be taken out of the hands of Professor Von Siebel the work entitled, "Founding of the German Empire," it being claimed that the professor placed Bismarck too prominently in the foreground and did not do justice to William the First and others who assisted in the work of creating the second German Empire. This greatly displeased the Kaiser, and the task of completing the work is to be intrusted to Prof. Lehmann of Marburg, between whom and Prince Bismarck there has not been good feeling for many years, and who can be trusted to eliminate the figure of Bismarck as much as possible from the drama of 1870. Dr. Lehmann's part of the work will include the years from 1867 to 1871, and will take in the Franco-German war and its immediate results. The proof-sheets are to be submitted to the Kaiser to be passed by him before publication, and in consideration of this and the elimination of Bismarck, he has graciously consented that the work shall be dedicated to him. The Kaiser has taken occasion, in commenting upon a lecture by Captain Weger of the German navy, to give his views as to the use of the navy in war. He says that the navy must not maintain the defensive only, but also act on the offensive, and that the adage, "attack is the best defence," must be realized in future by the navy as fully as by the army. Battle ships must do their utmost to annihilate the opposing enemy. The Kaiser's wish is that naval manœuvres shall no longer be simple exercises, ending in an attack on one or more ports and their defences, but undertake naval action whose impending evolutions over many hundreds of miles.

A Portuguese Falsity.

LISBON, April 24.—A semi-official communication from the Government to the press representatives says that Lord Salisbury has ordered the evacuation of Massikess. This is declared not to be in accordance with the facts, as there are only four men of the British South African Co. there to protect stores, and they had all received orders to leave when the Portuguese arrived.

Von Moltke Dead.

BERLIN, April 24.—General Von Moltke is dead, aged 91.

[Germany's "grand old man" at arms was born in the year 1800 at Mecklenburg, and during a long career saw service under several states in many lands though he won his most unfading laurels in the decisive struggle of the Franco German war of which his wonderful strategy was the determining factor. He served in early life in the Danish army. This, however, he left at the age of 22 to enter that of Prussia. In 1835 he was after attaining high rank in the Prussian service permitted to add to his experience by entering the Turkish service. He then fought through the Syrian campaign and showed himself a born leader of men. Returning to the Prussian service, he was after long years again high in command, in the struggle with the Danes. This being successfully decided for Prussia, that country and Austria quarrelled, and Von Moltke again came to the front and by his able tactics won the decisive battle of Sadowa. He then received the order of the Black Eagle, and was made General in Chief of the Staff. What he did by his wonderful strategy to compass the utter defeat of the French in the great struggle of 70-71, is known to all. After this he was ennobled and made Field Marshal. Honor after honor then showered upon him, as the greatest German military chief, and the most famous modern strategist. Dear to the German race, as one of the founders of a united Germany he was, having grown well stricken in years, known and loved by his compatriots, who styled him "Vater" (Father) Moltke. His nineteeth birthday was celebrated last year, and now at last the great chief has passed away, leaving Faust von Bismarck, the only survivor of the makers of the modern German Empire.—ED.]

The Kanucks Make a Bold Bid for a Big Business in Breadstuffs.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—The British bark Arthur Stone arrived from Pisagua, Chile, this afternoon, and Captain Adams says he never wants to see that port again. While the bark was in Pisagua, the crew say bullets came on board like a shower of hail. The Arthur Stone was ordered to leave the port, but Captain Adams decided to stay and finally got a load. He had to leave without clearance papers and will have some trouble entering at this port. In talking about the trouble Captain Adams said: During the fighting a shell struck the British bark Birdstone between wind and water and she nearly sunk. The Birdstone is still at Pisagua. The American bark, Lottie Moore, had her yards shot away and the British bark Strathern had her mizzen shrouds shot away. During the engagement the Chilian admiral's flagship dropped a shell into the coal depot and set it on fire. A fortnight later, when the Arthur Stone left, it was still on fire. All around the bay barges were at anchor, and the people of the town took refuge in them at night. One day, while walking up the street, I counted eighteen dead bodies. The day the rebels captured the town there was a frightful explosion. The rebels were on the slope of the hill, and began dropping shells into the town. Half a dozen families had taken refuge in a warehouse in which were stored seventy-five cases of dynamite. A shell dropped into the warehouse, exploding the dynamite and blew the building and all the women and children into the air. The concussion made all the vessels roll as if in a storm.

Failures in Business.

NEW YORK, April 24.—The Dominion of Canada reports 33 business failures this week against 39 last week and 38 this week last year. The total number from January 1st to date is 705, against 675 last year.

Canadian Aggressiveness.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The bureau of the American Republics is in receipt [illegible] effect that the Canadian commissioners to the exposition there are making extraordinary efforts to extend the sale of Canadian breadstuffs and manufactures in the island. The Canadian millers are trying to introduce their flour by giving away daily samples of the flour and bread baked from the same at the building of the exposition.

A Frightful Death.

ORMSON CITY, April 24.—An accident occurred at the Crown paper mills last night, by which Edward Fishburn, late of La Camas, Wash, lost his life. He was engaged in taking paper from the steam rollers on a reel and the paper broke. In stepping forward to catch the broken sheet a set screw on the shaft caught Fishburn by the vest and in a moment he was whirling on the shaft at the rate of 50 revolutions a minute, his head striking the floor at each revolution.

Before the machinery could be stopped all his clothing except his shoes were torn from his body, and his head was terribly bruised. Unconsciousness and death relieved his suffering this morning. The deceased was about 30 years of age and unmarried.

Intentionally Vague.

NEW YORK, April 24.—The Herald's St. Petersburg special says: Secretary Blaine should make no mistake about the position of Russia in the coming arbitration of the Behring Sea question. I know the views of the Government, although it would not be fair to hold it responsible for my words. In the first place there is nothing on record to show that Russia intended to convey to the United States any special rights in the open waters of Behring sea. The Alaska purchase was the result of private negotiations between Baron Edward De Stockl and Secretary Seward. Russia purposely left the question of special jurisdiction or special privileges in the sea out of the bargain. The whole matter, as far as I can ascertain was intentionally put aside and any attempt to draw Russia out of this vague and reserved position would have been evaded or resisted.

The Ripper in New York.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Jack the Ripper is believed by the police to have come to this city. This morning, in the East River Hotel, a low resort, the body of a woman was found with the abdomen horribly cut. Her name is not known. The resort is one of the lowest in the city. The woman was known as one of the half-drunken creatures who hang about Water street. She came to the hotel last night with a man who registered as Knickoe and wife. The couple were assigned to a room on the upper floor. Nothing was seen or heard during the night. This morning the attendant rapped on the door of the room occupied by the couple, and as there was no answer, finally broke the door open. A horrible sight met his gaze. On the bed lay the woman in a pool of blood, dead for hours. The woman's head was bandaged and a cloth had been tied about the neck and face, but whether for any foul purpose or to hide traces of the murder, the attendant did not wait to see. He gave the alarm and a messenger was hastily despatched to the police station. The police responded at once and after viewing the body the captain of the precinct lost no time in notifying headquarters of the horrible tragedy. In a short while Inspector Byrnes had three of his sharpest detectives on the case. No one had seen the man since he went up stairs. He had escaped under cover of night, when the deed was done. An imperfect description was given of him to the police and they went to work with much secrecy. The little learned was that he was shabbily dressed, and about 32 years old. At noon today the detectives arrested a crony of the dead woman, too drunk to tell what she knew. She was locked up to sleep off the effects of liquor and the police hope she will give them some further clue. The coroner says the woman was strangled and afterwards the body mutilated. Her murderer is described as being a short, thick-set German sailor.

CANADIAN NEWS.

KINGSTON, ONT., April 24.—Last evening Sergeant Matthew Coye of "A" Battery; died after an illness of several months during which time he suffered great pain. The cause of his death was a cancer which developed from a splinter of a bullet which lodged in his throat during the engagement at Cut Knife Creek at the time of the Reil rebellion. Deceased was an excellent soldier and brave in active service. He spent many years in the Imperial service before coming to Canada.

They Will Play

It has been finally decided to send a lacrosse team over to Vancouver on Monday to compete in the series for the celebration trophy. It will be hard scraping to get enough men together, but the boys are anxious to make the tourney a success, so far at least as entries are concerned. The team will not be representative of Westminster lacrosse strength, but they will nevertheless make an interesting game. All members are invited out to practice on the exhibition grounds this afternoon.

Daily Boat to Victoria.

Mr. Briggs, of the C. P. N. Co., yesterday informed THE LEDGER that his company had notified him that as soon as the repairs at present being made on the steamer Yosemite were completed that boat would be put on the route for a daily service between this city and Victoria. She will probably have one or two regular ports of call on the Fraser river, and freights from the other ports will be gathered by a river boat and brought here for transhipment on the Yosemite. This daily service is in fulfillment of Captain Irving's promise of last fall to that effect. It will be a great convenience to Westminster people, and one of passenger and freight traffic at this port. The new service will begin in the early part of May.

Do Not Obstruct Them.

Capt. Peele's army of census enumerators are now going their rounds in the city, and are working forward very satisfactorily. Occasionally they meet a citizen unwilling to answer the questions put to them. It is well to remember, in this connection, that the census officials are clothed with power to order the arrest of any who refuse to make replies to their questions. Some of the questions asked do sound a trifle inquisitive, but they are really not inquisitorial, for the answers, under heavy penalties, are not to be divulged, and when they are finally returned to Ottawa they will be treated with like respect. The information obtained, when treated statistically as to the general result, will serve a valuable purpose, and the labors of the enumerators, always arduous, should therefore not be made more so by stubborn resistence to answer the questions asked.

Vancouver Opera House.

The re-opening of the above theatre, after the extensive alterations now being completed, will take place on Monday evening next, on which occasion there will be given an entertainment for the benefit of the Hospital for Women and Children. Particulars of this entertainment will be found in an advertisement appearing in another column. The bill includes a comic operetta, entitled "Prince and Blanka," and the famous comedietta "Ici on Parle Francais." The talent will be the best to be obtained in the Terminal City, and no doubtless the fact that the entertainment is in aid of so meritorious a charity, will induce a very large attendance of those who will be present in Vancouver on Monday next to witness the celebration of the arrival of the steamship Empress of India.

In order to facilitate those who may attend from this city, the C. P. R. has arranged to run a special train from Vancouver to Westminster immediately after the close of the performance. The railway fare also has been reduced to $1 for the return trip, good to go on Sunday or Monday and return up to Wednesday night.

Mr. Rankin's Success.

Yesterday Mr. J. V. Rankin, of the B. C. P. M. Company, received a telegram from Halifax, Nova Scotia, saying that his son James had won the Waverly Prize at Dalhousie University. This prize is given to the student standing highest in mathematics at the end of the second year. The mathematical course at Dalhousie is not inferior to that of any other on the continent. The professors of this subject are men who have distinguished themselves in Great Britain and Germany, and, therefore, to carry off this prize at a university noted for mathematics is highly creditable to the winner. Tony Rankin's educational course has, so far, been an exceptionally brilliant one. At the time he entered the High School of this city, although he had passed with high marks, he was so young and small, the Superintendent of Education thought it a pity he could not remain longer in the common school. But the small boy was made of the right stuff. So he rapidly gained on all his fellow-pupils, till in his thirteenth year, he was the most advanced scholar attending the schools of the Royal City. He was not fourteen when he matriculated. At the commencement of his course, in a competitive examination in Halifax, he won a Monro Bursary of several hundred dollars, being the youngest student that ever took one of these scholarships. And now the Waverley Prize, taken after two years of hard work and keen competition with some of the most carefully trained and most talented young men in Canada is more than an ordinary victory. Young Rankin is expected home in a few days, and it is quite likely that he does not yet know that he has been successful, for he must have left Nova Scotia before the results of the examination were announced.

THE SALE OF LIQUORS ACT.

This Sale of Liquors Act to which, when first introduced as a bill, THE LEDGER referred at length some days since, is now before us as amended by the Legislature. It differs materially from the original bill, which was rather crudely drawn; and though it is in some respects less drastic, seems likely to operate as a useful measure of reform. It is therefore necessary again to refer briefly to some of the act's provisions, especially as, in common with the Provincial press generally, we were slightly misled by abbreviated reports of the Parliamentary discussions upon it in regard to the date of its taking effect. This we gave as the first of January next. It, however, appears from the act that only section four, which enforces a partial Sunday closing system, is deferred in operation to the beginning of next year. All other clauses of the act take immediate effect from the giving of the Royal assent to the measure by commission. We shall therefore, as we hope, see our magistrates enforcing its other beneficial provisions very shortly, and especially those which enable them to prohibit, under penalty, the sale of drink to "drunkards," by which phrase is meant "any person," summoned before a police court, who, by "excessive drinking "misspends or wastes his estate, or greatly injures his health, or endangers the "peace and happiness of his family."

This power of prohibition may, it seems, not only be exercised by our magistrates on hearing a police charge, but also be enforced against any hard drinker, who makes a written request to any magistrate to apply the veto to himself. This last is a new and useful clause, which will doubtless, at times, enable a weak man to save himself from himself. If, on the other hand, a person against whom a "drunkard's order" has been made holds that he or she is wrongly prohibited, he or she may apply to have the sentence set aside by the County Court judge of the district. That functionary however may not set aside the sentence even after hearing witnesses in favor of such a course, unless the drunkard's wife or husband, as the case may be, knows of the application and consents to the withdrawal of the veto on drink purchase. This proviso rightly recognizes the fact that a married drunkard's case is not merely to be considered in relation to himself or herself, but in regard also to its ill effect upon the happiness of the home. Our lady temperance advocates will no doubt rejoice much over this very practical recognition of a woman's rights as wife.

We have previously noted the fact of the limited and deferred operation of Sunday Closing under the Act as now passed and need not again refer to this in detail. We would however remind all concerned that the Act, as taking immediate effect, now for the first time punishes severely all license holders knowingly selling liquor to persons intoxicated. The strict enforcement of this clause by the justice will be to the greatest public benefit.

THE WAY OUT.

Our extremely dull-witted though still highly esteemed local contemporary is angry with us for three reasons: (1) That we should have submitted a plan to enable the city to avoid financial loss on account of the Enabling Bill; (2) That that plan should have been adopted by the unanimous vote of the Council in secret session; and (3) That we should have had the brazen effrontery to publish the fact that it had been so adopted. These reasons may in its own mind justify the anger of our sleepy and esteemed contemporary; but we can't help that.

The arrant nonsense about the necessity of keeping these things secret is only less superlative than the danger that lies in municipal star chamberism generally. If there had been less of that sort of thing last fall, if the people had been invited to a discussion of the proceedings then going on, the present plight of the city would never have arisen. We place implicit confidence in the good judgment of the people in deciding any question, when they are fully and freely in possession of all the facts in the case, and we regard it as irrational and unwise in the extreme to hand over the whole interests of the city in this or any other matter of importance to a committee of twelve, or of a hundred, no matter how estimable the citizens composing that twelve or that hundred may be. The people are sovereign, and no man or body of men has a right to dictate to the people what they shall or shall not do.

This thing will always be found, that where drowsy mediocrity sets itself about to do a thing, it is always peculiarly sensitive about having anybody see it at work.

This is a thing well observed by philosophers.

But in this particular case of a search for "A Way Out" of the difficulties that now hedge the municipality, that secrecy of action which our superior and esteemed contemporary insists upon is more than usually ridiculous. If it has ever read the Enabling Bill, which seems at least questionable, it should not be ignorant of the fact that Mr. Brown added an amendment to the bill which makes it necessary that before the electric works can be disposed of by the city council a bylaw must be submitted to the ratepayers to enable them to do so. How, then, in the name of common sense, does our colemn imagine that such a bylaw can be passed without the world knowing all about it!

We don't believe in the use of offensive language, but when the News-Advertiser says the articles of our colemn on this subject are "silly," there is assuredly some excuse for even so harsh a term.

We are of the opinion that the Enabling Bill was not handled by its promoter at Victoria with any considerable degree of skill at all. During the debate in Committee an amendment might have been inserted whereby the city could have proceeded to operate the electric works and the ferry pending the finding of the arbitration. The members of the House could not have objected to such an amendment, because they had already committed themselves to a principle to which such an amendment would have been the natural sequence. That principle was the arbitration itself, which being satisfied, the Bill admitted and guaranteed the city's rights in all other respects.

BRITAIN'S BUDGET.

Mr. Goschen had, as Great Britain's chancellor of the Exchequer, what was for him a comparatively easy task on Friday last, when he made his yearly budget speech. He was able to congratulate the country on an abundant year's revenue, showing a large surplus, on which he was able to base the adoption of the coming twelvemonths of very important new measures. Our telegram did not state the exact figures of the surplus, but as the message ascribes one-third of it to alcoholic liquors alone, which constitutes an increase of £456,000 as arising from the tobacco duty, it seems that with other items of increase taken into account, that the surplus must at least have exceeded £1,500,000. Looked at as with similar revenue and approximately similar expenditure the surplus estimated would next year show a surplus of £2,040,000, it would seem that this year's surplus must be somewhere in the neighborhood of £2,-000,000. It is interesting, though by no means wholly satisfactory, to note how large a part of Britain's increased revenue comes from duties on strong drink. The only reassuring point about this is that the increase in the sale of liquor generally follows an increase in an Englishman's country's material prosperity, though much of such expenditure on liquor undoubtedly detracts from that prosperity. British Chancellors of the Exchequer therefore like heavy taxes on liquor for a double reason, because they tend to lessen the consumption of strong drink, and because they bring in an enormous revenue. Statesmen like Mr. Goschen, whose cheers are wont on Budget days to be stereotyped but rather grim about the country drinking the nation prosperity.

He emphatically proves the general welfare of the United Kingdom in the enormous growth of total consumption. Mr. Goschen calculating the increased revenue from total consumption of 560,000,000 extra pipefuls. Taking the population of the United Kingdom at 40,000,000 and allowing for women and children and a comparatively small number of adult male anti-tobacconists, the extra smoking of last year must practically have, on an average, been about to pipes per man. A calculation proves—most British and Irishmen being smokers and users of a pipe—that the toilers of the United Kingdom have lately been so well employed, as to be able to increase their spare earnings on Tobacco. Facts justified the confidence of the Exchequer in his belief that British prosperity is again for the moment approaching its zenith after a long period of suspension.

Mr. Goschen proposes in view of the unexpected surplus of next year a reduction of British taxation, save in the matter of liquor; but means to use nearly the whole of such surplus in making primary education, as here, wholly free instead of as now free only to the poor. He also intends to apply a portion in improving the housing of the poor, now often accommodated in disused barracks, and £400,000 further drawing light gold from circulation. The proposed abolition of children's labor will be popular with British workmen (especially those who are comparatively ill paid agriculturists) and the other leading budget proposals being known to be necessary, are likely to encounter little opposition. The Chancellor rightly proposes no further taxation on strong drink. The Budget looks like an election cry, and the Home Rule party at present disorganized, seem impossible that the British people intends to appeal to the country next autumn, though it is well within the power to wait yet another year. What will, however, be generally satisfactory indication to the United Kingdom is the fact that there are no signs in the budget of any fear, even though European issues are rife, that Great Britain will during the fiscal year be drawn into any foreign entanglement.

The point in Mr. Goschen's statement to be noticed. He thinks, as the principal means of defense he affords to British colonies in the world, that they should help to contribute further to the Imperial navy. Australia has not acted already aiding in this regard. It remains to be seen, perhaps Mr. Goschen will take to this end. It is not however that he will make any embarrassing to any colony, and certain that any contribution made by dependency will be of a voluntary nature in return for a full equivalent.

AT FAIRHAVEN.

A Splendid Reception of the Artillery Band

Special to THE LEDGER.

FAIRHAVEN, April 24.—The train, bearing the Military Band and a considerable contingent of Westminstrian friends and admirers, arrived on time and in safety, all present having enjoyed a right good time in some of "the best of all pleasant company," on the way out. There were in all about 100 visitors to Fairhaven aboard the train. The party was, on arrival, received at the depot by many members of the Cascade Club, who as on the last occasion of a friendly Westminstrian invasion, readily extended the right hand of good fellowship, and threw their spacious clubrooms, and with them every member's privilege, open to their visitors. The band in full uniform arrayed, and looking soldiers every inch, then stepped out briskly towards "The Fairhaven," playing a sprightly quick march. They were admired on every hand, alike for their bearing and their conspicuous musical talent. An hour or two was then spent by the visitors in a round of the fair city, after which all met in the grand dining hall of "The Fairhaven" that splendid appointed hostelry of which the people of the city are so justly proud. The repast discussed and enjoyed the band mounted the hotel balcony and played a few selections, to the delight of a surging crowd outside, just to give another "taste of their quality" by way of impromptu overture to the performances in the theatre. All Fairhaven seemed on fete, and too much cannot be said for its people's hospitality.

The concert proved a brilliant success, the theatre being crowded by an enthusiastic audience, who gave the band an ovation. Mrs. Watson's singing being specially well received. So too, was Mr. Watson, as conductor, he being a great favorite in Fairhaven.

The Late Trains.

Mr. Downey, the Assistant Superintendent of the Pacific Division, upon being asked yesterday what was the cause of the delay of the Eastern train, said in consequence of the heavy rains which had lately taken place in the mountains it was probable that a mudslide might have blocked the train.

Will Rise Like the Phœnix

Mr. T. J. Trapp, with characteristic energy and enterprise, will presently begin the erection of a new three-story brick building to replace that destroyed by the late fire on the corner of Columbia and Lorne Streets. Mr. G. W. Grant's advertisement for tenders appears in another column. The building is to be 66x132 feet, having frontages of feet on Columbia and Clarkson Streets. It will likely cost in the neighborhood of $35,000 or $40,000 when completed. Mr. Grant's design will furnish a building of most attractive appearance. It may be inspected at the architect's office.

A New Steamer.

The attention of local ship-builders is called to an advertisement in this issue calling for tenders for the construction of a large steamer. The steamer is to be built at once, for a company in which it is understood the Messrs. Dunsmuir are largely interested. Mr. Colville has completed the model, which shows that the new boat will be a graceful as well as comfortable and speedy craft, containing ample provision for the comfort of passengers as well as the handling of freight. She is to be 150 feet long, and to depend for her motive power upon twin screws. The machinery will be supplied by the Albion Iron Works, and that company is now inviting the tenders, receivable until Tuesday next. The plans and specifications are on view at the office of the company at Victoria. It would be a very satisfactory thing to learn later on that this boat was to be built at New Westminster. The enterprising ship-builders of this city are well able to make a satisfactory bid for the work, and if one of them received the order the work could not fail to be satisfactory.

A Pointer to the Public.

District Lot No. 28 lies immediately adjoining the city limits. The continuation of Mary Street goes directly through it, and the Electric Tramway will in a couple of months be running its cars every hour of the day through the centre of this property. The lot (No. 28) is composed of 128 acres of land as level as a table. Contracts have been let to clear and grub the ground, and leave it in perfect condition for building purposes. Already six citizens have decided to erect handsome residences there, ranging in price from $4,000 to $7,000 each. The whole of this splendid piece of property (except some limited portions already disposed of) will be put on the market in a few weeks. One great advantage in buying a lot and erecting a residence on this property is that the owner will avoid heavy municipal taxation. Make a note of it, and wait till the property is put on the market before buying.
